ELA HIGH SCHOOL

Favorable Reports on School.

Harry M. Thrasher of the state superintendent's office visited us last Thursday. He was quite favorably impressed with the school in general. Mr. Thrasher is to be congratulated upon the excellent condition in which he keeps the building. According to Mr. Thrasher, Mr. Frank is one of the best janitors in the state. The qualifications of our teachers was another point of favorable comment. All our teachers, even the non-academic, hold the bachelor degree and the principal, Mr. A. A. Degree. The library was presented as a great opportunity for further development. In addition to the above favorable comments Mr. Thrasher offered some very fine constructive criticisms to improve our school. We appreciate greatly the visit of Mr. Thrasher and welcome him back at any time.

U. of I. Field Botanist at Elia

Friday, January 16, Mr. Boewe, field botanist for the University of Illinois, gave a very interesting illustrated lecture on the selection and care of seed corn. The pictures were furnished by means of a film story and explained in a most interesting and educational way by Mr. Boewe. The following recommendations were outlined: Select seed corn from the field in the fall, store it properly in a well-ventilated building and test for germination and disease.

A covered ice box or refrigerator can be made into an excellent germinator by a simple rearrangement. For the details, see Mr. Dorsey of the Lake Zurich high school.

After the lecture Mr. Boewe answered questions for farmers and pupils in regard to corn and its diseases. We wish that more people would take advantage of these lectures which are especially for the older people of the community, other than students.

Sophomore Class

We are glad that John Lemm and Gladys Sturm are back again with us.

We are glad to welcome Paul Kruger back after a week's absence.

The board also endorsed plans to further other highway improvements on the northwest side, concentrating attention on the Northwest highway and Higgins road as two of the most important arteries.

Penny an Old Coin

It is curious, but true, that that most common coin, the penny, is the most ancient of our coinage, and is the only one left which was known to our Anglo-Saxon ancestors. They called it "penning," which has been corrupted into "penny."

MANY women marvel, on learning that we wash clothes at controlled temperatures between 95 and 170 degrees. They wonder how, without boiling, we can get garments so snowy white, so thoroughly, hygienically clean.

The answer lies in the multiple-suds method, which gently, safely removes every lingering trace of dirt with no risk to dainty fabrics. With 3 to 5 successive sudsings, and 4 to 6 rinsings of rainsoft water, we flood your clothes clean. The heat of the water depends upon the fabric and color. Woolens, silks, rayons, and colors suspected of not being fast are washed in lukewarm water.

All through our laundry, you'll find the same care for

WARNS WOMEN AGAINST "HOME WORK" SCHEME

Miss Francis Perkins, industrial commissioner for the state of New York, has sent out a warning concerning a nation-wide fraudulent scheme that is being carried out by fly-by-night mail order houses in New York City.

These firms purport to pay high rates for simple work which women can do at home such as making overalls, underwear, bathrobes and novelties. They demand a deposit of $1.00, $2.00, or more, and then do not send the work.
They circulate extensively in small towns all over the country. By the time the recipients of their promising letters have begun to wonder why the materials have not arrived and ask for the return of their deposits, the firm has gone out of business and left no address.

These same people then start a new firm under a new name and in a few weeks are circulating new territory and working the same scheme only offering different products. This is particularly serious at the present time, because, during this unemployment situation, people are more easily taken into the plan than under ordinary circumstances.

This is especially true of women whose husbands are out of work and who are anxious to help support the family at home and often this small deposit involves a real sacrifice to the family.

The Frogsquatter
"I could see it was a quiet town as soon as I arrived," said a returned vacationer, the other morning. "So I wrote up my diary for two weeks in advance."—Detroit

HIGHWAY POLICE TO BE EQUIPPED WITH MACHINE GUNS

The Illinois highway police will be equipped with machine guns and sawed-off shotguns and will cooperate with county officials in an effort to make the state highways free from bank robbers, gangsters and highway robbers in general. Chief Walter L. Moody plans conferences with other law enforcement officers in each of 14 districts, to which all officers are invited. As most of the highway police force are veterans of the war, many of them are familiar with the handling of machine guns. The weapons will be distributed in various parts of the state.

On Board Left Behind
An Irishman went into the station to eat a bite before getting on the train. Just as he was well started the train pulled out.

"Hould on," cried Pat as he ran shewing and swallowing down the platform. "Hould on. You've got a passenger on board you've left behind."

SEEK TO RESTRICT TRUCKS AND TRAILERS

Legislation which would place restrictions on the length of trailers on trucks and further regulate traffic on state highways will be sought at the regular session of the Illinois legislature which convened at Springfield Wednesday.

One of the bills is aimed to limit the length of trailers to 28 feet, the width of the trailers, it is said, being as wide as the damage the edges of the trailers do to the pavement. Their length is also deemed dangerous to other traffic because of the space required to negotiate curves on the road.

NEW AUTO SALES SHOW A DECREASE

New automobile sales in Illinois in 1930 totaled 135,439 cars, a decrease of 4,496 cars as compared to 1929.
The figures released today by the Illinois department of the Illinois commissioner of commerce showed. Of this total, 77,985 cars were sold in Chicago while 57,454 cars were sold in the downstate counties.

Barrington
Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Barrington Woman's Club was held yesterday at the First Baptist church at 2:30.

After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting several reports were read: Mrs. A. L. Robertson's report on the Relief Fund. The club quota was set for $200 and the collections amounted to $200. Mrs. Robertson wishes to thank the public for their willingness to contribute to the fund. Fifteen families have already been aided and more will be helped whenever it is necessary.

Those on the library committee read book reviews from the magazines, newspaper columns, etc., and at a meeting of the committee the books are chosen according to their merits. Lion's Den—Fairbanks.
Little America—Byrd.

Angel Pavements—Priestly.
Many others too numerous to mention are ready for use. All books discussed by the literature class may be secured at the library.

Mrs. Adeline G. represented the club at the 7th district midwinter meeting and gave an interesting sketch of the day's program. Lieut. Nelson Hewitt spoke on "Communism." He said communism was working assiduously throughout the world. It is a cancerous power undermining the home, country and individualism.

At a recent convention of the Communists at Moscow, 37 nations were represented. He also stressed the fact that it is retarding civilization and he urged every one to help stamp out this evil from every angle possible.

The morning program was not the usual uninteresting, tiring list of reports, etc., but was a series of discussions as to the club program, community needs and cooperation. A history of the Woman's Club was also reviewed—Jacksonville, Ill., being the birthplace of the club. Another interesting phase of the discussion was the enumeration of qualifications for club women. Those to be achieved were loyalty, desire to help, individualism,

"BAD GIRL" BIG HIT IN CHICAGO

"Bad Girl," the comedy drama of young love which has leaped into the front rank of successes presented by the Apollo theatre, Chicago, of which "Young Sinners" and "Sisters of the Chorus" are well remembered examples, continues to attract large audiences to the big playhouse at Chicago and Randolph.

The dramatization of Miss Dehmel's sensational novel gives promise of surpassing the popularity of its predecessors but it is doubtful that it will remain in Chicago as long as did these plays. There is but a company appearing in "Bad Girl" this being headed by Chibberne Foster and other engagements must be made and other large cities before Miss Foster's contract with Producer Robert Newman expires on June 1.

LAKE COUNTY 4-H
CLUBS TO GET $525
FROM RACE LICENSES

Exhibitions by Four-H clubs in 55 of the 102 counties in Illinois will receive $31,141.92 as reimbursement for their 1930 premium payments, from funds collected from the licensed race tracks of Illinois.

This represents an increase of about one-third above the amount paid out in connection with the prior agricultural shows of 1929—the first year of its predecessors but it is doubtful that it will remain in Chicago as long as did these plays. There is but a company appearing in "Bad Girl" this being headed by Chibberne Foster and other engagements must be made and other large cities before Miss Foster's contract with Producer Robert Newman expires on June 1.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Since the beginning of the year much space has been given by newspapers and magazines to a discussion of the business and industrial outlook. Predictions of a rapid restoration of normal conditions are not being made nearly so freely as they were a year ago, yet expert opinion is in the main optimistic.

Reports from many industrial centers show that about 100,000 men were put back to work in automobile, steel, railroad and other industries in a single week, and further reports of increased forces have been a daily occurrence.

While so far those given jobs represent only a small percentage of the unemployed, it is encouraging that a start in the direction of industrial revival has been made.

In the meantime much is being done by governmental and other agencies in an effort to afford emergency relief to those who are actually suffering for the necessities of life; but this task is an enormous one, and distress is likely to be widespread for some time to come.

While it is generally conceded that recovery from the depression will be slow, many leaders believe that when normal times do arrive again the country will be on a sounder basis than ever before. That will certainly be true if all the people will heed the lessons of recent months and cooperate intelligently to avoid another orgy of overproduction, speculation and other excesses, such as that which brought about our present distress.

A SQUAW'S MOMENT

When Sacajawea, a Shoshone Indian woman, aided the Lewis and Clark expedition by acting as a guide for the intrepid explorers of the Northwest, in 1805, she never dreamed that her name would be perpetuated throughout ages to come.

But it will be so perpetuated through a recent action of the United States Geographic Board, which has just given the name Mount Sacajawea to a mountain more than 13,000 feet high, in the Washington National Forest in Wyoming.

The grave of Sacajawea is nearby, in the Indian cemetery at old Fort Vancouver, and the headquarters of the remnant of the once powerful Shoshone tribe is in a village not far away.

While formal recognition of Sacajawea's valuable service has been delayed for a century and a quarter, it is good to know that at last she has been honored in such a fitting manner.

A CLIQUE DEFINED

Do you stay away from meetings of the Barrington Chamber of Commerce, the Barrington Lions Club, the Barrington Woman's Club, the American Legion, or some other organization because it is "cliquey" that clique? Then read this definition of "a clique" by an organization secretary.

He said: "Sure we have a clique, just as every other organization, church, or lodge. It is a group of members who attend meetings from start to close; who do not miss a meeting unless they are sick; these are the fellows that the group calls the clique; the ones who are never behind in their dues; and from meeting to meeting they are the ones who attend to their own business and visit the sick; these are the brothers the clique calls the clique. You should be proud of members like those. Call them clique or whatever you please."

Primitive ideas still obtain in Mexico, it seems. Bandidos who held up a train and murdered several defenseless passengers were rounded up and shot. The culprits were not even given a chance to go crazy or enjoy the sympathy of the mob-sister squad. Eventually Mexico is not up on the new criminalology.

Recently a South Dakota weekly newspaper completed the publication of the entire Bible in installments, begun 22 years ago. It might well begin over, as a new generation has grown up in the meantime, to which the contents of the Book of Books would be real news.

THE MEASURING STICK

EDITH L. REID

George and Elsie live next door to each other. They are in the same class at school, and in the spelling they each missed two words out of ten.

When George gave his spelling paper to his mother, she exclaimed: "Aren't you ashamed of yourself? I suppose you let Jim Martin go to the head of the class again. If you would study as Jim does, mother wouldn't have to feel bad about your spelling paper."

"Spelling's easy for Jim," George protested, "he can remember anything. I thought mine home last night and studied half an hour, but I was afraid I'd miss and so I did."

George's mother thought she was using the best method to make her son study. Ever since George had started to school she had tried to get him to do better. This comparative idea was good, but she had always used the wrong measuring stick. She had held him up against another instead of against himself. The truth was that her own pride was hurt. She didn't want Jim to succeed above her own son. The inference to be drawn, then, by George or anyone else is that if Jim had

Odd Powers Attributed to Gems in Past Ages

While in modern times the value of jewels depends on their use as ornaments and their employment in certain optical and other instruments, the ancients attached a far different significance to them. In their minds gems were endowed with gifts of spiritual and material power and were credited with the ability to cure diseases, avert trouble and drive away the demons, which harassed the imagination of people of early medieval times. This conception gave rise to the wearing of amulets, the presiding genius of one's fate being easily carried about in the form of a precious stone.

These ideas, now so ridiculous to us, had their origin in the philosophy of India and are related to the belief in the transmigration of the soul. It was believed that the soul which, at death, had not reached a state of absolute purity, had to undergo various transmutations until it became purified, and that consequently it entered into plants, animals and even mineral bodies in the process. Therefore, gems were considered living beings. Being of incomparable physical purity, they were regarded as the highest expression of natural perfection, and hence supposed to possess other powerful properties—Exchange.

Historic Buildings in

Finnish Town of Turku

Turku was Finland's first capital. Christianity was first taught there, and the first Christian converts were baptized in the River Aura. The oldest cathedral and the oldest castle in Finland are to be found in Turku, and nearly all the historic homes of the Finnish nobility are in or near the city.

With the exception of the cathedral and the castle, modern Turku has been built since the disastrous fire of 1827, when the old town was almost entirely destroyed in a blaze that burned for five days. Both the castle and the cathedral are grim structures with little exterior ornament. The cathedral has a long, vaulted interior and most of the immense treasure which was once kept there has disappeared.

Part of the castle is now a museum and is furnished with relics of old Finnish furniture. Visitors can still see the dungeon, six fathoms deep and black as pitch, where prisoners were kept. In the great central hall is a high gallery from which a cruel ruler once had unruly subjects hurled to the floor below. One cell in the castle is still known as the malefactor's resting place.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Broad Hint

A business man who has just become engaged to be married is a good-hearted fellow and popular with his staff. His only drawback from their point of view being that he has no idea of time, dictating letters just as everybody is packing up to go home.

As a wedding present they bought him a clock.
It was a fine clock, but it had one defect, it had no hands.
In thanking them for the gift, he called attention to this fact.

"Oh," said the man who was making the presentation, "you never look at the time, so we got the jeweler to remove them. They were gold, and he took $5 of the price."

IF

The small boy, aged six, was making a tiny wreath.
"What is it for?" inquired his mother.
"You know you said you heard a mouse in the pantry?"

"Yes."
"And you know you said you thought of buying a trap?"

"Yes."
"Well, if you buy a trap, and if you catch the mouse, and if they drown the mouse, after it is caught, and if the mouse is buried, and if we give it a nice funeral we shall need a wreath, shall we?"

Burbot May Out Codfish

The nearest fresh-water relative of the cod, the burbot fish may strip its kind of honors in producing medicinally valuable oil.

Scientific experiments, reported to the bureau of fisheries, have demonstrated that burbot liver oil is eight times as potent as cod liver oil in the treatment of rickets.

The burbot, inhabiting the Great lakes and considered a pest by fishermen because it tears their nets and preys on small fry, may become a significant part in the commercial catch. It is believed.

The annual catch of the fish known also as lawyer or eel pout was 510,972 pounds in 1927.

Cigarette Statistics

The United States Department of Agriculture says that burned or burning cigarettes are discarded in the United States at the rate of 170,000 a minute, or $90,000,000,000 a year. Ignition tests made with pads of dry grass showed that a burning cigarette butt would start a fire in 90 per cent of the cases with a wind velocity of three to four miles an hour. The cigarette is one of the greatest fire hazards the forester knows. A trifling fraction of the enormous number of butts discarded is enough to do incalculable fire damage in forests, wood lands and grass lands.

Grades of Ebony

Ebony is the wood of a number of related trees, found in nearly all parts of the tropical world. Its northernmost range is northern Bengal, in India, and in localities of similar latitude and climate. The best grades are from a certain species native to southern India and Ceylon. Another much appreciated variety is from Madagascar. Other places where ebony grows are in Africa, especially Angola, the East Indies; and the poorest, Jamaica variety, in the West Indies.

The Peaceful Celt

Two County Cork boys were in a mopping-up party that had followed the main assault. In a large shell hole they found a group of ten or twelve Germans sound asleep, apparently misled by the first wave.

"Well," said Sean, "shall we shoot 'em or stick 'em?"

"Ho, hum," said Denis, looking at the sky, "it's a fine day. Let's wake 'em up and have a fight."

Thirty Lying Americans?

About one-half of the homes in the United States are owned by men with incomes less than $2,000. So, after all, this thing of saying Americans are not thrifty is based on imagination instead of facts. We guess that about 90 per cent of what we Americans say is untrue. We have developed into a race of liars, we regret to say.—Atchison Globe.

WAKE UP!
YOUR BATH IS READY

It's really not the day's darkest moment when your alarm clock begins to jangle if it's calling you from bed to bath—a warm, cheerful bath that runs unintermittent from the "hot" faucet. This is one of the nice things about automatic hot water service. You can bathe comfortably every morning without lighting fires beforehand—and be on speaking terms with the world for the rest of the day. Even if you're the last one to tumble out of bed, you can count on hot water and plenty of it.

An automatic gas-fired water heater keeps a tankful of hot water ready for instant use, night or day. It's there when it's time to do the dishes, when there's cleaning or washing to be done, when you're cooking—at the turn of a faucet.

This service is one of the home's cheapest luxuries—one that every family can afford. You can have an automatic gas heater installed as soon as you say the word for only $35 down and a small payment monthly with your service statement. Why not call your Public Service Store today and let us send a representative to tell you more about automatic hot water. You won't obligate yourself—and you'll probably be surprised at what you'll find out.

Male Critics Severe on

Work of Women Poets

If an effort were made to determine what constitutes feminine poetry, one would name first its chief characteristic—subjectivity. When a woman writes poetry her emotions generally center around herself and she is only interested in the world as something that reflects favorably or unfavorably on her own individuality. It is usually favorably, when unfavorably, wallowing in the past, writes Horst G. Bruncken, in the North American Review.

As an artist it is rarely that a woman can transmute her emotions objectively into the words to comprehend the world and the human beings that are part of it, not as they touch herself, but as they affect the great lot of humanity.

Feminine poetry, moreover, when it is cheerful, is generally so in a superficial way; it is too often over-sweetened through an erroneous and typically feminine conception of the difference between refinement and truth. It is embroidery poetry, very apt to be sentimental and cloyingly sweet.

And only in rare instances does one find a poem written by a woman where the unpleasantness and even tragic truth of human relationships have not been carefully censored or glossed over.

Cultivate Serenity to ## Fight Mental Fatigue

Mental fatigue cuts down efficiency and spoils happiness. American life with its high-power speed for both work and play produces an unusual amount of mental fatigue. To aid in the cultivation of more serene habits, Dr. Lauren H. Smith, writing in Harvard Magazine, makes the following suggestions:

1. When we work, let us keep our interest in it and make it pleasurable.
2. When we play let us enter into it all as if it is worth without regard for anything else.
3. When we rest and sleep, let us turn the mind and body loose to themselves and let them do what they will. Learn to rest the mind by leaving the mind alone.
4. When we think, let us make a decision and carry it out. If we decide incorrectly it can be reconsidered later.
5. When we are very tired, let us not permit a temporary or extreme emotional reaction to drive us into an act that will have permanent results.

Nation's Honey Production

In the United States the greater part of the honey produced is alfalfa honey from the western states, where several million dollars' worth is sold every year. Sweet clover, white sage and other mountain flowers, also contribute to the western supply. In the central states it is white clover, sweet clover, Spanish needles and heathers, clover, in the southern states, cotton, mesquite, locusts and sweet clover, and in the eastern states, northern pines and Canada buckwheat and white clover are the leading honey flowers. Orange blossoms, clover, aster and basswood complete the list.

Hunters in Red at Funeral

Hunting horses and mourners in hunting costume attended the funeral of Mrs. Anna Isabel Jones, a member of the Quorn Hunt club, at Chiddingfold, Wales, recently. Complaining with her request that there be no indications of mourning, the corpse was dressed in her riding habit and reposed in a Russian casket of polished wood. The hearse was a bay cart, painted red, the estate colors, and covered with moss. Mrs. Jones' two favorite hounds were attended by a groom in red hunting costume. Burial was in a wild and isolated place on a mountain side.

Play to Don Coat

Two men were chatting. "Why is it that Greeks and Italians can get into a coat faster than anyone else?" asked one. "I don't know," replied the careful one. "Did you ever notice the graceful overhead sweep of their arms as they slip on the coat with one complete motion?" queried the first speaker. The other admitted that he had noticed the phenomenon in question. "It's because their Roman and Grecian ancestors used that method in slipping on their togas and they haven't gotten over the idea," asserted Speaker No. 1.—Detroit News.

Bell-Ringing Clocks

Perhaps the earliest tower clock with bell-ringing mechanism was one made by Peter Lightfoot, a monk of Glasterbury, England, about 1225, writes Satis N. Coleman in his book, "Bells." Connected with this clock were automatic figures which struck a bell on the hour. These performing figures, pleased the public and many of the town clocks of Europe were provided with such figures to ring the bells on the hours. They were used for proclaiming time long before the introduction of clock dials.
