County Fair's End Arouses Memories of Old Timers

The Review chronicled the closing of the Lake County Fair, which was held in the fairgrounds at Barrington, Ill., on the 29th of January. The fair was a success in every way, and the old timers who attended it were reminded of the days when they were young.

H. S. Drama Club to Give 4 Plays on February 24

The Dramatic Club of Barrington High School will present four one-act plays on February 24. The plays are "The Bachelor of Gray Crags," "The House Across the Way," "Op-Op-Mo Thumb," and "On That Night." There are carefully selected casts chosen from all four classes in high school.

The first play to be given is "The Bachelor of Gray Crags." This is a story of a bachelor's life who has invited some girl friends over the weekend to visit at her uncle's home. They are alone at the house when suddenly they hear a voice singing somewhere in the spacious house. If you want to find out who was singing and why the mysterious visitor was there, see the play.

The second play is "The House Across the Way." This is given by two characters but it is as interesting and entertaining as any of the other plays. A girl going a favor for her friend goes to a vacant house where she meets with a strange adventure.

"Op-Op-Mo Thumb" is the next presentation. The setting of this play is in old London. A forlorn little maid is waiting for a prince. When she meets her "Prince Charming," a lovely but pathetic story follows.

"On That Night" is the final play. A professional coach has been hired by an author of a play to teach that play, using high school talent. The trials and tribulations that go to make up a part of every play rehearsal will be seen. Finally like a monkey behind the scenes of the dramatic club.

The fourth play is "The House Across the Way." This is given by two characters but it is as interesting and entertaining as any of the other plays.

The fifth play is "The House Across the Way." This is given by two characters but it is as interesting and entertaining as any of the other plays.

Harvard Editor on Journalistic All-American 11

Norman O'Leary, Editor of the All-American Weekly Newspaper Eleven, has been named by Prof. John H. Casey of the University of Oklahoma school of Journalism. His four all-star teams of former years have included a half-hundred distinguished men of the country press. They are in every sense of the word master country journalists, worthy of a place in anybody's hall of fame.

The latest selection, his 1930 eleven, Professor Casey states, is one of the strongest aggregations he has picked. The only hangover from a former team is in the person of Howard Halmer and his Greenwich (Conn.) Press. He has been retained as coach on the team. He played at fullback on the All-American Weekly Eleven a year ago.

M. F. Walsh chosen. M. F. Walsh, editor of the Harvard Herald, has been named on the all American eleven. Mr. Walsh was the only publisher from Illinois picked for the group. Prof. Casey in selecting Mr. Walsh in the Publisher's Auxiliary of last week says:

The Harvard (Ill.) Herald, published by M. F. Walsh, is used to this special distinction. The Herald has been "five times adjudged Illinois' first prize newspaper" and merits the distinction it has won. As local news editor for this All-American organization, Mr. Walsh deserves special credit for the thoroughness with which the Herald covers municipal affairs of a governmental character. In reporting news of city council meetings, for example, he doesn't merely tell what resolutions were passed. He reports what the councilmen said and what the citizens said during the discussions. There also happens to be a woman in this case: Ruth Dugan, who won $250 for writing the best editorial on Milwaukee, following her visit to the N. E. A. convention last June, is city editor. Mr. Walsh is director of registration and education in Illinois under the present state administration.

Relief Committee Extends Help to 20 Needy Families

Born of a recognized necessity for a relief agency of a quasi-official character that would be able to promptly extend aid in cases of distress through unemployment or for other reasons; to step in and take charge until regularly organized governmental agencies could be brought into play, the Barrington Relief Committee has amply justified its existence. It was revealed today, when it was made known that 20 families in the Barrington community have been helped through this agency during the winter months.

In a statement issued today, Charles G. McNary of 620 Oak avenue, chairman of the committee, said:

"The Barrington Relief Committee has since its organization attempted to carry out its responsibility to the community by alleviating any distress that has occurred in the village and the immediate vicinity. How well the job has been done, we do not know, but I should like to say on behalf of the committee that we have tried to work out each individual case for the benefit and best interest of the individuals involved."

"Up to February 1, 20 families have been given relief. In some instances this has only been temporary. To others, it has meant milk for children, while in others where there has been sickness, we have had to look after regular rations."

"In this work we have been aided by the town supervisors, V. D. Hawley in Cook county and H. D. Kelsey in Lake county, to the extent that they have in some cases been able to assume the entire responsibility."

"In addition we have had the excellent cooperation of Mrs. Waterson Steady, the Cook county rural health nurse, in advising and counseling with us on cases that might come under her supervision."

"The excellent cooperation and aid that has been given by the community and not only made the work more thorough but a great deal easier. This was especially due to the general outpouring of funds as evidenced by the fact that we have collected to date $1,808.73. A more detailed report will be made public at a later date."

"We solicit your future cooperation in helping the committee to discharge its responsibility in such a manner that our motto at the beginning of the year may be realized: 'No hungry children in Barrington and its immediate vicinity this year.'"

"Tuesday marks the opening of the spring voting season for Barrington voters on the Cook county side, but the field is small—two candidates for judge of the Superior court of Cook county."

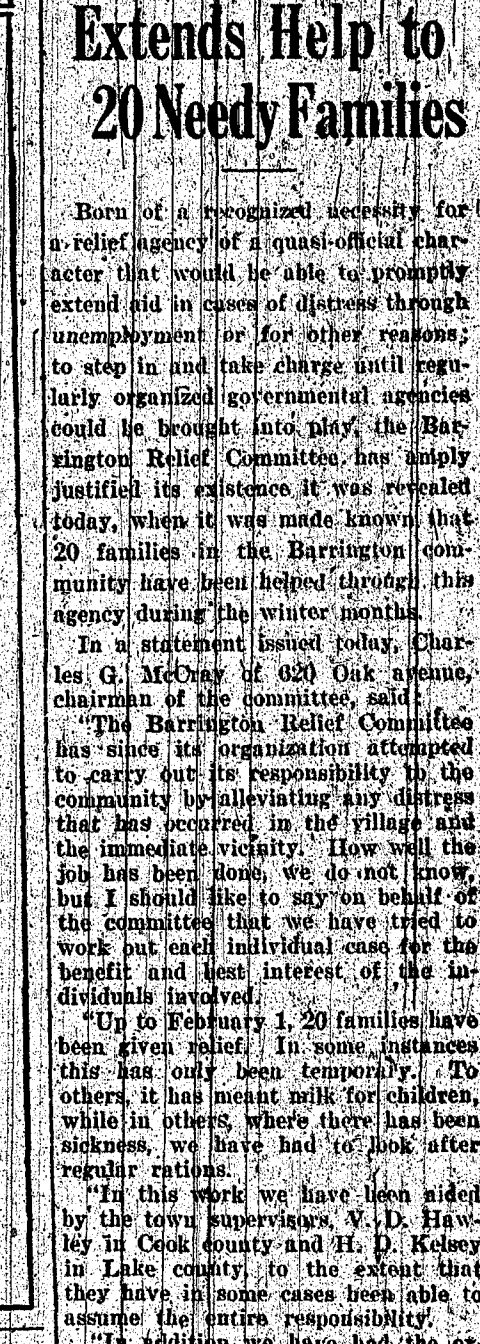

Harry A. Lewis of 6820 Harvard avenue, Chicago, is a candidate for the office on the Republican ticket, and Ernest Stout of 1433 Winnetka avenue, Chicago, is a candidate on the American National Party ticket.

Lewis is a sitting judge and is a candidate to succeed himself. He has the endorsement of both the Republican and Democratic organizations.

The first Barrington precinct polling place is in the village hall and the second precinct polling place is at the South Barrington church. Hours of election are 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Time to File at Hand. Tomorrow is the first day to file petitions for village offices. The village of Barrington will elect this year a president of the board, three village trustees, and two members of the library board. Outgoing officials are: John C. Caldwell, president of the board; H. E. Koeber, D. D. Pomeroy, and E. S. Smith, trustees; and W. D. Dutterer and Harold F. Spencer, members of the library board.

2 Break Through Ice on Wonder Lake; Drowned

Martin Kintworth, 36, and Harry Butler, 40, lost their lives Tuesday morning when they broke through the ice at Wonder lake, the new made lake in McHenry county, and drowned before help arrived. The two men lived on the west shore of the lake and were crossing the lake on foot when the accident happened.

Kintworth is a farmer and Butler has been employed at the Kintworth farm. They had started out to the opposite side of the lake to cut wood. The two men had been using the ice as a means of crossing for some time, but apparently they struck a thin patch and broke through.

Life Attempts Rescue. Mrs. Kintworth heard the screams of her husband and Butler and rushed out on the lake in an effort to rescue them. She also fell through the ice and was in the water for nearly an hour before being rescued. It is believed they will recover, although her condition is serious.

Rescue workers toiled for more than two hours before they recovered the bodies. The ice was so thin that a huge patch was broken and a boat used to get to the scene of the drowning. It is said the water was twenty feet deep when the accident happened.

It was 8:30 when the two men first broke through the ice and it was not until 10:40 that the bodies were recovered.

Mr. Kintworth is a well known McHenry county farmer. He leaves a wife and three children. Butler is married and has been working as a hired man in the Wonder lake community for some time.

New Directories Are Distributed

Barrington directories, recently issued by the Barrington Lions Club, are being distributed this week.

Each advertiser will receive three copies of the directory. Other business houses and each home in the village will receive one copy.

It is not the plan to give out the directories promiscuously, officials of the Lions Club have announced. They are being distributed through a house to house canvass, and each business man or householder is required to accept the copy for his house.

In cases where no one was at home when the directory distributor called, the number of the house is recorded. No further attempt to deliver a directory will be made, but persons who were thus missed may receive their copy by calling on R. E. Williamson, a member of the directory committee, at 208 S. Cook street.

Extra copies of the directory may be purchased from Mr. Williamson at $3.00 the copy.

Barrington Man Loses 6 Dollars to Armed Thugs

Irving Nagatz, 108 Franklin street, was the victim of stick-up men last night, he reported to local police.

As he came out of the garage and turned to close the doors, someone turned a flashlight in his eyes, while he felt something hard and cold pressed against his back; he was ordered to keep still and make no outcry; his pockets were searched and two men fled across the road and disappeared with the six dollars that Nagatz had.

County Fair's End Arouses Memories of Old Timers

London, Thomas H. Phym, Elisha Grady and Edmonan Caldwell, directors of the board of directors.

On Sept. 22, 1892 the first fair of the society was held at the McKay track in Waukegan. Agricultural and stock exhibits and speed trials were the features. The treasurer's report showed that the receipts of the fair were $152.50 and the disbursements $134.00. The second fair was held the following year on the French farm at Libertyville. The festival was held at each of these communities on alternate years until 1897.

On July 22, 1897, the Board of Supervisors leased a ten-acre plot on the county poor farm at Libertyville to the fair association. One-third mile race course was laid out and modest buildings erected. The fair was held on this site yearly, except in 1892 and 1894 during the Civil war, until 1891.

During all those years the Waukegan Fair Association was also in existence. But it gave way to the organization of the fair association in 1892. Before the demise of the Waukegan association interested citizens of Libertyville advanced funds for the purchase of 16 acres in the north east portion of their village. The Agricultural society gained more supporters after the Waukegan organization ended its career and in 1894 added six acres to its 16-acre tract. For the 1895 fair the buildings on the 22 acres and the race track were rebuilt. The fair was one of the most successful held in the history of the Lake County Agricultural Society. More than $4,000 were paid out in premiums and the debts of the society were reduced considerably. From 1895 to 1917 the county fairs attracted wide attention, but during the period from 1918 to 1925 interest began to lag.

Will Rogers at Catlow Theatre in "Lightnin'"

"Will Rogers is known as the most popular wit of the day. On the screen, in his droll American characters, he has no rivals. His resonant voice records perfectly and naturally in 'Lightnin'.' His new talking comedy feature which will play the Catlow theatre two days, beginning to night.

Rogers enacts the role of "Lightnin' Bill Jones," the affable, old tippler and liar who "drowns a swarm of bees across the plains in the dead of winter and never lost a bee." He is supported by Louise Dresser, Helen Cohan, and Sharon Lynn.

"Motives and locomotives mingle in the powerful drama of railroads and railroaders, 'Other Men's Women,' which is Saturday's feature offering at the Catlow theatre.

Mary Astor, whose cameo beauty and rare ability as an actress have won for her increasingly important roles in pictures, plays the girl for whose love two strong men nearly wreck their lives and the driving iron monsters entrusted to their care.

Grant Withers and Herbie Toomey play the two principal male roles; buddies in everything until love for the same girl who is the wife of one, brings their association to its tragic climax.

A "Dogville" comedy, a cartoon and news reel will give added interest to the Saturday's program.

"The Delivery to Hell," which was a sensation during its recent Chicago run, will be on the screen at the Catlow theatre Sunday and Monday nights.

Lewis Ayres, who stepped into world prominence through his work in "All Quiet on the Western Front," plays the leading role.

The story deals with the workings of the eyes, good and bad, who battle for mastery in our big cities.

Laurel and Hardy in a new comedy called "Another Fine Mess" will be on the same bill. News, act, and community singing will round out a program of unusual variety.

There have been fools of one kind and another since the first caveman accidently bounced his club off the head of his partner while they were hunting the dinosaur, who bothered them at night. Very few have admitted much less boasted their lack of reasoning power. Most of them have sought to hide it.

It took the dizzy twentieth century to produce the man who gloried in the title to such an extent that he made the amusement world call him "The Perfect Fool." That man is Ed Wynne, who, after a brilliant comedy career on the Broadway stage, makes his talking screen debut in "Follow the Leader," the friend's Night feature at the Catlow theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, February 24 and 25.

The manager of the Catlow theatre has arranged to show "The Princess and the Plumber," Thursday and Friday, February 26 and 27 as a benefit show for the local Women's Relief Corps. Tickets can be secured in advance from members of that organization.

an Open-letter to Buick owners

February 7, 1931.

Dear Buick Owner:

Because of its importance, we decided to inform you now that the present line of 1931 Buick Straight Eights will not be replaced by new models this summer.

Buick, as you know, has introduced its new cars on August 1st, year after year. But inasmuch as these new Straight Eight models have met with such spontaneous approval by thousands everywhere, Buick has decided to continue manufacturing the present Eights throughout the summer and coming fall.

This is mighty good news to thousands of Buick owners because they will buy new Buicks now with the knowledge that there will be no model change next summer.

They will find in these new Buicks a degree of performance that is certain to give them a genuine thrill. All have the safe, silent-shift Syncro-Mesh transmission. All have Valve-in-Head Straight Eight engines. And all have the famous insulated Bodies by Fisher.

So well has the 1931 line been received that, out of every 100 eights sold in Buick's price class, 56 are Buicks.

May we suggest that you drive the Eight as Buick Builds It? Your Buick dealer will be very glad to have you take the wheel and learn at first hand how very much Buick Straight Eight performance adds to the joy of motoring.

Very truly yours,

The Triggers will gladly tell you all about their gas heat

The Triggers are neighbors of yours. Their name may be Jones or Swanson or Higgenbigger—but they're one of the 10,000 families in the Chicago Area enjoying gas-heated homes—and they'll be glad to tell you all about it.

Call and see

You'll have to pardon Mr. Trigger if he boasts a little about the thermostat on the living room wall. He still thinks it's wonderful that a little gadget like that can operate the heating plant all winter. He winds it only once a week and that's that. No coal to shovel, no ashes—of course not.

Mrs. Trigger likes the way her draperies and furniture stay nice and clean with gas heat. There's no grime or soot. And Junior Trigger likes the new playroom he has in the basement where the coal bin used to be.

If you'd rather not ask the Triggers how much gas heat is costing, ask us. Phone your Public Service Store and we'll send one of our house-heating engineers to call and figure on your requirements. His estimate will cost you nothing—won't obligate you in any way.

If you would like an attractive little booklet containing further adventures of the Trigger Family with gas heat, write your Public Service Store. We'll be glad to send it to you. Obligation? None at all.

Aunts Took Good Care of Henry

By JANE OSBORN

"WHY, nowadays even divorced people sometimes remain friendly after they have separated," Marjorie argued, sitting there on a secluded bench in the park with Henry by her side. "Are you not plenty of girls who are main great friends with me. They've been engaged to. I thought when I promised to marry you, that I'd find each other congenial. Now I find we aren't—that is, not congenial enough to be married. You're too selfish—and I know I'm not the

"I shall go!"

"If you're going," said Henry,
"I'll want to be your friend."

So Marjorie went to the large abandoned mansion on the edge of a city where Henry made his home with his well-to-do aunt, a miser and a childless widow.

Marjorie had meant to tell them once of her broken engagement, but she found no immediate opportunity for such an announcement. After ten Aunt Gloria got her album containing snapshots of

Blackhawks and Jewels Win in Double Headers

The Jewel Tea heavyweights hand- ed Bartlett a 41 to 20 trimming and the Blackhawks defeated Crystal Lake 30 to 12 in a double header at the high school gym Monday night. The Jewel-Bartlett game was very close the first half with Bartlett holding a 13 to 11 lead. In the second half the Jewels' offense got going and with the fine work of Harris under the basket and the accurate shooting of Guberman they piled up a large lead. Guberman with seven baskets led the Jewel scoring, while R. Schmidt started for Bartlett with five markers. On Friday night the Jewel first and second teams play Foulds' of Libertyville at the local gym. Foulds defeated the Jewel heaves in a very close game earlier in the season and the Jewel's will be out to even things up.

B. H. S. Cagers Win Two Games and Lose Two

Barrington high school basketball teams played four games over the week-end. The Bronchos came out on the short end of both of their games but the Ponies came through with two victories.

Wauconda beat the regulars 25-13. Wauconda won from them 27-10. Wauconda took an early lead and kept it the first half. The Bronchos came through with their usual third quarter rally and brought their score within a few points of the Wauconda sharpshooters. They weakened again, however, in the final quarter. They repeated the process again on Saturday night. This time they were outplayed and outscored 17-8 at the half, but in the third quarter they scored enough to make it 10-21. After slumping hit them and they failed to score in the rest of the game.

The Ponies kept themselves in the conference race by turning in two victories. They turned the tables on Wauconda by beating them 16 to 10 and they beat Bensenville 19 to 7. They were hot in both games and found the hoop with ease. Their two hardest games are still ahead of them for they meet Warren this week and Libertyville the following Friday and both of these teams have beaten them badly earlier in the season.

Williams was the only Broncho who could hit the bucket in the Wauconda game and he counted four field goals. In the Bensenville game Capt. Grabenhorst got three, while Thorpe and Reese got two apiece. Reese, by the way, is showing a lot of improvement in the last two games. For the regulars, Miller and Meister got two each in the Wauconda scrap and Miller's floor work was a feature. In the Bensenville game Capelli dropped in three from the floor. It was their team play however that brought them success. Friday night the two teams go to Warren for their last road game. If the Bronchos stop Grabenhorst and Peck and get hot themselves they have a chance to cop a game. Both teams will be up against a tough one, defense.

STATE TO OPEN BIDS FOR SECOND LETTING OF 1931 MARCH 4TH

Springfield, Feb. 19.—Proposals for the second round letting of 1931 are in the hands of contractors who will open bids for opening March 4. The projects in this allotment include 86.80 miles of paving and 12.80 miles of grading. Preliminary work, including highway engineers at present, anticipate expenditures of from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000 for roads and bridges in 1931. If the present sources of highway funds are undisturbed.

BUILD ISLAND TO SAVE LAMP POST FROM DAMAGE

A small reinforced concrete island is being built around one of the new village lamp posts, located in front of the Miller Oil Co. service station at 235 E. Main street. This post has twice been struck by an automobile and damaged during the last two weeks. The street lighting system has not been formally accepted by the village and the island, to protect the post from further damage, is being built by the contractor.

OBEY LOOMS AS NEXT CHAIRMAN LAKE COUNTY BOARD

Supervisor William Obey, of Highland Park, a member of the Lake County Board of Supervisors for more than a decade, looms as the next chairman of the board.

So far Obey is in the field alone. Between now and the reorganization of the board in April there is only one obstacle in Obey's way. That is the election he will have to face March 3 in the town of Deerfield.

Friends of Obey say that he will have no trouble in the Deerfield election, but that chances are he will be unopposed.

Several influential members of the board have pledged their support to Obey, some of them as long as three months ago when he announced to friends that he would seek the coveted chairmanship.

Supervisor Frank Stanton had been mentioned as a possible candidate but he declined to run as he did a year ago when he backed Supervisor Harry Stratton, of Lake Villa, the incumbent.

Obey had been a candidate for the chairmanship twice before. Each time there were circumstances that centered the vote on another candidate but this time board members declare that Obey, if he is returned to the board by his town, is certain to be chairman.

During the past year he has been a member of the following committees: public buildings and grounds, respiration and settlement with the prolate clergy and road and bridge. Obey is a Republican in politics.
