Odd Australian Creatures.

Australia is so werry, werry odd geographically that it is full of queer creatures. The duck-billed platypus and the kangaroo are known to all. At a few know of the tiny kangaroo mouse, which is a small counterpart of the larger animal, and makes huge leaps when chased. Just as the kangaroo. There is also a lizard which raises its forelegs on the ground when in flight and rocks its hind legs at a terrific pace to a cyclist pedalling in a tree.

Would She Be Lonesome

Ver's mother had company and as late with supper. Ver's went into the kitchen where the steak was only she, prepared. Looking at it with only she, said, "Old steak, if you were in my stomach, you'd sure be lonesome," for there's nothing else there.

Mrs. Julia Holland, 74, Fairfield Resident Dies

Mrs. Julia Holland of Fairfield died on Sunday morning at the age of 74. She was buried on Tuesday in St. Matthew's cemetery, Rev. Paul G. Gerth officiating.

Mrs. Holland (nee Radtke) was born Jan. 6, 1858 near Grabow, Germany. She came to the United States in 1881 and was married two years later to Martin Holland in the Fairfield Lutheran church.

She is survived by her husband; three children, Mathilda of Gilmer, Mrs. Minna Hapke of McHenry, and Mrs. Amelia Janus of Glenview; and seven grandchildren. One child preceded her in death.

Our meeting was held Tuesday night, June 7, at Snettinger's Park. Sides were chosen and a ball game was played by the boys after which the business meeting was called at 7:30. Eighteen responded to the roll call.

Talks were given by the following boys: Glenwood Eichman told us how to judge chickens, Wheeler Collins gave a talk on wine and their diseases, Parker Leeland gave a discussion on movable hog houses.

Report of Tenth Annual Tour. On Wednesday, June 8, at 7 o'clock four Lake County 4-H Club boys accompanied by Mrs. Steir started for Champaign to attend the Annual 4-H Club convention.

We arrived at 11:30 and were among 800 to register at the auditorium.

After dinner we assembled in the auditorium and were divided into three groups. First we played games under the supervision of Mr. Gansbach, assistant state 4-H Club leader.

Following this we visited the Morrow Plots where experiments have been made to show the value of certain fertilizers and to demonstrate the necessity of crop rotation.

For example on one plot corn has been planted for 57 successive years. This is very short and is much too light in color and is 1-3 as high as the corn on plot 2.

The corn on plot 2 has been fertilized, rotated, and treated with scientific ideas and is sturdy, has excellent color, and produces three times as much corn as that on plot 1.

Outstanding Screen Pictures Included in Catlow Program

Chic Sale and Jackie Cooper Co-Starring in Human Interest Play

Ken Maynard will be seen in his latest Western picture, "The Pocatello Kid" which comes to The Catlow theatre Saturday night.

In this drama Ken is seen in a dual role, that of a renegade sheriff and that of the sheriff's brother, an escaped bandit. The sheriff, in the employ of a gang of cattle rustlers, is killed in a brawl and the bandit is persuaded to impersonate his dead brother to escape the pursuing posse.

Marceline Day will be seen as his leading lady with a supporting cast which includes Richard Cramer, Charles King and Bert Lindley. Short subjects including a comedy, cartoon, sport and news-reel will be added to the program.

"The Famous Ferguson Case" featuring Joan Blondell will be the feature for Sunday and Monday nights. The story is the film dramatization of a murder mystery which, in its day, received wide publicity. Although the title has been changed to disguise the real-life tragedy, many will recall the original case.

The story begins with the mysterious tragedy with clues here, there and yonder, and a swarm of newspaper reporters and cameramen following them up like bloodhounds—girl reporters, men reporters, a boy reporter who shows up his seniors like nobody's business—a love story that sends a lump into your throat but sets your heart singing—these are just a few of the ingredients of "The Famous Ferguson Case."

Laurel and Hardy with a new comedy, "The Chimp," will furnish the humor element for the program. The pathos of a boy's struggle to conquer fear and thus overcome a physical handicap provides the dramatic appeal of "When a Feller Needs a Friend," co-starring Jackie Cooper and Charles "Chick" Sale, which will come to the local screen next Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

The story is laid in a small mid-western town in which Tom Randall, a moderately successful lawyer, his wife and their little son, familiarly known as Limpy, make their home. Because of his injured leg, the Randall have mollycoddled Limpy from babyhood and in so doing, develop a terrific feeling of inferiority in the boy.

It is the efforts of Uncle Jonas, aged friend of the family, to help the boy regain his self-respect which provides the basis for the story's action. This role is played by "Chick" Sale and is said to be one of the most poignant and stirring characterizations yet offered the screen.

The part of the boy's father is played by Ralph Graves, and Dorothy Peterson enacts the mother role. The picture is being sponsored by the Methodist brotherhood as a benefit for the Methodist church fund.

Phillips Holmes, Walter Huston, Anita Page, Lewis Stone and Jean Herscholt head the impressive cast of "Night Court," which will be shown on Thursday and Friday nights of next week. It focuses its attention upon a night court magistrate who uses his office to further his activities in the underworld.

Huston plays the unscrupulous jurist who presents a respectable side to the public but shows quite another to his nefarious associates. Holmes is seen as a taxi driver, whose home is undermined by the machinations of the crooked magistrate but who ultimately brings the dishonest judge before his own bar of justice. Miss Page enacts the chauffeur's wife who is "framed" on a morals charge and sent to prison to seal her lips from judicial investigators.

Museum Offers Free Recreation. In accordance with its annual custom, Field Museum of Natural History has announced through its director, Stephen C. Simms, its plans to provide free recreational facilities for children during the long summer vacation which begins with the closing of schools this week.

"It is hoped that every child in Chicago and its suburbs will be sent or brought at least once, and possibly several times, to the museum during the summer," Mr. Simms declared. "Days spent at the museum are a continuation of the education interrupted by vacation, but the museum's form of instruction is sugar-coated, and has a tinge of adventure and fun. The child in the museum absorbs lessons unconsciously, while all he realizes is that he is having a good time."

Body of Charles Saylor Brought Here for Burial

Charles L. Saylor of Edison (Park) died Saturday morning at the West Memorial hospital following an illness of long duration.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal church of Edison Park at 2 o'clock on Monday and burial took place at the Evergreen cemetery in Barrington. Mr. Saylor is survived by his widow and four daughters. Mrs. Earl Powers and Mrs. Albert Schutt, both of Edison Park, are daughters.

Removing the Beard. There is no record as to when men first shaved. Drawings and pictures in ancient history, such as that of Egypt, Chaldea and Ur, all depict men being clean shaven. The American Indian used a sharp flint to shave himself and it is presumed that in the earliest stages of history prehistoric man used the same thing. As steel was known in Egypt and Chaldea, it is believed that these people made some instrument with which they could shave themselves.

Seven Seas Definition. Col. G. E. Gerbil, in his "Researches on Ptolemy's Geography of Eastern Asia," traces the expression "Seven Seas" back to Indian and Chinese legend. From the Purnana Colonel Gerbil made the following list of seven seas: Sea of Salt Water, surrounds India; Sea of Sugar Cane Juice, surrounds Burma; Sea of Wind, surrounds the Malay peninsula; Sea of Clarified Butter, surrounds the Sunda archipelago; Sea of Milk, surrounds Siam and Cambodia; Sea of Curds and Whey, surrounds southern China, and Sea of Fresh Water, surrounds northern China and Mongolia.

Vest Pocket Airplane. An army officer of Prague claims to have constructed the world's smallest airplane. He calls it "Sparrow" and its machine weighs only 120 pounds. It is 12 feet long and has a wing spread of 18 feet.

The Eleventh Commandment. The most intelligent of all European nations has called "Never Interrupt" the eleventh commandment.—Schopenhauer.

THE responsibility of those who have reposed faith in him is as great as that of any other professional man to his client—if not greater. We always accept this responsibility with a sense of solemn obligation to give the best possible service and in every other way protect the interests of the family involved.

Lake County to Effect Saving in Future Road Work

State to Reimburse County for 50 Per Cent of Paving Done

A saving of $600,000 in future paved road work in Lake county was effected before the county board adjourned yesterday, by placing road work under the 15-D section of road and bridge laws, whereby the county gets a 50 per cent refund from the state through the state gasoline tax. The county plans a $1,250,000 future road program and by placing it under the 15-D section instead of the M. F. T. section the county will be refunded approximately $600,000 for additional road construction from the state fund. Thus, the county will actually get about $1,800,000 worth of roads for $1,250,000 of its own funds. The plan was worked out by R. M. Loddell, superintendent of highways, and the road and bridge committee, of which Harold Kelsey, supervisor from Cuba township, is a member.

Poor Masters' Resolution Adopted
A resolution enabling poor masters to decide under whose care paupers should come, was adopted by the board. The length of time of which a pauper becomes a charge of the township was designated as 30 days, county 90 days, and in the state one year. The board adjourned until next Tuesday to give the executive committee time to eliminate the number of assistant supervisors. A recent ruling provides that a supervisor may have an assistant for every 5,000 population instead of for every 2,500 as heretofore. The ruling does not affect more than three or four townships in Lake county.

Humming Bird Unique
The humming bird apparently experiences no difficulty in remaining perfectly stationary in the air when ever it cures to do so.

Dr. John Gordon Pictures Value of Virtues to Youth

Guarding of Traits a Duty, Baccalaureate Speaker Tells Class

Virtues inherited from parents, endowment of a strong and healthy body, and the capacity of youth for developing a high character were given by Dr. John Gordon, pastor of the Second Congregational church of Rockford, as the greatest ammunition youth has in carrying them through a useful and fruitful life, in a baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Barrington high school Sunday night. The speaker talked on the sacredness of youth, using as his text, "Let no man despise thy youth."

He pointed a picture of the unlimited possibilities for the youth to conquer if they only make full use of the qualities with which they are endowed. "Youth is strong, life is undimmed, strength is unimpaired and there are so many things to be done," Dr. Gordon stated. "Youth is full of ideals—air castles. If you wish to call them that—lead them on to greater things to be done. Many of our old people would be better off had they carried them all through life."

Ideals Upheld
One of the greatest assets of youth is the virtues inherited from parents and ancestors, Dr. Gordon said, and every effort should be used to guard and protect them. "Turn these virtues to the future," he said, "and keep your life clear, pure and unspotted. When you think of the many sacrifices given for you, it would be a crime and a curse if you did not go out and do your best in life."

Dr. Gordon made a strong moral plea for guarding the mind, body, and character from iniquities stating that "you can never wash your linen clean in dirty water."

"Keep clear of concealment," he said, "whatever you do, don't be afraid of doing it in the open."

"Look Up to the Future"
The modern trend, he pointed out, is that too many people are pointing down to the results and degradation brought by sin and lawlessness. What we need, instead, is to start looking down at the results and start looking up to the light and the future," he added.

"Think things out for yourself! . . . have something about you that gives you authority . . . have some independent judgment and don't fall in line with the ways of the crowd," are some of the thoughts he left with the graduates. "What we need most today is some young people as crusaders in the cause of independent thought and action."

Rev. P. H. Beuscher presided at the exercises and Rev. M. E. Freeman led in invocation. Two numbers were given by the girls' glee club, and Rev. H. E. Koenig gave a scripture reading. Rev. C. E. Drussel closed the program in benediction.

Mrs. Elizabeth Imbodes, Aunt of Rev. P. Beuscher, Dies at Age of 84 Years

Mrs. Elizabeth Imbodes, 121 W. Lincoln avenue, died at 11 o'clock Tuesday night. Mrs. Imbodes, who was 84 years old, had been growing weaker for the last three months. She has been living with her nephew, Rev. Philip Beuscher, for the past 14 years. The funeral services were held at the Salem Evangelical church at 2 p. m. Thursday. Following the services, which were conducted by Rev. J. G. Schwab, district superintendent of the Salem Evangelical church, Rev. Beuscher accompanied the remains to Hamilton, Ont., Canada, where services were conducted in the Evangelical church of that city. The deceased was buried in the city cemetery of Hamilton.

Mrs. Elizabeth Imbodes (nee Albert) was born in Waldsee, Germany, on Feb. 7, 1848. At the age of 17 she left the parental home in Germany for London, Eng., where she stayed for six years. In 1874 she married Charles Imbodes after which she and her husband emigrated to Canada and took up residence in Hamilton, Ont., where they made their home for 50 years. Since 1918, when her husband died, Mrs. Imbodes made her home with the Rev. and Mrs. Beuscher.

WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR

We have had a moratorium of the war debts. We have had international conferences, and lots of them, in the interests of peace and in behalf of disarmament.

We have organized gigantic methods for relief of the drought sufferers, the unemployed, and the unfortunate. We have massed the credit of the government and loaned billions of dollars to the farmers, and to the processes of keeping crop prices from falling through the cellars; and to the railroads and to the steamship lines. The question of balancing the national budget has been solved by a patient and over-abused congress.

The gold standard has been upheld in the United States. The crash of country banks has been checked. High wind-jumping has decreased as "a way out of the whole mess."

There aren't quite so many divorces. There are fewer drunks. Cigarette smoking is decreasing among the ladies, according to the wail of the tobacco trust and the official figures.

Thus: The political and the social ills are in pretty good shape.

This cock-eyed world should wake up, and put the props under its economic structure. Uncle Sam has started everything except soup kitchens to help everything and everybody.

Perhaps if we just forgot all about it and the depression everything would be all right again.

ONE WAY TO REACH CRIME

Senator Glenn of Illinois, had a happy inspiration the other day when he offered an amendment for the tax bill laying a 100 per cent tax upon all incomes obtained by crime. The amendment was promptly adopted and doubtless will be written into the law.

The gist of Senator Glenn's amendment is included in his statement, "I propose by my amendment to change the position of our government from that of a partner in the profits of these great criminal activities to something entirely different. Instead of sharing in the profits of illegitimate business as we do in the profits of legitimate business and industry and law-abiding persons, I propose that the government shall confiscate every dollar of such profits if they can be reached."

That certainly is one way to end the "partnership" between the government and crime—by giving all the profits to one of the partners and sending the other to jail! Hitherto law violators have been able to render themselves immune to prosecution so far as the government was concerned merely by declaring their income to the internal revenue bureau and paying the tax. Al Capone got himself into trouble, not by the crimes through which he derived his income, but by failing to declare that income and to pay the tax on it. If the Glenn amendment had been in the law a year ago Mr. Capone would not now be looking forward with complacency to a life of ease when he has served his prison sentence through the enjoyment of his ill-got gains. In the future vigorous enforcement of the 100% levy on crime revenues will certainly tend to discourage criminal activity in that industry since even the most confirmed criminal would hardly care to work for nothing.

THE RAILROAD ENIGMA

The railroads are among our largest taxpayers. In normal times they are the most important employees of labor and purchasers of supplies. They perform a vital service which no other agency can yet duplicate. And we have led them to the brink of ruin, by subjecting them to unequally regulated competition from government-subsidized steamship and barge lines on the water, and commercial motor transportation operating over state-built and state-maintained rights of way paid for by all private taxpayers, including the railroads. All this, as Governor Ritchie pointed out some time ago, "has threatening consequences to our future prosperity, as well as to the millions of our people whose savings are invested in the railroads, either directly or through savings banks and insurance companies."

When we deliberately cripple a basic industry we all pay the bill. We pay it in unemployment, in depressed business, in smaller tax receipts for the public treasury. At present most industries suffer from low earning capacity—but that has been the condition of the railroad ever since the war, due largely to an overdose of restrictive regulation. If ever the people had an interest in an industrial problem, they have it in the railroads.

NO WILD CAT MONEY

There are "financiers" in this country, some even in the congress of the United States, who insist that we ought deliberately to go off the gold standard. They point to the advantage other countries are getting in our markets because of the cheap currency they have at home and argue that if we had cheap currency we could not only hold our own market, but penetrate others.

But listen! In Great Britain and in every other country in Europe they have blackboards in all banks, produce markets and other public places, where they chalk up several times a day the changing value of their money, and the fluctuations in the currencies of other countries. These fluctuations occur almost hourly and no one knows from one day to another what he may have to pay for what he wants to buy. It is a reminder of the old state bank days in our own country when every man had to carry with him a "banknote detector" in order to know what the currency was worth in which he was dealing.

It will be a long time, if our people keep their sanity, before the United States again adopts a wild cat money system.

500,000 TAX SPENDING BODIES

The statement was recently made from an authoritative source that there are upwards of 500,000 tax spending bodies in the United States.

It is estimated that during the fiscal year to end June 30, these bodies will have spent the sum of $14,000,000,000—one-fifth of the national income. Where, in 1903, the per capita annual cost of government was $10.30, it is now about $125—an increase well in excess of 600 per cent!

The present predicament of the country is largely the result of these tax increases, made necessary by political waste, inefficiency and selfishness, and by the creation of new bureaus and boards, each with its list of employees, and by unwarranted extension of government activities into fields which should properly be left to private initiative. Unless a start is made toward genuine government economy, which will lop off unnecessary commissions and eliminate waste and duplication of effort, the wealth and earning power of our citizens will be confiscated by taxation.

We are a nation dedicated to the principle of individualism. Yet we have built up the biggest and most expensive governmental machinery created anywhere at any time. We strenuously object to "government in business" and yet we spend more money on governmental promotion and regulation of business than any country in the world except Russia.—The Index.

The only thing decided by the nations at the Geneva disarmament conference was that all the other nations should disarm.

The war debt that almost every male American is in favor of abolishing is alimony.

Four Russian towns have been named Stalin. Evidently, a dictator is without modesty in his own country.

Automobile sales are bound to pick up soon. Otherwise, there won't be enough left to take care of the hitch-hikers.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

By National Editorial Association
(Special to The Review)

IF IT IS TRUE that the fear adds wings to the heels, congress will break camp within a week. The increasing horde of bonus petitioners with their ominous possibilities have stifled what might have been a prolonged political harangue on a number of partisan issues. There is no doubt that the melancholy scene of marching sealots demanding relief has cast a spell over the legislative body. The parleys with the bonus expeditionary force have been decidedly awkward to the senators and representatives. It is generally recognized that the public treasury is not in a position to absorb the two billions asked for a bonus. Sympathy is a shifting anchorage for political mariners. Promises of votes for the bonus without an actual test may bring troublesome explanations in their home districts this fall.

VARIOUS RELIEF MEASURES

Now pending in congress are handled gingerly as a lighted bulb. In extending government aid to the unemployed it is claimed by the more deliberative minds here that consideration has been given to all factors with the single exception of the taxpayer. It is proposed to appropriate two billions from a federal pocketbook that is empty and yawning with a tremendous deficit. The trend is to authorize a bond issue which will bear accumulated interest amounting to 20,000,000 as a means of financing the relief projects in the Wagner and Garner bills. The final draft will show a relief mechanism, the cost of which must eventually be borne by the taxpayer. It is contended that states and municipalities must revise their tax methods to relieve the local taxpayer of many burdens.

THE REPUBLICAN

National convention did not draw heavily from the official population here, largely because of the congressional session. Then it was conceded that the meeting was nothing more than a repetition of the 1924 convention in Cleveland, which was aptly called a "ratification meeting." The squabble at Chicago, this week hinged around the plans for the party platform and privately on ways and means to meet campaign expenses. The critical eyes of the democrats are trained on the Windy City spectacle in order to determine partisan strategy in winning the voters.

WITH THE NEW internal revenue bill becoming operative next week it is interesting to note that the cost of collecting taxes has increased. Prior to the World war the collection of taxes cost $1.80 for every $100 collected. The lowest cost was in the fiscal year 1918 when it only required 33 cents to collect $100 from the taxpayers. That low cost was due to the sharp increase in revenue and to the fact that the personnel of the tax bureau had not been increased to any extent. The cost of collecting $100 in taxes in 1931 was $1.40. One of the arguments made in favor of the sales tax was that it could be gathered into the public treasury at a lower cost.

THE FIRST definite reaction against the tax law is expected within a month. Ordinarily the public sentiment would not crystallize until next March when income returns are due. The payment of direct federal taxes for gasoline and oil will strike millions of automobile drivers each day; consumers of electrical energy will notice the tax item on their monthly statements, as will users of telephones. It is expected that tax on checks of two cents each will curtail the free and easy method of paying bill or a means of evasion found which will reduce the tax. It is estimated that the automobile industry will defray 25 per cent of the total new levy as taxes are imposed on passenger cars, trucks, tires, accessories and gas. The tax on postage matter becomes effective July 1 and 6, a revenue item that goes direct to the average citizen.

Mrs. Putnam Coming to Chicago

Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, daring aviatrix and first woman to complete a solo flight of the Atlantic ocean, will fly to Chicago on June 24 for the George Washington Bicentennial military tournament and participation in the opening ceremonies that day. It is announced by Major General Frank Parker, director of the tournament. The flyer will be General Parker's guest during her stay here.

Whether Mrs. Putnam will fly here in an army, privately owned or commercial plane is yet to be decided, but in any event her arrival will be by air and General Parker will detail the more than 100 army air planes to participate in the tournament to fly out and meet her some distance out of Chicago.

Under this escort Mrs. Putnam will fly directly to Soldier Field and after circling the arena and dipping in salute, she will take her plane up several thousand feet and "sit" at this vantage point to observe the sham air battle and other maneuvers of the swarm of army planes.

Mrs. Putnam, a former Chicagoan and graduate of the Hyde Park High school, made her daring and successful flight across the Atlantic ocean on May 20, leaving Harbor Grace, Newfoundland at 4:53. Chicago time she flew 2,062½ miles before being forced down by a leaky gas pipe five miles north of Londonberry in Northern Ireland, 14 hours and 54 minutes after her departure. This set a new speed record for trans-Atlantic flights.

Wandering From This to That

Transforms Dreams Into Reality

Transportation of humans with an adaptation of the conveyor belt principle by which materials are moved in large manufacturing plants is the substance of a plan recently worked out as a means of relieving the instantly growing congestion in large centers of population.

The system, called the bi-way, consists of two parallel tracks, one express and one local, bordered by stationary platforms. The cars, instead of being in several trains at frequent intervals, would form one express and the other local, travelling like moving sidewalks, with upholstered seating facilities.

It is claimed for the system that its installation and maintenance costs would be only 80 per cent the costs of a subway and that the biway would carry 28 per cent more people per hour past any given point, affording four times the seating capacity of a subway.

The speeds of both trains are varied in such a way that at frequent intervals they travel at the same speed, so that passengers may readily change from one to the other. The local train is of 17½ miles per hour and the express runs from 17 to 22 miles per hour.

Driving motors are stationed beneath the tracks at intervals of about 1,000 feet. Running lengthwise beneath each train is a "T" section, the flange of which runs between driving wheels of the motors.

Operation of the entire system is so timed that the stopping and transfer intervals are positive and automatic. Passengers board the first of the moving platforms or belts of cars at any point. When it is moving at the speed of the second parallel platform gates open and they enter the express, where they remain for the trip. Between its meeting with the local platform, the speed of the express increases to 22 miles an hour. It never stops. There is a loading and a transfer every 50 seconds.

Five Fair Buildings Completed

With the dedication of the hall of science on June 1, just one year before the official opening of the Century of Progress exposition, five major buildings or groups of buildings are standing and ground has been broken for three more; more than $3,000,000 has been signed in contracts for exhibit space or special buildings, and 44 states of the Union have taken steps toward participation.

The buildings now standing are the administration building, the replica of Fort Dearborn, opened on May 15, 1932, and already inspected by 150,000 admission-paying visitors; the travel and transportation building, the electrical group and the hall of science.

Ground has already been broken for the Chinese Lama temple just west of the hall of science, for the agricultural group of Northrup Island and for the general exhibits group, south of the hall of science.

In addition the General Motors company has started construction of its special building, the Chrysler corporation has completed plans for its building and work is nearly completed on the replica group of buildings associated with the life of Abraham Lincoln and a group of thrilling rides and other attractions in the amusement area.

Introduce Glass Walls for Museum

An art museum with glass walls was one of the innovations announced at a recent meeting of the American Association of Museums held recently in the Fogg Art Museum, Cambridge, Mass. The building, designed by Clarence Stein, architect of New York, is planned for erection at Princeton, New Jersey.

The outer walls of the building are to be made of glass brick, about regulation size, each brick being hollow in the center. The bricks are to be of prismatic character, throwing light obliquely upon the walls where the pictures are to be hung. The gallery walls are of wood, built in sections that can be made into as many units as desired, thus allowing for the expansion or contraction of the size of the gallery. The inner walls are not planned to be at right angles, but are to be more like an octagon, thus avoiding reflections. The lights, all the light coming from the glass outer wall, which is controlled at will by colored sections. Thus if an exhibition of pictures is held, and a high side light is desired, the lower two-thirds of the glass wall may be covered, preventing an ideal lighting effect.

State News

The last of the anticipation notes for emergency unemployment relief, totaling $6,250,000 will be sold soon by the board composed of Governor L. Emmerson, State Auditor Oscar Nelson and State Treasurer Edward J. Barrett. A total of $12,500,000 has been previously issued and the money will be exhausted soon, the emergency relief commission has advised state officials. The greater part of the money has been spent for relief in Chicago, although allotments have been made to a number of down-state counties.

Constitutionality of the state income tax law will be argued before the supreme court Monday, June 20. It is revealed by the docket for the June term, issued by Clerk Charles W. Vail. The term opened June 7 and the call of the docket will start Thursday, June 10, following the admission of a class to the bar. Assistant Attorney General Montgomery S. Winning and David J. Kadyk will uphold the income tax act while it will be attacked by attorneys representing the three men who brought suits assailing the law.

A county which spends yearly more than it takes in should pay claims out of an appropriate fund and it is exhausted and any deficit would be a legal claim against the county. Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom has advised the state's attorney at Metropolis. No funds raised for a specific purpose should be used for any other purpose, Carlstrom said, except at the end of the year if there is a surplus, it would go into the general fund and be available for any county use.

State fair officials and statewide committees in charge of arrangements for Veterans' day at the annual exposition, have approved plans for the allotment of $6,000 for competitive events to take place on Sunday, Aug. 21. The fund is an increase of $1,000 over that of last year.

George F. Nixon, Chicago real estate man, has been appointed by Gov.

ernor Louis L. Emmerson as a member of the Cook County Board of Appeals created by the last General Assembly to supplant Cook county's old tax assessment and reviewing machinery. Mr. Nixon was appointed, Gov. Emmerson explained, so that real estate taxpayers would have adequate representation on the Board of Appeals.

The Illinois-Indiana highway bridge that spans the Wabash river at Mt. Carmel probably will be dedicated and officially opened to the Atlantic-Pacific route traffic on Friday, June 24, the State Department of Public Works and Building has announced. The actual construction work on this bridge is now about completed, according to the Division of Highways. The cost of the bridge is being shared equally between this state and Indiana.

A book of suggestions on the law applicable to counting votes cast for representatives in the general assembly has been compiled by Secretary of State William J. Stratton. Confusion sometimes results due to the fact that votes may be cast for one, two or three candidates. Next fall, the books will be mailed out to county clerks for distribution to election officials.

Jorgensen Attend Indian Pageant at Camp Edwards

Harold Jorgensen and sons, Harold Jr., and Donald, Robert Jorgensen and family of Park Ridge, and Mrs. Rose Kump motorized to the Y. M. C. Camp Edwards at Lake Zurich, Wis., Sunday to attend the Indian pageant given by camp leaders in Indian costume.

They reported that it was an interesting sight to see. The Indians made their appearance from around the bend of the lake coming out in canoes and beating their tom-toms; they then landed at the Lions club pier donated by the Elgin Lions club, and gave their pageant around the loten pole.

Harold Jorgensen, Jr., and his cousin, Robert Jorgensen, are going to Camp Edwards Monday for a two-weeks period.

Complainants Fail to Get Rehearing in Lake Zurich Suit

Denial Strengthens Decision of Supreme Court That Lake Is Private

Failure to obtain a rehearing in the Lake Zurich case on Friday, June 10, strengthened the supreme court verdict of last April which upheld Judge Edward L. Shurtleff's decision that the lake is private property.

Albert J. Leonard and other small property owners in the vicinity of the lake were denied an injunction against Marguerite Pearson, G. W. Pearce, and August Froelich, big property owners on the lake shore. The refusal to reconsider the case closes the issue and definitely places the lake shore property in the hands of those who own it.

The local battle began four years ago when owners of property adjoining the lake attempted to control the fishing rights as a result of objectional trespassing from property that does not border upon the shore of the lake.

State Government Cost, High
Illinois ranks sixth in a group of middle-western states as to the annual per capita cost of state government. Minnesota with a total of $15.94 per citizen is at the top of the list while the Illinois figures is $7.05.
