PLANT GARDEN AND ASSIST GOVERNMENT

There are just three main needs for this nation to prosecute this war to a successful conclusion. They are:

1. The men.

2. The money to equip these men of the army and navy with ships, ammunition, clothing and all the thousand and one things the army and navy need.

3. Food for ourselves and our allies.

We already have the men—two million of them already under arms, and unlimited millions more when they came from. They are brave, theirs American men, willing to die, if need be, that free governments shall not perish from the earth. There is no need to worry about the men.

There remains for us at home to produce the money and the food. We do it before it is too late, or will we muddle along until, some fine day, months away from harvest time, we wake up to the fact that our allies cannot continue the fight because they have nothing to eat and our soldiers are butchered in some great German offensive because they have not shoulder shells?

The War Savings campaign is designed to raise the money, it gives all the people—men, women and children—an opportunity to enlist in the great thrift army to back up the men in the trenches. We know they will do it if they realize the gravity of the situation.

The farmers of the nation are relied upon to furnish the food. They will do it if they can, but there are many difficulties in the way. Chief of these is the shortage of labor. Fields cannot plow themselves, and weeds will grow and choke the grain unless kept down by assiduous tilling.

Why not let the War Savings campaign and the production of food go hand in hand? Let high school boys who can, work for the farmers this year, and invest their savings in War Savings stamps. And let all boys and girls, too, for that matter, plant War Savings gardens. They will be amazed to find how much they can produce on little plots of ground, and how readily the food can be sold.

Every boy and girl who plants a War Savings garden will be helping his or her country in two ways. They will be producing the food to help defeat the kaiser, and they will be saving money to lend to their country to equip the men who are fighting to keep the sun from our shores.

We should have a million War Savings gardens in Illinois this year.

M. E. Church Notes

Sunday morning subject: "A Great Need of the Soul." Evening: "A Study of the Methods and Message of Billy Sunday." This will be a blackboard study of how he does things, what he preaches, how he makes you feel, and of some of his sermons. We have heard Mr. Sunday several times, and studied his methods. We will consider the data, errors things in this theology, and also why you should support him also.

Let men remember the meeting at 3:30 at the Baptist church held for the purpose of organizing a Men's Union and Community Bible Class. A large number have signed an agreement to be there. Other churches will plan to unite in this little fanes as soon as they can adjust other plans, and visit work. We believe that no church should be criticised for not uniting in such movements if they cannot see their way conveniently to do it. That is the spirit in which we start such a movement. But we are anxious to have all unite as far as they can conveniently, and will work heartily with all men of the community. The plan is to have this class only for a few weeks, until warm weather.

JOHN E. DeLONG, Pastor.

Primary Resolution

Resolved, that a primary be held at the village hall, Barrington, Illinois, March 30, 1918, from 2 to 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating village officers to be elected Tuesday, April 16, 1918. The name of all candidates to be printed on one ballot, and voting to be under the Australian Ballot System. Candidates to be required to file with the village clerk their names designating the office for which they are candidates at least five days prior to the date fixed for the primary. The names to appear on the ballot in the order filed after the adoption of this resolution.

A. W. Meyer, President.
J. C. Chatwalder, Clerk.

P. L. Z. & W. TO PASS into HANDS OF NEW MANAGEMENT

There is gloom in Wauconda and Lake Zurich and sorrow in Palatine. For Maude may scale no more. With the passing of Maude, there is little left to live for in Wauconda. Maude is the village's proudest possession, its darling, its joy. Three times this winter eighty-five men from Wauconda and Lake Zurich dug Maude from snow banks whither she had carelessly wandered.

Maude is the lone engine owned by the Palatine, Lake Zurich and Wauconda railroad, even as she P. L. Z. & W. is Wauconda's lone railroad. Consequently, when Thomas G. Winder of the Wauconda Leader's sale of the road he hung crepe all over Wauconda. If you lived in a city town with Maude the only means of getting thru the snow drifts during the twenty one days of a week's thirst, you could understand the love which Wauconda lavishes on Maude.

Mr. Thomas G. Peck, the receiver, puts the railroad, its few freight and passenger cars, and Maude, under the hammer, her fate will be watched with interest some and tearful. Wauconda is hoping the Northwestern will buy her and allow her to disport herself along her accustomed paths.—Tribune.

Mr. Howland Complimented

Henry A. Howland, formerly cashier for many years of the First National Bank of Chicago, the second largest bank in the United States, who only recived from that position the first of January this year to reside on a fine Illinois farm, has come to Charleston to do his "bit" for his country in becoming cashier of the disbursing offices of the government explosives plant C. at Nitro.

Mr. Howland has his office in the Masonic Temple in connection with those of Captain McConnell, quarter master. He has been in the city about a week and is planning to bring his family here, he said this morning.

Mr. Howland assumed his connection with the First National Bank of Chicago at the age of 21 and remained with it for 32 years. He came to Charleston, Captain McConnell related this morning, to assist in the government's work here, at the request of Major Noman, president of the Hercules powder co. of Chicago, who has been made chief disbursing officer for all the government's powder plants.

The following were chosen as judges of the primary and election: Henry Haage, A. G. Foley, and A. W. Meyer. The following were chosen as clerks of the primary and election: F. L. Waterman, H. Schwemm and J. C. Chatwalder. The board adjourned at 9 o'clock.

A Great Story by a Great Author

The Review will soon begin publication as a serial "Long Live the King," the latest and greatest story written by Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart. Mrs. Rinehart stands right at the head of the list of fiction writers today. She is the highest paid woman author of the present time and is one of the most popular writers of either sex. In this timely story Mrs. Rinehart draws a sharp contrast between the strength and freedom of democracy and the weakness of a monarchy surrounded by intrigue and treachery. Don't miss the first installment in an early issue.

Last Call

The last day for the payment of taxes to the collector in the town of Cuba will be Saturday, March 9. I will be at my office all day Friday and Saturday and from 7 to 8 o'clock in the evening.

INTERESTING NEWS NEAR-BY

The question of housing the Holton factory employees is again puzzling Elkhorn business men and a committee has been appointed to look up all available houses and rooms.

Borden's Condensed Milk factory at Marengo was threatened with destruction Monday morning by a fire, which originated from a gasoline explosion in the tool house, thirty feet distant from the bottling plant. The prompt and efficient work of the fire department, assisted by volunteer workers alone saved the factory from destruction. The damage is estimated at $400.

A letter from Albert Miller of Carpenterville, from somewhere in France states that he is well and likes the country. He says the weather is not very cold but he would not be surprised any morning to see two feet of snow on the ground. He has only received one letter from home since some time in December and his Christmas box had not reached him when he wrote.

One of the boldest farm robberies that has been brought to our attention in a long time took place on the E. S. Gulbransen farm, three and one half miles east of Crystal Lake one night recently, when a fine young calf was stolen and butchered right on the premises. The hind heart and liver and a piece of the shoulder were left behind, giving evidence that the thief had contracted for more than he could possibly carry.

NEWS OF THE FARM AND DAIRY

Notes of Comment and Interest to Local Agriculturalists and Milk Producers.

The eight officials of the Milk Producers' association indicted for conspiracy will go to trial in the criminal court April 3. The indictments grew out of the recent milk boycott.

On the hands of present farmers the milk producers assisted receive $1.60 a hundred pounds for his product if he is to receive cost, plus a 10 per cent profit, according to an interview with J. T. Williams of Sterling in a Gazette newspaper. Mr. Williams is president of the Woodlawn Farms company and has had years of experience in dairy farming and a retail distributor of milk.

As a means of stimulating movement of farm products to the consumer, Postmaster General Burleson Tuesday increased the allowable weights of parcel post packages, effective March 15. Packages when limited in the first or second zones for delivery in the first, second and third zones, were increased from twenty to fifty pounds.

That 250 of the finest dairy cattle in Lake county were shipped from Milburn to the Chicago stockyards for meat purposes one day this week is the information received in the office of City Physician J. C. Foley of Waukegan. A stockbugger by the name of Strang is said to have made the statement, "It is most deplorable that Lake county dairy herds are being depleted in this manner," Dr. Foley said. "To slaughter fine dairy cattle for meat is a grave mistake, but I am afraid this will not be found out until it is too late."

Classed as Reserve Militia

Governor Lowden on Tuesday issued a proclamation calling for 11,000 volunteers for the Reserve Militia of Illinois. It is understood that under this proclamation, units of the State Council of Defense Volunteer Training Corps will be called into service as reserve militia.

It is thought likely that the local company will receive the favorable consideration because of its record in the matter of attendance at drill, and knowledge of military tactics is sufficiently good. Should this happen, it is understood that the company would be limited to sixty-five men, and undoubtedly those who have been most faithful in attendance and are best qualified physically, will be selected.

The prospect of going into the Reserve Militia should be an additional incentive to officers and men alike to progress in their work as rapidly as possible.

Car of Oat Feed Coming.

Mr. Farmer we will have a car of good oat feed here within a few days, which will be sold at $32.00 per ton a car. If you want to save a few dollars have your order with us now.

Lagerschotte & Hager.

Suppose this space was yours.

The annual mid-year teachers' meeting has been called for March 15 and 16 by T. Arthur Simpson, county superintendent. Two noted speakers, Dr. C. O. Schumacker, of Westchester, Pa., normal school department, psychology, and Dr. J. R. Jewell, dean of Fayetteville, Ark., college, will have an intellectual treat for the teachers. Hugh S. Magill, of the Illinois state centennial commission, is expected to be present. The meeting will be held in Waukegan.

"Bill" Sherman stood under a tree in a business street in Byron, Ill., last Saturday forenoon with a rope around his neck and a half dozen citizens ready to hitch him from the ground, when older men in the crowd that had gathered, persuaded the soldiers to release him. Sherman was made to kiss the American flag and was given 5 p. m. that day to get out of Byron. He is said to have persisted in making offensive remarks concerning the government and soldiers.

John Steed, of the Steen Combination Lock Company, Waukegan, has received information in newspapers from Sweden to the effect that automobile tires there are selling for $1,000 each, because of the scarcity of rubber, with the result rope and other substitutes are being used. Ordinary little school erasers are selling at $150 each, when they bring 1 cents. Potatoes are $6.00 a peck, and wheat $20 a bushel and little do be had. Gasoline is $1.50 a gallon. These latter conditions also apply to Finland.

MRS. HOBEIN LAID TO REST SUNDAY

Many Attend Funeral of Former Resident Here and in Los Angeles, Where She Died

The funeral of Mrs. Minnie Hobein, who passed away in Los Angeles, Cal., last week from the 72nd birthday, Sunday. A large crowd attended as Mrs. Hobein was for many years a resident of this village and had a wide circle of friends.

Rev. John D. Elfrink had charge of the services, assisted by Rev. J. Roemer.

In Los Angeles, on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 27, a large number of relatives and friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Hobein, which was held from the First Evangelical church of which she was a member. Rev. Schauer conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Vogelin and Rev. Schergert. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Meiners and daughter, Miss Clara Mrs. Hannah Kemper, Mrs. Anna Schergert, Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stolt, Mrs. F. H. Plagge, Mrs. C. Frey and Miss Minnie Plagge, who are visiting in California, Math Hurter and Miss Mary Wolsekorf and Miss Lena Wagner.

There were many beautiful floral pieces which showed she was held in high esteem. Mrs. Hobein had been a resident of California since December, 1915, and enjoyed the balmy air and sunshine of the west very much.

Mrs. Hobein had lived in Barrington for about one year. Death was due to a complication of diseases combined with old age, she being born on May 22, 1846.

SCHOOL NOTES

The basal ball boys will probably have a movie benefit next month.

Violet Bierman and Emma Walbaum of Room VI have completed the Shoke baker tests in arithmetic. Eva Lytle of Room IV leads in spelling this week.

The children of Room III who are learning letter writing, have received answers to their letters addressed to their own grade in the Skokie school. Many of these contain pictures of the little correspondents.

The cooking lab. did tests of seed corn for the seed corn meeting Saturday are being made by boys from the upper grades and the high school. Pupils from the seventh grade are test with Keith Cannon and Thomas Dockery.

A Juvenile farmers' institute, believed to have been the first of its kind ever held, was held last Friday at Fullerton hall. George Cameron, Raymond Glenke and John Plagge of the eighth grade, with Messrs Marsin, Powers, Rieke and Kyle Smith of the seventh gave a description before a part of the program, on the material their grades presented before the farmers institute at Barrington.

Births

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Sheehy of Cemetery street, Sunday morning.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Eisner, residing eleven miles northwest of this village, Wednesday.

TO ORGANIZE A COMMUNITY BIBLE CLASS NEXT SUNDAY

A large number of men have agreed to meet at the Baptist church next Sunday, March 10, at 3:30, for the purpose of organizing a Men's Union and Community Bible Class. This movement aims to include all men of the community, and all are invited to participate in whatever church or in no church they prefer. Large community enterprises will grow out of this movement, and a significant community spirit among men. Members of such organizations as the Country Life Association are especially invited to cooperate.

There will be presented by Rev. De Long, a blackboard study of "The Relation of Religious Education to Democracy." Mr. Cassle will give a five minute talk on "Ways of Making Good Citizens." Prof. Smith will talk on "What a Union Bible Class Can Do for the Community." There will be questions for discussion by all. The movement is directed by the Baptist and Methodist ministers, but it is to be for the entire community. Some great studies are planned for several weeks. You will be greatly interested.

Producers Get More for Milk

Milk producers in and around Barrington were smiling freely Saturday and Sunday when it became known that they would receive an advance in the price of milk for March, which had been delayed down to Feb. 28, in consequence of the national food administration in charge of the milk division.

The price for March has been set at $2.30 per hundred pounds, as against $2.48, as given by the Chicago committee recently. Mr. Lamb said "the solution was simple, indeed. We merely added 12 cents to the price fixed for March by the committee, increasing this month's quotation to $2.30. We figured the producers lost 21 cents per hundred pounds during the last four months."

Prices for April and consecutive months will be set accordingly about fifteen days prior to their going into effect.

Ford Prices Advance

For some time past D. C. Schroeder, local dealer for Ford cars has been expecting an advance in price, and last week he received this expected information.

Mr. Schroeder says the advance in price was made due to the fact it was impossible to continue building Ford cars at the price established in August last year, and that public does not realize the present manufacturing conditions in this country today.

The present prices, f. o. b., Detroit, are as follows: Touring, $440; runabout, $435; chassis, $400. Prices for other models are the same.

These prices do not cover freight, delivery charges and warranty. Present conditions are rapidly making the Ford car a nation-wide necessity, as it shows by the fact that business with the local dealer is very good despite the advance in prices.

Pupils Did Well

The Herrington school was ably represented at the Juvenile Farmers' institute held in Chicago last Friday. One group of three boys talked on "Dairying," and another group on "Poultry," aided by stereopticon slides. This was no doubt the largest audience any of them ever faced, but there was not a bashful one among the lot. They acted best, not because he wanted to beat somebody else but because to do his best was a manly, honorable thing.

Those from the seventh grade were Messrs Martin, Kick Smith and Foster Rieke. Those from the eighth grade were John Plagge, Raymond Glenke and George Cameron. Superintendent E. S. Smith went to the city with the boys and Miss Lawrence and Mrs. Sears trained them.

Brought Here for Burial

The remains of James Dermody, who died at his home in Washington, Mr. Johnson, in Davenport, Iowa, Friday, was brought here Monday for burial, following a short service at St. Ann's church in charge of Rev. S. A. McCormick.

Mr. Dermody was stricken suddenly with heart trouble, and was about twenty-five years of age. He was a resident of this village fifty years ago. His wife, who passed away about a year ago, is also buried here.

Barrington Township Tax

As the tax books for Barrington will close March 10, I am requested to ask all tax payers to call and make payments before this date.

The books will be found at Plagge's general store every Tuesday and Saturday of each week until further notice. An early call will be appreciated.

FARMERS TO TALK ON SEED CORN PROBLEM

Meeting Will be Held at Village Hall Next Saturday Morning From 10 to 12 O'clock

Another farmers' meeting dealing with the selection of seed corn will be held at Village hall next Saturday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock, and all farmers who are interested in this great problem are asked to co-operate and attend this meeting.

Township Chairman Fred Kirschner of Cuba, Daniel Gilly of Barrington, County Agent Watkins of Lake county, County Life Director Farr of Cook county, boys from the Barrington school and Miss Cora Kellogg and her pupils from a near by school will co-operate. Tests which were made the latter part of last week will be read and the whole matter of rag doll and saw dust box tests will be explained. County Agent Watkins will explain fully the plan and process of getting reliable seed corn, and the schools are planning to co-practical and effective work in corn testing.

Experts tell us that never in the history of Cook county has the seed corn situation been so serious as at this season. The same is true all over the country. Poor seed means a poor stand and a poor stand means a light crop.

Wasted land and wasted labor is a highly serious situation relative to time of peace or in times of war. It is good business to get together and work out plans to improve this situation.

Minstrel Show April 5

Uncle Sam and his company of black face artists will appear at the auditorium on the evening Friday, April 5 under the auspices of the local Illinois Volunteer Training Corps.

The evening's entertainment will be promoted by Mr. Hill, and he is the pride of the committee to have the performance all over by 10 o'clock, thus you will not give it a long drawn out one. The price of admission has been fixed at 15 cents, for children, 25 cents for adults (general admission), and 35 cents for reserved seats. These will be offered for sale by members of the company and some may be reserved at Cameron's drug store, where the plan of seating will be on sale.

The local corps will need overcoats this coming fall and winter and the proceeds from the minstrel show will go into this fund. You can't be too early and secure a good seat as you cannot afford to miss this big fun show when the cost of admission is so small.

This is all minstrel shows, Uncle Sam will do his best to entertain you. There will be two parts to the program. Part one will consist of songs choruses, drill of a military character, sayings and the like, while part two will be composed of a quartet, instrumental music, readings and more with a one act farce comedy. Newton Plagge will have charge of the orchestra which will play during the evening.

Leayord and I were the last, and we left the dingy swamped behind us, dangling and crushed against the steel side of the schooner, upheld only by the strength of the rope. It was all the work of a feverish minute, in which thought was impossible because of the stress of action. But now, as I clung breathless to those lower mizzen rattlines, the scene of us fastened upon the little platform, the green surge of water below plunging against the wreck we had just left, the strange silence of this vessel which we had boarded struck me with full force. In heaven's name, what could it mean? It was broad daylight; if there was a man alive aboard, he could never have failed to see or hear us in this fierce struggle for life. Yet no one was visible; no sound of voice was heard; no face peered over at us above the rail. It was like a ghost schooner, and I felt the very heart of me chill as I stared into the blank faces of my huddled companions, and along the dusky sides, and the deserted rail.

"I don't know what to make of it," I confessed, "but we'll soon find out. Help the lady, Leayord. Olson, come with me."

We footed the ropes, and swung up to the rail, clinging there long enough to gain swift view of the deck beyond. It was as clean as a millionaire's yacht, and had the appearance of one, with brasswork glistening, and paint fresh and bright. Every rope was neatly coiled in place, the sail gaskets firmly tied, the planks spotless, the canvas as white as though just out of the sail-loft. My eyes surveyed the whole fore and aft—the low forecastle, the cook's sides, the only storerooms being aft. A bright-hued rug covered the floor, and the doors were closed under the ports. The table in the center was fully set for a meal, covered with a white cloth, and adorned bravely with china and glass. There was food in abundance, partially eaten, and wholesome had disturbed. I carefully these details; I recalled them afterwards, yet in that first instant of horror, the impression left upon me was merely of those silent, motionless figures sitting upright in their chairs. It was a ghost-ship indeed! A great monster of a man faced me, his white, phasily face appearing above a shaggy gray beard, his sightless, open eyes staring full into mine. A whimpered had fallen from his opened lips, and had been on the deck. Indeed, everyone had apparently died as by a stroke, leaving in exactly the posture last assumed in life.

To the right of the broad-shouldered giant was a thin, young fellow, scarcely out of his teens, but with a hard, resolute face, and at his left a dark-eyed man almost sinister, grained horribly, as though death had stricken him even as he laughed. Nothing could be more awful to look upon than the gleam of his teeth, beneath the fantastic curl of his mustache. There were six altogether, five sitting upright in swivel chairs, screwed to the deck, or leaning forward with hands resting on the table. The sixth, crop-hatted and partially bald, had fallen sideways, and lay in a huddled heap on the rug. They had the look of seamen, and were roughly dressed, three of them having painted pigtails, on rings in his ears. The big man alone possessed the appearance of leadership.

I saw all this in that one swift glance. Breath had not come sobbing back to me, when Leayord's hand crushed my arm and his voice rumbled in my ear:

"See, captain! they're dead; they're all dead!"

"Yes," I answered, choking over the words, "there is no doubt of it. Something terrible has occurred here. Call—call the other men."

I heard him shouting out through the companion door, and the roar of his voice as he shouted to those forward; I could distinguish the sound of feet on the deck, but could not remove my gaze from that ghastly group in the cabin. The eyes of that giant dead man, staring at me so fiercely across the table, held me as in a vise—there was something so ghastly, so terrible, about their expression, as to rob me of all manhood and courage. The men joined me, Leyverd entering in advance, and pushing past, where I stood. I have no recollection of seeing the others, although I felt and heard their presence. But I saw him—marked the gaping, stunned, stop, from the blanching of his face, and the sharp oath which burst from his lips, the startled, incredulous look of surprise, of recognition, which leaped into his eyes. He was staring straight into the ghastly face of the giant opposite. I doubted if he even saw any of the others.

"Heart of the devil!" he shouted, "it looks like Gaston de Lyre! So you've got it at last, you old hound."

He leaped forward, circled the table, with a single stride, his hot, nervous, whatever the impulse might be, conquering all fear, and gripped his hand with the giant's broad shoulder. And then he stiffened, every muscle of his body stricken; I could see death strike him, his jaw set, his eyes fixed—in instant he stood rigid; then his whole frame seemed to contract and he fell lifeless to the deck.

I sprang toward him, but Masters gripped me, and hurled me back.

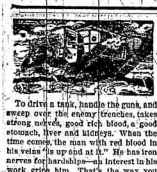
"Hands off — all of you!" he screamed. "Wait! Don't lay a finger on any of them; you are dead men if you do."

"What do you mean? What is this?" I demanded, shaking off his grasp.

"The most diabolical bit of devilry ever contrived," he answered. "These men have been killed by electricity—the current is still on. I heard the whir of the dynamo as I came aft. Don't move until I find the switch and disconnect; for God's sake stand where you are."

Perhaps he was gone five minutes; I could never tell; I saw nothing but those dead men; heard nothing but the heavy breathing of my mates in the doorway. No one spoke; not one, it seemed to me, I caught the throb of that deadly dynamo, yet even as I thought of it the distant hum ceased, it ceased abruptly. Masters pushed in upon me.

"I am, I am sure the truth," he said, "but it's safe enough now. Lord; did you ever hear of such a fiend—cold blooded crime. See here, men, the villain planned his job well—here are the wires around the deck, pressed into a seam, and connected to each swivel chair. See, the circuit is complete, and the wires ended under the table, where a button,



To drive a tack, handle the pans, and sweep over the enemy trenches, take strong nerves, good rich blood, a good stomach, liver and kidneys. When the time comes, the man with red blood in his veins "is up and at it." He has iron nerves for hardships—an interest in his work grips him. That's the way you feel when you have taken a blood and nerve tonic made up of Blood root, Golden Seal root, Stone root, Cherry bark, and rolled into a sugar-coated tablet and sold to sixty-cent vials by almost all druggists for just fifty years or Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This tonic, in liquid or tablet form, is just what you need this spring to give you vim, vigor and vitality. At the end of a hard winter, no wonder you feel "run-down," blue, out of sorts. Try this "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's. Don't wait! To-day is the day to begin! A little "pep," and you laugh and live.

The best means to rid the machinery of the body, put tone into the liver, kidneys and circulatory system, is to first practice a good housecleaning. This is admirably sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and should be used at least once a week to clear the twenty-five feet of intestines. You will think "clean the system—erpe, the pellets and keep well. Now is the time to clean house. Give yourself a spring house cleaning.—Adv.

KIDNEY TROUBLE NOT EASILY RECOGNIZED

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected

An examining physician for one of the prominent life insurance companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

TELEPHONE No. 2. BARRINGTON, ILL.

THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1918

SALMAGUNDI

This country has made some very successful "drives" during the past year. There have been the two Liberty Loan drives, the Red Cross drive, the Y. M. C. A. drive, and others. But greatest of all, the 1917 drive for the greatest development of war gardens the world has ever seen. And the success of this drive is still plainly to be seen in the great abundance of canned and dried fruits and vegetables to be found in the homes of the land. There is no doubt that these gardens have played a most important part in our plan of food conservation, and are still effective.

And now again the country is called upon for a record production of food stuffs, an even greater if possible than the last. The success of the garden campaign of last year should spur us to renewed and greater efforts this year. There should not be an idle garden or back yard in the land. Every square foot of ground should be made to yield its quota of the food that is to win the world war.

Now is the time to be planning these gardens. It is not necessary to wait until the time comes for actual planting. When that time arrives every person should have planted the entire summer's program and should know just what every foot of his ground is intended to produce. Fences should be put in thorough repair, the ground should be cleared of all obstructions and nothing but the mechanical working out of matured plans should remain to be done when spring really opens.

One more thought while on this subject: Plan to let the garden interfere with the larger and greater work back man and woman must do to this year of supreme endeavor. To effect this the garden should be made a means of recreation, and should take the place of baseball, football, tennis, golf, bridge and other amusements. It should be the place of the jaded business man and the tired society woman. Yes, the women will find renewed health and vigor from a few hours each day spent in gardening.

And then when we have these gardens growing and producing, let us make a wise use of their products, that we may conserve even more meats and wheat for our heroes "over yonder," and our allies who are fighting by their sides. "Garden sass" is an adjunct summer diet.

We admire patriotism in the children. We are willing they should be drafted into every activity wherein their real and optimistic enthusiasm has such splendid results. Let them sell baby bonds, push the Red Cross campaign and engage in any other activity that will further our cause in this great world war. But for their own dear sakes, let's have them regard it all as just a struggle for the right. Hold before their little eyes the grand principles that animate us, and keep well in the background the horrors that try our souls. Let us not permit their young and innocent minds to become inoculated with the poison of hatred. Time enough in after years to make plain to them the horrors of the conflict. Just now it suffices that their country needs their enthusiastic services.

The members of the boy's corn clubs, pig clubs, and the girls canning clubs should be actively at work these days, that the enthusiasm may not be permitted to wane in the slightest degree. The work of these agencies never counted for so much as they will this coming season. The great urgency of food conservation during the coming year opens a field for the activities of these organizations never before offered them. Heretofore their work has been largely as a matter of pride in superior achievement for achievement's sake. Now there is the added incentive that every gain effected counts in the final winning of the war. Each worker has the full knowledge that his or her individual efforts are not only appreciated but urgently needed. This should spur them to the effort to discount all former records. The young people of the land are exhibiting a splendid patriotism, and they may rest assured it is appreciated to the full by their elders.

AT THE CHICAGO THEATRES

Every theatregoer in Chicago is talking about the wonderful success scored by "Leave It to Jane" at the LaSalle Theatre, where this musical comedy is now in its seventh week. While there was no doubt of "Leave It to Jane" proving successful in Chicago, after running for six months in New York, no one expected it to break the record established at the LaSalle Theatre by "Oh Boy!" But such has been the case and now every critic in Chicago has made the statement that the theatre going public must look to the firm of Elliott, Comstock & Gest for the better class of musical comedies in the future.

Percy Hammond, the dramatic reviewer of the Chicago Tribune, said that "Leave it to Jane" is the best combination of fun, music, dancing and pretty girls since the days of "The Red Mill," which is the same as saying it is the best musical comedy in twenty years.

The same cast of Broadway stars which appeared in this piece in New York is now on view at the LaSalle Theatre. Matinees are given on Thursday and Saturday.

6 PER CENT. REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are steadily growing in popularity and their advantages over other classes of bonds and individual mortgages are numerous. First, the value of the security underlying REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS can easily be determined, and the property be personally inspected by the investor before making purchases, whereas on the other hand, experience and tedious study is necessary to exactly value the security of such other investment bonds as Railroads, Public Utilities and Industrials. Furthermore the stability in price of REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS has been demonstrated; they have maintained their full par value when other bonds, even of the highest character, have suffered severe declines in times of depression. Also REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are issued in most convenient denominations of $100; $500 and $1,000 and the interest is paid promptly on the date of maturity. These moderate sizes enable the investor to buy small amounts of bonds, and, if in need of funds, to sell portions of his holdings.

Our customers have never suffered any loss of money nor any delay in the payment of principal or interest on CHICAGO REAL ESTATE MORTGAGE BONDS bought from us.

The extra number of the Community course given at the auditorium last Thursday evening by Miss Clarissa Harold, reader, was exceptionally good. Miss Harold gave the play "Experience" and her work in presenting the different characters showed that she has unusual ability as a reader. Sears orchestra played several selections which were well received.

As we understand it, the government has made the wise provision of having all those going to France sign cards addressed to their homes. When the transport ships reach the port of destination a cablegram is sent telling of the safe arrival. This releases all the signed cards which are sent on their mission carrying the good news to the loved ones at home. Parents and friends of the boys need have no fear, whenever the boys leave for "over there" but that you will be notified at once of their safe arrival. One cablegram will release the cards.

George F. Schroeder, 36 years old, employed as a fireman on the Chicago & Northwestern Ry., on train No. 113 running between Chicago and Milwaukee, was hit by a mail crane at St. Francis, Wis., about noon today and instantly killed. He leaves a widow and two sons, Albert, 12 years old and George 8 years old. A telegram was received here announcing his death at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Schroeder is prostrated.

The body will arrive here this evening and the funeral will be held probably Saturday or Sunday. Mr. Schroeder was home with his family Wednesday. He was a member in good standing of the Masonic order, and had a wide circle of friend here and at other places where he had resided.

Terrific Bombardment of U. S. and German Positions—Six Yankees Decorated by Premier Clemenceau of France.

Paris, March 6.—A German attack at night on the trenches held by American troops in Lorraine was repulsed, the French official statement issued announced. American patrols operated in the same region, the statement adds, took a number of German prisoners.

With the American Army in France, March 6.—Shells have been falling thick and fast within the American lines and upon the enemy's positions in the Toul sector.

Aside from a big barrage which the enemy placed on the American position at midnight in this neighborhood, 2,000 projectiles have been dropped in the vicinity of the terrain occupied by the Americans, many of them upon towns. The American casualties, however, have been extremely light.

The Americans continue to shell the enemy and put down two barrages on his positions. The infantry activity was confined solely to patrol parties.

France Honors U. S. Men.

It is now permitted to give the names of soldiers and men decorated by Premier Clemenceau. They are:

Lieut. Joseph Cauby of Chicago.

Lieut. William Coleman of Charleston, S. C.

Sergeant Patrick Walsh.

Sergeant William Norton.

Corporal "Buddy" Fittman, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Private Alvin Smiley, St. Louis.

The sergeants have been in the army for more years. Sergeant Walsh formerly lived in Detroit and Sergeant Norton in Arkansas.

Ran Through Barrage.

Both privates distinguished themselves by running through the barrage laid down by the Germans during the raid and delivering messages.

Two battlery officers—Captain Hollengsford, whose home is in Georgia, and Lieutenant Greene—will receive the French war cross. They were wounded by shell fire.

Lieutenant Cauby and Coleman went out into No Man's Land in daylight and each took a German prisoner.

Sergeant Norton killed a German lieutenant and two soldiers. He was challenged by the lieutenant to leave his outpost and had cut his own flight.

3 KILLED IN BANK HOLDUP

Covington, Ky., March 6.—Three men, two of them directors of the North West Building and Loan association and the other a bandit, were killed last night when the bandit with two companions entered the meeting room of the association and ordered the directors to hold up their hands. Chief of Police Theodore Klumpp, who is a director of the association and was present at the meeting, immediately opened fire on the bandits, killing one instantly. The two bandits also opened fire. They shot and killed Andrew Nordmeyer, president of the association, and John Rehm, a stockholder. About twenty-five shots were fired by Klumpp and the bandits, after which the latter grabbed some money from a pile which contained $1,200 in bills and made their escape in an automobile. The loot taken did has not been identified.

WIN FOUR HOUSE SEATS

DEMOCRATS ELECT CANDIDATES IN NEW YORK.

Control of House of Representatives Regained by Victory in East—Women Vote for First Time.

New York, March 6.—Control of the house of representatives was regained by the Democrats yesterday when they elected their candidates from four districts in Greater New York at special elections called to chose successors to four members of that party who had resigned their seats.

The roll call in the house now stands: Republicans, 222; Democrats, 213; Independents, 0; vacancies, 4. Three of the independents have been elected by the Republicans and three with the Democrats.

After the four newly elected Democrats from New York take their seats the roll will be: Democrats, 216; Republicans, 212; Independents, 0; vacancies, 2.

Women voted for the first time, and 90 per cent of the registered voters went to the polls. A polling place as a rule could be located by the presence of a large number of baby carriages outside.

The men elected are John J. Delaney, in the Seventh (Kings county) district; William E. Cleary, in the Eighth (Brooklyn); Jerome F. Donovan, in the Twenty-first (upper Manhattan), and Anthony J. Griffin, in the Twenty-second (the Manhattan-Bronx).

New York women had their first chance to vote since they won the right at the polls last November. It was significant that they cast 31,858 votes out of a total of 76,192 in the four districts.

The Democrats won decisive majorities, for which they have to thank the women, who cast ballots for the first time in this state for congressional candidates.

The women polled practically 50 per cent of the entire vote. They put themselves almost solidly on record in support of the administration.

Complete returns follow:

Seventh District (Brooklyn).

John J. Delaney (Dem.)	10,253
John S. Gaynor (Rep.)	7,057
Alex. Fraser (Soc.)	1,805

SOLDIER GIVEN THIRTY YEARS

Ayer, Mass., March 6.—William Nimke of Torrington, Conn., a sergeant in the Twenty-fourth Infantry and First engineers, at Camp Devens, was given a thirty-year sentence for disparaging utterances. He was tried by a general court-martial February 6. Nimke was taken to Fort Jay, N. Y., immediately to begin his sentence. He was tried on three counts, on two of which he was found guilty. In one he was charged with saying: "If I had got in charge of a party on the other side I will surrender to the German but matter what their strength may be."

Silk Company Fails.

Cleveland, O., March 6.—The National Artificial Silk company filed voluntary suit in bankruptcy in federal court. Liabilities were listed at $4,836,220; assets, $1,259,283.

U-BOATS SUNK FAST AS BUILT

Sir Eric Geddes of England Gives Credit to American Navy.

MORE SHIPS BEING MADE

Declares the Loss to the World's Tonnage in February Was Half That of the Same Month Last Year.

London, March 7.—For some months," Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, said on Tuesday, "we believed that our anti-submarine devices were sinking submarines as fast as they were built."

The trend of the figures of loss of shipping by enemy action was steadily improving. Sir Eric stated. The loss to the world's tonnage during February was little more than half the loss during February of last year, he said."

Submarines were being destroyed in increasing numbers, he continued, and as the methods employed against them were developed the numbers would be enlarged still further. There was a growing reluctance on the part of German crews to put to sea. The chances that a submarine would return from a voyage in the waters around England were one in four or one in five.

In the waters around the British isles, which just been the enemy's chief field for submarine operations, the greatest success applied the Allies. Great Britain obtained by far, latterly with the help of American naval forces, said Sir Eric.

On the other hand, conditions in the Mediterranean had been more difficult. Losses there accounted for some 50 per cent of merchant shipping. The resources for combating the submarines in those waters were less effective and the successes obtained less satisfactory.

"Our allies are making every effort to increase their production of ships," Sir Eric said, "but, despite growing reports in the American press and great as the effort of this country doubtless is, there is no doubt a considerable time must elapse before the desired output is obtained."

Sir Eric, whose address was delivered in the house of commons, said the naval forces of the allies in European waters would be augmented shortly by a force of Brazilian warships.

Sir Eric said the rate of exaggeration in the German reports of tonnage alleged to have been sunk was increasing steadily.

"The first lord said he was seriously concerned at the increasing number of vessels lost at night. It appeared the enemy were assisted in this matter by searchlights on the part of allied vessels, who displayed lights instead of darkening their vessels.

On behalf of himself and his colleagues he invited publicly to pay tribute to the whole-hearted and generous devotion to prosecution of the war which governed the actions of every representative of the United States navy with which they came in contact. The personal and friendships, he said, had the respect and esteem of the officers of the British navy.

Concerning shipbuilding, he said there was no lack of materials at the present time and that there was more men in the yards, but the output reached only 58,000 tons in January, although it should have been much larger.

U. S. OPPOSES JAPAN'S MOVE

Washington Declines to Approve Invasion of Siberia, But Will Not Send Troops.

Washington, March 7.—The United States has not assented to the Japanese offer to occupy Vladivostok.

Whatever the purport of the note sent by the United States in answer to the proposition to which Britain and France gave their unqualified indorsement, it is certain that Japan cannot extract from it any sanction or approval of the intention of Russia against her wishes.

This does not mean that we have protested, though the disclosure of Japan's plan and the conditions on it involved even attained to that phase.

The United States has practically told Japan that she must plead for herself, the necessity for action in the far East, and that while we have no doubt of the sincerity of her purposes of guarding the allied interests in Asia, it would help matters if she made a declaration of her intention for the sake of quieting apprehension in Russia.

Casualties Among Americans.

Washington, March 7.—Forty-three American soldiers died from disease in action in France at the end of March 2, while 232 had been wounded and 25 captured by the enemy, according to war department information.

Grant to Widow of General Maude.

London, March 7.—The house of commons voted $125,000 to the widow of Maj. Gen. Frederick Stanley Maude, commander of the British expedition on the Tigris front, whose death occurred last November.

How To Use This To Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

There's no longer the slightest need of worrying about your freckles, as the prescription, otahine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these spots.

Simply get an ounce of otahine—double strength—and a little more than enough to remove your freckles should be used. Apply a little of the mixture to your face, and the night following wash the face and freckles have begun to disappear. A few nights more and they vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than one ounce is needed to remove clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the prescription otahine—double strength—and to insist upon your money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

TERRIFIC STRAIN PLACED ON TIRES

Many People Who Buy Cars Are Ignorant of This Subject.

ECONOMY TOPIC MOST VITAL

When motor cars were rare, tire mileage cents meant little difference. But now, when men are buying cars as they would a suit of clothes or a pair of shoes—when our annual car bill is more than $1,000,000,000, and for tire about $333,000,000—tire economy is a matter of great concern.

About 4,000,000 cars are now registered in this country, wearing 16,000,000 tires. Adding only one mile for each tire to the enormous mileage piled up each day by these cars would save a handsome fortune for the motorists of the country.

Much Mileage Lost.

A. E. Hertzig, manager of a big tire and rubber concern, in consulting on the various kinds of abuse innocently inflicted upon motor tires, preventing them from attaining their alloted three score and ten, declares that much of this mileage is lost through the fabric breaks caused by hitting stones imbedded in the road.

"So many people are now buying cars who know comparatively little about cars or tires that it is not surprising that careless abuse is heaped upon them," he says. "Hardly any motorist is 100 appreciates the terrific strain placed on tires when travelling at high speed over ordinary roads. Your tires may withstand a shock equal to ten tons weight while running at a speed of 25 miles an hour over country roads, and a little later you have a blowout while running over a perfectly smooth street.

Cause of Blowout.

"This is what happened. The terrific impact of the rim and the stone imbedded in the road did not visibly affect the exterior of the tire. And you looked it over and you could not have found a mark. But the shock set the fibre breaks in the tire fabric was started when the blow strained it beyond its limit of stretching strength. Perhaps only one layer of fabric was injured. The other layers soon followed suit and the blowout resulted.

"It is common practice for car owners to bump front wheels against the curbstone when parking their cars, especially if the brakes do not hold properly. Many drivers make no pretense of slowing up for street car tracks or brick pavements. There is much fraternizing with ruts and stones in the road. All these make for fabric breaks, which rob the tire of many miles that were built into it at the factory.

TAKE ALL CORNERS SLOWLY

Autcist Should Round Turns Slowly and With Caution—Clutch Should Be Released.

One reason for side slipping may be found in the fact that some drivers take corners at a fast rate of speed, allowing that they pavement is slippery, the autcist should round turns slowly and with caution. The clutch should be released if there is a tendency for the car to slip.

When this takes place, very frequently the rear tires will lose their lateral grip on the road surface. Motorists should never steer a machine sharply from a curb when the surface is wet.

The reason for this is simple, in that the grip of the wheels on the road is insufficient to overcome the centrifugal effect, and the result is the rear of the car is forced toward the center. Sometimes a sudden speeding up of the motor will overcome the tendency to skid.

CARE FOR STORAGE BATTERY

During Winter Season It Should Be Kept Fully Charged to Stand Low Temperature.

The storage battery should be kept fully charged during the winter, according to E. V. Collins, instructor in storage and gas engineering in the agricultural college.

"Fully charged battery," said Mr. Collins, "will stand very low temperatures while a discharged battery will freeze at 20 degrees above zero. Freezing will burst jars, and as a result the battery must be rebuilt.

"To hold weather the starting battery is especially likely to become discharged. The engine is difficult to crank because the oil is cold. It must also be cranked longer each time it is started because the gasoline does not vaporize readily in cold weather. Long trips are few and the charging periods are shorter. The lights which are needed earlier in the evening help in discharging the battery.

"The battery should be tested with a hydrometer at intervals of two weeks at least. If it is found to be discharged, it should be charged as soon as possible either by driving the car or from an outside source.

"The conditions under which cars operate vary, and there are so many starting systems, that no set rules can be given for the care of the storage battery. If the starter turns the engine with difficulty, the motor should be cranked by hand when starting on a cold morning. The engine may be made to start more easily by priming it through the priming cups or by pulling the choker when it is stopped. The lights should be turned on only when necessary and in many cases the dimmer may be used to save the current."

RUINOUS ABUSE OF BATTERY

Most Common Fault is in Letting Go Dry—Good Plan to Have Generator Tested.

The most common and ruinous abuse of the battery is to let it go dry. The battery needs water even under normal conditions, partly through slow evaporation, but chiefly through decomposition into its constituent gases, oxygen and hydrogen, by excessive charging. If your battery demands water filling more frequently than it should, or if the battery fails to give a temperature warmer than that of the hand, have your generator inspected and tested and the charging rate reduced.

News Nuggets From Illinois

Chicago.—Some of the farmers would like to know more about the high school boys enlisted in the food working reserve with an idea of helping plant and get out the crops this spring. Charles Addams, director of agriculture for the state of Illinois; Frank L. Mann of the State Farmers' Institute, and J. W. Kinkins, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, formed the committee that accepted the invitation of Hershiger D. Hoover, federal director of the boys' working reserve of Illinois, to visit the Chicago high school to report just what training the boys were receiving. "We found a fine looking lot of boys," reports Mr. Addams, "no experts enough for dudes, but physically just about the type that are raised in the farmers' families. Nearly half of them have had some experience or farm labor. At the high schools we visited they are taking physical training in farm craft. We saw one group of boys learning how to manage a tractor, set it up, find out trouble, distinguish the engine and driver, and other managing a three-horse harrow and so on. This is practical work, and it is to be continued until May 1, when the boys will be ready to take a job. Farmers who want to register for boy labor may do so through local bankers or by applying directly to Boys' Working reserve, Chicago. These boys are between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one.

Chicago.—Attorney Francis S. Honey claims that the packers co-operated to get all the money possible for the meat they sold the government as well as profits, as the government had to have the meat at any price. He also read letters purporting to show that E. F. Swift, one of the national food administration, through Henry C. Wheeler and Horace C. Gardner of the national administration, permitted jobbers to transfer poultry from storehouses to branch houses, where they might hold it for higher prices, and the same time compelled the little fellows to throw their produce on a forced market.

Springfield.—No one is hungry in Illinois, according to a report issued by State Food Administrator Harry Hershey, federal director here. Supplies of whole are overbundant, he declares. Surveys made by the food administration, covering most of the state's 102 counties unmarked, the report states, "Our present problem is to distribute properly the supplies in which there is a shortage and to attempt to induce people to eat products which are in plentiful supplies and just as palatable," the report declares.

Chicago.—Packers handle and control 75 per cent of the cheese business in Wisconsin, the nation's principal source of supply, according to Henry Krumrey, Plymouth, Wis., who testified here to the federal trade commission probe. Krumrey is president of the Wisconsin Cheese and Produce association. He declared his control dated back to 1912. Krumrey told of efforts at that time to establish a co-operative cheese-distributing plant to combat the price-fixing ring.

Chicago.—The February grand jury at Chicago in its final report returned before Chief Justice Kersten, recommends the repeal of the indeterminate sentence law. It also recommends that no indeterminate sentence be made hereafter imposed in any crime where a reprieve is used, that the law regarding continuances be made more drastic and that judges take into consideration when they are sentencing a criminal the offenses he has committed in another state.

Camp Funston, Kan.—Illinois soldiers here are not in danger of spinal meningitis, Lieutenant Colonel Brendel diseases have entirely disappeared. Healthy conditions of the camp are better than ever before. There are only a few cases of measles and mumps, neither of which are giving the medical officers any concern, Division Surg. Lieut. Col. J. L. Shepard declares.

Joliet.—Warden Everett E. Murphy of Joliet penitentiary and Superintendent William C. Graves of Pontiac reformatory, testifying before State Attorney Maclay Hoyne of Cook county and the chief of police of Chicago a list of convicts, formerly inmates of the latter, for parole hearing at the March meeting of the division of pardons and paroles.

Chicago.—Effective now, every one in Illinois who purchases wheat flour must buy an equal amount of some other cereal flour to be used as a substitute. The temporary order permitting the purchase of only 50 per cent of substitutes, has been rescinded in spite of the fact that the cereals that must be bought are all higher in price than wheat flour.

Rock Island.—A robber locked Mrs. Hannah Matheson in the basement, then ripped open a money bag, taken around the neck of Miss Mary A. Platt, who her sleeper in bed, and escaped with about $20.

Springfield.—Miss Elizabeth Jack of Peoria has been certified by the state civil service commission to the position of state inspector of Illinois institutions. She stand at the head of the eligible list as the result of a recent examination.

Quincy.—Because the county exempt board refused at Liberty, impossible to many registrants in Adams county they have objected and said that in Ireland it is changed.

Springfield.—Corn is the foremost crop of Illinois. A shortage of seed which should prevent the planting of the normal acreage would be a calamity to the state and a serious calamity to the nation. The initial seed corn survey of Illinois, just completed by the food, feed and conservation committee of the state council of defense, reveals a shortage so great that unless all unusual effort is made, one-third of the normal corn acreage in Illinois will have to be abandoned or planted to other crops. It is the most serious problem Illinois' agriculture has ever faced. The big seed corn houses in Illinois, which select their seed from the field and dry the corn in ventilated and heated seed houses, have not enough seed corn left, would to plant one corn belt county. In ordinary years their sales are just beginning at this date.

Chicago.—Coal mines in Illinois will keep going all summer, if members of the fuel administration are able to carry their plans into effect. "The great need just at present is to prevent the customary shutdown of mines," said John E. Williams. "We want production to go on steadily. We must induce consumers to make their purchases ahead, instead of waiting until the last minute. This may involve the storage of large amount of coal, but that will have to be arranged for if we are to avoid trouble next season." The fuel administration is making preparations for a survey of the needs of Illinois homes and industries. When this information is at hand the mines will be called upon to furnish the amount of coal that will be needed next season. The coal will be moved as early as possible.

Chicago.—The flour committee of the food administration, at its meeting here practically agreed on a plan which is expected to bring relief from the flour shortage. The committee will determine the amount each distributor handles in normal times and will estimate the amount of flour that will come to Chicago during the next few months. The amount each distributor is to handle will be arranged in proportion, so that all will be fairly treated. All distributors have agreed to accept this allotment. The situation with reference to flour is declared to be much better in other parts of Illinois than it is in Chicago. The arrival of 4,000,000 pounds of western flour is believed to mark the end of the shortage of that product in Chicago.

Danville.—While a few years ago the call was for young and husky farm hands, the elderly men, preferably married and with families, are now in demand and command a good wage. Men over the draft age demand and receive from $25 to $30 per month more than younger men, who may be called for military service. Men skilled in handling hogs, with special courses in agriculture or stock raising, are sought by reason thereof are in a position to increase crops for their employers are demanding and getting hereforeto unheard of on the farm.

Springfield.—There is all kinds of trouble at Harrisburg, Williamson county, and Herrin, Williamson county, owing to the ignorance of the foreign-born population of the two cities regarding vaccination. Smallpox is prevalent in both places and the ignorant foreigners are opposed to vaccination. Adjutant General Dickson issued orders that the draft men be not allowed to leave Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., until they had been vaccinated.

Springfield.—Miss Florence Lowden, the daughter of Governor and Mrs. Lowden, practices what she preaches about food conservation. Frequently she may be seen on Springfield streets carrying a market basket. Miss Lowden takes the position that purchases for the larder can best be made by personal selection, and that it is contrary to the market on the "carry-home" plan.

Chicago.—Milk at 13 cents a quart to the consumer during this month was forecast by men familiar with the milk situation following a statement issued by W. E. Lamb, attorney for the milk division of the national food administration, that an embargo would be made to fix a new price to the producer for March.

Camp Grant, Rockford.—Backing up the Eighty-sixth division in its march to Berlin is a total of 1,500,500 rounds of small ammunition and 50,000 rounds of shrapnel and high explosives for artillery use in addition to machine-filled with the ammunition and shells ready for the big war maneuvers scheduled for the month of March.

Lincoln.—Five hundred men are expected to meet here March 6 and 7 when the women of the Seventeenth congressional district under the auspices of the Federation of Women's clubs and the state council of defense, convene to plan for co-operative war work.

Champaign.—Unless $15,000 in checks taken from J. S. Sparks while under arrest at Rantoul are returned to sue the city. Police declare they are forgeries.

Evansville.—Mrs. Adam Zweifel is raising a flock of chickens from which she promises to send one to every soldiers boy in the city for Christmas.

Chicago.—"The longer we continue to delay, the greater the danger to civil rights," Commissioner of the people of the United States must raise at least $3,500,000 more fund than they raised last year, and raise it more than as the year before, in their gardens, if we are to be entirely safe." That was the declaration of Harry A. Wheeler, state food administrator, to representatives of various civic and social organizations at a meeting at the headquarters of the state council of defense to plan for carrying out efficiency the gardening movement in Chicago and Illinois this spring.

CO-OPERATIVE FARMING IN MAN POWER NECESSARY TO WIN THE BATTLE FOR LIBERTY

The Food Controllers of the United States and Canada are asking for greater food production. Scarcely 100,000,000 bushels of wheat are spoilt able to be sent to the allies overseas before the crop harvest. Upon the efforts of the United States and Canada rests the burden of supply.

Every Available Tillable Acre Must Contribute Every Available Farmer and Farm Hand Must Assist

Western Canada has an enormous acreage to be seeded, but man power is short, and an appeal to the United States allies is for more men for seeding operations.

Canada's Wheat Production Last Year was 225,000,000 Bushels; the Demand From Canada Alone for 1918 Is 400,000,000 Bushels

To secure this, she must have assistance. She has the land but needs the men. The Government of the United States wants every man who can effectively help, to do farm work this year. It wants this land in the United States developed first of course, but it also wants to help Canada. Whenever we find a man we can spare to Canada's fields after ours are supplied, we want to direct him there.

Apply to our Employment Service, and we will tell you where you can best serve the combined interests.

Western Canada's help will be required not later than April 5th. Wages to competent help, $50.00 a month and up, board and lodging.

Those who respond to this appeal will get a warm welcome, good wages, good board and find comfortable homes. They will get a rate of one cent a mile from Canadian boundary points to destination and return.
