Bedrock Economies

A student attending the Utah State Agricultural college drove to the institution in an automobile on which he had built a shelter offering some of the comforts of home. The craft was anchored on the campus and he saves room rent by using it for sleeping quarters. In this manner he managed to live at the minimum rate through the aid of weekly "remittances" of fruit and vegetables from the home farm.

Electrical storms appear in all parts of the United States. Northwestern Florida has the most—about 90 a year—while the San Francisco area of California has the least.

Council of Illinois Retail Merchants Suggests Protest

"Pay Tax When Due, But Include Monthly Protest"

Several hundred dollars of sales tax receipts were mailed out to the Chicago branch of the department of finance by Barrington merchants during the several days prior to August 16. This money, together with sums from every other village and city in the state, will be used to finance the great charity relief organization which has grown up in Illinois with analogy articles in the city in Chicago.

It has been estimated that more than 90 per cent of all the sales tax funds received during the first six months of the existence of the law will be expended in Chicago.

On Monday the Council of Illinois Retail Merchants suggested that merchants include with their sales tax report a protest each month. The recommended form of protest is as follows:

"Enclosed herewith is our check covering occupational tax assessment against us and due for payment of the 1933.

"We believe that this tax is unconstitutional, and we are paying same under protest. In the event that this tax is declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, we shall expect the payment made herewith to be promptly refunded, or that we shall be permitted to deduct a like amount from any succeeding obligation that we may have to the state of Illinois."

A similar protest should be filed with each monthly return, the council recommended.

Alfred M. Bailey Engaged to Speak Here Next Month

Arrangements have been made for Alfred M. Bailey, director of the Chicago Academy of Science and executive secretary of the Illinois Audubon society, to appear as guest lecturer at a program at the Methodist church Friday evening, Sept. 8, sponsored by the Barrington Bird club. The public will be invited and Barrington parents will be urged to send or bring their children.

Mr. Bailey, who lectures at the museum in Lincoln park, is well known as a nature photographer and has an unfailing knack of picking out interesting subjects for his movie lens, according to members of the Barrington Bird club who have heard him previously and look forward to this lecture as an outstanding event of the year.

The lecture will start at 8 p. m. and the subject is "The Home Life of the Golden Eagle"—America's most romantic bird photographed in a romantic setting, the mountains of Colorado.
