H. Brintlinger Tells Lions of Pitfalls in Obtaining Property

Buying of property is not a simple matter of seeking justice of the peace to draw up a warranty deed, as it was a generation ago, according to H. E. Brintlinger, who spoke before the Barrington Lions club Monday night.

Today there are necessary legal steps in acquiring title to real estate which should be followed, he said. Mr. Brintlinger spoke briefly on the subject of acquiring property by deed and by inheritance. He differentiated between quit claim deeds and warranty deeds and told what might be expected in a guaranteed title and a torrens title.

Questionable titles to property are some times passed in good faith by others who may be buying property for years without realizing the condition, he said. It is always advisable for the buyer to have a title examined by a competent attorney before paying out any money, he added.

The talk was one of a series to be given at regular club meetings.

Ordinance Passed at Board Meeting Checks Solicitors

Requires Daily Application for Permit to Solicit in Village

A revised solicitors' ordinance including a registration plan suggested by Chief of Police E. W. Baade was adopted by unanimous vote Monday night at the village board meeting, following a motion by Village Trustee John Daeschler and seconded by Trustee John J. Carroll.

Considering various types of solicitation a public nuisance, the ordinance requires all solicitors to leave finger print records which will be kept on permanent file, and to apply daily by written application for permit to work in the village.

The permit card issued is not an approval of the bearer nor his merchandise, Chief Baade said, but merely an index system to keep check on those persons working in the village.

The ordinance also makes it unlawful for solicitors to ignore signs on or about premises forbidding their entrance. A minimum fine of $25 and a maximum of $100 is assessable for such offense.

While providing finger print records which can be used in cooperating with state and national officials, the ordinance is designed primarily to discourage itinerant peddlers from annoying Barrington residents. The measure was drafted at a conference of Chief Baade, Trustee Daeschler, chairman of the ordinance committee, and D. B. Maloney, village attorney.

25 Pigs in Two Litters Farrowed by Hendgen Farm Near Barrington

Thirteen pigs comprised one and twelve pigs the other. Sows of the Poland Hampshire, on the Hendgen Farm nine miles southwest of Barrington, the twelve pigs of each litter have survived.

These are each well above average in size and weight. The ton litter contests were conducted by the Farm Bureau and other organizations, a litter of pigs which in total grew to weigh 2000 pounds by the end of 90 days from birth, was accredited a ton litter. Obviously one of less than ten pigs to start, would have to gain more than 200 in the grade; but one of more than ten pigs was considered as a strong contender for the ribbon.

Seize Five Youths After Lengthy Car Chase Last Night

James Bailey and Lake County Deputies Arrest Gang at Fox River Grove

Two-way radio was used effectively late last night and early this morning, Thursday, to bring about the apprehension of five youths said to have been responsible for a number of tavern hold ups recently. The youths, George Limoyx, 16 years old, his two brothers, James, 20, and Frank, 17, residents of Wauconda and east of Bartlett road, and Edward Valentine, 17, of Elk Grove, and Edward Thomas, 17, of Bartlett, were arrested by James Bailey of Barrington, special night watchman, Lake County Deputies Robert Webb and E. Zersen at Fox River Grove early this morning following a lengthy automobile chase.

The youths, said by Cook county police to have held up five taverns "Tuesday night" were seen in the vicinity of Rand and the Lake County county line road near midnight Wednesday night by the Lake county squad. The officers started in pursuit of the bandit car and called the sheriff's office in Waukegan. From there another radio broadcast was sent out. Dumping of Volatile Fluids Into Sewers Brings Objections

A notice to Barrington residents that it is a violation of a local ordinance to dump gasoline, kerosene and other volatile fluids into the sanitary sewer lines, was published this week by the village of Barrington upon the recommendation of Village Trustee John H. Blanke, who completed an investigation of the matter Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Blanke's investigation sought to reveal where gasoline had been dumped into sanitary sewers, whether at local garages or service stations or at homes. For the past several weeks an increasing amount of kerosene and gasoline has been reported to the village treatment plant by the sewer lines with the result that the efficiency of the plant had been curtailed. The bacteria culture developed to clarify effluent is killed off by volatile fluids, it was learned.

Property owners were asked by Mr Blanke to guard against dumping the prohibited fluids into sanitary lines. The plant equipment is injured as well as the bacteria by gasoline and oil, he said. These unnamed places are being checked for possible violations.

School Districts' Tax Rates Raised for Coming Year

Low Property Valuation and Poor Relief Cost Cause of Gain

Tax rates of 24 school districts of the 40 in Lake county were boosted from 2 to 71 cents for each $100 property valuation for the coming year, it was announced this week by the county clerk's division of the county clerk's office. While 16 districts decreased their rates. The largest rate increase was in Libertyville, school district 70, 8.85 mills, compared with 5.85 last year to 16.56 a jump of 71 cents.

Because a large portion of Barrington school district No. 4 in Cook county its rate was held up pending "Tuesday" compilations.

Of the 15 districts lowering rates Lake Zurich school district 95 showed the greatest decrease, dropping from 14.72 last year to 5.85 last year, a 61 cent decrease. Libertyville maintained the same rate used last year, 12.45

While the poor relief problem was held partly responsible for the rate increases in some districts, the lowest property valuation in the last two decades, attributed to lower railroad and public stock values, was said to have also contributed to the rate boost.

The following table shows how neighboring districts are as follows:

Libertyville (70)	15.85	15.56
Mundelein (75) Libertyville (70)	6.43	6.64
Mundelein (75) Fremont twp	6.32	6.85
Wauconda (86)	7.14	8.12
Lake Zurich (95)	4.72	4.28
