It was announced that the November meeting will be a work shop for Lake Bluff, to be held at Pat Rockwood's home at the usual hour, 9:30 a.m. Members were asked to bring a sandwich and their own scissors. Evelyn Olson called attention to the Mother-Daughter banquet to be held Nov. 22.

Treasurer's report was given by Dotty Woodsome as follows: $243.00 turned over to the Woman's Society last year; $17 deposited during the summer from the bridge party; $25 sent to Nepal; $1.50 spent for baby sitter. Balance in treasury $35.43.

Jeannette Knodt moved and the motion carried that we give two gift certificates of $3.00 each to Church World Service for blankets. Clothing for Church World Service should be left at the church.

Pat Rockwood reported on the Lake Bluff fall festival.

Devotions were led by Phyllis Truehauf.

Plans were made for helping our chairman, Lillian McKinley, who recently had an operation, with dinners each night and transportation to and from the hospital for treatments.

We were then joined by Rebecca Circle for the service of celebration in connection with the charter meeting of the Women's Society and the Wesleyan Service Guild of the United Methodist Church. All present signed the charter membership roll.
