THE OLD SETTLERS.

Where They Were Born and What They Are Now Doing.

WHEN THEY CAME HERE.

Short Sketches of the Men Who Braved the Hardships of the Early Days

To Help Us in This Work Will the Citizens of This Community Kindly Furnish the News Reporter Any Information That They May Possess?

MR. G. A. APPLEBEE.

Mr. Applebee was born in upper Canada on the 14th day of August, 1799. He spent the early part of his life at clearing off heavy timber land in York State.

In 1838 he came to Barrington township before Barrington was in existence and settled on a farm 3 1/2 miles west of the present site of the city in Cook County, where he remained for many years. When the A.W. Railroad was built he moved to this place.

At the age of 23 he was joined in marriage to Miss Crabtree, twelve years his senior. They had three daughters and three sons. At the union, nine of the children were never cared for. He is quite an old man now—owning several acres of the old homestead and a nine-acre tract in the most desirable location in our village, which is most handsomely and conveniently improved.

At the time of Mr. Applebee's arrival in these parts this section was in the hands of an element who in most cases had everything their own way, the land being not in the market at that time and the early settlers having gobbled up all the most desirable claims to be had. This element would plow a furrow around any other tract they desired, and when new settlers arrived they would say: "Here, this is my land; you stay off." They even went so far as to form an organization to prevent any and all new comers from settling on any land that was of any value, and if they did so they would drive them off by force.

Money was very scarce in those days and what there was consisted of Michigan Wild Cat and Illinois State banks, money which might be quoted at par to-day and to-morrow be worth 25¢ on the dollar.

The only meat that was obtainable in those days consisted of wild game that they killed themselves. Whenever they found a wild hog they would have pork.

Among Mr. Applebee's possessions are a large number of relics of the frontier days, consisting of tools that were made by Mr. Applebee himself in the early days. These relics would have been a wonder even at the World's Fair.

Mr. Applebee is now over 94 years of age and we hope he may be spared for a long number of years yet.

W. HAWLEY.

Mr. Hawley, who is a retired farmer, was born in Amherst, Mass., in 1812; the son of Philip and Ray Hawley.

He came here with his parents before there was a town—in the spring of 1836—and settled on a farm in section 11, afterwards settling on a farm of his own which he now owns.

He was married in 1850 to Elizabeth Seymore, who died in 1853, leaving no children. In 1856 he was again married, this time to Jane M. Hawley, who is still living. They have no children.

Mr. Hawley now owns a farm on the Cuba side, known as the old Bullet farm, and owns a very desirable property in Barrington and is one of our best citizens.

GEO. H. COMSTOCK.

George H. Comstock was born in West Fairly, Vermont, September 6, 1837, son of Jared and Nancy Comstock.

He moved with his parents to Illinois and located on a farm on section 35 in the Town of Cuba, Lake County, in 1841, where he remained until he bought the lumber, coal and feed business of H. H. Church of Barrington in 1884, when he removed to this city, where he has since resided.

He was married in 1858 to Mary A. Handley who bore him five children, four of whom survive. Mrs. Comstock died in 1885. He was married in 1885 to Virginia L. Howell.

He went to California in the spring of 1864. The same year he enlisted in Company G 2d California Infantry, serving over three years and returning to his home in Barrington in the year 1864.

He served as collector of the town of Cuba three terms, assessor two terms, supervisor five terms, school director nine years, took the census in 1880 and was village trustee two terms. He sold his farm to the syndicate in 1892. He owns a section of land in Dakota and owns a fine residence in Barrington. Mr. Comstock is a good citizen and stands ready to help anything that is of benefit to the town.

J. B. HARROWER.

The hero of our sketch was born in Fulton County, N. Y., son of W. Harrower.

In the spring of 1862 he joined the 115th N. Y. Infantry. He was taken a prisoner at Harper's Ferry before he had been in the army a month. He served two years and eight months in active service, his last battle being at Coal Harbor.

September 30, 1868 he was married to Miss Margaret Lewis, daughter of Joseph Lewis, four children blessing the union, all of whom are living.

He came to Illinois in 1865, coming to Barrington in 1869, where he worked at the carpenter trade one year, after which he moved on a farm in section 19, remaining there until he again moved to this town in the spring of 1878. Later he moved on a farm near this town, where he now resides.

He is a member of the M. E. Church of this city. Mr. Harrower never accepted public office.

Cannot the Windy City corral its vandals? asks a New York paper. It seems a pretty big job, owing to the fact that it is an off lot of vandals left on our hands when New York returned home and did not take them back.

MASQUERADE BALL

Attended by One of the Largest Gatherings Ever Crowded Into Stott's Hall.

EVERY BODY LAUGHED.

Comic, Beautiful and Bewitching Costumes Are Worn By The Happy Representatives of Barrington's 400—A Large Contingent Present from the Neighboring Cities.

A genuine good all-round masked ball was enjoyed by a large crowd of people, who wore mirth-provoking costumes that represented everything that one can think of.

There were represented characters from the South, North, East and West, and every other part of the globe.

At 9:30 sweet strains of music began to fill the air, and the hall began to fill up with a dense mass of various looking people—a sight one will never forget.

The programme commenced with a waltz, which was participated in by oldish people, young people and middle aged people, some with big feet, little noses and long ears, others with little feet, long noses and big ears; some fat, some lean and some stuffed.

Some made noise and others made no noise at all. Some wore shoes that led one to believe their feet were frozen as hard as rocks while others wore patent leather shoes, golden slippers, etc.

The Sioux Indians made their appearance by giving an old-fashioned war dance, warwhoops, etc. The clowns, with pantaloons that would have made a good big balloon and the Quakers in their modest, quiet ways were good.

Turks, coons and priests were not at all behind the times; the sailor, band and baseball boys were out in full dress; the Spaniards and farmers were also in the ring; the soldiers were great, and of course such a notable gathering could not be without the tramp; dead game sports were also visible, in whose train followed the duds.

The Stars and stripes showed out in bold relief among the dense and brilliant assemblage; the little red riding hood could not be overlooked nor can the Quakee ladies be forgotten; the coons enjoyed themselves immensely; jockeys, cowboys and B. Young deserve mention; there were Spanish noblemen and lady dancers and plasterers who made a good appearance; Turkish ladies were also on hand; the Goddess of Liberty and moonlight and stars were excellent. The Dutchman with the wooden shoes and Irish Pat with his clay pipe should have had first prize, while the beer tunnel must not be forgotten. In fact the sight was so brilliant and the characters so many and varied that time and space will not permit us to mention them all.

Supper was served by Mrs. J. K. Bennett in the Columbia Hotel in her usual pleasing manner and had plenty of good things to eat for the forty-five couples that partook of her hospitality.

William Reed died at the Cook County Poorhouse February 19 and Chris Jonson February 20. Unless friends call for the bodies within five days the same will be disposed of according to law.

Another party is in the field, known as the Poor Man's Party, which is causing quite an excitement among the politicians of both parties. This so-called party organized in Illinois, and is seeking to establish a through organization throughout the entire state. It is predicted that this party will be heard from in the coming election of county officers.

NOTICE.

On and after March 1st the BARRINGTON NEWS will be found in its new quarters, over Landwer & Hobein's general merchandise store. We cordially invite our friends to call and see us.

THE CASH BUSINESS SYSTEM.

A number of our merchants have adopted the cash plan of doing business, a way of doing business, which if strictly adhered to, would be of untold benefit both to the merchants as well as the customers.

For instance, by adopting this plan the merchants are enabled to sell for a smaller margin because they can turn their money several times to one time with the old credit system. It is also admitted that the customer saves money with the new plan in two ways: First, he buys goods cheaper; second, it will keep him from buying anything that he does not absolutely need.

Take this case for an example: A man applies to one of the merchants for 30, 60 or 90 days' time on a bill of goods that he purchases. He buys in good faith and is reasonably sure that he will be able to meet his obligations promptly. Suddenly a misfortune overtakes him, making it impossible for him to pay, he is at a loss to reason somewhat like this: "I only owe that merchant $30, and he certainly has no cause to kick if I don't pay him for a month or so." This man does not take into consideration that there may be 100 other customers that may owe that same merchant $30 each, making a total of $3,000 or more, which may be tied up in this way for perhaps a year or more. The legal rate of interest on $3,000 at 6 per cent. is $180, quite a neat little sum. Besides if that merchant had the principal he would be enabled to make more than the interest.

You expect our merchants to compete with Chicago, why not educate yourself up to a strictly cash business and enable them to do so. It will be hard on you for a while, perhaps, but eventually be to your benefit. Give it your careful consideration.

Commissioner Blount and Minister Willis are not directly engaged in the sugar business, but they raised a big crop of cane on the Island that did not pay for harvesting.

Enjoyed Themselves.

The Members of the Epworth League of the M. E. Church Enjoy the Hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harrower.

On Tuesday evening the members of the Epworth League of the M. E. Church, in company with invited guests, bundled themselves up in winter fashion, took possession of three large, comfortable sleighs, which were kindly provided by Messrs. J. E. Catlow, Edward Catlow and H. A. Harndon, and took a delightful ride to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harrower, about two and a half miles north of the city, where they spent a very pleasant and profitable evening.

The weekly Bible study was very carefully read and ably discussed by those present. The lesson was taken from Gen. 22. The meeting was led by Miss Clara Almsby.

A few songs and instrumental pieces were rendered, and after the meeting peanuts, popcorn and oranges were served, which were very much enjoyed by the witty, jovial company that composed the party.

Games were then indulged in, Shreads being the name, Misses Lillie Harrower and Ethelyn Runyan acting as captains. Of all the most interesting games it certainly takes first place, especially is it interesting when it involves the happiness for life of one of our old settlers and a handsome and entertaining young lady. Mr. D. N. Haven enjoyed the game very much indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrower and family were very hospitable people and ever met, who possessed the art of making their guests comfortable and everybody hoped to soon have the same again meeting.

Those present were: D. N. Haven, D. E. Catlow, Edward Catlow, H. A. Harndon, Will Harndon, Geo. Eldridge, George W. Nightingale, E. B. Jones, Will McCord, W. W. Baughner, J. B. Harrower and the scribe. Mesdames D. Catlow, Geo. W. Nightingale, J. B. Harrower and Misses Carrie Kingsley, Clara Almsby, Esther Eldridge, Ethelyn Runyan, Myrtle Runyan, Gertie Kitson, Anna Schaefer, Ella Schaefer, Bessie Decker, Minnie Spriggs, Lillie Harrower, Ethel Harrower, Flora Nelson, Miss Hamilton and Mrs. Blakey.

A CARD OF THANKS.

I would thus publicly express my gratitude to the many, many friends who sympathize with me in my affliction. The sympathy I feel more sincerely because of the practical form. From first to last I have been treated with the utmost kindness and consideration. It is very gratifying to be the recipient of so many marks of the esteem in which my husband was held. Every kindness has been gratefully noted, from those of the Town Board of Trustees, Railroad Officials, Masons and Woodmen, down to the humblest offices performed in the kitchen and sickroom. To the members of the Salem Evangelical Church I extend my thanks, also to the friends and neighbors who so kindly furnished teams and drivers from the house to the cemetery. For the many written and printed condolences received, I return my hearty thanks.

Respectfully,
Mrs. FLORA E. LINES.

NEGLECT OF DUTY.

Charges Which Michigan Officials Are Called on to Answer.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 17.—The most intense public interest was manifested in Thursday's hearing before the governor of the charges of gross neglect of duty preferred by the executive against the three state officials who constitute the state board of canvassers.

1. That the governor has no power to remove a board of canvassers. 2. That the power of the governor is confined to official misconduct.

4. That the charges against the state officers were wholly insufficient and defective, for the reason that it was not shown that negligence was intended.

Arguments on the above specifications were presented by Mr. Lee and F. A. Barker for the canvassers and Harrison Geer for the governor.

The sensation of the day in connection with the amendment scandals is the confession of Postmaster Healy, of Ironwood, relative to his connection with the alterations in the Gogebic county returns of 1892.

Ellis called Healy's attention to those figures and suggested that as chairman of the Gogebic county canvassers Healy make the writing correspond with the figures.

Mrs. McKane found guilty. Gravesend's Ex-Czar Must Serve a Term in Prison.
