FATAL FIRE AT ALGONQUIN, ILLINOIS.

Two Lives Lost in an Early Sunday Morning Blaze.

Algonquin, Ills., Aug. 18.—Fire consumed a block of buildings here this morning. Two persons lost their lives and two others were seriously injured.

THE DEAD.

KAZAR, F. D. aged 30 years.
KAZAR, SYLVA (his daughter), aged 5 years.

THE INJURED.

KAZAR, MRS., badly burned.
PHILIP, JAMES, seriously burned.

Flames were discovered bursting from the frame building occupied by F. D. Kazar, shortly after midnight. Frank Yerkes, the night watchman, roused the neighbors. Ladders were secured and the rescue of the Kazar family attempted from their beds in the upper story of the building. Mr. and Mrs. Kazar and two of their children were taken to the ground in safety. Mr. Kazar hastened back for his third child, who had been left in the excitement. He reached the girl, Sylva, and carried her to the window. Here he was overcome by the heat and smoke and dropped with his burden to the floor. James Piott and Ed. Morton had ascended to the top of the ladder to assist in the rescue. They lifted Mr. Kazar from the floor and tried to pull him through the window. His clothing appeared to have caught on something and in spite of the efforts of the rescuers he fell back with the girl in his arms into the blazing building. Kazar's body was dug out of the ruins this morning. Both arms and legs had been burned off. A careful search failed to find anything of the girl. Her body was undoubtedly entirely consumed.

MOTHER IS BESIDE HERSELF.

Mrs. Kazar was beside herself with grief when she saw that her husband and daughter were doomed. She would have rushed into the burning building had she not been restrained, though herself burned and bruised so severely that she may die.

Many of the neighbors, who assisted in the work of rescue, were also injured, James Phi being the most seriously. He was burned black in the face and his clothing was scorched off the upper part of his body.

The flames spread rapidly during the attempts to rescue the Kazar family. Ed. Chappel's new home, two stores owned by Joseph Winkle, and a store belonging to C. C. Chun, the ex-Postmaster, were entirely destroyed. The loss is estimated at $30,000, partially covered by insurance.

Had there been any wind the entire place would have burned. Not a foot of hose and not even a hand pump is kept in the village with its 1,000 people. A line of hose was run across the Northwestern railroad track from the engines of the Illinois Condensing company's factory, but it was short two blocks of being available. Buckets were filled and passed from hand to hand from the end of the hose to the buildings threatened by the fire and in this way thousands of dollars in property were saved.

FIRE SEEN MILES AWAY.

The fire was seen plainly for ten miles around. At Elgin it could be seen from the housetops and the Fire Department there prepared to give assistance. Before they had secured a special train word was sent from Algonquin that the fire had burned itself out and no assistance was needed.

Mr. Kazar, the dead man, was about 30 years old. He occupied one of the stores owned by Joseph Winkle and was engaged in the boot and shoe business. The coroner for McHenry county, held the inquest Sunday morning. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death. The body of Mr. Kazar was sent to Chicago for burial.

The fire is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of a lamp.

THE HIGHWAYMAN AT WORK

A Mysterious Assault on the "Cow-path."

J. G. GRAYBILL, A CAR INSPECTOR, THE VICTIM.

While Going After Fresh Water He is Hit on the Head With Some Blunt Instrument and Robbed of His Watch and Money—No Clue to the Culprit.

Sunday evening at about 10:30 o'clock J. G. Graybill, car inspector on the C. & N.-W. railroad, was on his way to a neighbor's to get a pail of water. Just as he was approaching the E. J. & E. road crossing he was startled by a noise near him. He was about to investigate when he was felled to the earth by a murderous blow on the forehead from some blunt instrument in the hands of his cowardly assailant.

Although partially stunned, Mr. Graybill attempted to arouse some of the friends who were visiting with him, by cries for assistance, when his assailant sat down on his chest and relieved him of some $6 or $7 in cash and a watch. In his hurry the highwayman tore the vest and shirt of his victim in many places. The watch is an open-face, nickel, screw case, with one of the Waltham Co's earliest movements. The chain attached was snake pattern and gold plated.

After relieving his victim of his valuables this midnight thug took a hasty departure, leaving him bleeding and unconscious to take care of himself as best he could. Mr. Graybill finally managed to crawl back to his home, where he informed his friends what occurred. A searching party was immediately organized, but without resulting in any good as Mr. Graybill was unable to describe his assailant any better than that he wore a big slouch hat.

Mr. Graybill is able to be about, but carries a scar on his forehead as a gentle reminder of his midnight assault.

MORTUARY RECORD.

Monday, August 19th, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Prussia, died at Lake Zurich. The funeral took place at the home of Mr. Joseph Whitney Wednesday. The remains were interred in Evergreen cemetery at Barrington.

August 21st, 1895, Peter Beck died at the home of his son, Peter, in Algonquin township, of dropsy of the heart, aged 72 years and 6 months.

Mr. Beck was born in Germany June 21, 1819. He came to America in 1842, first settling in Wisconsin, but in 1864 he came to the vicinity of Barrington, where he resided until his demise. The wife, a son, and two daughters deeply mourn his loss.

The funeral will be held at the Bohemian Catholic church, Algonquin, Saturday, Aug. 23. The remains will be interred in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Freddie Ouderkirk, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ouderkirk, of Honey Lake, died August 20th, after a few week's illness. The entire family are nearly prostrated with grief over their great loss. The interment took place in Evergreen cemetery last Thursday, Rev. T. E. Ream officiating at the services.

The 4-months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Venstrborge died Aug. 20 from cholera infantum. The interment took place in the Lutheran cemetery August 21, Rev. Theodore Rahn conducting the services.

BARRINGTON GETS IT.

Good Playing on the Part of Both Nines Makes the Game a Hot One.

On Tuesday, August 20th, the Elgin High School baseball nine was entertained by the Barrington "Maroons" at Spinner's park.

The game was well attended, many of our ladies helping to swell the crowd, which did not show up as well in the gate receipts as appearances would seem to warrant.

Although the ground was rough and the wind quite high, the day was favorable for a good game.

The game was a hotly contested one, and with the exception of the customary "kicks" on the umpire's decisions and some rather loud-mouthed coaching on the part of the home team and their assistants, the affair was a success.

The Elgin boys generally, deserve credit for their decorum and gentlemanly conduct.

The "Maroons" did some fine fielding, and both batteries did great work—Drewes appearing at his best. Elgins were "shut out" four innings, and the Maroons two.

Although the spectators missed no opportunity of cheering a good play or decision and "roasted" bad ones liberally, they were, with the exception of the usual "smart alecks" from abroad, a well-behaved crowd.

THE SCORE:

Elgins.....6 1 0 0 0 6 0—13
Maroons.....2 6 2 3 0 0 1—14

Batteries—Pepple, Hendricks, and Silver, Pepple, for Elgins; Drewes and Fredericks for Maroons.

Time: 2:20. Umpires, Zimmerman and Sott.

LOCALS.

E. M. Blocks made a business trip to Chicago Thursday.

George Schafer returned from Wisconsin Sunday. He brought back with him some cattle.

Mrs. A. C. Mann returned to her home in Evanston Tuesday.

Mrs. Thomas Fitzsimmons spent Wednesday at Geneva Lake with a party of Janesville friends.

The Arlington Colts and Barrington nines will cross bats in Spinner's park, this village, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The rooms above Schafer's meat market are being fitted up for living rooms, and will be occupied by George Schafer and family.

L. F. Schroeder, the hardware man, furnished the gas-tight furnace which will heat the residence of Mrs. M. W. Dodge.

Arthur A. Jayne and sister, Mrs. James Morehouse, started for Waterloo, Iowa, Thursday, to be gone for a short time.

Scaled bids will be received by the Village Clerk for the painting of street lamps and posts in the village, at any time before Wednesday evening, Sept. 4th, 7 o'clock. For particulars call on M. T. Lamey, Village Clerk.

Next Sunday evening, at the usual hour, Rev. T. E. Ream will preach on the topic: "Progressiveness," or "In the Field," from the text, "The World is the Field."

At the M. E. church the following were baptized: Frank Jenks, Floyd Harnden, Belle Clark, Flora Nelson, Willis Runyan, Iva Runyan and Myrtle Runyan. Mr. Jenks and Miss Grace Genereaux joined the church at the same time.

That the fact of our little burg being a musical community has been noised abroad, is evidenced by the simultaneous appearance on our streets last Wednesday of five traveling musicians, viz.: Two harp and violin orchestras and one violin soloist. The pair which appeared on the bills as Lombard's Orchestra cheered on the merry couples who assembled in Stott's hall, the same night, to "trip the light fantastic." The other three were doing the honors at a "stag party" at George Foreman's, in opposition to the party given in Stott's hall.

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

"COMFORT" THE SUBJECT OF LAST WEEK'S TALK.

Golden Text: And God Shall Wipe Away All Tears from Their Eyes—Revelations, Chapter VII, Verse 17—A Stirring Appeal.

TRAVELING across a western prairie, wild flowers up to the hub of the carriage wheel, and while a long distance from any shelter, there came a sudden shower, and while the rain was falling in torrents, the sun was shining as brightly as I ever saw it shine; and I thought, What a beautiful spectacle this is! So the tears of the Bible are not midnight storm, but rain on panted prairies in God's sweet and golden sunlight. You remember that bottle which David labeled as containing tears, and Mary's tears, and Paul's tears, and Christ's tears, and the harvest of joy that is to spring from the sowing of tears. God mixes them. God rounds them. God shows them where to fall. God exhales them. A census is taken of them, and there is a record as to the moment when they are born, and as to the place of their grave.

Tears of bad men are not kept. Alexander, in his sorrow, had the hair clipped from his horses and mules, and made a great ado about his grief; but in all the vases of heaven there is not one of Alexander's tears. I speak of the tears of God's children. Alas! they are falling all the time. In summer, you sometimes hear the growling thunder, and you see there is a storm miles away; but you know from the drift of the clouds that it will not come anywhere near you. So, though it may be all bright around you, there is a shower of trouble somewhere all the time. Tears! Tears!

What is the use of them, anyhow? Why not substitute laughter? Why not make this a world where all the people are well, and eternal strangers to pain and aches? What is the use of an eastern storm when we might have a perpetual nor'wester? Why, when a family is put together, not have them all stay, or if they must be transplanted to make other homes, then have them all live?—the family record, telling a story of marriages and births, but of no deaths. Why not have the harvests chase each other without fatiguing toil? Why the hard pillow, the hard crust, the hard struggle? It is easy enough to explain a smile, or a success, or a congratulation; but, come now, and bring all your dictionaries and all your philosophies and all your religions, and help me explain a tear. A chemist will tell you that it is made up of salt and lime and other component parts; but he misses the chief ingredients—the acid of a soured life, the viperine sting of a bitter memory, the fragments of a broken heart. I will tell you what a tear is; it is agony in solution. Hear then, while I discourse of the uses of trouble.

First, it is the design of trouble to keep this world from being too attractive. Something must be done to make us willing to quit this existence. If it were not for trouble this world would be a good enough heaven for me. You and I would be willing to take a lease of this life for a hundred million years if there were no trouble. The earth cushioned and upholstered and pillared and chandeliered with such expense, no story of other worlds could enchant us.

We would say: "Let well enough alone. If you want to die and have your body disintegrated in the dust, and your soul go out on a celestial adventure, then you can go, but this world is good enough for me!" You might as well go to a man who has just entered the Louvre at Paris, and tell him to hasten off to the picture-galleries of Venice or Florence. "Why," he would say, "What is the use of my going there? There are Rembrandts and Rubens and Raphaels here that I haven't looked at yet." No man wants to go out of this world, or out of any house, until he has a better house. To cure this wish to stay here, God must somehow create a disgust for our surroundings. How shall he do it? He cannot afford to deface his horizon, or to tear off a fiery panel from the sunset, or to subtract an anther from the water-lily, or to banish the pungent aroma from the mignonette, or to drag the robes of the morning in mire. You cannot expect a Christopher Wren to mar his own St. Paul's cathedral, or a Michael Angelo to dash out his own "Last Judgment," or a Handel to discord his "Israel in Egypt," and you cannot expect God to spoil the architecture and music of his own world. How, then, are we to be made willing to leave? Here is where the trouble comes in.

After a man has had a good deal of trouble, he says: "Well, I am ready to go. If there is a house somewhere whose roof doesn't leak, I would like to live there. If there is an atmosphere somewhere that does not distress the lungs, I would like to breathe it.

If there is a society somewhere where there is no tittle-tattle, I would like to live there. If there is a home circle somewhere where I can find my lost friends, I would like to go there." He used to read the first part of the Bible chiefly; now he reads the last part of the Bible chiefly. Why has he changed Genesis for Revelation? Ah! he used to be anxious chiefly to know how this world was made, and all about its geological construction. Now he is chiefly anxious to know how the next world was made, and how it looks, and who live there, and how they dress. He reads Revelation ten times now where he reads Genesis once. The old story, "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth," does not thrill him half as much as the other story, "I saw a new heaven and a new earth." The old man's hand trembles as he turns over this apocalyptic leaf, and he has to take out his handkerchief to wipe his spectacles. That book of Revelation is a prospectus now of the country into which he is soon to immigrate; the country in which he has lots already laid out, and avenues opened, and mansions built.

Yet there are people here to whom this world is brighter than heaven. Well, dear souls, I do not blame you. It is natural. But after awhile you will be ready to go. It was not until Job had been worn out with bereavements that he wanted to see God. It was not until the prodigal son got tired living among the hogs that he wanted to go to his father's house. It is the ministry of trouble to make this world worth less and heaven worth more.

Again, it is the use of trouble to make us feel our dependence upon God. Men think they can do anything until God shows them they can do nothing at all. We lay out great plans, and we like to execute them. It looks big. God comes and takes us down. As Prometheus was assaulted by his enemy, when the lance struck him it opened a great swelling that had threatened his death, and he got well. So it is the arrow of trouble that lets out great swelling of pride. We never feel our dependence upon God until we get trouble. I was riding with my little child along the road, and she asked me if she might drive. I said, "Certainly." I handed over the reins to her, and I had to admire the glee with which she drove. But after awhile we met a team and we had to turn out. The road was narrow, and it was sheer down on both sides. She handed the reins over to me, and said, "I think you had better take charge of the horse." So we are all children; and on this road of life we like to drive. It gives one the appearance of superiority and power. It looks big. But after awhile we meet some obstacle and we have to turn out, and the road is narrow, and it is sheer down on both sides; and then we are willing that God should take the reins and drive. Ah! my friends, we get upset so often because we do not hand over the reins soon enough.

It is trouble, my friends, that makes us feel our dependence upon God. We do not know our own weakness or God's strength until the last plank breaks. It is contemptible in us when there is nothing else to catch hold of, that we catch hold of God only. Why, you do not know who the Lord is! He is not an autocrat seated far up in a palace, from which he emerges once a year, preceded by heralds swinging swords to clear the way. No. But a Father willing, at our call, to stand by us in every crisis and predicament in life. I tell you what some of you business men make me think of. A young man goes off from home to earn his fortune. He goes with his mother's consent and benediction. She has large wealth, but he wants to make his own fortune. He goes far away, falls sick, gets out of money. He sends for the hotelkeeper where he is staying, asking for lenience, and the answer he gets is, "If you don't pay up Saturday night you'll be removed to the hospital."

The young man sends to a comrade in the same building. No help. He writes to a banker who was a friend of his deceased father. No relief. He writes to an old schoolmate, but gets no help. Saturday night comes, and he is moved to the hospital.

Getting there, he is frenzied with grief; and he borrows a sheet of paper and a postage-stamp and he sits down, and he writes home, saying: "Dear mother, I am sick unto death. Come." It is ten minutes of 10 o'clock when she gets the letter. At 10 o'clock the train starts. She is five minutes from the depot. She gets there in time to have five minutes to spare. She wonders why a train that can go thirty miles an hour cannot go sixty miles an hour. She rushes into the hospital. She says: "My son, what does all this mean? Why didn't you send for me? You sent to everybody but me. You knew I could and would help you. Is this the reward I get for my kindness to you always?" She buoies him up, takes him home, and gets him well very soon. Now, some of you treat God just as that young man treated his mother. When you get into a financial perplexity, you call on the banker, you call on the broker, you call on your creditors, you call on your lawyers for legal counsel; you call upon everybody, and when you cannot get any help, then you go to God. You say: "O Lord, I come to thee. Help me now out of my perplexity." And the Lord comes, though it is in the eleventh hour. He says: "Why did you not send for me before? As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you." It is to throw us back upon God that we have this ministry of tears.

Again, it is the use of trouble to capacitate us for the office of sympathy. The priests, under the old dispensation, were set apart by having water sprinkled upon their hands, feet, and head; and by the sprinkling of tears people are now set apart to the office of sympathy. When we are in prosperity we like to have a great many young people around us, and we laugh when they laugh, and we romp when they romp, and we sing when they sing; but when we have trouble we like plenty of old folks around. Why? They know how to talk. Take an aged mother, seventy years of age, and she is almost omnipotent in comfort. Why? She has been through it all. At 7 o'clock in the morning she goes over to comfort a young mother who has just lost her babe. Grandmother knows all about that trouble. Fifty years ago she felt it. At twelve o'clock of that day she goes over to comfort a widowed soul. She knows all about that. She has been walking in that dark valley twenty years. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon some one knocks at the door, wanting bread. She knows all about that. Two or three times in her life she came to her last loaf. At 10 o'clock that night she goes over to sit up with some one severely sick. She knows all about it. She knows all about fevers and pleurisies and broken bones. She has been doctoring all her life, spreading plasters and pouring out bitter drops and shaking up hot pillows and contriving things to tempt a poor appetite. Doctors Abernethy and Rush and Hosack and Harvey were great doctors, but the greatest doctor the world ever saw is an old Christian woman! Dear me! Do we not remember her about the room when we were sick in our boyhood? Was there any one who could ever so touch a sore without hurting it?

Have you any appreciation of the good and glorious times your friends are having in heaven? How different it is when they get news there of a Christian's death from what it is here! It is the difference between embarkation and coming into port. Everything depends upon which side of the river you stand when you hear of a Christian's death. If you stand on this side of the river, you mourn that they go. If you stand on the other side of the river, you rejoice that they come. Oh, the difference between a funeral on earth and a jubilee in heaven—between requiem here and triumph there—parting here and reunion there! Together! Have you thought of it? They are together. Not one of your departed friends in one land and another in another land; but together, in different rooms of the same house—the house of many mansions. Together!

I never more appreciated that thought than when we laid away in her last slumber my sister Sarah. Standing there in the village cemetery, I looked around and said: "There is father, there is mother, there is grandfather, there is grandmother, there are whole circles of kindred;" and I thought to myself, "Together in the grave—together in glory." I am so impressed with the thought that I do not think it is any fanaticism when some one is going from this world to the next if you make them the bearer of dispatches to your friends who are gone, saying: "Give my love to my parents, give my love to my children, give my love to my old comrades who are in glory, and tell them I am trying to fight the good fight of faith, and I will join them after awhile." I believe the message will be delivered; and I believe it will increase the gladness of those who are before the throne. Together are they, all their tears gone.

My friends take this good cheer home with you. These tears of bereavement that course your cheek, and of persecution, and of trial, are not always to be there. The motherly hand of God will wipe them all away. What is the use, on the way to such a consummation—what is the use of fretting about anything? Oh, what an exhilaration it ought to be in Christian work! See you the pinnacles against the sky? It is the city of our God, and we are approaching it. Oh, let us be busy in the days that remain for us!

I put this balsam on the wounds of your heart. Rejoice at the thought of what your departed friends have got rid of, and that you have a prospect of so soon making your own escape. Bear cheerfully the ministry of tears, and exult at the thought that soon it is to be ended. There we shall march up the heavenly street, And ground our arms at Jesus' feet.

Self-Sacrifice.
The soul that trifles and toils with self-sacrifice never can get its true joy and power. Only the soul that, with an overwhelming impulse and a perfect trust, gives itself up forever to the life of other men, finds the delight and peace which such complete self-surrender has to give.—Brooks.

Milk as a Fire Extinguisher.
A queer claim has been sent to a number of the companies having departments in Chicago. A fire broke out in a creamery in a Wisconsin town near Madison, owned by John L. Elverson. The water supply was soon exhausted and 2,300 gallons of milk stored in the building were used to extinguish the fire. The companies have, therefore, received a claim from Mr. Elverson for $64 for damage done to building and the loss of 2,300 gallons of milk. A similar case is reported from Ste. Victoire, in Canada. The Rev. Abbe Noyseux and his parishioners extinguished a fire in a barn by using milk stored in the creamery. A fire in Cleveland in February destroyed the dwelling of William Woodford and by the use of 700 gallons of wine stored in a wine cellar he succeeded in saving that building. The value of this wine was $300, and this has been allowed him by the insurance companies, which recently paid their proportion of the loss. The property was insured for one-third its value, and the companies therefore paid in the neighborhood of $100 for the wine used in putting out the fire. All sorts of liquors have been used for fighting fires in addition to water. Recently a fire was extinguished in an ink factory by throwing the contents of several vats of ink on the burning building. In this case, however, no insurance was carried and the owner got no pay for the value of the stock destroyed.—Ex.

What Is "Cooking Butter"?
One of the laws of Massachusetts regulating the sale of oleomargarine provides a fine for anyone who sells oleomargarine to any person who asks for butter. Recently an agent of the dairy bureau of that state went into a store in Holyoke and called for butter. For the purpose of conveying information to the salesman as to the kind of butter which he wanted, he qualified his request by calling for "cooking butter." The merchant furnished him oleomargarine, and was convicted in the district court. His case was appealed and tried in the superior court of Hampden county. Judge Hopkins instructed the jury, says the New England Farmer, that if they found that "cooking butter" was an article of commerce, separate and distinct from butter, they should acquit the defendant. If, however, they found that "cooking butter" was merely a kind or variety of butter, and that oleomargarine therefore was sold when butter was called for, they should return a verdict of guilty. The jury after struggling with the case all the afternoon, finally were unable to agree.

Early Drones.
After much anxiety and patient study I believe I have an infallible method of getting early drones. Every experienced bee keeper knows that the queen, if allowed to form her brood nest according to nature's way, will make it globe shaped. She will begin in the center and gradually enlarge it. Now, my method of getting early drones is plain and simple. A colony, to raise drones, should contain about three pounds of bees and about five combs each. One of these combs should be sealed full of honey, and one of the middle combs should be about half drone comb. The hive in which these combs are placed must be contracted so the five combs will fit it. The queen is started to laying by the operator uncapping some of the honey on the middle comb, about the size of the palm of your hand is sufficient, and on the two combs next to the middle one a smaller space should be uncapped. Care should be taken not to uncapp any of the drone comb till the queen is getting very prolific. In starting the brood next the cluster should not be farther from the drone comb than one-half an inch. When the queen fills the uncapped cells with eggs, the bees will begin to uncapp the honey to make room for the queen. If she is a good queen she will fill every empty cell, drone cells not excepted. There is no need of feeding if the above plans are strictly followed.—C. B. Bankston, in Southland Queen.

Weakening the Swarms.—By instinct bees store their honey immediately above their brood, and never below. During a good yield they often encroach upon the brood space and limit breeding. This tends to a weakening of the swarm. If combs are inverted it places the brood at the top and the honey at the bottom. On discovering this the bees will remove the honey and carry it to the surplus arrangement in the upper story where it is wanted. Finding the lower part of a comb empty the queen will immediately deposit eggs in the cells and thus increase the brood, and eventually the stock of bees. This is advantageous inasmuch as an increase of bees will give a corresponding increase in honey gathered.

Oatmeal Crisps.—Scald the meal with boiling water, stirring with a spoon. Make a stiff dough, adding a little salt. Dust the board with graham flour, roll thin, cut in small cakes and bake until dry, but only slightly browned. Butter and serve hot.

The Cape of Good Hope is now in the British markets with its butter, selling in Great Britain for 1893 $250,000 worth.

A Distant Hope.
Although the home rule battle seems for the moment lost in England, the Irish nationalists have held their own, and all they need do is to make a sagacious and far-seeing use of the forces they still retain in parliament. The house of commons cannot last forever. In about six years, at furthest, there will be another appeal to the electors.—Exchange.

An institution known to large fruit growers throughout both hemispheres, is the old established Stark Nurseries, of Louisiana, Mo., and Rockport, Ill. A feature of the business is 40,000 acres planted to orchards. These orchards are distributed in 24 states; and perhaps no other 100 acres of trees ever grown has attracted so wide attention as their Stark Denver Unirrigated Orchards. Irrigation, hitherto supposed indispensable, is not given; but instead the whole orchard is cultivated once a week during the growing season. In the Dep't of Agriculture report, as long ago as 1892, U. S. Pomologist Van Deman, who visited and carefully examined the orchards, concluded a long description by saying, "This one lesson in practical horticulture is worth millions to the country."

With such great orchards and with over 2,000 canvassers selling their trees, and for whose benefit they regularly publish a unique and valuable paper, it is hardly surprising that Stark Bros. paid $3,000.00 for one tree of the Gold plum, also $3,000.00 for the Splendor prune—more than 12 times their weight in gold. They evidently believe the best is none too good for their customers. Notwithstanding their present working force of 2,000 canvassers, they advertise for more to work right here and in adjoining territory. The work lasts the year round or one can utilize spare time. Stark Bros. tell us the business offers a great chance to men—or women either, for that matter—who have the necessary energy, etc., to succeed canvassing, and that experience is by no means necessary.

Renewing Their Youth.

A STRANGE STORY FROM A NEBRASKA VILLAGE.

The Villagers Excited Over the Increased Health and Vigor of the Older Inhabitants—The Experience of Two "Vets."

(From the World-Herald, Omaha, Neb.) A World-Herald reporter was attracted by the evidence of renewed activity of some of the older inhabitants of the village of Bruce, a suburb of Omaha, Neb., and enquired the cause. Mr. Andrew Finkenker, who was a member of Company B of the First Iowa Volunteers during the war, made the following explanation so far as he himself is concerned.

"In July, 1866, while my company was on the march through Austin, Tex., I was attacked with rheumatism of the worst kind in one leg at Alexander, La. Being weak I was sunstruck and remained unconscious for several hours. Every summer since I have been unable to stand the heat of the sun, and have been compelled to give up my work. There was in my head a bearing down feeling which increased until it seemed my head would burst and it caused a ringing in my ears, and palpitation of the heart set in, so that the slightest noise would set my heart thumping. Several times it has rendered me unconscious for from seven to ten hours at a time. In addition to this the rheumatism extended up my entire side until it drew my head down on my shoulder. I lost my strength and flesh and was totally unfit for work.

"For twenty-eight years I have consulted physicians and taken their prescriptions without deriving any material benefit. My ailments increased in intensity until I was assured that there was no hope for me.

"In November last I read in the World-Herald a case of a man who had been entirely cured from the ailments from which I was suffering, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. On November 28 I purchased a box. In a week I felt better than I had for six months past. The ringing in my ears began to lessen in volume and finally left me. The pain from the rheumatism gradually left me, so that within one week from the time I took my first pill I was able to sit up in bed. On January 1 I was able to go out and walk around a little. On February 9 I was so thoroughly cured that I accepted a position as night watchman in the Forest Lawn Cemetery, remaining out of doors from 6 p. m. until 8 a. m. I have gained in weight from 144 pounds which I weighed in November last, to 162 pounds, which I weigh now."

For nerve building and for enlivening the blood Pink Pills are unexcelled. They may be had of druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for 50 cents per box, or six bottles for $2.50.

Cleveland the First to Own a Sleigh.

President Cleveland is the first president who is recorded as having a sleigh when in the white house. Last winter he brought one from New York, and during the cold season frequently joined the parades on the main thoroughfares. His turnout was the finest in the city, and the jingle of the bells on his harness the loudest.

That the barber trade can be learned in the space of eight weeks is a surprise to us, as we know it will be to a majority of our readers. Yet we learned that such is the fact during a call at the Chicago Barbers' and Hair Dressers' School, No. 54 Wabash avenue, from which institution many graduates, both men and women, have gone out in the short time mentioned and either engaged in business for themselves or commanded good salaries. Their catalogue, giving full particulars, is sent to all who are interested in the matter.

Both Might Improve.

Workingman—If you fellows wot work wid you heads would do a little hand-work once in a while, you'd walk straighter.

Scientist—True. And if you men who work with your hands would do a little head-work once in a while, you'd think straighter.

He—I envy that man who sang the tenor solo. She—Why, I thought he had a very poor voice. He—So did I. But just think of his nerve.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

LIVES OF A TRAIN LOAD OF PEOPLE IN DANGER.

Twenty-five Passengers on the Omaha Railroad in Grave Peril—Forest Fires in Washington Nearly Causes a Serious Wreck.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 20.—While passenger train No. 6 on the Omaha road was crossing the Wisconsin Central bridge over the Chippewa river, about a mile from Chippewa Falls, the iron work and braces on one side parted from the upper cord. One side of the track sunk about a foot, when it caught and held, while the train passed safely over. Had the track sunk a trifle further the train and its twenty-five passengers would have toppled over into the river, forty-five feet below.

TREE FALLS ON THE TRACK.

Forest Fires in Washington Nearly Cause a Wreck.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 20.—Passengers on the west-bound Great Northern train had a narrow escape from death Sunday night. The train had passed through a fiery furnace of burning forests for a distance of ten miles, and when it reached the Little Spokane river, about twenty miles east of this city, a huge tree fell across the track from the mountain above, just as the train was passing. The engine struck it, causing the train to stop so suddenly as to throw the passengers violently from their seats. The burning tree was dragged partially under the cars, and for a moment the train toppled to one side, until it almost went into a 150-foot chasm on the other side. So intense was the heat from the forest fire that the coaches blistered, and almost took fire. The passengers for a time were panic-stricken, and but for the coolness of the train crew they would have rushed to certain death. The burning tree set fire to the mail and baggage cars, but the flames were extinguished with water from the stream. With axes the track was cleared, and the train succeeded in reaching here badly damaged.

THE BEATRICE FORGERIES.

Further Developments in the Case Cause Consternation.

Beatrice, Neb., Aug. 20.—The disclosures made yesterday in the city hall steal were such that the prosecuting attorney filed two new complaints against City Clerk Phillips and one against Hawkins, each containing from three to five specific charges of forgery and of uttering fraudulent city warrants. They were rearraigned late in the afternoon and bail fixed on each count at $1,000 and $1,500. Parties who have been buying city warrants are filled with consternation, as they do not know where they will land. The investigations brought to light warrants bearing the forged signature of M. E. Shultz, mayor during the last administration, and also with the forged signature of John Dwyer, the president of the council. What these spurious warrants may aggregate is yet only mere conjecture.

REPORT REBEL DEFEATS.

Spaniards Claim an Unbroken Series of Victories.

Havana, Aug. 20.—Lieutenant Colonel Palanca has routed the insurgents under the command of Roloff and Serafin Sanchez near Arillao, Santa Clara. The troops are pursuing the enemy toward the Camaguay pass. The insurgents left sixty dead and wounded on the field and twenty of their horses were killed. The troops lost two killed and had eight wounded. The insurgents, under the command of Saurez, Zayas, Machado, and Fustee, are reported to be in flight in the direction of Campania, on the limits of the province of Puerto Principe. Colonel Oliva yesterday, near Rojas, Santa Clara, engaged a band of insurgents, who lost twenty dead and wounded.

Find a Big Shortage.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 20.—Experts who have been working on the books of ex-County Treasurer M. W. Stewart of Wyandotte county, Kan., concluded their report last evening, and claim to have discovered a shortage of $33,885.27. The report states that the shortage consists in the refunding of taxes and in the treasurer overdrawing his salary. Joseph Hoffman, who was deputy under Stewart, asserts that the ex-treasurer is not short, and that he has facts to show his accounts are absolutely correct. No action on the report will be taken at present.

Strikers Vote to Stay Out.

Ishpeming, Mich., Aug. 20.—A miners' meeting was held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at which it was decided to reject the offer of the mine owners and remain out on strike. Trouble is feared now, for the men are desperate. It may be necessary to call out the militia. The decision of the miners was not generally anticipated, as hundreds of them had expressed themselves as satisfied with the scale. The outlook is very gloomy for the mines, men and merchants.

nounces the statements that the sentiment expressed in the league's platform is dying out. He says that it is growing faster than it can be organized and believes a direct vote on the question in New York and Pennsylvania would carry these states by a large majority for free silver.

WILL IMPORT CORN.

England to Be a Good Customer of Ours This Year.

London, Aug. 20.—A correspondent talked with several leading experts at the Baltic Exchange, the headquarters of the British corn trade, on the prospects of the British corn crop and the amount of American corn likely to be required. Some prominent brokers declared that the River Platte holds the key to the situation, and the reports from there promise a very large surplus crop of both maize and wheat. The Danube district also reports an immense crop, as against an abnormally small one last season, and the view generally expressed was that, however low American prices may be, the Danube will undersell them.

The British crop is expected to be generally below the average, but brokers could not hazard an opinion on the probable amount of American corn that will be required. Last year the imports of American corn were only 25,507,755 bushels. This year there ought to be four or five times as much. But the best informed opinion, so far as it has taken shape at all, points to excessively low prices next season, though it is admitted that the Americans may succeed in putting up prices, if conditions are favorable, by the same means as those adopted last spring.

TO BOOM SILVER.

San Francisco Favorers of the White Metal Have a Convention.

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—At noon today the non-partisan silver convention, called by the American Bimetallic League, met in Metropolitan Hall. The object of the convention is to sound California on the silver question. The convention will continue in session three days. Letters and telegrams of regret over inability to be present at the convention have already been received from General A. J. Warner, Mr. Harvey, author of "Coin's Financial School," Senator Jones of Nevada, Senator Blackburn, Senator Peffer, Senator Stewart and others.

Fatal Accident.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 20.—Alexander C. Sherwood, member of the state democratic executive committee from the thirteenth district, died early this morning from an accident at the Jockey clubhouse at the fair grounds late last night. In company with C. C. Maffit, president of the Jockey club and chairman of the executive committee, he went to the fair grounds on business. When about to return home Mr. Sherwood fell over a low railing on the clubhouse steps to the floor, thirty feet below, fracturing his left arm in two places and breaking his shoulder, in addition to sustaining internal injuries. He was removed to St. John's hospital, where he died at 1 o'clock. It is believed that the fall was occasioned by a sudden attack of vertigo.

Wanted to Lynch Him.

Otsego, Mich., Aug. 20.—Sam Sheeler, a negro from Fort Wayne, Ind., narrowly escaped being lynched here yesterday. He is one of the gang that has terrorized this vicinity by a series of robberies and other crimes for ten days past.

Sunday night he robbed Mrs. M. Smith and tried to assault her. He was captured and arrested yesterday morning. Later a crowd of citizens entered the little jail unresisted, and dragged the negro out with a rope around his neck. He confessed his crime and told where his confederates could be found. Several posses have started to run down the rest of the robbers.

Other Suns Than Ours.

If our sun could be as far removed from us as the seven stars, it would hardly be visible through an opera glass, yet there are sixty or seventy such groups as the pleiades in sight every night, each group being composed of scores of suns larger and more brilliant than that which makes life on our world possible. Aleyone is a sun 1,000 times more brilliant than our "orb of day," and Electra and Maia are each 500 times larger than Old Sol. Several of these immense sun groups (taken collectively and not reckoned on the basis of individual members) are believed to be as much as 40,000,000,000 miles in diameter. If this calculation is not at fault, it would take light seven years to flash from one extreme of such a group to the other.

The Homeseeker's Ideal Country.

Cut this out and send it to F. A. Hornbeck, Land Commissioner of the Kansas City Pittsburg and Gulf Railroad, 7th and Wyandotte Sts., Kansas City, Mo., giving your address plainly, and receive in return a handsome 7 column, 8 page paper finely illustrated minutely describing a new Country opened up from Kansas City to the Gulf of Mexico. Ubiquity of President Faure.

A Paris correspondent says: President Faure, in some respects, resembles the Prince of Wales, also the German emperor—namely, in his ubiquity. If one writes "M. Faure is at Fontainebleau," it had better be altered to "was at Fontainebleau yesterday." On the point of saying "he is going to make a long stay at Havre," we find it necessary to alter the sentence to "M. Faure has been at Havre, and is now en route for Trouville."

RECITE, PLAY, SING AND EAT

The B. Y. P. U. Lawn Social
Last Saturday Well Attended.

On last Saturday evening our citizens were agreeably entertained at a social held on Creet's lawn, under the auspices of our local B. Y. P. U.

The scene that met the gaze of THE REVIEW staff was indeed a most enchanting one. The spacious lawn, thickly studded with handsome evergreens, from which were suspended gaily colored Japanese lanterns; the many damask-covered tables, burdened with their loads of silver and cut-glass ware, and ornamented with beautiful and fragrant bouquets so lavishly provided by the fair entertainers; the gay strains of music wafted on the balmy evening breeze over the heads of the spell-bound audience and gradually fading away on the evening zephyrs so idly floating about; the beautiful and bewitchingly costumed fairies hovering about with sylph-like grace bearing the dainty burdens destined to delectify material man; the accompaniment of tinkling coin; the cooling of lovers in their distant shady trysting places, and the gay laughter of children—all this induced one to believe that he was in a far-away fairy-land till the spell of "Aladdin's Lamp" was broken by the stentorian voice of Vice-President M. C. McIntosh, of the B. Y. P. U., who began to announce the program of the evening.

Ice cream and other refreshments were daintily served to over 150 people by a galaxy of Barrington's most charming young ladies while the rather brief, but most entertaining program was being carried out.

The musical selections were exceedingly well rendered, but owing to the presence of the inevitable group of representative "Young America" in the gallery, and the fact that they went into the house in order to secure piano accompaniment, the performers could not be as plainly heard as the appreciative audience might desire, thereby losing much of the applause to which they were so justly entitled.

Mrs. M. C. McIntosh favored the assembly with a sketch in "darky" dialect on a negro's belief in the efficacy of prayer, delivered in her customary inimitable style.

Miss Nellie Dawson was the next to appear on the veranda to entertain her listeners with a charmingly delivered bit of humor and pathos.

Miss Olga Waller in her usual earnest, energetic manner recited "Whistling in Heaven," which was heartily received.

Miss Leila Lines particularly "caught on" with the more youthful part of the audience which was vociferously enthusiastic over her vivid portrayal of a youngster who had an elder sister and did all he could to make life miserable for her. Miss Lines' extreme modesty would not permit her to appear again on the platform that evening, although loudly applauded on all sides.

THE PROGRAM IN DETAIL.

Duet, Piano and mandolin—Miss Lombard and Roy Peck.

Recitation—Mrs. M. C. McIntosh.

Solo, "Papa's Letter"—Miss Myrtle Dixon.

Recitation, "Gates"—Miss Nellie Dawson.

Solo, "Little Boy for Sale"—Miss Nellie Lines.

Recitation, "So Was I"—Miss Leila Lines.

Instrumental Music—Miss Helena Waller.

Short Address—Rev. Eaton.

Recitation, "Whistling in Heaven"—Miss Olga Waller.

Duet, Piano and Nolin—Miss Lombard and Dr. Abbott.

After the program and ice cream had been successfully disposed of, some of the younger members formed in groups on the lawn and indulged in such games as "Happy is the Miller," "Pretty as a Red-bird," etc., while others quietly betook themselves to seats in the friendly shadows of the evergreens, where they cooed and chatted as only lovers can, until the flickering of the candles in their sockets reminded all that another day was about to dawn. With a few final embraces (which in the words of Shakespeare were as "linked sweetness long drawn out") the lovers spoke their reluctant adieus, vanishing with the departing crowd, and once more "quiet reigned supreme."

Timothy and clover seed can always be found at J. D. Lamey & Co.'s.

Mrs. J. F. Bell, Oconomowoc, Kan., wife of the editor of The Graphic, the leading local paper of Miami county, writes "I was troubled with heart disease for six years, severe palpitations, shortness of breath, together with such extreme nervousness, that, at times I would walk the floor nearly all night. We consulted the best medical talent.

They said there was no help for me, that I had organic disease of the heart for which there was no remedy. I had read your advertisement in The Graphic and a year ago, as a last resort, tried one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart, which convinced me that there was true merit in it. I took three bottles each of the Heart Cure and Restorative Nervine and it completely cured me. I sleep well at night, my heart beats regularly and I have no more smothering spells. I wish to say to all who are suffering as I did, there's relief untold for them if they will only give your remedies just one trial."

Miss Mable Boomer, who has been visiting here, left for Dennison, Ia.

J. E. Gainer, Benj. Taggart and Ed. Daley were Chicago visitors Tuesday.

F. Horton, of McHenry, has been visiting here for a few days.

Will Wragg is back again.

H. Maiman made a business trip to McHenry Wednesday.

Miss Stella Grace left Tuesday for a visit with relatives at Park Ridge and Chicago.

Misses Lizzie and Evaleen Davlin returned to Chicago Sunday with the Misses Lynch. They will spend several days with relatives.

The editor of the BARRINGTON REVIEW was on our streets Saturday last, telling us about the the Barrington fire engine, but we don't believe there is such a thing.—[Be e-a-sy, me boy. You probably haven't got over the effects of those "scoops" yet that the Barrington fire department scored on the Wauconda department, and that a few hours after the fire the Wauconda people read a full account of it in THE REVIEW. The editor of this paper has not been in Wauconda since the night of the Hendershot entertainment.]

J. Frost, of Volo, was a Wauconda visitor this week.

P. Maiman went to Waukegan Wednesday, where he will be engaged in selling sewing machines.

The suit of A. L. Mullen vs. The Village of Wauconda is set for Aug. 26th before Justice Plagge at Barrington.

A. L. ROBERTSON,
Village Treasurer.

THE REVIEW office has been equipped with several hundred pounds of new type this week. When you want a good job of printing don't forget that this is the place to get it.

LOCALS.

Fred Heimerdinger, was in town Tuesday. He expects to make a trip to Georgia in the near future, where he will spend his vacation.

FOR SALE—House with one lot, situated within two blocks of the depot. Everything in the best of condition. Call or address Mrs. M. GRADY, Barrington, Ills.

Mrs. L. Elfrink and son Milo, of Deer Grove, with the Misses Clara Frye and Esther Bubert, respectively of Highland Park and Northfield, were callers at the home of B. H. Sott, yesterday.

Myron E. Hawley, brother of H. M. Hawley, and a former resident of Barrington, met with his death in the fated Hotel Gumry, Aug. 19. He was employed as a clerk by the Union Pacific R. R. at Denver, Col. His obituary will appear in our next issue.

The entertainment held at the M. E. church, Friday evening, Aug. 16, was quite a success. Although the audience was quite small it was a most select and appreciative one. Mr. Craig, the elocutionist, favored the audience with a number of his choicest dramatic selections. Miss Carrie Wolcott of Chicago, executed some classical scores on the banjo which were well received. The balance of the program was carried out by a local quartet which was encored.

Wednesday evening a dance was given at Stott's hall under the management of the Barrington Social Club. Music was furnished by Lombard's orchestra of Chicago. Considering the short notice given, there was a good attendance, about 20 couples being on the floor.

What the crowd lacked in numbers, was more than made up in sociability. Although the music was not quite up to the standard of such orchestras as Johnny Hand's all report a most enjoyable time, so who cares. Notwithstanding the fact that all appeared serene when the party broke up, we are led to believe that there was the usual complement of broken hearts "After the Ball."

The Man

or woman who once gives Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a fair trial becomes so fully satisfied with its great merit as a cure for indigestion, constipation and other forms of stomach and bowel trouble that it ever afterwards takes front rank on the closest shelf as a family medicine. For sale in 10c bottles and in 50c and $1 sizes, by A. L. Waller.

Remember that there is a REVIEW box at R. Burton's meat market in which you may drop your news items any time up to Friday morning for publication the same week. We are always glad to receive them.

Seven Different Kinds of Flour.
I keep the best seven brands of flour that can be found in the country. A trial is all that is needed to make you a customer of mine. J. C. PLAGGE.

Escaped from the Illinois Eastern Hospital for the Insane at Kankakee.

One John C. Parker. His description is as follows: Age 23; height 5 ft. 5 1/2 inches; weight 115+ pounds; complexion medium; eyes gray; hair brown, thick and wavy; smoothly shaven when escaped. Scar two inches long and 4 inches wide about three inches below right knee. Similar but smaller scar in same locality on left leg. Behavior quiet; liable to refuse to talk. From his actions and conversation one would not ordinarily consider him insane. If talked with on religious subjects will be found to be a Harshmanite, and believes that he himself has messages directly from God. These communications control nearly all of his actions.

It is believed he will go into the farming communities rather than the towns.

Any information concerning him will be thankfully received by CLARKE CAPEN, Superintendent.

WOLTHAUSEN & LANDWER,

We desire to call your attention to our very complete stock of general merchandise As we watch the markets closely, and buy in large quantities at lowest cash rates, we can give our patrons the best possible value for their money.

CARPETS.

In this department we are making preparations for the immense stock which we have purchased and which we are now receiving daily. It is our intention to carry a stock so that we can give you the carpet the same time you select it, while at other places you must wait until they can get it from the city. All carpets bought of us will be laid without charge by an experienced carpet layer.

In LACE and CHENILLE CURTAINS we can also show you the newest patterns at very low prices. Shades made to order to fit any window

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS.

We have secured some bargains in this line, and can sell Dress Goods cheaper than ever offered before. We have some handsome Novelty Dress Goods, also new Wash Goods, Linens, Muslins and Laces, Underwear and Hosiery, Carpets, Oilcloths, and Lace Curtains. We also have a full line of Notions.

Groceries.

This department embraces all kinds of Canned Goods, Laundry, and Toilet Soaps, Coffees, Teas, Evaporated Fruits, Spices, Extracts, Sugars, Syrups, and everything usually kept for sale in a well-stocked Grocery, and which we sell on a close margin of profit. Produce taken in Exchange.

CIGARS and TOBACCOS.

We carry a full line of Cigars. There are no better cigars for the money than our leading LaGarciosa 5-cent Cigar, and there are many 10-cent cigars that are not so good. We have all the popular brands of Smoking and Chewing Tobaccos.

BOOTS and SHOES.

We purchased a large stock while prices were low, and we believe lower than they will ever be again, and we can give you some real bargains in this line.

As our expenses are much less than city stores, and we only ask a moderate profit on our goods, we can and do sell for less than city prices, and we hope by fair, square business methods to merit your patronage.

Up-to-date fathers with charming daughters must needs learn to ride the bicycle. The young people have discovered the advantages of the wheel as an accessory to the elopement act, and the father on horseback, unless he owns a racer, is "not in it."

The bicycle stooper is no more cruel to himself than the driver who hogs his horse's head up in the air is to that animal. The stooper, in fact, may be the lineal descendant of the hog-bridle fiend, notwithstanding that his operations tend in an entirely different direction.

It has been very truly said: "When the white man wants an Indian reservation opened he begins to hint about the imminent danger of an Indian uprising, and the white man keeps it up until he gets what he wants." This, backed up by the soothing axiom that an Indian is good for nothing until he is dead, has been known to work wonders.

Some considerable surprise is indicated, by headlines in sundry exchanges, that "President Cleveland entered a barber shop and quietly awaited his turn to have his hair cut." What would you have him do? Yank the man in the chair out, and offer to fight with the "next" for his place? Some people have apparently strange ideas of presidential etiquette.

In every community, it will be admitted, there are business men who do not advertise in any newspaper, notwithstanding the fact that they depend upon the public for support, and do advertise in some form or other outside the newspaper. They read newspapers themselves, see other men's advertisements therein in the same line of business, know that it pays them—why don't they advertise?

HISTORY OF A WEEK.

WORK OF NIHILISTS.

THREE HUNDRED RUSSIAN SOLDIERS KILLED.

Blown Up by a Mine in Toula—The Chinese Government Stops the Investigation Into Massacres—News Notes by Cable.

London, Aug. 20.—The Daily News has a dispatch from Vienna which says Trieste papers report an explosion destroyed the artillery barracks at Toula, Russia, and that 300 men were killed, including many officers. The barracks were found to be completely undermined. Many arrests have been made. Toula is the capital of the government of Toula in European Russia. It is on the River Oopa, 105 miles south of Moscow. It is a manufacturing city of 70,000 people.

CHINA WILL NOT HAVE IT.

Investigation Into the Killing of Missionaries Is Stopped.

Hong Kong, Aug. 20.—The Chinese government not only has refused to allow the American consuls to investigate the Ku-Cheng massacre, but has given the British consuls as well to understand that they will not be allowed to make the proposed inquiry. This balks the official investigation.

The refusal to allow an investigation was made by the prefect sent with the commission at Ku-Cheng, backed by the Chinese officials there. The matter has been referred to the viceroy. The Chinese soldiers, taking advantage of this turn in affairs, are engaged in plundering. The people feel that the foreigners are the cause of their suffering, and that therefore they should be destroyed. Further incendiary placards have been posted at Canton.

Germans Celebrate.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—The Veterans' association of Berlin assembled on the Templehof field yesterday 40,000 strong for the big memorial celebration of the victories of the Germans over the French in 1870. This was the anniversary of the severe bombardment of Strasburg by the Germans and of the retreat of the French army under General McMahon before the advance of the Prussians. Emperor William was present and made a characteristic speech.

Christians Are Starving.

Tiflis, Aug. 20.—Special advices from Moosh say that the Turkish officials have driven the Christians out of their houses in all the country between Sassoun and Moosh, and have given the houses to the members of the Kurdish tribes. The victims are starving.

OFFER THEIR SERVICES.

Members of the A. P. A. in America Would Help Canadians.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 20.—It was learned last night the government of Manitoba has received an official communication from the A. P. A. of the United States, proffering assistance in the struggle against the restoration of the Catholic parochial schools in Manitoba, and offering to raise and equip armed battalions should fighting become necessary in resisting the order of the governor-general, demanding that Catholic schools be restored.

To Allot Lands for Indians.

Durango, Col., Aug. 20.—Commissioners Schultze, Kidd and Day, who have been designated by the Secretary of the Interior to allot lands to the Southern Utes, have begun operations. To date 359 Indians of the Mocoche and Capate tribes have expressed preference for allotment and each Indian will receive 160 acres. There are about 1,100 Indians on the reservation. It is expected the allotments will be completed by November 1, when they will be forwarded to the Department of the Interior for approval, after which the allotted lands will be opened to the people by presidential proclamation.

Will Extend a Southern Railway.

New York, Aug. 20.—A special from Buenos Ayres to a local paper says: "The executive representatives of the Southern railway have signed an agreement to extend the line of that road from Bania Blanca to Neuquen. The new line, which the company agrees to have completed and in full operation within three years from date, will traverse the rich agricultural and grazing lands along the Rio Negro, some of the best in Argentina. A bill has been presented to congress and is likely soon to become a law, granting free government lands to settlers in the Rio Negro country."

Excursion Steamer Ashore.

Alexandria Bay, N. Y., Aug. 20.—The steamship Empire State started yesterday to carry a party of Cleveland excursionists from this place to Morrisburg. When opposite Morrisburg and running in the Galops rapids, the steamer went aground and stove a hole in her bottom. The passengers were safely landed. The steamer still lies upon the rocks, and her removal will require the work of lighters and heavy wrecking apparatus.

PERISH BY FLAMES

TERRIBLE CATASTROPHE IN A DENVER HOTEL.

EXPLOSION AND FIRE WRECKS THE GUMRY SUNDAY NIGHT.

A Large Number of Guests Meet Death Without a Moment's Warning—Heart-rending Scenes Attending the Heroic Work of the Firemen—Man Begs to Have His Leg Chopped Off So That He Could Be Set Free.

A frightful catastrophe visited Denver Sunday night when an explosion wrecked the Gumry hotel. The rear half of the building, a five-story brick and stone structure, went down with a crash. The hotel was crowded with guests, and many of them must have been killed, as well as the entire force of hotel employes, who were sleeping in the portion of the building which fell.

At 12:50 the ruins began burning fiercely and the firemen were obliged to retreat from the work of rescue. Every engine in the city was at work pouring streams into the mass, but the flames could not be got under control before many of the injured were cremated. As their chances of escape lessened the cries of the imprisoned people increased, heartrending shrieks rising from every portion of the great mass of wreckage.

Two injured women had been almost extricated from the ruins when the flames approached so close that the rescuers had to abandon them for their safety. Both died, fire completing the work commenced by the explosion. The bodies of three women were seen in the back part of the building, but could not be reached.

The list of dead and missing now numbers twenty-nine, making the disaster the worst that ever occurred in the city.

Among the missing is now included Elmer Pierce (not Lush), the night engineer, who is said to have re-entered the hotel just before the explosion occurred. It is to this man's carelessness that the disaster is attributed.

The bodies of Peter Gumry and General Adams are still in the ruins. Judge James Glynn, who was at first supposed to have been in his room at the hotel, turns out to be at Holyoke, Colo., where he was spending Sunday with friends. The dead:

PETER GUMRY, owner of the hotel.

R. C. GREINER, manager of the hotel, son-in-law of Peter Gumry.

MRS. R. C. GREINER, clerk of the hotel, daughter of Peter Gumry.

GENERAL CHARLES ADAMS, Manitou, Col.

A. L. BLAKE, Pueblo, Col.

MYRON E. HAWLEY, Union Pacific railroad clerk, Denver.

JAMES MURPHY, contractor, Denver.

GEORGE BURT, passenger conductor on the Rock Island railroad, Colorado Springs.

MRS. R. C. WOLFE and daughter.

TWO CHAMBERMAIDS, names unknown.

Child of Mr. and Mrs. Griener.

FRED HUBBOLD, or HAUSER, of Elizabeth, Iowa.

WILLIAM RICHARDS, elevator operator.

THREE CHAMBERMAIDS, names unknown.

ONE BELLBOY, name unknown.

BELA I. LORAH, Central City, Colo.

FREDERICK FRENCH, Central City, Colo.

J. L. Kirk, Omaha.

Elmer Pierce, engineer of the Gumry hotel.

J. A. Brown, Omaha.

The missing:

GREINER, father of R. C. Greiner, manager of the hotel.

BUD BURNS, Colorado Springs.

W. J. CARSON, Pueblo, Col.

E. F. MCLOSKEY, Canon City, Col.
JUDGE GLYNN, Leadville, Col.
F. FRENCH, Central City, Col.
BERT LARSH, Central City, Col.

It is not positively known that the two last-named were in their room.

The injured:

Joseph Munal, cigar maker, body bruised; internal injuries.

Michael C. Burgess, severely cut about face.

A. E. Irwin, night clerk; cuts and bruises.

J. H. Letson, tramway conductor; body badly bruised; internal injuries.

Fred Coleman, not serious.

Bud Hopkins, not serious.

Among the guests who escaped practically uninjured are:

Peter Poss and daughter, Chattanooga, Tenn.

W. R. McCormick, traveling sales man, Chicago.

Ray Helme, Ogden, Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McClain and baby, Huron, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaw, Huron, Kan.

Herman Leuders, Manitou, Col.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts, Colorado Springs, Col.

At 10:30 p. m. the body of E. F. McCloskey of Colorado Springs, a wealthy owner of Cripple Creek mines, was taken from the ruins. This, with James Murphy, who died while being taken out, makes eight bodies thus far recovered. The fire has almost been extinguished and 100 teams are now making as rapid progress as possible removing the debris, though at best the work is painfully slow.

At midnight three more bodies were uncovered, those of Bela I. Lorah and Frederick French of Central City, Colo., and an unknown. The former have been identified by Mr. Lorah's father, who is assisting in removing the debris from the bodies. The third body is burned beyond recognition.

The whole rear half of the hotel was blown to atoms, and the front portions are merely shattered and burned fragments of a house. The force of the explosion was so great that for two blocks on Lawrence street and for some distance on Larimer street every window in the business blocks was shattered in pieces upon the pavements. It was a catastrophe complete and pitiless in its horrors.

The scenes surrounding the death of James Murphy, contractor, were heart-rending. The firemen engaged at the rear of the building heard the agonizing cries from the man that he was burning and asking them to continue to play the water. After a few hours' work the firemen reached him. His two lower limbs were pinned between two heavy joists. After the most herculean efforts with dense smoke blinding them, the firemen released Murphy's left leg. At this moment a sheet of flame compelled them to withdraw. Murphy then offered his rescuers $1,000 to get him out and piteously demanded them to chop his leg off. A second later the west wall collapsed and covered Murphy with tons of ruins. Mr. Murphy came to Denver from Omaha six years ago.

J. E. Calkins, wife and baby, who were thought for a time to have been victims of the casualty, have been located in the Highlands. Mr. Calkins is a newspaper man from Davenport, Iowa, city editor of the Gazette. They registered at the Gumry on their arrival here, but later went to stay with friends.

Joe Muneal, of Cairo, Ill., was rescued at 2:30 o'clock in the morning, after an hour's work. His injuries, though severe, are not thought to be fatal.

There is no doubt the disaster was caused by a boiler explosion. Elmer Pierce, the engineer, it is said, was intoxicated, and after turning a large quantity of cold water into the boilers, left the building ten minutes before the explosion occurred. The police are looking for him. R. E. Irwin, the night clerk, says Pierce, who was only 17 years old, was drunk when he went on duty, and that he was in the habit of neglecting his duty. Irwin was pinned beneath some heavy timbers of his desk by the explosion and was rescued by a fireman. He has scalp wounds and internal injuries, but will recover.

The total loss caused by the explosion and fire is $75,000. The Gumry hotel was worth $25,000 and had $8,000 worth of furniture. It is a total wreck, but was insured for $25,000. The McMann block, which stands next to the Gumry, was also heavily damaged. The loss on the building is $25,000, as the building will have to be torn down. This block is insured for $15,000. The stock of A. Lilliblade, valued at $33,000, is only partly lost.

Peter Gumry, the owner of the hotel, was one of the old-time citizens of Denver. He was about 60 years of age and a widower, his daughter being the wife of R. C. Griener, all three of whom perished in the explosion. By trade he was a contractor and builder, and in this branch of business made a good deal of money. He superintended the construction of the Chamber of Commerce, the courthouse, and more recently the capitol. He was a Scotchman.

MASONRY BETTER THAN METAL

Stone Work for Bridges Considered Cheapest in the Long Run.

Most people are perhaps too ready to consider that the days of masonry bridges of any considerable span are over, save in cases in which aesthetic considerations override all questions of cost. It has, however, to be remembered that the maintenance of a masonry structure is, in general, much cheaper than that of a metal one, and for this reason that most progressive of American railroads, the Pennsylvania, has of late years built many arches to replace old truss or girder bridges. The spans in these cases have, however, been small. In Austria, on the other hand, two masonry bridges, which must be reckoned among the largest yet constructed, have been built over the River Pruth to carry the Stanislaus-Weronienka railway. One of these, at Jaremeze, has a main span of 206.6 feet, while the other, at Janna, has a span of 157.5 feet. The Cabin John bridge, which is still the largest existing masonry span, is 220 feet between the abutments, its rise being 57.25 feet. The Grosvenor bridge, Chester, the largest in this country, has a span of 200 feet, the rise being forty-two feet. Thus it will be seen that the Jaremeze bridge holds the second place. The material used in this case was dressed stone, there being 149 vousoirs visible on the face. In commencing the work the centering was loaded simultaneously at eight different points, and when completely covered it yielded at the crown 4.5 inches on the left side and 3.9 inches on the right. About 35,000 cubic feet of cut stone were used for the arch. The weight over the arches is relieved by spandrel arches, between which the extrados is coated with concrete from 2 to 3 1/2 feet thick, with a layer of asphalt over it. The other bridge, though of smaller span, is of very similar design. They each carry a single line of rail. The work was executed most rapidly, as the masonry was only commenced in March, 1894, and the bridge was opened in November of the same year.

NEWS OF ILLINOIS.

THE WEEK'S DOINGS IN THE PRAIRIE STATE.

Minor Events Condensed for Our Readers—Latest Telegraphic Brevities From All Sections—Political, Religious, Social and Criminal Record.

West now lies in the Cumberland county jail, where he was placed on complaint of the wrathful Major. The young wife broke down and confessed all, but on a promise to reform and discard her lover she was once more taken back to the house of her husband. They were married only a few months ago. Maj. Van Gundy being 65, while his wife was a miss of 16 years and was in short dresses when they were married.

Chicago—Before the session laws of the general assembly have been distributed throughout Illinois by Secretary of State Hinrichsen the Lutherans will have pretty thoroughly demonstrated their attitude toward the measure known as the parochial school flag law. It seems to be the general idea now that they will completely ignore the law on the ground that it is unconstitutional, although there has been some talk of making a test case and carrying it to the Supreme court. Several of those who were prominent in the movement in 1890 against the Edwards law were seen and said, in their judgment, the measure would be ignored.

Joliet—Before another week closes George W. Howard, ex-vice president of the A. R. U. and general secretary of the American Industrial Union, who is now confined in Will county jail, will be a free man again. Mr. Howard will be the principal speaker at the Labor Day picnic, but before that he will be given a reception in Chicago by the local societies of the Industrial Union. At a meeting to arrange for this reception positive assurance was given that the most cordial relation exists between Messrs. Debs and Howard, and it was prophesied that inside of a year, and just as soon as they could consistently do so, the name of Eugene V. Debs would appear upon the roster of the Industrial Union. President Debs has been credited with the statement that the American Industrial Union was the only hope for the laboring men of the country. The principle of the union is against strikes, and in favor of the submission of all differences between employer and employes to arbitration for adjustment.

Robert Kirkpatrick, an East Plato business man, was killed by a runaway accident.

Rockford—James Fitzsimmons, foreman of the Northwestern road, Kenosha division, died from sunstroke.

Bloomington and Normal are agitating in favor of an extension of the car lines there to the Soldiers' Orphans' home.

The annual harvest home festival of the farmers of Iroquois, Ford and Livingston counties was held at Piper City last week.

Old settlers of Sangamon county gathered near Williamsville and held an old time reunion. About 6,000 persons were present.

A petition for the pardon of John L. Gehr and others connected with coal mining riots is to be presented to Gov. Altgeld Aug. 27.

Work was begun this week at Atlanta, Ga., on the building which will contain Illinois' exhibit at the Cotton States Exposition.

Rockford—Prof. C. A. Wendell of Augustana College, Rock Island, has been called to the pulpit of Emanuel Swedish Lutheran Church.

The first number of the DeWitt County News was issued yesterday. It is edited by Strahorn and Warner, two Chicago newspaper men.

The Bloomington colored Baptists closed their camp meeting at Saybrook with a representation of the Biblical story of the fatted calf.

Onarga—Robert Risser, son of Lewis J. Risser, a prominent business man, was drowned while swimming in a clay pit at Thawville, near here.

Oscar Swearingen and T. Farm, employed on farms near Clinton, became involved in a quarrel, which ended in a fight and the death of Swearingen.

Moline—It has just leaked out that J. Cloyd Monnette and Miss Fannie Gordon, a popular young couple, each of whom took a brief vacation last week, eloped to Des Moines, where they were married last Wednesday.

Aurora—Ed Van Sickle and Peter Olinger indulged in a fracas over a young lady being escorted by the latter last week. Van Sickle stabbed Olinger several times with a jack-knife, inflicting injuries that may prove fatal. The assailant is under arrest.

Champaign—Prof. G. E. Morrow, recently at the head of the department of agriculture in the University of Illinois, has accepted the presidency of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College; also the presidency of the state agricultural experiment station.

W. H. Whitesides' general store at Joslyn, a small station on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, was burglarized the other morning. The robbers, who had stolen their tools from a blacksmith shop and blown open the safe, secured $300 in small checks of the Joslyn Creamery company on the Rock Island National bank and seven or eight checks of about $100 each of Dittman & Schwingbeck on the Atlas National of Chicago. It is thought to be the work of local crooks.

Moline—The sixteenth annual convention of the Liquor Dealers and Manufacturers' Protective Association of the thirty-third senatorial district of Illinois was held here last week. Resolutions were passed condemning the Rock Island Woman's Christian Temperance Union for its enforcement of law. Otto Huber and B. Winter of Rock Island, J. H. Mueller and C. F. Hoffman of Moline, and Emile Evers of Orion, were elected members of the district board.

Springfield—Judge Allen, in the United States circuit court has made an order for the sale of the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis road at auction from the steps of the federal building in Springfield September 14. The road will be sold in three parcels—the first including the line from Pekin to Havana and Jacksonville; the second being the line from Havana to Springfield, $250,000 of stock in the Peoria and Pekin Union railway, and the line from Springfield to East St. Louis, and the third is the line proposed to be built from Havana to Rock Island. No bid of less than $250,000 for the first parcel, $200,000 for the second, and $50,000 for the third will be accepted, and after each parcel is sold the property will be offered and sold as one piece if a greater price than the aggregate bid for the three parcels can be obtained.

Rock Island—The suspicions which have aroused the entire upper end of the county that a frightful double tragedy was involved in the discovery of the unknown colored woman's dead body near Cordova have been confirmed by the unearthing of the remains of the child with which she had been seen last week. The body was found after the most diligent search buried in the sand three miles above the town. The baby's head was crushed as if struck with some blunt instrument, while an arm and leg were broken. The discovery of this shocking evidence of a bloody deed had the effect of intensifying the excitement of the people. The last seen of the three together—the colored man, woman and child—was Friday evening. Saturday morning the man was seen at the Milwaukee depot in Cordova, where he purchased a ticket for Chicago. Sunday morning the woman's body was found in the river, and Monday it was buried. Next day came the first evidence that the woman had been seen Friday evening with the man above Cordova. With her was a child apparently 18 months old. The fact that the child was unaccounted for led to the investigation and the discovery. The probabilities are that the body of the woman will now be disinterred and examined for evidence of violence, as this was neglected at the time the remains were buried. The coroner is on the ground making a thorough investigation, and has ascertained that before leaving for Chicago the missing man had five $20 gold pieces, which gives some ground for the belief that he may have murdered the woman for money.

LAKE ZURICH

CROWDED OUT OF LAST WEEK'S ISSUE.

Wm. Conser and brush are doing artistic work on Kohl's new house.

F. W. Muller, of Arlington Heights, was on our streets Monday and Wednesday.

F. C. Kukuk & Co. will build the new store for J. Herman.

Charles Selp will discontinue the barber business, so we are informed.

William Hall, of Gilmer, was in our burg Tuesday.

Pedestrians find fault now and then with the many broken places in the sidewalks. Fix them up.

E. Branding expects to visit several days next week at Riverview and other places.

E. R. Clark, of Barrington, transacted business here this week.

Now is the time to incorporate the town. Let's get at it at once.

Rudolph Zebolt was in Zurich this week.

H. Gieske, Ed. Clute, H. Swerman and F. Birk, of Chicago, visited friends here the first of the week.

That baseball game Sunday resulted in a score of 17 to 9 in favor of the winners. As it was hard to learn the name of the contesting nines we think it was Win and Lose.

E. A. Ficke was a Chicago visitor Thursday on business.

Have you ever noticed the many improvements made at this place in the last year.

Ansel Clifford was a Palatine visitor Monday.

A. Cunningham has resumed work as section foreman on the "J."

Henry Meyer, of Nebraska, visited his parents here this week.

George Foreman, of Barrington, was in town Monday.

H. Swerman and wife, of Fremont, were guests of F. Sholtz and family Sunday.

William Bierman expects to resume farming in the fall.

Miss Rosa Sholtz has returned home after visiting several weeks with her sister at Fremont.

FOUND—A catcher's mit on baseball grounds.

George Anderson, of Libertyville, called on friends here the first of the week.

The hum of the threshing machine is heard on all sides since harvesting has begun.

Mr. and Mrs. Nikoles, of Long Grove, were guests here Tuesday.

George Lintelm was awarded $35 to pay for damage the "J" did by fire to his hedge fence.

Farmers will please take notice that H. Hillman will soon have a car-load of bulls for sale.

Jake Herman the harnessmaker, has received the lumber for his new store and residence, to be built on his newly purchased lot.

Fred Grever has received two cars of lumber for his new house, being furnished by Hillman.

It seems that everything in the Bierman-Laufman difficulty will meet with no trouble—the former will be paid his rent.

Would it not look much better if all these eyesores would be done away with. Why not get someone to do it for you if you cannot and do not wish to do it yourself.

Did anyone miss the sound of that "what would you call it, band" Sunday? If so, they were lucky. It was disgusting. Really, it was Midway at its worst.

LAKE ZURICH VISITED BY THE FIRE FIEND; WAUCONDA AND BARRINGTON RESPOND TO THE TELEPHONE CALL.—About 8 o'clock last evening a call came over the phone that Lake Zurich was on fire, and our department went to the rescue, as good citizens should, for we can't tell what minute we will need assistance in Wauconda, and we feel they would respond as cheerfully as our boys did. The Barrington company were on the ground first, but their outfit is a one-horse affair, and was soon choked up and carried from the fire, while the "Niagara" engine emptied the cistern. Our captain was blamed for leaving Wauconda without protection, but that shows a selfish disposition and they may need help from Zurich. Two new buildings were entirely destroyed.—Wauconda Leader.

Where time is the all-important consideration it often happens that the pony reaches the goal before the clumsy dray-horse gets well in motion. This was well demonstrated in the case of the fire at Lake Zurich on the 16th inst. Wauconda was telephoned to for help, and about half an hour afterwards Barrington was also asked to come and help quench the fire.

The Barrington Fire Department immediately started with one of her (seven) engines and soon arrived at the scene of the fire. About half an hour after the Barrington fire engine had arrived, and the fire was well under control, Wauconda's ponderous "Niagara" came rushing out of the woods; but too late to be of use. To show what it could do if it should ever "get a move on itself" the Wauconda department strung out its hose toward the lake, intending to pump that body of water up into the town and let it run back down the hill.

The hose was too short to carry out this plan, so it was introduced into a milk cooler nearby, and several gallons of water were squirted into the air until their hose "busted," and after being shortened up, several barrels of water were drawn out of a neighboring cistern and squirted in the same direction.

The Barrington engine, which had been pumping from a well while the Wauconda was on her way to the fire, seems to have pumped up the well—bottom and all—for, after the engine had stood a while, an attempt was made to pump some more water, when the hose and valves were found to be full of mud. The mud was cleaned out with very little trouble, however, and the engine is now in working order. The Barrington Fire Department is ready to help anyone in time of danger, especially Wauconda, who so nobly responded to the call of Lake Zurich. A SPECTATOR.

The immediate attention of the Village Trustees should be given to the sidewalks of our village, some of them being in very bad shape. It is true that some good work has been done in this direction during the past month, yet there are many property owners who have been notified to build new walks or repair old ones, who have paid no attention to such notice. It is the duty of the Trustees to see that such parties comply with the request at once. Should they fail to comply with the notice before the next meeting of the Board ordinances should be passed ordering the work done and assess the expense against the property. If neglected someone is liable to get hurt, and as a result the village is liable to have a lawsuit or two.

WANTED—Good correspondents in Lake and Cook counties to write for THE REVIEW.

A PROCLAMATION.
Be it hereby proclaimed by the President of the Board of Trustees of the Village of Barrington:
That, pursuant to an Ordinance duly passed by the Board of Trustees of the Village of Barrington, and approved by the President thereof, on the 3rd day of July, A. D., 1895, and published on the 13th day of July, A. D., 1895, and by virtue of the authority conferred upon the President of the Board of Trustees of said Village by second section of said Ordinance.

HEREBY PROCLAIM AND DECLARE: That information having been brought to me that rabid dogs, or supposedly rabid dogs, have been running at large in this village, it is hereby ordered that all dogs running at large shall be suitably and effectually muzzled in accordance with said Ordinance until the 1st day of October, A. D., 1895.

FURTHER: I hereby authorize the Village Marshal, or any other person, to kill any such dog running at large in violation of said Ordinance, in such manner as provided for in said Ordinance, permitting the discharge of firearms in such cases.

This Proclamation shall be in force and effect from and after the date hereof.

Given under my hand and seal this 19th day of August, A. D., 1895.

F. E. HAWLEY,
President Board of Trustees of the Village of Barrington.

Attest:
M. T. LAMEY, Village Clerk.

Knights of the Macabees.
The state commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children, we tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail."—Signed F. W. Stevens, State Com.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at A. L. Waller's drug store. Regular size, 50 cents and $1.00.

It May Do as Much For You.
Mr. Fred Miller of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50 cents for large bottle. At A. L. Waller's drug store.
