VOL. 10. No. 26.

BARRINGTON, ILL., SATURDAY, NOV. 9, 1895.

A LONG SESSION.

The Village Board Transacts Some Very Important Business.

Last Wednesday evening at precisely 8 o'clock President Hawley rapped the Board to order.

Clerk M. T. Lamey, being absent, F. O. Wilmarth was appointed to act in that capacity.

Trustees Peters, Hatje, Grunau, Robertson and Wilmarth and President Hawley responded to the roll call.

H. C. P. Sandman was present and asked what the Board would do in regard to the suit brought against him by Mrs. Flora Meyer. The suit is the outcome of filling up a street in front of the complainant's property some years ago, when Mr. Sandman was a member of the Street Committee of the Village Board. It was decided to stand by Mr. Sandman and any others that may be sued for the same cause, and see them through.

Marshall Sandman and Nightwatch Henderson were instructed to purchase a stove for the jail.

Sidewalks were next given attention. Acting on complaints received the Board instructed the clerk to notify Mrs. Austin to repair her walk in front of her property, and to order John Freye to build a new walk from his property to the church. Trustee Wilmarth agreed to save the clerk the trouble to notify H. G. Wilmarth by volunteering his services to see that the gentleman's sidewalk was repaired.

The clerk was instructed to notify Spinner Bros., Plagge & Co., Dr. Richardson and the North-Western Railroad company to build new walks.

William Spinner was next given attention by instructing the clerk to notify him to build a new walk on the east side of Williams street in front of his property.

The property owners on Main street between Williams and Elm streets, will receive official notice to build new walk on sidewalk line, a motion to that effect having been made and carried.

The street committee was empowered to act on the prayer for relief from William Collen, who asked for enough tile to drain and carry away the sewerage in front of his property.

The following bills were presented and allowed: J. C. Meier, labor, $1.50; Plagge & Co., lumber, $7.83; James Sizer, work, $3.90.

At 10 o'clock the meeting adjourned.

C. S. CUTTING.

A Man Long Identified With the Cause of Education.

Charles S. Cutting, of Austin, who was elected president of the Cook County board of education Saturday, has had considerable experience in the line of education. Two years ago he held the same office, and he has been a member of the county board of education for nine years. Mr. Cutting was born in Highgate, Vt., March 1, 1854. For twenty-two years he has been a resident of Cook county and for twenty-one years in Palatine, where, at one time, he was principal of the high school. Resigning the position of principal he became a law student and was admitted to the bar in 1880. From 1886 to 1890 he was a master in chancery of Cook County. Politically, Mr. Cutting is a republican, being a member of the Hamilton Club. He is a Knight Templar and a thirty-second degree mason. Mr. Cutting is a member of the Austin club, "The Oaks."

PALATINE ATHLETIC CLUB.

The Palatine Athletic Club which has been organizing for the last two weeks in that village, held its first regular meeting in its new club rooms over Robert Mosser's drug store last Friday night.

The young men of that village always felt the need of some such organization, wherein they could enjoy each others society, and spend a pleasant evening; so they have at last succeeded in organizing one to their tastes.

The club is of a high character, and has strict rules to keep it so. Its membership is to be limited, and is composed of men of good report.

The club rooms are finely furnished with brussels carpets, and oak furniture of elegant design. The reading rooms are supplied with all the latest papers and magazines, and the social room, with all the games known.

The rooms are all well heated, lighted and ventilated; the smoking room especially so. The rooms are open to its members at all hours.

The society as yet has no connection with the foot ball team.

The following are the officers elected at their first meeting: W. J. Filbert, President; Robert Mosser, Vice President; W. E. Daniels, Secretary; J. H. Otto Engleking, Assistant Secretary; J. H. Stroker, Treasurer; I. O. Clay and A. G. Sutherland, Executive board.

A GOOD SOCIETY.

The Barrington Protective and Detective Association Prospering.

The Barrington Protective and Detective association held its quarterly meeting last Monday evening in the village hall. This organization is growing rapidly, and the finances are in excellent shape. New members are added right along. The object of the association is to ferret out crime committed against the person or property of any of its members, and to see that the criminals are prosecuted. J. M. Thrasher, Silas Robertson and M. C. McIntosh compose the committee to receive applications for membership.

All members who are in arrears for dues will please call on the secretary and settle.

Last Monday evening at about 8:30 o'clock our little village was suddenly aroused by the ringing of the firebell. Luckily, the fire was found to be confined to rushes on the lake shore, back of H. Golding's barn, which at first looked dangerous, but was easily extinguished without the aid of the fire engine.

On Saturday evening, Nov. 14th, Miss Althea Morris, of Evanston, will give an entertainment in the Methodist church, under the auspices of the Epworth League. The program will consist of a variety of numbers that will be new as well as entertaining, such as recitations, readings, darsarte and Indian club drills. Excellent music will be furnished by local talent. As this is an attraction that seldom can be heard in a small town every person should try to be present.

There was a full house present when Auctioneer David Tremble ascended the auction block at the Fort Hill school house Tuesday evening of last week. The occasion being a basket social and entertainment, the juvenile class opening the festivities, followed by the "Frog Hollow Lyceum," and a number of choice selections and songs. Then came the sale of baskets, and how the boys hustled around to pick out the right one. A most beautiful basket was sold for $1.00, but the pretty girl did not go with it, to the sorrow of the purchaser. The sale over, refreshments were served. A most enjoyable time was reported by all present, and something like $12.00 was cleared, the sum to be used in purchasing a much-needed library.

your feelings as well as your feet to get a pair of ill-fitting, badly made shoes. It also hurts the business of the man who sold them to you—as far as your trade is concerned—and its liable to hurt your confidence in the shoe dealers generally; but it need not. We have been selling a great many shoes, and we rarely fail to please our customers. This is proven by the fact that we keep selling to the same people over and over again.

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS.

Chicago gamblers carry fare-layouts around in their hats. Chicago's motto is: "I will."

The Bicycle craze has added the past year $5,000,000 to the bank accounts of rubber dealers.

About the time Japan grabs Hawaii she will tumble in the soup tureen. It is not a Chinese fort.

Now it is claimed that bloomers are better for winter than for summer wear. How about bathing suits?

If there is anything to the London market at present besides Barney Barnato it must be too unimportant to be noticed.

It is interesting and somewhat disquieting to note how much more identification it takes to cash a check than it does to get lynched.

By the time congress meets public opinion in the United States will force it to make some expression in favor of the oppressed Cubans.

Miss Dressler, who has left Manager Rice to be married, evidently prefers to be Queen Marie in 1895 rather than Queen Isabella in "1492."

Gen. Campos has resolved to hereafter "treat Cuban prisoners with kindness." He would do the greatest "kindness" by vacating the green island.

The women of Moline are said to be remarkably successful as streetcar conductors. It seems natural to a man to have a woman demand his small change.

Because some American politician made a monkey of Lord Sackville seven years ago he is not particularly excusable for making a monkey of himself at this late date.

Campos is beginning to complain that there are too many insurgents and not enough Spaniards. It looks as if anyone who wished to assist in freeing Cuba would have to be quick about it.

Chicago is to have a tower 1,100 feet high. By ascending to the top of this structure it may be possible for the Chicago citizen to get a glimpse of the sun and catch a breath of smokeless air.

The work on the grand canal and tunnel, the most important parts of the project for draining the city and valley of Mexico, is practically completed and attention is being turned to plans for reconstructing an entire sewerage system for the city. The total cost will be about $10,000,000.

Of late we have heard and read a great deal about the importance of teaching the school children to be good American citizens. The truth is that the schools have always taught patriotism and have given a skeleton of history. There is no need of any new departure. We do not want the schools disturbed with conflicting interpretations of the constitution. Their purpose is to impart instruction in a few important subjects, and furnish a framework to which the items of an education may be attached as they may be gathered after leaving school. In only a very few things is there time for broad or thorough work.

Mr. Samuel Gompers, American delegate to the British Workingmen's Congress, just returned, is quoted as saying: "There's no question but that the labor movement in Europe is further advanced than the movement in America. In Europe, especially in England, there exists a better appreciation on the part of the public as to the purposes and achievements of labor organizations. The fact is that England was an industrial country when the United States was wholly undeveloped industrially. There they have men in the labor movement whose grandfathers were agitators and walking delegates. The labor organizations of England have overcome a great deal of the prejudice against them which formerly existed."

In the country around Richland, Mich., according to a veracious correspondent, the breaking of the long drought has caused some strange phenomena. "Wild flowers," he says, "that should have blossomed in May and June are now in full bloom, and apple and plum trees are bearing ripe fruit and blossoms on the same branch. Fields of beans that were planted late have the ripened pods, green beans, and beans in blossom in the same hill. Garden seeds which were planted last spring and did not sprout are growing now, and farmers are having their second growth of early vegetables." This man is wasting his talents in Richland. Chicago's chief of police is yearning for just such geniuses to revive interest in the Holmes case.

FIRE AT DECATUR, ILL.

PROPERTY LOSS THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND.

Blaze Starts in Powers' Opera House—One Entire Block Destroyed—Valuable Aid Rendered by Springfield—List of Buildings Burned.

Fire broke out in the Powers Grand opera house, Decatur, Ill., at 6:30 Monday night. After destroying the opera house, it extended to adjoining buildings and an entire block in the business center of the city was destroyed. The loss is estimated at $300,000, only partially covered by insurance.

The danger was so great and the fire so apparently beyond local control that at 9:30 the mayor telegraphed to Mayor Woodruff of Springfield for assistance, which was promptly furnished. The buildings burned are: Powers Grand opera house, C. W. Uteley's tailor store, H. E. Whiteley's drug store, Harry Fisk's furniture store, Columbia Manufacturing company, Linn & Schruggs' $200,000 dry goods store, Milliken bank.

The fire broke out at 6:30 o'clock in the Powers Grand opera house, which was built and furnished in 1889, at a cost of $100,000, the flames starting in the basement under the stage. The firemen were unable to fight the flames successfully, as the fire had extended through the first floor and almost to the roof before the alarm was turned in. The house was destroyed, the loss being fully $75,000, with an insurance of $20,000. The fire at 10 o'clock communicated with the north half of the Powers block, north of the opera house, getting through by way of the basement under the Milliken bank. It rapidly got beyond control, destroying the bank, the Columbia Manufacturing company's plant, the two rooms occupied by Harry Fisk's furniture store, and the Linn & Schruggs' corner. Much of the dry goods property was removed by the aid of hundreds of people.

The Knights of Pythias, the Modern Woodmen, the Rathbone Sisters, and the Princes of the Orient property was saved. The Powers block, fronting on Water street, was saved, the wind being favorable.

Orlando Powers owns the entire block and the loss on the buildings will fall wholly on him. He is worth over $1,000,000. He carried no insurance excepting the $20,000 on the opera house. The loss is placed at $400,000 to $500,000. Fisk carried $4,000 insurance on a $6,000 stock. There was danger of the block north taking fire several times during the conflagration. At a late hour the losses and insurance were estimated as follows:

- Orlando Powers, opera house, $80,000; insurance, $20,000.
- C. W. Uteley, tailor, $15,000; insurance, $3,000.
- H. H. Whiteley, loss, $30,000; insurance, $4,250.
- Fisk's furniture store; loss, $5,000; insurance, $8,000.
- Linn & Schruggs; stock valued at $190,000; insurance, $102,500.
- Milliken bank building, a seven-story structure; completely gone.
- Keck & Weigand's cigar store.
- Durfee's implement house.
- Macon County Abstract and Title Company.
- People's Loan association.
- Dr. T. S. Hoskins, dentist.
- Columbia Clothing Manufacturing Company.

Orlando Powers owned the entire block of buildings. His loss on the business buildings is $25,000 or more and his insurance $16,000.

At 4:15 the fire broke out afresh in St. Nicholas hotel, but was confined to the servants' quarters. The hotel loss is small. No excitement existed among the guests, and no fatalities are reported from any part of the city.

Fire Sweeps an Illinois Village.

Anchor, Ill., Nov. 5.—Fire broke out at 3 p. m. yesterday in Kaer Brothers' meat market and swept practically the entire business portion of this place. A stiff breeze was blowing and the flames were at once beyond control. After sweeping away the business buildings the fire spread into the adjacent meadows and corn fields. There was scarcely a bucketful of water available in the town, the wells and cisterns being empty, owing to the long drouth. The total loss is about $30,000, with insurance of one-half.

Iowa Peat Beds on Fire.

Eldora, Iowa, Nov. 5.—Over one hundred acres of land north of Eldora, in Wright county, on the Ellsworth farm, is literally burning up and red-hot with fire. The land is of a peaty nature, and sparks from a passing locomotive set fire to some hay stacks on the ground, which ignited the peat. It has burned for a number of days, and fire is down to the depth of four feet. Rain only can step it.

Embezzler Ward Arrested.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Washington authorities have been notified that A. K. Ward of Memphis, Tenn., a fugitive from justice under charge of embezzlement, has been arrested in Tegucigalpa, and will be held until the Tennessee officers can fetch him. There is no extradition treaty with Honduras.

HISTORY OF SEVEN DAYS IN THE PRAIRIE STATE.

Important Occurrences, Social, Religious, Political, Criminal, Matrimonial and Ordinary That Have Taken Place Since Our Last Issue—State Brevities.

Johana Clifford died at Chicago at the age of 100 years.

The Santa Fe has discontinued its west-bound train, leaving Chicago at 3 o'clock a. m.

At Aurora four warrants have been sworn out against the managers of the Aurora cotton mills for violation of the child labor law.

The round house and machine shops of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railway at Chicago were damaged by fire to the extent of $20,000.

With regard to the prevalence of hog cholera in so many portions of the state, it is pertinent to note that the last general assembly passed an act requiring that the bodies of such animals be burned or buried.

At a mass meeting of 400 miners, held at Springfield, addressed by President O'Connor and Secretary Guymon, of the State Miners' union, the miners at Trutter & Gray's, Starns, No. 1, and Saugamon, No. 2, who have been working for 35 cents per ton, decided to strike.

Frank Giffard of Chicago and Billy Steffers of Toledo, Ohio, fought four rounds last evening for the lightweight championship of Ohio and a purse of $300. Although Steffers was twice knocked down and out, the referee declined to award the fight to Giffard, deciding it no contest on technical grounds.

Commissioner William L. Lochren, of the pension office, in his annual report makes several pointed suggestions. The commissioner says that many disreputable and incompetent men are engaged as pension attorneys and suggests that none but reputable members of the bar be allowed to practice in pension cases.

With regard to the settlement of the estate of the late State Treasurer Rufus V. Ramsey, the Carlyle Constitution, Mr. Ramsey's home paper, says: "After months of patient waiting it is now settled that the battle is on between the hundreds of creditors of the Ramsey estate in this city and vicinity, and the Chicago bondsmen. The efforts of the administrator and the attorney of the Ramsey estate to induce the Chicago bondsmen to further reduce their claims, after the settlement with the Seiter estate, has not met with the success which the local creditors have all along anticipated. It is reported that the bondsmen have absolutely refused to make any further reduction in their claim, and that as suit has been begun in the courts to set aside this claim, it will have to be fought there to a finish. If this be true the people who were depositors in the bank are confronted with a legal fight with the money giants of Chicago, and if their claim is allowed to stand as classified in the probate court as a preferred claim, it will take out of the assets of the estate such an amount that little, if anything, will be left to pay the home creditors. To the creditors hereabouts it has all along appeared that there was crookedness in the settlement of the state treasurer's estate, and as the legal battle is now on, they propose to sift the matter to the bottom, and if there has been any fraud practiced, as charged, to defraud the local creditors, they have a right to know it, and the sooner know the better."

It seems that Illinois holds second place among the corn states of the Union, Iowa being first, Missouri is third, Nebraska fourth, Kansas fifth, and Indiana sixth, the figures being advanced by the New York Commercial Chronicle. The yield of these states is put at 258,990,000 bushels for Iowa, 238,410,000 for Illinois, 229,849,000 for Missouri, 168,926,000 for Nebraska, 167,809,000 for Kansas, and 125,761,000 for Indiana. These are the only states with production up to the 100,000,000 mark. Last year the yield was 81,344,000 bushels in Iowa, 169,121,000 in Illinois, 116,000,000 in Missouri, 14,000,000 in Nebraska, 42,000,000 in Kansas, and 97,000,000 in Indiana. A comparison of these figures with those of 1895 will show the great gain made this year. In the whole country the yield in 1894 was 1,213,000,000 bushels, or only a little more than half of this year's product. But corn is not the only cereal that has broken all records. Oats have done this also. The yield of the latter in 1895 is placed at 825,494,000 bushels. Wheat, too, though far below the highest record, has turned out better than was expected a month or two ago, the Chronicle's computation, based on the department's figures of acreage and condition, being 423,475,000 bushels, against 460,000,000 in 1894, 396,000,000 in 1893, 516,000,000 in 1892, and 612,000,000, the largest record, in 1891. In round figures, the combined yield of the three cereals named is 3,621,000,000 in 1895, as compared with 2,335,000,000 in 1894, 2,654,000,000 in 1893, 2,805,000,000 in 1892, and 3,410,000,000 in 1891. The great grain yield of 1895 is an important bull factor in the business situation.

Comptroller of the Treasury Bowler has decided that congressmen-elect are not entitled to government stationery until they have taken the oath of office.

Adj. Gen. Orendorf has ordered Capt. William S. Campbell, adjutant Fifth infantry, Illinois National Guard, to proceed to Chicago, and muster into the military service of the state, on November 4, four companies, to be designated as Companies A, B, C and D, Nineteenth battalion, Illinois National Guards.

Miss Lizzie Guniach, a prominent society young lady of Belleville, has astonished her friends by joining the Salvation Army. Her relatives protested in vain. She expects to take a preparatory course in Chicago in the spring to engage in slum work. In the meantime she will sell the War Cry on the streets in Belleville.

Gov. Altgeld has objected to the plans of the new $40,000 structure to be erected at the Illinois State Normal school at Normal, insisting the building should be made more ornamental. He also insists that the library, valued at $10,000, the museum of like value, etc., be placed in the new building. The governor has demanded extensive changes in practically every building erected by the state since the rebuilding of the administration hall at the State Hospital for the Insane, burned at Anna last year.

The Illinois Glass company, which has been operating several factories outside Alton, has determined to concentrate its interests in the Alton plant, and will build three or more factories within a year. In order to obtain the necessary labor for these and the ten factories now in operation they have agents scouring the adjacent country for families who will remove to this city and accept employment with them, and have secured many. They will build houses for those who cannot secure homes.

A very important decision has just been made by the Supreme court, now in session. It is to the effect that a judge may not carry the functions of a court from place to place and dispense official acts from anywhere he happens to be. Sessions of court at unseemly hours, secret issuances of contested court documents, private sittings of judges to oblige influential litigants, are all practically prohibited by this decision. The decision was handed down by the full Supreme court bench in the case of the United States Life Insurance company vs. Sophia J. Shattuck, in which the granting, out of court hours, of an extension of time on a bill of exceptions is brought into question. The Supreme court affirmed the decision of the Appellate court. It was held that a judge of the Superior court could not, while absent from his court room, presiding in the Criminal court, grant an extension of time on a bill of exception. The opinion of the Appellate court was prepared by Judge Gary, and in it the court says: "Extending the time originally limited for filing a bill of exceptions is a judicial act which can only be performed by the judge in term time, when sitting as a court and before the original time has expired. The judge is not the court, carrying the judicial function around wherever he goes; it is not a personal characteristic, like the odor of sanctity. With some exceptions specially provided for the law requires that the court shall be held in the court house. The judge goes where he will and the court over which he presides ceases to exist, to be resumed only when he, or another by law qualified, again presides."

According to the statements of interested parties the alleged boodling in connection with the Illinois Undertakers' association's bill in the legislature last winter was not the first attempt made by corrupt legislators to obtain bribes for passing the same measure. A. B. Perrigo, the Chicago undertaker, possesses the name of one former boodler, who now graces the Chicago city council. Mr. Perrigo also knows the facts pertaining to the case. He is the only member of the Undertakers' association who lives in Chicago, and is its first vice-president. "Four years ago, when the undertakers had a similar measure before the legislature," said Mr. Perrigo yesterday, "a distinct proposition for boodling was made by a Chicago member who is now an alderman in this city. He told us that for $1,000 the bill would be put through without any further effort on our part. I don't care to give his name at this late day." Mr. Perrigo said that while he had no knowledge of the facts alleged by Mr. Norton, he had every reason to believe them true. "One day last winter," said Mr. Perrigo, "a stranger called at my place of business and asked me if I was interested in the passage of the bill. He then threw out certain hints, which I understood perfectly well. He gave me the name of the chairman of one of the house committees and told me to confer further with him. I wrote to him, urging the passage of the bill, but I never received a reply. The man who called on me did not give his name, and as I kept no copy of my letter to the chairman, I can't tell who he was." The excuse offered by most of the members of the committee on sanitary affairs, which considered the measure, is that they considered it class legislation. And yet one of them voted for the bill to regulate the business of horse-shoeing. —Peoria Journal.

MURDERED A CHILD.

FEARFUL CRIME REPORTED FROM OMAHA.

The Mutilated Body of Eleven-Year-Old Ida Gaskin Found in an Outbuilding—Three Men, Under Arrest Charged with the Crime.

At Omaha, Neb., Ida Gaskin's mutilated body was found in a small outbuilding in the rear of 1807½ Howard street, in the business district of Omaha, at 2 o'clock Monday. She had been assaulted and murdered. Within an hour George Morgan, Ed Sanford and Henry Booker, all young men, were in custody charged with the crime.

Ida Gaskin was 11 years old. Her mother, a widow, lives on the third floor of a tenement house at 1814 Howard street. Ida was missed from her home early in the evening. Her mother searched for her but failed to find any trace of the missing girl. At about 11 o'clock she reported to the police station that her daughter had disappeared.

When the police search developed the murder, three hours later, a rigorous investigation led to the arrest of Booker on suspicion. While all were out of the room save Mrs. Gaskin, her little son and a reporter the little boy remarked: "I know who killed Ida." On being questioned he said that during the afternoon "George and Ed sent me upstairs to tell Ida they wanted her." The reporter learned that "George and Ed" were Morgan and Sanford and that they occupied rooms on the floor below. Hurdly calling an officer, the pair were

ARMORED BATTLESHIP MINNEAPOLIS.

Above is a photographic reproduction of one of the greatest engines of destruction on the high seas. Such a ship, officered and manned with American seamen, would be sufficient to destroy an English fleet of warships at a distance of nineteen miles. It is allowed that there are only three ironclads in the whole British navy capable of destruction at such a distance and it is not likely that they would be sent across the Atlantic in case of war. One arrested. At the station most damning evidence was found on Morgan's person. Neither he nor Sanford were addressed when arrested. On Morgan's underclothing fresh bloodstains were found and he refuses to say a word. Both men are nervous.

The little girl was choked to death, her throat showing plainly where the cruel fingers had left their imprint. Booker is a driver of a coal wagon and a friend of the Gaskin family. Morgan is a collarmaker by trade but has been out of employment for some time. Sanford works for the Crane Elevator company. It is the opinion of the police that the case is conclusive against Morgan. He was the last man seen with her. So great was the feeling against the prisoner that he was hurriedly removed to the penitentiary at noon. Later a committee appointed by those favoring lynching went through the jail to satisfy the people the murderer was not there. At night a crowd of several hundred people surrounded the jail. They were orderly and drawn more by curiosity than any disposition to violence.

Morgan asserts he saw the Gaskin girl but once during the afternoon and then only for a moment. He says he can account for the blood stains on his clothes. He claims to have worked for Alexander Murray, a butcher at 1716 South Twentieth street last Saturday, and to have carried from a delivery wagon a quarter of beef into the shop. An examination of his clothes disclosed fingerprints on his hat and blood stains on his shirt front.

TALK OF GRIEVANCES.

Great Northern Railroad Employees Dissatisfied.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Officials of the American Railway Union do not hesitate to make plain intimation that a new railroad strike may be precipitated involving the lines running out of Chicago. William E. Burns, one of the directors of the A. R. U., said: "The grievances of the men on the Great Northern are numerous and include the discharge of men without cause and a reduction of wages. We feel there is a concentrated movement among railroad managers to wipe out organized labor. The committee of the board of mediation was refused an audience by President Hill and General Manager Warren of the Great Northern. This committee represented thirty-six local unions of the A. R. U. After their failure to secure a hearing the questions in controversy were referred back to the men for individual action. I have not heard what, if anything, has been done to-day, but I am satisfied there will be a strike unless Hill recedes and treats with the men. All employees of the Great Northern belong to the A. R. U. We want to prevent a strike, but my advice is the men do not want to work under existing conditions."

Asked if a strike would be ordered in Chicago in case one occurred on the Great Northern Mr. Burns said:

"It is expected that the members of the railway union will stand together. The strike may come on the Great Northern and be settled within its limits. But if that is impossible such action as the conditions from time to time demand will be taken. The railroads want to crush out organized labor, so that in the event of a lack of freight dynamite shell thrown from the Minneapolis would destroy any ship in the British navy outside of the three referred to. The Minneapolis was built under the act of Congress of March, 1885, and was launched less than a year ago. We have four more just like her, which accounts for the wholesome respect that John Bull has for our demands in the Venezuela and Alaska boundary cases. England dare not provoke a war with us.

receipts they will be enabled to reduce wages to pay the interest on watered stock—or, in other words, rob American labor for the benefit of English bondholders. A great many railway employes are native-born and appreciate the situation. I don't know where the controversy will end."

HOLMES FOUND GUILTY.

Convicted of the Murder of Benjamin F. Pitzel. Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 5.—Henry H. Holmes was convicted of murder in the first degree at 8:51 o'clock Saturday night for killing Benjamin F. Pitzel. He coughed slightly when he heard the words. That was the only sign. The jury retired to deliberate at 5:40 o'clock in the afternoon. According to one of their number they had reached their verdict before the doors of their room closed upon them. For hunger's sake they ate their supper first. Then they took a ballot and without hesitation every man of the twelve answered "guilty of murder in the first degree." They remained in consultation until nearly 9 o'clock as a matter of sentiment, being unwilling to have it known they had reached a verdict in haste.

Demand Their Wages.

Percy, Ill., Nov. 5.—The miners at the Randolph coal mine have suspended work until they receive wages due them Nov. 1. The miners here passed a rule that when the operators do not pay them promptly on the established pay days they will suspend work until they receive their wages.

CHICAGO THEATERS.

AMUSEMENT ATTRACTIONS FOR COMING WEEK.

What the Managers of the Various City Play-Houses Offer Their Patrons—Drama, Vaudeville, and Operatic Engagements.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE.—"The Merry World" returned to Chicago for a one week engagement, which began last Sunday night, Oct. 27, at the Chicago Opera House. The present individual complement of the organization is practically the same as when last seen here. The travesty of "Trilby" contains the piece de resistance, while those on Mme. Sans Gene, Wang, Robin Hood, Devil's Deputy, Dr. Syntax, and other leading successes are not much less in popularity. Amelia Summer-ville is yet cast for the roles of Trilby and Sans Gene, Frank Blair is Taffy and de Neipberg, Louis Mann the Svangali, Willard Simms de Febre, The Laird and Fouche are still in the hands of David Warfield, who has since added a new bit in his characterization in the composite comic opera. Marie Laurens and May Howard as Robin Hood remain as features in the comic opera. In addition to the above are Janette Bargeard, the clever Little Billee and Vaseline, Lee Harrison as Napoleon and Jocks, Wallace Black, W. A. McCormick, Randolph Curry, Hattie Moore, John Keefe and seventy-five others.

McVICKER'S THEATER.—The attraction at McVicker's for the week commencing Sunday, Nov. 3d, will be "The 20th Century Girl." This combination of comic opera and extravaganza is by Sidney Rosenfeld and Ludwig Erlanger, authors of "The Passing Show" and has been revised, remodeled and improved since it was last seen here. In the present cast appear such favorites as Molly Fuller, Gus Williams, Wm. Cameron, Thomas Lewis, Annie St. Tell, John T. Kelly, Catherine Lingard, Harry Kelly, Georgia Hawley and Emma Levy. The character and merit of "The 20th Century Girl" cannot be described. It is a whirl of gauze and laces, a blending of colored lights, a mixing up of odd conceits, a touch of comic opera here, a bit of farce comedy there, a liberal splash of variety in the glass—and the strange conceit is complete. It is a good big broad laugh from beginning to end. It is a delight to the eyes and a pleasure to the ear, a harmonious mingling of inharmonious elements, so deftly handled by its clever builder that one is at a loss to give it a name. Nothing of the same proportions, of the same meaning, or so elaborate in decoration, has ever sprung from our native theatrical soil.

Dramatic Notes.

Music lovers and admirers of Miss Lillian Russell will be glad to know that she will reappear in "La Perichole" during the second week of her engagement at the Columbia. During the third and last week of her engagement Miss Russell will appear in a new version of "The Little Duke," the first production on any stage being made at the Columbia.

Henry Irving had a most successful season in Boston, where he played at the Tremont Theater for three weeks. His receipts averaged over $3,000 for each performance. Mr. Irving begins his New York engagement at Abbey's Theater to-morrow night.

Sidney R. Ellis' "Bonnie Scotland" will make its first visit to Chicago soon; appearing at McVicker's Theater. This play since its production at the Chestnut st. Theater, Philadelphia, has been meeting with great success.

"The Two Colonels" came to grief at Lexington, Ky., Oct. 10. The scenery was attached, we are informed and $200 raised, which paid their hotel bills and purchased their tickets to New York. Mr. Goodall and his wife were left behind, also Charles Melville, the advance agent, who was sick in a hotel there. His ticket to return to New York was left with him.

Frederick Warde has announced that he will retain "Runnymede" in his repertory after all, but he will act the part of Friar Tuck instead of Robin Hood, as he began his season doing. Lucia Moore has been added to Mr. Warde's company for this season.

BARRINGTON MERCHANTS.

Some Reasons Why It Is to Your Advantage to Trade at This Place.

Why Barrington merchants should have your trade is explained in the following:

1. Competition between the Barrington merchants is so strong that you can buy almost at your own figures. There is not a town within twenty miles that you can buy cheaper the commodities of life.

2. The great wholesale trading center of the United States is so near by that our merchants are not compelled to lay in several years' supply at a time but they are enabled to furnish you fresh all the necessities and luxuries of life.

3. All the latest styles and novelties are put on the market right in your midst as soon as adopted.

4. There is not a town of five times the population of Barrington that has better or more complete stores. Our merchants never allow their stock to run down. Prompt service is the motto of every merchant in Barrington. The clerks employed by them are polite and efficient. The German and English languages are spoken in all of them, besides several other languages are spoken by most of them.

5. Your home merchants pay taxes and in this way help you defray the expense of educating your children, improve your roads and help along any enterprise that will benefit your town and the community surrounding it. Do foreign merchants offer as many inducements? Convince yourself.

THE REVIEW guarantees you that you can do a great deal better by patronizing your home merchants. If you doubt its look over our advertising columns. That must convince you.

It will pay you to read the advertisements in THE REVIEW every week, as our merchants are hustlers and offer something new every week.

The Warrior Index, Warrior, Ala., has changed its name to the "Breeze," and after a careful scrutiny of the same we must say that it has improved in typographical appearance and otherwise. The local page of the first issue of the "Breeze" is chuckful of spicy and interesting local news, Miss Coy Davidson presiding over this page, while the editorial page is very ably edited by S. C. Davidson, with J. B. Davidson an able assistant. It is a good advertising medium. We wish it success.

May we ask whether it is necessary to purchase a patent fence before a person has a right in Lake county?

The wife of Mr. Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuralgia for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain had left her within two hours, and the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5.00 if it could not be had for less. Barley is the most ancient of cultivated plants. The common or four rowed barley, as also the six-rowed kind, probably originated from the two-rowed, which appears to have been the kind earliest cultivated. It is a native of western Asia.

Weak, Irritable, Tired

"I Was No Good on Earth."

Dr. Miles' Nervine strengthens the weak, builds up the broken down constitution, and permanently cures every kind of nervous disease.

"About one year ago I was afflicted with nervousness, sleeplessness, creeping sensation in my legs, slight palpitation of my heart, distracting confusion of the mind, serious loss or lapse of memory. Weighted down with care and worry. I completely lost appetite and felt my vitality wearing out. I was weak, irritable and tired. My weight was reduced to 160 lbs., in fact I was no good, on earth."

A friend brought me Dr. Miles' book, "New and Startling Facts," and I finally decided to try a bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. Before I had taken one bottle I could sleep as well as a 10-yr.-old boy. My appetite returned greatly increased.

When I had taken the sixth bottle my weight increased to 176 lbs., the sensation in my legs was gone; my nerves steadied completely; my memory was fully restored. My brain seemed clearer than ever. I felt as good as any man on earth. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a great medicine, I assure you." August, Me. WALTER R. BURMAN.

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT to MY PATRONS

This Beautiful Iron Clock with Bronze Ornament to be Given

Away

December 24

For every 50 cents worth of optical work, repairing or purchased goods, one ticket will be given. Should party holding the winning ticket not wish the clock, they can select $15 worth of any goods from my stock, which is as complete as the trade will allow, carrying as I do a good line of watches, clocks, jewelry and novelties, from which may be selected neat and appropriate Xmas presents.

I am more than pleased with the very favorable reception of my optical work by the public, as I have spent considerable time and money to perfect myself in the art.

Intelligent people have discarded the reckless way of buying spectacles at the counter, as they know the benefits derived from my manner of adjusting glasses.

Do you have Headaches?

Eye strain causes more headaches than all other causes combined. Thousands of people are suffering with headache who do not realize that the cause is a defect or weakness in the eye. Many of these cases can be perfectly cured with glasses that are prescribed by me.

A few reasons why it pays to consult me

BECAUSE:

I am a resident and can be consulted at all times, and so insure satisfaction.

I am qualified, having taken a complete course in optical work.

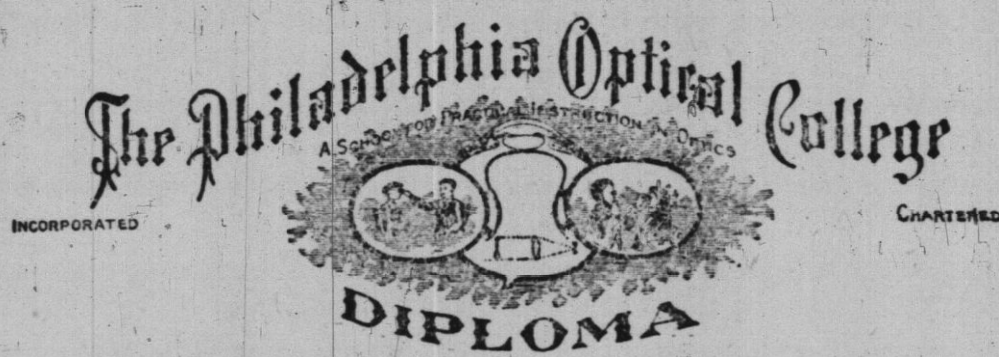

I make no charge for testing the eyes, and furnish glasses at a nominal price.

Some Evidence of My Work:

Barrington, Ill., Oct. 15, '95.

My eyes troubled me a great deal last summer, so I had J. M. Thrasher test and fit them with glasses. They have proven entirely satisfactory. I can now read for hours without tiring my eyes. I would recommend him to the public as a competent optician.

Some Evidence of My Work

Barrington, Ill., Sept. 27, '95.
J. M. Thrasher, Optician.

Dear Sir: The glasses you prescribed for me last January, though they bothered me some until my eyes became accustomed to them, are now doing all that could be desired and are giving perfect satisfaction. Prior to consulting you I had my eyes tested and glasses furnished by a Chicago optician. These were all right at first, but in a short time became useless.

I can heartily recommend you to the public.

C. H. KENDALL, M. D.

Barrington, Ill., Sept. 28th, 1895.
Mr. J. M. Thrasher:

Dear Sir: In regard to your question of how my glasses suit me I would say: Prior to consulting you I never knew what it was to be free from a headache, and could not read continuously for over a half hour without experiencing a dizzy, faint feeling which frequently made me feel sick at my stomach.

I called on you in March had my eyes tested and glasses fitted and in a short time my eyes began to feel better. Headache is now gone. I have read the paper for three hours at a time without experiencing any inconvenience. I cannot recommend your work too highly.

Yours truly,
A. T. ULITSCH,
Clerk for C. & N.-W. P. P.

ALL REPAIRING left with me will receive the same careful attention in the future that it has in the past.
Thanking you for past liberal patronage,

I remain very truly yours,

J. M. THRASHER,

RAILROAD SPECIALS.

John Bratton, a conductor on the E. J. & E., committed suicide by shooting himself at his home in Joliet last Friday morning, and died a short time afterwards. Mr. Bratten was a young man, and had only a short time ago been promoted to the position of conductor. For several weeks before his death he had been ill with typhoid fever, suffering intensely, but without complaining. He was very anxious to recover, so that he could again join his crew, but with all the care and pains that were bestowed on him by his loving wife his recovery was very slow, which made him very despondent, and rather than be a burden to his dear wife and kind friends any longer he arose from his bed at 2 o'clock Friday morning, Nov. 1st, and taking a revolver from a dressing case near by, he gave one last fond look at his sleeping wife and pulled the trigger, falling over on the bed. His wife, aroused by the report of the pistol, summoned medical help at once, but Mr. Bratten was beyond human aid, and had started on his "run" to that great beyond which allows no one to return. The funeral services were held from his late residence Monday morning at 10 o'clock, and was one of the largest funerals ever held in Joliet, the railroad employes, as far as possible, attending in a body, showing the great esteem in which he was held. We extend our sympathy to the unhappy widow in her great bereavement.

The interchange record at this place was broken last Sunday, the North-Western delivering 160 loads to the "J" in twenty-four hours.

It is reported that Inspector Killian has joined the "knights of labor," as he is inspecting cars both night and day.

TROUT LAKE SUPERVISOR.

HOW HE REPORTED TOWNSHIP AFFAIRS TO STATE OFFICERS.

Supervisor S. D. Smith, of Trout Lake Township, thinks he has a chance for damages with someone in the secretary of state's office. Recently he received a communication from Lansing, in his official capacity as Supervisor, asking for a report on births and deaths in the township. He replied that as his township only had 10 inhabitants, none of the number had reached the birth mark, and as far as deaths were concerned there that every one of the ten was dead broke. This appeared in a recent issue of the Detroit Evening News and Mr. Smith wants to know why his private correspondence should be given such publicity. Recently Secretary Baker, of the state board of health, wrote Mr. Smith regarding the health board at Trout Lake. He ignored two inquiries and upon receipt of the third, Mr. Smith simply replied that the town had no board, and that he himself was not a doctor, but a plain, bluff and respectable coon hunter.

GOD IS LOOKING ON.

THE SLIGHTEST SERVICE TO MANKIND WILL GET REWARD.

It Need Not Be Done in Public—Second Washington Sermon by Dr. Talmage—Another Large Audience Hears the Great Preacher.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3, 1895.—Dr. Talmage to-day preached his second sermon since coming to the National Capital. If possible the audience was even larger than last Sunday. The subject was "The Disabled," the text selected being: 1. Sam. 30:24, "As his part is that goeth down to the battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff."

If you have never seen an army change quarters, you have no idea of the amount of baggage—twenty loads, fifty loads, a hundred loads of baggage. David and his army were about to start on a double-quick march for the recovery of their captured families from the Amalekites. So they left by the brook Besor their blankets, their knapsacks, their baggage, and their carriages. Who shall be detailed to watch this stuff? There are soldiers, and wounded soldiers, and aged soldiers who are not able to go on swift military expeditions, but who are able to do some work, and so they are detailed to watch the baggage. There is many a soldier who is not strong enough to march thirty miles in a day and then plunge into a ten hours' fight, who is able with drawn sword lifted against his shoulder to pace up and down as a sentinel to keep off an enemy who might put the torch to the baggage. There are two hundred of those crippled and aged and wounded soldiers detailed to watch the baggage. Some of them, I suppose, had bandages across the brow, and some of them had their arm in a sling, and some of them walked on crutches. They were not cowards shirking duty. They had fought in many a fierce battle for their country and their God. They are now part of the time in hospital, and part of the time on garrison duty. They almost cry because they cannot go with the other troops to the front. While these sentinels watch the baggage, the Lord watches the sentinels.

There is quite a different scene being enacted in the distance. The Amalekites, having ravaged and ransacked and robbed whole countries, are celebrating their success in a roaring carousal. Some of them are dancing on the lawn with wonderful gyration of heel and toe. And some of them are examining the spoils of victory—the finger-rings and ear-rings, the necklaces, the wristlets, the headbands, diamond studded, and the coffers with coronets, and carnelians, and pearls, and sapphires, and emeralds, and all the wealth of plate, and jewels, and decanters, and the silver and the gold banked up on the earth in precisely profusion, and the embroideries, and the robes, and the turbans, and the cloaks of an imperial wardrobe. The banquet has gone on until the banqueters are maudlin and weak and stupid and indecent and loathsomely drunk. What a time it is now for David and his men to sweep on them. So the English lost the battle of Bannockburn, because the night before they were in wassail and bibulous celebration, while the Scotch were in prayer. So the Syrians were overthrown in their carousal by the Israelites. So the Roman and his army were overthrown in their carousal by Abraham and his men. So, in our Civil War, more than once the battle was lost because one of the generals was drunk. Now is the time for David and his men to swoop upon these carousing Amalekites. Some of the Amalekites are packed to pieces on the spot, some of them are just able to go staggering and hiccuping on the field, some of them crawl on camels and speed off in the distance. David and his men gather together the wardrobes, the jewels, and put them upon the back of camels, and into wagons, and they gather together the sheep and cattle that had been stolen, and start back toward the garrison. Yonder they come, yonder they come. The limping men of the garrison come out and greet them with wild huzzas. The Bible says David saluted them. That is, he asked them how they all were. "How is your broken arm?" "How is your fractured jaw?" "Has the stiffened limb been unlimbered?" "Have you had another chill?" "Are you getting better?" He saluted them.

But now came a very difficult thing, the distribution of the spoils of victory. Drive up those laden camels now. Who shall have the spoils? Well, some selfish soul suggests that these treasures ought all to belong to those who had been out in active service. "We did all the fighting while these men stayed at home in the garrison, and we ought to have all the treasures." But David looked into the worn faces of these veterans who had stayed in the garrison, and he looked around and saw how cleanly everything had been kept, and he saw that the baggage was all safe, and he knew that these wounded and crippled men would gladly enough have been at the front if they had been able, and the little general looks up from under his helmet and says: "No, no, let us have fair play," and he rushes up to one of these men and he says, "Hold your hands together," and the hands are held together, and he fills them with silver. And he rushes up to another man who was sitting away back and had no idea of getting any of the spoils, and throws a Babylonish garment over him and fills his hand with gold. And he rushes up to another man who had lost all his property in serving God and his country years before, and he drives up some of the cattle and some of the sheep that they had brought back from the Amalekites, and he gives two or three of the cattle and three or four of the sheep to this poor man, so he shall always be fed and clothed. He sees a man so emaciated and worn out and sick he needs stimulants, and he gives him a little of the wine that he brought from the Amalekites. Yonder is a man who has no appetite for the rough rations of the army, and he gives him a rare morsel from the Amalekites banquet, and the two hundred crippled and maimed and aged soldiers who tarried on garrison duty get just as much of the spoils of battle as any of the two hundred men that went to the front. "As his part is that goeth down to the battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff."

The impression is abroad that the Christian rewards are for those who do conspicuous service in distinguished places—great patriots, great preachers, great philanthropists. But my text sets forth the idea that there is just as much reward for a man that stays at home and minds his own business, and who, crippled and unable to go forth and lead in great movements and in the high places of the earth, does his whole duty just where he is. Garrison duty is as important and as remunerative as service at the front. "As his part is that goeth down to the battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff."

The Earl of Kintore told me in an English railway, "Mr. Talmage, when you get back to America I want you to preach a sermon on the discharge of ordinary duty in ordinary places, and then send me a copy of it." Afterward an English clergyman coming to this land brought from the Earl of Kintore the same message! Alas! that before I got ready to do what he asked me to do, the good Earl of Kintore had departed this life. But that man, surrounded by all palatial surroundings, and in a distinguished sphere, felt sympathetic with those who had ordinary duties to perform in ordinary places and in ordinary ways. A great many people are discouraged when they hear the story of Moses, and of Joshua, and of David, and of Luther, and of John Knox, and of Deborah, and of Florence Nightingale. They say: "Oh, that was all good and right for them, but I shall never be called to receive the law on Mount Sinai, I shall never be called to command the sun and moon to stand still, I shall never preach on Mars' Hill, I shall never defy the Diet of Worms, I shall never be called to make a queen tremble for her crimes, I shall never preside over a hospital." There are women who say, "If I had as brilliant a sphere as those people had, I should be as brave and as grand; but my business is to get children off to school, and to hunt up things when they are lost, and to see that dinner is ready, and to keep account of the household expenses, and to hinder the children from being strangled by the whooping cough, and to go through all the annoyances and vexations of housekeeping. Oh, my sphere is so infinitesimal, and so insignificant, I am clear discouraged." Woman, God places you on garrison duty, and your reward will be just as great as that of Florence Nightingale, who moving so often night by night with a light in her hand through the hospitals, was called by the wounded the "lady of the lamp." Your reward will be just as great as that of Mrs. Hertzog, who built and endowed theological seminary buildings. Your reward will be just as great as that of Hannah More, who by her excellent books won for her admirers Garrick and Edmund Burke and Joshua Reynolds. Rewards are not to be given according to the amount of noise you make in the world, nor even according to the amount of good you do, but according to whether or not you do your full duty in the sphere where God has placed you.

Suppose you give to two of your children errands, and they are to go off to make purchases, and to one you give one dollar and to the other you give twenty dollars. Do you reward the boy that you gave twenty dollars to for purchasing more than that amount of money than the other boy purchased with one dollar? Of course not. If God give wealth or social position or eloquence or twenty times the faculty to a man that he gives to the ordinary man, is he going to give to the favored man a reward because he has more power and more influence? Oh, no. In other words, if you and I were to do our whole duty, and you have twenty times more talent than I have, you will get no more divine reward than I will. Is God going to reward you because he gave you more? That would not be fair, that would not be right. These two hundred men of the text who faint-ed by the Brook Besor did their whole duty; they watched the baggage, they took care of the stuff, and they got as much of the spoils of victory as the men who went to the front. "As his part is that goeth down to the battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff."

There is high encouragement in this for all who have great responsibility and little credit for what they do. You know the names of the great commercial houses of these cities. Do you know the names of the confidential clerks—the men who have the key to the safe, the men who know the combination lock? A distinguished merchant goes forth at the summer watering place, and he flashes past, and you say: "Who is that?" "Oh," replies some one, "don't you know? That is the great importer, that is the great banker, that is the great manufacturer." The confidential clerk has his week off. Nobody knows him, and after awhile his week is done, and he sits down again at his desk. But God will reward his fidelity just as much as he recognizes the work of the merchant philanthropist whose investments this unknown clerk so carefully guarded. Hudson River Railroad, Pennsylvania Railroad, Erie Railroad, New York & New Haven Railroad—business men know the names of the presidents of these roads and of the prominent directors; but they do not know the names of the engineers, the names of the switchmen, the names of the flagmen, the names of the brakemen. These men have awful responsibilities, and sometimes, through the recklessness of an engineer, or the unfaithfulness of a switchman, it has brought to mind the faithfulness of nearly all the rest of them. Some men do not have recognition of their services. They have small wages, and much complaint. I very often ride upon locomotives, and I very often ask the question as we shoot around some curve, or under some ledge of rocks, "How much wages do you get?" And I am always surprised to find how little for such vast responsibility. Do you suppose God is not going to recognize that fidelity? Thomas Scott, the president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, going up at death to receive from God his destiny, was no better known in that hour than was known last night the brakeman who, on the Erie Railroad, was jammed to death amid the car couplings. "As his part is that goeth down to the battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff."

Once for thirty-six hours we expected every moment to go to the bottom of the ocean. The waves struck through the skylights, and rushed down into the hold of the ship, and hissed against the boilers. It was an awful time; but by the blessing of God, and the faithfulness of the men in charge, we came out of the cyclone, and we arrived at home. Each one before leaving the ship thanked Captain Andrews. I do not think there was a man or woman that went off that ship without thanking Captain Andrews, and when, years after, I heard of his death, I was compelled to write a letter of condolence to his family in Liverpool. Everybody recognized the goodness, the courage, the kindness of Captain Andrews; but it occurs to me now that we never thanked the engineer. He stood away down in the darkness, amid the hissing furnaces, doing his whole duty. Nobody thanked the engineer, but God recognized his heroism and his continuance and his fidelity, and there will be just as high reward for the engineer who worked out of sight, as the Captain, who stood on the bridge of the ship in the midst of the howling tempest. "As his part is that goeth down to the battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff."

A Christian woman was seen going along the edge of a wood, every evening, and the neighbors in the country did not understand how a mother with so many cares and anxieties should waste so much time as to be idly sauntering out evening by evening. It was found out afterward that she went there to pray for her household, and while there one evening, she wrote that beautiful hymn, famous in all ages for cheering Christian hearts:

I love to steal awhile away
From every cumbering care,
And spend the hours of setting day,
In humble, grateful prayer.
Shall there be no reward for such unpretending, yet everlasting service?

Raising Good Mutton.

The man who has had a taste of spring lamb in all its sweetness, like the sheep-killing dog, never forgets it, and he may as well be fed on a well-cooked saddle flap as to again go back to aged mutton. Good mutton is not confined to breed alone, nor is it found alone in the spring lamb, but the sheep that will produce the quick mutton of good quality is the future sheep. Early maturity will be one of the qualities in the coming sheep. It will be of about the size of a 200 pound sheep when mature, and one-half of this should be produced the first year of its life. The profitable sheep will be this kind, and should have an absolute mutton conformation. This conformation is that of a long body, round barrel, hardy and early maturing. It must be full in the parts of the carcass where the best mutton is found.

Whatever breed that will best fill the bill in its environments will be the profitable sheep. Lambs should drop not later than the month of March, and should be sold at or about the age of twelve months, except in market lamb districts. This, of course, only applies to such sheep as are sold, as it will always be necessary to keep up the breeding stock, which should be of a more mature age. The boy on the prairie and the pony will have passed away, and good barns and well-fenced pastures will fill their function. The open shed, while very good for some purposes, will yield to the warm place for ewes at lambing time.

Good feed and plenty of it early bestowed on the flock will be the ever profitable mode of fitting the future mutton sheep. When the lamb is but a few days old it will eat if feed is placed where it can reach it. This is best done by providing lamb creepers. I have them, and it sometimes astonishes me to see how much feed these little fellows will consume. It is also astonishing how they grow if the feed is of the proper kind, and there is another astonishing time when they are sold for a very high figure and heavy weight when about one year old. I have had them bring more money at this age almost twice over than I had at one time sold three-year-old fat wethers for. Feed early in life and push them in the secret, and the transaction is bound to be profitable. It will be well to remember that the first 100 pounds will cost much less and sell for more than the second 100 on the sheep. This business is just in its infancy now, and it will not be long till its study and skill will be well understood by many rather than a few sheep breeders. Early maturity, quality of mutton, proportion of good mutton to live weight and kindred characteristics will be the ruling ones in the future profitable sheep. —George W. Franklin, in Montreal Journal of Agriculture.

Suggestions to Hog Raisers.

As a means of lessening the losses from contagious diseases, and otherwise contributing to the more profitable raising of hogs, the following suggestions may be made, which the practical farmer can apply in accordance with the facilities at his disposal:

1. A more liberal supply of food (grains or grasses other than the weeds of the prairies or woods) is needed during the summer months.
  2. The water supply should be from wells where possible; otherwise from running streams, and not stagnant pools.
  3. Only a limited amount of range should be allowed at one time, and this changed several times during the year. Hogs should not be pastured on the same field in successive years.
  4. By proper fences each farmer should keep his hogs on his own farm, and his neighbor's out of it. This is especially necessary when disease is in the neighborhood.
- When a contagious disease appears among hogs the most important thing to be attended to, and that which is most frequently neglected, is to separate the well from the sick animals at once. This has usually been done by removing those as yet unaffected to another pasture or lot, not, as is sometimes done, by taking out the sick and leaving the well where they are. If any more become sick, a further separation will be necessary.—Ex.

Queer Features in the Cattle Trade.
—While Great Britain is an extensive importer of beef cattle, buying 472,500 head last year, 327,000 head in 1893, and 490,000 head in 1892, strange as it may appear the southern portion of England exports a moderate number annually. In addition to breeding animals some are shipped to the continent of Europe, for beef. The exports of live cattle from the United Kingdom increased from 1,245 in 1890, to 8,282 in 1894, chiefly during the second six months of the year. Belgium took the greatest portion of these, France next, Germany buying only a few. It is not probable this export business will amount to much on the part of England, and the purchases by Northern Europe were unquestionably due, in part, to the enduring effects of the drouth of 1893.

The secretary of the New Hampshire board of agriculture states that the law of that State requiring imitation butter to be colored pink is a complete success. The people will not use it, but demand butter instead.

Meaning of Some Feminine Names.

Many signifies "exalted;" Martha signifies "bitterness." Anne, Anna, Hannah and probably Nancy are from the same source, and signify "kind," or "gracious." Jane signifies the same as Sarah, "a princess and the morning star." Susan, "a lily;" Rebecca, "plump;" Lucy, "brightness of aspect;" Louisa or Louise, "one who protects;" Frances or Fanny, "frank or free;" Catharine, "pure or chaste;" Caroline and Charlotte, "queens;" Sophia, "wisdom;" Emma, "tender;" Margaret, "a pearl or a daisy;" Elizabeth and Eliza, "true;" Julia, Juliette and Julietta, "soft-haired;" Agnes, "chaste;" Amelia and Amy, "beloved;" Clara, "clear or bright;" Eleanor, "all faithful;" Gertrude, "all truth;" Grace, "favor;" Laura, "a laurel;" Matilda, "a noble or brave maid;" Phoebe, "light of life;" Amanda, "amiable;" Isabel, "true and loving;" Pauline, "little one;" Olive, "peace;" Edith, "happy."

When the tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

THE DESTRUCTIVE TEREDO.

Filling of Wharves and Railroad Trestles Ruined by It.

The teredo is the most destructive marine animal we have. It enters the submerged part of the piling of wharves or railroad trestles and bores into the interior. When it penetrates the surface of the wood it is about the size of a pin, but increases in size, always lengthening, but never leaving any part of the hole it bores until its full mission is accomplished. In this way it stretches from the original pin hole entrance far into the interior of the wood and swells in size to the diameter of a large lead pencil. At the big end are the cutters, two clam shells that rotate from side to side and cut a smooth, round hole. The worm sometimes attains the length of ten inches.

Hundreds of such worms attack the exposed wood at the same time, and in a short time honeycomb it. However numerous they are, they never interfere with one another, and no instance is found where one borer has cut into or crossed the boring of his neighbor, though the partitions left between the borings are sometimes no thicker than a sheet of paper. Another peculiarity is that as the places of entrance are no larger than pin heads and the worms remain and do their growing inside, the wood may be almost entirely consumed inside, yet the surface appears sound and unaffected. Suddenly, without the slightest warning, the wooden pile gives way and its fellows follow in short order, and the wharf which appeared substantial is wholly ruined.

To combat the teredo many expedients have been resorted to. One is to sheathe the piling in copper. Another is to cover the surface of the wood with broad headed tacks—the rust from which spreads so as to discourage the teredo's operations. Still another method is to boil the wood in creosote under heavy steam pressure, so that the creosote saturates the fibers of the wood.

All these methods are efficacious, and the creosote process is used with perfect success in wharf and trestle building all along the gulf coast. Its cost is the chief drawback, a single stick of creosote timber costing sometimes as much as $50 — Mobile Register.

Thus Endeth the Lesson.

Her Mother—Bessie, dear, I'm sorry to see my little girl show such a lack of respect for her seniors. When a neighbor comes to call on us, you should sit quietly and not speak unless you are spoken to. You do not mean to be disrespectful, I am sure, but you should think of the impression you are making on your neighbors, and you will try hereafter, I hope, to—

Bessie—You'd better look out, mamma. You'll talk yourself to death.—
