The graduating class of 1900 has elected officers.
The latest style in shoes for gents and ladies at Schoppe's.
Wm. Grebe and wife visited the former's parents Sunday.
Henry Senne of Chicago spent Sunday here with his parents.
Mr. Ream of Hampshire, Ill., was here on business Monday.
Albert Mundhenke is home, nursing a felon on one of his fingers.
M. S. Smith of Wisconsin visited his brothers here over Sunday.
H. F. Batterman and family entertained Chicago friends over Easter.
Mr. and Mrs. Moon of Dundee have been visiting friends here this week.
Louis Keyes, the Rockefeller barber was in Palatine the first of the week.
Frank Fenton of Waukegan visited his parents here the first of the week.
George Sweitzer and lady friend of Chicago visited his mother here Sunday.

School election from 7:30 to 9 o'clock to-night. Let every voter turn out and vote.

Mr. Turnan of Chicago has rented Wm. Babcock's house and will move here in June.

The foresters of Barrington camp, M. W. A., visited the Palatine camp Saturday night.

Born to Mrs. Martha Stetzler, nee Bicknase, in Chicago, Thursday, April 12, 1900, a daughter.

Picture frames made to order and monuments for sale at Karsten's furniture store. See ad.

Schoppe Bros. have the largest assortment of shoes in Palatine. Douglas shoes are sold here.

Quite a number of pupils have returned to public school after confirmation in the parochial schools.

Why don't you put city water in your house? It costs an average family $5 a year for city water.

Miss Ada Mead of Arlington Heights resumed studies in the High school Monday, after a few weeks' absence.

Station Agent Ultsch has rented Mrs. Hopkins' house on Plum Grove avenue and will move from Barrington soon.

The village board will meet in adjourned session Monday night to finish up the year's work. The new officers will be sworn in and saloon license will be granted and officers' bonds received.

Peter Knowe has invited the Athletic club to come up and inspect his new barn to-night. He has engaged an orchestra from Chicago and there'll be a hot time in the sub-division to-night.

The government seeds arrived in the Palatine postoffice "en masse" the first of the week. Owing to being thrown from the train nearly every package was broken open and the postoffice looked like a wrecked seed store.

Easter services were held in the various churches Sunday and the flowers and music were in prominence. The usual Easter concert was held in the Methodist church in the morning and Rev. F. A. Hardin preached in the evening.

Several of our citizens have arranged with the M. E. church trustees to open the basement of the church for the use of the school boys. It is proposed to form a junior Y. M. C. A. and let the boys use the rooms for a gymnasium, reading room, etc. The object is a good one and the boys in town need some such place to spend their leisure time. Arrangements are expected to be completed within a week or two.

Rev. Geo. Schorb, the noted blind preacher of Evanston, will lecture on "The Fun of Being Blind" in the Methodist church next Tuesday evening. He is a lecturer of eloquence, wit and pathos and a verse writer of some note. Admission, 10 and 15 cents.

The Woodmen will present their drama, "Carl Yonson," in Des Plaines soon. Over 400 tickets were sold Monday night, and many others who could not come, owing to the bad weather, have requested a repetition of the play here. The committee has the matter under consideration.

Palatine has as many societies and clubs as any town of its size in many miles, but one more society might not be out of the way. A society with its object, "talking about your neighbors," should find a good field here, as there are plenty of people running around loose who would make splendid members of such an organization.

Although last Friday was Good Friday and the market day committee did not advertise a sale on that day, about ten horses were sold to Chicago buyers. Among the noted horses sold were "Old Roney," who has carried hundreds of traveling men around the country, and I. M. Kuebler's democratic trotter.

The gun club held a sweetstake shoot at their park Saturday for the best out of ten shots. Three contests were held, the first being won by S. Baldwin, the second by D. Putnam and the third by J. Moorhouse. The following is the score:

J. Moorhouse.....	6	8-25
S. Baldwin.....	6	7-22
R. Mosser.....	8	5-21
E. Baldwin.....	5	7-19
D. Putnam.....	10	3-18
T. Burges.....	5	6-16
R. Putnam.....	6	5-15
C. Nichols.....	5	5-15
C. Seip.....	4	6-13
L. Sutherland.....	4	5-12
M. Richmond.....	5	3-9

Woodmen Drama and Dance.

The drama and dance given by the Woodmen camp in Battermann's hall Monday night proved a big drawing card and was a decided success. The hall was packed to the doors by an audience that thoroughly enjoyed the drama from start to finish. The various parts were carried out wonderfully well for home talent and the participants received high praise for their acting. The play was presented with force and spirit throughout and "Carl Yonson" will be remembered for years to come.

The dance was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The Woodmen, through their committee, proved good entertainers. The play will be presented in other places and negotiations are already under way to present it in two other towns.

Village Election.

Village election passed off quietly last Tuesday although a good vote was polled. There were 203 votes cast of which 110 were straight citizens and seven straight people's tickets. The result was as follows:

For president, A. S. Olms.....	154
For president, Elias W. Wood.....	45
For Clerk, A. G. Smith.....	172
For Trustee, C. D. Taylor.....	149
" " C. W. Ost.....	168
" " Aug. Kimmie.....	160
" " W. O. Benson.....	23
" " Frank E. Baker.....	21
" " Ralph L. Beutler.....	25
" " Henry Hitzemann.....	9
" " to fill vacancy, I. M. Kuebler.....	125
" " H. C. Battermann.....	55
For police magistrate, G. C. Whipple.....	168
For police magistrate, Chas. Yates.....	24

Two ballots were thrown out. The tickets were badly scratched and many showed lack of intelligence in voting by the voter.

We Don't Want Money Bad.

We want it good and we will give you value received, as is every bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, no matter be it 10c, 50c or $1, as we guarantee it for constipation, indigestion, sick headache and stomach trouble. Sold at A. L. Waller's.

A Fine Program.

A large number of persons gathered at the beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Schierding Friday night to listen to what proved to be the best entertainment ever given here.

Miss Mary Florence Stevens of Chicago, who has a studio in the Auditorium, captivated the gathering with her singing. Miss Stevens is a singer of rare ability and she was greatly applauded by the musical persons in attendance. Miss Hebert of Chicago, accompanist, showed herself a charming pianist and played the accompaniments, not only with good technical ability, but also with great sympathy and feeling. Her playing added much to the effect of Miss Stevens' solos.

Miss Ianthie Williamson of Chicago rendered several selections on the violin which captivated the audience. She has a rare talent for reproducing Scotch airs and her name is often on the programs of the best entertainments of Chicago.

Miss Sargent of Crystal Lake gave several readings and came in for a good share of the applause. Her selections were well rendered.

Prof. J. I. Sears of Barrington rendered several of his choice selections on the piano and was as heartily received as ever.

Miss Amada Harming of this place also assisted in piano selections and showed her skill as a pianist to good advantage.

The program was given in a smooth manner throughout and those in attendance were highly enthusiastic in their praise of the high-class of entertainment rendered. It is possible the parties will give a public entertainment in the future, as the hosts were unable to have all present whom they wished. Several dollars were handed over to the school library as a result of the entertainment.

Don't Be Funny.

It does not pay. If you have a good thing, tell it right out. Don't use false means to attract attention. We say "right out" and mean it, too. That Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will cure every case of stomach trouble. It will stop any pain caused by indigestion; it knocks sick headache by attacking the cause of the complaint and aids you to digest your food, no matter what you eat.

OSGOOD, Mo., Oct. 28, 1899.
PEPSIN SYRUP Co., Monticello, Ill.

GENTLEMEN:—I have used Syrup Pepsin for some time and find it gives most excellent results and it is one of the greatest selling preparations I have ever carried in stock. I do not hesitate to recommend it.

Very respectfully,

How to Save Doctor Bills.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold, we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. MARKLE, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale by A. L. Waller, Barrington and A. S. Olms, Palatine.

CURRENT TOPICS

PARIS SHOW IS OPENED.

Though several of the buildings of the exhibition at Paris are far from completion, the great world's fair was opened Saturday. Sunday was originally selected, but the representatives of the governments and exhibitors from the United States protested against the desecration of the day and the managers yielded to the demand.

The preliminaries have furnished the full share of drawbacks. First, Germany was slow to respond to the invitation to take part. Since French pride was humiliated by the march of the victorious legions of Germany into Paris thirty years ago the conquerors have twice been ignored in the requests made to the world to participate in the colossal exhibitions in the capital of France. At last, however, Germany will be represented in a way that will appeal to the pride of its people. The kaiser will be among the guests, and more Germans will patronize the show than those sent out by any other foreign nation. The second setback was the siding of France with Spain in our war with the latter. While the government observed neutrality, the people were openly and defiantly our enemies. It looked for a time as if the bitterness thereby aroused might prevent the United States from making an exhibit at all. But the decisive ending of the war brought Frenchmen to their senses and led to a restoration of the good feeling that has existed for over a century between the two countries. The present war in South Africa ranged France against Great Britain, and the resentment it gave birth to came near shutting out the latter power from the exposition. Only for the sagaciousness of the prince of Wales in frowning upon such a boycott Great Britain would have held aloof from the show. But the royal interposition saved Paris from such a costly blunder and thus what threatened to be a severe blow is happily averted.

RAILROADS AS ARBORICULTURISTS

Some of the railroads, it appears, have decided to enter into a new industry, the successful prosecution of which promises to be a great public advantage. Publicly and privately the wanton destruction of the forests of the country has been commented upon, and stentorian protests have been sounded regarding the disasters likely to accrue from a continuance of the foolhardy policy that has been followed in this respect. Now, it is announced, a number of the roads have decided to come to the country's rescue, not in the way of the forcible stopping of the acts of depredation so loudly complained against, but by entering upon the replenishment made necessary by the previous waste. They have decided to go into the forestry business on an extensive scale, and are making arrangements to set out with young trees whole tracts of country, where soil and climate are best adapted to their cultivation.

HOT AFTER WAR TAXES.

The agitation for a reduction of the tax has started special interests all over the country to sending personal delegations to congress to plead for reduction or total abolition of the tax on their special products. At the next meeting of the house ways and means a large delegation of druggists, liquor men and other interests will appear. Chairman Payne has held several conferences with administration officials and it is understood that he will take the lead in resisting any attempt to decrease the taxes. But a number of representatives have openly showed their intention of bringing up the subject on the floor of the house, and threaten to carry the matter into the presidential campaign if congress refuses to make the reductions.

SOCIALISM IN ENGLAND.

After municipal landlordism, what? We have commented lately on the promise of the Salisbury government to appoint a parliamentary committee for the investigation of the question of the housing of the poor, especially the poor of London and other great cities. Under existing law British municipalities have the power to tear down insanitary and unsafe tenements and build new ones. They can become landlords on a large scale, but they must acquire land for building purposes within their respective jurisdictions. They have asked for authority to purchase land and build outside of the city limits, and it will no doubt be granted.

Herrera at quarantine and succeeded in inducing Gen. Gomez to accompany them. Meanwhile another tug, carrying the civil governor, Gen. Castillo, the mayor and other officials representing the dominant white party, was entirely ignored by Gomez. The black party, highly elated, took the guest to the landing, where an immense crowd gathered on the frail private wharf of a local boat club. This collapsed and many were thrown into the water, one man being drowned. The official party declined to recognize Gen. Gomez in consequence of his recognition of the black party and there is considerable excitement. When the procession passed through the city, without either civil governor or mayor, rioting was narrowly prevented by the vigorous action of the police under American officers.

TURKISH RELATIONS STRAINED

Warship May Be Sent by Uncle Sam to Collect a Bill.

Demands will be made upon the sultan of Turkey by this government for the payment of damages done to the property of American missionaries in Turkey. Unless these demands are promptly complied with, Ali Ferrouh Bey, the Turkish minister, may be given his passports, and Minister Straus, at Constantinople, may be recalled and diplomatic relations between the two nations severed. Another and more severe course may be pursued, however, and an American warship may be sent to one of the Turkish ports, seize the customs house, and hold it until the demands of this government are satisfied. They amount to $100,000, and are for damages to the property and persons of American missionaries. These claims have been pending for a number of years, and the patience of this government has become exhausted more than once by the dilatory tactics of the sultan and his representatives. For a long time the Turks disavowed responsibility for the damages, taking the ground assumed by the United States that it was not responsible for the actions of its citizens. As a number of vessels from the Asiatic fleet will soon return from Manila, it may be convenient for one to pay a call at Constantinople and see that there is no more delay.

POLICE SLAIN AND BURNED.

Anti-Plague Measures at Cawnpore Lead to a Riot.

The enforcement of anti-plague measures at Cawnpore, near Bombay, led to a serious riot. A mob attacked and burned the segregation camps and some mills. The police, who attempted to restore order, were overpowered, and five of them were killed and their bodies thrown into the flames. Troops were ordered out to suppress the rioters, but they did not succeed until ten of the mob had been killed. Order was then restored, but the populace is sullen and business has been stopped.

Indictments in Goebel Case.

The Franklin county grand jury at Frankfort, Ky., returned indictments against ten persons, charging them with complicity in the murder of William Goebel. The principals named are Henry E. Youtsey, James Howard, Berry Howard, Harland Whittaker and "Tallow Dick" Combs (colored). Those indicted as accessories before the fact are Secretary of State Caleb Powers, Capt. John T. Powers, ex-Secretary of State Charles Finley, W. H. Culton and Wharton Golden. In the indictment relating to the alleged accessories three other men are indirectly referred to as accessories, although no indictments were reported against them. They are Gov. W. S. Taylor, Green Golden and Capt. John Davis.

Stomach Troubles In Spring

Are THAT BILIOUS FEELING, bad taste in the mouth, dull headache, sleeplessness, poor appetite.

No matter how careful you are about eating, everything you take into your stomach turns sour, causes distress, pains and unpleasant gases.

Don't you understand what these symptoms—signals of distress—mean?

They are the cries of the stomach for help! It is being overworked. It needs the peculiar tonic qualities and digestive strength to be found only in

The best stomach and blood remedies known to the medical profession are combined in the medicine, and thousands of grateful letters telling its cures prove it to be the greatest medicine for all stomach troubles ever yet discovered.

Domestic Service in China.

The question of domestic service in China is by far an easier proposition than in most other countries. In China a rich man gets as many servants as he wants, and yet he pays them no wages, while the common people have to pay them well. Even then they are hard to get, for the reason that the employe of the rich man can make more than triple the ordinary wages in perquisites.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucus lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucus surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Jephthah's Daughter:

A Story of Patriarchial Times.

By JULIA MAGRUDER...

COPYRIGHTED 1870, 1891 AND 1896 BY ROBERT BONNER'S SONS.

CHAPTER I.

Jephthah, the Gileadite, had only one child, a young maiden named Namarah, and beside her, he had neither son nor daughter. Now, Jephthah was a mighty man of valor, and his name was feared exceedingly, albeit he had a heart most kind and tender, and the chief treasure of his heart was even the maiden Namarah; for he had been father and mother and all in all to the young child, whose other parent had died, and left her to the great soldier, as the sole fruit of a happy wedded love, too early cut off by death.

As the child grew into girlhood, it was known to her, by comparing her father to the other men she saw, that he was not as they; a gloom was ever on his face, except when his eyes were upon her, and then, indeed, he would look glad and smile. Namarah always felt that it was the early death of her young mother that made her father's face look sad, even when aglow with pride she would look at him all in glittering armor as he rode his magnificent war horse at the head of his host. For this, her heart was very tender to him, and she strove the more to make up to him by the sweet service of her love for what he had lost. As she grew older, and stories of the sin and folly of the world were told her, there was known to her a deeper reason yet for her father's melancholy. The stern grief of childhood had preceded the grief of age, and, though she only gained her knowledge by putting many small hints and observations together, she learned that this gentle father had been himself a neglected and abused son, whose mother he had never known, and whose father and brethren had treated him with cruelty and injustice. As his father's younger sons grew up, they hated Jephthah because he was stronger and of a nobler presence than themselves, and they thrust him out of their father's house, that they and their mother might be no more offended at the sight of him. So Jephthah fled from his brethren and dwelt in the land of Tob. But so great a soldier was he, so majestic in appearance and so valiant in fight, that the fame of him went abroad throughout the land, and came even unto the ears of his brethren.

In the land of Tob he took a wife, and there were spent his days of happiness, and there was born unto him the child Namarah. But it came to pass, before the babe could stand upon its feet, the wife of Jephthah died and was buried, and in all the world there was no comfort to the man save in the child Namarah. Her he watched and tended as his all in all, and so great was his love and kindness to her, that her heart was knit to his, even as his to hers. And in all the land there was no maiden so fair and beautiful. Her eyes were like cool streams of limpid water, for clearness and for blueness like the heaven above. Her skin for whiteness, was like the leaves of some little woodland flower on which the sun hath never shone, but which the gentle winds of shady places have fanned and kept cool. Her hair, wonderful, soft and dusky, was like the brown leaves of the forest, and when she shook it down, it wrapped the slimmest of her body round and clothed her like a garment. Her voice, when she spoke, was ever sweet and low, as the cooing of the wood doves in the branches, and when she lifted it up, and sang with the maidens that were her companions, it was, for clearness, like the sky lark's.

What wonder that Namarah was unto her father as the light of his eyes, and that many young men, strong and goodly to see, looked upon her with favor and sought her to wife. But of all these she would have none, disdaining even to hear them speak, and saying only that her life and service were her father's wholly, and she desired the love and companionship of no man but him. When he was at home, she never left his side; tempting his appetite with dainty dishes when he was exhausted and in need of food, serving him with her own hands at table, and bringing herself the fresh water for his ablutions; after which she would bend her head for his blessing, and then lift up her face with a smile of radiance, good to cheer the weary man. If it was his will to stay at home and rest him from his strenuous exercises of arms, she would sit beside him, and draw his great head down upon her lap, and with her little milk-white fingers ruffle or smooth the thick masses of his curly hair and magnificent beard until she coaxed him to sleep.

"What love do I want more than his?" she would ask herself. "Why should I leave him desolate, to take up my life with another, who must ever be as a stranger to me compared to him who hath been my companion and my friend my whole life through? And where is another like unto him? In all the land there is not one who, beside him, seems not base and small."

And when Jephthah would wake from sleep, she would clasp and cling to him, and beg him that they never should be parted.

"Nay, my daughter," he would answer, "it must not be that thou sacrificest thy young life for me for whom pleasure is over. I would have thee wedded to a good man, who will cherish thee; and in seeing thee happy, and having thy children on my knee, I shall know the best joy that is left for me."

Then Namarah would weep, and implore him not to send her from him, saying that what he pictured as her happiness looked to her like the very face of death, so greatly did she dread it. Whereat her father Jephthah would but smile, and say it would not be so with her one day, when the lord and master of her heart should come.

"He is here," she would say, flinging her white arms about him, "there will be never any other." And Jephthah would smile again and say only the one word: "Wait," whereat Namarah would grow almost angry, and tears of vexation would spring into her eyes. Then would Jephthah rouse himself and stand upright on his strong legs and lift her in his mighty arms as though she were still the little maid he used to toss and dandle, and hold her high above his head, and refuse to let her down from this unseemly altitude until the break of her childish laughter had blown away her tears.

CHAPTER II.

It happened one fair morning, when earth and sky seemed all to meet in a blessed promise of tranquillity and peace, that Namarah stood in the midst of her garden, with a small basket on her arm, from which she was scattering grain to a flock of white doves, which, fluttering from far and near, came to her feet and sank down there, a moving mass of snowy plumage, from which her slender figure, clad in spotless white, rose up like a human emanation from their pure loveliness of hue and outline. Her face and throat and hands were pure white, too, and a look of deep serenity was upon her. The sky above seemed not more still and placid.

She raised her hand and put a few grains of the food into her mouth, and at the motion some of the doves were frightened and flew up, with a whirring noise, only to circle round and come back again and fall to nodding and dipping about for the grain at her feet. Presently one of the flock flew up and alighted on her shoulder, then another and another. Namarah opened her red lips and showed the dark grains held tight between her little white teeth; at which a pecking and fluttering began among the three tame doves, as she would offer her mouth first to one and then another. It was evidently a familiar game which all the participants enjoyed.

Suddenly there was a great whirring and fluttering, and the whole flock flew wildly off, and were out of sight behind the trees, before Namarah, left quite alone, perceived the cause of their flight. A young man, taller even than Jephthah, her father, but with the ruddiness of youth and dawning manhood upon his beardless face, stood before her, all in shining armor, on which the moving light danced and glinted. He had taken off his helmet, and sunlight kissed sunlight in the gold of his thick curls. And, behold, when Namarah turned and looked at him, a strange thing came to pass. Her white cheeks, which no one had ever seen other than calm and colorless, were all at once suffused with pink, as if a rose had been suddenly placed beneath a piece of fair white cambric; and in that moment she became a hundred times more beautiful than she had ever been before. The young man colored, too, and bent his golden head, as she said:

"If this be the maiden, Namarah, thy father Jephthah hath sent me to ask of thee some pieces of his armor that he hath need of."

"Is he going into a fight?" the maiden asked, the rose disappearing from her cheeks. "Will he not see me, to say farewell?"

"There is, in truth, some danger of a fight," the young man answered, "for the times are troublous, and a mighty man like Jephthah must be ever ready; but his name is great and terrible, and in going forth to put down the enemy that hath so suddenly arisen, I think the report that thy father Jephthah leadeth the host will be enough, and that there will be no bloodshed. But, maiden," he added, more gently, seeing that her face looked still affrighted, "I pray thee have no fear for the safety of thy father. I will even guard his body with my own." And, as he spoke, he looked on her and loved her.

Namarah met the look, and the trouble of her face grew deeper. She felt the disturbing power of that quiet gaze, but all her thought was for her father.

"Maiden," the young man murmured, in a voice that had a softened cadence, "already, even today, there hath been a surprise attack; and your father hath been in danger; but it please God that I should be near him, to protect him, as I could, and for this cause Jephthah, thy father, hath chosen me to be his armor bearer, so that in future my place will be beside him; and I say but the truth when I tell thee that I will protect his life with my own."

"But, truly," said Namarah, "thou art very noble, and life to thee is even also dear."

"Life would be dear to me no longer maiden," he made answer, "if I should lived upon thy face to tell thee that I loved and Jephthah, thy father, was slain."

This time, when he spake the words "thy father," it seemed unto the maiden that his voice dwelt upon them by the space of half a second. The idea glanced through her agitated mind like lightning, but afterward she thought herself of it. But now the young man spake again, and reminded her of his errand.

"My lord Jephthah hath sent thee his blessing through me," he said, "and he prays thee to be of good cheer, and to dread no danger for him."

"I cannot choose but dread," the maiden answered, as she walked beside him to the house, and led the way to where her father's armor lay.

"Nay, but surely," said the young man, full humbly, "thou wilt be a little comforted because of the promise I have given thee."

"Ay," said Namarah, "it doth comfort me much, and I thank thee from my very heart; but the thought of battle ever makes me tremble, although I am a soldier's child. I pray thee, give my loving greeting to my father, and tell him I go at once to pray the God of Israel for his safety."

"Maiden, I also would be thought of in thy prayers," the young man said, half doubtingly; and she answered: "I will pray for thee also, soldier. Tell me thy name."

And he said: "My name is Adina."

Then once more he looked at her, and again his strange look troubled her; and as she stood and watched the goodly figure in its shining armor down the streets of Mizpeh, a wonder got hold upon her that for the first time at the thought of battle her fears were not wholly for her father.

Long time she knelt and prayed, her maidens waiting without; and all her struggle was to recover the lost feeling that her father was her all in all, but another image rose up, over and over again, and would not be forgotten. At last she gave it up, and murmured, half aloud:

"Bless him, even the young man Adina, also. O my God; and bring them back in safety together."

Before the close of day, the streets of Mizpeh rang to the gladdening sound of the victorious return of troops from battle. Namarah, high up in her chamber; watched them with breathless delight, as she saw the body of soldiers coming down the street, and soon she was able to make out the majestic figure of her father, at their head. She was full sure of that, but still, she bent from her window eagerly, and strained her vision to see more. Suddenly, her breath was drawn in panting, and once more the rose was on her cheek. Behind her father she had recognized the tall figure of Adina, and her eyes continually strayed from one to the other, as the setting sun burnished the curls of his golden hair as the young man rode his splendid horse down the streets of Mizpeh.

Honey an Excellent Food.

Scientific men say that honey is a much more healthful sweet than sugar, and has many valuable properties. It is nutritive, and when used freely with bread makes an excellent food for children. It is laxative and may be used advantageously in place of medicine by persons of sedentary lives. Being also the daintiest and most delicious of sweets—an extract of blossoms—it is hardly possible to eat it to an injurious extent. It needs no digestion, as sugar does, and even acts as a digestive aid.

British Troops Kept Busy in Natal as Well as the Orange Free State—Important Battles Expected Soon—Will the Czar Ask Intervention?

Thursday, April 12.

News from South Africa is very meager, but the Boers seem to keep the British troops busy in Natal as well as in the Orange Free State. Roberts' forces are now in good condition, and London war experts expect an important battle at an early date. Paris rumor that the czar has prepared a demand for intervention. Kimberley uneasy owing to Boer activity. Boers moving on Smithfield.

Friday, April 13.

Roberts will send no further troops to Mafeking's relief, depending on Carrington's 5,000 bushmen, who are in that vicinity. London Mail estimates Boer losses to end of March at 12,000. Bloemfontein declares it is in no danger from the Boers. British checked Boer advance at Wepener. Buller holding his own in Natal.

FARMERS IN A BIG TRUST.

International Combine to Hold Up Prices.

All other trusts and combines pale into mere trifles when compared with the trust it is proposed to form among the farmers of the world at the agricultural conference to be held in Paris July 9-16. The farmer has heretofore been held up as the especial sufferer from trusts, but the latter-day farmer reads the papers and by observation finds that a trust may be formed that will benefit him. Consequently the wheat-growing farmer calculates that a trust in his business would enhance prices. In order to make the new combine a success it is necessary to get a majority of the wheat growers into it, and this is to be the object of the conference. It is hoped to arrange to restrict the production, reduce the output by perhaps 20 per cent, and then when the actual number of bushels on hand is closely estimated, to hold the grain until the price reaches a figure determined upon. Dollar wheat is the slogan of the farmer. If the present plans go through it will be impossible to buy any wheat under that figure in the course of two or three years. J. C. Hanley of St. Paul, Minn., executive agent of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial union, the National Cotton Growers' association, the Farmers' Federation of the Mississippi Valley and the National Grain Growers' association, is the chief promoter of the international agricultural trust in America. ener removed. Earlier reports showed British making stubborn resistance, with reinforcements on the way to both armies. Boers destroying all mines in vicinity of Elangslaagte, but unable to get Buller into a genuine fight. Duke of Marlborough appointed assistant secretary to Lord Roberts. Schiel attempted to escape at St. Helena. Boers said to rely on American aid.

Monday, April 16.

News from Boer sources show burghers holding ground near Wepener, with several small victories scouted by London press. Delarey waiting for Methuen near Vaal river. Boers control Bloemfontein water works and are strong at Elangslaagte. The Times says Boer raid upon southern portion of Free State seems to have spent its force. Lourenco Marques reports burghers tired of war and anxious to attend to neglected crops. British claim Boers abandoned Wepener. Mafeking bombarded on April 6.

Tuesday, April 17.

After holding it for two months, war office made public Roberts' report severely criticising Buller and Warren's operations before Ladysmith. London press amazed but approving, and expects generals' resignations. Rumored that Roberts has begun his advance on Pretoria. Firing reported near Thaba N'Chu. Roberts' dispatch stated Boers still surrounded Wepener, but were weakening. Major Armes said he had sent nearly 23,000 Americans to South Africa to join Boer forces.

Cried Three Days and Died.

Frederic Kestermeir of Marietta, Ohio, after a short illness, died Friday morning, aged 83 years. His son, Frederic, Jr., lived with him and they kept house together, all other relatives being dead. Ten minutes after the father died the son, who had cried for three days, went to his bed, threw himself down, and was dead in a few minutes. Physicians say he died of a broken heart.

Mattoon City Hall Doomed.

N. C. Ricker, dean of the College of Engineering, University of Illinois, who was called to Mattoon, Ill., by the city council to examine the city building, the foundation of which appeared to be sinking, has submitted a report condemning the structure. The city acquired it in 1885 and has since occupied it with the city court, fire department, public library and other public offices.

Million for Road and Land.

A heavy transfer of property in the upper peninsula of Michigan was completed in Cleveland when Attorney John M. Duffy of Chicago, representing several Chicago capitalists, purchased and took over all the interests of a number of well-known Cleveland and New York men, including Secretary of State John Hay, Dan P. Eells, Fayette Brown, C. A. Otis and others, in the Munsing Land company and the Munsing Railway company. One hundred thousand acres of hard-wood land and sixty miles of railroad in operation from Munsing bay to Little lake passed into Chicago hands by the transfer. A large sum, said to be near $1,000,000, was paid over. No radical change in either the management or policy of the railroad or land company is expected.

James Tuttle Passes Away.

James Tuttle of Atlanta township, near Lincoln, Ill., whose funeral oration Col. Robert G. Ingersoll had promised to deliver, died Sunday evening. He was past 93 years of age and was a native of Ohio, moving to Illinois when 10 years of age. He amassed quite a fortune at farming. In 1847 he was a member of the old state constitutional convention and for several years was a member of the county board of supervisors. In politics he was always a republican. Mr. Tuttle and Col. Ingersoll were close friends, having become well acquainted when Mr. Ingersoll practiced law in that locality. Mr. Ingersoll years ago promised Mr. Tuttle that when he died he would deliver the funeral oration. The men were of the same belief.

Mary French Field Is Dead.

Miss Mary French Field, aged 75, a cousin of the late Eugene Field and for a number of years his guardian, died suddenly at her home in Amherst, Mass. She had the care of Eugene Field from his seventh to his eighteenth year. In after years Mr. Field was accustomed to visit the town frequently to see his cousin, of whom he was very fond. She leaves a half-brother, S. Minot Jones of Washington, D. C. Her cousin, Roswell M. Field of Chicago, a brother of Eugene, will attend her funeral.

What to Do Until the Doctor Arrives.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. WAUCONDA.

School election to-night.

J. W. Torrence transacted business at Waukegan last Thursday.

Will Wragg of Chicago spent Sunday with friends in our village.

J. E. Pratt of McHenry was a pleasant caller in our village Saturday.

Prof. Hodge of Lake Zurich was a pleasant caller in our village Saturday.

Miss Estella Grace spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives and friends in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Golding visited with relatives at Ringwood last Saturday and Sunday.

Martin E. Fuller of Evanston is spending the week in our village with his brother, H. T. Fuller.

John Putnam returned to our village Tuesday after a week's visit with friends and relatives in Chicago.

Miss Edith Turnbull went to Evanston last Friday where she will spend a week with Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Dutton.

We notice J. E. Gainer is quite a frequent Volo visitor of late. There is no doubt some great attraction in that vicinity.

E. L. Harrison returned to Chicago Sunday, accompanied by Miss Corr, the nurse who attended Mr. Harrison during his illness.

S. Reynolds and daughter, Miss Rosina, of McHenry, and A. W. Reynolds of Chicago spent Sunday with friends in our village.

Carl Erickson went out on the lake Wednesday morning before breakfast and captured a 13-pound pickrel. This looks rather promising for the coming season.

Our deputy game and fish warden, Louis Bruncheon, was given a rather insinuating send-off in the Leader last week and, from the tone of it, would likely have taken offense, but he considered where it came from.

Patrick Kinsala, who on the night of the 17th of March froze his hands so that he has had no use of them since, had two of his fingers amputated Tuesday. Drs. Fegers and Dawson performed the operation.

The board of highway commissioners met in our village last Thursday and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, B. F. Martin; treasurer, H. D. Fisher. It was voted that the poll tax for the ensuing year be $1.25 and a day's labor fixed at $1.25 and man and team $2.50.

Our village election last Tuesday was not as exciting as was the township election a few weeks ago, only twenty-eight votes being cast, twenty-four of which were straight and four scratched. There was but one ticket in the field and the following were elected: President of village, Arthur Cook; village trustees, E. W. Brooks, J. M. Fuller, J. W. Cook; village clerk, K. V. Werden.

The sudden news of the death of Geo. Bruncheon was reported Wednesday evening from his home about two miles south of our village. He had been sick but a short time. An attack of pneumonia soon developed into a serious case and caused his untimely death. Mr. Bruncheon was a strong, robust and apparently healthy man and perhaps never mistrusted death was so near his door until it came. He leaves a wife and three small children to mourn his loss.

OBITUARY.

Robert Harrison, one of our oldest and most prominent citizens, passed away at his home Thursday of last week. He had been troubled with asthma for many years and took a cold which developed into pneumonia and caused his death. The funeral was held from the M. E. church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Dutton officiating, after which the remains were interred in the private cemetery of the Harrison and Carr families at Ringwood.

The deceased was born April 15, 1838, near Toronto, Canada. His parents moved West in 1848 and settled in McHenry county, Ill. Eight years later his mother passed away and in 1884 his father died. He was the eldest of five children, only one, Mrs. Jane Carr, of Ringwood survives. George H. Harrison, a half-brother survives.

The deceased began his school life in a private way and in 1856 he attended the Batavia Institute. In the fall of the same year he came to Wauconda and entered the academy. He was a poor boy and had to earn his own way through school. He entered the race to win. He hired out as a clerk for $7 a month, but anxious to equip himself thoroughly he entered the Bell, Bryant & Stratton Business college. He was under the instruction of Spencer, the founder of the Spencerian system of writing. He graduated in 1860. At the age of 18 Mr. Harrison began life in earnest without a cent, but with what is better, honesty and integrity.

In 1863 he started in business and continued until 1882, when he went to California for nearly a year for his health.

On January 24, 1866, he was united in marriage to Martha J. McClain and three children were born unto them.

As a friend he was ardent, faithful and always true. He was the kind of friend this world of business needs. He took good care of his own affairs which was a virtue, but he took the same care of the welfare of his friends.

As a father he will always be cherished in the very fondest memories for he was all that they could ask. He was firm and decided, but kind and faithful and carried the interests of his home and children constantly in his heart. He would not complain even when he had more to bear physically than his share. He possessed patience and kindness to a remarkable degree and his quiet life will leave its influences.

As a citizen he was the right type. If he knew the right side of anything there he was always found, active for good government and civil rights and good morals, the uplifter of the oppressed and the suppressor of wrong in every form.

He took an active part in politics and was a life-long republican, casting his first vote for Lincoln and has held many prominent offices of honor and trust.

He took an active interest in the Methodist church supporting it in every way he could and so with everything which tendered toward making society better and making his neighbors and friends happier.

It was the friendship of such men as was Mr. Harrison that makes life worth living. He will be missed and mourned not only by his family but by many people who always turned to him for advice and never in vain.

He was a man of sterling character and great ability and we are all better for his having lived so long and honorably. We can thank God for such men and bow in submission to these strange providences.

The Easter exercises held at the M. E. church last Sunday evening was attended by a large audience as usual and the program was carried out in a successful and pleasing manner. The program was as follows:

Anthem, "Herein is Love".....	Choir
Prayer.....	Mr. Dutton

Miss Estella Catlow of Nunda attended the dance given by the Globe club Monday evening.

Misses Emma, Minnie and Lizzie Hoelt of Chicago spent a few days visiting friends and relatives here.

Messrs. James Catlow, A. L. Weaver and M. S. M. West attended the funeral of Mrs. Schufelt at Algonquin.

The dance given by the Glee club Monday evening was well attended. There were thirty tickets sold. Everybody reports a good time.

Our wagon maker, Mr. Kiltz, has turned out three new wagons this spring. If you need anything in this line you will do well to call on him.

The following pupils were neither tardy nor absent last month from Cary school: Walter Wulff, Glen Lindsey, Anna Hapke, Laura Bohl, Walter Hoelt, Andrew Thomas, Bessie Lazansky, Bertha Zulinder, Mary Lazansky, Bennie Zulinder.

Mrs. Excie Schufelt, nee Closson, who died in Algonquin April 12, was buried in Barrington Sunday. The funeral services were held at her home in Algonquin. She was an active member in church work. Her age was 65 years, 4 months and 18 days. She leaves five children to mourn her loss. Her girlhood days were spent in Barrington.

IMMENSE THROG AT PARIS.

The Great World's Exposition Fairly Under Way.

AMERICA'S PART IN THE FAIR.

United States Second Only to France in the Number of Exhibitors—Keepers of Restaurants and Beer Gardens Do a Big Business—Notes About the Fair.

Paris, April 17.—The opening of the exposition to the public Sunday was quite as successful as the formal opening Saturday. Thousands upon thousands of persons thronged the sunny grounds all day long and until a late hour at night, staying to see the illuminations. The moving sidewalk, a feature of the exposition copied from the Chicago World's fair, was declared to be in perfect operation and did a driving business. The only objection to it is the noise it makes. It fills the whole grounds with a low thunder—like the growl of an approaching storm. The restaurateurs and the keepers of beer gardens in "Old Paris" and the Swiss village are satisfied with the outlook. They pronounce the first day's business a splendid augury for the coming days of the fair. In fact, everybody connected with the exposition is in high spirits. Everybody says it is going to be the most wonderfully successful fair in history, past or future; for the French enthusiasm does not balk at extravagance. There are signs in plenty that Paris was not expecting such a great crowd so early in the season. So inadequate are the transportation facilities that they are a mere mockery, and the problem already has become serious. At night neither for love nor for money could one secure a cab, and 500 persons were besieging every twenty-placé omnibus. Yet the crowd for the most part was good-natured, though it must be confessed that one heard a good many complaints in English.

Americans especially will be proud of their country's display at the world's fair, for the United States stands second only to France herself in number of exhibitors, which treble those of any foreign country. The following figures speak eloquently of American enterprise: France, 30,000; United States, 6,564; Belgium, 2,500; Germany, 2,000; Italy, 2,000; Russia, 1,500; Scandinavia, 1,400; Austria, 1,000; Great Britain, 600; British colonies, 600.

America has three times the number of exhibitors that France had at the World's Fair in Chicago. She occupies 323,052 square feet with her forty-seven distinct exhibition spaces—thirty-three in the main exposition grounds, fourteen in the Vincennes annex, excluding the ground covered by our eagle surmounting the national pavilion on the Quai d'Orsay. Gen. Horace Porter, the United States ambassador, after the inaugural ceremony said:

"The present French exposition will attract even greater interest than any previous effort made in Paris to display before the world the products of the various nations. Every government of any importance will be represented, and, in the way of sight-seeing and the gathering of general information, a visit to it will be equal to making a tour of the world. The increase in our commerce with European nations which will result in this systematic and extensive display of products will without doubt enlarge our foreign trade to such a marked degree that the country will be repaid many times for the wise expenditures authorized by the government.

"The friendly intercourse which will take place between prominent and influential people from all lands will do much, it is trusted, to bring about better understandings between the countries and to foster that good will which is so necessary among nations in securing an era of harmony and peace."

United States Commissioner-General Ferdinand W. Peck said:

"The exhibits of the great international exposition inaugurated today, reflecting the arts, sciences and industries of the present age, will be an achievement of heretofore unequalled perfection. At no other similar event have the nations of the world so elaborately and ambitiously participated. The United States will be represented by the largest number of exhibitors of any foreign nation, and the awards for which our exhibitors will struggle will be a test of the quality of our representation, and will evidence the rewards of our achievements."

With the Elysee bedecked with flags, the Place de la Concorde gay with bunting, the boulevards presenting a holiday scene, every ship and palatial store fluttering with banners, and the gates of the exposition open to welcome to its wonders the sightseers of the world, Paris is at high tide in festival matters.

The sight Parisians and others see is well worth crossing the ocean for. From all accounts the present exhibition will far exceed in beauty and effectiveness that of 1873 and the sumptuous effort of 1889.

BROOMCORN IN FROM EUROPE.

First Importation Shows Quality Poorer Than Native Product.

Not until this year has there ever been any broomcorn imported from Europe for the use of the American broom factories. A Chicago firm has received a cargo of 500 tons of corn, which was bought in Hungary, because the price in this country is so high. The "broomcorn trust" has 12,000 tons in hand, but will not sell it for less than $200 a ton. Smaller dealers not in the trust have been selling the same quality of corn for $180 to $190, and this stock is almost exhausted. The Hungarian corn was shipped from Trieste. The ocean freight is about the same as the freight from New York to Chicago. This bush cost less than $120 a ton laid down in Chicago. It is what is known in the broomcorn trade as pale red self-working, and does not compare well with the corn grown in the central Illinois district or in Kansas. The Hungarians raise broomcorn for the seed, which they feed to chickens and cattle.

REBEL LEADER YIELDS.

Gen. Montenegro, Insurgent Leader, a Prisoner.

Gen. Montenegro, one of the insurgents' best fighters, has surrendered to Col. Smith in the mountains near Camaling, in the province of Pangasinan, where, with Gen. Macabulos, he had been trying to reorganize the Filipino army. Col. Smith, with five companies of the Seventeenth regiment, nearly surrounded the force of Montenegro, who, discouraged by the impossibility of making his men stand against the Americans, surrendered. Macabulos escaped. The insurgents have attacked San Jose, in the province of Batangas, and Santa Cruz, on the lake, fruitlessly.

Telegraphers on a Strike.

The threatening trouble of the telegraphers and other station employes of the Southern railway and Alabama Great Southern railway, which has been pending for several months, came to a head at Atlanta, Ga., Thursday when President Powell of the Order of Railway Telegraphers called on the telegraphers to quit work. The trouble commenced early last fall. The Southern railway officials claim tonight that but 10 per cent of the men have quit work, while President Powell of the telegraphers says 90 per cent of them are out. There has been considerable delay to both passenger and freight traffic, but the effect of the walkout is not yet known to the extent which would warrant an assertion as to the situation.

Fleischmanns May Inspect.

Justice Lawrence in the Supreme court of New York granted the application of Mrs. Johanna Fleischmann, widow of the late Maximilian Fleischmann, the elder of the Fleischmann brothers, who made millions out of yeast and distilleries, to permit her lawyers to inspect the books of the firm in the suit brought by her and her children for an accounting of the business since 1890, when her husband died. The suit is brought against the sons of Charles Fleischmann, who died recently, leaving property worth $7,000,000. One of them, Julius, was a week ago elected mayor of Cincinnati, in which city the books required are.

Election in Louisiana.

The election Tuesday in Louisiana for members of the legislature and a full state ticket resulted in democratic success. The ticket headed by W. W. Heard was elected. This was the first election held under the new legislation disfranchising the negro, and the battle at the polls was almost exclusively fought out by the whites. The total registration was 129,000, but owing to the unprecedented weather conditions only about 60 per cent of that registration was polled. The result insures the return of Senator McEnery and the election of Gov. Joseph J. Foster to succeed Senator McCaffery.

Empress at a Ball.

It is said the most conspicuous figure at the court ball held at St. Petersburg a short time ago was, undoubtedly, the empress herself, who wore, in addition to the most magnificent dress and jewels, the historic diamond tiara which belonged to the great Empress Catherine. The crown jewels of Russia are among the finest in existence, and include world-famed stones, notably the Orloff, which is the largest diamond in the world and weighs no less than 193 carats; it was bought for $450,000, an annuity of $20,000 being paid to Count Orloff, and he gave it to the Empress Catherine. It was during her reign that Russia bought the "Moon of Mountains," another of the finest and largest diamonds extant.

Was a Facetious Parson.

A minister in a Pennsylvania town on a recent Sunday surprised his audience by reading the following announcement from the pulpit: "The regular session of the Donkey club will be held as usual after the service. Members will line up just outside the church door, make remarks, and stare at the ladies who pass, as is their custom. Any member known to escort a lady to church like a man and sit with her like a gentleman will be promptly expelled from membership." The effect was marvelous.

Great Ships for the Pacific.

President Hill of the Great Northern Railroad says that for his proposed transpacific steamship line he has ordered vessels that will carry 20,000 tons, or a measurement capacity of over 28,000 tons. In other words, he will have in operation, eighteen months hence, vessels equal in carrying capacity to the Campania and the Lucania combined. The deck room of each vessel will amount to over five acres.

Mark Twain's Bicycle Ride.

Mark Twain related in a recent address that he once set out to ride from Hartford to Boston on a bicycle, got tired of it after five miles, and took an express train. "What time did you leave Hartford?" asked a friend in Boston. "About 7." "What! And you don't mean you've ridden all the way on your bicycle?" "Enough of it," said Twain, "to prove it could be done."

A HINT FOR SPRING.

When Housekeepers Are Brightening the Interiors of Their Homes.

Now that the backbone of this remarkable winter is broken, housekeepers are remarking the dingy look of the home interior. The question of new wall coverings is up. Paper is dear and short lived; kalsomines are dirty and scaly; paint is costly. The use of such a cement as Alabastine, for instance, will solve the problem. This admirable wall coating is clean, pure and wholesome. It can be put on with no trouble by anyone; there is choice of many beautiful tints; and it is long lasting.

National Mining Laws.

The mining laws of the United States apply to Alaska as well as to other portions of the United States. A mining claim upon vein or lode shall not exceed 1,500 feet in length and not extend more than 300 feet on each side of the middle of the vein at the surface. There is no law to prevent parties from locating other claims on the same lode outside of the first location made on the lode or vein.

No man can acquire the doubtful good of extreme wealth without subjecting others to the undoubted evil of poverty.—J. H. Hunt.

The extremes of human emotion are not so far apart as they seem.

I have been troubled for years with scrofula, causing open legs and swellings of the neck—a tumor weighing several pounds upon my neck caused me considerable worry and anxiety. I consulted several physicians for miles around, and the many scars on my neck show how often they felt obliged to cut and lance it.

I had three holes in my right leg, and in spite of constant treatment could get only temporary relief. A friend, having used your Swedish Essence as a blood purifier, urged me to try it; I did so, and after taking the first bottle felt the change in my entire system. I have not had a doctor since. The tumor soon dried up, my neck is now of normal size, my legs are all healed up, and in every way I am as sound a man as Uncle Sam can ever want to drive the Spaniards out of Cuba.

I shall never permit my family to do without this great household remedy, as it saves so many doctor bills throughout the year. JOHN KRIPLEAN.

This remarkable medicine, by removing disease germs from the blood, has an action that affects the entire system. It tones up the stomach and creates an appetite; works on the liver and has a mild, continuous effect upon the bowels, thus cleaning out the entire system. It makes new, rich blood, regulates the heart and kidneys and rids the body of all waste matter. It also induces a gentle perspiration, thus preventing fevers and congestion. Rheumatism, backache and headache, biliousness and all nervous diseases are rapidly cured as well as diseases peculiar to women.

Nothing in the Wide World has such a record for absolutely curing female ill and kidney troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Medicines that are advertised to cure everything cannot be specific for anything.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will not cure every kind of illness that may afflict men, women and children, but proof is monumental that it will and does cure all the ill peculiar to women.

This is a fact indisputable and can be verified by more than a million women.

If you are sick don't experiment, take the medicine that has the record of the largest number of cures.

SCROFULA.

OURTOWN, Wis., April 27, 1895.

I have been troubled for years with scrofula, causing open legs and swellings of the neck—a tumor weighing several pounds upon my neck caused me considerable worry and anxiety. I consulted several physicians for miles around, and the many scars on my neck show how often they felt obliged to cut and lance it.

I had three holes in my right leg, and in spite of constant treatment could get only temporary relief. A friend, having used your Swedish Essence as a blood purifier, urged me to try it; I did so, and after taking the first bottle felt the change in my entire system. I have not had a doctor since. The tumor soon dried up, my neck is now of normal size, my legs are all healed up, and in every way I am as sound a man as Uncle Sam can ever want to drive the Spaniards out of Cuba.

I shall never permit my family to do without this great household remedy, as it saves so many doctor bills throughout the year. JOHN KRIPLEAN.

RECORD OF HAPPENINGS FOR SEVEN DAYS.

Eight Men on Trial for Murder—Peoria Banker Is Dead—Disregard Attorney-General's Authority—Found it Cheaper to Marry—Smallpox at Richview.

Eight Men Are on Trial.
Belleville.—The trial of Charles Hastings, George Godfrey, John Dugan, James McGerchin, Michael Kennedy (alias Harry Wade), Richard Franke, John Bennett (alias Monk Baxter) and John Liddy, under indictment for the murder of Sheriff Barnickol, was begun in the Circuit court, Judge Burroughs of Edwardsville presiding. James Allen, also under indictment for the murder, will be tried at Carlyle this month, having secured a change of venue. Sheriff Barnickol was killed while seeking to prevent a wholesale jail-delivery. The work of selecting a jury to try the indicted men progressed slowly, only three men having been secured. They are John Dahm, farmer; Frank Zoellers, laborer, and Theodore Emery, coal miner.

Peoria Banker Is Dead.
Peoria.—Phillip Zell, one of Peoria's oldest and most prominent financiers and citizens, died at his home in this city last night. He was the sole owner of Zell, Hotchkiss & Co.'s banking house, president of the Peoria National bank and vice-president of the Savings Bank of Peoria, three of the strongest banking houses in central Illinois. He was ill but four days. Mr. Zell was born in Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, in 1829; came to America and located at Madison, Ind., in the distillery business, in 1854. He came to Peoria in 1857 and was prominent in distilling and banking circles ever since.

Funeral of Judge Moos.
Lincoln.—The funeral of the late Judge Emil C. Moos, who died of pneumonia, was held Tuesday afternoon at the First Cumberland Presbyterian church, and was the largest in the history of Lincoln. Thousands attended from all parts of the county and heard a funeral oration delivered by Rev. T. T. Holton. The pall-bearers were members of the Lincoln bar.

Disregard Attorney-General.
Waukegan.—J. M. Foote, supervisor of assessments for Lake county, and the numerous town assessors will disregard the ruling of Attorney-General Akin that assessments cannot be changed this year. They consider it an injustice to the property owners not to correct errors and will await a decision from a higher authority on the legality of their stand.

Found it Cheaper to Marry.
Danville.—Samuel Norton of Cowden and Miss Leefe Shurburn of Shelbyville, Ill., were married here. A short time ago the bride obtained a $10,000 verdict against the groom for breach of promise. She has also pending against him a $10,000 suit and a $20,000 damage suit. The marriage will stop all these legal proceedings.

"Skipping Rope" Kills a Girl.
Belleville.—A skipping-rope contest between children has caused the death of 11-year-old Freda Poignee and occasioned the serious illness of two other children. One little girl established a record of 150 times without rest and her companions attempted to beat this record during recess and before and after school.

Peoria Presbytery.
Galesburg.—At the annual meeting of the Peoria presbytery Rev. William Parsons and James M. Rice of Peoria were appointed delegates to the general assembly at St. Louis. The Peoria overture, which revolutionizes the method of naming the standing committee of the assembly, was approved.

Unemployed Man Took Poison.
Quincy.—James Brothers, aged 28 years, attempted to commit suicide by taking a dose of morphine. Several hours' prompt work by physicians saved his life. He has not had steady employment recently and is supposed to have become discouraged. His relatives live in Moberly, Mo.

Supreme Lodge, M. F. L.
Litchfield.—The second triennial meeting of the supreme lodge of the Mutual Protective league met in this city. About 125 delegates were present. The reports of the various officers took place Wednesday afternoon.

Smallpox Death at Richview.
Richview.—Miss Ayers of Ashley died Thursday of smallpox. This is the first death which has occurred here on account of smallpox.

Never Accepted a Pass.
Senator Bate of Tennessee, a writer in the Washington Post says, is one of those "old-fashioned" statesmen who believe that a legislator should not be under obligation to a corporation. He says that he never accepted a railroad pass. He pays, too, for his telegrams, never even taking advantage of the government rate.

FAIR WOMEN SPEAK.

Pe-ru-na Works Wonders for the Gentler Sex in Catarrhal Ailments.

MRS. COLONEL HAMILTON.

MISS ANNIE WYANDOTTE.

MISS CLARA STOECKER.

That Pe-ru-na has become a household remedy in the home of Mrs. Colonel Hamilton is well attested by a letter from her, which says: "I can give my testimony as to the merits of your remedy, Pe-ru-na. I have been taking the same for some time, and am enjoying better health now than I have for some years. I attribute the change to Pe-ru-na, and recommend Pe-ru-na to every woman, believing it to be especially beneficial to them." Mrs. Hamilton's residence is 259 Goodale street, Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Margarettha Dauben, No. 1214 North Superior street, Racine City, Wis., says: "I feel so well and good and healthful now that pen can not describe it. Pe-ru-na is everything to me. I feel healthy and well, but if I should be sick I would know what to take. I have taken several bottles for female complaint. I am in the change of life and it does me good."

Have you catarrh of the head, throat, lungs, stomach or any other organ of the body? If so, write to Dr. Hartman at once. He will send you directions for treatment without charge. Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.

Miss Annie Wyandotte, queen of the operatic stage and dramatic soprano, says:

"Fifteenth St. and Jackson Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

"Dr. Hartman: "Dear Sir—Pe-ru-na has been my salvation. It has given me back a beautiful voice, a gift of God; it has brought me once more to my old profession. I can talk now, and sing, where before I could scarcely whisper. Can you wonder at my delight? I wish every person who is suffering as I suffered might know Pe-ru-na. Only those who have been afflicted can ever know the intense satisfaction and gratitude that comes with a complete cure. My voice was completely gone. April 15 I felt so elated over the restoration of my voice that I inserted an advertisement in The Star for vocal pupils. The advertisement, which cost me 65 cents, brought me five pupils, and that was the beginning of my present large class. Yours gratefully, "Annie Wyandotte."

A congestion, inflammation or ulceration of the mucous membrane, whether of the head, stomach, kidneys, or other organ, is known to the medical profession as catarrh. It is known by different names, such as dyspepsia, Bright's disease, female complaint, diarrhoea, bronchitis, consumption and a host of other names. Wherever there is a congested mucous membrane there is catarrh, acute or chronic.

Miss Clara Stoecker says: "I had chronic catarrh for over a year. I tried many remedies, but found no relief until I saw an advertisement in the paper of your treatment for chronic catarrh. I tried it and I think I am now well. I recommend Pe-ru-na to all my friends who are afflicted with catarrh." Miss Stoecker lives at Pittsburg, Pa.

Mrs. Margaret Fritz Wilcox, Okla., writes: "I extend my sincere thanks for the good advice you have given me. I do not believe I would be living now if it were not for you. I had suffered with flow of blood for four months, and the doctors could help me but little. They operated on me three times. It was very painful and I only obtained little relief. I was so weak I could not turn in bed. Then I applied to Dr. Hartman. I did not know whether he could help me or not, but I followed his advice, and used only three bottles of Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin. Now I am well and as strong as I ever was, thanks to your remedies." Pelvic catarrh has become so frequent that most women are more or less afflicted with it. It is usually called female disease."

Though we have an excellent water works system and a well equipped fire department still there is one thing lacking and that is some mode of signaling the members of the fire department, who live in different parts of the village, in case of an outbreak of fire. The matter ought to receive an immediate consideration of the village board and some provision should be made.

The annual village school election will be held this evening at the school house. The polls will be opened at 7 o'clock and closed at 9 o'clock. The offices to be filled are as follows: One president of the board for one year and two members of the board of education for three years. It is the duty of every voter to not only go and vote but attend the school meeting which follows the election, at which discussions of interest to the school's welfare are brought before the board.

The irrepressible and doting Mrs. Sweet, with her seven talented daughters, delighted a Barrington audience by a rare exhibition of their versatile genius on Friday evening. Of this galaxy it would be difficult to select the brightest star, as the literary artist, the delicate lecturer, the poet, the pianist, the "most attractive," the "sentimental" and the little glugler, not forgetting the sweet "mamma" all sustained their parts most creditably. The entertainment closed with a beautiful drill which convinced the audience that the young ladies are even more charming in the sublime than in the ridiculous.

The new board of Lake county supervisors convened at the court house, Waukegan, Wednesday for the purpose of organizing. Supervisors Miles T. Lamey and W. F. Hogan were the candidates contending for chairman, M. T. Lamey winning out by a vote of 11 to 8. The board adopted the same rules to govern the body as those in force last year. The new members of the board are Messrs. Raymond, Horburger and Graham, who take the respective places of Cooke, Easton and Waite.

The North-Western's steam plant, located near the E. J. & E. tower, which has been used to heat the coaches of the four Barrington trains, was consumed by fire early Wednesday morning. The loss to the company is not great as the building was a one story frame and of small size. The fire department done excellent work in its effort to save the building but by the time they reached the scene the fire had gained too much headway to save it. The work done by the fire company saved the engine from injury by the constant stream thrown on the ruins and the machinery. The railroad company has had a gang of men since the fire at work erecting a new building which is now nearing completion.

The Barrington camp of Woodmen held an interesting meeting Tuesday evening and nearly eighty Woodmen were present. Will A. Wagner, Louis Gottschalk, Samuel Lan Iwer, Edward Rieke, Wm. Rieke, Conrad Kraus, Al. Kampert, Frank Plagge, Ed Wessel, Fred Schaefer and John Rieke were initiated into the mysteries of the society. Delegations were present from Algonquin and Palatine. Those from Palatine were Dr. G. W. Alverson, C. Lytle, Ben Weniger, Chas. Nichols, J. Jappa, J. Handelman and Horace Alverson. Algonquin camp was represented by Geo. D. Jaynes, M. Kern, W. H. Carter, Otto Syke, J. Walling, Herman Krueger, B. Hazdra, Prof. Fife, John Albright and Herman Greenwood.

Tonight H. J. Barber will give an illustrated lecture at the Baptist church. He has traveled extensively in America and Europe and his lecture will be full of graphic pictures of life as he has seen it. Some beautiful and instructive views in astronomy and geology will help to explain the mysteries of eclipses, comet and ocean tides; the formation of coal, glaciers, etc. Actual photographs of the surrender of old Geronimo, the most savage of Apache Indians, Rocky mountain scenery, the world's great cities and a number of interesting places in the Holy Land, with children's stories and a great number of very amusing scenes. Two hours of pleasure. Mr. Barber comes highly recommended by leading schools of Cook county. He uses a powerful calcium light for projecting the views on a large screen. Admission 10 cents, children under 14 years, 5 cents.

Announcement.

I wish to announce to the residents of Barrington and vicinity that I have purchased and am now in charge of the drug store of the late A. L. Waller and will not only be pleased to meet the old customers but new ones as well. I remain yours respectfully,
CHAS. E. CHURCHILL.

Easter at the Baptist Church.

The teachers of the Baptist Sunday school, together with Mrs. A. L. Robertson, who arranged and managed the program rendered at the Baptist church Sunday evening, deserve a great deal of praise for the pleasing manner in which the exercises were carried out. Village Election.

The village election, which was held in the village hall Tuesday, passed off quietly. The largest number of votes cast at a village election held here was deposited in the ballot box. Nearly three hundred voters turned out at the polls to help their candidates. Five ballots were thrown out by the judges on account of not showing plainly the voters' choice on the ticket.

There was no opposition for president of the board and village clerk and the fight was centered on the trusteeship and as a result the ballots were "cut" considerable. The caucus candidates, however, winning out by safe majorities. The following are the returns:

For pre dent, A. H. Boelmer.....206
For trustee, Henry Doula.....183
" John C. Plagge.....182
" " F. O. Willmarth.....186
" " F. L. Waterman.....122
" " Henry Gieske.....81
For clerk, M. T. Lamey.....211

Jayne-Patzke.

Miss Catherine Patzke and Mr. Arthur Jayne of Chicago were united in marriage at Chicago Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the bride's residence, 647 W. 12th street.

Mrs. Jayne is a popular young lady and has a large circle of friends. Mr. Jayne is well known in Barrington as he lived here from the days of his youth until a few years ago when he located in Chicago.

The happy couple will make their home in Chicago where the groom is engaged in business.

THE REVIEW joins with their many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes.

Gone to Her Reward.

Mrs. Ellen Hudson, aged 72 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Riley, yesterday afternoon after a week's illness. Disease of the liver was the cause of her death. Mrs. Hudson had not been in the best of health the past several years.

Up to going to press last evening the date of the funeral had not been fully decided. It may possibly be held to-morrow.

QUENTIN'S CORNERS.

Misses Mary Quentin and Bertha Sturm were in Palatine Sunday.

P. J. Bockelman and family of Libertyville made a visit here Sunday.

Geo. Heckertswiller of Long Grove is working on the farm for J. Sturm.

Charles Sturm of Prairie View visited his parents and friends here last week.

Fred Hoeft and wife of Lake Zurich made a visit at H. L. Bockelman's on Sunday.

The telephone patronage is increasing and our people are beginning to find it a necessity.

Miss Mary Courtney made a trip to Chicago Saturday to visit with her brother Phillip, who is very ill.

Mrs. Wm. Krueger, jr., is sick with inflammatory rheumatism. Under the care of Dr. Schierding she is getting along nicely.

Phil Young and Henry Wease opened up the fishing season last week. We are unable to learn the exact number they caught.

Fred Eichler has returned from Arlington Heights, where he has worked all winter in Klehm's nursery. He will remain here for the summer.

Wm. Buesching, jr., will go to Lake Zurich the first of May to work in the creamery. Wm. has been employed in the factory here four years. He will be succeeded by George Knigge.

Before long we will be able to write up some weddings, as the moonlight arm-in-arm perambulating is on the increase. Some trip along the telephone line, others take kindly to the lovers' lane and not a small per cent. promenade through the beautiful groves and up the hills?
