There were 21 present for organization and the boys will go ahead and get into shape for playing as rapidly as possible. Another meeting will be held next Thursday night.

Edward Meyer returned from Chicago Wednesday, where he has been acting as conductor on one of the street car lines. His car ran down a vehicle the other day and killed the driver. The conductor and motorman were arrested, as is the case in accidents of this kind. Mr. Meyer says that he nor the motorman were not to blame for the accident as the man killed was intoxicated.

An experience or dollar social will be given by the Palatine Epworth League at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Wood, on Friday evening, Sept. 28. We hope that a great many will come and bring their dollars. The money thus raised will be used to help defray the incidental expenses of the church. Light refreshments, ice cream and cake will be served by the charming hostess.

The republican club met in Knigge's hall last Thursday night to talk over campaign plans. Although a small crowd was present the meeting was a successful one. A marching club was started and twenty-three voters signed besides twelve young men not old enough to vote. The meeting adjourned until next Thursday night, when the marching club will be completed and officers elected. The Glee club made its initial appearance and received a flattering reception and responded to an urgent eulogist. A speaker will be present Thursday night and the Glee club will sing. All invited.

Too Many Wives.

William Seiberg, now of Chicago, who formerly resided in Arlington Heights, married Miss Hannah Klineaus, July 7, 1864, at Wheeling. He deserted her in 1867 and disappeared. He returned to Chicago in Nov. 1899, married Miss Bertha Bohms of Arlington Heights, a prepossessing woman of twenty-three, daughter of F. Bohms, a prosperous farmer. They moved to Chicago. A few months after the Bohms wedding the bride's father was convinced that all was not right.

Attorney Willard Smith of Palatine was retained and Seiberg was arrested in Chicago on the charge of bigamy. The trial took place before Judge Prinderville, Thursday, Seiberg being found guilty and bound over to the criminal court. It was discovered, on cross examination, that Bertha Bohms was his third wife, he having married Miss Eliza Seiner in Ohio in 1869, two years after deserting his first wife. His first wife is living and was present at the preliminary trial.

Must Guard the Crossings.

Of late the railroads traversing Cook county have killed and injured a large number of people at highway crossings. The railroads have not been entirely to blame, carelessness on the part of both those using the crossing and the railway companies. The county board of Cook county has decided to go to war with the railway companies in this matter and County Commissioner Beer is leading the crusade in favor of clear and safe crossings, and at a meeting of the county board, Monday, he introduced the following resolution, which was passed without dissent:

Whereas, The various railway companies operating lines in Cook county are moving their trains at a speed which is a menace to life and limb and property; and

Whereas, In many cases the crossings of highways are not properly protected; therefore,

Resolved, That all companies operating lines of railway in Cook county be and they are hereby ordered to place flagmen or safety gates at each highway crossing along their routes in said county, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to all companies operating in Cook county.

Editor REVIEW:—

One of your subscribers, George Donlea, a prosperous citizen of our locality, handed me your valuable paper bearing date of August 25, and called my attention to an article headed "Sixty-six Years Ago." I was pleased because it was my father and uncle whom you referred to. They settled in what was named Miller's Grove, right amongst the Indians in 1834, in the fall, and I was born there the next July. The Indians were soon after bought out by the government and removed to the vicinity of Keokuk, Ia. I will not recall the hardships, privations and inconveniences which we passed through in the pioneer days.

I hail with joy any news that comes from your town and vicinity. Well do I remember the old settlers, the Jaynes, Householder's Seymour's Allen's Willmarth's, Eicke's, Houth's Devol's, Buckley's, Drake's Waterman's, and many others.

I regard that you are located right in the center of gravity in one of the best states of the union and it is commendable to live in Cook county in the state of Illinois.

Yours truly,
JAMES VAN ORSDOL.

PEPSIN SYRUP CO.

DEAR SIR:—We have been keeping house for five years and are never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. We find nothing to equal it for stomach troubles and my children like it as well as candy. One night recently my wife was giving a dose to our baby (1 1/2 years old) and Nelda (our little girl 4 years old) cried for some, too. Her mamma told her she didn't need it and then she said: "Can't I lick the spoon?" It is so pleasant to take, the effects are so good, we hate to be without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

THE NEW GRAND ARMY CHIEF

SKETCH OF MAJOR RASSIEUR

Major Leo Rassieur is possessed of all the qualifications requisite for an energetic and efficient commander-in-chief. He is not an old man from the veteran line of view—being but 56 years of age.

He was born in Wadern, near Treves, France, April 19, 1844, and came to America with his parents in 1851, when he was 7 years old. His father was a school teacher and settled in St. Louis. Major Rassieur has made that city his home since. He is a lawyer by profession, and for years was judge of the probate court of St. Louis county.

Major Rassieur was one of the youngest soldiers in the Union army. When he enlisted as a private, May 7, 1861, he was but a few days over 17 years old. He went into the service for three months under the first call for troops issued by President Lincoln, and became a member of Company B, First Regiment, Missouri volunteer infantry. Aug. 20, 1861, young Rassieur was mustered out at the expiration of his term of service.

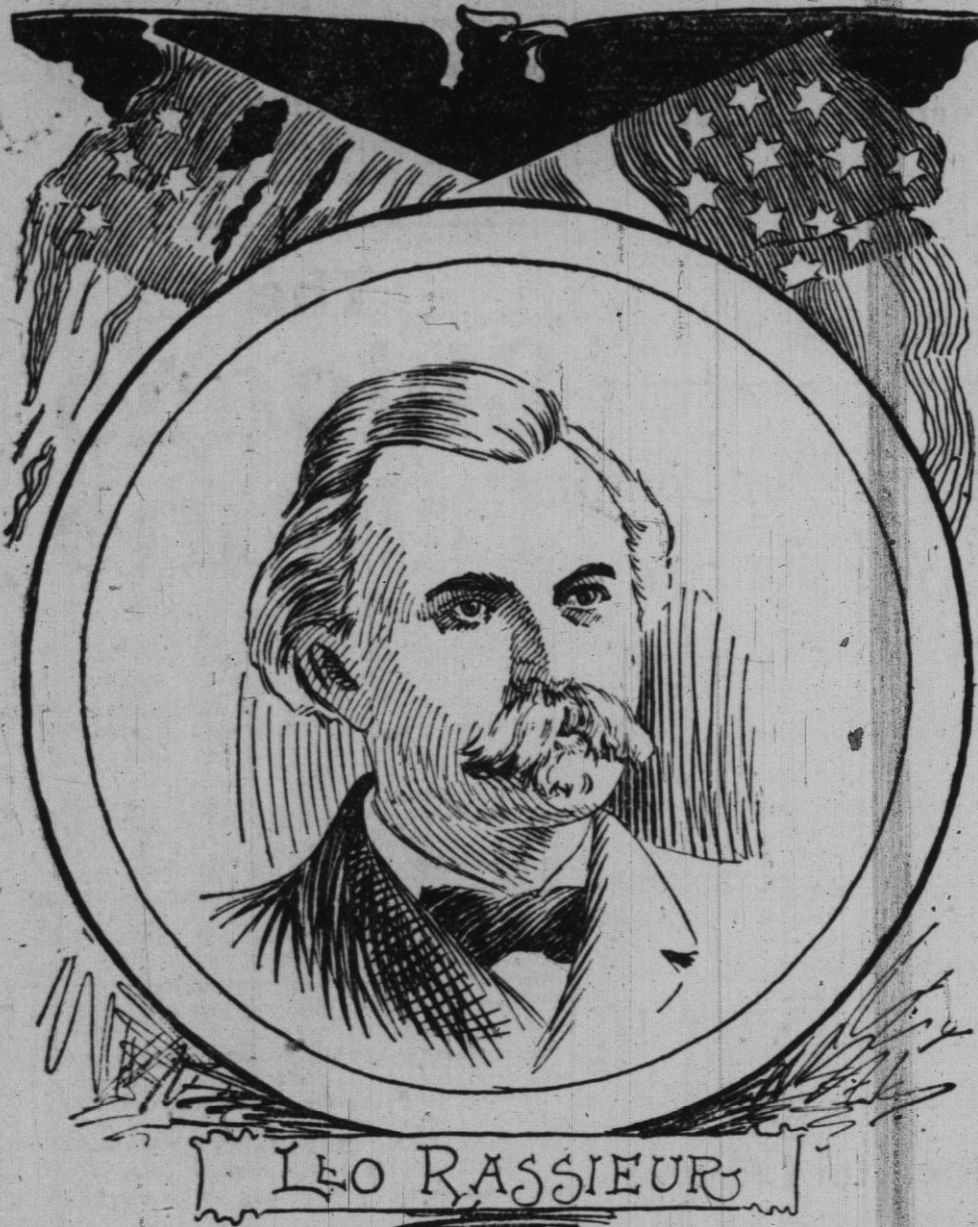

He had been promoted from a private to orderly sergeant, Sept. 7, 1861, he re-enlisted for three years. This time he became a member of Company E of the First Regiment Missouri volunteer infantry, and was soon elected, first lieutenant. April 20, 1862, he was mustered out on account of illness. During his service he served as past adjutant for some time at Warsaw, Mo., under order of General John C. Fremont.

When he recovered his strength, Maj. Rassieur joined his command and saw service under Gen. Grant. In September, 1864, he was elected captain of his company, and a year later was mustered out of the service in Texas, with his commission as major. Returning to St. Louis, Maj. Rassieur became a student of the law.

April 1, 1867, he was admitted to the bar of Missouri. He practiced his profession successfully and came to be known as one of the leading lawyers of St. Louis. He was elected probate judge some years ago, and held the position until recently.

In 1893 he was elected judge advocate general of the Grand Army of the Republic.

GOES WITH HUSBAND

Like other members of her distinguished family, Princess Marguerite of Orleans is of an adventurous disposition. Her husband, Col. de MacMahon, duke of Magenta, has been ordered on active duty in China and, though that country is not now looked upon as a very safe place for women and children, she has decided to accompany him on his dangerous mission. Her brother, Prince Henri, is a noted explorer, having traveled extensively in Tibet, Tonquin, China, India, Madagascar, central Africa and Abyssinia. His daring and energy are beyond question and Marguerite seems to possess a fair share of the same qualities. She was born in 1869. Her hus-

Social Sets' Whereabouts.
Of the 6,000 and odd New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston and Baltimore families who have given their addresses to the Social Register, 3,150 are located inland and 1,683 are at the seashore. Of these latter 325 are at Newport and 221 at Bar Harbor and vicinity. Six hundred and fifty families are on Long Island, of which the Hamptons claim 175, and 197 are on the Connecticut shore of the sound. Since May 1 there have been 204 marriages, a decrease as compared to last year, and seventy-five men and sixty-three women have died. Five hundred and sixty-six families have gone abroad and may be reached through their foreign bankers. This is a slight decrease as compared to last year, notwithstanding the attractions of the exposition.—Chicago Tribune.

Bird Raiser's Proposition.
A local bird fancier, whose specialty is the raising of homing pigeons, has of late been somewhat discouraged over the numerous losses of his pets. He has found that many of the birds when sent long distances wander from a straight course and are never after heard of again. After giving the matter considerable thought he finally told a friend that he had hit upon a plan whereby he would obviate losing pigeons in the future. His scheme is to raise a new species of birds, a composite of homing pigeons and parrots, so that when a bird loses its way it can ask to be directed properly.—Philadelphia Record.

GALVESTON TO BE REBUILT.

Promise of a New City on the Island.

"CLEAN-UP" IS THE MOTTO.

Gov. Sayers Holds Conference with Local Relief Committees from the Storm-Swept Towns—Outside Laborers to Do the Work at Galveston.

Galveston will rise greater and better than ever. The activity, energy and pluck displayed in the streets during the last two days is a beginning to make Galveston greater than ever. On every corner is the sign: "Clean Up." Stores are open and women are shopping. Tremont street is open from the bay to the beach. Mechanic street, the Strand, Winnie and Church streets are being rapidly cleared. The city is reviving under the stimulating influences of fire, lime and carbolic acid. Lime is everywhere and more is wanted. It is spread on the streets, poured in gutters, on sidewalks, and in cellars. There are no more distressing objects in the business sections. Thousands of men are at work removing the debris and burning it. The millionaire and the negro work side by side. The rich woman has donned a wrapper and with sleeves rolled up is teaching her maid how to labor in an emergency. Busy as bees but faintly represents the spirit of the people of Galveston. There is so much of hopefulness in their manner and expression that the future is certain—Galveston will rise greater and better than ever. Even the laborers and the workmen are full of this spirit. The thousands employed burning the wrecks do their work with a will.

Gov. Sayers has had conferences with relief committees from various points along the storm swept coast. Among the first committees to arrive was one from Galveston, comprising Messrs. Skinner, Goree and Spencer. As a result of this conference it was decided that the state adjutant-general, Gen. Scurry, should be left in command of the city, which is still to be considered under military rule, and that he was to have the exclusive control not only of the patrolling of the city, but of the sanitary forces engaged in cleaning the city. It was decided also that instead of looking to the laboring people of Galveston for work in this emergency an importation of outside laborers to the number of 2,000 should be made to conduct the sanitary work while the people of Galveston were given an opportunity of looking after their own losses and rebuilding their own property without giving any time to the city at large. It is believed that with the work of these 2,000 outside laborers it will require about four weeks to clean the city of debris, and in the meantime the citizens can be working on their own property and repairing damage there. Cash contributions sent to the governor will be turned over to Chairman Sealey of the local committee at try sufficiently large to relieve the immediate wants as to food and clothing, and in the meantime the people of Galveston are recovering themselves, and I have no hesitancy in expressing the firm conviction that a strong reaction has already set in, and that in a short while the city will be in a condition to resume its normal and progressive position in commercial life. After a full conference with an authorized committee from Galveston I am more than convinced that the people will be able, with the assistance already given, to handle the situation successfully.

Information has been received from the penitentiary authorities at the convict farm on Clemens plantation, near Velasco, that eighteen convicts had been drowned or killed during the storm, and two others were badly injured. The penitentiary officials estimate that the share farms of the state have been injured to the extent of $100,000.

Galveston Needs $5,000,000.

To put Galveston on her feet will require $5,000,000. Such is the opinion of Congressman Hawley, one of the representative business men. This does not mean that the sum mentioned will come anywhere near restoring the city to the condition before the storm. Far from it. Mr. Hawley does not so intend to be understood. He was asked: "What measure of relief will burn your dead, clean and purify your streets and public places, feed and clothe the living, and place your people where they can be self-sustaining and on the way to regain what has been lost?" His reply was: "It will take $5,000,000 to relieve Galveston from the distress of the storm. At least that sum will be needed to dispose of the dead, to remove the ruins, and to do what is right for the living. I think that we ought to have some means to help people who have lost everything to make a start toward the restoration of their homes. To do this will require every dollar of $5,000,000." Twenty thousand survivors of the Galveston disaster are being fed and cared for by the relief committee.

With a Necklace of Sausages.

To obtain money with which to purchase her trousseau and a housekeeping outfit Josephine Stewart, aged 20, of Chicago, admitted that for six months she had been assisting her fiancé, William Deutschmann, a watchman at Armour's packing establishment, Lincoln avenue and George street, in a systematic robbery. The girl and her mother were arrested coming from the packing house with many pounds of meats and sausages concealed under their capes. Links of sausage were wound round the girl's neck like a chain. Armour & Co. refused to prosecute. Deutschmann was held on a charge of larceny.

A WEEK IN ILLINOIS.

RECORD OF HAPPENINGS FOR SEVEN DAYS.

Appellate Court at Mount Vernon Gives an Important Decision of Interest to Stock Companies—Woman Prefers Death to a Trial.

Lost by the Board of Review.
The appellate court, Fourth district, in an important decision at Mount Vernon in the case of the people vs. Daniel W. Goodman, secretary, finds in favor of Goodman. Goodman was indicted and convicted for refusing to take oath to answer questions as to ownership and valuation of building association stock when interrogated by the board of review of Union county. This is said to be the first case in which the courts have construed section forty-two of the late Illinois revenue law. The court holds that one cannot be indicted for refusing to take an oath, and that proper penalty is a fine for contempt of court. The important question in the case, however, was Goodman's refusal to disclose the ownership and valuation of the stock in the association. The appellate court finds that the board of review had not complied with section forty-two, which permits it to summon any assessor or deputy or other person to be inquired of, under oath, as to the method by which he fixed any valuation returned by him. The court further finds there must first be a return by the assessor or deputy before the board can summon witnesses and inquire of them as to correctness. The decision of the Union county court was reversed without remanding the case. The question involved is of infinite importance to building associations, banks and all other stock companies.

Acts of the Central Verein.
Among the most vital actions of the German-American central verein convention, just closed at Peoria, may be classed the resolution favoring a federation of all Catholic societies of America, the reorganization of the widows and orphans' fund on a savings bank plan, the donation of $100 to the aid of sufferers in Galveston, resolutions authorizing the publication of certain new Catholic literature, resolutions protesting against discrimination against the religious orders in the Philippines and a resolution demanding more chaplains in the United States army and navy. The Young Men's society elected officers as follows: President, the Rev. Charles J. Hutter, Detroit, Mich.; first vice president, Joseph H. Toeniskoetter, St. Louis; second vice president, Joseph B. Blaine, Belleville, Ill.; recording secretary, W. B. Heimgartner; corresponding and financial secretary, H. L. Reed, Milwaukee, Wis.; treasurer, H. Hadank, Peoria, Ill.; protector, the Right Rev. Bishop Messmer, Green Bay, Wis.

Franchise for Trolley Road.
The city council of Waukegan passed an ordinance granting the Waukegan, Fox Lake and Western Railroad company the right to lay single or double tracks on Washington street, west to the city limits, the Chicago and Milwaukee line having forfeited its rights to the street. By supplying the road with its needed eastern terminal this action practically assures the building of the line, as it had previously secured from the county board and private owners a right-of-way from Waukegan to Fox Lake. The local company promoting the road, of which R. D. Wynn is president, is backed by eastern capitalists. They expect to have the road graded this fall, and to start it about May 1. It will be a single track electric line, and may ultimately reach Lake Geneva, Wis.

Prefers Death to a Trial.
Mrs. Maud Newland, wife of Dr. Frederick A. Newland, rather than face trial and imprisonment, committed suicide at Galesburg by shooting herself through the heart. Shortly after mailing letters in the postoffice, she was arrested on a complaint issued by United States Commissioner Humphrey of Chicago which charged both Dr. Newland and his wife with violating the postal laws in sending through the mails letters and circulars advertising drugs they made. The Newlands operated under the title of the Florian Remedy company from Buffalo, N. Y., Peoria, Burlington and Monmouth and for six months at Galesburg. Mrs. Newland was to have gone to Canton for a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Grant.

Heroines of Jericho Election.
The annual state convention of the Heroines of Jericho was held at DeCATUR. The following officers were elected: G. M. A. M., Mrs. A. O. Parker; S. J. M. A., Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly; secretary, Mrs. Mamie Bish; treasurer, Mrs. Charity Valentine; O. G. K., Mrs. Jennie Washington; J. G. K., Maggie Huffman; G. J., Matt Hultitt; grand directors, Louis Ernest and J. W. Woodford.

NURSES AT THEIR WORK OF MERCY IN THE STRICKEN CITY—DRAWN FROM LIFE.

Galveston in such quantities as are required from time to time. The committee from Galveston stated that Galveston would most certainly be rebuilt. Another relief committee from Velasco, headed by Louis Bryan, reported that 2,000 persons were in destitute circumstances, without food, clothing, or homes. Crops have been totally destroyed, all farming implements were washed away, and the people have nothing at hand with which to work the fields. A relief committee from the Columbia precinct reported 2,500 destitute. Other sections sent in committees and as a result of all Gov. Sayers ordered posthaste shipments of supplies.

It was estimated the total subscription lists to Friday at Austin and at Galveston had reached $1,300,000.

Gov. Sayers states that as soon as possible he will prepare a list of subscriptions by states and give it out.

Little encounters that may yet lead to serious difficulties are taking place with considerable frequency on the Roumanian border, where both Roumania and Bulgaria have concentrated large forces. Indians Want a New Treaty.

All the chiefs of the great Sioux nation, from Rosebud, Pine Ridge, Cheyenne and Lower Brule, assembled at Standing Rock and discussed the Black Hills treaty. They claim the treaty is invalid, as three-fourths of the Indians did not sign. The Indians do not desire to reclaim the hills, but wish to negotiate a new treaty upon an equitable basis. A delegation will go to Washington.

Bitter fighting does not necessarily mean personal abuse or unsavory remarks. Keep your temper. Work for your party and stand by your convictions—work all night and talk all day if you find it essential to your success. It will irritate you and cause dyspepsia, but you can find relief for that in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed by Chas. E. Churchill.

The lawsuit at the village hall Saturday was a very exciting one and on the whole seemed to be a queer mix-up. State's Attorney Heydecker of Waukegan acted as prosecuting attorney and Attorneys M. C. McIntosh and H. B. Burritt conducted the case for the defendant, Mr. Hawley. Mr. Sommerfeldt of Honey Lake was the star witness for the prosecution and did his part well and prospects looked favorable for conviction, but Judge Torrance decided there was no cause for action.

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

The republican rally Wednesday evening was well attended, considering the stormy weather and the only regret and disappointment of the meeting was the absence of the Apollo quartet of Waukegan, which was detained by the inclement weather. The meeting was opened by martial music, after which George R. Lyon of Waukegan, our state representative, was introduced and made a short address, closing by giving a brief history of the state and county candidates.

E. D. Shurtleff of Marengo, candidate for state representative, was introduced and made a brief address.

Martial music was next on the program, followed by the introduction of S. D. Talcott of Waukegan, candidate for state's attorney of our county. He was introduced as the man with the feeble voice but the audience soon realized the contrary. Mr. Talcott's address was confined to the general prosperity of the country today.

L. O. Brockway, candidate for circuit clerk, was introduced and in a few sentences told the audience he was no political speaker but was there to present himself as a candidate and hoped the republicans would give the ticket as good support as in the past.

Another selection by the martial band was rendered, after which Hon. George Edmund Foss, congressman from this district, was introduced, closing the addresses for the evening. Mr. Foss has always been an able speaker and has lost none of his ability in this campaign. He expounded the leading issues, trusts, imperialism etc. in a most thrilling and able manner. His discourse was lengthy, but heid the audience to the end.

FARM FOR RENT—The Higley and Wyley farm, comprising about 300 acres, will be rented for a term of years to responsible tenant. Inquire of Fred Hobelin, Barrington.

A new remedy for biliousness is now on sale at Chas. E. Churchill's drug store, Barrington, and A. S. Olin's drug store, Palatine. It is called Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. It gives quick relief and will prevent the attack if given as soon as the first indication of the disease appears. Price 25 cents per box.

The Eagle Got the Fish.

At this junction of the thoroughfare and Island lake on a dead pine more than 100 feet high sat a white headed eagle. In the air a large fishhawk was sailing over the water looking for his dinner 200 or 300 feet below him. What penetrating orbs of vision nature has endowed this bird with! There, he gives his lightninglike shot to the water, seems almost submerged, only to reappear with a four pound pike in his talons. Slowly he rises, going toward the woods, where he hopes to enjoy his well earned meal, but he has reckoned without his host. The king of birds has been watching his every movement and, if found successful, is in readiness to exact that tribute which the stronger always demands and compels from the weak. Almost quick as thought the eagle is pursuing the hawk, and for a little while a merry chase it is. But the eagle is the master, and the hawk instinctively feels it, as after a sudden, violent swerve, only just to evade the terrible claws of the now enraged eagle, he drops the prize and slowly files to the other end of the lake. There is no need for haste now, as the master was after tribute, not the hawk. Payment having been made by relinquishing valuable property, the eagle once more displays his wonderful activity by catching the pike before it strikes the water and then as leisurely to cover to gormandize.—Forest and Stream.

Under Water.

Strange acquaintances are to be made under water. H. Phelps Whitmarsh, who for a time adopted the calling of pearl fisher in Australian waters, tells this story of meeting a submarine monster: "It was a muddy day, and everything in consequence looked blurred and exaggerated. In the yellow distance I saw an immense dark object moving slowly toward me. As it came nearer I made out a central body with several great arms, or feelers, waving rhythmically. My heart was in my mouth. "I felt sure it was an octopus. Then, when I was about to stir up the mud at my feet to avoid being seen, I discovered that the enemy was nothing more than a fellow diver. The feelers I had imagined were his arms, legs and lines. "A shadowy giant about 12 feet high, with huge hands and a head like a small barrel, was approaching. He walked slowly, his heavy boots raising the mud behind him like a cloud of dust, and his great central eye gleamed darkly. Although I knew him to be a man, it was with difficulty that I refrained from taking to my heels. At sight of me he, too, was startled, but he quickly recovered, and we shook hands. Then we nodded, grinned, showed each other the state of our bags and parted."

A Jolly Funeral.

An Italian doctor named Louis Cortuso, who died in the eighteenth century, left some curious instructions as to the manner of his burial. This gentleman, by his will, forbade his relations to weep at his funeral on pain of being disinherited and appointed him or her who should laugh the longest and loudest the principal heir and legatee. Not a stitch of black was to be displayed either in the house in which he should die or in the church in which he should be buried. They were both to be strewn with flowers and green boughs on the day of his funeral. Instead of the tolling of bells lively music was to accompany his body to the church, and 50 minstrels were to march with the clergy sounding their flutes, trombones and trumpets. The bier was to be carried by 12 marriageable girls clothed in green, to each of whom the testator bequeathed a sum of money for her dowry. Lastly, no one in the procession was to wear black. All these orders were absolutely carried into effect.—Household Words.

Straw Horseshoes.

Straw is put to strange uses in Japan. Most of the horses are shod with straw. Even the clumsiest of cart horses wear straw shoes. In their case the shoes are tied around the ankles with straw rope and are made of the ordinary rice straw, braided so that they form a sole for the foot about half an inch thick. These soles cost about a half penny per pair, and when they are worn out they are thrown away. Every cart has a stock of fresh new shoes tied to the horse or to the front of the cart, and in Japan it was formerly the custom to measure distance largely by the number of horseshoes it took to cover the distance. So many horseshoes made a day's journey, and the average shoe lasted for about eight miles of travel.

"My wife," he said proudly, "has been known as the queen of hearts." "No doubt," they answered. "It was because she took the knave."—Chicago Post.

FOR HOMESEEKERS.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will sell regular Homeseekers' Excursion tickets to all points in South Dakota, at one fare plus $2 for the round trip, on September 18 and October 2, 1900. This will enable parties to visit the Corn Belt Exposition to be held in Mitchell, S. D., September 26 to October 4, 1900, inclusive. This exposition is held to demonstrate the great agricultural resources, wealth and possibilities of this thriving state. The exposition is held in a gorgeously decorated corn palace which for beauty can hardly be excelled anywhere by a building of a temporary nature. There are thousands of acres of cheap lands left in South Dakota that will, under the present conditions in that state, rapidly increase in price, and the holding of this corn palace with its many attractions, that both amuse and instruct, should be an opportunity that all land and investment seekers should embrace.

For further information apply to any ticket agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, or address Geo. H. Heafford, General Passenger Agent, Chicago.

Fills a Long Felt Want.

Andrew Lang, the prince of literary critics in England, has just filled "a long felt want" by announcing the principle that the name of Omar Khayyam is "a kind of shibboleth of cheap culture." Mr. Lang was one of the first to praise the beauties of the immortal tentmaker's verse while the Persian poet was yet "untranslated," save by Fitzgerald. Since that time Omar and his philosophy, as interpreted by Fitzgerald, have been taken up by the kind of people who organize Browning clubs. Mr. Lang is not only England's foremost critic, but is likewise a philologist and anthropologist of note and

The bishop of London is an ardent admirer of the classics. He is credited with the remark that the happiest years of his life were the ten during which he kept to a resolution that he would read no book written later than 1600.

Aged 22. Eleven Children.

One Paris "grand dame" is bound that France shall not be depopulated. The Viscountess De Rochemaille is twenty-two years of age, has been married five years, and is the mother of eleven boys, of whom the eldest is not quite four years of age. In League with Britain.

Dom Carlos I., king of Portugal, is sending a force of 1,000 Portuguese soldiers to South Africa, and the little kingdom in the Spanish peninsula is assuming a new importance. It is said that a secret treaty exists between Britain and Carlos by which Delagoa bay will be practically controlled by the foreign office in London. This arrangement, if it exists, recognizes the annexation of the Boer republics and regards the Boers as mere rebels. King Carlos has never been unfriendly to England. On his visits thither he has been the recipient of genuine hospitality. It would not be surprising, therefore, were Kruger and other Boer leaders denied a refuge in Portuguese Africa in view of the alleged understanding with Great Britain. The Portuguese king is 37 years old. His queen is the Princess Amelle, daughter of the late Comte de Paris.

PRESIDENT TYLER'S DAUGHTER, A Venerable Lady of Noble Lineage Speaks a Timely Word.

WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

"One of the most aristocratic faces seen in Washington is that of Mrs. Semple, daughter of President Tyler. She has passed her 80th year and yet retains an exceedingly youthful complexion. Personally she is charming, and impresses one as stepping out of the European courts," so says the National Magazine, under the heading "Social Sideights at the Capital."

The following is a letter from this interesting lady, written from the Louise Home, Washington, D. C., to the Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, concerning their great catarrh tonic, Peruna. Mrs. Semple writes:

Gentlemen—Your Peruna is a most valuable remedy. Many of my friends have used it with the most flattering results and I can commend it to all who need a strengthening tonic. It is indeed a remarkable medicine. Sincerely, Letitia Tyler Semple.

Farming in South Africa.

Farming in South Africa really seems to offer a brilliant opening. A young Englishman, in plowing land in a disaffected district, has had a first crop of three Mausers, three months' provisions and 400 rounds of cartridges. With fine weather he hopes to raise a ten-pounder. The soil in rebel farms he describes as the most fertile. —Vanity Fair.

For there is no heroic poem in the world but is at bottom a biography, the life of a man; also, it may be said, there is no life of a man, faithfully recorded, but is a heroic poem of its sort, rhymed or unrhymed.—Carlyle, "Sir Walter Scott."

How Mothers may Help their Daughters into Womanhood

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. That daughter is a precious legacy, and the responsibility for her future is largely in the hands of the mother. The mysterious change that develops the thoughtless girl into the thoughtful woman should find the mother on the watch day and night. As she cares for the physical well-being of her daughter, so will the woman be, and her children also.

When the young girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she experiences headaches, dizziness, faintness, and exhibits an abnormal disposition to sleep, pains in the back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike for the society of other girls, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then the mother should go to her aid promptly. At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance in this hour of trial.

The following letters from Miss Good are practical proof of Mrs. Pinkham's efficient advice to young women.

Miss Good asks Mrs. Pinkham for Help.

June 12th, 1899. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been very much bothered for some time with my monthly periods being irregular. I will tell you all about it, and put myself in your care, for I have heard so much of you. Each month menstruation would become less and less, until it entirely stopped for six months, and now it has stopped again. I have become very nervous and of a very bad color. I am a young girl and have always had to work very hard. I would be very much pleased if you would tell me what to do."—MISS PEARL GOOD, Cor. 29th Avenue and Yeslar Way, Seattle, Wash.

MISS PEARL GOOD

The Happy Result.

February 10th, 1900. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough. It is just simply wonderful the change your medicine has made in me. I feel like another person. My work is now a pleasure to me, while before using your medicine it was a burden. To-day I am a healthy and happy girl. I think if more women would use your Vegetable Compound there would be less suffering in the world. I cannot express the relief I have experienced by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MISS PEARL GOOD, Cor. 29th Avenue and Yeslar Way, Seattle, Wash.
