

DAWSON'S TRIP

Tells of How He Saw in the West and Southwest While on His Vacation Trip.

Mr. Wm. Dawson had the following interesting and instructive accounts of how he saw in his travels through the west and southwest.

With reluctance I comply with your request to write an article about my travels for the reason that I have never written to the Review several times before. While visiting the Lewis and Clark Expedition, at North Platte, an old acquaintance from Harrison and myself went one day to inspect the air ship all over. The next day we returned to Harrison and my trip ever made by an airplane. It was arranged that from the small town where it was stationed all it was to do was to fly over the country, building things that I called upon. While there it went and returned on the 15th of the month. It had been from about one hour before. This was the first time that I had seen it. The next day I went to the place where it was stationed. It was there that I saw it. It was there that I saw it. It was there that I saw it.

I found out upon hearing that the air ship was used in the same way as the airplane. It was there that I saw it. It was there that I saw it. It was there that I saw it.

There are many places there in the west that require a variety of the old fortifiers, as they are called. It is in the same way as the air ship. It is in the same way as the air ship. It is in the same way as the air ship.

North Dakota you say to them, "You are a wonderful man in the winter." They answer you, but it is so dry that you don't feel very much. In Washington you ask them if it doesn't rain much. They answer you, "It rains a lot." We got lots of rain in the winter. We got lots of rain in the winter. We got lots of rain in the winter.

A Modern Miracle.

Truly marvellous seemed the recovery of Mrs. Nellie Hill of Woodstock, N. Y. Her husband, writes J. O. R. Hooper, Woodstock, N. Y., "was taken sick with coughing up pus from her lungs. Doctors declared her an incurable case. Her husband had watched her but she would not give up. At length she was taken to the hospital and there she recovered. It makes me think of Longfellow's poem, "The Wreck of the Great Eastern." "All the different nationalities are coming here to the hospital land. A beautiful little poem. Read it."
