MAKING MARKED HEADWAY.

Prof. Seaver's School of Music Pupils Over Planning Recital.

The recital of the season given by the pupils in the instrumental department of the Normal School of Music on Wednesday afternoon was well attended.

The pupils presenting the program deserve hearty praise for the able manner in which their selections were given. The recital was well attended by all the piano numbers and students of the violin number were recognized and played to the satisfaction of those who had a higher degree of efficiency than most.

Mr. J. J. Sears also gave the report of his instruction talks on the "History of Music." During the past two years Mr. Sears has made a specialty of this subject, preparing his work books on this subject, which are now in use. He has a number of excellent books, which are now in use.
