

WESTERN MANHOLE BARRELS DROP RETURNS

Barrel returns in the Canadian West, in the past year, have approached the national level, but are no nearer to a corresponding increase will not return to previous years. The returns were particularly noticeable in the Northwest Territories, where the returns were 100 percent above the national average in the last period.

The yield has been unusually good every year except 1930, when there appeared to have been a slump all along the line. This, however, was more a result of the unusually low returns of the province, where the bumper crop in wheat and barley was not followed by a corresponding increase in the following years, when the bumper crop in wheat and barley was not followed by a corresponding increase in the following years, when the bumper crop in wheat and barley was not followed by a corresponding increase in the following years.

	West.	Northwest Territories
1928	408.920	106.671
1929	403.633	104.830
1930	427.974	107.812
1931	440.297	109.489
1932	452.164	111.765
1933	466.560	114.950
1934	482.216	118.242
1935	492.825	120.434

The future of the Canadian West is not as bright as it once was. It is no longer the great wheat and barley producing region it once was. It is no longer the great wheat and barley producing region it once was. It is no longer the great wheat and barley producing region it once was. It is no longer the great wheat and barley producing region it once was.
