NEARER TO PRISON

SENTENCES OF GOMPER, MORRISON AND GIBSON AFFIRMED.

CHIEF JUSTICE DISSENTS

Court of Appeals Hands Down Sentence in Famous Book Store Boycott Case Against

Washington.—The district court of appeals Tuesday affirmed the decree of the supreme court of the District of Columbia in the case of Gomer, Morrison and Gibson, who were sentenced to prison for their part in the boycott of the American Federation of Labor's office in Washington. Chief Justice Shippard dissented from the majority opinion.

The effect of the decision will be that Mr. Gomer and the other defendants will have to go to prison for a term of one year, to be served from December 22, 1928, when Gomer was arrested, to the expiration of the term, to be served from December 22, 1929, when Morrison was arrested, and to the expiration of the term, to be served from December 22, 1930, when Gibson was arrested.

The case grew out of the alleged boycott of the company's products and the sending of letters to the publisher of the company on the subject, and the alleged refusal of the company to accept the letters.

The officials of the federation brought the case to the attention of the court, and the court found in favor of the defendants.
