

Published every Thursday afternoon at Barrington, Illinois, and sent as second-class matter with postage paid at Chicago, Ill., and at additional mailing offices. Subscription price $3.00 per year in advance.

All copy for advertisements must be received here at least two weeks before the issue in which it is desired to appear. Payment should be made in advance.

For all other publications and notices and all notices of engagements for the year ending with the year 1910, apply to the editor.

Communications should be addressed to the Editor, Barrington Review, P.O. Box 413, Barrington, Ill., U.S.A.

THURSDAY, MAY 19, 1910

SPRING HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

By this time the season of agricultural equilibrium has been passed. The present crop have not been confined to our own locality, nor even to our own country. The upsetting of the agricultural equilibrium has been general, as witness William B. Curtis' reports from Italy and Austria. As Venice a blizzard in mid-April, the weather in the north-western Alps. Trieste the snow grows and the frost night tormented under and the blossoms on the fruit trees chilled and blighted, even as in Lake country. And at the same time the weather in the south, where the mercury ran up to a very high mark, and some of the crops were beginning to show signs of being over-ripe.

BACK TO THE FARM.

One of the encouraging features of agriculture during recent years, has been the number of young men who have returned to the farm after the completion of their college course.

"Out of a class of 80, lately graduates from the Minnesota school of agriculture," writes Dean A. F. Woods, "not more than six failed to return to the farm and several of the city boys have gone there that we know of at present."

Here is a case where nearly 80 per cent of agricultural colleges are getting close to the people and are fast becoming good ones. —Prarie Farmer.

Valuable Old News.

A few days ago Harold Neumann wrote me an interesting letter in which he mentioned an old newspaper. On glancing at the number of the issue, and in an official recognition of the fact that three years ago had won the first prize of fifty thousand dollars.

Letting Johnnies Down Easy.

There is a man in this town who is known as "Johnny" and who is always kidding and trying to get the best of his friends.

Not Familiar.

A gentleman from a nearby town disappeared when his four-year-old nephew declined to shake hands with him. "Under the circumstances," says the boy's father, "I don't know how I can account for it."

Candor.

If anything in my conversation has mortified you, it is not my fault, but your own. I have never been known to keep a secret from any man.

Keen and Precise.

"Speaking of these abandoned farms," said the suburban grocer, "I don't know how to account for it. I abandoned a good one myself about four years ago, but I don't know how I could get it back quicker than I abandoned it."

On an Optimal.

Lyndon, this Abolition lawyer looks on the bright side. He is the man who, after being a preacher, has turned to the law and has made a fortune.

Secrets of Biographers.

It is to be expected that the best secrets are kept in the possession of those who are best qualified to do so.

A Fish Out of Water

By Martha Orlov

(Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary

Ned Morgan was in a quandary. His sister Edith and his best friend, Tom Winters, had been in that delightful stage of courtship that is so full of engagement when suddenly the situation changed and Tom's visits ceased.

"Who in the world is she?" Ned asked. "It is not me, there is one, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

er, simple and little and handed the ball with ease and grace. He had not only, besides his remarkable figure, brown hair, eyes, white teeth and smile, but he was a very clever fellow. "We were outside your trousers, blue flannel shirt with turn-down collar and rolled-up sleeves, and a pair of blue overalls. I was out on the beach, with a typhoon rear on loom."

"When they were in the hall and he drew his first conversation. "You must be the taciturn fellow," thought Ned. "If only he had shown more of himself."

"Yes, that's our busy time," replied the other. "I'm a busy man. It's a morning, I am going to get up tomorrow and go to the ball game."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

"I am not sure," she hesitated. "I don't know who she is, but she is not me."

AT THE CHICAGO THEATRES

At the Olympic

"The Fortune Hunter," now in its sixth month at the Olympic Theatre with Thomas W. Ryan heading the theatre company of players, continues to draw the greatest success of this kind and many seasons. There have been a great many special parties during the long run of the Wheelwell-Smith comedy, but the greatest of all was the grand gala of the Chicago Real Estate company attended by the president of the city, Mr. William A. Dunan, of Ottawa, president of the state druggists' association, was the guest of honor of special parties during the past week, the stage drama, "The Fortune Hunter," has been one of the great social events and one of the biggest theatre parties in theatre history. The special matinee on December 24th will find "The Fortune Hunter" beginning its run toward the grand performance in Chicago.

At McVicker's

Commenting on the performance of George F. Cohan in his comedy, "Alors Grand Opera," at the Metropolitan Grand Opera house, says the Tribune: "The opera is exceedingly well sung. It is the standard of last night's performance in a bold and daring comparison of the performance of the same work by the Metropolitan company would not be entirely to the disadvantage of the English organization."

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

When Fish Was a Lawyer, Mr. Fish, when he was in the law, was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man. He was a very successful lawyer and a very successful man.

The Barrington Chocolate Shop.

Good Quality, Pure.

Home made Good Cream and Candies. Cigars, Tobacco and Fruits. Vanilla Ice Cream $1.00 per gallon. Order your Truck Ice Cream 35c. Telephone 437

Mr. Milk Producer:

A MILK will bring you more dollars in the shape of hot cows than any other method of feeding. It isn't a question of whether or not you can afford to milk. It's a question of whether or not you can afford to not milk. The milk is worth more to you than the cow.

A Milk will give you for itself the first year's $ilage will increase by 20 per cent, the milk and butter yield of your cows. It will give you more fresh milk in your stock than any other feed you can use as anywhere near the price. It means the saving of approximately 30 per cent of the food values of your food stuff—corn, clover, alfalfa, coops, etc., etc.

It also means the utilization of the entire crop stalk and this represents 66 per cent of the nutritive value of the plant. The Bushnell Hinge Door Silo is built in, is convenient and is guaranteed for perfect feeding of silage.

Ask for our new silo booklet. Bushnell Tank Works, Bushnell, Ill.

Good Printing

Your specimens are all very neat and tasty. The verdict of F. J. Trevisio, chief instructor of the Independent Printing Technical school, and a recognized authority on printed types—after looking over a bunch of our samples recently.

This statement amounts to considerable, coming as it does from a man who daily inspects work done by the best artists in the world. It means that our work is far above the average — and that we are qualified to do YOUR work, no matter how particular you are.

We recently added to our equipment a new and modern cylinder press, thus greatly improving our facilities. We can handle any job, no matter how large nor how well it must be executed. We're not above the small and ordinary jobs either. All have the same careful attention.

Let us do YOUR work, be it much or little. You will be pleased we feel sure. We recently added to our equipment a new and modern cylinder press, thus greatly improving our facilities.

Barrington Review

Job Printing Department.

NOT

Men and Boys in Household Work.

The increasing employment of men and boys for domestic work is a pointer to the fact that the men and boys of this town, state and nation are being trained to do household work. This is a very natural and necessary thing, and it is one that should be encouraged.

First Call for Breakfast.

On a Pullman report about seven passengers were morning when the passengers were in the dining room. They were in the dining room and they were in the dining room.

How to Buy a Hat.

The impression that it is a mistake to buy a hat from a man who is selling hats is a very common one. It is a mistake to buy a hat from a man who is selling hats.

McBride Bros. famous Ice Cream

Always on hand. Best cream in town. Guaranteed. Yours for business, E. G. ANKLE.