The woman who bought a book to keep the book agent from knowing she wasn't literary is the wife of the man who ordered an auto to keep people from knowing he couldn't afford to nurchase one.—Peck

We Are Never Satisfied.
That which is well within our grasp feels mean and insignificant, while that which is far beyond our reach seems absolutely necessary to our very happiness—we are never to be quite satisfied.

She'd Been in Europe.
"I'm afraid the ship might run into an iceberg. "That danger, suntle, is very remote." Well, give the captain a dollar, anyhow, and then he'll be extra careful."
