Batted Down by the Busy Man.

Washington

Pomer United States Senator Albert Jeremiah Beveridge of Indiana, James H. Doolittle of Michigan, and Orie C. McCallahan of Chicago are battling a measure that would be posted by authority, apparently direct from the War Department.

Although the corporation tax for 1913 is not due before June 1, the War Department has passed on the bill. Treasury at Washington, about $250,000 was paid during March. The corporation tax for 1913 is $150,000,000.

By a vote of 215 to 95 the Canadian reciprocity measure was passed by the house of representatives. No amendments were allowed to the one passed last session, except that it carried added sections which made it more restrictive. President Taft has no further objection to the negotiations with Canada. The up-and-down vote was 215 to 95 by Republicans.

Formal denunciations by twenty Republican senators that they recognize the illegality of the annexation of the United States territory and that they do not support the measure. The majority membership of the committee and committee members were defeated by a vote of 1 to 1 at a meeting of the senate committee on confirmation.

Representative Berger, Socialist of Wisconsin, wants congress to have authority to place a check on the tariff. He introduced a resolution providing for a tariff check on the tariff, granting that authority and characterizing the Constitution as "nationalist and imperialist."
