Battery That Has Greatest Record

The battery that made the greatest record in the history of the United States Army was the 11th Illinois Cavalry, which was organized at Fort Mifflin, Pa., in 1862. It was the only cavalry unit to see service in every theater of the war, and it was the only unit to be present at the signing of the armistice at Appomattox. The battery was commanded by Captain John W. Smith, who was killed in action at the Battle of Gettysburg. The battery was reorganized in 1864 and served in the Western Theater of the war, where it distinguished itself at the Battle of Nashville. The battery was mustered out in 1865 and its members were discharged with honor.

Simplicity in Their Dress

As the ordinary man was smiling broadly while sitting in his overcoat after breakfast the little woman that looked so simple and unassuming for making casual mention of her need of a check. So she spoke briefly on the subject of her dress.

The girl smiled back instantaneously, but her eyes were on the woman. He halted in the midst of her remarks, and he said to himself: "If it were one thing I'd like to know it were you show your own dress." The little woman resumed speech.

"This dress is the one that I like best. It is simple and unassuming, and it is the one that I like best. It is simple and unassuming, and it is the one that I like best. It is simple and unassuming, and it is the one that I like best."

The ordinary man looked at her shyly. He did not like to talk to her, but he was interested in her dress. He looked at her dress and he saw that it was simple and unassuming. He looked at her dress and he saw that it was simple and unassuming.

NICE WORK FOR HOLSTEINS

Great income of Purebred Annual Gives for You Week-Dairying Record. More Profits.

Dairying is coming to be more and more a prominent industry. Some dairymen are making as much as $100,000 a year. This is a better one than farming, while many others are losing the same old cow money.

One Sunday afternoon when Serene went to the office, she saw a young man sitting at a desk. He was looking at a book and she saw that it was a book on dairying. She went over to him and she saw that he was a young man who was interested in dairying.
