

A SPRINGFIELD LETTER

Louis J. Starns Writes of Doings in State Capital and Customs in Loyer

By LOUIS J. STARNES.

House of Representatives, Springfield, March 8, 1911.—The difference between this session and the last is strikingly apparent.

The Democrats are hopelessly divided into two classes known as the "old" "Old" Democrats and the "new" Democrats. Some persons may see no difference between a "dry" and a "wet" Democrat, but there is a difference here—both apparent and real.

Mr. Tracy is chairman of the committee on fraternal relations. He is making good in this vital field in my opinion.
