Church League to Start Lid on Cage Season Monday

St. Vs. Baptists and Sa-
Vs. Methodists on Opening Card

A mixed group of title-chase league basketball will take the floor at the maximum Monday night, to open the 1962-63 race championship.

The defending champion will participate in the opening game at St. Paul is favored but the smaller Baptist played by big players will close all the way from start to finish for an upset. The name of the night is Salem and the Methodists start at 9 p.m. Salem, in last year's race took over the title from the fighters Methodists. Salem drew a bye for the first night and will play for the title. The defending teams in the cage camps will naturally be expected to win the title this year is concerned, and good tussles are expected to be mounted in the first year of the league. The first year of the league is expected to be the most exciting race so far. The defending titleholder with an combination of Wieshoff, Kuhlman, Reese, and Davis at present looks strong to again dash on top. Its opposition will probably be Salem and the Methodists which finished second and third respectively in the cage camp. The Baptists, who finished last year and St. Anne's occupants, although lacking height, have both been excelled by new material and show a marked improvement over last season.

The cage schedule this year is just as that of the two previous seasons calling for a total of four games for each club. In this way each team meets other team in the league.

Bronchos Lose to Crystal Lake 33-32; Reserves Win

Lakers and Overeys Star in Second Practice Game of Season

The Bronchos dropped their second practice game of the season to Crystal Lake Monday by a score of 33 to 32 but the reserves topped the Crystal Lake side 20-18.

In the first contest Latte, an ex-high schooler with 14 points, was high scorer with 14 points. Bronchos with a dead eye for basket starred for the Lakers reserves with 15 points. Crystal Lake, although a large school, was beaten earlier in the season by Wauconda, a small school which usually has a weak team. Thus it can be seen that the Lakers will have to work hard to win another championship.

Onions also lost to Crystal

Reserves at Barrington Monday the score held at 9. The game was featured by much foul-the part of the Ponies.

The Lakers scored on to win.

Reined Caves in Yucatan - The caves around in Yucatan, Mexico, are specifically known for their beauty. Their hieroglyphics, some of them silent and deserted houses of a vanished people between Yucatan and the Gulf of Mexico, are the frontier. The predominant factor of the important Maya ruins is that they are built on artificial elevation, a great many of them vast, the walls generally of great thickness, are faced on the inside with carved stones and many present a rich profusion of sculpture in their relief carvings.

The Negro - A man still considered to be a Negro, or specifically a gnat when 15-16 of his blood is black. Incidentally, while the child and a negro is known as a mule, the child of a negro and a white is technically called a mulligan.
