

CANNON FOR CEMETERY

Paper Now Being Circulated to Purchase a Cannon for Barrington.

At a recent meeting of the Cemetery Association the question of securing a cannon for the new cemetery was again discussed. This idea had frequently been considered since the erection of the soldiers' monument and finally, through United States Congressman Philip Knopf of Chicago, who is widely acquainted here and has a cottage at the camp grounds, it was learned that a large cannon would be sent by the government free of charge, making the only expense that of transportation.

The cannon is now at a fort on an island off the coast of Florida, and the cost of loading and freight has been estimated at about $100.

Neither the Cemetery Association nor the G. A. R., as organizations, are active in the movement to have the cannon brought here, but individual members have taken upon themselves the circulating of a subscription paper with the desire that the money needed be raised by donation.

Charles Hawley is now calling upon citizens to assist in this expense and H. H. Hubbard is conducting the correspondence.

Nine cannon balls were long ago placed near the soldiers monument, but have never been mounted as it was the intention to sometime have them placed on a cement base with a cannon. This is a good object for donations and each villager should feel desirous of contributing.

5000 to Employees.

Following the custom which they established some years ago, the members of the C. F. Hall Company, last Tuesday evening, entertained their employees at a dinner, served by Brey & Johns, and declared a dividend upon the sales of the past six months. The guests numbered some thirty and of these twenty received checks, ranging in amount from $2 to $62, the aggregate amount distributed being $500.98. This with the dividend of over $400 declared in July, gives at total of over $1,000 which the firm has distributed among their employees, from the business of 1907.

In presenting the checks the firm announced that the total sales for the year had been considerably in excess of $100,000, showing a gain of $14,000 over the business of 1906, which up to that time had been the company's banner year. They expressed their appreciation of the faithfulness and efficiency of the employees in making this record and declared that the present plan of working will be continued. A response on behalf of the clerks was made by Mrs. J. D. Wollaver, head of the ladies' department.

A Good Pharmacist.

Fred Voss, formerly of Chicago, who is now in charge of the Barrington Pharmacy, is well recommended as a prescription clerk. He is a graduate of the School of Pharmacy of the University of Illinois.

Among the positions of responsibility that he has held are—head clerk at the pharmaceutical and chemical office of the Alexian Brothers hospital, Chicago, and head of the chemical department of one of the largest firms of the kind in the city, the Bruno H. Goll Chemical Company.

He is a careful compounder of prescriptions and has placed in the store a new line of drugs, assorted lines of patent medicines and stationery. Mr. Voss speaks German and will give your orders promptly and accurate attention.

Be Kind to the Boy.

Boys are all right if you understand them. In everyone of them rightly handled is a germ of manhood and possibilities of mighty success in the future. Grown up under kindly influences, the excess energy that made them enjoy their boyish escapades will be directed to the accomplishment of great things. So don't "sore" the boy. Talk to him. Get him interested in his work. Tell him of the things before him in life. Teach him thrift and industry. Remember he is just a little raw material, out of which you can fashion a better man than you are, no matter how good you are.

At the Majestic.

The big Majestic Theatre, Chicago, which has well earned the name of the aristocrat of vaudeville theatres, having silenced competition by its beautiful equipments and accommodations and by the unsurpassed quality of its bills seems determined now that it has the field all to itself to be even more liberal with the public than ever. This is saying a great deal since the records show that it has always played all the available vaudeville talent in the world. For the week of January 22nd a bill of astonishing value and excellence has been provided, headed by Marie Lloyd, probably the greatest of the English music hall artists.

Louis Mann, the famous character comedian who has been identified with many of the larger companies and is a star of undoubted magnitude, will appear with his company for the first time in the Majestic Theatre, playing a condensed, improved version of the playlet, "All on Account of Eliza."

"A Night with the Poets" is a distinct novelty presented by a large company and devoted to the musical and dramatic exposition of the Whitcomb Riley and other poems. The Four Fords, brothers and sisters, who are undoubtedly the greatest of the modern soft shoe dancers in the world will be another feature of this great bill as will the wonderful Walthour troupe of trick cyclists who are believed to be quite unequalled. Carson and Willard are known to all lovers of amusement as the funniest of German dialect comedians and Dixon Brothers have a grotesque musical act which is full of fun from start to finish, while Barza's wonderfully trained horses are always a delight to children and their elders. It is one of the astonishing features of Majestic vaudeville that so many high priced stars can be afforded for so small a price, but as the public benefits thereby there is not likely to be any complaint on that point.

It is expected that the Magee family will in the spring move to the farm and occupy the house now near the Northwestern tracks which will be moved to a location across the road from the old Comstock farm house.

Mrs. Magee and daughter will be home next week from Bigville, Illinois, where they have visited relatives since Christmas.

Teddy Bear's New Year Resolutions.

RESOLVED—

That throughout this year 1908 I will try to be good and do good; that I will try to help myself and help others; that I will stand by the old town and the home people and help to boom the burg.

RESOLVED—

That from January to December, inclusive, I will quit dissipating—quit dissipating my dollars by taking them out of circulation here around home and sending them to the big cities to buy the things that I can buy and ought to buy right here in town.

RESOLVED—That I will stop smoking—stop smoking pipe dream dope suggesting big bargains to be had, unsight unseen, from the gigantic stores in the gigantic cities, and go around among the stores here at home looking for bargains that are there to be seen with the naked eye.

RESOLVED—That I will patronize, by preference, the stores that advertise in the home paper and therefore have experience enough to tell the people what they've got in stock.

(Signed) TEDDY BEAR.

Bro'er Rabbit: "Say, Teddy, that last resolution is the goods, all right."

Men's Club Organized.

The meeting for Men at the Methodist church on Monday evening was well attended considering all things.

Instead of an address by some one from outside of town, the pastor of the church, Rev. O. F. Mattison read a paper on "International Arbitration," a subject that has claimed much public attention in recent years. The paper gave a history of the movement for the settling of international difficulties by arbitration rather than by war, and as a conspicuous instance in which the method was successfully employed, he gave a somewhat detailed statement of the settlement of the misunderstanding between our country and Great Britain, arising out of the Alabama Claims.

At the conclusion of the address, remarks were made by Prof. Fulton, Mortimer W. Mattison and H. H. Hubbard.

A men's club to meet once a month was organized by the election of S. J. Fulton - President J. E. Heise - Secretary E. M. Blocks - Treasurer. These together with the pastor of the church, to constitute an executive committee.

The company then adjourned to the rooms below their doughnuts and coffee were served by the ladies of the church.

The next meeting will be a Lincoln meeting and is set for the tenth of February, the Monday nearest Lincoln's birthday.

Persons attending the men's meetings thus far held, have expressed themselves as much in favor of this movement for the promotion of good fellowship and the stimulating of good thought.

A pork barrel in use for 225 years was recently discovered in Torrington, Conn., says the New York Sun. The relic that has been the burial place of succeeding generations of Connecticut hogs belongs to Uri Whiting to whom it was presented lately by Leonard Burr, who removed from Torrington to Stratford within the last few weeks. It had been a part of the Burr family furniture for over eighty years. According to the record that goes with the barrel, Zeledon Curtis took it into Torrington when he removed from Kensington in 1743. At that time it was recorded as being 109 years old. Since then it has been handed down through the family by succeeding generations. The barrel is not only well preserved, but is said to have acquired a delicious flavor.

The fish is carefully boxed and food down, and then rushed to Boston by express freight and sold back again to New York, Chicago, and other large centers for distribution. Comparatively little halibut is brought to Boston in vessels.

TANK EXPLODES IN OPERA HOUSE AT BOYERTOWN, PA., THROWING AUDIENCE INTO PANIC AND BURNING STRUCTURE.

Boyerstown, Pa.—When nightfall put a stop to the work of recovering the bodies from the ruins of the Rhoades opera house, where Monday night's holocaust occurred, the official roll of victims numbered 167. Whether any more bodies are buried beneath the ruins cannot be positively stated, but it is the belief of those who had charge of the gruesome work that about all of the dead have been removed and that the total list of victims will not be over 170.

The ratio of women and girls to men and boys is about nine to one. The work of identification was not begun until Wednesday. The bodies of the opera house, where Monday night's holocaust occurred, the official roll of victims numbered 167. Whether any more bodies are buried beneath the ruins cannot be positively stated, but it is the belief of those who had charge of the gruesome work that about all of the dead have been removed and that the total list of victims will not be over 170.

The Philadelphia & Reading company superintendent of the Reading division, to see what the company could do and be of the company's assistance to Coroner Strasser. Chief Burgess Kohler was unable to furnish men to help and Coroner Strasser immediately availed himself of the railroad's proffer.

Within an hour the company had two carloads of laborers and carpenters on the ground and the work of recovering bodies moved so rapidly that victims were being taken from the site at the rate of two every five minutes.

It is estimated that there were 400 persons in the playhouse when the explosion of the gas tank occurred. The tank was being used in connection with pictures. An amateur performance of "Scottish Reformation," for the benefit of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school, was being produced. Instantly the explosion occurred some one yelled "fire," and in almost less time than it takes to tell the center of the opera house was a blazing furnace. The rapidity with which the flames spread was caused by the upsetting of the coal oil lamps used as footlights.

Some of the persons on the stage were taken from the scene by the frightened women and children and sent to the audience. But even the men seemed to lose all control of themselves and fought with the women and children in a mad scramble for the greater part of the audience to gain the street. In this manner many women and children, who might otherwise have escaped the flames, were forced back and trampled upon. Particularly was this the case with those who were caught on the stairs. Pandemonium reigned and the mad scramble for the exits was simply indescribable. The weaker ones were brushed aside and in many instances trampled to death. ATTORNEY LITTLETON MAKES OPENING FOR DEFENSE. PROMISES NEW EVIDENCE

Hereditary Insanity Proof and Strange Acts Withheld Until Will Be Retained, Says the Lawyer.

New York.—The Thaw trial moved with a rush Monday. After the state had presented its direct case and Assistant Attorney General had characterized the killing of Stanford White as "premeditated, deliberate and cowardly murder," Martin W. Littleton, for the defense, made his opening plea for the prisoner. His promise of new evidence was sensational and had the supreme attention of all in the courtroom.

District Attorney Jerome, seemingly taken by surprise, seated himself in the witness chair the better to hear the outline of the new defense. Mr. Littleton promised to forge a chain of circumstances, which would produce a line of testimony, which will prove Harry K. Thaw undoubtedly insane at the time of the homicide. Evidence of hereditary insanity, and of strange, unusual acts of Thaw not hinted at during the first trial was told by Mr. Littleton, who said that physicians and nurses who had attended Thaw were hurried from Europe, that teachers of the defendant in childhood would be on hand to give their impressions of "the wide-eyed, wild" child. In conclusion Mr. Littleton challenged the district attorney to produce a single reputable physician who would say that Thaw was not insane at the time he killed the noted architect.

Says Thaw Poisoned Himself.
Mr. Littleton's speech fairly bristled with surprises. He started the courtroom by declaring that after Evelyn Weston had told him her story in Paris in 1903, Thaw, "drunched" himself with a poison, and would have died but for the heroic work of three physicians, who labored over him all of one night. Mr. Jerome and Mr. Littleton touched but lightly upon the girl's story, as she told it to Thaw, but careful as he was on this point, he again drew an objection from the prosecutor on his feet with an objection. Justice Dowling sustained him and the name of the architect was not linked again with that of the defendant's wife. Jealousy of the woman is supposed to have been the motive of the crime.

Little Virginia Imagined She Had "Killed Her Husband"

Little Virginia, three years old, became so much to her nursery a few nights ago with "deathbed" walls. "What is the matter, dearie? Why are you screaming so?" "Mamma, he's all here!" "Certainly you are all here, right in your bed." "That, mamma, feel of me, see if I'm all here. Are my feet here and the top of my head, both?" "Certainly, Virginia, every bit of you is here, tucked in your little tumbler bed. Why do you think you are not?" "I dreamed—this with another great sob—"I dreamed I was a chocolate stick and I had eaten myself."

His Opinion of the Dinner.
The guests at a large dinner party did ample justice to the tempting viands as course after course was served. They were loud in their praises of the Chinese cook, of whom the hostess was justly proud. They declared they never ate more delicious or appetizing delicacies. Finally the Chinaman brought in the last course—a huge cake heavy with frosting. He was a converted Chinaman, and desiring to honor his religion he had put a motto on the cake that attracted his consciousness. It read, "Prepare to Meet Thy God."

Attempt to Break Document of Millionaire Being Made.
 Decatur Richard Snell's effort to break the will of his millionaire father, Col. Thomas Snell, in court here, is being eagerly watched from every corner of the state. Virtually every relative, collateral and direct, the old man had cut out from participation in the $2,000,000 estate he left and the bulk of the fortune went to an alleged grandniece, Mabelle Snell McNamara. Thomas Snell was one of the potentates of Central Illinois. He came here with his bride from Ohio in 1855 and obtained grading contracts from the Illinois Central Railroad company, for which he received land grants that made him enormously wealthy when the Illinois boom began just after the civil war. He built a mansion, north of the town limits, which was the wonder of the state in those days—a four-story, cream-brick affair, with carved stone trimmings, an oval reception hall of marble, dozens of bedrooms and what was a great curiosity then—a bath room. In this palace set down amidst vast estates, Snell entertained men and women of national prominence. Even at that time his erotic tendencies were so manifest that his uncomplaining, sweet and charitable wife was commonly supposed to have died of a broken heart. The widower became more and more crabbed, quarreling with his relatives. Three of the four children died.

KAYE HOPES FOR SUPERSEDEAS.
 Convinced Preacher Places His Faith in Court of Appeals.
 Springfield—Insisting that the verdict of guilty of counterfeiting is unjust, and entertaining hope that the court of appeals will grant a supersedeas, Rev. James M. Kaye went to Park believes that he will be allowed to remain in the county jail for a sufficient length of time to allow his attorneys to act. Since his sentence to two years in the Leavenworth penitentiary Mr. Kaye has been deserted by the host of friends who came to Springfield to attend the trial. His son Cecil, who spent a day in the jail, bade his father good-bye and left for home. The prisoner has been shown more than ordinary consideration by the jail officials. He is not compelled to occupy a cell in the body of the jail, and during his stay will be allowed the privileges of the corridor.

Tells School of Matting.
 Bloomington.—A picture of a bird with wings outstretched in flight, found upon the blackboard of the Gosenek school, in McDonough county, was the first intimation to pupils and directors that the teacher, Miss Birdie Thompson, had left. She is reported to notify any one of an engagement to be married to Elmer Icenleig.

BANKERS PROTECTED

PRESIDENT MONTGOMERY OF THE HAMILTON IS ACCUSED.

IS DISCLOSED ON BAIL
 Charged with Irregular Acts While Vice President—He Was Served Recently by the Depositors.

New York.—The special grand jury which was sworn to investigate the conduct of certain banks in the New York county returned two indictments Wednesday against William R. Montgomery, president of the Hamilton bank.

The charges, involving over-drafts and over-certification, have to do with acts alleged to have been committed by Montgomery while he was vice president of the institution. When R. B. and O. F. Thomas retired from their banking interests Mr. Montgomery succeeded the former in the presidency.

The Hamilton bank suspended on October 23 last. Recently the courts decided that the receivership should not be made permanent. The decision was made the occasion of a joyous demonstration on the part of the depositors who, headed by a band of music, marched to the home of the president and cheered him until he responded with a speech in which he declared that his personal vindication as an officer would follow the investigation of the bank's affairs. At the time Montgomery has been accused of his management by Receiver White.

Montgomery was present when wanted Wednesday and in the criminal branch of the supreme court pleaded guilty with the usual reservation of his right to change his plea or demur to the indictments. The $5,000 bail required was furnished by William H. Birkmire, a director of the bank.

MORE ABOUT THAW'S MADNESS.

His Attorneys Continue to Pile Up Insanity Evidence.
 New York.—The attorneys representing Harry K. Thaw at his trial Wednesday continued the examination of witnesses who swore that young Thaw at various times in his life appeared to them as irrational and mentally unbalanced.

Practically all of the testimony was entirely new to the case and had to do with acts down to the day of the tragedy. Then came the declaration of the ten men who sat on the coroner's jury during the inquiry into Stanford White's death, all of whom declared that the defendant the day following the shooting acted irrationally. His manner and appearance were such as to cause the inquest jury to discuss his state of mind after their verdict had been rendered.

Some of Thaw's alleged eccentricities, revealed for the first time, were related Wednesday by Christopher Baggan, steward of the New York White Club; by Miss Matilda Stein, a telephone operator, and by Per August Weber, a former butler in the Thaw household.

LABOR STRUGGLE COMING.

Lake Lumber Carriers Decide They Must Reduce Expenses.
 Detroit, Mich.—At their annual meeting here Wednesday the Lumber Carriers' association of the Great Lakes decided that it would be impossible to operate their boats during the coming season at the same expense and under the same conditions as in the past. Various labor unions whose members are employed on the boats, and the longshoremen, and a late opening of the lumber carrying season, led to a statement issued after the meeting the association declared that most of its boats were operated at a loss for the season of 1907, some at a considerable loss.

Competition for the Jobs.
 The shocks continue. The first was followed by a tidal wave. Among the buildings destroyed are the commercial houses of Hermann, Adler & Jolliffe.

Mills and Elevator Burned.
 Kenosha.—The Maple-Lake mills belonging to the Hedley-Shaw company were destroyed by fire early Wednesday. The elevator, in which was stored over $200,000 barrels of flour, also was destroyed. The loss will reach $1,000,000; insured.

Mine Company Exonerated.
 Fairmont, W. Va.—Late Wednesday afternoon the coroner's jury returned its verdict in connection with the investigation of the Monongahela explosion. It finds that the explosion was due to either a blown-out shot or to ignition of powder which in turn ignited the gas in the mine. It finds that the company complied with all the state regulations and took all reasonable precautions, such as sprinkling for the keeping down of the coal dust, and practically exonerates the company.

Legislature Again in Session.
 Following the convening of the legislature the house passed a resolution by Hope providing for the appointment of a committee of five to investigate the case of alleged mistreatment of an inmate in the state institution for the feeble minded at Lincoln and for another case that may hereafter be brought before it, and authorizing to subpoena witnesses and compel their attendance. Representative Gann, prohibitionist of Vermilion county, asked for leave to introduce a bill declaring that it was a violation of law a nuisance and providing for injunction proceedings against them. The house refused to suspend the rules for the introduction of the bill. Representative Lantz of Cook made a motion to take from the table Cermack's bill introduced at the request of the United Societies of Chicago regulating the Sunday closing of saloons in large cities, but Speaker Shurtleff ruled his motion out of order. A resolution inviting the governors of other states to a celebration to be held in Chicago in February, 1908, over the spread of divorce legislation over the country, was passed. The senate passed Berry's bill giving the state board of health power to issue temporary certificates to graduates of medical colleges. Senator Cook introduced a resolution that it was the sense of the senate that any primary bill which is passed should contain a provision that the voters should vote directly for delegates to the national conventions. The resolution went over.

Work on Nine New Bills.
 The conference committees from both branches have gone to work with nine different kinds of primary bills in their possession. The fact that they have decided to take up the consideration of the subject indicates that the legislature proposes to make at least one more effort to give the state some kind of a primary law. It was formerly decided to do so in the Republican steering committee of the house when a proposition for a sine die adjournment was made and voted upon. Even though the bills are opposed to primary legislation do not feel quite strong enough to adjourn without making one more try at it. All the new primary bills are conference matters. They have not been introduced in the legislature, but have been given to the conference committees, which are not likely at this time to consider the matters of dispute between the two branches in regard to the Oglesby bill. A few of these primary bills are: The product of Representative Hill and Shanahan. Another, a straight convention bill without any frills, is contributed by Representative Kittelman. A third, also a convention bill, is an old-timer, contributed long ago by Attorney W. W. Wheelock, then attorney for the Chicago election commissioners. A fourth is Senator Gardner's "simple life" primary bill, providing merely that all conventions shall be held on the same date.

 Railroad claim-agents have little faith in their fellow creatures. One said recently: "Every time I settle a claim with one of these hard-headed rural residents who wants the railroad to pay twice what he would charge the butcher if he got a sheep killed, I think of this story. Illustrative of the way some people want to hold the railroad responsible for every accident, of whatever kind, that happens. Two Irishmen were driving a buggy from Iowa one night when their buggy ran into a ditch, overturned, and they were both stunned. When a rescuer came along and revived them, the first thing one of them said was: 'Where's the train?' 'Why, there's no train around,' he was told. Then where's the railroad?' The nearest railroad is three miles away,' he was told. 'I knew it hit us pretty hard, but I didn't suppose it knocked us three miles from the track.'"

 A man running a railroad has to be in good condition all the time or he is liable to do harm to himself and others.

A clear head is necessary to run a locomotive or conduct a train. Even a railroad man's appetite and digestion are matters of importance, as the clear brain and steady hand result from the healthy appetite followed by the proper digestion of food.

"For the past five years," writes a railroadier, "I have been constantly troubled with indigestion. Every day I would feel starved to death. First I was dieted on warm water and toast until I was almost starved; then, when that would do no good, the indigestion would be right back again."

"Only temporary relief came from remedies, and I tried about all of them I saw advertised. About three months ago a friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts food. The very first day I noticed that my appetite was satisfied, which had not been the case before that. I can remember."

"In a week, I believe, I had more energy than ever before in my life. I have gained seven pounds since I have been eating Grape-Nuts. When my wife saw how good this food was doing me she thought she would try it. Within a few days she was eating Grape-Nuts and found the 'Perfect Food.'"

REASON FOR WOMEN'S NERVES

In Very Many Cases It Is Nervous Exhaustion.

Mrs. Frank Roseboom, 512 S. Wash.ington St., Moscow, Idaho, says: "I have been a nervous wreck ever since I grew steadily worse with me until so nervous I could not sleep at night. I was dizzy and spots floated before my eyes. My back and hips ached and every-thing I did seemed to be a strain on my kidneys and made me worse. I have used many different medicines and was discouraged when I began with Doan's Kidney Pills, but, now, the symptoms that alarmed me are gone."

BARRINGTON REVIEW

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Barrington, Illinois.

M. T. Laney, Editor and Publisher

FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1908

An advertisement lately appeared in the papers of Pittsburg announcing that by the payment of a certain liberal sum of money a limited number of persons of wealth and high social position could secure the privilege of presentation at the English court. The young man who inserted the advertisement was arrested as a swindler, in spite of his insistence that he could do all he had promised; but the most interesting phase of the affair was the large number of persons who were eager to accept his offer. They flocked to the hotel in such eagerness and were so anxious to be among the chosen that the police had difficulty in getting them to go home. To the outsider of well-balanced mind there must always be something amusing in such an exhibition of snobbery, says the Youth's Companion. Yet this was only one form of a trait which exists in some shape and to some degree in most persons. The snobs who will pay to be presented to court are separated by as very clear line from those who will pay to get their names into "A Thousand Great Men" or "The Blue-bloods of New York"; and hundreds of others who hold themselves far above such crude and overt snobbery as this will nevertheless pay what is virtually blackmail of one sort or another to buy the social approval or to escape the social censure of their fellows. Snobbery of whatever kind is a heel of Achilles to the possessor. Although he may be covered with the armor of intelligence, good intentions and experience he will still be vulnerable through his vanity. None know this better than the snob himself, and "bum-coasters" who make their living by it. They love the snob because they know that snobbery and courage seldom go together.

Street names spelled out in bright colors or figures and imbedded in cement walks are among the most recent innovations in American city architecture. The plan has been tried in Kansas City on all the large boulevards, the main idea being not to disfigure the street and houses by the usual printed signs that are placed on the walls of corner houses or fastened to the lamp posts at the intersections of the streets. The name of each boulevard is spelled out in letters four by six to eight inches high, formed with stones about one-half inch square laid in the cement sidewalk, similar to the tile or ceramic mosaic work which is so frequently seen in the vestibules of buildings.

The Kiev station of the wireless telegraph line which the Russian government is constructing to connect Sebastopol with St. Petersburg has succeeded in picking up Marconi transatlantic messages, including a number of press dispatches sent from the American side. Messages transmitted from Paris and Casablanca also have been picked up. The distance from Glace Bay, the point at which the Marconi wireless messages are started for Ireland, to Kiev is approximately 2,500 miles. Strong wireless messages have previously been picked up at a distance of 2,500 miles from their point of origin.

The Maine papers are taking note of the continued decrease of children of school age in the rural districts down east. Instances are mentioned where there are but two or three children attending a district school, and in several localities where two or three districts have been combined there are only a dozen pupils or so in the consolidated school. It's a melancholy picture, but no more so than can be found nearer home in some of the hill towns of Massachusetts, remarks the Boston Herald. Our little red schoolhouses lack patronage, but their influence survives.

The Central high school of Philadelphia has stood at the head of the high schools of the country for three-quarters of a century. It holds the unique position of being the only public high school in the United States invested with the legal power to confer degrees upon its graduates. In the annals of the national department of education it is classified with the colleges and universities.

Napoleon Wood of Leominster, Mass., has won a bet by swallowing 25 one-cent pieces one after another and coughing them up. Napoleon has shown that there must be something in a name.

Miss Gode refuses to confirm or deny the rumor that she is to re-marry Count Boni. Why does she cruelly keep the world in suspense concerning a matter of such grave importance?

College Glee Clubs. President Hall of Clark university should cultivate a broader sense of humor. He refers to the repertoire of the average college glee club as infantile. To be sure, he is far out of the way in his description. That is precisely why they are sung, says Boston Advertiser. The average youth at an American college loves to disport himself, and his parents and other relatives are charmed by these indications of exuberant youth. It is true that the glee club concert does not appeal to all classes of music lovers. Some earnest students of harmony, if inveigled into a college concert, might demand their money back at the door. But then it may be said that probably Dr. Hall might be asked to give his opinion of popular songs of the day. What does he think of the ten "best sellers" at the music counters of our department stores? Are they marked by any deeper intellectually or greater delicacy than the Polly-wolly-doodle or the Bessie-birdie class? The man who made that delightful declaration beginning "Let me write the songs of the people" would probably be tempted to renege if he were confronted with the latest evidences of popular taste in rag-time songs and sentimental mush at the present day.

Delightful Japanese Hotels. Barring the bath, and perhaps the beds, Japanese hotels are delightful. All during your stay in their spottish parlors you are made to feel that you are an honored guest. Travel Magazine, Japanese etiquette is lavished upon you and when you depart you are always given a token to remember your visit, usually a white, coarse cotton towel with blue pictures printed on it. You must thank the little maid for this with an elaborate bow when you go and the chorus of "Sayo Nara" from all the hotel force gathered in the doorway will seem to have in it, not only the regret of good-by, but as we interpret the words, but the deeper feeling which they really mean: "If it must be that we must part."

The government of the Portuguese East African province of Mozambique is about to take measures for the promotion of the ostrich feather industry. Wild ostriches with fine black feathers are found in considerable numbers in the districts of Lawrence Marquet and Inhambane, and a decree has been published forbidding the hunting of ostriches, as well as the taking of their eggs and the destruction of their nests. The sale of ostrich eggs or ostriches is also prohibited. It is said to be the intention of the government to start a large ostrich ranch and stock it with young native birds caught by officials detailed for that purpose.

Dr. Karl Peters at a recent public meeting in Berlin declared emphatically that the historic land of Ophir is located between the Zambesi and Limpopo rivers. He told his German audience how he has discovered many shafts of ancient gold mines, 500 temples, fortifications and other ruins of Phoenician origin. Dr. Peters affirms that the coins recently unearthed in Mashonaland belong undoubtedly to the time of King Solomon. His opinion is that no other part of Africa could have exported the ivory, silver and precious stones which are recorded as coming from Ophir.

In getting the Philippines expanded far more than our own government knew. We got the archipelago in bulk, Spanish surveyors fixing the number of islands at "about 1,000." Our coast survey has already counted nearly 7,000 as many more, and the report is that they are liable to go on finding islands for years to come. We have 2,600 in sight and yet have a lot of looking around to do.

In eastern New York, as in some parts of New England, the Mongolian pheasant which are rigidly protected, have become so numerous that the farmers regard them as a pest. There, as in New York, the law will no doubt be modified before long and the wives of sportsmen will be gladdened with some very brilliant plumage for military uses.

A New York woman has willed her brain to science because in the past the brains of men mainly have been used for scientific experiment. She considers this an unfair discrimination. Here is indeed loyalty to one's sex.

A French editor visiting this country claims to see a splendid future for American literature. He has probably been reading the lists of his best sellers.

It is said that King Alfonso eats nine meals a day. Would the fellow who ate more be greater than a king or just a common, blooming idiot?

A Philadelphia citizen says Tennyson's poetry sounds like tearing rag. What would be his comment on rag-time? Moderate and regular living is what kills the grip bacillus.

MANY SCALPS THEIR QUEST. Girl Bachelors Hang Up Prize For One Who Refuses Most Men.

The "one best left" in Alton, Ill., is that if a man asks a girl to marry him she will tell him she will be a sister to him—that is, if she is a member of the Bachelor Girls' club, says an Alton special dispatch to the Washington Post. It matters not if the man be possessed of wealth beyond the dreams of avarice. If he proposes just now to an Alton bachelor girl he will be put on the brotherhood list temporarily at least. The bachelor girls; whose aim in life is to make men propose so they can reject them, have decided to give a silk dress worth $200 to the member who can prove at the leap year ball in January that she has refused the most offers. If the men do their duty, as expected, the bachelor girls figure that each will have at least three new scalps to show when the contest is decided. There are some male skeptics who went a trap and ask, "Suppose I propose, out of good nature, and the girl says 'Yes'?"

Fattening a Possum For the President. A fat Georgia possum is to be sent to President Roosevelt for his Christmas dinner, says a Gainesville (Ga.) correspondent of the New York Sun. This possum was caught some days ago and is being fattened on persimmons by Mrs. Helen Longstreet, postmistress of Gainesville, who will ship it to the White House in time for Christmas. Mrs. Longstreet is the widow of the Confederate General Longstreet.

TO SAVE LA BAHIA MISSION.

Movement on Foot For State to Buy Historic Texas Building.

The ancient La Bahia mission building situated near Galveston, Tex., is to be rehabilitated and preserved if the movement succeeds which has been started among patriotic Texans with those purposes in view, says the Kansas City Star. In this ancient building on May 7, 1836, 300 men under command of Colonel Fannin were massacred by a large force of Mexicans at Santa Anna's orders. The walls of the church were stained with the blood of the men who were striving to gain their country's liberty from Mexico. The news of this massacre aroused the Texans and gave them the frenzied courage which soon afterward resulted in the overthrow of the feet of Santa Anna's army and capture of the Mexican commander, whose life was saved only through the timely interference of General Sam Houston.

In all the years that have passed since that massacre, during the period that Texas was a republic and since she became a state, the historic edifice has remained unscathed for except for some little attention as was shown it by the few poor but devout Mexican worshippers who gathered at its altar on Sundays and the various saints' days.

The movement now on foot seeks to have the state purchase La Bahia mission from those who claim title to it and to permit it to be cared for by the Daughters of the Texas Republic, as the historic Alamo building now is. Owing to its remote location comparatively few people visit La Bahia, and those who enter the building first must pay a fee to the Mexican who is in charge of the place. The interior of the mission edifice is much the same as it was when the massacre left the walls bespattered with blood more than seventy years ago.

A Difficult Art.

There was an odd story told of Dr. Joachim when he was in Hanover. During the winter there was a great deal of skating going on, of which he had a good view from his window. "So!" he looked so easy and every one seemed so happy that he thought he would have a try. "Accordingly he stroled down and was soon pounced upon by the ice cleaner, who asked him if he wished to skate. "I have never tried yet," Joachim replied. "I will show you, Herr Hofconcermeister." The man said, screwing up a pair of skates. "So!" Now stand up. Now slide the right foot so and the other so, and then off!" Joachim slid his right foot and prepared for the left, but before he had started he was indeed "off" and sprawling on the ice. "Ja, ja, ja!" the man exclaimed, as he raised the famous violinist. "It is not quite so easy as it may be," he added.

NOTED EVANGELIST TO ASSIST IN REVIVALS

Mrs. Emma Divan, of Redick, Ill., arrived here Tuesday evening. She will remain two weeks to assist the pastor of the Salem Church in revival services now being held.

Mrs. Emma Divan, an evangelist, wife of Rev. Isaac Divan of Redick, Illinois, arrived here on Tuesday evening, January 14th, and expects to remain about two weeks to assist the pastor of the Salem church, Rev. A. Haelele in the revival services being held.

Mrs. Divan is a public speaker of more than ordinary talent. She has been in years past an organizer and speaker of the W. C. T. U. and is well known in the western and central part of our state. She is at present the president of the Woman's Missionary society of the Illinois conference of the United Evangelical church. Her sermons are eloquent and convincing. A deep earnestness and sincerity manifest themselves in her addresses and her pleasant appearance while speaking make her an attractive talker.

The attendance at the meetings held so far this week has been very good and if the weather permits, a crowded church is expected at each meeting.

Everybody is welcome. The services are in English and will no doubt accomplish much good. Come and see for yourself.

Song services begin at half past seven. Services each evening except Saturday.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Interesting Program Prepared for Meetings to Occur on Jan. 30 and 31.

LINCOLN AND DOUGLAS DEBATES

Semi-Centennial of These Historic Events Will Be Celebrated by Special Meetings of the Illinois Society.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 14.—The Illinois State Historical society will hold its ninth annual meeting in the senate chamber in the statehouse at Springfield Thursday and Friday, Jan. 30 and 31.

This being the semi-centennial of the Lincoln-Douglas debate of 1858 the Historical society will celebrate this historic anniversary by a special meeting in each of the towns where the original debates occurred on the anniversary of the debate, at the same hour of the day and, as nearly as possible, on the spot where the original debates occurred. These celebrations will be local, but the Historical society has appointed a committee with local chairmen of which Colonel Clark E. Carr, of Galesburg, is the general chairman. Colonel Carr has visited Ottawa, Freeport, Charleston, Jonesboro, Galesburg, Alton and Quincy, the seven towns where the debates occurred, and the local committees are now making preparations. At the annual meeting of the Historical society, Colonel Carr will report the progress of the arrangements for the celebration of the semi-centennial of the debates and will explain fully the plans of the Historical society and the local committees. Attempts will be made at the local meetings to mark the sites where this has not already been done.

Will Publish Debates.

A special volume will be issued by the library commemorating the semi-centennial of the Lincoln-Douglas debates. This will consist of the debates themselves, of historical material explanatory of the times, of the two great contestants, and of reprints of interesting documents relating to the debates and the times, photographs and maps illustrative of the subject matter. The book will be handsomely printed and bound, and a very large edition will be printed. The book will be edited by Dr. Edwin Eric Sparks, and the editor hopes to have it ready for distribution in a very short time.

As these debates marked the entrance of Illinois into the field of national politics as an important factor, the Historical society will have addresses on Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas. At its annual meeting this month the address Lincoln will be given by Mr. Horace White, of New York, who as correspondent of the Chicago Tribune reported the debates in 1858. Mr. White was the correspondent and the editor of the Tribune, and the editor hopes to have it ready for distribution in a very short time.

Program for Meeting.

There are several other speakers who will give addresses at the meeting, among whom are Mr. Henry Barrett Chamberlain, of the Chicago Record-Herald, who will tell of the life and career of Elias Kent Kane, one of the most notable of Illinois statesmen, of whom the people of the state seem to have lost sight. Mr. W. T. Davidson, of Lewistown, one of the veteran editors of the state, will speak on famous men of the Military Trail. The program of the session is as follows:

Thursday morning, Jan. 30: Business meeting; officers' reports; committee reports; election of officers; miscellaneous business; neurological report; memorial on life and services of Judge David McCullough, of Peoria, a director in the Historical society, Mr. Eliot Collette, of Peoria.

Thursday afternoon: "Elias Kent Kane," Mr. Henry Barrett Chamberlain, of the Chicago Record-Herald; "Early Literature and Literary People of Illinois," Mrs. F. R. Jamison, Springfield; "Famous Men of the Military Trail," William T. Davidson, of Lewistown.

Friday morning: "Abraham Lincoln and the Debates of 1858," Horace White, of New York city.

Friday morning: "Illinois College and Slavery Movement in Illinois," President Charles Rammeckamp, Illinois; "Indiana Battle Sites," Dr. S. N. Crohnolt, Chicago.

Friday afternoon: "Writings of James Hall as Material for Western History," Professor E. H. Green, University of Illinois; "Early Railroads of Illinois," Norman Cross Railroad; G. M. McConnell, Winnetka, Ill.; "Mysterious Indian Battle Sites," Capt. J. H. Burnham, Bloomington; "Chicago as It Was and Is," Edwin O. Gale, Chicago.

Friday evening: "Stephen A. Douglas," Adlai Stevenson, Bloomington.

Work of Historical Society.

Illinois is behind neighboring states in its care of its Historical society, but the members of the general assembly have almost without exception been favorable to the society and its work. In 1859 the Illinois State Historical library was organized by act of the general assembly. On Nov. 25 of that year the library was organized. The secretary of state under the provisions of the law organizing the Historical library turned over to the trustees of the new library 412 books and pamphlets. These were the nucleus of the collection which is today the Illinois State Historical library. The library now owns about twenty thousand books and pamphlets, and has some most interesting manuscripts. The secretary of the Historical society, Mrs. Jessie Palmer Weber, is the librarian. Under the law making the Historical society a department of the library the collections of the society are the property of the state and are a part of the Illinois State Historical library. The trustees of the library from its organization began the collection of books, pamphlets, manuscripts and pictures illustrating Illinois or events which have taken place in Illinois. W. Beckwith, of Danville, was the first president of the library board and occupied that position until his death, except during the term of Governor Alpeck, during which time Judge Lambert Tree was chairman. To Judge Tree the library owns the collection of a number of rare French books which treat of the earliest white exploration and occupation of the Illinois valley.

Society Takes Up Work.

In 1860 the Illinois State Historical society was formed. Judge H. W. Beckwith was its first president and Professor E. B. Green, of the University of Illinois, its first secretary. In 1903 the legislature passed an act making the Illinois State Historical society a department of the Illinois State library. The trustees of the library published the transactions of the society and other historical material. The first publication of the library was issued in 1880 and is entitled "A Bibliography of Newspapers Published in Illinois Prior to 1800." This little volume was edited by Dr. E. J. James, then of the University of Chicago, now professor of the University of Illinois. Dr. James is president of the library board and one of the directors of the Historical society. The volume just mentioned is now out of print, the supply having been exhausted some years ago.

The publications are sent out to members of the society, libraries, schools, public officials and to individuals on request. The publications of the society cover a wide range of subjects. There have been eleven numbers of the publications issued in the regular series, two handsome volumes published by special arrangements for the purpose. These are called Illinois Historical Collections. No. 1 of this series was edited by Judge H. W. Beckwith, and was issued in 1902. It treats of the French explorations, of the building of Fort Massac, George Rogers Clark's expedition to Kaskaskia and Vincennes, and contains also a number of letters from the Canadian archives, which relate to the Illinois country. A second volume of this series has been issued lately, edited by Mr. C. W. Alvord, of the University of Illinois. It contains a most carefully prepared history of the Illinois country of Virginia, and a large number of documents relating to that period. These documents have long lain in the archives of St. Clair county.

Other Work of Library.

Several circulars and bulletins have also been issued, among which may be mentioned an outline or guide for the study of Illinois history with references. This was prepared by Mrs. Jessie Palmer Weber, assisted by Georgia L. Osborne, the assistant librarian. The library is especially fortunate in having a complete file of books of western travel in most interesting, and coming down to the present. The files of the Illinois State Journal are also in the library from 1881 to the present, but are the property of the state, the county, which has placed them in the library for safe keeping and the convenience of the public. The library owns a file of the Illinois Intelligencer, of Vanalinda, Ill., 1827-28; of the Pitt to the State of Illinois of Edward Coles, second governor of the state.

The library is very rich in Lincolniana. It has several hundred books and pamphlets on Lincoln, several rare manuscripts, and a large collection of photographs, engravings and other pictures of Mr. Lincoln. The library has a fine set of the laws of the state, a complete set of the journals of the general assembly, house and senate. It has reports of state officers, state boards and institutions. Its collection of books of western travel is most interesting. In the early days of the state it was the fashion for eastern gentlemen or gentlemen to make tours of the west and relate their experiences in letters to their friends at home. There were many English visitors, too, in the early days of the state, but they were more serious visitors as a rule. They came for the purpose of seeing out the land and making settlements and homes. The English settlements in Edwards county were made by Morris Birkbeck and George Flower, who bought land and founded the town of Alton and invited many emigrants to settle in Illinois. The services which Morris Birkbeck gave to Illinois can hardly be estimated. Mr. Birkbeck, perhaps next to Governor Coles, was more influential in preventing the introduction of slavery into Illinois than any other man. He was a strong and vigorous writer and his letters, which were published over the sparsely settled state, were powerful and convincing. He wrote under the nom de plume of Jonathan Freeman.

The library contains Mr. Birkbeck's published books of travels, many of which are rare. The library has a collection of early French and English maps, the emigrants' letters, which were so characteristic and which were so characteristic to the westward movement in the United States, which began after the Revolutionary war.

Rank Foolishness.

"When attacked by a cough or a cold, or when your throat is sore, it is rank foolishness to take any other medicine than Dr. King's New Discovery," says C. O. Eldridge, of Empire, Georgia. "I have used New Discovery seven years and I know it is the best remedy on earth for coughs and colds, croup, and all throat and lung troubles. My children are subject to croup, but New Discovery quickly cures every attack." Know the world over as the King of throat and lung remedies. Sold under guarantee at Barrington Pharmacy. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A Wild Metaphor.

The mixed metaphor has for years been a consideration, and is technically known as punch, but long ago an embryo Henry Clay, a contestant for oratorical honors in the University of Michigan, sprung one so much more rapid in the mind's race than its rivals that it may be said to win in a walk. Rising up on his tiptoes and swelling out his chest like a pouter pigeon, the young orator exclaimed as though he would his words might be a thundering down the ages, "The star of empire, tripping with light footsteps across the Atlantic, poses on her outspread pinions in the air and then pitches—and let us hope it may be forever—her tent above the dome of the capitol at Washington."

In the fourteenth century spectacles were used frequently by the very wealthy and highborn, although they were so scarce that they were bequeathed in wills with all the elaborate care that marked the disposition of a feudal estate. The first spectacles were made in Italy.

A ship, the Ada Freidae, caught fire some years ago in the south Pacific ocean 2000 miles from the Marguessa islands and was abandoned there. The wreck, still burning, was picked up near Tahiti, 2250 miles away, and towed into port. It continued smoldering for ten months.
