New Lights Bring Praise From Guests and Residents

Barrington's place among the enterprising cities and villages of this section was further assured when, at 7 o'clock on Monday night, the sixty-one new ornamental street lights were lighted as the American Legion drum and bugle corps played martial music and a large group of citizens gazed at the town's new splendor.

In the few days since the lights have been burning they have brought many compliments, especially from visitors to Barrington and those who have been accustomed to passing through on trains after nightfall.

Following the ceremony of turning on the lights on Monday evening, a group of business men and property owners in the business section numbering more than sixty had dinner at the Grengard Grill. Here brief talks on the accomplishment were made by Mayor Cadwallader, by President M. H. Schreiber of the Barrington Lions Club, President Edna G. Giesler of the Barrington Chamber of Commerce, Trustee R. F. Kober, chairman of the village street lighting committee, Attorney Howard P. Casty, and Charles G. McCray, chairman of the Barrington Relief Committee.

As Good Advice Now as Then

By Albert T. Reid

Labor was prior to capital, but property is the fruit of labor. Let no man, therefore, who is houseless, pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently to build one for himself, thus assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built.

Noteworthy Cast in Rehearsals for Local Talent Play

"West of Broadway," the home talent play to be given by the Woman's Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church on next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, will be a marked success according to present indications, which point to a generous patronage and a thoroughly enjoyable affair.

This is the story: John Buskin, as portrayed by Atchison Banks, the manager of the Buskin Repertory Company, is stranded in Hamilton Junction with his five players—these parts taken by Harold Wright, Carl Weichert, Catherine Evans, Miss Phelps and Marjorie Johnson.

After the "tryout" scene the real actors decide to give their play in the local theatre and are balked by the mayor who forbids such "worldly actions," but he is downed by cousin Sally, who remembers that women can vote—and she votes.

The last act is the "play within a play" and has a mystery detective plot. Hamilton Junction greatly enjoys it and will be a success.

NEW LAW WOULD ALLOW TEACHERS $25,000 PENSION

Provision to increase teacher's pension allowances from $400 maximum to $2,500 are included in a proposed new state public school teachers pension law according to E. L. Nygaard, of Kenilworth, one of the sponsors of the bill. The bill would not least the cost to taxpayers, payments of teachers will be based on the amount of salary which they receive instead of assessing a flat rate according to the number of years of service, Superintendent Nygaard said.

"Legal reserves form the basis for the proposed teachers' pension law," the educator stated. "Money deposited by each teacher is maintained in a separate fund and is supplemented by money contributed by the state. When the teacher retires, the total amount in her individual fund is divided by the number of remaining years of her life which she may normally expect."

Inequalities of the present law would be eliminated if the new bill is approved, Mr. Nygaard explained. "It is obvious that an annual pension of $400 is entirely inadequate for a teacher to live on," the speaker remarked. "It is not sound business to combine a pension whose liabilities are increasing much faster than its assets."

If the law is not changed, immediate financing of the teachers' pension fund is necessary. Teachers would make payment to the retirement fund only during the first 25 years of their service.

The proposed new bill is being discussed by teachers throughout Illinois.

FIND NATURAL GAS ON LAKE COUNTY FARM

While drilling for a well on the Archer Farm, Bradley road, west of Lake Park, workmen struck natural gas. The drill had reached a depth of 120 feet when the heavy discharge of natural gas forced the workmen to give up their efforts.

MOLINE RECALLS ACTION PROPOSED GAS TAX SPLIT

Springfield—Asserting that the Municipal League misrepresented the true situation relative to road funds and thereby obtained support from the city of Moline for the proposal that cities get one-third of the gas tax collections, Mayor C. W. Sandstrom and the Moline city council has forwarded Governor Louis L. Englemeyer a resolution repealing its former petition for a share in the funds. The resolution places Moline on record as "not desiring to handle the state by taking away its funds in this respect."

Historic Blarney Castle

Blarney castle was built about 1446 by Cormac McCarthy. It has walls which in places are as thick as 18 feet. The fame of the castle is bound up in the civil history of the country and the war of the Great Rebellion. The famous Blarney stone is near the top of the wall. Promises and flattering speeches delayed the surrender of the castle in medieval times and from this fact it is supposed that the tradition concerning the Blarney stone arose.

Alluring Story of Youthful Love on Catlow Screen

No more alluring story of youthful love has been told on stage or screen than that of "Outward Bound," which comes to The Catlow theatre tonight and Friday.

The theme is so unusual and the treatment so deft that the result is an idyll of such compelling tenderness as to make it irresistible to all sorts and conditions of people. It has to do with the effort of two departing youthful lovers, men to leave this world for another in which their love may go on forever.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Helen Chandler play the lovers. Leslie Howard is featured as the never-to-wild, who, with a number of other phantoms, find themselves aboard a mysterious vessel bound for regions of reward and punishment. Others in the cast are Percy Mercer, Alec B. Francis, and Rommie Lovell. Jackie Hanton, the twelve-year-old who has a feature role in "The Parade of the West," all talking western starring Ken Maynard, which will play The Catlow theatre Saturday night of this week, is an ardent stamp collector. When he saw Maynard's fan mail from all over the world he bargained with the star for the stamps in return for overtime work on the picture.

Maynard in the picture, revives the day of the picturesque, colorful "medicines show" with its hallyboo for some miraculous "cure all," and the first of the old wild west shows which have become an American institution.

"Our Gang" is a new comedy, "School's Out" will be offered with the western feature.

Realism of the starkest form is the keynote in Joan Crawford's characterization of Mary Turner, tragic heroine of "Pride" who now stars in a vehicle based on the sensational stage hit, "Within the Law," which will be shown at The Catlow theatre Sunday and Monday nights.

In it she plays the role of a shop girl railroaded to jail for a crime which she did not commit, later seeking vengeance. Sam Wood directed the talkie, which is based on the famous Bayard Rustin crook drama. In the supporting cast are Robert Armstrong, Marie Prevost, John Miljan, and others.

Lon Chaney, the "man of a thousand faces" sings "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" in "The Holy Three," his first and, last talking picture, which is the Friar's Night offering at The Catlow theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 17 and 18. He does it, however, in the squeaky voice of a ventriloquist's dummy, as part of his "act" in the picture in which he plays the sinister "Professor Echo."

90 PERSONS LOSE LIVES AT GRADE CROSSINGS IN SIX COUNTIES

According to figures compiled by Coroners John Taylor of Lake county, Herman N. Bundeisen of Cook county, and the coroners of Will County, McHenry and DuPage counties, ninety persons were killed by crossing accidents in the six counties in 1930.

With the exception of Cook county, where 56 persons met death in crossing accidents, Lake county leads the group with 14 fatalities. Six persons were killed in Will county, five in Kane and McHenry counties, and four were killed in DuPage county.

In 1929 only five persons met death at Lake county crossings, although 141 were killed in the six counties. Lake county being fourth in the list.

PLAN TO REDUCE GAS TAX ONE CENT

Springfield—A bill to reduce the state gasoline tax from three to two cents a gallon has been introduced into the house of representatives by Rep. Robert Whately, of Carlinville.

In explaining the measure, Rep. Whately declared that the present three-cent rate produces revenue far in excess of state needs, and constitutes a hardship on drivers of automobiles. A surplus in the state treasury should not be further built up at the expense of a citizenry which is undergoing a period of business hardship, he declares.

Rotating out the necessity of the automobile in the average modern business, Rep. Whately maintains that the saving effected by the reduction of the gasoline tax would in most places effect a genuine relief measure without handicapping the state roads program.

Whately and other members of the legislature who band together in a strange plot. Ivan Linow plays the giant, and Harry Earles, who plays midget in the original silent version some years ago, appears in his old role. Lila Lee is the heroine and Elliott Nugent the romantic lead.

Cuba's Charm for Tourist

The eastern end of Cuba has fascinated distinctly its own. Perhaps there is nowhere in the world a more interesting hotel than that at Camaguey. To live for a long journey across Cuba says traveler.

Santiago has a peculiar charm, entirely outside its history and interest. Those who search for idyllic spots will feel kinship with Santiago.

It was at the entrance to the bay of Santiago that Lieut. Richard Pearson Hobson, later known as "unkissed," sank the Merrimack in an effort to bottle up the Spanish fleet.

Commercial Bodies

Chambers of commerce originated on the continent of Europe with the disintegration of the old guild system. The first chamber of commerce on record is that of Marseilles France, which grew out of a committee of merchants established in 1390. The movement spread to the United States, where the first chamber of commerce, that of New York city, was organized in 1788.

Far more than
"JUST A COOK-STOVE"

You say your ten-year-old gas range still cooks some pretty good meals?
Of course it does. But how would you like a range that does more than cook... sets you free from your kitchen when you want to go out... simplifies your whole job of meal preparation? This is exactly what the Magic Chef "Tiffin" Gas Range does.
An automatic control regulates oven temperatures to your roasts and pastries can't go wrong—can't burn or be underdone. You set the dial and play hooky from your kitchen until it's time to turn off the heat.
A porcelain table top folds over the surface burners when you're not cooking and lets the range do double duty in small kitchens.
There's also a roomy utensil drawer to keep pots and pans within reaching distance.
Surface burners of a new patented construction are no trouble at all to clean.
To make the Tiffin Range even more irresistible, it is finished in all-over porcelain enamel—old ivory with antique marble trim. Handles are of onyx-green Bakelite. Both oven and broiler are porcelain-lined and specially insulated.
Be sure to see this range—"more than just a cook stove"—at your Public Service Store.

Special February offer on gas ranges.
Ask about it at your Public Service Store.

AUXILIARY ACTIVE IN VETERANS' BELIEF

Plans for a county-wide relief fund for needy veterans were perfected at a meeting of the Central Council of the American Legion Auxiliary, held at the Palmer House, Chicago, on last Friday evening. Members of the local Auxiliary who attended were Mrs. Ina Brown, 208 Railroad street, Mrs. E. J. Langendorf of 318 Washington street and Mrs. George Kuebler, 405 S. Cook street.

At a meeting of the local Auxiliary on Monday night a membership drive was inaugurated. The Auxiliary urges that any women of the village who are eligible become members. The local drive is being conducted in conjunction with a nation-wide movement to build up Auxiliary membership.

The Auxiliary is advised that veterans in the Elgin State Hospital are in need of such things as games, playing cards and magazines to help them while away tedious hours. Any member of the Auxiliary will be glad to see that such gifts reach the proper hands.

The Tuesday afternoon card and buceo parties of the Auxiliary continue to draw good crowds. Next Tuesday, in addition to the afternoon party, there will be a party in the evening at 8 o'clock which give the men an opportunity to visit with the women.

The next ninth district meeting of the Auxiliary will take place at Riss Park recreation hall on next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Barrington Woman's Club

The next regular club meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 13. It is our Reciprocity Day and promises to be one of the most interesting events of the whole year. The meeting will be called at 2 o'clock instead of 2:30, and will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church.

The speaker, as announced in the club calendar, is Mrs. Forbes-Robertson. Her lecture will give in costume a recital of some of Shakespeare's best known feminine roles. Mrs. Hale has won distinction both in England and America as an actress, author and lecturer, and is probably the most sought-after woman on the American lecture platform today.

She began her stage career at the age of seventeen under Sir Henry Irving and came to America with Dame Ellen Terry in 1871. Upon her marriage to H. H. Robertson, she retired from the stage and has since devoted herself to writing and lecturing. One New England paper recently said of her: "There is not a woman in the country who could speak with more authority and at the same time with so much grace and fascination—and those who have heard her once are invariably eager to seize a second opportunity."

Sixty invitations have been sent to the heads of the various surrounding district clubs as well as to those of the clubs in our neighboring villages. The Barrington high school students in the advanced English classes have also been asked to hear Mrs. Hale in her recital. All members of the Woman's Club are urged to save the date, and to remember that on that day each one is hostess to our guests from out-of-town. There will be the usual quest for personal guests of our own women.

The date—Wednesday, February 13. The place—First Methodist Episcopal church. The time—2 o'clock.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. HAD VERY SUCCESSFUL YEAR, REPORT SHOWS

Operating revenues of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois for the year 1930 were $35,405,068, an increase of $2,075,292 or 6.2 per cent compared with the year 1929, according to the company's annual report issued to stockholders last week. A little boy here in Barrington recently had the mumps and one of his favorite delicacies, tomato catsup, was furnished from his diet. After he had sufficiently recovered, some catsup was set before him one evening at supper. As he said his customary "grues" he added, "And thank you for the catsup, Lord—if I can eat it."

Clayton Tiffany of Mendota attended the funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Dahrmpler at 10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Burial was at Woodlawn, O. yesterday.

FEBRUARY BIRTHDAYS

Although it is the shortest month, February perhaps holds the birthday anniversaries of more famous Americans than any other. Among these, Washington and Lincoln are prominent, but two other presidents, William Henry Harrison and Millard Fillmore, were also born in February.

This month also marks the birthdays of David Porter, naval officer of the War of 1812; Zebulon M. Pike, soldier and explorer, for whom Pike's Peak was named; General W. T. Sherman of Civil War fame; Horace Greeley and Henry Waterson, noted editors; Henry W. Longfellow and Sidney Lanier, poets; Mark Hopkins, the great educator who was president of Williams College for 36 years; Roger Williams, pioneer of religious liberty and founder of Rhode Island; Richard Watson Gilder, poet, editor and civic reformer; Dwight L. Moody, evangelist; Peter Cooper and George Pecksky, philanthropists; Joseph Jefferson, actor; Cyrus H. McCormick, inventor of the reaper; and William F. Cody, the colorful "Buffalo Bill."

The February list also includes several famous American women, among them being Susan E. Anthony, pioneer suffragist, and two noted women educators, Mary Lyon, founder of Mount Holyoke Seminary and Alice Freeman Palmer, former president of Wellesley College. Among living Americans born in February, the most famous are Thomas E. Edison, Elihu Root and Charles A. Lindbergh.

HOW TO FIGHT THE FLU

Plain common sense is the main ingredient of advice offered by Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings of the U. S. Health Service for the treatment and prevention of influenza, which has assumed the proportions of a mild epidemic in many parts of the country.

He recommends plenty of sleep, rest, simple diet, with large amounts of water, fruit juices, milk and hot soups, with no clothing; avoidance of contact with others who have colds; keeping in the open air as much as possible, and avoiding the use of alcohol and stimulants if all these.

Most of the surgeon general's recommendations are merely sound rules of health which might well be observed at any time, particularly in winter. He also advises against the use of any so-called preventives, such as sera, vaccines, and other advertised remedies, which seem to have no value and may be harmful in this disease. A doctor's care and common sense health rules are the only proper treatment.

Avoidance of alcohol and stimulants of all kinds should include elimination of the most common of all, tea and coffee. This advice is consistent with the rest of the national health officer's suggestions for building up the vital reserve power of the individual.

Public health services perform one of their most valuable functions by pointing out to the public that there is no royal road to health, only the road we build by schooling ourselves to follow the laws of nature, which are available to all of us.

MORE POLITICAL BUNK

Among the many economic fallacies now being advanced by certain groups of politicians, none is worse than the idea that government ownership and operation of public utilities would be in the interest of the public. This applies especially to the electric industry, about which there is considerable political agitation just now.

The theory put forward by those of socialist tendencies is that by government development of water-power sites cheaper electricity would result. The fact is that waterpower is rapidly losing its importance as a source of electric energy, due to the increasing efficiency of steam plants. In 1930 only 32 per cent of the electricity generated in the United States was produced from waterpower.

As an illustration of the improvement in steam generation it may be mentioned that only ten years ago it required an average of 3 pounds of coal to generate a kilowatt hour of electricity, while at present only 1.6 pounds of coal are required.

That the savings effected by the use of modern equipment are reflected in rates charged the public is evidenced by the fact that average rates for household electric service are now 30 per cent below pre-war levels, while other living costs are 60 per cent above those of 1913.

In view of these incontrovertible facts, it is somewhat difficult to understand what an ill-socialistic shouting is about. The only plausible explanation is that it is just plain political bunk.

FOUR MILES A MINUTE

A new automobile record was made on the Daytona beach a few days ago, when Captain Malcolm Campbell drove his racing car at the unprecedented speed of 246 miles an hour, nearly 15 miles an hour faster than the former world's record held by the late Captain Segrave.

While the ability to travel at this terrific speed is of little practical value in itself, it does serve to illustrate the great advance made by automobile engineers in recent years. This new record of more than four miles a minute is almost within hailing distance of the best airplane speed, which is a little in excess of five miles a minute.

The skill and daring of those who perform these extraordinary feats of speed can not fail to excite admiration, but conservative folks will have little desire to emulate them.

Most people are satisfied to travel slower, with the probability of traveling longer.

Oahu's central highway, which is termed the largest single project of high-type road construction, is about 100 miles long.

The lowest passenger air line in the world, 8,000 miles, between England and South Africa, is to be in full operation by mid-summer.

NEW BOOKS THIS WEEK The Adams Family—Adams. Murder in a Haystack—Dorothy Aldis. Jim Davis—John Macfield. Robin Hood—Edited by Harvey. Alice in Wonderland—Carrall. The Hallowed Eokship—Morley. Kink Ardian and His Knight—Merchant. Wigwag Evening—Charles Eastman and Elaine Eastman.

Sunset Pass—Zane Grey. Secret Sister Mary—Julia Peterkin.

THE ADAMS FAMILY. "American history," some envious person once remarked, "is all cluttered up with Adamses." Whether as Presidents of their country, members of the Cabinet, diplomats, or as private citizens voicing that dissent for which they are famous, the Adamses, more than any other American family, have left a record of fearless and energetic public service.

To follow these careers is to touch living personalities and to witness the panorama of our nation's growth. Seldom in the history of the world has a family's traits and genius been perpetuated, with such force and freshness. The Adamses heritage has come down through five generations; it flourishes today in the present Secretary of the Navy.

The author, who is not in any way related to the family about which he writes, has pictured a great dynasty with a master's touch and with a combination of sympathetic understanding and critical insight that is rare among present-day biographers and historians. MURDER IN A HAYSTACK. Dorothy Aldis children's books have distinguished themselves and are praised by critics far and wide. Now this young Chicago matron turns to the sophisticated and richly characterized murder story in her first novel.

Murder is done at a smart society treasure hunt. The lovely and somewhat mysterious Mrs. Symonds is shot. From a complicated sex tangle the secret emerges, and the reader is carried along by graceful dialogue and excellent detail. This freshly conceived crime puzzle is as much a novel of emotions as it is a mystery story.

The FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

The following references to the Gospel of Saint Luke, with accompanying paragraphs and suggested prayer are from a devotional manual issued by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

The excerpts here published cover the period from the beginning of Lent (Ash Wednesday, February 13) to the end of the Lenten season (Easter Sunday, February 22). They will be read throughout the Lenten season.

ASH WEDNESDAY, FEB. 13 The Normal Life (Read Acts 1:1-4). Text: Luke 5:31. They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

At the end of the Lenten season let us understand that it does not call for an ecstatic devotion; it calls us back to normal living. Religion belongs to life. "Prayer is as natural as eating, and as essential to a whole and healthy life. Those who observe a Lenten fast only put themselves back on a wholesome diet. So all our devotions restore us to our "normal" service. It is because we are so busy, so full of cares, so full of anxieties, that we need these periods of rest, when we are looking for health, and our effort is not to be a straining after excess but a return to normal living. Our program should not be thought of as a temporary expedient, but should take us up to new and permanent levels.

Prayer: Almighty God, who art the author of our life and the Father of our spirits, we look to thee for healing and strength. Teach us, O God, by thy word, to walk in the ways of thy will, that our life may be abundant in Jesus' name. Amen.

THURSDAY, FEB. 13 Christian Song (Read Luke 1:46-55 and 1:48-79).

The Beautiful Book makes the Christian era to begin with a burst of songs in Acts and the Epistles. This immediate neighbor is Peter, a willow dog. He disappeared, and when no immediate trace of him was found it was presumed that he had unwisely given battle to a cat-mountain or some other vicious species of the hills.

Then it was noticed that Red was straying away from home far oftener than was his custom. And when he did come home he was restless, he barked and generally gave the appearance of attempting to communicate.

He roared, but only after his first medical and X-ray examination. Eventually, Babcock, his master, set out to follow him. Joyously, Old Red led him to an abandoned quarry hole, a considerable distance away and there, forty feet down, was the alive but imprisoned Pete, the collie neighbor. And when the rescue party with block and tackle descended into the hole, they found a supply of Pete's food. It developed that Old Red had not only been carrying his own food to the quarry hole for Pete but he had been soliciting food from other neighbors as well.

Nothing spectacular, nothing sensational. But a dog set that any dog lover could understand and appreciate the committee said, pointing out that the ultimate result of his act—the saving of another dog—was unimportant and secondary to the way in which it was done. The dog, however, had a human life beat at stake. It is believed that Red would have acted with equal foresight and intelligence.

The dogs, to win honorable mention, performed a variety of heroic acts ranging from buzzard battling to charging rattle snakes in defense of their owners. They were: Spotty, of Hammond, Ind.; Mona, of El Paso; Kasper, of Chicago; St. Bernard in Thousand Oaks, Calif.; Sport, of Newark; Buster, of Canyon, N. J.; Parley-Vous, of Willows, Calif.; Jerry, of Modesto, Calif.; Rinty, of Emarus, Pa.; and Rags, of Fort Jay, N. Y.

dress you may make them from silk or cotton pique, preferably the fine ribbed sort. For a lighter weight dress you may use organdy, georgette, or silk crepe. A new idea is to use rather stiff tulle which gives a smart effect but is not so easily soiled as the other materials.

Allow a half inch between the petals if you take them to picoté. The outline of each petal will, you know, be finished with machine hem stitching. Then you cut along the hem stitching, leaving a picoté edge on the edge of the petals. If you like you may finish the petals with a fine rolled hem which you can do yourself. The straight edge of the petal should not be picoté. Gather this and make the flower from eight or more petals. If you like you can use eight large petals along the outside edge of the flower and seven smaller ones in an inner circle. A large head or button is used to cover the center where the petals meet. The cuts are made from slightly gathered petals attached to a band about an inch wide, of the same material.

"Small Boy: 'Dad, give me a dime.' Father: 'Not today, sonny, not today.'"

"Small Boy: 'Dad, if you'll give me a dime I'll tell you what the ice man said to mamma this morning.'"

Father: "Here, son, quick, what did he say?"

"Small Boy: 'He said, 'Lady, how much ice do you want this morning?'"

Son: "Pop, I got in trouble at school today and it's your fault."

Pop: "How's that, son?"

Son: "Remember I asked you how much $3,000,000 was?"

Pop: "Yes, I remember."

Son: "Well, 'ahelluva lot' isn't the right answer."

Husband: "I wonder when you'll learn to make bread like mother used to make."

Wife: "Probably by the time you'll make the dough father used to make."

Gossip: "I just heard an awful story about your husband."

Wife: "Tell me, I need a new dress."

She: "What would you do if I should cry?"

He: "I'd hang out a sign. 'Wee Paint.'"

"Red" Saves Canine Friend: Awarded Dog Hero Medal

New York, Feb. 7.—"Red," the 13-year-old, battle-scarred veteran of many a Virginia coon and cougar hunt, today was awarded the Spratt's Dog Hero Medal given semi-annually to the dog who acts or acts during the preceding six months earned him outstanding distinction in the canine world.

"Red," described by his master, A. Babcock of Gladstone, Va., as a "lovable old coon hound," was finally selected by the award committee from a list of eight-six dogs whose acts were all of sufficient importance to merit the honor.

The committee, composed of Frank Dore, Dog Editor of the New York Herald Tribune, William Brooks, former editor of Forest and Stream, and Frank B. Rutherford, operative manager of the Pennsylvania S. P. C. A., also named ten "honorable mention" dogs whose courage, intelligence and devotion were of an exceptional caliber.

The Spratt's medal for dog hero, the committee points out, carries the distinction of being the winner in the only certified and documentary cases are considered for the honor and that only two medals are given annually.

Scores of cases before the committee were replete with daring acts of courage and in many instances, a devotion was shown that would do credit to the human heart. "Red," the Virginia coon hound, displayed a brand of devotion and intelligence that will be quickly appreciated by dog lovers, the committee said, although his act was not as "sensational" as some of the other certified reports submitted. Red's story is one of an honest, home-spun devotion and rare intelligence.

Red, the official report stated, in his thirteenth year and weighs 68 pounds. In his day he has bagged more than five hundred raccoons and has fought and killed several lynx and wild cats in the Virginia mountains. His immediate neighbor is Pete, a willow dog. He disappeared, and when no immediate trace of him was found it was presumed that he had unwisely given battle to a cat-mountain or some other vicious species of the hills.

Then it was noticed that Red was straying away from home far oftener than was his custom. And when he did come home he was restless, he barked and generally gave the appearance of attempting to communicate.

He roared, but only after his first medical and X-ray examination. Eventually, Babcock, his master, set out to follow him. Joyously, Old Red led him to an abandoned quarry hole, a considerable distance away and there, forty feet down, was the alive but imprisoned Pete, the collie neighbor. And when the rescue party with block and tackle descended into the hole, they found a supply of Pete's food.

It developed that Old Red had not only been carrying his own food to the quarry hole for Pete but he had been soliciting food from other neighbors as well.

Nothing spectacular, nothing sensational. But a dog set that any dog lover could understand and appreciate the committee said, pointing out that the ultimate result of his act—the saving of another dog—was unimportant and secondary to the way in which it was done.

The dog, however, had a human life beat at stake. It is believed that Red would have acted with equal foresight and intelligence.

Spotty, a little fox terrier owned by Joe Norbeck of Hammond, Ind., is credited with saving the life of William Deichebor's 13-month-old daughter, who had tumbled into swamp-land near the Deichebor home. All night Spotty stood guard over the infant, and, with daylight, attracted the attention of searchers.

Mona, of El Paso is credited with her devotion will linger long in the hearts of her owners. Last April Mona saved the life of Leopoldo Loren, her 15-year-old master. Leopoldo, a cripple, was trapped in his burning home.

Mona, frantically trying to help, stood beside his bed until her eyes were almost burned out and her hair burned from her body. She panted until her back brought respite, after weeks of suffering, the dog sniffed a little of her hair, but it was the same love, this time mingled with jealousy, that sent her to her death. Leopoldo's mother had brought a neighbor's baby in for the boy to see. Mona, obviously, became jealous as the entire family "made over" the infant. She refused to come near the baby, and within a few moments she was dead. Making her way out of the house, she tried to cross the street. An automobile crushed her on her life.

By her St. Bernard, Kate Joslyn, 80, of Thousands Oaks, Calif., an artist, owes her life. She rolled to the bottom of a 800 foot canyon, and there bleeding and suffering she lay for four days. Her St. Bernard, who has since died, stood guard the entire time, fighting off buzzards and attempting to save her by the canyon's side. What finally happened, nearly all her clothes had been torn off by the dog's repeated efforts to help her.

In Summit, a little suburb of Chicago, Kaiser, the Great Dane owned by Henry Goets, owner of a roadhouse, pitched into eight armed bandits who were holding up the establishment. He snatched furiously right and left as guns roared about him but he escaped unscathed. The bandits escaped but several of them were known to have been badly bitten.

"Spit," police dog owned by Peter Floren, Newark, N. J., delinquent proprietor, also had no regard for armed bandits when he attacked two of them who held up Floren's delinquent shop. He was shot through the head, but his assault had so unnerved the bandits that they fled without their loot. It was first thought that Spit had paid the supreme sacrifice. He recovered, but only after his first medical and X-ray examination.

On two occasions, Buster, a beagle of Canada, gave first aid treatment to his master, M. S. Kitts, who had fainted with heart attacks. Buster licked the face of Kitts until he revived and then brought assistance. And Buster is 10 years old and blind.

J. M. Snodgrass, of Modesto, Calif., carried a note from his master, who had fallen into a ravine thirty miles from Modesto, to the home of his master, a 7-year-old Virginia Sharpey. The dog, owned by William Byers, of Elk Creek, was struck by the snake but did not before he had inflicted mortal wounds on the serpent. The snake died, and Parley-Vous with the aid of a serum, recovered.

Rinty, a direct descendant of Rinty-Tin, took charge of a temperamental prize bull that was going berserk on the owners. They were: Spotty, of Hammond, Ind.; Mona, of El Paso; Kasper, of Chicago; St. Bernard in Thousand Oaks, Calif.; Sport, of Newark; Buster, of Canyon, N. By MARY MARSHALL Here is the sketch of a flower and will add that little new touch that often makes it possible to wear a dress after you have grown tired of it in its original form.

The flower as well as the cuffs are made from petal shapes. There is a pattern to use for the petals. If you want the flowers to be larger or smaller then enlarge or reduce the size of the petal pattern. Cut the petals from cardboard or heavy paper. Just Thinkin'

by Charles S. Kinnison

When I'm Away

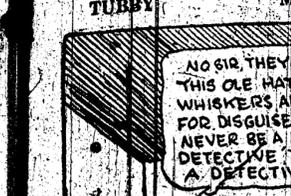

When I've been away on a visit, Whatever the pleasure and fun, Or times that I've had— I find that I'm glad The day that my visit is done.

However I may prize the friendship Of friends that I meet as I roam, I still must confess That nevertheless I'm eager and glad to go home.

Nor do I believe that you blame me For feeling the way that I do. For is it not so That wherever you go, Your home is still calling to you?

Yes, home is the place where my heart is, However far from it I roam. So that's why I say That when I'm away I look to the time to go home!

Electricity is a JACK-OF-ALL-TRADES on the farm

Electricity is a Jack-of-all-trades on modern farms—and master of them all. Besides lighting up the home, the yard and the barns, electricity is saving both time and labor for the farmer, speeding through his chores and doing them more efficiently than he can by hand. In the barn, electricity will grind grain, supply fresh drinking water for the cattle, milk the cows. In the dairy it will cool milk to low temperatures, separate cream, churn butter. In the poultry house it will hatch and brood chickens, warm their food and water, treat them with healthful ultra-violet rays, while they are growing. In the yard electricity will pump water, curtailage, fill the silo. In the farm home it will clean, wash, heat water, sew and—most important of all—make cooking and refrigeration safe and easy. The Public Service Company is serving 7,000 farms with electricity, bringing them the efficient production methods of industry and city standards of living at moderate cost. Write or phone your nearest Public Service Store to find out how you can have electric service brought to your farm. One of our men assigned to farm electrification will call on you and explain just what it will cost. He can also give you complete information about all the labor-saving equipment mentioned above. No obligation.

BAYER ASPIRIN is always SAFE BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

UNLESS you see the name Bayer and the word genuine on the package as pictured above you can never be sure that you are taking the genuine Bayer Aspirin that thousands of physicians prescribe in their daily practice. The name Bayer means genuine Aspirin. It is your guarantee of purity—your protection against the imitations. Millions of users have proved that it is safe. Genuine Bayer Aspirin promptly relieves: Headaches, Neuritis, Colds, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Nausea, Lumbago, Toothache. No harmful after-effects follow its use. It does not depress the heart.

Too Much Acid If baby has COLIC. MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and all cases. The symptoms disappear in five minutes. You will never see crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia—prescribed by physicians for 50 years in colic, indigestion, excess acids, 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company since 1878.

DR. CALDWELL'S THREE RULES. Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and he learned that no matter how constipated people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting a remedy to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation is a mild, vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system, and is not habit forming. The Doctor never did approve of drastic purgatives and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sore and watery stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headache, and to break up liver and acids. Get a bottle today, at any drugstore, and observe how three rules of health keep the bowels open. For a free trial bottle, just write "Syrup Pepsin" Dept. 315, Monticello, Illinois.

Broncks Lose and Ponies Win When Antioch Opposes

The Barrington Bronchos lost to Antioch last Friday night by a score of 31 to 20, but the Barrington Ponies won their game 19 to 17.

The Ponies got away to a nice lead early in the game but waekaged in the last half and were almost overtaken. Sloppy guarding gave their opponents some twenty-four charity tosses from the free throw line but fortunately they didn't connect with many of them. This victory leaves them a Chinaman's chance in the conference race, but one slip and they are completely out.
