14 HOUR WEEK FOR MAIL CARRIERS AND CLERKS ESTABLISHED

A 14-hour week for all regular post-office clerks and carriers and the installation of three steel relay boxes for handling mail delivery, are two changes in the postal service which will take effect this week, according to E. J. Langendorf, postmaster at Barrington.

His appointment was effective April 1, a more satisfactory date for a change because of the bi-weekly reports and other postal routine. A few changes have been made in the hours of duty for some of the clerks to conform with mail schedules and the distribution of mail. One change is the installation of three relay boxes on each of the city delivery routes, so that mail can be carried by delivery by the mail carrier from the various sections of the city. This will save time, saving his time and allowing more prompt delivery of mail as well as helping him in his deliveries up to schedule and allowing him to schedule his deliveries up to schedule and allowing him to schedule his deliveries up to schedule.

Announcement

I have purchased the Heuer Grocery on W. Main street which will be operated under the name of "Miller's Food Shop." Mr. Heuer will manage the store and will continue to deal in only the best quality of groceries, and give his patrons the best of service. In addition to other standard high class brands, the Miller's Food Shop will handle the famous Centrella brand of products.

This will be a 100 per cent home owned store and will not be connected with a chain grocery. I believe that quality groceries in the long run mean true economy to the patrons.

Mr. Heuer wishes to thank all of his friends and patrons for their loyal support while he operated under his own name and sincerely hopes to continue serving them.

FACTS ABOUT EASTER

Easter Sunday, which falls on April 5 this year, is observed by Christians in commemoration of Christ's resurrection, but not as an actual anniversary, as its date varies from year to year, in accordance with a method of computing it adopted by the Council of Nice in the year 325.

The custom of celebrating Easter is really an outgrowth of the Jewish Passover. There is no trace of its observance as a Christian festival in the New Testament or in the writings of the apostolic fathers. In fact, neither Christ nor the apostles enjoined the keeping of this or any other festival.

But as most of the early Christians were derived from the Jewish church, many of the old Jewish festivals continued to be observed by them and gradually passed into the Christian calendar.

The name of Easter is derived from Easter, the Anglo-Saxon goddess of spring and many customs which have marked the day's observance are drawn from pagan sources. In the ancient church the celebration of Easter lasted eight days, but after the eleventh century it was limited to three later to two, and finally to one.

The proper time for the observance of Easter has been the subject of bitter controversy among various Christian groups. In the year 107 Pope Victor excommunicated Polykrates, bishop of Ephesus, and his entire Asiatic following for not conforming to the Roman custom. The Greek church did not adopt the Roman date until 1923, so that only during the last eight years has the entire Christian world observed Easter simultaneously.

According to present usage Easter can not occur earlier than March 22 or later than April 26. The last time it fell on March 22 was in 1818, after which some three centuries must elapse before it occurs so early again. It fell on April 25 the last time in 1843, but will not occur so late in any year of the present century.

Of all Easter customs the use of Easter eggs is the most universal. This is also of pagan origin, the egg having been considered a symbol of immortality by the ancients.

FARM PRICES LOWEST

Farm products further declined in price during the past month, reaching the lowest level in 20 years, according to the Department of Agriculture. The index of farm prices recently stood at 90, while never before since this index has been available has it been below 92, that low figure being reached in 1914.

The purchasing power of a given quantity of farm products is now about one-third less than it was before the war, on an average. In February the price of chickens, cattle, lambs, butter, apples and potatoes were somewhat higher than in 1913, but corn, hay, cotton, oats, wheat, hogs, sheep, eggs and several other products ranged from 10 to 40 per cent below present prices.

It is natural that the continued decline of farm product prices since the passage of the so-called farm relief bill should cause much criticism of the law itself and the actions of the Farm Board in administering its provisions. Whether these criticisms are entirely justified is a matter of individual opinion.

LIBRARY NEWS

NEW BOOKS THIS WEEK

Drifting Sands of Party Politics—Oscar Underwood. The Red Trade Menace—H. R. Knickerbocker. Reader, I Married Him—Anne Green. This Awful Age—Ryerson and Clements. Lupe Goes to School—Esther Brann. The Big Aviation Book for Boys—McLaughlin.

DRIFTING SANDS OF PARTY POLITICS is a gift to our library from Mrs. Underwood. The book is an intimate and revealing "behind the scenes" view of the American government.

THE RED TRADE MENACE tells of the progress of the Soviet Five Year Plan. After two months' survey covering all the principal cities of Russia, Mr. Knickerbocker, foreign correspondent of the New York Evening Post, presents the latest facts of the nation-wide upheaval that has been taking place since the plan was started two years ago. The result is the realization that the Soviet system is not a communist system. It is a system of the purest state capitalism.

THE BIG AVIATION BOOK FOR BOYS tells of Lindbergh, Byrd, Wellman, Rickenbacker, Chamberlain and Levine, Floyd Bennett and other heroes from aviator's scroll of fame. From "The First Attempt at the North Pole," the story of Capt. Andre and his balloon to "The Byrd Antarctic Expedition," all of the high spots of aviation progress and great adventure gleam in its pages; stories to thrill the heart and stir the blood of every boy, and all true experiences, many of them narrated by the actual participants.

LUPE GOES TO SCHOOL, is the story of a little Spanish girl and her friends, Julia and Innocencia, who live in the sunny south of Spain. They spend their recreation hours in a garden where there are singing crickets, scab, green lizards and even a dreadful tarantula. One Lupe went to Seville on an apple donkey. The thousands of small girls who love Nanette of the Wooden Shoes will enjoy this story of little girls in Spain.

THIS AWFUL AGE will be enjoyed by girls in their teens who are in the important process of growing up.

Members of the Woman's Club who heard Dr. William McGovern lecture last Wednesday on "To Lham In Disguise" will be interested to know that his book by the same name may be found on the library shelves.

Genius is more common among men, according to a psychologist. But he rather spoiled it for the men by adding, "So is idleness."

A Lenten Analogy

Lincoln, in those memorable words on the battlefield of Gettysburg, spoke of dedicating and hallowing that ground, and said "but in a larger sense we cannot hallow this ground—the brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here."

We are meeting in daily worship to hallow these days of Passion Week. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot hallow these days.

The Christ who we love and serve and trust, has hallowed these days far above our power to add or detract. The world can never forget what He did here. But it is for us to be dedicated on these hallowed days to the great task remaining before us, that from Him we take increased devotion to the cause for which He gave the last full measure of devotion; that we, during these days, hallow the fact that He shall not have suffered and died in vain.

Lincoln called our forefathers to that consecration which rightly be spoke its appreciation of those they hoped to honor. May we hear voices that call us to similar Christian consecration during these Passion Week and Easter days and may we respond as beautifully as our Christ merits response.

"Saviour, teach me day by day,
Love's sweet lesson to obey;
Sweeter lesson cannot be,
Loving Him who first loved me."With a child-like heart of love,
At Thy bidding may I more;
Prompt to serve and follow Thee,
Loving Him who first loved me.
Amen.

SATURDAY, APRIL 4

Extreme Unction

(Read Luke 23:39-43. Text, Luke 23:43.) And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, Today thou shalt be with me in paradise.

This story of the penitent thief we owe to Luke's researches. His lessons are precious. Truly, while life is life there is hope. And the last hope of Jesus while he was in his own agony, was to give comfort to a dying criminal. To the end, it was his mission to seek and to save the lost; to the end it was his way to ease the sufferings of the human heart. There is a satisfaction, too, in thinking that our Lord had companionship in his last agony. His friends had forsaken him and fled. His enemies, with brutal malice, flung taunts at him. In this last expected place he found a friend who believed in him. The friend of sinners went to the great mystery leading a penitent sinner; they would be together in paradise.

Prayer: Our Heavenly Father, who wilt not the death of a sinner, but that all should come unto thee, and live; we pray that thou wilt be very near to any who are departing this life, giving to them comfort of hope, and peace at the end. In Jesus' name. Amen.

EASTER DAY, APRIL 5

(Read Luke 23:35-24:10. Text, Luke 24:33.) Why seek ye the living among the dead?

The devotion and courage of women of Jerusalem had braved the mob to give Jesus friendly companionship and sympathy. And these women of Galilee had not fled with the disciples. The last at the cross and the first at the tomb! It was fitting that they should be the first to challenge to their sorrow. They were looking for the one they loved, but looking in the wrong place. This challenge meets us all at the graves of our loved ones. With loving care we tend these hallowed spots in God's Acre, putting flowers there, and watering them with tears. We want to do it; it eases a little the ache in our hearts. But there is a greater comfort for us, when we remember that our dear ones are not there in the ground. Our faith has buried them, not in the earth, but in the sky. The grave contains their dust, but cannot house their spirits. They themselves have not tarried here, where dust returns to dust, but have gone on into the Silent Land. They are not dead, but alive—probably far more alive than we are. Why seek we the living among the dead? This day, consecrated to our memories, is still more consecrated to immortal hopes. It points us to the coming time when Memory and Hope shall meet and clasp hands. We shall find our loved ones, but not in the grave. In the wise words of David, "They will not return to us, but we shall go to them."

Prayer: O Lord, the light of the faithful, the strength of those who labor, and the Repose of the blessed dead: We bless thee for all thy saints who have witnessed in their lives a good confession, and especially for those dear unto us who have fallen asleep in Jesus. Grant us grace, O Lord, so to follow their good example that we may be one of them in spirit, and finally share in their eternal rest. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Band Tax

In regard to the proposed municipal band tax, which will come before the voters of Barrington at the next election, it might be well to consider what is being done in other communities along this line.

In Woodstock, where their band has been organized only for a year, the weekly concerts draw large crowds of enthusiastic music lovers. The business men are wholly for this form of community entertainment, and the effect is felt in the schools, where Alberto latent talent has been developed by the added incentive of an opportunity to play in a municipal band. And for this the Woodstock taxpayers pay only twelve cents on a valuation of $1,000.

In McHenry, a village half the size of Barrington, the tax has been in force for some years, and has given satisfaction in many ways, particularly in the effect it has had in developing musical ability in the younger generation. McHenry at present, has every reason to be proud of its young musicians, who under the able direction of W. N. Sears, won the state contest for Class C orchestras.

Community entertainment, at regular intervals, develops a community spirit and pride of local achievement which is best displayed by musical talent.

If other towns and villages can do it, why not Barrington?

A TAXPAYER.

Thousands of well-meaning people are taking the chance of being crippled for life with rheumatism. When a rheumatic attack occurs they seek to decide the pain by taking relievers—a method that only ends with disastrous results.

Every rheumatic sufferer knows painful, swollen, inflamed joints. These are caused by an excessive acid in the blood.

When you drive this trouble away from the blood you are taking the risk of the cause of rheumatism. Relievers won't do this.

When you are taking the meaning relievers the uric acid continues to penetrate further and further into the joints and tendons.

Masonic Temple Will Be Ready For Lodge May 1

The new Masonic temple, created from the former Barrington M. E.
church building on S. Cook street,
will be completed and ready to house
the lodge by May 1, according to Harry L. Hammond, chairman of the Masonic committee. The formal grand opening date has been tentatively set for Tuesday, May Paul Pabel of Jesuson Park has been invited to officiate
at the grand opening ceremonies,
and other neighboring communities
will be invited to the affair.
A milestone in Masonic history was passed recently when the final payment on the new home was made by the order. The Masons purchased the building a year ago from the Methodist church at a cost of $4,700
and have been renovating it at an additional expense of approximately $3,500.

New Steam Plant

Improvements in the building include a change in the walls and arrangements of the ground floor, a remodeling of the second floor, redecorating of the walls and woodwork and installation of new lighting fixtures.
This work is now nearly completed,
but additional improvements will be made later. The present circulating air heating plant will be replaced by a steam plant before cold weather sets in next fall. Mr. Hammond said. The steps will be removed in a year or two and the exterior of the building redecorated.

As the building is now arranged,
members will enter the building from Cook street into an attractively finished lobby which occupies the northeast portion of the floor. A woman's rest room and a men's rest room open from the south end of the lobby. West of the lobby laid rest rooms is the large dining room, which extends from the north to the south walls of the building and occupies nearly half of the ground floor. A reading room

"Rare" Liquors Are Stolen from Wauconda Estate

A large quantity of choice and rare liquors having bootleggers' retail value of more than $5,000, wearing apparel, a shot gun and an electric clock were stolen Saturday from the spacious farm house of the estate of
J. R. Rooney at Wauconda.
The burglars entered the house by passing a window and then forced their way into a store room in which a large steamer trunk was kept. They pried the steamer trunk open and took out a variety of choice whisker, bourbon and wine which Rooney valued at $1,000, in its under form. After doctoring by bootleggers these liquors would bring more than $5,000, it was said.
Sheriff Lester Tiffany's deputies, investigating the burglary, believed that prowlers were evidently aware of the stored pre-war beverages and came mainly to get that as their loot.
The burglars took two suits, two overcoats, shirts, ties and blankets from Rooney's clothes-closet and an English shot gun and electric clock
which was valued highly by Rooney.
The caretaker of the estate said the loot taken by the burglars was worth at least $1,500. He said he did not hear any disturbance about the house Saturday.

day evening, April 10 at 8 o'clock at Julius Tavern, 212 S. Hough street.

gram during which members will relate their experiences in regard to ter.

Mrs. Priscilla, Chairman
This general discussion will be led tract birds.

familiarize the members with the migratory birds which are appearing
