Harold Calkins, and Robert Ulbrich to Receive High Honors

Harold Calkins, and Robert Ulbrich to receive high honors court of honor. Fitzgerald will be honored. Harold will be Eagle Scout rank after Eagle probably could move fast enough to raise the funds in December. Mr. Flick explained.

Barrington at present is in good financial condition, he added.

Ela Will Not Raise Poor Funds Now

Ela township has very few poor people or paupers to take care of or urgent need for immediate poor relief fund according to E. A. Flicka of Lake Zurich, township supervisor from Ela.

Because of the fact the town board will await a special session of the legislature in November, when a channel for relief funds is expected to be opened up.

The expected special session of the legislature will consider a bill allowing the townships throughout the state (Cook county excepted) to seek anticipation warrants to raise money for pauper relief funds. If the bill is passed and approved by Governor Emerson, the machinery could move fast enough to raise the funds in December, Mr. Flick explained.

Barrington at present is in good financial condition, he added.

Lake Zurich School Wins 1st Place at Farmer's Institute

Experts in Production Is Farm Problem Solution, Speaker Says

Lake Zurich School won first place in the annual Lake Zurich school competition held last Friday.

Following this action, Charles M. Hayes, president of the club, declared that in the event of a special meeting of the Illinois General Assembly this fall, the motor club would urge the legislators to make the necessary appropriations so that construction could be started.

"There is no question as to the feasibility of the Austin-Kinzie elevated highway," Mr. Hayes told the motor club workers, who had assembled from the 62 counties in Illinois and Indiana in which the club operated. "Plans for this project have been under consideration for several years, and within a short time after the legislature takes action, employment could be provided directly to 15,000 to 30,000 men, and indirectly to many more. From two to three years would be necessary in which to complete the project."

Elevated Highway West From Chicago Will Be Asked of Legislature

Unanimous endorsement of the proposed Austin-Kinzie elevated highway, together with a plea for the immediate beginning of construction, was voiced Sunday by all of the employees, numbering approximately 850, of the Chicago Motor Club. The meeting was held in the Medina Athletic club.

Following this action, Charles M. Hayes, president of the club, declared that in the event of a special meeting of the Illinois General Assembly this fall, the motor club would urge the legislators to make the necessary appropriations so that construction could be started.

"There is no question as to the feasibility of the Austin-Kinzie elevated highway," Mr. Hayes told the motor club workers, who had assembled from the 62 counties in Illinois and Indiana in which the club operated. From two to three years would be necessary in which to complete the project."

Gas Tax Financed

"No additional taxation of any sort is contemplated. The entire cost would be derived from the gasoline tax which which the highway would serve. According to the law to the area ready; many outlying communities have gone on record as being heartily in favor of the project."

"The highway would be built on an earth fill, next to the Chicago and North Western railway right of way, which already is elevated. With ramps to the street level below every half mile, all grade crossings would be eliminated, with the result that high speeds could be maintained with absolute safety. The average driving time now from the loop to the western city limits or vice versa, is from thirty to forty minutes and even more. On the elevated highway the time would be approximately nine minutes."

"This highway would serve the entire metropolitan area lying northwest, west, southwest, and in some instances, even north and south of Chicago."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of Walter Deihl, who died October 13, 1930.

A precious one from us has gone,

A voice we loved is stilled;

A place is vacant in our home,

Which never can be filled.

God in His wisdom has received,

The boon his love had given,

And though the body slumbers here,

The soul is safe in Heaven.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES DEIHL

Good architectural design is required, and only material and workmanship of high quality will be employed. During construction, the lumber company will maintain personal supervision of the job and at completion will deliver to the owner a bonded certificate of quality guaranteeing all materials used.

"Local builders of demonstrated experience and proficiency are to handle all construction work on these homes, and local architects will be invited to cooperate in developing more beautiful and convenient small home designs. In addition to new homes, the company will finance modernization and repair jobs on easy monthly payments. This will help many present owners to modernize their homes, pay in comfortable installments, and greatly increase the values of their properties."

"Hundreds of thousands of aspiring home builders the country over have been handicapped by cumbersome and old-fashioned methods, according to Lageschulte & Hager, and this new plan will take all the 'mystery' out of home building, and at the same time surround it with a number of important safeguards."

"The finance plan provides up to 75 per cent of the combined cost of house and lot, with 15 years to pay off. The 6 per cent mortgages are paid off in low monthly payments of $8.44 per thousand dollars borrowed, thus including both principal and interest. At the end of 15 years, the property is completely paid for."

"To make such a liberal plan possible, seven safeguards are provided:

... . . is NOW Heating ECONOMY

... . . and low-priced fuel is only PART of "Silent's" saving

A recent survey based on actual fuel costs in "Silent" heated homes shows an average saving of 10.6 per cent from oil as compared with coal as present prices.

PEOPLE who used to talk of the luxury of automatic oil heat are now installing it as a common sense economy. Oil prices are at a low level that makes oil the cheapest of heating methods. So Silent Automatic adds a new saving to the many other savings for which it has long been noted. Silent Automatic has always been inexpensive to operate . . . as hundreds of letters from owners testify. Not only does it burn the most economical grades of oil that may be used for satisfactory home heating . . . but by complete combustion and scientific flame placement, it turns all your fuel into useful heat.

If you wish this winter and for years to come, the comfort, convenience and freedom from labor that have brought world leadership to Silent Automatic, install a "Silent" NOW in your present heating plant. You may have dependable electric or gas ignition, as you prefer. Phone today for an estimate of the cost of heating your home this modern way.

AUTUMN

There is one thing in which America has it all over Europe. That is our Autumn season, or as we usually call it the Fall of the year.

It must be admitted that we don't have much of a Spring season, in most parts of this country. We go from Winter smack into Summer. We don't understand what the English poets are talking about when they sing of Spring. But over there they go from Summer right into Winter, almost! There is none of that long-drawn-out season after harvest when the leaves are turning and falling and, in the North, at least, there is a touch of frost in the early morning and the sweet smell of fallen leaves and Nature takes on a coat of gorgeous color before shifting to the somber gray of Winter.

Fall is the season of play for the farmer. When the crops have been harvested and the Fall plowing done, there is a period before Winter sets in when hunting is at its best, when it is a pleasure to be out of doors with nothing of immediate importance to attend to. It is the season of relaxation after the heat and strain of the Summer, when folks can take time to sum up the result of the year's work and begin their plans for the next.

Thanksgiving Day, in most parts of this country, marks the end of Fall and the real beginning of Winter. Then we begin to look forward to Christmas and then to next Spring. We hear travellers tell of countries where the seasons never change from one year's end to the other. It seems to us that half of the pleasure of life comes from the changing seasons, and from looking forward to the next change.

THE DEACON AND THE FROG

A great many people we know regard us of the frog that Charles E. Kettering, chief research engineer of General Motors, told about the other day.

A deacon was on his way to church one Sunday morning, dressed in his best, and with his shoes nicely polished, when he heard his name called from a mudhole near the roadside. Down in the hole was a big bullfrog.

"I have been in here three days," said the frog. "without anything to eat, and I wish you would help me out."

The deacon looked at the mud and looked at his shiny shoes and remembered that he had to pass the collection plate in church, so he replied: "I'm sorry, old man, I can't help you now, but on my way back from church I'll give you a lift out of the hole."

As he came back from church the deacon was surprised to find the frog sitting in the middle of the road contentedly snapping at flies.

"I thought you said you couldn't get out of that hole," said the deacon.

"I thought I couldn't either, until a snake came along and I just had to get out," replied the frog.

Lots of people are discovering these days that they can do things they didn't think they could do. Under the pressure of necessity every one of us can accomplish the impossible. In good times nobody uses more than a fraction of his ability and resourcefulness. But when the snake of hard times comes along we just have to get out of a hole, and like the frog in Mr. Kettering's story, we find some way to do what we didn't believe we could do.

It is a good thing for humanity that life is not always pleasant and easy. Intelligence, ability and character are only developed to their best in the face of adversity. And the harder the struggle the more fun there is in looking back on it after the peak has been passed.

PERSONNEL

The head of a trust company was describing the extraordinary growth of their business.

More and more estates are passing into the hands of trust companies. The capital funds of these estates are invested not only in bonds and mortgages but in the voting stocks of the country's leading corporations.

If the process goes on at the same rate for another twenty-five years the trust companies will control a large proportion of the wealth of the United States.

"Your problem is personnel," I said to the banker. "That's our only problem," he answered.

"How are you solving it?"

"Well, we try to pick the smartest men from the colleges, men who have majored in economics and finance. We start them in at the bottom, and let them fight their way up. Some drop by the wayside but the survivors develop into very good men."

I told them I thought they were omitting one very important step in the process of training.

"After your young man has had two or three years' experience in the bank, you ought to pull him out and send him into the heart of the country," I said. "Make him spend a year or two working on a farm or, with a section gang on the railroad, or clerking in a country store. Insist that he live on what he earns."

"When he comes back to New York he will have some idea of how hard ordinary people have to work for their money. He will have a social, as well as a merely financial point of view. A dollar will never become merely a sign or sum to him. It will represent hopes and fears, ambitions and defeats, human sweat and blood."

When if came time for me to go to college my father took me aside and said: "You have planned to go to Amherst, and I approve of the plan. But I want you to take your first year at Berea College in Kentucky, where I worked my way through." He added a sentence which I have never forgotten: "I want your sympathies to be always on the side of the men who have to struggle for what they get."

It was a wise and fine thing for a father to say to a boy.

I am one of those who believe that we are entering a period of great social changes. No matter how big and strong an institution or an industry may be it is going to be tested. Those institutions will win out which are headed by men of broad, human sympathies; men who can see the other man's point of view because they have shared the other man's daily life.

The Family Doctor

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M. D.

JUST BETWEEN US BOYS

I am frequently asked, which is the more dangerous for a man, smoking or chewing tobacco. Because so many men do one or the other, if not both. Especially is this so in rural life—that sort of living that comprises most of human liberty if not luxury.

I can hardly concede danger in either phase of tobacco-using, provided always that moderation is strictly observed; the limit of the safety-zone is TEMPERANCE, and that applies to food and drink and work and play as well.

At the time of my graduation, I had learned to be a friend for smoking; ambitious to succeed, I observed very keenly that my pockets carrying the smoker's fragrant mixtures offended some of fine patrons almost to the point of disgust. This wouldn't do. I banished the old pipe and betook myself to the seductive "plug."

But oh, the fifth of that. The abomination that goes with the cuspidor! Smoking threatened to ruin my business; chewing incensed me with a divorce court. I resolved to quit—had to do it. And I did it. Here's how:

I bought gum, plenty. I chewed a wad of gum till the sugar was extracted from it; then, I added to the tasteless wax a small bit of tobacco, making a very smooth "chew."

It had the seductive flavor of the plug without the eternal spitting and bad breath. One bolus would satisfy me continuously for half a day; my tobacco was reduced to the vanishing-point; I became free.

And, there's a method by which the excessive chewer may make himself decent in a very satisfactory way.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

Special Correspondent

ORGANIZED MINORITIES are beating the drums for a toruous congress. Just as the American Legion with its demand for modification of prohibition laws brought consternation to the legislators so does the American Federation of Labor, which is passing strong resolutions at its Vancouver sessions this week. The anxiety becomes pronounced when organized "dry" groups and agricultural combines differ with the Legion and Labor on the "wet" and "dry" issue. Legislators are cognizant that they are faced with a long period of ear-pulling as the various groups demand affirmative votes for their respective plans. Even the experienced politicians among them will find their congressional seats padded with cockleburs when attempting to straddle.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that more laws have been enacted with the sanction of minorities than by the will of the majority. The legislative program of organized labor shows that their interests are by no means confined to prohibition matters. On the contrary, labor unions have more urgent legislative problems in maintaining high wages and insuring job security. It is noteworthy that union membership has declined in periods of depression. A review of 50 years service to workers shows that unions have been instrumental in increasing 15 hours leisure per week and increased workers buying power by an average of $13 per week.

THE REPORT OF THE A. F. OF L. executive council is of particular interest to workers and employers at this time. Their analysis of factors in the present economic depression points out that "wage earners who are daily or weekly in fear of loss of their jobs cannot plan living or use their minds effectively" which accounts for the slump in buying power. The unions intend to promote legislation for advance planning and regulated construction of public works, the anti-injunction bill for their relief in-labor disputes, restricted immigration, etc. While unions marshalled their major strength in heavily populated areas it is significant that congress is easily stampeded. For instance, postal unions inspired the legislators to scramble with alacrity to open the treasury doors to the demands of this handful of federal employees. Here is a clear case where wits are often mistaken by frightened politicians as voices of iron.

IT IS AN OPEN SECRET that business men would prefer to have in the southern district of Illinois for the first seven and one-half months of 1931 as compared with a similar period last year, according to a recent statement made by O. G. Addleman, collector of internal revenue.

Using an army of 7,300 men the State of Illinois through the highway department constructed 41.51 miles of asphalt and 10.51 miles of gravel and macadam during the week ended Sept. 9. This brought the total mileage of state and county highway systems to 639,000, of which 74,746 are high type asphalt and 191,192 miles of gravel and macadam, including 122 miles of temporary gravel in the state bond issue routes. This statement was made by Frank T. Sheets, state highway engineer.

On Aug. 17, the Illinois highway office awarded contracts for $296,490 for additional paving, grading and bridge building on the basis of the plans opened Sept. 8.

Director Stuart E. Pierson of the department of agriculture, speaking at the multi-pitch plowing contest five miles south of Springfield, stated that conservation effects economy in production by lowering operation costs. He expressed the opinion that both tractors and horses have a place in the plowing scheme of Illinois, and suggested that tanners bear in mind that products of their trade bear costs and build up the quality of the soil.

Barrington Bowlers to Swing Into Action Soon

Members of the Barrington Bowling League expect to swing into action soon upon the completion of the four new alleys in the Catlow auditorium. Many have shown their intentions of entering the league, according to J. C. Cadwallader and L. J. Miller, who are in charge of registration. There is still room for more to join as this year's accommodations can handle eight teams. A meeting for all those interested in bowling has been planned for Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Catlow auditorium.

Bowling is expected to start Tuesday, Oct. 20. Each team will bowl three games a week. Twenty-five games will complete the schedule. Tentative plans are that league teams will bowl on the alleys Tuesday and Thursday nights, and the Lions teams will bowl on Monday nights. There are four teams in the Lions club league.

Cool, gravel, limestone, shale, clay, silicon, fluor spar and lead produced in Illinois during the year that ended June 30, last, will load 3,378,732 fifty-two freight cars, according to a compilation of reports just issued by Director John G. Millhouse of the state department of mines and mineral tonnage of these products from mines and quarries subject to inspection and regulation by the mining department, ranged from 115,036,504 tons of coal down to 1,100 tons of lead. In addition, the state produced 9,249,077 barrels of oil and 4,858,353 cubic feet of gas during the year.

High School Class Officers Elected at Early Meetings

Ela Township School Notes Compiled Weekly by the Pupils

The senior class held its first meeting Monday, Sept. 28, for class organization. The sixteen members unanimously re-elected Mr. Weener for class sponsor. An election of class officers resulted as follows: president, Ethel Rudisinski; vice-president, Norman Washo; secretary-treasurer, Phyllis Soderberg.

Monday afternoon proved an interesting time for most pupils including the juniors who elected: president, Richard Beckman; vice-president, Gladys Sturm; secretary, Gladys Kroop; treasurer; Ethel Keister; cheer leader, John Lemm; sponsor, Miss Beucher.

The president also appointed committees for class rings and for the junior play. Itchearvals will start the later part of next week.

Sophomores Elect

Last Monday the sophomore class meeting was held, and they elected new class officers: president, Elmer Weigert; vice-president, Vivian Moloney; secretary, Marjorie Soderberg; sponsor, Miss Hinckleff.

The freshman officers are: president, Melvin Potts; secretary-treasurer, Katherine Jayne.

A vice-president has not been elected as yet. Committees will be elected later for entertainment, parties, etc. All other business will be attended to at the next class meeting.

Read Biographies

The senior English class has spent the past three weeks reading biographies. Among the new ones we have in the library are:

Queen Victoria, Lytton Strachey; Ariel, Andre Maurois; Napoleon, Emil

Drop 35 Feet

Mrs. Zilien was killed instantly when the automobile fell to the tracks 35 feet below. Mr. Zilien was thrown clear of the debris. He was taken to Westlake hospital in Melrose Park where an examination revealed that he was suffering from a skull fracture and internal injuries. Hospital authorities reported yesterday morning that his condition was "only fair."

The driver of the second car was John Miller, an inspector for the Wainland Dairy company. He was taken into custody by state highway police to be held pending the inquest.

Mrs. Zilien is survived by three sons, John and Richard of Chicago and Raymond of Kansas City; and a daughter, Mrs. Ian Miles of Chicago.

October Lake County Court to Open Monday

The October term of Lake county court will open Monday with the calling of the docket by Perry L. Persons, probate judge. Most of the first week will be devoted to hearing of tax objections. Fewer tax objections have been filed this year than in preceding years, it is said. There will be no criminal cases until November, it was announced.

Judgments against property of delinquent taxpayers will be asked by the office of State's Attorney A. V. Smith early in the week, it was announced. Tax payments have been received steadily at the treasurer's office. Treasurer Jay B. Morse stated that delinquent tax property is about the same as last year as far as the general taxes are concerned, but comparatively few special assessments have been paid.

So Very Simple
"How can I get the shape of my nose altered?" asks a correspondent of London Tit-Bits. "Poke it into somebody else's business."
