Army Spot Lights Add Splendor to Heavens

Considerable attention of residents of Barrington and vicinity has been attracted during the past week by the powerful beams of light playing the heavens from north of the village. A company from the Fort Sheridan army post have been undergoing a course in observation and detecting night fliers. Five powerful spotlights are stationed at intervals at the encampment two miles north of Barrington with a detachment of observers stationed at each one. The posts are linked by communication and when a plane in the vicinity is detected the signal is transmitted to the five posts and the pressure of combing the skies for the plane is started. The object of the practice is to train the soldiers in locating the plane in the least possible time. The encampment is located here to get away from the interference in communication experienced at the Fort Sheridan post. Practice will continue for about two more weeks, it has been reported.

Service Clubs Will Conduct Open Confidence and Enthusiasm Program in Barrington Thursday, Nov. 5

An inspiring lecture, a program of entertainment, and possibly an educational moving picture show will feature an open business confidence meeting to be held in Barrington in the near future under the auspices of the leading civic clubs of the village. The date has been set tentatively as Thursday, Nov. 5. Although the program for the evening has not been drawn up, an effort is being made to bring W. K. Bransch, vice president of the Shobogyan Club, to Barrington for the principal address of the evening. Mr. Bransch recently spoke before the Barrington Lions club and delivered an address which many of the members termed the most inspirational and interesting one they had listened to. The general purpose of the business confidence week is to restore confidence, start money circulating, and create employment. The slight increase of general confidence following President Hoover's announcement of the plan to loosen up credit generally in the United States showed a definite reaction in increase in business and decrease in unemployment. Further restoration of confidence will cause a continued improvement and tend to insure a steady return to normal, many business leaders believe. The idea of the business confidence meeting, originated with the Lions International. It will be promoted by Lions clubs all over the country at a time when the mercurial depression is locally at an end and when nothing but a return of general confidence is needed to start economic conditions on the return road to prosperity. Although Oct. 25 to 31 has been designated as national confidence week, the Barrington Lions club has decided to enlist the support and cooperation of the other Barrington civic organizations, in preparing a rousing pep

Final Inquest Is Wild Goose Chase for Newspaper Men

Torch Death Inquest Formally Closed; No "Letters from the Grave"

Six Chicago and Waukegan newspaper reporters found themselves at the outer end of a wild goose chase in Barrington Wednesday afternoon, when the final hearing in the Otis Lee house torch murder inquest was held. Expecting that one or more letters written by "Mike de Pike" Heiter, believed to be the torch victim, prior to last April 29, would be read at the inquest in Barrington, several of the metropolitan daily newspaper reporters were here. Instead of dropping in to the dramatic unveiling of a mystery story, the visitors merely found themselves covering a formal closing of the inquest at which the jury officially found that the man, believed to be Heiter, had come to his death as a result of murder—an official conclusion reached by all investigators last spring.

Find Bullet

One or two new developments were brought out at the case. A bullet was found on the ground by Mrs. A. Kolbert of Barrington 25 feet from the ice house. Mrs. Kolbert found the bullet while she was picking up apples late this last summer. If the markings on the bullet correspond with those found in the body of the victim, a conclusion will be reached by Cook county investigators that the man was murdered at or near the ice house in contradiction to the earlier belief that he was killed while in the automobile and then carried to the lonely hill near Barrington. A few feet reviewed at the final hearing were that the victim's abdomen was almost entirely burned away which would lead to the conclusion that the body had been heavily coated with oil in order to create an intense fire. The heavy body fat, suggesting a man of Heiter's proportions, which may have aided the intense burning, was also suggested.

Recommend Action

The coroner's jury, consisting of Barrington men, found: "That the supposed Michael Heiter came to his death on the 29th day of April in the ice house on Otis lake in Barrington township from shock and hemorrhage following bullet wounds in the chest, and almost complete cremation, said bullets fired from a pistol or pistols held in the hand or hands of an unknown person or persons and his body then placed in said ice house which was set fire to and completely burned April 29, A. D. 1931 at 11:30 p. m. From the evidence submitted, we the jury find this occurrence was murder and recommend that the police continue their investigations in this case and when the person or persons responsible for this crime are apprehended, that he, she, or they as the case may be, be held by the grand jury on a charge of murder until released by the process of law." The coroner's jury consisted of Herman Schweinin, H. L. Meiers, P. W. Waterman, F. L. Wilcox, J. A. Kohler, V. H. Schroeder, and John Schaefer.

Koebel read the service and offered prayer an enjoyable wedding dinner was served to the many guests. Mr. and Mrs. Wendt received many lovely gifts from the 40 guests present. Largest Dirigible, 12 Miles Away Is Seen by Several Local Persons

The new U. S. Navy dirigible, airship Akron, largest air vessel in the world, was seen by several Barrington persons at 1:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon when it flew along the north shore towards Chicago, returning from Milwaukee. Although the giant craft passed over the north shore communities, it was definitely visible from Barrington, appearing somewhat like a light colored cigar shaped cloud. Among those who reported viewing the craft from Barrington were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Widenbeck, Prairie avenue, Mrs. Reuben Rieke, F. T. Waterman, Mrs. Reuben Plagge, Robert Plagge, Noel Stayner, Miss Verna Covey, and Miss Olive Winn. Henry and Frank Horwalt viewed the craft at the U. S. Naval Training station, Great Lakes, Ill., when it maneuvered over that station and sailed the commanding officer. Henry was visiting his brother, Frank, who is stationed there.

Waukegan Youth Struck by Automobile; Dies

George Liebhengood, 10-year-old youth of near Waukegan, died early Sunday morning of injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile in the business section of Waukegan at 11 p. m. Saturday. A. F. Notter, 2844 Addison street, Chicago, driver of the machine which ran into Liebhengood was exonerated by a coroner's jury. According to witnesses, Liebhengood had been playing with friends and had run from behind a parked automobile into the path of the car driven by Notter. He was thrown 40 feet by the impact, and the front of the car was damaged. After emergency treatment at Waukegan, the boy was taken to Elizabeth Conell Memorial hospital, Libertyville, where he died an hour later from a skull fracture and other injuries.

Expect Favorable Results as End of Drive Approaches

Relief Committee Expects Ample Funds for All Local Needs

Varied and contrasting reports are being received from the squad of team canvassers who are working this week on the Barrington Relief fund drive, crying to reach the quota of $3,500 for charity work. Most of the reports have been favorable while others have been discouraging, a member of the general committee said. A total of $10,000 was reported late Thursday from the residents on one sixth street. Last year the amount was $8,225. Contrasted to the 100 per cent improvement report was one from another street which apparently will fall short of its last year figure. When the drive is completed the committee feels Barrington will have gone over the top with a bigger total for charity work than was realized in 1930.

The Barrington Relief Committee has been asked to join the John Emergency Relief Fund organization of Cook county. Should this step be taken, Barrington will have the backing of the county group and can draw from the general fund if its own funds are insufficient for its needs. In case Barrington raises more than necessary, the surplus would be available for the general fund.

Used Locally

Members of the relief committee have reported that donations received in Barrington will be used for local charity first. No money will go out of Barrington as long as there is a need for it here.

Federals Pick Up 350 Gallon Still Near Barrington

Federal prohibition agents, led by A. E. Hamilton, deputy attorney, slipped through Barrington Wednesday afternoon and paid a visit to the farm of August Hauck, north of town. The net result of their business call was a 350 gallon still could have been found in operation, and Mr. Hauck and Robert Grant in person, who were arrested and taken to Chicago. The two men arrested, who are charged Thursday before United States Commissioner Edward K. Walker. According to the report, the two men were tending the still when the federal officers arrived prepared for action. The farm on which the still was said to have been found, borders the gravel reservoir about a mile north of Barrington and east of the Illinois street extension.

Now GAS IS CHEAPER

and it's not too late to heat your home with this ideal fuel THIS WINTER

THERE is still time to have carefree gas heating service for your home this winter. And because a new gas has been brought into northern Illinois, it has been possible to reduce the cost of this most modern of fuels approximately 30%.

Let us figure your cost

To show you just what this reduction means to you, we will be glad to send one of our house heating engineers to call at your home. At once—and without obligating you in any way. He can prepare an estimate of just what it will cost to heat with gas under the new rates.

Remember in comparing gas with other fuels that it offers you completely carefree heating service. A temperature regulator in the living room takes full charge of the furnace—orders your fuel as you need it—keeps the whole house comfortably, healthfully warm.

Install gas heat now

Why not install gas heat now—for the coming winter. You can begin to enjoy its many advantages during changeable fall weather. When temperatures drop temporarily, your gas heater will start up automatically. As soon as the house is comfortable, off it goes again. Because the heater works automatically, you waste no fuel.

And, of course, you're through with shoveling coal, fussing with drafts, carrying out ashes forever.

In most cases your present heating plant can be "converted to gas" at small expense. A gas-burner can be installed in the fireplace whether your system is warm air, hot water or steam. The Public Service Company's testing laboratory has approved half a dozen of these conversion burners—will be glad to recommend one exactly suited to your home.

Mail the coupon

If you will mail us the coupon below, we'll send one of our house heating engineers to call on you. He will not only tell you all about the new gas heating rates and conversion burners—but also estimate just what gas heat will cost during an average heating season.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Gentlemen: Without obligating me in any way, please send one of your heating engineers to call on me all about the new gas heating rate, gas conversion burners—and to estimate what it will cost to heat my home with gas.

OUR BROTHER'S KEEPER
(Los Angeles Times)

This period through which the world is struggling is more than an economic crisis. It involves more than a study of strategic plans to ambuscade the dollars which fled.

Humanity itself is on trial. The civilization which we have evolved is undergoing the supreme test. If there is such a thing as brotherhood among men, now is the time to show it.

Drunk with wealth, we have strayed a long way from the fundamental and eternal truth. We have been living in a house stuck upon golden stilts. And it has crashed. In our agony and suffering we have discovered that Jesus Christ meant what he said. The Golden Rule was not a pleasant homily intended for reward of merit cards with silk fringe on the edges and diamond dust shining on the snow scenes. It was a simple statement of the eternal law, the same law that keeps the stars in the skies and the world turning in its axis.

We speak of breaking the law and commandments. You can break them; but they break you. "Love one another" was more than an admonition to light the path of virtue. It was the statement of an eternal principle upon which all law, all philosophy, all business, all ethics, all civilization rests. Like all doctrines left by the Christ, this was the sublimity of common sense—the finality of practicality—the only sure foundation upon which civilization can rest.

During these money-glutted years we have tried each to go our own way alone. Years of greed and money lust have ended with this terrible lesson: That wealth evaporates and leaves men stark and with naked hearts.

It is for us to see that this terrible rebuke has not been in vain. For us to see that we rebuild the fallen structure on the rock of brotherhood.

This winter will be a period that calls for all men to have fortitude, strength and sympathy. It is, for once, clear to the dumbest mind that we can only help ourselves by helping others.

Out of this period of re-adjustment we can regain our souls. It can be a better world because of this period of hunger and sorrow; a stronger America and a sounder civilization if it brings to us a realization we are given the privilege of being our brother's keeper.

The remedy for our financial crisis lies not in laws, federal commissions, in panacea or financial errors.

The sound and practical answer was told two thousand years ago in a sermon spoken on a mountain in Palestine.

FARMERS AND MACHINES

By many the plight of agriculture, as well as that of other basic industries, is blamed on the introduction of machinery which has displaced manual labor. At the present moment it seems that this indictment of the machine age is well founded.

But without the aid of modern machinery it is pertinent to inquire what would be the condition of civilization today. One recent student of economics points out that if we were forced to return to the old hand methods of production, both in agriculture and industry, it would be impossible to have the standards of living either rural or urban, which exist at present.

Before the age of machines daily living was in a primitive state. The obtaining of food, clothing and shelter was about all anyone could hope for. There were little opportunities for recreation, amusement or culture for the great mass of the people. There were no motion pictures, no automobiles, no radio, no electric conveniences, no leisure.

Farmers of fifty years ago enjoyed none of the comforts and conveniences which the machine age has made possible for them. The back-breaking toil which farmers of a past age experienced is unknown today. No longer do they cut wheat with a cradle or thresh it with a flail. They have been emancipated from most of the drudgery of former times.

So, in spite of the complaints which we hear on every hand, it must be admitted that the farmer of the present is much better off than his father or grandfather ever was. Machines have been a blessing to the farmer, in spite of the temporary overproduction of crops which they have made possible in recent years.

REVIEWS ON NEW FICTION

BELLE-MERE by K. Norris, depicts the age-old fallacy that Mother Love is always perfect, is gently exploded in this wise and tender romance of Phil and Shelley who almost lost their happiness through the jealous dominance of a sweet and devoted mother. It is an appealing and dramatic story of modern marriage.

SIMPLE PEYER CRADD by E. P. Oppenheim, is a straightforward romance which Mr. Oppenheim admits he wrote for his own amusement. There is no foreign intrigue or mystery to be solved, but a pleasing love story of a man well over forty.

HANDS FULL OF LIVING by K. Norris is in response to the hundreds and thousands of letters Mrs. Norris receives from women all over the world asking her advice about work and home and love and living. This is her answer to the perplexities of life.

ALL-ALONG-SHORE by J. C. Lincoln is a collection of eighteen of the best stories dealing with the life along through Cape Cod. They are full of humor, pathos and excitement.

FOR SALE by C. McKenzie is the funniest book of the year. If one wants to forget "depression" read "For Sale."

THURSDAY APRIL by A. P. Hannum is her first novel. It is a story of the West Virginia hills and a sweet family who lives among them. For something different, read this.

Men put off things they ought to do, and women put off things they ought to wear.

The Way of Life

By BRUCE BARTON

NEEDED!

I left my family in France and started back across the ocean, alone. There was none of the thrill that usually comes with heading toward America, none of the joy of coming home.

For a couple of days I was depressed. Everything I cared for was behind me! I was sailing into silence. Then one day the wireless spoke.

"Have arranged the following appointments for you," my partner wired. "Tuesday after your arrival, Baltimore; Wednesday, Pittsburgh; Thursday, Friday, Chicago. Best wishes. Please confirm."

Immediately came a feeling of relief and cheer. "I have work to go back to," I exclaimed. "Duties are waiting to keep me alert and a little worried and on my toes."

I was relating the incident to the chairman of the board of a large corporation.

"I know just how you felt," he said. "I've organized our company so well that I've almost organized myself out of a job. But every now and then a really big problem comes along, and the boys have to send for me. A hurry call came to my home from Chicago last Sunday, and I had to leave on an hour's notice. My wife thought it was a hardship, and of course I let her believe that we men lead terrible lives. But all the way out on the train my spirit was singing: 'Somebody wants me, I have work to do.'"

Joseph Medill was asked: "What is the greatest pleasure of your life?"

"To feel that I am at play when I am at work," he answered.

The book of Genesis presents work as a curse inflicted on humanity for its sins. We know in these times of unemployment how faulty that conception is.

To wake up in the morning and wonder: "Where shall I go today? What shall I do?" That is the curse. America's most important problem is not education, not the government regulation of business, not even prohibition. Our real task is to work out some economic system by which we can provide honest jobs for all the people all the time.

Every man and woman is entitled to the glorious self-respect which comes from being able to say:

"Thank God, I have a place, I am needed."

Tammany might learn a political trick or two from a town in Chile, where 291 per cent of the qualified electors voted in a recent election.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

Special Correspondent

LIKE MOTHS attracted to the flame, society-minded maidens and matrons are returning to the Nationals capital to participate in the gay whirl. The visit of Premier Laval of France and other foreign dignitaries calls for a round of formal parties. There are heartaches in store for many "climbers," because the department of state is handling the arrangements.

This branch of the government, dealing with diplomatic affairs, is notoriously "high-hat" which bodes ill for these legislators and their enterprising families. Only the chairmen and ranking members of congressional committees dealing with foreign affairs are certain of places at the festive board when famous international visitors hobnob with American society. Laval's stay in this country will be highly dramatized to pave the way for discussions on international debts, armaments, etc., in the next Congress.

THE POLITICIANS who go about the highways shouting higher taxes for the rich may find themselves in an embarrassing position. Just at present there is some talk over reviving an old French war-cry—"war to the castles, peace to the cottages," meaning "suck the wealthy" by higher tax assessments. While this plan seems logical at first glance, it is packed with dynamite. The harassed collectors of partisan campaign funds have already been tipped off that such policies will have their repercussions in the cessation of donations. It is these practical phases that bring genuine distress to legislators. The last Congress was decidedly extravagant, spending ten billions of dollars in a mad orgy of playing politics. Now the incoming Congress, fortunately from a redistributive angle, is made up of the same spendthrifts that must now take the responsibility for their spears.

SOME LIKELIHOOD exists that the much-mooted George Washington Bicentennial will go the way of dreams, unless peace is restored in ranks of the cooperating organizations. A flare-up or two this week has brought under-surface feuds to a boiling point. The headquarters of the National Federation of Women's Clubs issued a booklet for nationwide distribution. If they had confined their literature to historic matters instead of adding a political touch the promotion work would have proceeded on even keel. Unfortunately, some zealous partisan placed President Hoover's picture on the front cover beside the first president upon whom the celebration centers. The schism developed immediately and several state organizations of women refused to circulate the national group's pamphlet. Probably the controversy would have simmered down if Mr. Hoover was not a candidate for re-election during the bicentennial year.

TWELVE CITIES in the United States have 100,000 or more foreign-born white persons in their respective populations, according to a classification of the foreign-born white population by country of birth for cities of 100,000 or more population, based on the 1930 census and issued Oct. 14 by the Bureau of Census.

New York City's 2,293,400 foreign-born white persons comprise 146,262 persons born in Great Britain and Northern Ireland, 192,810 persons born in the Irish Free State, 86,493 persons born in Norway, Sweden and Denmark, 237,388 born in Germany, 238,339 in Poland, 35,813 in Czechoslovakia, 127,109 in Austria, 59,853 in Hungary, 6,450 in Yugoslavia, 442,481 in Russia, 36,005 in Lithuania, 27,182 in Greece, 440,250 in Italy, 30,622 in Canada, and 198,598 persons born in other countries.

Ranking after New York City, the cities having 100,000 or more foreign-born white persons in their respective populations are Chicago, with a total of 842,057; Detroit with 399,281; Philadelphia with 368,024; Cleveland with 229,487; Boston with 229,350; Los Angeles with 181,848; San Francisco with 153,386; Buffalo with 118,316; Newark with 115,204; Milwaukee with 109,343; and Pittsburgh with 100,072, according to the statement.

REDUCED FISHING and other voluntary action to prevent continued waste of fish in the Great Lakes was advocated Oct. 14 in an oral statement by Elmer Higgins, Chief of the Division of Scientific Inquiry, Bureau of Fisheries, Department of Commerce.

Pointing out that the yield from Lake Erie has dropped from 59,000,000 pounds in 1925 to some 30,000,000 pounds in 1929, Mr. Higgins declared that depletion of the Lake fisheries is due in a large extent to over-fishing and wastage of fish below the legal limits.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that he got married last year at the age of 67.

Buster Collier is Irish, but plays a Jewish part, while Sidney is Jewish and plays an Irish part, both appearing in "Street Scene."

Reports indicate that the fortune left by the late Sir Thomas Lipton amounted to only about the million dollars, a tidy sum, although much less than one would have expected the former tea king to have amassed. But the "world's best loser" had given away many millions in philanthropy and left most of what remained to charitable institutions, as he had no near relatives.

Jokesmith may get some fresh raw material from the fact that the Prince of Wales has become an enthusiastic bicycle rider. Many wheezes have been written about his horsemanship, and he has perhaps been spilled oftener than any other rider. But he is a good horseman, at that, and one of the gamest who ever catapulted from a saddle.

Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, plucky American flyers, who recently made the first non-stop flight across the Pacific, took as desperate chances as any who ever pulled the skies. Shortly after taking off from Japan they dropped their landing gear, depending on luck and skill in landing without it, which they did with only a moderate crash, neither being hurt. Time 41 hours; distance 4,565 miles.

Governor Louis L. Emmerson has received information from the state department of agriculture that the eleventh year of the bovine tuberculosis eradication program in Illinois has revealed the lowest percentage of disease on record. During the last year 1,332,327 cattle were tested of which 18,972 specimens reacted. This is a low percentage record of 1.42 percent. The number of cattle tested exceeds the former record by almost a quarter of a million. The cost of conducting this complete service was reduced to 50 cents per animal tested.

The total road construction in Illinois this year—all done with money supplied by the state—will be between 1,350 and 1,400 miles, according to a statement made by Governor Louis L. Emmerson in his address at the dedication of the Blackburn bridge.

The Illinois supreme court has ruled that an employer cannot bar his employees from assigning wages without his consent.

Governor Louis L. Emmerson recently stated that as soon as the Emergency Commission report on the tax situation is made, he will issue a call for a special session of the legislature to consider the report.

During the first nine months of 1931, Illinois showed a decrease of 42,220 new cars purchased when compared with the same period of 1930. The respective figures are 106,180 cars and 148,400 cars.

Modern and Attractive

A BIT of good planning has made a remarkable change in this home. Now it's modern and attractive and the cost of making these changes was extremely low in comparison with its added sales value.

This extra value has been assured through the use of "Certified Materials" that are guaranteed as to quality and fitness by a $1,000 bond, backed by a $44,000,000 national surety company.

Your home, too, can be made modern and attractive. Now is a good time to consider and plan such improvements, because of the low prices in effect on building materials. We will be glad to guide you in planning and give you estimates at any time. No obligation.

Coach Clark's Bronchos, who took their percentage in the North conference race when they defeated Bensenville Saturday, 12 to 0, put up an aggressive game, but failed to wear down to defeat. Meyer failed to pass for any long gains but a named Iron, caused plenty of trouble for Barrington. Thorp gained most ground with Catlow, second Catlow was pretty well covered of the time. In the line Grim the team for the second time with number of tackles made.

The first quarter was anything but a success for Barrington. Making most first downs but never a close enough to punch over a march. In the second quarter a pass put the field added by Catlow to carry over. Thorp attempted a drop for the point but it failed. The quarter saw Palatine's chief victory. With the score six to zero against them, they poked a touchdown and started a march. The field with three straight downs. The situation began to look serious for Barrington when a few minutes left to play in the quarter Thorp got away on a back and ran through the team for the second marker. Thorp attempted to carry the ball for the extra point but the line did not get to the two yard line. Instead of the goal line.

Jewel Pin Men Complete Second Week of Bowling

Four Teams Tie for First Place in American League

Jewel bowlers completed their second week of bowling last Friday night with the Pirates leading the National league group with five wins and one game lost, and the Indians leading the Outlaw league group with a clean slate of six victories and no defeats.

All four teams in the American league group are tied for first place, having each won three games and lost three.

A new system has been inaugurated in the Jewel league this year in which each player is grouped to play for each succeeding week according to his average for the week before. In this way each player is bound to play against one who bowls about the same average and in this way has an even chance of winning the prizes offered.

E. J. Courrier, chairman of the league, said: So far the organization is very well satisfied with the plan, he added.

The league's standing:

Boraz and the cast that they have my deepest admiration and my highest enthusiasm.

"Bad Girl" will be the featured attraction at The Catlow theatre Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

Small boys, decayed vegetables, gangster bullets and other assorted trials and tribulations carry Buster Keaton through a series of hilarious woe in "Sidelwinks of New York," his new comedy which will come to The Catlow theatre Sunday and Monday nights.

The cast includes Anita Page, as heroine and the comical valet is played by Cliff Edwards. Norman Phillips, Jr., a vaudeville star, plays the principal boy part and Frank Rowan, New York stage star, the gangster chief.

Richard Barthelmess who won such acclaim in "The Dawn Patrol" comes to The Catlow theatre next week, Tuesday and Wednesday nights in "The Last Flight," a follow-up story of "The Dawn Patrol."

He plays the part of an ex-flier, after the Armistice, who, with four roughneck buddies, and a lovely girl—whom the five adopt—scurry Paris and further places for excitement which will give them the something of war days.

May Robson, grand old lady of the legitimate stage, has a right to be glad and proud. She has beaten the battle of Hollywood.

Like hundreds of other legitimate players, Miss Robson had found out that the movie magnates were more interested in ability as they might have been. Youth, charm, beauty—these were the requisites for a film career; talent, years spent on the stage meant little or nothing. "Audiences," so the magnates said, "want young people, they want jazz, sex and excitement."

May Robson thought differently—her idea was laughter, talent, human interest, and cleanliness—a play, such as "Mother's Millions," which is booked for The Catlow theatre Thursday night of next week. It is one of the most wholesome and unusual stories to reach the screen this season.

The cast includes, besides May Robson, James Hall, Frances Dade, Lawrence Gray, and Edmund Breese.
