Ela Mound Men
Defeat Leyden
by 14-9 ScoreEla Township School Notes
Compiled Weekly by the Pupils

There was no school Monday for Ela students, because of the Illinois State Teachers' Association meeting at Oak Park but they did not forget the baseball game at Leyden. Ela defeated Leyden 14-9.

The ticket committee reports that over $70 was taken in at the senior class play. This money is used to buy the school a gift.

The freshman class is writing another theme for general science class. This one is to be written on the many different ways of communication. This theme is to be turned in for English as well as general science.

The juniors are busy making and planning things for their banquet to be held May 7.

Everett Reed is having some trouble in pronouncing words in soils and crops class because he said he was going to "searcely" his clover when he meant scarily it.

The cooking class is making pies. Mr. Clements generally comes around the cooking room when he smells the fine odor from there.

The senior class has chosen for its colors, pink and white. The class flower will be pink carnation. Norman thinks its just plain pink and green. The juniors are worried because they think if they decorate in those colors it will look like "Merry Christmas" instead of the junior-senior prom.

Harold Beckman, the star baseball player, received a black eye while playing baseball.

The great concern of the junior and senior girls is what kind of a dress they will wear at the junior-senior prom.

William Buesching has recovered from the measles and came back to school Monday.

The sewing and cooking class did their best to make the basketball banquet a success.

Thursday, Apr. 4, the first baseball game at Ela was played. Nickman Nollmer was one of the freshmen boys who played. Ela lost by a score of 5 to 1.

The girls are glad to be able to play baseball now. Some of the girls are quite good. In fact, they are so good that a bat has already been broken by a strong "Freshie."

Pirates to Open Season
With N. Chicago Boosters

The 1932 baseball season of the Lake Zurich team will open May 1 on home grounds. They will play the North Chicago Boosters of North Chicago. The battery for the home team will be Carl Tonne and Clarence Meyer.

Tug Wilson Guest Speaker at Ela Cage Banquet

The annual basketball banquet for the team of Ela high school was held Wednesday evening. Tug Wilson acted as toastmaster and Tug Wilson of Northwestern University was the guest speaker. Nearly one hundred attended. The home economics class served the banquet.

Seward's Ill Luck in '63

The surrender at Appomattox occurred on April 9, 1865. On the fifth day of April Secretary of State Seward had been thrown from a carriage. He was picked up unconscious with his jaw broken in two places and his shoulder dislocated. He had many other bruises and strains. His jaw was placed in an iron frame and he could speak with difficulty, if at all, for many days. He was still confined to his bed on the night of April 14 when Lincoln was assassinated, and when the attempt on his life was made. In fact, it was nearly a month before he was able to attend a cabinet meeting even in his own house.

Lake County News

Wisconsin Authorities
Renew Truck License Feud

Lake county farmers who haul their milk and other farm products into Wisconsin markets, as well as trucking firms doing business in the neighboring state, will be seriously affected in the renewal Tuesday of the truck license feud, which was believed to have been settled permanently last fall.

Owners of 45 Illinois trucks were forced to obtain Wisconsin license plates for their trucks before being permitted to operate in Wisconsin.

The drivers of the trucks were stopped on Route 41, west of Racine Monday night and were forced to telephone the truck owners to rush funds for the Wisconsin licenses before they were permitted to move the trucks which had been pulled to the side of the pavement.

The officers ceased their arrests Tuesday morning after the truck drivers had paid, but said all out of state truck owners will be required to have Wisconsin licenses when operating there in the future.

The state supreme court recently ruled that collection of the license fee was legal.

Whether Illinois will reciprocate and force Wisconsin drivers to buy Illinois licenses has not yet been decided.

Treasurer Reaches Million
Mark in Tax Collections

When the one million dollar mark in collections was reached Friday, one-sixth of the work of Lake county treasury was completed.

County Treasurer Jay B. Morse said that there had been no payments on parcels of land as in any time in the history of the office, that the actual collections were lower due to the fact that the small property owner was paying and the big ones waiting.

"By May a large part of the heavy taxpayers will discharge their debt for taxes, and collections will be swelled considerably."

"Although about $1,000,000 is collected it is impossible to make a distribution yet to the body that spend the taxes, although I have informed them that this can be expected about May 1," he said.

The county treasurer this year will collect about $6,000,000.

Lake County Farmers
Oppose Daylight Saving

The proposition of whether or not daylight saving time would be adopted by several Lake county cities where it has been put to vote in recent elections received considerable opposition by farmers, although they had no vote in the city elections.

Lake county farmers are generally opposed to the daylight saving measure and at a meeting of the board of the county farm bureau, members voted unanimously against the proposition.

There is no greater hardship on the farmers than daylight saving the farmers state. They are governed by the sun and the proposition means a distinct loss financially, they claim. They likewise find the stores closed before they have time to come in to do their shopping.

1908 Inscriptions Found on Shell of Live Turtle

Isaac Parry of Zion has captured a turtle which has carved upon its back the initials "W. E. H." and "1908," and he is looking for the person who in youth, took the turtle in captivity and placed the inscription on the shell.

Northshore telephone directories were checked in an effort to determine the author of the carving, but the search only revealed that there were many persons with the initials, W. E. H.

Caterpillar's Ears
Caterpillars have shown the ability to hear. Certain sounds rob in sudden movements of the body. But where are their ears? Doctor Allard's experiment showed that the caterpillar's sense of hearing is aided by hairs that absorb sound.

To prove this, experimenters coated the hairs with water or flour or even singed them off. Then, when noises were made, the caterpillar did not respond. The fact that its hairs had been deadened made it deaf.

Special Postage Stamps

Athletics and field sports of all most every kind have been the subject of special issues of postage stamps in many parts of the world, which makes a striking and original collection.

When the ancient festival of Olympic games was first revived at Athens five and twenty years ago the Greek government gave as a contribution toward the expenses of the undertaking the proceeds of the sale of a series of stamps commemorating the glories of the Olympians of former days.

The classic designs of which embraced a contest of gladiators, a disk thrower and a quadriga or racing chariot all copied from famous statues or bas reliefs.

The boll weevil is an insect which lays its eggs in the bud of the cotton plant. Out of these eggs come worm-like larvae, which eat the growing bud and prevent the production of cotton fiber. In American slang, boll weevil is a term sometimes applied to a person who is a pest.

Laws to Curb Indians

Laws against nudity on the public streets during daylight hours once adorned ordinance books of Phoenix, Ariz., it was disclosed in a survey intended to eliminate regulations of horse-and-buggy days. The laws applied to Indians who came to town virtually naked in the good old days. It was necessary to have laws to curb the Indians in other ways. Grass was grass to the Indian, so he thought nothing of feeding his ponies on the carefully tended lawn of a prominent citizen. So a law was passed against feeding Indian ponies on private lawns and another one was enacted saying that horses and vehicles should not be parked on sidewalks.

Ancient Roman "Racket"

Crassus, reputed to have been the richest man of his time, amassed a great fortune by his ingenious operation of a private fire department in old Rome. When a fire would break out, he or one of his agents would rush to the owner and offer to buy the burning structure at a very low figure. The owner usually would sell for almost nothing to get some salvage. Thereupon, Crassus would call up his fire brigade and, in many cases, put out the blaze. In this way he became owner of a great many buildings. It is hinted by early writers that when business was dull his agents may have had a hand in starting an occasional conflagration.

Cake for Indigestion

Claudius Galenus, commonly known as Galen, was born at Pergamum, Greece, in 130 A. D., and is supposed to have died in Sicily. He was a celebrated philosopher, pharmacist and physician, and was for many centuries the supreme authority in medicine and pharmacy, wrote Charles H. LaWall in "Four Thousand Years of Pharmacy."

A bride's cake used at weddings during Galen's time and described by Cato was called "mustaceum." It contained aromatics and carminative and was served at weddings to reduce the chances of indigestion caused by the usual over-indulgence on such occasions.

Famous Dinosaur Skeleton

The dinosaur on exhibition at Peabody museum of Yale university is nearly 14 feet long, 10 feet high, and the skeleton weighs six and a half tons. Its estimated weight when alive was between 37 and 40 tons. The specimen was discovered by William Reed in Wyoming in 1881, and the bones were brought to Yale under the direction of Prof. Othniel C. Marsh, whose research resulted in this type's being known as Brontosaurus excelsus. At Yale's bicentennial in 1901 a portion of the skeleton was mounted and exhibited. Lack of space prevented the erection of the rest, which remained in storage. A few years ago the mounting was begun anew, the hall of Peabody being especially constructed to house this one animal.

Slow Starting

Modern machinery often requires a considerable time to get under efficient working speed. A new 120-ton gyrostabilizer, described by Collier's Weekly, has a 55-ton rotating wheel powered by a 200-horse-power motor, and requires almost an hour to attain its working speed of 11 revolutions per second. It runs on its own momentum for two hours after the current is shut off.

Garden Contest Urges Paint-up Clean-up Work

$30 in Gold and Many Merchandise Prizes Will Be Given

"Clean-up, Paint-up and Garden Contest" is stressed by the Barrington Lions club and garden club which will be conducted during June, July and August.

Improvement in appearance of the city and general cleanliness will count more than anything in the eyes of the judges who in the contest winners. For that the factor of clean-up, paint-up and garden work will be an important part of the contest.

A yard which has been improved and landscaped during the contest will merit many points on which awarding of prizes are based. A lawn that is freshly painted, a lawn which the weeds have been removed from which unsightly branches such as broken down and fences have been taken, a roof which has been patched, hedges that have been kept well trimmed, a grove of trees in good condition, are all items which will count towards a prize. A few suggestions for awarding points has been suggested as follows:

Front yard—attractiveness, improvements made this year, 10 points.

Rear grounds—livability, 20 points; attractiveness, 30 points; improvements made this year, 10 points.

House—outside appearance, attractiveness, 5 points; improvements made this year, 10 points.

Summary—front yard 25 points; rear yard 60 points; and house points of a total of 100 points.

Easy for All

This is a suggestion by the Barrington Lions club and garden club and may be varied by the local committee before the final entry day in May. The basis for judging is along this line, however, the yard counting several times more than the house, with improvements during the season counting 30 points of 100 points. It is obvious a small humble piece of property has just as good chance of winning as an expensive, pretentious home.

The contest will get under way in May in time for contestants to participate in the annual clean-up day. The village board regular meeting Monday night, July 11, will be devoted to the contest, with the Lions club in helping make a list of the contest, which is designed to improve the appearance of Barrington. May 11 has been designated tentatively as the day on which clean-up squad of trucks and boys work through the streets of the village picking up barrels and rubbish left in parkings in front of the houses.

The Lions club yard and committee reports an early start of interest in the contest. Entries have been received and are expected before the end of the week. An entry blank is put on this page of The Review. A contest interested in entering the contest should fill out in entering the contest and mail to the Barrington Lions club in care of the Barrington Review. Those who plan to do their own yard or most of their own work should enter class 1. Persons who have a professional caretaker should enter class 2. A resident who occasionally has a man or boy to mow his lawn or other odd jobs around his place should enter class 1, the contest.

Prize List Growing

The prize list has grown with addition of several merchants for individual merit. The final prize for class 1, donated by the Lions club, is $15 in gold. The prize is $10 in gold and the prize is a $5 gold piece.

Merchandise prizes which have been offered are as follows:

For the best kept hedge, fine hedge shears donated by the Sch Hardware Co.

For the nearest kept trees, a lawn chair donated by the Home Furnishing Co.

For the best flower garden, pounds of Vigoro donated by the Sch Hardware Co.

For the
