Scouts Spend Rainy Night Under Good Tent in Woods of Deer Grove Preserve

Eight scouts of troop 21 and Scoutmaster Burris Cloar experienced a rainy night in the woods last Saturday evening under a water proof tent in Deer Grove forest preserve.

The boys left Barrington at 9 a. m. Saturday, hiking to Deer Grove where they pitched tent for an overnight camping expedition and then launched into a program of games and hikes. One of the games was an acorn war with plenty of ammunition supplied by the oaks of Deer Grove. The boys also went on an onion hike. This kind of pastime consists of following a scented trail blazed on the trees by leaders equipped with a supply of raw onions.

The boys returned at 11 a. m. Sunday. Included in the hiking expedition were Scoutmaster Cloar, Wayne Niemeier, Robert Caldwell, Harry Elters, Lawrence Stout, Billy Robbins, George Blomberg, William Wilson, and Elmer Hammond.

The cub scout troop will give an exhibition of pen and hobby projects on Thursday evening, Nov. 3, at the Hoffman and Wines salesroom, according to the cubmaster, Henry Dorwaldt. The boys in this troop range in ages from 10 to 12 years.

Village Has Large Bills But No Bond Issue to Pay Off

Approved, Bills More Than $12,000; Attorney Rules
Against Gjellefeld Bill

While the village of Barrington has no general bond issue outstanding, it has a water bond issue to be paid off and it is faced with a list of unpaid debts (not including non-approved claims) which obligate the village just as strongly as would a general bond issue except that the debts are non-interest bearing. According to the records of the village treasurer and village clerk, the following major approved claims against the village are payable:

Langworthy, Stevens, McKenney and McCormick, attorneys' fees for defending the village in the sanitary sewer case in circuit court, $4995.25.

Public Service Co. of Northern Illinois, for power furnished the village from April to October inclusive, $5274.80.

Other current bills total about $3000.

The amount owed in approved claims totals $12,270.

The village now has on deposit $10,171, most of it money received from the water accounts.

Two large claims against the village have not been approved. One is the claim of Sub-Barrington Peterson and Sub Co., filed Sept. 24, 1931, for unpaid fees claimed to have accrued while this firm was acting as official village engineers for Barrington. The amount of the claim is $13,353.10.

Believes Claim Unwarranted

The other claim was filed by Gjellefeld Construction Co. for a sewer connection laid under North Hough street and extending from the Jewel bank to the E. J. & E. crossing of Hough street. The company's bill for this sewer is $15,021.10.

The trustees recently asked David B. Maloney, village attorney, for an opinion on the village's liability for this claim. Following is the opinion given at the board meeting Monday night:

"At the time the Jewel Tea Company was improving a part of its property a comprehensive sewer system was contemplated for the village of Barrington including the particular sewer in question now in place on North Hough street. Gjellefeld Construction Company was induced to build the sewer in question. I assume at the instance of the Jewel Tea Company with some understanding with representatives of the village that payment would be made when the comprehensive sewer system was built. The particular sewer in question was necessary to afford an outlet from the Jewel Tea Company property. While the sewer was installed, I assume merely at the instance of the Jewel Tea Company it was and is in the street and therefore available to use by the village. I have been unable to find any pretense of any legal proceedings for the construction of the sewer.

Right to Use It

"The village, in my opinion, is not liable for the sewer, and the continued use of the sewer will not make the village liable. The village had no power to enter into any agreement for the construction of this sewer in the manner in which it was done;

December 1 and 2 Are the Dates for Home Talent Play

A cast of seven women and five men are rehearsing each Monday and Wednesday night for the play "House of a Thousand Thrills" which will be produced under the auspices of the Barrington Lions club and other organizations, Thursday and Friday, Dec. 1 and 2.

The mystery type of play was selected by the cast and Directors, T. E. David and R. L. Mupphens as the most popular type of home talent play at the present time and the least expensive to produce. All profit from the production will go to the Barrington Relief Committee fund.

High School Dramatic Club Elects Officers, Plans Active Season

One of the most active organizations in the local high school is the Dramatic club and its plans for the year indicate that the 1932-33 season will be an exceedingly interesting and valuable one. The officers elected for the year are as follows: President, Robert Ulbrich; vice president, Harold Roth; secretary, Donald Bennett; treasurer, Howard Castle. Miss Schwab, who handles the dramatic work in the school, is the faculty sponsor for the group. The meetings of the club are held once each month. At this time a program is presented consisting of one act plays, readings, and music. Assistant directors who work with the director have charge of the plays.

So many pupils wished to take up dramatic work this year that it was found necessary to limit the membership in the dramatic classes to the three upper classes and to those freshmen who entered the public contests in the junior high school. Those who wish to belong to the club are required to take the course in dramatics. Those enrolled in this subject will be cast in various plays throughout the year. Plans are under way to make the assembly stage more suitable for dramatic presentations. The club hopes to have it furnished with curtains, portable footlights, a "take down" extension and some scenery. Most of this work will be done by the students themselves. At present the classes are engaged in the study of debate.

Barrington Men Take 2000 Mile Motor Trip Through Eastern States and Canada

Chris Heckmiller and Ray F. Gieske of Barrington returned Sunday night from a 2000 mile trip through the Eastern states and Canada which included three days sojourn in Toronto where they attended the National Laundrymen's convention.

The Barrington men motored through Indiana and Michigan to Detroit where they crossed into Canada. They spent Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in Toronto and returned to the states at Niagara Falls. After seeing the Falls, they motored through New York state, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia and back through Ohio and Indiana.

Plan Meeting to Dispose of Joint Account in Bank

A meeting of the members of the village board, members of the school board and directors of the First State bank will be called within the next week or two to straighten out the double claims by the school district and the village against money deposited jointly in two bank accounts. It was decided at the regular board meeting Monday night.

F. L. Waterman, village treasurer, received a check for $15,000 from the Lake county treasurer to be turned over to school district No. 4. This check was received in June, 1931, and was deposited in the First State bank, according to Mr. Wiener of Chicago, an accountant engaged to audit the village bank records. A check for the same amount was drawn on the First National bank and was turned over to the school district, according to the auditor.

The village trustees are investigating the transaction to determine whether the payment of the $15,000 from the First National bank account eliminates the school district from any claim to or liability for funds in the local bank or if the school district is indebted to the village for $15,000 paid from the national bank and in return is entitled to a $15,000 claim on the village funds tied up in the state bank. The officials expect to arrive at a final solution at the meeting.

No Hough Refund

Property owners along South Hough street who had hoped to get a refund from the state highway department for costs of paving laid on Hough street, were disappointed by a letter from the department read at the board meeting. The letter, which was from H. E. Surman, engineer of design, said:

"The state legislature has made no provision for funds to cities for city pavement utilized in state bond issue routes 47 to 135 inclusive. We are

Cernak May Come

Charles H. Weber, democratic candidate for congressman in the Tenth Congressional district, will be a principal speaker at the democratic rally which will be held Friday evening, Oct. 28, in the Barrington public school building.

The local democratic organization, of which Cornelius Snyder is chairman, has planned a big time booster rally with music, speakers, and all that goes to make up a pep fest of the kind needed prior to an election.

Anton J. Cernak, mayor of Chicago, has been invited to attend the rally and deliver a speech for the cause of the democratic party in Illinois. Mr. Snyder said. Mayor Cernak stated that he will be in Barrington if arrangements with his Chicago organization can be made. Other speakers listed by Mr. Snyder include Thomas Bowler, president of the Cook county sanitary district; Judge John F. O'Connell of municipal court, Chicago; Frank Babrytze, president of the National Milk Co. and Thomas J. Courtney, candidate for state's attorney of Cook county. Several other prominent speakers will be in Barrington according to plans of the local committee.

A program of entertainment to accompany the speaking program will include Mr. Weber's 65-piece boys drum and bugle corps made up of youngsters from 7 to 15 years of age. Two radio stars, Babe Payne, vocalist, and Alkie McCord, pianist, and an I.K.O. comedian, Harry Scott, are also on the program of entertainment.

This jamboree will be the final undertaking of the democrats in Barrington but the sponsors plan to make it one which will attract a large crowd.

"We will have one or two surprises in the line of very prominent speakers whose names we are not at liberty to announce at this time," Mr. Snyder said.

Delinquent Water Bills Cut From $4631 to $716.16

Village Clerk Shows Reduction of $3915.55 in Unpaid Bills to Village

A remarkable improvement in the delinquent water bill situation was reported at the regular meeting of the village board Monday night by A. C. Burandt, village clerk, who submitted figures showing the total amount of delinquencies on August 6 prior to an intensive campaign by Mr. Burandt and Sam Peters, superintendent of streets and water, and the total amount of delinquencies on October 24, when the campaign was nearly completed.

On August 6 there was a total sum of $4631.71 in water accounts receivable, not including current accounts not yet billed. On October 24 there was a total of $716.16 in accounts receivable not including current accounts not yet billed. This leaves a reduction in delinquencies amounting to $3915.55. Of this total, $188.73 represented loss from adjusted or written off accounts, principally accounts contracted by persons who have moved away and cannot be located. The balance of $3726.82 represents actual money collected on delinquent accounts.

The sum of $1602.53 for water bill collections has been paid to the village treasurer, F. L. Waterman, by the village clerk. This sum includes the $3726.82 collected on delinquent accounts plus $3875.01 collected from current accounts during the last several months.

A report also was made by Mr. Burandt on collection of automobile vehicle license fees this year. During the period from Jan. 1, 1932 to October 24 there were sold 700 passenger car tags and 107 truck tags for a total collection of $3910.70. During the corresponding period of 1931, there were sold 604 passenger car tags and 136 truck tags for a total sum of $4450.

C. of C. to Take Action Against Rubbish Dumping

A perfectly good dumping grounds is provided by the village, but many persons are still using the ditches along the roadways and highways for receiving places for rubbish, according to a complaint made at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday night.

The Chamber was instrumental in influencing the village board to provide a dumping grounds. Now the Chamber will undertake an education campaign to persuade people to use the place. Prosecution will be started against one individual who dumped his old license plates, along with a lot of other rubbish, at the side of the Northwest highway.

The organization adopted a resolution to urge the state highway department to route highway 59 along the west edge of Barrington. A complete outline of the route from Bartlett north was included in the recommendation.

The Chamber sent a request to the Chicago & North Western railroad to give Barrington an east bound passenger train leaving here about 8:30. At present there is no train leaving between the hours of 7:52 a. m. and 8:55 a. m.

A new Plymouth car was stolen from Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Plagge, 141 S. Northwest highway, while they were visiting friends in Chicago last Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Plagge and the latter's mother, Mrs. J. M. Baxter of Elgin, had motored to Chicago in the automobile which was purchased on lay four months ago. They locked the ignition on the car and also the automobile doors, after closing all the windows. They did not realize the car had been stolen until the end of the evening when they were ready to start home.

The theft was immediately reported to the police. The machine had not been recovered prior to Thursday morning of this week.

A school children's day in Barrington was discussed as a part of the Barrington Business club's program of activities for the coming year, at a meeting of the club held at 203 S. Cook street Wednesday night. The members considered the prospect of "turning the town" over to the school girls and boys on some special day probably early in the spring. A committee was appointed to consider this proposal and report to the club later.

Barrington will be decorated better than ever during the Christmas season. The Business club voted unanimously to cooperate with the Lions club in decorating and lighting the downtown district of the village and to sponsor a competitive window display program. Advisory Committee Investigates Plans to Solve Problem

Rug Making, Christmas Gift
Suggestions at All Day
Meeting Cuba Home Bureau

An all day meeting of the Cuba township unit of the Lake County Home Bureau was held at the home of Mrs. Stella Strobach on Friday of last week. In the morning a class was held on Christmas gift suggestions, and demonstrations on rug making, raffia, reed work, needlepoint and various other fancy work items were given by Miss Florence Kimmelschue, home advisor, and Mrs. Strobach, unit chairman.

In the afternoon Miss Kimmelschue gave the major project, a lesson on the digestion of foods. At the business meeting following, it was decided to hold an all day meeting again in November, the minor project to be Christmas sweets.

An enjoyable feature of the day was the pot luck lunch served at noon. A goodly percentage of the membership was present, and the guests were: Mrs. August Scherf, Mrs. Benjamin Clinge, Mrs. Frank LaSalle, Mrs. W. H. Sammacher, and Mrs. O. W. Fitts.

Relief Campaign Will Be Planned at Meeting Nov. 2

Women Campaigners Will Organize for Drive for Charity Funds

An organization meeting for the Barrington Relief Committee campaign will be held in the American Legion club rooms over the Green-Gard Grill on Wednesday evening, Nov. 2, with members of the committee and some 30 to 40 women present who will take part in the house to house canvass for funds.

The campaign probably will be held the week of November 14. The exact dates for campaigning will be decided at the meeting. It has been planned tentatively that the campaign will be held simultaneously with the campaign of Cook county welfare organization of which the Barrington committee is a member.

The relief committee reported a successful trip through the country district last Friday when a full truck load of clothing, vegetables, fruit, etc. was collected. Several trucks manned by members of the American Legion, Lions club, Chamber of Commerce and Barrington Business club combed through the country roads picking up provisions offered for relief work. Within the last week supplies from the American Red Cross in the form of 720 yards of cloth and 42 barrels of flour were received in Barrington. The cloth will be sewed into clothing by aid societies of the various churches, according to the plan.

Of the food collected apples and quickly perishable vegetables are being utilized already. Potatoes and canned goods may be kept for distribution during the winter and spring months. The donation of food and clothing supplies will keep the relief committee functioning until funds start coming in from the drive and will also help keep the cash reserve up during the early months of the winter. M. H. Schreiber, chairman of the committee, has estimated that a sum of $3500 will be necessary for relief work this winter. Not all of that amount can be raised by the house to house campaign. The committee anticipates some assistance from the county relief organization which in itself is a part of the state organization.

Barrington Women Elected to Offices Fifth District Republican Organization

A meeting of the republican women of district five was held at Arlington Heights Friday evening and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Blanche Anley of Arlington Heights; vice president, Mrs. Violet Evans of Arlington Heights; secretary, Mrs. L. A meeting of the officers and precinct key women will be held on Friday, Oct. 28 in Arlington Heights and on Tuesday, Nov. 1 the officers, key women and workers will hold a meeting in Arlington Heights. The purpose of this organization is to arouse interest among women for the November election.

The following women spoke at the meeting Friday evening: Mrs. William Severin of Chicago, Mrs. Susan Haugh of Maywood and Mrs. Harry E. Smoot of Wilmette.

Group Harmonious in Discussion of Present Situation

A third meeting of the Barrington advisory committee and the village trustees will be held Friday evening, Nov. 4, at which time the committee will be prepared to offer the board recommendations for action on the sanitary sewer problem.

The committee held its second meeting last Friday night. A few questions were asked by members of the group and answers were given by Attorney David B. Maloney. A series of questions relative to the situation were put to the committee for a vote. It is of interest that all of the ten questions were decided by a clean-cut majority vote and that all but three were decided either unanimously or nearly unanimously. This indicates that the committee will be harmonious in its later recommendations.

Ten Questions

The questions and the voting were as follows:

Do you believe the village engineers and the country club engineers should work together on any new sewer construction? Yes 10, no 1.

Would you favor an entirely new engineering firm? Yes 6, no 14.

Do you believe it would be a disadvantage to the future development of Barrington if a sewage disposal plant were to remain in the section of town where the present plant is now located? Yes 5, no 12.

Do you believe that the first question for this committee to decide is whether or not any further court action is required? Yes 10, no 2.

If a new system is decided upon would you be in favor of installing the most efficient system even though the cost were somewhat more? Yes 18, no 2.

Would you favor complete publicity of all findings and recommendations of this committee? Yes 18, no 2.

Are you satisfied with present village attorney in so far as the sewer case is concerned? Yes 16, no 4.

Do you believe the court decree as it now stands is a just decision? Yes 0, no 20.

Do you agree to overlook all personalities, forget any personal prejudices and work on this committee purely for the common good of the community? Yes 22, no 0.

As you see the problem at the present time, do you believe it should be taken to the supreme court? Yes 11, no 5.

Committees to Investigate

The advisory committee, with H. H. Calkins chairman and E. J. Langendorf secretary, decided on four advisory committees: Sub-committee No. 1, Earl Schweinn chairman, J. J. Carroll, H. Kuhlman, Ed Plagge, F. Continued on page 5

LAKE ZURICH REVIEW

Bandit Sleeps on Job of Breaking
Open School Safe

The boldest young burglar that has yet come down the pike was arrested in Libertyville Friday morning due to his own boldness and then escaped because of that same boldness.

The youth broke into the Libertyville high school Thursday night, entered up the manual training room heavy tool and proceeded to use them in a vain effort to crack the high school safe open. When he became tired, the youth decided to lie down and rest on a small cot in the first aid room. And that is where his lack of fear got him into difficulty because the youth fell fast asleep and did not awaken until Police Officer Peter Hansen and a school janitor found him.

The escaped case of criminal's nerve was displayed later when the youth broke away from the police officer and escaped.

The janitor arriving at the school at 6:30 in the morning found the office in disarray and the school safe considerably battered although the door was still locked.

Hansen on night duty was called at once and he immediately entered a small first aid room adjoining the school office. Covers on a small cot attracted Hansen's attention when they were seen to quiver. He jerked off the covers and found the young bandit who immediately launched a long sob story of being out of work and having his mother to support.

He told a story of entering the school building at 10:30 p.m. Thursday through a basement window and then going to the manual training room where he obtained tools used in the unsuccessful attempt to crack the safe.

Hansen, who did not learn the boy's name but judged him to be about 19 years old, took the youth to a squad car waiting at the curb and as he was about to reach for the car door the bandit wrenched himself free and ran out on a dead run.

Hansen fired at the fugitive twice, but missed and was then afraid to fire again for fear of hitting someone in a house behind which the youth fled. Libertyville in the high school neighborhood is completely built up with homes and the bandit was able to get completely out of sight of Hansen.

Lyons Says Demos
Do Not Have Any Chance in County

If a victory two years ago for the head of the democratic ticket could not sweep the balance of the ticket in Lake county into office, the democrats do not have a chance to win today, according to Richard J. Lyons of Mundelein, state representative.

He cited the election on United States senator between James Hamilton Lewis and Ruth Hanna McCormick, in which Senator Lewis, a democrat, was given approximately 17,000 votes in a republican county against 10,000 for his republican opponent. At that time Lewis' heavy vote failed to carry any candidate on the democratic county ticket into office.

If Senator James Hamilton Lewis can carry 17,000 votes in Lake county as he did two years ago, how do the democrats hope to elect any of their county ticket when Mr. Lewis' vote could not carry one of their candidates into office then? This year President Hoover and Governor Small should carry Lake county by 10,000 votes which assures the defeat of the democratic county ticket," Lyons said.

Baby Boy Four Weeks Old
Home, Now in Hospital

A four weeks old baby, accompanied by the note "Too poor to give him a home," was found on a doorstep of a Waukegan home last Wednesday night. The home was that of John Harkness, 512 Madison street.

Mrs. Harkness told police that she had heard a baby crying and thought at first that someone was out in front of her home with the child, but when the crying continued, she investigated and found the tiny bundle on her front porch.

She carried the child into the house and found him poorly dressed but healthy, and ready for an evening meal. When Police Captain Ike Lyon and Patrolman George Hecker arrived and said the baby would be taken to the hospital to be cared for, Mrs. Harkness insisted on going along "because men don't know how to handle babies."

Mrs. Harkness turned over to the police a note, written in pencil on a bag, pinned to the baby's blanket. The bag, a type used by a local chain store for wrapping merchandise, and the baby's clothes offered no clue to the identity of the mother, except that the note indicated that although in desperate financial circumstances, the mother must have been a woman of some education as the note was clearly and intelligibly written and in a good hand writing.

who fails to put an "X" in the square and deposit the ballot box on election day, will actually be voting against the bond issue and for the increased tax. This bond issue must be approved by a majority of those voting for members of the Illinois general assembly. Everyone who votes a "straight" party ticket votes for this office and nearly everyone who votes a "scratched" ticket marks specifically for this office. Therefore, practically every voter must remember to vote "Yes" on the emergency relief ballot if it is to carry.

"There is no opposition to this measure. Taxpayers' organizations, civic, commercial, religious, labor and political leaders are working for it. The danger lies in the forgetfulness, as evidenced by the fact that since 1908 only three proposals requiring this large majority have been adopted."

"The only other liability which could accrue by reason of the construction of this sewer would be the liability of property benefited for an assessment for this sewer. It is my opinion that the facts under which this sewer was constructed are not such as to warrant the levying of an assessment under the provision of the local improvement act to pay for this particular sewer."

"I am, therefore, of the opinion that the village incurs no risk, either to itself or to its residents, by reason of the use of the sewer now in place in the street."

Dahir Obituary

William Abraham Dahir, who died in his home in Chicago Wednesday morning, Oct. 19, 1932, was born in Zahle, Syria, Asia Minor, July 7, 1877. He was educated in the schools of Zahle, and later came to America, settling in Chicago, and in 1918 he moved his family to Barrington.

In 1901, he married Miss Effie Safady. To this union nine children were born of whom eight survive their parents. They are in name Charles W. James S., who at the present time is studying in Syria where he makes his home, with his paternal grandmother and an uncle, Selma R. Fred A., George W., Edna, Victor and Victoria. The girls have recently made their home in Barrington and the last named boys in Champaign where the older two attend the University of Illinois and Victor is completing his high school course.

Mr. Dahir is also survived by his mother, Hanna, who with his brother, Michael A., lives in Syria and also a brother Alex A. of Chicago who has been with the Dahir family a good deal in late years.

Mrs. Effie Dahir of beloved memory by all who knew her lost her life in an accident Dec. 30, 1923. The loss of this noble wife and tender mother was a terrible blow to all the remaining members of the family.

Mr. Dahir married again in the fall of 1923, Mrs. Amena Freije (Frazier) who also survives him.

Although starting in the teaching profession as a young man, Mr. Dahir turned to business which he followed to the end of his days. He was a man of rugged constitution and had a robust spirit which enabled him to meet life's perplexities with unwavering confidence, never worrying about small matters. He was big hearted, and a man of many interests. His disposition was to make friends which he cherished, and he enjoyed life as he went. He was a member of the Greek Orthodox church.

Dealer Confirms Rumor of New Plymouth Six

Although no definite announcement date was named, P. B. Droyer of the Standard Motor Co., stated that the new six cylinder Plymouth automobiles would make their appearance here within a few weeks. "The new Plymouth six," said Mr. Droyer, "is the product of a new era of automobile manufacture. The recent economic stress has stimulated the progress of automotive design far ahead of the amount of advance usually achieved in any three-year period."

Arctic Foxes Store Food
All summer blue Arctic foxes are busy catching lemmings, small mouse-like rodents that constitute their principal food supply. Much of their catch is stored underground for use in the winter time when hunting is not so good. As the frost never wholly leaves the ground in the vicinity of their burrows, the meat thus stored will keep indefinitely.

AN EDITORIAL

about a very serious matter affecting the PUBLIC HEALTH...

A few years ago the northwest suburbs were dependent upon a haphazard, questionable milk supply. Following a serious epidemic that was definitely traced to raw milk, a request was made to responsible dealers by the residents to have them serve this territory with pasteurized milk and cream. The advent of these dealers put a stop to diseases that could be traced to the milk supply.

There can be no doubt but what pasteurization has been as great a boon to these communities of ours as it has been all over the world where this safeguard has been employed.

But what is the situation today? Some housewives in a desperate effort to stretch the budget fall prey to anything that is labeled "cheap." To save a penny or two they patronize irresponsible raw milk dealers. With all due respect for the need of an economical perspective today, this is false economy in its highest form—for regardless of the price of raw milk it is the most expensive commodity on sale today.

This practice on the part of some housewives can be laid to one thing only—their aim to economize. For surely they must know something of the importance of pasteurization. As a people we might be said to have a mania for health. Pasteurization is one of Science's greatest gifts to a health-loving humanity. The wise person will not slight its importance.

Exactly what is pasteurization, you ask? Pasteurization means clean, wholesome, safe milk—the kind suitable for you and your children. It is nothing more than the heating of milk to 145 degrees Fahrenheit and holding at that temperature for 30 minutes. This pasteurization temperature is about 68 degrees lower than that of boiling, and does not affect the food value of milk in the least.

Look, these facts in the face and still drink raw milk if you can:—

An average of five people each day in the United States are destined to become ill through the use of raw milk. Every six days of the year one of these people will die, and every eight days of the year an epidemic is caused by the use of raw milk. These figures are gathered from the Annual Reports of Milk Borne Outbreaks of Diseases issued by the United States Public Health Service for the years 1924 to 1931. During this time there were 358 raw milk epidemics causing the illness of 14,572 people and 455 deaths.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Commissioner of Health of Chicago, says:

"Since the institution of an order in 1916, that all milk except certified be pasteurized, there has not been a single case of contagion traced to the milk supply, a record that speaks volumes for the efficiency of pasteurization as a public measure."

Dr. Walter R. Ramsey of St. Paul, Minnesota, says:

"I have never seen a case of contagious disease which could be traced directly to milk, if it had been properly pasteurized."

Dr. E. V. McCollum, Johns Hopkins University:

"Every city should enforce the pasteurization of its milk supply. The reasons for this are clear and are accepted by all who are in a position as a result of scientific training to understand the underlying principles."

Dr. Milton J. Rosenau, Harvard University:

"Pasteurization prevents sickness and saves lives. It is an important public health measure. It should be done under official supervision."

PLAIN TALK

In a recent address, Fred H. Sexauer, president of the Dairymen's League Cooperative association of New York, said some plain words concerning the plight of the farmer.

He pointed out that a leading cause of depression was the failure of farm prices to keep pace with the rising prices of the products of urban workers which they bought—and that no permanent recovery can be expected until farm prices reach reasonable and profitable levels.

Prosperity on the farm means prosperity for every other business, and more money in the pocket of every worker. Today, according to Mr. Sexauer, there are three or four million rural homes that are prospective markets for bathroom fixtures, kitchen appliances, electric lights and labor saving devices and similar commodities. People who live in those homes want to buy—concerns that make the articles want to sell. But they can't sell because the people have no money. Farmers have almost ceased to exist so far as being a market for the products of shop and factory is concerned.

Every progressive American, everyone interested in the nation's welfare, is behind the farmer in his fight. Many believe the solution to be mainly in organization—the banding together of farmers in strong cooperatives that have the size, the financing and the power. The fact that the cooperative movement is making progress in the face of determined and often unfair opposition by those who are against it for selfish reasons, is good reason for "betting" on our agricultural future.

ON THE UP GRADE

Optimism concerning the business outlook and employment situation is not without foundation. There have been recent gains in industrial activity and employment; gains that augur further improvement during the fall and winter.

New York state reports a 6.5 per cent rise in factory employment in one month. The returning to work of 40,000 wage earners was 4 per cent above the seasonal gain and was not followed by losses. Factory payrolls increased 9.3 per cent during the same period. Especially significant is the fact that the upturn was not confined to only one or two lines of business, clothing, millinery, textiles, food, tobacco and the metal industries all reporting substantial gains.

While general business was picking up in New York, the metal industries were returning to work in four New England states and industrial power consumption throughout New England reached its peak for the year.

America no longer goes barefoot in summer to save on shoe leather, but the coming of fall has given the shoe industry 50 per cent more work to do. Some of the percentages of increase in output by individual states in a single month were: Massachusetts, 75.8 per cent; New Hampshire, 72.1 per cent; Pennsylvania 48.7; Missouri 32.4 and Ohio 32.

This is not prosperity returning with a bang, but it is most welcome news after many months of ever-increasing unemployment and factory closings.

OUR
LETTERBy National Editorial Association
(Special to The Review)

SOMETHING DELIGHTFULLY NAIVE colors the postmaster's request for unlimited terms. For generations the appointment of postmasters has been the favorite item in the political pie-counter. It is the kind of patronage that builds up partisan fences in each congressional district. The resolution presented to the National League of District Postmasters, representing the offices in small communities, has created amusement in congressional circles because of the circumstances. The resolution claims the existing system is "a rebuke and penalty to the 13,000 third-class postmasters of the country because they do not happen to belong to the dominant political party."

When consideration is given to the fact that the postmaster depends wholly on the favor of his senator or representative for preference, the appeal for permanence in a government job becomes farcical. It is true that a form of examination is held with the postmaster selected from the three highest. Yet those ratings figure lightly against the candidates' political value.

BECAUSE A SENATOR'S IMPORTANCE in public life is judged largely on his standing as a committee member, democrats and republicans alike are pondering what "trades" will be required at the next congress. The republicans in event they continue in power with the administrative and legislative branches have proven their inability to deal with the so-called progressive wing of their party. Republicans aimed at the insurgents have been nothing short of boomerangs. It is reported that the democrats have a general agreement to allow Norris, La Follette, Johnson and other republican rebels to continue as chairmen of major committees. There is some resentment among veteran democratic senators at the prospect for a victory will mean little or no advancement in prestige and committee influence. They must swallow their ambitions "for the good of the party."

THE "LAME DUCK" amendment to the constitution will be dragged along unless the public persuades state legislatures to hasten the change. Only a few states have taken the subject under ratification. Constitutional amendments require time but this proposition which passed the congress has no active and powerful groups promoting it. The amendment provides for a president and a new congress to take their duties on January 1 instead of March 4. Senator Norris of Nebraska has been the foremost advocate of the change. He believes political deadlock should not steer the ship of state months after the people have given their verdict at the polls.

DEDICATION of two enormous government buildings, the supreme court and post office, within a fortnight has riveted public attention on the expenditures for new structures in Washington and elsewhere. The fact that the taxpayers must defray the cost in a period of depression is stressed in all complaints. The criticism is heaped on congress for liberality in appropriations and on the administrative branch with equal force. The employment of labor is not regarded by many as an extraordinary huge expense at a time when taxpayers must pay the piper.

THE DETACHED SPECTATOR has an opportunity to watch the final parade of personalities and election arguments without the emotion of the ordinary voter. The workers in the field or henchmen of the two major parties are frankly puzzled in their efforts to estimate the weight of

From This to That

Out Husking Costs

Higher corn prices will mean more to many farmers if they will change their method of harvesting or raise the efficiency of the method already in use, according to a new circular, "Reducing Costs of Corn Husking," which has just been released by the extension service of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

Harvesting the corn crop is probably the greatest labor-consuming operation that must be performed on Illinois farms, the circular states. On many farms costs might be reduced and the margin of profit widened by a change in method of harvesting or higher efficiency in the method already in use, the circular explains.

In answer to arguments about the relative merits of hand vs. machine husking, P. E. Johnston, assistant chief in farm organization and management, and author of the circular, says that some farmers are getting their corn husked at a much lower bushel-cost with machines than their neighbors are by hand, and some are husking cheaper by hand. Mechanical huskers can be used to advantage only on farms where tractor power is available.

"Mechanical huskers have less advantage on farms where family labor is available than on farms where transient huskers must be hired. The relative advantage of machine and hand husking depends mainly upon the cost of labor as compared with the cost of fuel, oil and machinery. Where yields are good, mechanical huskers are better able to compete with hand husking than where yields are low."

Greatest Loan of Art

What will undoubtedly be the greatest single loan exhibition of paintings and sculpture ever gathered under one roof in America is planned and practically assured for the Century of Progress Exposition. The Art Institute of Chicago has been designated as the official Department of Fine Arts for the fair, and under the director, Robert B. Harsh, assisted by Daniel Catton Rich, associate curator of painting, all the galleries of painting and sculpture will be rearranged for the entire exhibition period, opening June 1 and continuing through October, 1933.

The plan includes three main divisions: First, a representative, and carefully chosen loan collection of old votes for Norman Thomas, the socialist candidate for president. In a landslide these ballots could easily be ignored. Yet with narrow margins in the electoral college as a result of the popular vote the Thomas ballots might throw the election into congress. There have been a contest or two of this sort in the nineteenth century struggle for the presidency and not at all beyond the range of probability in 1932. Questions of state policy and government do not impress dissenters which make the "protest" vote a major problem with republican and democratic leaders.

FOREIGN TRADE will continue as a complex economic problem no matter which party wins control of the federal government on March 4. American producers are gravely concerned with the outcome of the British efforts to promote inter-empire commerce. These moves within the dominions may eventually foster restrictions practically abolishing our biggest customer—Canada. Preferential treatment for British goods would adversely affect Canadian branches of American factories. The politicians will have considerable debating but our foreign trade is now more of an economic than legislative problem. Canadian tariffs are adjusted every spring in connection with the budget. Parliament leaves trade control powers to the cabinet.

and primitive masters, beginning with the Italian "dugento and continuing down through the eighteenth century. Galleries, arranged in sequence will hold Italian, French, German, and Flemish primitives, sixteenth century Italian examples from Spain, Holland, Italy, and Flanders, the eighteenth century French and English masterpieces. The aim of this division is to show the public an historical survey, utilizing the great works privately and publicly owned in America and to stress a century of progress in American collecting. A hundred years ago, very few great pictures were on this side of the water; today, our private collections and our museums contain treasures of amazing worth. Since 1832, magnificent works by Fra Angelico, Botticelli, Velasquez, El Greco, Holbein, Titian, Raphael, Ingres, Courbet and Manet, to mention only a few of the names, have found their way into American hands. In this field the Art Institute will naturally continue to display its own great pictures, uniting them with loans from all over the United States.

A second division of the exhibition will be given over to the Century of Progress in painting, itself. Here where the Institute is pre-eminent among American museums, great stress will be laid on a hundred years of French and American art. Rooms will be set aside for such artists as Degas and Monet, Manet and Renoir, Gauguin and Toulouse-Lautrec, with probably special one-man galleries for Cezanne and van Gogh. Closely paralleling this survey, will be the retrospective American section, with its large and important displays of early American masters. Whistler, Sargent, Inness, Homer, Ryder, Raskins and the American Impressionists. Again the private collector, the museum and the great dealers in America will cooperate in the assembling of this side of the exhibition.

Coming Back With Cotton

Said the New York Times in a recent editorial: "Cotton has shown a greater price increase than any other basic commodity. . . . It is what the economic historian would expect and that the moralist would approve. Three years ago we danced over the precipice in silk. We are beginning the slow and rueful climb backward in cotton. We crashed with automobiles and silks and country houses and de luxe staterooms to Europe. We begin to show signs of revival with cotton and pork and coffee and rubber and copper."

The American people are showing an increasing regard for the old and time-tried necessities, at the expense of a few of the less valuable luxuries. Cotton and copper and pork and coffee have always had their place and always will have—a place that cannot be usurped by de luxe staterooms, pleasant as they are.

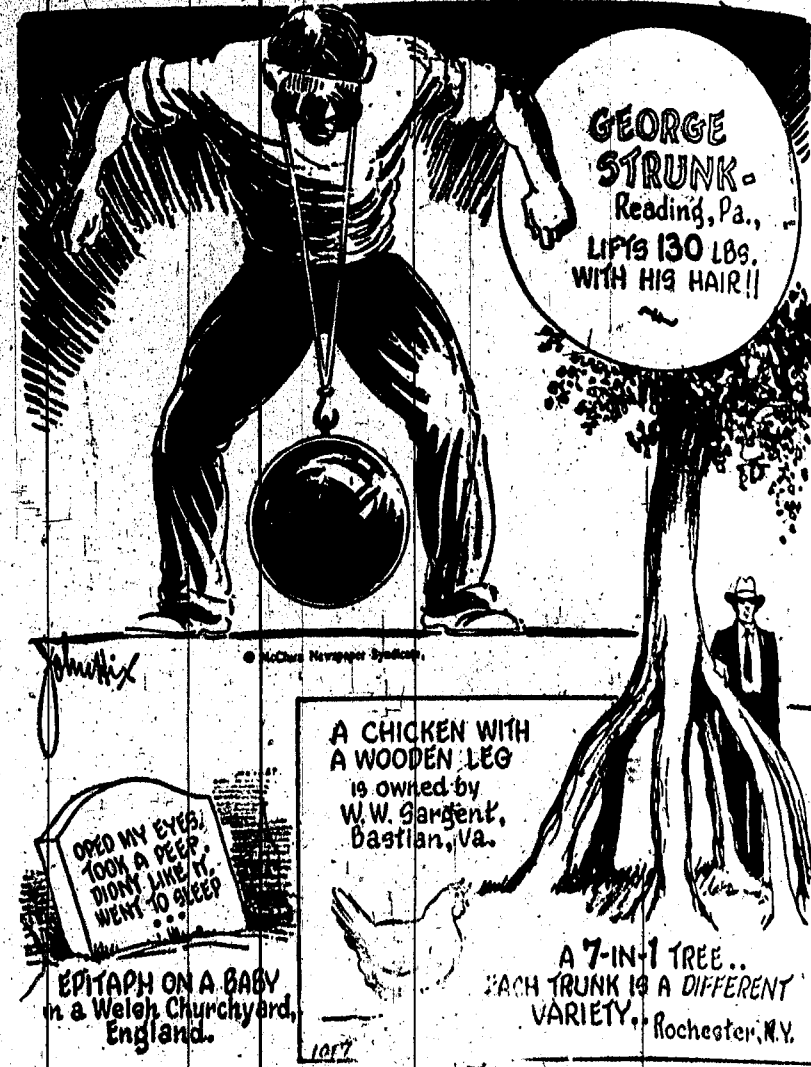

In the instance of cotton, too, there is another phase of the subject. That is the action of the cotton growers in working out their problems. In the cotton states the cooperative movement has been making good progress and is showing fine results now and has magnificent potentialities. The cooperative associations, well financed and aggressively managed, are demonstrating that overly low agricultural prices can be coped with.

Green Light Not Final

While the average motorist believes that the green light on a traffic signal means "go," and the red light means "stop," there are qualifications to these short, decisive words, according to a recent ruling of the supreme court of Pennsylvania. This high court declared that the "go" signal is not a command to the motorist but is a qualified permission to proceed lawfully and carefully in the direction indicated. "It does not mean," says the decision, "that the person receiving the signal may proceed without a care or a thought as to the safety of others who may be in his path."

Interpreted broadly, the decision means that motorists must drive carefully at all times, regardless of what the signal says.

Bronchos to End Home Season With Conference Aces

Local Team Defeated 20 to 6 by Smooth Working Bensenville Eleven

The 1932 edition of the Bensenville Bronchos will make a final home appearance Wednesday, Nov. 2 at 3 p. m. when the team plays the Libertyville Wildcats at North Side park. Libertyville appears to be the conference champions unless the unexpected happens. They have been playing excellent football all year and have beaten both Laydon and Heights in their two most formidable rivals. On game day they are some thirty or forty points better than Coach Clark's outfit but that doesn't mean a thing after the game starts. If the Bronchos get going to catch the Wildcats overconfident they have that chance of turning in an upset.

The so-called "thundering" Bronchos had a bad time last Saturday. They forgot to do any thundering and aside from tearing up a little turf now and then they didn't accomplish very much. The result was a 20 to 6 score in favor of Bensenville. The South side team had one of its "hot" days and succeeded in working about everything tried. The passes over the line were especially deadly. Bensenville on the other hand was in their form. The boys played hard but were miscegenate tactics galore, their blocking was poor and they fumbled at critical moments. Their pass attack which has been their strongest offense was falling short throughout the game.

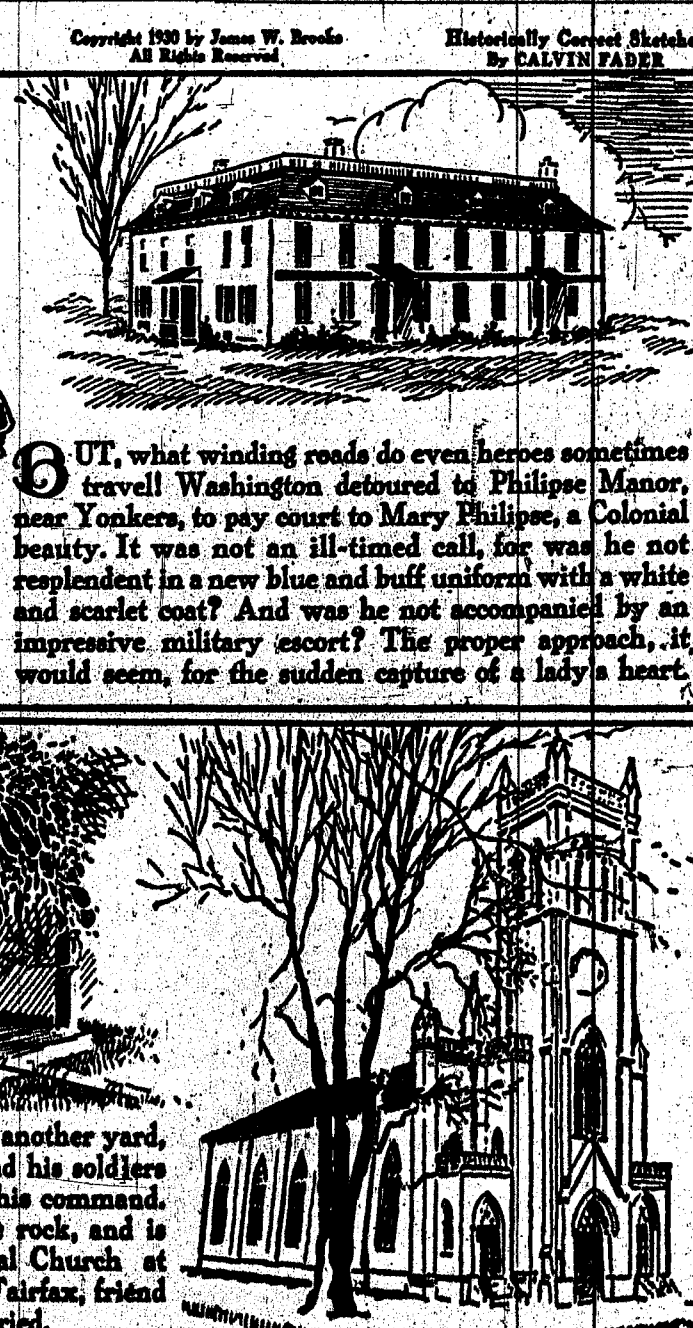

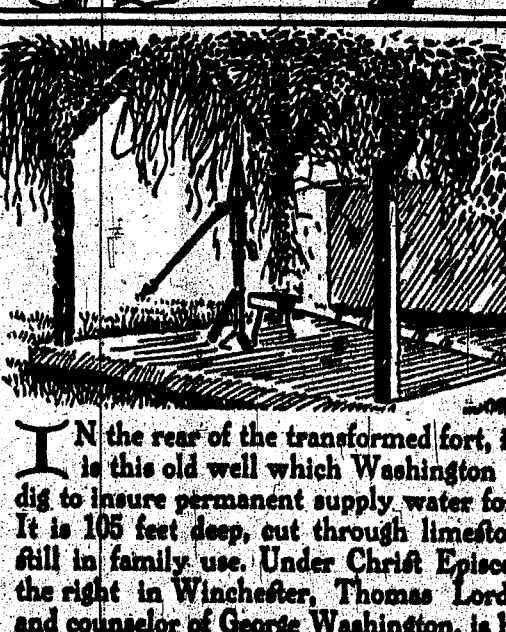

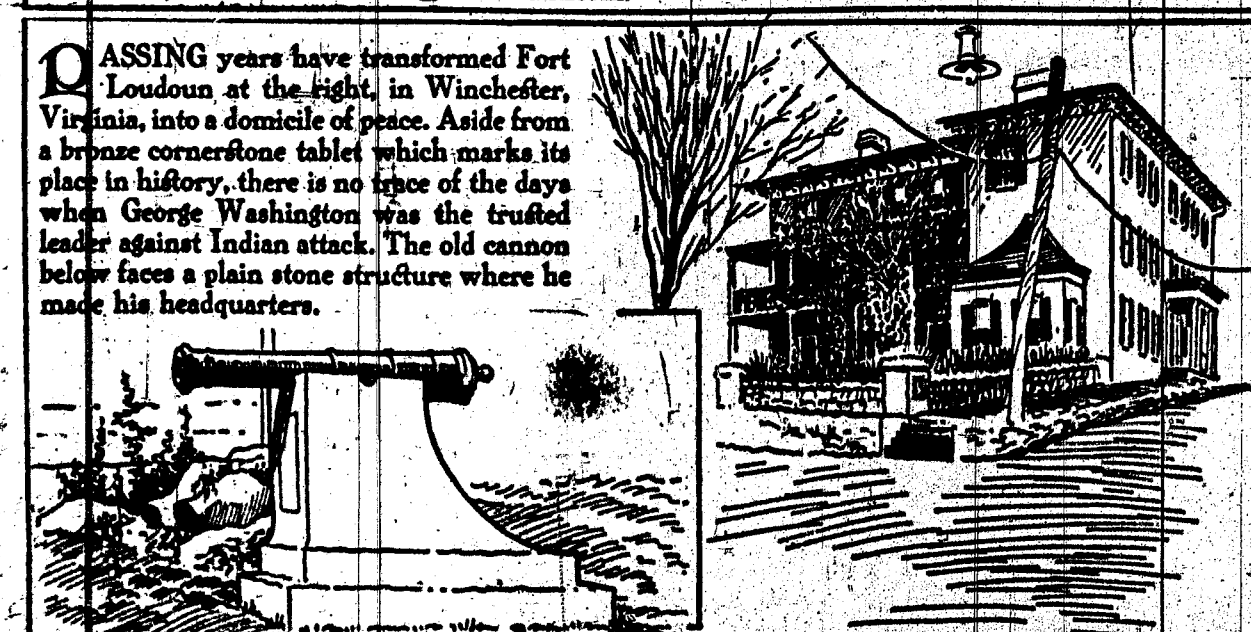

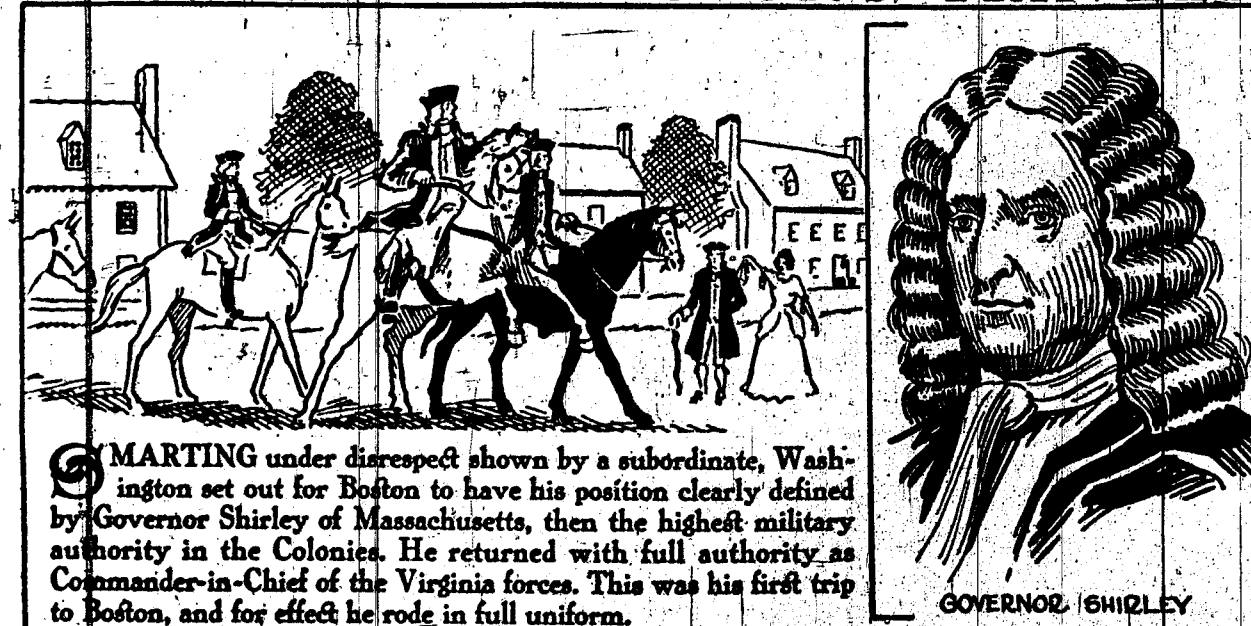

Bensenville scored 13 points in the first half while Barrington was making six on a nice run by Bernard Christenson. In the second half the Bronchos showed power working the ball down the field in nice shape only to lose it on a fumble, an interception, or on downs, when they were in real scoring territory. Bensenville put the game on ice in the back quarter by pushing across another touch down. Workman and Roth had the most tackles for the local squad.

The ponies took it on the chin twice last week from Libertyville and Warren but they came through with a 14 to 6 victory over Bensenville Monday night.

'Back Street', With John Boles, Coming to Catlow Sunday

Varied Program for Week;
Marlene Dietrich in Play
Here Wednesday

Zane Grey's action romance of the west, "Heritage of the Desert," done into movie form with a cast headed by Randolph Scott, Sally Blane and J. Farrell MacDonald, plays The Catlow theatre Saturday night.

The movie directed by Henry Hathaway, follows the plot of the novel closely. Scott, as a young surveyor, is called by MacDonald to his ranch to check its boundaries accurately.

David Landau, head of a band of cattle rustlers, attempts to prevent his reaching the ranch house alive, but fails.

Arriving there ultimately, Scott meets and falls in love with Miss Blane, daughter of MacDonald's dead partner. She is to marry MacDonald's son, but she is soon in love with Scott.

Short subjects on this bill include a news reel, scenic cartoon and chapter 11 of the Rin Tin Tin serial.

Fannie Hurst's most absorbing story comes to screen Sunday and Monday nights and this is the picture, "Back Street" with Irene Dunn and John Boles in the leading roles.

This powerful and fascinating love-drama follows the romance of a girl and a man, held together by a sincere love in spite of the fact that the man is a husband and father. For 20 years, the attachment endures, ever increasing in intensity, until a tragedy brings the most extraordinary affair of his kind ever pictured into sharp focus.

A comedy starring Andy Clyde, cartoon, news and community singing will be added attractions on this bill.

Cocacola palms, bending over a pounding surf—coral reefs ringing the rocky islets—outtrigging canoes—colorful fish—marvelous sunset—the haunting echoes of a Polynesian song across the water under a tropic moon—these make up more of the glamour and romance of the South Sea background of the new picture, "The Painted Woman," which will play the picture, "Blonde Venus," is scheduled to play the theatre Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of next week.

The picture, directed by Josef von Sternberg, who discovered the glamorous star three years ago, and has been in charge of production of her four previous English language films, presents her in the role of a woman who, to save her husband's life, accepts the love of another man.

At first, cold-blooded about the proposition, she soon finds she is in love with her benefactor. Her love for her son binds her to her husband.

Marlene Dietrich's latest starring picture, "Blonde Venus," is scheduled to play the theatre Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of next week.

Small and Horner Take Same Stand on Major Issue

Both Candidates State Opposition to Annexation Plan of Chicago

Answers from both major candidates for governor of Illinois to a question of policy more important than any other question of political policy to residents of Barrington, Palatine, Arlington Heights and other outlying Cook county communities have been broadcasted to local newspapers in these communities.

The question involves the candidate's policy on the proposal of annexation by Chicago of Cook county territory not now within the city limits. Both candidates have stated that they oppose any structural change in government of the municipalities in Cook county unless approved by a majority of the voters in the municipalities.

Illustrating the opposition to annexation of the territory by Chicago, a letter was sent to republicans in the village board of LaGrange, asking how the republican candidate stood on the question of annexation.

Voiced Bill
Len Small made the following reply:

"Honorable Walter P. Saunders, President, Village of LaGrange, Ill.: 'Dear Sir: Your letter to Honorable Franklin J. Strassky, chairman of the state committee, has been forwarded to me for a reply. In your letter you say 'It is becoming more and more evident to us in the suburbs as time passes, that there is an agitation which will not do, on the part of certain Chicago interests to include in and within the government of the city of Chicago, all of Cook county, depriving the country towns, thereby of certain of their elected officers, and the many advantages which accrue to the people of this suburban area, in enjoying the privileges of their home rule of the communities in which they live.'"

"You also ask that I express my attitude on this subject."

"At the outset, permit me to say that I am in favor of measures which will reduce taxes, both in the state and in our municipalities. Such a measure as this, is of vital importance to our people. However, I do not believe that reduction will be brought about by structural changes in the government. It has always been my view that the question of local government should be determined by the people living in the locality. A similar question came before me while I was governor. In the form of House Bill No. 44 at the session of 1921. This bill, if approved, would have permitted the annexation of territory either of villages with the consent of only one-fourth of the local voters in the city or village and in the territory to be annexed. I vetoed this bill. It is only fair and reasonable to assume that the property owners should have a voice in the determination of this question; and it seems to me contrary to the principles of good government to take the determination of this question from the majority and place it with the minority. I will offer no other matters of government, it has always been the policy of the decision of the majority. This important and wholesome principle ought not to be abandoned in the important matter of annexing territory to a city."

"I believe that no change in government is warranted."

Halloween Came Monday Night, No Doubt About It

Halloween arrived, passed and left its mark. In fact it left many marks. The store windows were about as thoroughly marked up with soap Monday night as they ever were during the season. Shop-cleaners, clerks and professional window washers were busy along Park avenue, Main, Cook and Station streets Tuesday morning playing brushes, sponges and other glass cleaners and sopping the place down with ammonia and kerosene. And the artistic handiwork of the Monday night painters. The police did not report any property damage resulting from the mischief making proceeds of the Halloween rioters, but several shop windows were given their first soap bath in many weeks Tuesday morning to erase the half soap and tallow designs applied Monday evening.

Halloween was recognized by several merchants who remembered to decorate their windows with corn cobs, pumpkins, witches, and other appropriate articles. The Royal Blue store corner window was neatly decorated with a farm scene featuring a big white and black spotted cow, a pig, a hen, and a cat. The window of the Food Mart on West Main street was attractive decorated with stocks of tall corn, pumpkins, etc. Pohlman's Pharmacy on East Main street and the Freedman Drug Co. on West Main street also had some neat Halloween window decorations.
