BRONCHOS WIN FIRST FOOTBALL CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP IN SIXTEEN YEARS

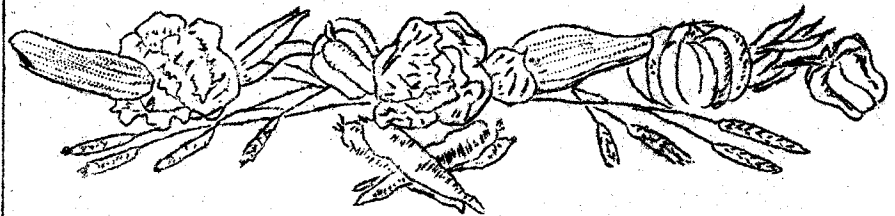

SMOTHER ANTIOCH 50-0

Hail to the victors! After waiting sixteen long years to do so, the Bronchos clinched the Northwest Conference Championship in football by virtue of their amazing 50-0 victory over Antioch last Friday night. On top of all this the Bronchos increased their total points to 152 for the four conference games, while holding their opponents scoreless.

After winning their first three conference games handily, there could have been a let up, but the Bronchos disproved any basis for this assumption by jumping off to a lead. Only a few minutes had elapsed in the first quarter when J. Hansen carried for the first score after a march down the field. Kranz's kick was no good, and the score stood 6-0. A few minutes later J. Hansen passed to Hick for another six points. Kranz added the extra point, and it was 13-0.

In the second quarter G. Hansen plunged over to make it 19-0. The conversion was good, and it was 20-0. That concluded the second quarter scoring, with Antioch at no time threatening to score.

The third quarter was

JUNIORS PERFORM THIS WEEK END

"GHOST WANTED" GIVEN FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

November 5 and 6 many delightful surprises will be revealed to an anxious audience in the high school auditorium. "Ghost Wanted," that exciting mystery-comedy the juniors have been working on for many weeks, is to be presented.

Guernsey Le Pelley, the author, is the famous cartoonist for the "Christian Science Monitor." He has written many other successful comedies.

The committees have been working diligently to create a spooky atmosphere and mysterious surprises which will be revealed this week end.

Now for a few lines to acquaint you with each character--

Jeffery Hall (Bri Anderson) is an ambitious, adventure-loving boy who will undertake almost any job from being a living-dead man to a zombi, as long as he can be the manager while his friend Hugo does all the work.

Hugo Bromley (Forrest Berghorn) always seems to have a joke or wise-crack on the tip of his tongue, even in the most critical situations.

Granny Kate (Belle Gorman) is the owner of the

DEWEY, STEVENSON, BROOKS WIN IN MOCK ELECTION

A total of only 187 ballots was cast by the students last Thursday, which means that 105 did not avail themselves of the opportunity to vote in the national and state elections. This was not, however, due entirely to student apathy, but in a large part to a misunderstanding concerning the time the polls closed. The indignant group who reported to vote seventh hour, only to find that the polls closed at 2:20, indicated that the election committee had not publicized the time adequately and that student interest was not lacking.

Thomas Dewey triumphed, as expected, in the presidential race, receiving 135 votes to Harry Truman's 51. However, Truman displayed more strength than was anticipated. Henry Wallace and Norman Thomas had four votes apiece and one vote (Cont. in col. 2)

BOTTOMLEY HOOCH SPEAKS

ON DRYING DISHES

Dinner is over. You have refueled yourself with a store of potential energy and are now prepared to turn it into kinetic energy. You are perhaps eager to move toward your homework, or to turn on your favorite radio program. The plot of a book might have you in nervous convulsions about what will happen next. There are several other things that you might have your mind set on.

Perhaps you pay no heed to the dishes that your mother is washing. Perhaps you do, but by rationalization you determine you can't possibly spend the ten or fifteen minutes to dry them. Yes, you certainly are busy, but just as busy, and likely more so, is your mother. The amount of time spent in wiping dishes won't be a detriment to your activity, but when added to the time needed to wash them it could handicap your hard-working mother.

The subject of drying dishes may seem trite, and the given example may seem exaggerated, but the idea of being considerate and helpful to your family is vital. Though such things as drying dishes may seem to be small portions of gratitude for the services our parents render us, they do add up. This idea goes back to an ancient cliché: "It is the small things that count."

was cast for Watson, the candidate of the Prohibition party.

Adlai Stevenson, democratic candidate for governor, defeated Dwight Green. Twice as many votes were for Stevenson, who gathered 124 votes to Green's 62.

In the senatorial election C. Wayland Brooks defeated Douglas 98 to 84 votes.

Ten ballots were disqualified. Several marked two presidents; others marked a check instead of an "X." The remaining used ink, therefore ruining their ballots.

Janet Volz, who withdrew from B. H. S. after her junior year to attend St. Clara's Academy, a private school in Wisconsin, returned to B. H. S. on Tuesday.

Welcome back, Janet.

PONIES WHIP ANTIOCH, 13-0

Saturday morning the Antioch frosh-sophs journeyed to Barrington and lost to the Ponies, 13-0.

After Barrington fumbled on the second play of the game and Antioch recovered on the ten yard line, it looked as if they would score. However, the attempt failed, and this was the only threat in the quarter.

Neither team drove very deep into the other's territory until the last two minutes of the first half. Then Antioch tried a field goal, but it was partially blocked by Ray Hartwig.

In the third quarter the Ponies started to show their offensive power by making three first downs that included Heckmiller's thirty yard run. This run placed the ball on Antioch's three yard line. Aevermann, aided by Popp's key block, went around end for the touchdown. The ball sailed through the crossbar for a 7-0 score.

Hartwig shot through the Antioch line and smeared them for a fifteen yard loss. They punted, and Pederson returned the ball to the fifty.

After several passes failed, Antioch took over on downs. With only a short time remaining the visitors also took to the air. Aevermann intercepted a pass and sprinted forty yards to score. Ruckoldt threw a beauty of a block that enabled the touchdown. The conversion failed.

NO SCHOOL ARMISTICE DAY

NO "BRONCHO" NEXT WEEK

Because Armistice Day is a holiday, there will be no Broncho issued next week. There will be the regular staff meeting today.

BRONCHOS FACE GRANT IN SEASON'S FINALE

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 the Bronchos will close what is the most successful football season this school has ever experienced. Their opponents will be the Grant Bulldogs. Grant had a hard time defeating Palatine, and so it looks as though the Bronchos should win in a breeze.

The conference title has been cinched, but the champions certainly want to preserve their undefeated, unscored upon record. The Bronchos have scored 152 points in four league contests, an average of 38 points per game. They hope to improve upon this record Saturday against Grant.

only a few minutes old when Hick intercepted a pass on Barrington's thirty yard line and ran seventy yards down the side lines for six more points. Hick had some beautiful blocking, enabling him to go almost untouched. Antioch then got the ball and was forced to kick. Shuett received the ball on his own twelve and ran toward the side lines, reversed his field, and ran rabbit-like down the side lines for another brilliant touchdown. The score stood 32-0 at this point. When Barrington gained possession of the ball again, Kranz plowed over from the three yard line for a 38-0 score. In the last quarter Tukey passed from the forty-five yard line to Roake, who caught the ball on the ten and ran the remaining distance. This made the score 44-0. The last touchdown came on a sleeper play when Tukey got off a wobbly pass that Shuett grabbed. He side stepped a defensive player and ran into the end zone to make the final score 50-0.

The Bronchos received a blow on the first play of the game when Stoller, stellar tackle, injured his leg and was ((Cont. on page 4, col. 2)

HIGH SCHOOL TO SELL SEASON BASKETBALL TICKETS NOVEMBER 12 AND 13

Mr. Harman, the varsity basketball coach, announced this week that plans for the coming basketball season are progressing rapidly. With the football campaign coming to a close this week, basketballs are already starting to be heard in the Barrington gym.

Next week on Friday and Saturday, November 12 and 13, Barrington basketball enthusiasts will have the opportunity to purchase season tickets which will be good for each of the twelve Broncho home games on the 1948-'49 schedule. These tickets will be available to the public on Friday night between 8:00 and 9:00 and Saturday morning between 10:00 and 12:00. They will be sold in the lobby of the Barrington High School gym. Price of the tickets, which will be transferable for extra convenience, will be $9.00. In addition to having the same seat every game, the ticket holder will have the assurance of his seat's being reserved until 8:00, after which the seat will become available to the general public. Regular single admission prices will be 60¢ for adults and 30¢ for children.

The first game of the season for the Bronchos is November 19 against Hebron. Other teams which the Bronchos will face on the home floor this year are Lake Forest, Antioch, Palatine, Bensenville, the Barrington Alumni (this game not included in the season ticket), Grant, Austin of Chicago, Northbrook, Wauconda, Steinmetz of Chicago, Arlington Heights, and Ela in the order mentioned.

forced to retire from the game. However, this must have set the rest of the team on fire, because they played like champions. Coupled with Stoller's injury was the low standard of sportsmanship exhibited by the Antioch boys.

The Bronchos line play again was excellent in this game. This can clearly be shown by the fact that Antioch was held to 58 yards by running, while the Bronchos were able to gain 423, including mansion on Ramshead Rock, where the boys are seeking a job as ghosts. She is a friendly, eccentric old lady who is greatly interested in the study of zombies.

Ginger Stormgay (Joan Gruenewald) is thoroughly fed up with the mystery of Ramshead Rock and is determined to put a stop to it. That is why she advertises for a ghost.

Gale Stormgay (Pat Wayne) Ginger's sister, feels the same way about the mysterious happenings and, after being convinced by Ginger, becomes a confederate in her plan.

Troddy (Julie Neil) is the maid at the Stormgay home. She is frightened by the talk of zombies and ghosts and would announce her resignation if she had not worked there so many years.

Hatcher (Dick Aspinwall) is the very efficient butler at Ramshead Rock. He is one of the first to see the ghosts and would also give his notice if he had not been employed there so long.

Professor De Vallan (Bill Trankle) is very happy at Ramshead Rock, for he considers it a wonderful "garden spot for the dead." He is overjoyed when he gets results while looking for the zombi of Simon Gore.

Madam Zolga (Janet Parmalee) the professor's assistant, is one of the few people who have the power to raise the dead, as well as many other mystic powers.

Nora Vane (Donna Duerwachter) comes from the Amalgamated Seaman's Home and suspects that one of their beloved members, Simon Gore, has been murdered. She is continually snooping and looking for clues and bits of evidence that will reveal something about his disappearance.

Mr. Bradshaw (John Calkins), the local sheriff, probably has many definite ideas; but they are never learned, as Nora Vane constantly prevents him from speaking by her interruptions.

Azalea (Eileen Kadansky) is a woman "who does a lobster business in the village," and she takes Nora Vane and Mr. Bradshaw to Ramshead Rock in her lobster boat.

With such an assortment of characters, it is plain that "Ghost Wanted" will provide an enjoyable evening for everyone.

ALICE KLICKNER WINS FIRST PLACE IN WINDOW DECORATING

ROYCE STAYNER, CHUCK WILKES, AND DON MILLER PLACE

The decoration of the store windows was started last week and completed on Saturday morning. The high school showed exceptional talent and originality, and many think the paintings are rising to a higher standard every year.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. D. R. Drover and Mrs. Robert Pratt made the decisions for all prizes.

In the high school group Alice Klickner won the first prize of $3.00. Alice's original portrayal of Indian Summer foggy-ness enveloping a scene of cornshocks and pumpkins was on the Fashion Cleaners window.

Royce Stayner and Chuck Wilkes won the second prize of $2.00 for their painting on the Bob and Betty window. They did an excellent job of reproducing McCutcheon's "Injun Summer."

The third prize of $1.00 was awarded to Don Miller, who painted on Schroeder's Real Estate window an erie-looking house on a hillside under a Halloween moon.

All the drawings showed a great deal of hard work and more interest than ever before. Everyone participating deserves credit.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE OBSERVED

An Armistice Day assembly under the direction of Miss Sheel will be held Wednesday, November 10, Jim McNichols presiding.

The boys' ensemble will open the program with "Strike up the Band."

Following this, an illustrated essay entitled "What America Means to Me" will be presented by Phyllis Leonard. Barbara Morris will then read Kit Lasch's composition, "What America Means to the World."

A tribute to the war dead will close the program, after the junior high chorus has sung several selections.

Miss Baer is in charge of the music for the program.

SEVENTH GRADE HIGHEST IN MAGAZINE CAMPAIGN

As of now, the seventh grade is leading in the magazine campaign with a grand total of $617.65. The eighth graders are in second place, their amount totaling $374.35. In third position are the sophomores with $294.00.

Miss Buck's room is the highest in the competition among the first hour classes. They have reached 136% of their quota. Mr. Johnson's first hour English class has 80% of their goal, placing them in second place.

Steve Roake is the highest boy salesman of Curtis magazines with $47.00. Dorothy Carter is the highest salesman of Curtis magazines among the girls. She collected $41.25 for the drive.

The two highest salesmen for Life, Time, Fortune, and Reader's Digest are David F. Hansen who collected $31.00, and Jack Lageschulte who brought in $24.00.

the runbacks by Shuett and Hick. The Bronchos tried 12 passes, with three being good for touchdowns. Four of the twelve were completed for 118 yards. Antioch completed only one pass for 6 yards. The Bronchos picked up thirteen first downs to only two by Antioch. Barrington was forced to kick only one time, while Antioch was forced to do so six times.

The play of the Broncho substitutes was of very high calibre, and they certainly shouldn't be underrated.

Listed below are the fine running averages compiled by the Broncho backfield in this game. It must be remembered that the great line play contributed no end to the successful runs by the backfield men.

OUR FIELD TRIP

BY BILL THOMAS

October 29 the biology class made a trip to the Justice estate to watch the ducks and geese on their migration. Mr. Beckhart estimated that there were five thousand ducks on the lake that day, which is not the greatest number on the lake at once.

We saw many different kinds of ducks and geese, and I should like to describe a few. There were many ruddy ducks, distinguished by the white patch on the side of the head. The blue goose was to be seen, bluish in color, with white head. It is slate colored until a year old. Many canvasbacks were on the lake. They have a white body which looks like canvas coloring and a dark red head. The canvas back can dive deeper than most ducks. Coots, or mud hens, were a common sight all over the lake. They have white bills and non-web feet, unlike the other ducks. There were many snow geese, which get their name from their pure white color.

A few swans were located around the lake. These were tame, though. The biology group watched a couple of pet swans which Mr. Beckhart had tamed thoroughly. One with a very human attitude was called Charlie. The other birds we saw were black ducks, mallards, pintails, wall points, red ducks, grebes, and Canadian geese. There were about five hundred Canadian geese there that day.

Mr. Beckhart captures and bands the birds. He uses a twelve-foot square wire trap. Mr. Beckhart said that bands from his birds had been returned from thirty-six states. There was much pond weed and coontail distributed in the lake. They are good food for the ducks.

Following this study of wild life on the lake, we saw a collection of beautiful and strange birds that are kept as a novelty.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club will meet Tuesday, November 12. The program committee has prepared the material necessary to begin the reading of "Don Quixote." Following the reading of the play, a committee will

HALLOWEEN DANCE BETTER THAN EVER

Jeans, plaid shirts, bales of straw, carved pumpkins, and brightly colored streamers set the atmosphere for the Halloween dance last Saturday evening.

Games, consisting of ducking for apples, penny pitching, bean bag throwing, and gin rummy, provided some unusual entertainment, which was enjoyed by all.

The time for the drawing of the door prizes was looked forward to enthusiastically. When the time came, the holder of the lucky number 34 was Diane Hartley. She received a small table radio. A popcorn popper was the second prize, and Duncan Aspinwall was the fortunate fellow. Phyllis Leonard and Bonnie Easterly each won a box of candy.

The refreshments, cider and doughnuts, were served at the cider bar. These both blended in nicely with the theme of the dance.

The music for dancing was provided by none other than our own B. H. S. band. They gave a fine performance, but they waited just a little too long between numbers.

The dance was a big success. What topped it off was the informality of the whole evening. Everyone could participate in all the events and have fun. Let's hope there is another dance next year.

SCIENCE CLUB

Last Monday Mr. Moon started the meeting of the Science Club, chiding the members for their lack of cooperation on the club float. Then Pat Carr gave the club a very interesting talk on television relay towers.

President William Anderes said that the club either will get to work and start a project of some sort or else disband. On this threat, the loyal members present devoted the remainder of the meeting to a discussion on television relay and sending towers.

R.T.D.C. AND D.S.

MUSICAL NOTES

FRIDAY GROUP

With four questions as a basis of discussion, Forrest Berghorn, the moderator, opened the topic, "Can the United Nations Succeed? The questions were (1) What has been accomplished by the U.N. so far? (2) What has the U.N. failed in and left undone? (3) What has President Truman proposed? (4) What do you think Dewey will do if he is elected?

These questions were debated the entire period. Discussion on this topic will continue in the next meeting of the Friday R.T.D.C. and D.S.

MONDAY GROUP

The Monday meeting of R.T.D.C. and D.S. was held as usual in Miss Sheel's room. Kit Lasch announced that his term as moderator had expired. The election for a new moderator was held, with Barbara Schauble's gaining the office.

The rest of the meeting was devoted to an informal discussion of the coming election. The majority of the club agreed that Dewey would win easily, but they disagreed as to whether Stevenson or Green would win the governorship in Illinois.

FRESHMAN SPEECH CLUB

Yesterday the Freshman Speech Club had an unusual meeting. Everyone was so surprised from the outcome of the election that an interesting discussion followed throughout the period.

A correction should be made for a misprint in last week's paper. The cast for the pantomime entitled "Aunt Betsy" includes:

- Reader.....Saralu Thomas
- Betsy MacPherson.....Marilyn Sorce
- Phyllis.....Marilyn Esh
- Benjamin Pringle.....Helen Haines
- Jonathan.....Frances Bentley

MRS. JOHNSON IS NEW SCHOOL SECRETARY

Mrs. Lucille Johnson is the new secretary to Mr. Thomas. Formerly of Chicago,

Certain a cappella members are selling memberships to the Community Concert series. There will be four concerts during the year. Tickets are available from the following:

The boys' ensemble will be singing for the Armistice Day program.

Final try-outs for the Stephen Foster group for girls will be held Wednesday for altos and Thursday for sopranos. Anyone interested may come in. The final list will be posted on the bulletin board on Friday.

MASQUE AND WIG

Since the beginning of the year, the children's play idea has been talked about quite a bit. The majority of the people were in favor of it; so a committee was appointed, consisting of Giles Mellon (chairman), Peggy Reeve, and Kit Lasch. The group has recommended seeing the children's plays that are coming to Barrington soon.

A letter has been received from DeKalb, concerning one of their recent production, "Our Town." Louise Meyer, a B. H.S. graduate, is a member of the cast. "Our Town" will be presented on November 17 and 18. The first ones to sign up with Mr. Johnson will be the people allowed to attend. There can be only from 25 to 30 students, and they must be members of Masque and Wig.

The club was entertained today by Don Miller and Belle Gorman, who gave a make-up demonstration. Make-up is really a very important part of any production.

she has been a resident of Barrington for the past six years. Much of her time has been given to the auxiliary of the V.F.W., of which she is president.

Mrs. Johnson began her secretarial duties here last Monday.

KAROUSING KID

Congratulations to the frosh-soph football team. They haven't lost a conference game yet. It looks as if they are following right along behind the varsity. There should have been more announcements, though, for the crowds were rather small. Everyone should be extra proud of them.

While I'm on the subject of freshmen, I have four new students to introduce to you.

Ellen Schleh comes to us from the Waterman school, and she says she enjoys playing the piano.

Adele Eply is from North Barrington School, and she lives in Biltmore. Adele finds B. H. S. a swell place, and she is glad she's here.

Chuck Drake, "Dracula" Drake as he is known to his friends, also comes from North Barrington School. K.K. hopes you like it here.

Last, but not least, is Eleanor Jahn. She went to the Burnes School last year. Playing the piano seems to be her main hobby.

Wanted: Any kind of fountain pen, just so it writes. If you have a spare one, see Guy Armanetti; he really needs one. In order not to have points deducted from his English paper for not writing in ink, Guy went to all extremes. He opened up a paper clip, dipped it into the ink, and then began to write. I think you'd better get a pen, Guy. The other way sounds endless.

Friday noon Pat Wayne thought her lunch seemed rather strange. Her mom never fixed egg salad sandwiches, but here they were. After Pat had eaten half "her" lunch, she discovered it wasn't her lunch she was eating. It was Virginia Kossack's.

Four miles from the border line of Wisconsin the car lights fail them. That is the predicament Yvonne Hoggins was in Friday night on the way back from Antioch. The girls weren't able to get the lights fixed; so a flashlight was their main source of illumination going home. Some fun, huh?

Anyone who has a chance bid Julie Neil farewell; she is leaving for Boston Monday, where she will make her future home.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

A peppy senior girl for this week is Marillyn Meyer. Five feet, two inches, with light brown hair and hazel eyes, she is a dynamo of energy. With so much "get-up-and-go," she still has no definite plans for the future, but her present ambition is to see our team win the football and basketball championships. Her hobby is sports. She likes best to play basketball or soccer; she prefers to watch football or basketball. Linked to her hobby is the most exciting event in her life, seeing the team win at the District Tournament. While in high school, she has participated in these activities: Broncho Staff, Girls' Glee Club, A Cappella, G. A. A., Square Dance Club, Discussion Club, Student Council, Pep Squad for two years, and Camera Club. Her ideal man is "six feet tall with brown hair and brown eyes, plays football, basketball, and baseball, and his middle initial is 'E.'"

This girl must really have troubles. Listen to this list of pet peeves: "People who honk their horns at night when they go by, a certain person who says he'll take a flash picture some day, a certain person who thinks that he always has to wait for me and then complains about it, and people who say they don't like to do the dishes."

Take good care of your blue jeans and shirts, Julie. I hope you can get away with wearing them in Boston. Good luck, and don't forget B.H.S.

The Halloween dance was a big success. The gym looked swell, the dance band was sweet and mellow, and best of all, everyone took part in the festivities. Let's hope we have another dance next year.

The Junior Class Play, Ghost Wanted, is tomorrow and Saturday night. It's going to be good. Bring your activity ticket and come prepared for an enjoyable evening.

Bye,
K.K.
