

STUDENTS HEAR ESKIMO WOMAN SPEAK

Last Wednesday afternoon a group of Miss Sheel's students attended a lecture by Anauta, a Baffin Islander, as guests of the Barrington Woman's Club.

During the lecture she wore the costume of her native Baffin Island. It consisted of furs, gayly decorated with beads and coins, and was made entirely by herself.

Baffin Island is a privately owned island and receives a trading ship only once a year. The ship bears guns and ammunition to the Islanders in exchange for their furs. The ship is not allowed to carry passengers.

Once upon a time, according to Anauta, in order to save a stranded couple, she and her husband volunteered to be taken to the English couple near Hudson Bay. Tragedy after tragedy struck the party until, by the time the ship returned to take the party back to Baffin Island, only Anauta and her four children were left alive. After almost unbelievable experiences Anauta and her four children took up residence in Indianapolis. Since Baffin Islanders do not keep track of time, Anauta does not know how long she has lived in Indianapolis, but she did say that by the time she moved all her children had been married.

SQUARE DANCERS TO BE REPRESENTED IN "STUDENT LIFE"

Sunday, November 14, photographs of the exhibition square dance group were taken. These pictures are expected to appear in the February issue of Student Life, which is the official organ of the National Association of Secondary Principals, Student Councils, and Honor Societies.

The United Nations Folk Festival will be reproduced before the National Association of Secondary Principals next spring at the Congress Hotel in Chicago.

Members of the exhibition square dance group are Ed Baumann, Forrest Berghorn, Richard Biek, John Calkins, Leon Hick, Frank Kelsey, Richard Kreeger, Dick Puffer, Dick Rippy, Kenneth Shuett, Gale Whitmer, Jack Wichman, Mary Ann Hartwig, Lynette

Herbert, Lois Heidke, Marlene Johnson, Joanne Meenan, Audrey Meyer, Jean Noyes, Peggy Reeve, Alice Tilly, Nancy Weber, Audrey Witte.

After answering questions for quite a long time she finished her lecture by reciting the Twenty-Third Psalm in her native language.

As soon as the lecture was completed, the students went back to the high school in time to attend seventh period classes with the thought of this charming little speaker very plainly embedded in their minds.

The Girls' Ensemble will sing at the Thanksgiving union service at the Methodist Church Thursday morning. Their numbers will be "Lord of Hosts," "Dutch Hymn of Thanksgiving," and "Come Ye Thankful People."

MASQUE AND WIG ATTENDS "OUR TOWN"

Last Wednesday twenty-three "Masque and Wig" members, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, and Mr. Fisher attended a performance of "Our Town" at DeKalb College.

Besides the fact that DeKalb is Mr. Johnson's alma mater, there were other personal interests in the production, since Louise Meyer and Elwood Hasemann, former members of the club, had parts. Louise played the part of Rebecca, a major role, and did a very fine job. Although Woody, a freshman, had only a small part, he, too, performed creditably.

The play itself was excellent, showing traces of superior directing and good interpretation, especially in the last act.

It was an instructive and interesting evening for the Barrington group.

BOTTOMLEY HOOCH SPEAKS

Once every year there comes a time when Mr. Turkey eyes the hatchet in the farmer's hand somewhat skeptically. One day out of three hundred and sixty-five has been designated as a day of thanks. How easy it is for most of us to be grateful on Thanksgiving, when we're seated around a turkey dinner and are enjoying a holiday from work or school! What a simple gesture it is to offer some sort of thanks when it is openly being done on a nation-wide scale!

Are our attitudes of gratefulness and humbleness cast off like an item of clothing the day after Thanksgiving? Are they that superficial? If so, there is no purpose in this event. The remainder of the year is far more important. It tests the sincerity of our thoughts on Thanksgiving. If our grateful and unselfish hearts survive unmarred the tribulations of the other three hundred and sixty-four days, then can we most ably offer our thanks on November 25.

A thing to be most thankful for on Thanksgiving, then, is gratitude itself. A goal which we should strive to attain is this humble attitude.

WORLD HISTORY CLASSES VISIT OUR TOWN

Last Monday the World History classes took a trip to Chicago. Their first stop was the Field Museum, where an excellent guide showed them through the Hall of Man. The statues by Malvina Hoffman were marvelous.

From there the group went to the University of Chicago, where they ate at Hutchinson Commons. After lunch they explored some of the university buildings. Then they were shown through the Oriental Museum on the campus. The classes were especially interested in the Egyptian and Assyrian art which was shown to them.

Although the students were very tired when they arrived at good old Barrington, they had had a very enjoyable time. In fact comments since their return indicate that it was one of the most successful trips the World History classes have ever taken.

BRONCHOS WIN BASKETBALL DEBUT, 43-25

Friday evening the Barrington Bronchos were victorious in their initial appearance of the 1948-1949 basketball season. The game was with Hebron; Barrington won 43 to 25.

The Little Giants, sparked by Paul Judson, jumped off to an early lead, the score at the end of the first quarter being 14 to 11 in their favor. Their task was lightened considerably by the fact that the Bronchos blew quite a few easy short shots.

The Bronchos held Hebron to four points in the second period and took over the lead by a 19 to 18 score. They never relinquished this lead; instead they increased it to a margin of six points and kept it for the rest of the game.

Considering the fact that this was the Bronchos' first game, they played well. Their plays did not work as well as they could have, but with a little more practice they will be put into shape. The material is there, and from all indications the Bronchos will duplicate their success in football this year by winning the 1948-49 basketball championship.

BRONCHOS OPEN CONFERENCE SEASON AT GRANT WEDNESDAY VIE WITH LAKE FOREST FRIDAY

The Bronchos and Ponies expect to start off on the right foot tonight at Grant by decisively defeating the Bulldogs. Grant gave the Bronchos a tough battle in the first contest last year; so an interesting game should take place.

This Friday evening Barrington and Lake Forest will meet at Barrington in what promises to be one of the most thrilling games of the season. No one can forget last year's district tournament at Wauconda in which the Bronchos edged Lake Forest in an exciting double overtime. This is one game no one should miss.

The Ponies will play, starting at 7:30 both nights.

PONIES LOSE FIRST TO HEBRON

The Ponies didn't look too polished in their first game. Poor ball-handling marred the performance. The Ponies played with a noticeable lack of spirit and at times looked as if they didn't realize that they were trailing.

It could be said that Hebron's Little Giants had considerably more accuracy, and sometimes made the Ponies appear asleep in defense.

Phil and Jim Judson of Hebron were high scorers with 11 points, and Wilbrandt followed with 10.

The scoring for Barrington was as follows: Andrae, 4; Pederson, 8; Beckhart, 4; Truax, 8; Schwemm, 4

ALL-CONFERENCE FOOTBALL

BRONCHOES PLACE NINE ON TWO SQUADS

The all-league football team was selected by the coaches of the Northwest Conference and G. A. McElroy, sports editor of Paddock Publications. The Bronchos placed six players on the first team and three on the second for a total of nine out of 22 positions. Bensenville had two men on each team, Palatine had one man on each team, Northbrook and Grant had one on the first squad and two on the second, and Antioch had one player on the second team.

John Hansen of Barrington and Yazel of Bensenville were the only unanimous choices.

ED BAUMANN RECEIVES HIGH PRAISE

Mr. McElroy in his column, "Mac Says," was of the opinion that an injustice was given Ed Baumann of the Bronchos. He asserted that he "thought Baumann was one of the better backs in this league and just as good as some of the Barrington boys who made the first team." The reason he offered for the oversight was, "Most coaches were reluctant to name too many Barrington boys." Mac added that "this is one of the injustices that all-star teams so often bring to light."

Mr. McElroy, needless to say, does not share his opinion alone, for many fans feel the same way about Ed.

An unfortunate and unavoidable error was made in last week's Broncho. According to the information given in the paper, eight Broncho players made the all-conference teams. It was not known in Barrington until after the paper was published that Steve Roake had been chosen as second team end. He is one of the few sophomores ever to win all-league rating.

"CORRAL" NEWS

Several amusing incidents occurred last week while the group pictures for the Corral were being taken. Virginia Black needed a white blouse for one of the pictures; so Nancy Leonard hurriedly took hers off behind the stage curtain. Grabbing the blouse, Miss Baer ran over to Virginia and put it on over her dress.

Chuck Kranz evidently decided that he wasn't going to dress up, pictures or no pictures. However, he was sent home to put on a tie and came back with the proper coat and tie, but still wearing jeans!

Bri Anderson took a picture of some sophomore girls very industriously combing their hair and putting on lipstick. It should make an interesting picture for the snapshot section of the Corral.

The Corral staff has been looking over snapshots taken by the members. Some of them are really good, an indication that there should be a good snapshot section this year.

R.T.D.C. AND D.S.

Last week's discussion was on "Aid to China." Guy Armanetti, the newly elected moderator, opened the discussion with the question, "What do you think about aid to China and what are some of your reasons for and against it?" This was answered by a number of pros and cons.

Reasons favoring aid, although varied in detail, were to the effect that if aid were given to China, it would benefit the United States as well as all Asia in halting the Communist advance. In other words, if China falls, it will not be long before the communists will control the East.

The main reason against the plan for further aid was the outstanding fact that there is already a large enough European drain on our supplies. If anything else were added, the U. S. would be weakened considerably. Then, too, Chiang's use of aid extended up to this time was sharply criticized.

Other facts concerning type of control, communistic control in China, what plan would suit the country best, and conditions in China were discussed.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT PERFORMS IN ASSEMBLY

The assembly last Thursday was given by the vocal and instrumental music department.

To open the program the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Fred, played two selections, "Rosamunde Overture" and "The Three Dances." Both selections were well performed.

Miss Baer deserves credit for her work with the a cappella choir. The several numbers they presented were very effective.

This year the Boys' Ensemble seems to have something which has been lacking before. The boys act as if they enjoy their singing. The easy, friendly manner in which they perform helps to put over their songs. Keep up the fine work, boys!

LATIN CLUB

Latin Club began with a short business meeting Friday. The members discussed the play that the Virgil class is to present January 13 in assembly. Since this play will represent the club, it had to be consulted on matters of costumes and other expenditures.

Then the secretary, Betty Ethers, reported that only four members had paid their dues. Each member was requested to pay as soon as possible.

Entertainment consisted of acting out various incidents in Caesar's life. Some of the members had a hilarious time displaying their acting talent.

Kit Lasch gave a summary of "Medea" at the close of the meeting. It was very interesting and well prepared.

KAROUSING KID

Greetings:

No, this isn't your local draft board—just K. K. with more tidings of people here and there in the halls of B. H. S.

"B" Club initiation last week was an initiation to end all initiation. Gene Thomas had a wired suitcase that kept getting in the lowly initiate's way. John Calkins now knows what it feels like to open his mouth and have someone dump a raw egg down his throat. Everyone came out of it okay, but some of the boys admit that they felt better at the beginning of the evening than at the end.

Some Masque and Wiggers went to the college at DeKalb last Wednesday night to see the play, "Our Town." Two alumni from B. H. S., Louise Meyer and Woody Hasemann, had parts in it. When Woody made his appearance, whispers of "There's Woody" circulated fast and furiously among the gang. Yours truly saw Woody this last week end, and he had only one thing to say: "I heard you, and did it ever make me feel funny."

People are funny—and this proves it! Alice Klickner, Bumpy Burke, and Ruth Blanke felt like stirring up some fun. They decided to pretend that they had to sing for certain people because they were being initiated into a club. They wound up in the deserted Jewel Tea building singing for some executives. See what I mean?

Go easy on that turkey, mashed potatoes smothered in gravy, cranberry sauce, and pumpkin pie tomorrow. After all, we have a four-day vacation, and I'm sure no one wants to be sick.

Has anyone realized that the Christmas dance is only three weeks from Saturday? It doesn't seem possible, but it is—so you boys had better decide what gal you'd like to take and ask her soon. We don't want any sad people come December 18.

Well, guess I'd better be "shovelin' off."

K. K.

On a crowded city street recently a policeman wheeling an abandoned baby in its carriage toward the police station was startled to hear a small boy call out, "Hey, what's the kid done?"

PERSONALITIES OF THE WEEK

Brown-haired, hazel-eyed Alice Behrens was born on January 29, 1931. Her ambition in life is to be a secretary. As hobbies she has knitting, playing the string bass, and both playing and watching baseball and basketball games.

As you all know, Alice plays the string bass in orchestra. Besides this, she has participated in G. A. A., and was a member of the chorus in "The Pirates of Penzance."

One of her lovely memories is a very interesting trip to Florida, where she saw the Bok Tower. Though she missed the concert, the gardens themselves were beautiful enough to warrant the trip. In addition, she gathered shells along the coast and saw the Ringling Brothers Circus in winter quarters at Sarasota, Florida.

Alice's advice is not to get your schedule of classes as confused as hers is.

Donald Miller describes himself as "tall, dark, and stupid," but we all can testify that such a fine musician simply couldn't be stupid. And even if it were not for that, we could still be sure he was just being modest from the fact that his name appeared among the list of honor roll students. He was born July 22, 1931.

His hobbies are crossword puzzles (Don, can you give me a two letter word for a South-African Zula breakfast food?) and playing his "fluzy" clarinet. This last hobby leads us to Don's real interest in life—music. He plays the organ, piano, and clarinet. In fact, he has been playing the piano since he was seven years old and says he is still not tired of it. He started playing the organ about two years ago and states that he finds it very fascinating. "But," he says, "I feel that there is more opportunity for originality in color and expression with the piano." His favorite composers are Brahms and Debussy. He plans to go on with music in college and says he will probably teach instrumental music in some high school.

Don's activities are so numerous that he is afraid he has forgotten some of them. Those he remembered are Masque and Wig, National Thespian Society, Band, Orchestra, Latin Club, a cappella, Boys' Ensemble, Boys' Quartette, "The Pirates of Penzance," and the Junior Class Play.

As a parting word from him, we have his advice: "Never be a senior!"
