

FOLK FESTIVAL TO BE PRESENTED FEBRUARY 19

ELEVEN GROUPS TO PERFORM

Plans are well under way for the fourth annual United Nations Folk Festival to be given in the high school auditorium, February 19, under the supervision of Truman L. Chiles.

Everyone who saw the Festival last year will remember the spectacular dances presented then. Those groups that will be presented again this year are the Lithuanian, under the direction of V. F. Beliajus; the Japanese, with Miss Haruko and Miss Tomeko Ulyeda as directors; Margaret Baikie Mac Donald and her Scottish Highland Dancers; the Palestinian group, under the direction of V. F. Beliajus; Arthur S. Logan directing the Good Will Spiritual Choir; the Czechoslovakian, under the direction of Jarka Bures; and the American, presented by the Barrington High School Square Dance Club, under the direction of Mr. Chiles.

New groups this year are the Polish Nazur Dancers from Milwaukee, who are nationally famous for the native dances of Poland; John Petri's Russian Dancers; the Carmensita Romero Dancers, a Negro group which specializes in primitive numbers; and the Swedish Folkdansaget group, which will appear in authentic (Continued on page 5, col. 2)

NANCY LEONARD WINS D.A.R. AWARD

By a vote of the senior class Nancy Leonard won the D. A. R. award. Patriotism, dependability, service, and leadership were all points that were considered in voting. The award will be presented in the spring on Awards Day.

Nancy was honored in her junior year by being elected to Girls State, and again last fall when she was elected by the student body to reign as Homecoming Queen.

The winner of the D. A. R. award last year was Dorothy Buesching. She, too, attended Girls State in her junior year.

P. M. MIXER SET FOR FEBRUARY 3

SPONSORED BY THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The date for the P. M. Mixer is Thursday afternoon, February 3. The time is from 2:30 to 3:40 p.m. This is the time to forget about your studies and plan to have an enjoyable afternoon.

Music will be furnished by the dance band, the "Star Dusters," who established an excellent reputation for themselves at the Christmas dance.

In addition to dancing there will be ping pong, checkers, chess, and cards. The Chef Club will be in charge of the making and serving of refreshments.

Don't forget; you have a date for Thursday, February 3.

Have YOU contributed to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis?

Contributions may be made in classrooms until February 1. It's a good cause.

CAST CHOSEN FOR SENIOR PLAY

Tryouts for the senior play were held last Wednesday and Thursday. After much juggling of parts Mr. Johnson has decided on the following tentative cast:

- Avery....Marilyn Patterson
- Telson.....Don Miller
- Louise.....Betty Piltz
- William.....Pat Carr
- Anne.....Sue Shepard
- Caroline...Barbara Schauble
- Victoria.....Janet Volz
- Mr. Chase.....Bill Anderes
- Mr. Neff.....Giles Mellon
- Rip.....Richard Biek
- Dr. Sully.....Dick Puffer
- Lambert....Glenn Wolthausen

The cast will rehearse each evening. Any senior or underclassman who wishes to work on a committee should see Mr. Johnson at once.

LASCH NEW "BRONCHO" EDITOR

Because of a heavy scholastic burden and participation in three major sports, Jim Frey has decided to resign his position as editor of the Broncho. He will retain, however, an assistant editorship and will handle the sports division of the paper.

The editorship for the second semester will be held by Kit Lasch, who has ambitions in the field of journalism. He has been a member of the Broncho staff since his sophomore year and was assistant editor of the Echo when he was in junior high school. In addition, Kit was editor of the sophomore magazine, The Maverick, last year.

REPRESENTATIVE FROM BROWN UNIVERSITY VISITS SCHOOL

Although College Day was held before the Christmas holidays, Mr. Walker, Director of Admissions for Brown University, spoke to a group of seniors Thursday, January 13.

Brown, a liberal arts college dating back to colonial days, is a men's college with which the women's college of Pembroke is affiliated. Although the two schools have separate campuses, they border each other, and several classes are mixed.

The university sits on a high hill overlooking the main part of Providence, Rhode Island. Mr. Walker showed slides of the campus, the antique New England houses surrounding Brown, interesting points in Providence, and the college boat house on Delaware River.

Perhaps no one of our senior class will attend Brown or Pembroke, but all the seniors who talked to Mr. Walker seemed to agree that the two were excellent schools.

The interview helped clarify for some students the requirements of the Eastern colleges in general. The fact that Brown sent Mr. Walker to a school from where no student has ever come infers that the standards of Barrington are considered to be high.

THE "CORRAL" IS ON SALE.

The Corral staff is hard at work on a better yearbook than ever before. Four more snapshot pages are being added. This year's Corral also has a padded cover with a sewed binding. All this can be had for just $2.50.

To make the yearbook a really good one, the Corral staff needs the cooperation of everyone. Anyone who has taken any snapshots and has the negatives, be sure to bring them in.

BRONCHOS EARN MOST EXCITING VICTORY OF THE SEASON

BEAT ANTIOCH, 49-48

"Superb!" "Brilliant!" "Never saw anything like it." Those were some of the comments of Barrington fans that echoed through the Antioch gym when the Bronchos came from behind to win as thrilling a basketball game as could ever be witnessed anywhere.

The first quarter saw Antioch jumping to a 9-4 lead. By halftime any hope of victory seemed remote, for the Antioch team had increased the lead to a 27-14 score. However, in the third period the Bronchos began to spark and put on a determined attack. At the beginning of the last quarter the score stood 40-30 in Antioch's favor, still a comfortable lead as far as Antioch was concerned. Amazingly enough, at one time in the third period Barrington trailed by 22 points.

The Bronchos started off with a bang when the buzzer rang, starting the final eight minutes. They then had only a ten point deficit to make up and knew that victory was still possible. In short, the Bronchos, led by John Hansen and Jim Frey, caught up to the Sequoits and then pulled ahead to win by one point.

This game shows that the Bronchos have the will to win and that they can go far in the tournament this year. Also this victory is typical of what can be done if the fans support the team. Let's get behind the team for the games ahead, so they can show their opponents that the Bronchos can really play basketball.

BRONCS WHIP NORTHBROOK

GAIN UNDISPUTED LEAD

As a result of Barrington's victory over Northbrook, 60-39, and Ela's surprising 48-46 defeat of Bensenville, the Bronchos have first place in the Northwest Conference all to themselves.

Friday night's game was especially significant in view of the fact that in a previous game with Northbrook the Bronchos had to come from behind to win the game. Employment of the fast break was decisive in the victory.

John Hansen and Armanetti led scoring for Barrington, with eleven points each. Rodney was high scorer for Northbrook with eight points. Two technicals were assessed each team.

BRONCHOS MEET WAUCONDA, AUSTIN OF CHICAGO IN COMING GAMES

Two home games are scheduled for this week end--Wauconda on Friday night and Austin of Chicago Saturday evening.

The Austin game is of particular interest, since it will be the first time that a Chicago team has played on the Barrington floor. Austin, reputedly, has a rather mediocre team, and if this is true, chances for a Barrington victory are good.

LAKE FOREST DEFEATS PONIES IN SECOND HALF

Saturday night the Barrington Ponies dropped another ball game, this one to Lake Forest, 22-15. The frosh-sophs have now won five while losing eleven.

In a slow-moving first half the Ponies managed to match their opponents' scoring pace, but they were unable to find the basket in the final half. Lake Forest rang the hoop with four goals and two free throws in the second half, while the Ponies could score only once from the field and twice from the free-throw line.

Scoring for Barrington: Paulson, 2; Pederson, 4; Heckmiller, 3; Beckhart, 3; Popp, 3.

FACULTY VS. VARSITY FRIDAY

There will be a game between the third string varsity and the faculty between halves of the game Friday night.

BRONCHOS TRAMPLE SCOUTS, 49-22

The Barrington Bronchos romped over the Lake Forest Scouts last Saturday, 49-22, to add another win to their victory column. The Bronchos started out "red hot" in the first half and piled up a 30-10 lead. Lake Forest, although never in the game, held down the Bronchos in the third quarter and out-scored them, 6-3. The Broncs regained their early pace again in the last quarter and brought the score up to 49-22.

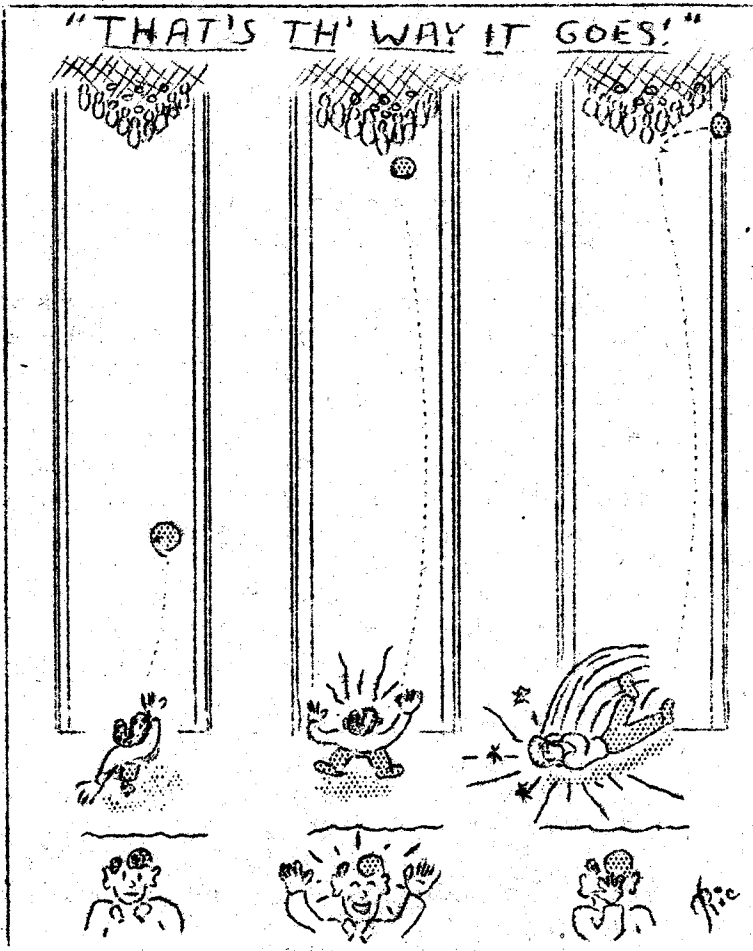

Jim Frey led the Barrington attack with 11 points, while Phillips got six, high for his team.

FROSH-SOPHS LOSE TO ANTIOCH

The Antioch frosh-soph team scored their second victory over the Ponies on January 14.

Again the Ponies followed their trend of playing a half-hearted game with very little spirit. Nothing could be said of importance concerning this game which would not be repeating what has been said of other Pony losses.

SUE CHAPPEL WINS ESSAY AWARD

One of B. H. S.'s prominent sophomores, Sue Chappel, has received a $25 security bond for the 150 word essay that won third place in the "Our Landmarks" essay contest sponsored by the Public Service Company last October.

An article about the contest was sent to the pastor of the Barrington Center Church, where Sue attends, and there also was information about it in the Public Service bulletin. Sue's pastor took her and several others to the Historical Society in Chicago, so that they could observe some paintings on historic landmarks. John Dukes McKee, a Chicago artist, had painted in water color fifty pictures of historical spots in northern Illinois; and it was the contestant's job to pick out the painting he enjoyed most and write an essay about it.

Sue noticed that her own church had been painted, and because she realized its historical value and knew many interesting facts about it, she chose it as the subject of her essay.

CHEF CLUB HAS DINNER

On the evening of Thursday, January 13, the Chef Club prepared and ate their second Chef Club dinner of this school year. The dinner was prepared around a ham, with mashed potatoes, creamed corn, and biscuits. A deliciously appetizing tossed salad preceded the ham, and the dinner was brought to a close with ice cream and cake.

The entire affair was under the thumb of the president, Gale Whitmer, and was supervised by Miss Gorman. The boys' behavior prior to the cleaning up was one of benevolence; during the cleaning up, one of puerile fun. Miss Gorman at one stage of the imbroglio was forced to retreat from the kitchen; but with the capture of the leader of the derelicts, Gale was able to bring back order to the affair and get the kitchen cleaned up in grand fashion.

In the over-all picture the affair was

JUNIOR PROM COMMITTEES ARE FORMED

Plans for the Barrington Junior-Senior Prom May 14 are beginning to evolve. George Fanelli and his orchestra were chosen by the orchestra committee to play for the occasion. His orchestra has five pieces, and his music is supposed to be very similar to Jimmy Bladets.

Even though May 14 seems a long way off, real work must begin shortly for the junior class. Already those who have wished to do so have had their chance to sign up for the committees.

The prom committees are as follows:

Orchestra--Roger Shales, John Beutel, Joy Paulson, and Donna Black.

Decorating--Ellen Kleinsmith, Jack Wichman, Judy Disney, Martha Fontaine, Doris Poetsch, John Beutel, Glenn Brandt, Lois Heidke, Marianne Hartwig, Donna Duerwachter, Pat Wayne, Betty Eppers, Donna Black, John Calkins, David Deyoe, Sarah Mee, Belle Gorman, and Joy Paulson.

Food--Judy Disney, John Beutel, Guy Armanetti, Vivian Jutzi, Shirley Kampert, and Mary Buschek.

Invitation and Program--Pat Wayne, Dick Aspinwall, Betty Eppers, Donna Black, and Sarah Mee.

Coketail Party--Martha Fontaine, Gloria Klein, Doris Poetsch, and Zella Henning.

The food committee could use a few more people. If you haven't signed up for any committee and would be interested, please see Miss Wandke.

judged a success, but because of the chicanery of a few the dinner hit a few sour notes. This was later righted by the apology of those guilty, but plans for another dinner are delayed until the club can prove over a period of time that it can conduct itself in a responsible manner.

The Festival this year is expected to surpass those of the previous years. There will be a limited number of tickets. Don't risk disappointment. Get you ticket early.

PROMOTION?

Well, howdy, everyone! Have you heard what has happened to the G. A. A. members? If you haven't, just lend me one of your ears (you really don't need two of them), and don't breathe a word of what I'm about to tell you. Promise? O.K. THE GAA GAA GAIS HAVE BEEN PROMOTED TO PLAYING GIRLS' (uh!) BASKETBALL! Now you promised not to tell anyone; so you better keep your word.

If you would ask any vim, vigor, and vitality gal how she liked playing girls' basketball, it is certain she would go off on a tangent (thank you, Mr. T.L.C.) in "Why Can't We Play Boys' Basketball?"

Another thing one of these energetic females might reply with instead of answering your question is this: "I don't see why I had to have a foul on me last night. After all, all I did was run into her. My gosh, such crazy rules!" Maybe she was too energetic, hmmmnn?

The one person who would be most likely to say the above statement is none other than----the president of G.A.A. She goes by the initials of Marillyn Meyer. With her well-known guilty look after she has just "hipped" someone, which she is also famous for, what else can the "doity" blind ref do but call a foul?

Another individual, whose name just happens to be Joanne Hager, is recognized as the champion of close guarding. I don't know how she does it without acquiring one of those things called a foul.

Well, as the little baby said to its mother, "gooooo bye."

As ever,
Gloria Anne Applecoo

B.H.S. APPEARS IN "DRAMATICS"

The atomic program, one of the outstanding student-produced assemblies of last year, is still finding its way into print.

JUNE MORECRAFT WINS HANDICAP TOURNAMENT

The G. A. A. bowling handicap tournament began with a bang Thursday with about thirty-five girls participating in the fun. The contest was based on averages and two games were played. At the beginning of the handicap Marillyn Meyer had the highest average, 107; and tailing behind her were Marty Van Steenderen and June Morecraft with 101.

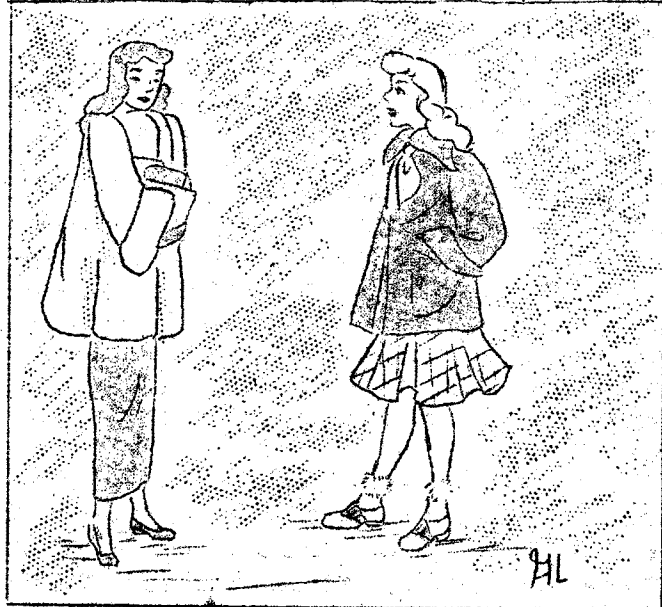

Some girls had physical handicaps. Aside from these everything was all right. At the conclusion of the tournament June was named winner, with 305 points to her credit. Right behind her was Marty with 304. It was a tough one to lose, Marty. June received her little pin with congratulations. Nice going, June.

BARRINGTON TO CONTINUE FRENCH SCHOOL SUPPORT

The Barrington Public School will continue to support a French school. A year ago two schools were being supported, but now one is on its feet and will not need assistance. Two hundred dollars was needed to sponsor one school.

A total of $258.91 was collected, $95.37 being contributed from high school and $56.21 from junior high. The grade school gave $107.33.

NEW LOOK — BIG STARE

R.T.D.C. AND D.S.

MONDAY GROUP

The meeting of January 14 was spent chiefly in preparation of the informal discussion with Arlington Heights. Should the United States prepare for peace or war?" was the chosen subject. Arlington will also pick a topic, and a choice will then be made.

Tentative topics for future discussions were suggested by club members.

The January 21 discussion was "Should the income tax be raised?" Most of the points brought up pertained to the excess profits tax and a higher rate of tax on the higher income brackets. The trend of thought seemed to be toward the fact that a tax increase will tend to combat inflation.

Excess profits was discussed from several angles. Facts were presented showing that for the past several years corporation profits have increased steadily, even though taxes have increased also. The same was true concerning personal earnings.

The meeting concluded with the consensus of opinion being that Mr. Truman's income tax proposal will be approved by Congress, although the manner in which it will be assessed and the amount is yet doubtful.

FRIDAY GROUP

The topic for Monday, January 17, was the question of establishing organizations such as the Tennessee Valley Authority. A similar project has been proposed for Missouri Valley, and there is also talk of extension of Washington's Grand Coulee region. Several views were expressed. Some of the group thought that such a socialistic project would be harmful to private enterprise. The general opinion, however, seemed to be in favor of the extension of government river-basin developments.

Monday, January 24, there was no discussion, because most of the club had gone to Chicago on a trip. The remainder of the membership merely exchanged views on several matters.

LATIN II CLASS
PRESENTS "JULIUS CAESAR"

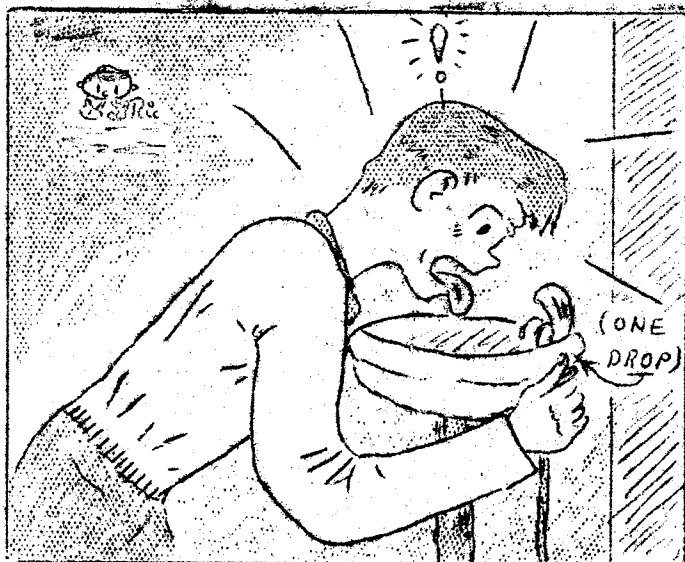

Mrs. Baker's second year Latin class performed a somewhat mutilated version of "Julius Caesar" in the assembly program two weeks ago. The play had been rewritten, but the continuity of the plot survived and there could be detected here and there a trace of Shakespeare. If laughter is a criterion, the play definitely won the favor of the audience.

The boys took all the girls' parts, and vice versa, an unorthodox device probably prompted by the fact that there seems to be a surplus of girls in the class and that this method brought additional laughter. Muriel Lindberg was Caesar; Nancy Weber, Brutus; and Carol McCoy, a punning Antony. Dick Huszagh and Mike Disney starred in the roles of Calpurnia and Portia, respectively.

The last two acts were mercifully omitted, the play ending with Mark Antony's funeral oration.

MASQUE AND WIG
REVISES CONSTITUTION

In the Wednesday meeting of the Masque and Wig the entire constitution was read. One important change was made. The requirements to join Masque and Wig are now more rigid. The prospective members for the organization will be on probation. (Cont. on page 8, col. 1)

PONIES DUMPED FOR 44-18 LOSS

Friday night the Ponies wound up on the short end of a 44-18 score. They were outclassed by a smooth, well-coordinated Northbrook team. To the spectators the Ponies played flat-footed ball. Pivoting was conspicuous by its absence. The frosh-sophs failed also to play as a unit. Poor passing and rushed shots also contributed to their downfall. Their shooting percentage was very poor.

The one main factor that can pronounce the doom for any team is the lack of team cooperation. It was apparent that each boy out there was playing as an individual rather than as a group working together for the same goal. This one thing alone can and did break up the team Friday night.

Bob Beckhart, sinking 3 goals and 1 free throw, led Barrington with 7 points; Pederson was a close second with 6. Rodney of Northbrook led his team with a high of 17 points, Gusker following with 9.

ZOO LEAGUE

In the first Zoo League game January 15 Thomas's team took the measure of Aspinwall's team in a hard fought contest by a score of 41-39. Thomas scored 18 in the game, and Puffer rang the bucket for 12 in the first half before fouling out for the winners. Andrae scored 13 for the losers.

The second game found Biek trouncing Berghorn by a 31-21 score. Both teams played with four men, with McNichols scoring 12 points for the losers and Popp scoring 14 for the victors.

The third game turned out to be a victory for Kreeger over Anderson by a 29-27 score. The outcome of the game was uncertain until the end of the contest. Droz scored 11 points for Kreeger, while Paul Biek scored 10 for Anderson.

January 22 Berghorn's team beat Anderson's, 37-34, in the opener of a series of very close games. Trankle scored 16 points for the winners, while Paul Biek scored 15 for the losers.

The second contest, played between the only undefeated teams in the league, was won by Thomas. Kreeger scored 6 for his team, and Thomas and Puffer each scored 9 for Thomas's team.

Biek and Aspinwall played a very close overtime game which ended in a 32-28 victory for Aspinwall. Aspinwall outscored Biek 6-2 in the overtime. Bri Anderson scored 14 for Biek, and Hartwig and Foreman scored 10 apiece for the winners.

LATIN CLUB

At the meeting of the Latin Club on January 14, plans were discussed for the concession on the following Friday. Members volunteered their services on various committees.

Mrs. Baker suggested that during Latin Week, April 23-30, the members of Latin Club take a trip to some school in Chicago to see what type of assembly they have to offer.

After the business of the meeting was taken care of, the rest of the time was devoted to playing a game of "Latin Truth or Consequences." Since none of the "victims" answered the questions correctly, they had to pay the consequences.

Tom Stone, with help from certain members of the club, proposed to Mrs. Baker very romantically in fifty words.

FRESHMAN SPEECH CLUB

During the activity period last week, the Freshman Speech Club reviewed the things they had done throughout the first semester. Varied discussion was made about the assembly program which the club had given the preceding week.

Plans were made concerning programs for the next semester. The club was divided into groups. Next week, group one will prepare a program for the meeting.

PERSONALITIES OF THE WEEK

First on the list for this week comes Lynette Jean Herbert. This southern belle was born March 5, 1931, at Louisville, Kentucky. She has blonde hair, blue eyes, and is five feet six and one-half inches tall.

Her activities have included G.A.A., F.H.A., Masque and Wig, Square Dance Club and the exhibition group, and Knitting Club. As hobbies she has riding, swimming, and art. Lynette is especially interested in textile design and painting, and plans to go on with this fascinating work.

Her pet peeve is people who speak to her one day and ignore her another. Her ideal man must be taller than she, have a nice sense of humor, and should be dark and handsome. (Hey, Lynette! Does he have a brother?)

Lynette had to think a long time to come up with an unusual incident—but here it is: When she was one, her two year old sister and she were left alone in the kitchen. They piled the toy furniture up until they could reach the top of the refrigerator, where reposed two dozen eggs. Bobby climbed up and proceeded to drop all two dozen eggs, one at a time, on her sister's head. All twenty-four were direct hits.

Charles Richard Kreeger (you know him as Dick) was born May 31, 1931. He has brown hair and brown eyes, and is five feet eleven inches tall.

As you know, he transferred this year from Dundee, where he played basketball and baseball and belonged to the mixed chorus, the junior class play cast for "Tangled Yarn," the student council, and the dramatics club. Since moving here, he has become an active member of Square Dance Club and Broncho staff.

His main hobby is baseball, also his favorite sport. He played in the outfield and pitched for Dundee. Last year he had the thrilling experience of winning the game against Elgin by hitting a home-run with two men on base.

Dick plans to go to the University of Michigan, where he will study mechanical engineering, but his real goal is major (Cont. on page 10, col. 2)

KAROUSING KID

Whew! Now that exams are over, we can settle down to a normal life once more. We're lucky to have all our exams over with, but, yep, report cards come out Monday. Cheer up, gang; it's not really so bad--I keep tellin' myself.

Gene Thomas and Jessie Witchie tried out the skin resistance meter that is in the science room. There are various ways of testing your resistance to things. I'll stop right here; to find out how it works ask Jessie or Gene.

Giles Mellon pulled a boner one day last week. He must have still been asleep when he was dressing for school, because he put on one brown shoe and one black one. Giles didn't realize it until some kind person told him later in the morning. That's okay, Giles. Most of us are half asleep when we get up too.

Now that the senior class play has been chosen, rehearsals are already under way. We've heard a lot about the play, "Double Door," and it sounds very good. With a well-chosen cast we can't go wrong. Good luck to all!

Here's a suggestion for anyone who's feeling sad and blue. Just ask Deane Paulson to tell you a joke; the guy's another Jimmy Durante--he's "got a million of them."

I'm sure we all feel the same when it comes to our basketball team. They're just tops! The number one spot in the conference is all ours. Let's hope that's just where we'll remain for the rest of the season.

Speaking of basketball, Forrest Berg-horn was a little ahead of the times at the Antioch game. He started to get dressed for the frosh-soph game by mistake. Hey, Bergie, you were just supposed to hang up your coat. That's all!

Sunday night at the Methodist Youth Fellowship meeting Chief Baade and Mayor Hatje spoke to the group on juvenile delinquency. The group got to talking about Halloween and pinning horns. After Dinnie Anderson had asked a few questions, Chief Baade said to him, "I suppose you were one of the boys pinning horns." Dinnie quickly replied, "Oh, no, that was my brother!" That's brotherly love for you.

Wear it sideways, and it looks like a French painter; wear it up, and it resembles a taxi driver; tilt it down at a certain angle, and it looks like an ex-convict. Yes, that's the "B" Club's newest--the Hood (short for Hoodlum) Hat. This maroon cap with the white "B" in front made its appearance at B.H.S. last week, and it's here to stay. It's plain to be seen that girls aren't the only ones that have fads. The hats look okay, boys.

Au revoir

league baseball. Good luck, Dick!

His ideal woman is five feet four inches tall, has brown hair and brown eyes, is very cute, and has a nice personality. The line forms to the right, boys.

His advice is, "Stay home nights and study." He also says that is a case of "Don't do as the doctor does. Do as the doctor says."

FROM AN M.I.T. PAPER

"Watt-hour you doing there?"

"Eating currents," the apprentice said, "anode you'd catch me at it."

"Wire you insulate this morning?" asked the boss.

"Leyden bed. Wouldn't that jar you?"

"Can't your relay-shunts get you up?"

"Amperently not."

"Fuse going to do that every day you can go ohm," said the boss, and the circuit was broken right there.
