

ORCHESTRA TO PARTICIPATE IN ELGIN CONTEST

SOLOISTS COMPETE IN INDIVIDUAL COMPETITION

Saturday, April 9, the Barrington High School Orchestra will take part in the annual district contest at Elgin. The orchestra will compete with McHenry for the right to represent this part of the state at Charleston.

The contest will be held Saturday morning, and will be open to the public. Bands, choruses, and orchestras will perform. Barrington's program will include the first movement from Mozart's G Minor Symphony, the last section of George Frederick McKay's Port Royal Suite, which is a string number, and "Liebesfreud," by Fritz Kreisler.

March 26 three Barrington soloists performed at Elgin. Barbara Schauble and Carol McCoy competed in the Class C division and won second and third places, respectively, in piano and cello.

Leon Hick was heard in the Class AA group, and received second place. Leon chose to compete against schools with over one thousand students enrolled. This naturally gave him much stronger competition. Only two contestants are permitted a rating in the first division. Leon was the only other contestant to rate second division. The other competitors placed in third division.

HONOR ROLL LISTS SIXTY STUDENTS

Sixty students were on the honor roll for the third quarter, a drop of two from the list at the end of the second semester. This remains the second highest total of the year, and the people who have maintained these grades deserve high praise.

ASSEMBLY ON WILDLIFE TO BE PRESENTED TOMORROW

At 11 A.M. Friday the junior high and the senior high school will enjoy some spectacular motion pictures of American birds and animals in natural color taken by Olin Sewall Pittingill, Jr. Dr. Pittingill has traveled 20,000 miles in four years and exposed six miles of film. In this exciting reel you may expect to see the weird courtship dances of the prairie chicken, the unbelievable aquatic displays of the Western Grebe, wary wild turkeys at home in the pines of Georgia, the problems of the mother possum with her nine youngsters, and many other dramatic studies of American wildlife in action.

PEORIA CHOIR DISTINGUISHES ITSELF IN PROGRAM

The a cappella choir of Peoria gave one of the year's outstanding assemblies last Thursday. The chorus was one of the most talented groups to appear on this stage, and part of the credit for this is due to Miss Katherine Baer, who left Manual Training High School to teach here. The present director, Miss Ginevra Chivington, is a musician of great talent.

A group known as the Stephen Foster Singers opened the program with seven songs by Stephen Foster, one of which was accompanied by a violin obligato. These girls displayed not only complete mastery of the voice, but considerable stage presence besides.

Two soloists, Patsy Waltman, pianist, and Robert Owen, baritone, then performed. The pianist, who is a junior, seemed completely at home at the keyboard. Mr. Owen at times seemed to be incapable of the sonority and breadth which "Deep River" and his encore, "On the Road to Mandalay," demanded, but he was possessed of a good voice. Don Miller accompanied.

The a cappella choir divided its program into two groups: one, sacred; the other, secular. The religious songs were more impressive and seemed to be the medium in which the choir best worked. The dazzling "Haspodi Pomilui" was delivered flawlessly, and "Tenebrae Factae Sunt" and "Almighty God of Our Fathers" were proof of the ability of the singers. The non-religious songs were "Danish Dance Song," "Windy Weather," "Be Still as You Are Beautiful," and "I Stood by the River Jordan."

Finally, the Peoria and Barrington choirs combined to sing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Russian Picnic." The last number was performed twice in response to applause for an encore.

BRONCHOS TO PLAY DUNDEE

The 1949 edition of the Barrington baseball team will be in action for the first time today.

The opening game will be with Dundee's Cardinals. This should be quite a game, as Dundee will have Jim Schuldt on the mound. The Bronchos will counter with Jim McNichols. Both will be "out for blood."

The probable starting lineup:

Dundee	Barrington
Jones cf	Kreeger lf
Ervin c	Jéppsen 2b
Turskey lf	Armanetti c
Schuldt p	G. Hansen 3b
Lindquist lb	McNichols p
Waschow ss	Berghorn lb
McMannaman rf	Kuffel rf
Brittain 2b	Thomas cf
Brünn 3b	Vanderveen ss

ASPINWALL WINS SECOND ROUND

March 30 Berghorn and Aspinwall tangled for the championship of the second round of Zoo League. Aspinwall won easily 46 to 27. Handicapped by lack of height, Berghorn's offense was seriously hampered. Andrae was high scorer for Aspinwall with 13 points, while Berghorn led the losers with 10.

Aspinwall will meet Thomas sometime in the near future for the Zoo League championship.

CINDER MEN TO MEET BISON

Next Tuesday, April 12, the Broncho track men will contend with Bensenville in a dual meet. It will take place at North Park at 4 p.m.

CINDER MEN TO MEET BISON (Cont. from col. 1) in several departments this year. At Libertyville last Tuesday in a practice meet, Baumann and Frey took first and second in the dashes; Baumann, first in the broad jump; and Tukey, second in the shot put. Pederson turned in a brilliant 5:07 mile, and Kranz tossed the discus 122', both first places.

DAMES' DANCE HUGE SUCCESS

Along with the clever decorations, our wonderful dance band, and many darling corsages, the Dames' Dance continued to be its annual success last Saturday night.

The decorations and the refreshments were made to represent summer and winter in a very clever manner, reminiscent of April Fools' Day.

Every boy had a corsage, and when the time came for judging, it was very difficult to pick three from an array of original ideas. Dotty Friedlander had a beautiful corsages made up of gum wrappers, and so won the "most artistic" prize. Nancy Leonard put Bill Kuffel behind the eight-ball and won the prize for being so original. Joy Mantor had the most amusing corsage. She made a coo-coo clock. Each prize winner won a corsage from Plagge's.

Since the dance band was furnishing music, the hours seemed to fly by. After the evening was over, everyone agreed that it had been a wonderful dance.

FRESHMAN SPEECH CLUB

If anyone had visited the meeting of the Freshman Speech Club yesterday, he might have thought it was a Latin class. A group of boys portrayed a typical Latin I class, after which some girls ended a skit with the famous saying, "Veni, vidi, vici. (I came, I saw, I conquered.)"

The program scheduled for the next meeting will be given by group two.

THIS WEEK'S BEST CHUCKLES

A boy and his mother stood looking at a dentist's showcase. "If I had to have false teeth, mother, I'd take that set," said the small boy, pointing.

"Hush, Willie," said his mother. Haven't I told you not to pick your teeth in public?

SOPHOMORES PRESENT CLASS PLAY

Wednesday the members of Masque and Wig were treated to a performance of the sophomore play, "Rich Man, Poor Man," under the direction of Kit Lasch.

The play, exceptionally good for a non-royalty one-act, was a well-written comedy. It could perhaps have been treated in such a way as to bring out more clearly the points of comedy, as all but the very obvious humor was not noticed by the audience. The play showed some technical faults, because of rehearsal difficulty, but this should be discounted by the fine prospects many of the actors presented. If this play is any criterion, we are in for some good class plays in the future.

In the cast Freddie Herriman was unusually good as the heroine, and Bill Smith, in spite of being ill, did well as her boy friend Peter. Mike Disney did a good job of acting as the humorous janitor. Georgia Kuffel (with her Brooklyn accent) and Alice Klickner (with her Italian dialect) both deserve special recognition. Others in the cast were Gwenn Bardwell, Bill Thomas, Jane Naylor, Janice Wood, and Dorothy Griffin.

ASPINWALL ELIMINATES KREEGER IN OVERTIME

Zoo League play-offs for the second round championship continued on March 29 as Aspinwall eeked out a 35 to 33 victory in an overtime. Wolthausen climaxed the winner's drive with a two-handed jump shot that was good, with four seconds in the overtime remaining. Kreeger led 11 to 10 at halftime and 22 to 14 at the end of the third quarter.

Andrae was high scorer for Aspinwall with 10 points, while Kreeger led the losers with 13. Berghorn and Aspinwall faced each other for the second round championship Wednesday night, when the victory fell to Aspinwall again. An account of this game appears on page 3.

CAST FOR "SLEEPING BEAUTY" NEARLY COMPLETED

PLAY TO BE STAGED IN BARRINGTON AND ELGIN

Rehearsals for Sleeping Beauty, a children's play, began Monday in preparation for performances in both Barrington and Elgin. The play will first be presented by the joint sponsorship of the P. T. A. and the Masque and Wig Friday afternoon, May 6, in the high school gym. It will be for the benefit of the grade school. A small admission will be charged. That evening Sleeping Beauty will again be given, this time for the high school students and adults.

The following afternoon, May 7, the entire production will be moved to Elgin's Playhouse on the Fox, where two afternoon performances will be given. An Elgin church group, with the aid of the girl and boy scout organizations, will sponsor these presentations. If the demand is strong enough, the play will be presented in Barrington that evening.

PURPOSE OF CHILDREN'S PLAY

The purpose of children's plays are manifold. They should, by providing a wide range of imaginative experiences, satisfy the needs of the growing personalities of children. They should provide opportunity for children to learn sympathetic understanding of people and should train the present generation to become intelligent, critical, and appreciative adult audiences in the future. Of course they must also provide pleasant and worthwhile entertainment.

JOY PAULSON GIVES READINGS FOR WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS

Wednesday, April 6, Joy Paulson will present two readings for a meeting of the Women's Relief Corps of Barrington. This group is having a reception for the State of Illinois Department President, Mrs. Helen Johnson. There will be a luncheon and entertainment, the latter furnished in part by Joy. She will read "Foolish Questions" and the Waltz," by Dorothy Parker.

FRIDAY RTDC AND D.S.

On the topic--"Should controversial issues be handled in school?"--almost everyone was of the same opinion. It was brought out that we gain a great deal of learning and understanding through the views of other people. However, the club realized that in discussing problems we are not solving them, but merely developing interest, widening our knowledge, and increasing our skill in critical thinking. Many also felt that open discussion gave valuable practice in oral expression. A prejudiced viewpoint may result through hearing only one side of questions discussed at home. Through proper discussion we get all sides of the picture.

Following were short discussions on the Atlantic Pact, Churchill's speech, and the movie, "The Search," in connection with the topic.

DENVER SQUARE DANCE CLUB PERFORMS IN ASSEMBLY

Last Monday the "Dudes and Dames," a group of square dancers from the University of Denver, gave a very entertaining program. This group makes up its own dances. Among their numbers were the Black Hawk Waltz, the Spanish Waltz, and several polkas. Between dances one of the girls did a very amusing skit on preparing for a date.

The "Dudes and Dames" will be in St. Louis at the National Folk Dance Festival with the Barrington group this week.

KAROUSING KID

How was the news Monday? Good, bad, or indifferent? Just remember, next time report cards come out we'll be out of school for good.

Gum wrappers, lemons, flowers, and hair curlers were some of the various items that made up the corsages for the Dames' Dance. From what I saw there certainly were some funny looking monstrosities pinned on the boys' lapels. Good food, music, decorations, and a merry crowd all helped to make the dance a success. Nice dance, sophomores and Masque and Wiggers.

"Uh, uh, Joan, don't touch that door!" Joan Gruenewald got her shower doors mixed up and almost walked into the boys' shower. Luckily John Beutel yelled at her in time--just before she opened the door. Thanks to John, Joan avoided an embarrassing situation.

Do any of you know what's worse than raining cats and dogs? (No, not horses.) Hailing street cars and busses!

Barb Morris is off to sunny California to live. Judging from our climate, that wasn't such a bad idea. Remember B.H.S. once in a while, Barb.

"How to Dig a Coal Mine in One Easy Lesson"--John Popp will give free lessons to those of you who want them.

Peggy Reeve just loves asparagus pie, especially when it's made from rhubarb. Personally, I don't care for it, but each to his own taste.

Ann Kilbride has received a fellowship to Smith College next year. The fellowship will include financial aid and assisting in the science laboratory. Ann is a senior at Drake University this year. She is a graduate of B.H.S. and a sister to Kathleen, who graduated from Barrington last spring. Aren't we proud of our alumni?

It runs in the family, doesn't it? Not only did Mary Jane Malone win the right to represent B.H.S. at Girls State. Her brother Dick attended Boys State, too.

Building trades boys were proud of the pat they received in the article devoted to them last week, but they resented a little the statement that they merely assisted with the pouring of the cement. They did the work, and a man assisted, according to Frank Kelsey. The man merely pulled a lever. O. K., boys?

PERSONALITIES OF THE WEEK

Dolores Walter, born on August 9, 1931, has brown hair and hazel eyes, and has finally reached the enormous height of 5' 5". She preferred not to go into that.

Dolly's main ambition is to be a secretary for some young, handsome, unmarried man. We all can dream! She plans to attend Gregg Business College, where she will take a stenographic course. Like other people, Dolly still hasn't managed to find her ideal man. After all this time, I believe that she is probably wondering whether there is such a thing. If you don't succeed at first, try try again.

To all girls just starting out in this wonderful life she has this to say: "Men are the root of all evil, but keep rootin'!"

Charles Albert Stoller (the bashful boy) was born on October 26, 1931. One thing he doesn't seem to be very bashful about is his description of himself. Albert, if you don't mind the name, has brown hair and blue eyes, weighs 180 lbs., and is 5' 10". Believe it or not, he was among the students who passed one of Miss Leonhard's spelling tests the first time.

Albert wishes to be Mr. Watson on Senior Government Day. We shall see how good he is at Mr. Watson's job in due time. His college plans are not too specific, but he will attend either Wisconsin or Purdue, where he will major in agriculture.

Concerning his ideal woman, he claims that he will know her when he sees her. "Remember that a dog is man's best friend." This is advice straight from Albert.

Kankakee is going to be Vivian Jutzi's future home in about two weeks. Vivian lived there once before, so it's not entirely new to her. Some junior girls chipped in and bought her an I.D. bracelet as a remembrance of B.H.S. How about another party, Vivian?
