

JUNIOR REHEARSALS IN ADVANCED STAGE

As the cast for "You Can't Take It with You" heads into the last two weeks of rehearsal, the signs and hopes of its being a success are increasing. A little explanation of the story and the characters makes it obvious that humor keeps an almost steady pace throughout the play.

The Sycamore family lives purely for the enjoyment of life and all the fun that can be obtained from it. It is not their belief to work hard at something which doesn't give them pleasure simply to earn money; for, after all, you can't take it with you. The household is extremely happy in its slightly eccentric life, a fact which is quickly discovered in the first act.

As everyone is deeply involved in his own queer pastimes and hobbies, Alice Sycamore, a perfectly normal daughter, enters into this state of confusion and announces that she is going to the ballet with Tony Kirby, her boss's son. While the family proceeds to make plans for the assumed wedding, a stranger comes to the door and finally manages to explain that he is Mr. Henderson from the Department of Internal Revenue. It seems that Alice's grandfather has never bothered to pay an income tax, because he doesn't believe in it. While in the midst of explaining the matter, Her-

HALLOWEEN DANCE MONDAY EVENING

Monday, October 31, the annual Halloween Dance is being held in the social hall at the new high school. The dance is sponsored by the Park Board. It is scheduled to begin at 8:30 P.M. and end at 11:30 P.M. The admission is a paltry 25¢, low enough to make a good attendance possible. Prizes will be awarded.

This is one dance at which stag attendance is encouraged. The Ben Fred Orchestra will supply the entrancing melodies for dancing. Refreshments will be served, at no additional cost.

The dance is only part

AN EDITORIAL

We appreciate the fact that we have a brand-new school building, and we wish to thank all those who had a hand in its completion, but we have a serious complaint to express. When is someone going to take steps toward repairing the driveway at the west end of the grounds? It is entirely composed of ruts, which make traveling over it undesirable, at the least. This might make an unfavorable impression on visitors as well as students.

Some have noted that the Hagen Street entrance is beginning to fall into a similar pattern.

"Part of human nature resents change, loves equilibrium, while another part welcomes novelty, loves the excitement of disequilibrium. There is no formula for the resolution of this tug-of-war, but it is obvious that absolute surrender to either of them invites disaster." --Dr. Brebner

RESPONSE TO "BRONCHO" CRITICISM

Last week we printed an article concerning a discussion about the BRONCHO which was held in a speech class section. This matter was one of interest to us, because the criticisms of the paper which appeared in the article are ones we frequently hear.

In reply to the charges and complaints directed in our direction, let it first be known that the primary purpose of the BRONCHO is not to entertain its readers, but to furnish newspaper experience for its staff members. The people who applied for positions on the paper did so presumably because they sought first hand experience in journalism. We are trying to oblige them.

The secondary function of the BRONCHO is to inform the student body and the faculty of events happening in the school. The paper is one of the best means of circulating information.

Still another reason for having a school newspaper is to comment on school matters and offer a cross section of opinion on various issues.

Finally, we do aim to please as many readers as possible, providing the readers' tastes and ours agree to some extent.

If one accepts the fact that the BRONCHO is above all a newspaper (and not a gossip magazine), our position will become clear. For instance, if we cover varsity athletic contests, we must also report on frosh-soph encounters. If we publish an item on Masque and Wig, we should justly not neglect Discussion Club. We cannot very well cut down on either activities or sports without eliminating them entirely, or, as someone suggested, condensing each into one column. But anyone could compile a simple column of facts and figures, so why have members of the BRONCHO do it? The coach or heads of the activities could write up the information in this case. The function of the paper would be nullified.

We welcome the school's criticism, however, and would like to hear from a wider body of our readers. It is our privilege, of course, to reply to such remarks, but (Cont. on page 3, col. 1)

WAUCONDA IS MASSACRED, 73 TO 0

Last Saturday was quite a day for the illustrious young men from Barrington. They trampled and completely outclassed the Wauconda Bulldogs, 73 to 0, the same score, as has been pointed out, by which the Chicago Bears once defeated the Washington Redskins a number of years ago.

This game was an important one, because it revealed for the first time the possibilities of the T-formation. The game at North Park Saturday may not have any far-reaching effects, but it did point up the folly of the conference ruling which requires a team to meet all other conference opposition in one season. Saturday the Bulldogs were obviously not in the same league with the rampaging Bronchos.

The Bronchos controlled the ball nearly all the time. On two occasions they scored twice in succession before Wauconda was able to run one play from scrimmage. Despite "Pop" Fry's frequent attempts to keep the score down through the use of sophomore substitutions, the points simply mounted higher and higher. It was one of the highest scores ever recorded in Northwest Conference play.

John Popp scored three touchdowns, Frey tallied two, Hansen two, Roake two on end-around plays, and Orsinski and Shuett one apiece. Heckmiller booted seven extra points.

PLAY BENSENVILLE SATURDAY

Saturday night the Bronchos oppose Bensenville on the latter's field. This latest chapter of the ancient and bitter rivalry figures to be only a trifle less exciting than previous encounters. The Bison defeated Grant last Saturday in an upset and put an end to rumors that Bensenville's golden era might be over.

It is also our duty to improve the paper. Lack of change is never a healthy condition.

The BRONCHO would welcome letters from any of its readers who find time to write. Letters to the editors should be given to Miss Leonhard or the editor.

CRYSTAL LAKE OVERPOWERS PONIES, 13-0

Saturday, preceding the varsity game, the Ponies were defeated by the Crystal Lake J.V.'s 13-0 for their second defeat of the season by a junior varsity team. However, the Ponies are undefeated in Frosh-Soph competition.

Crystal Lake kicked off, and the Ponies took possession of the ball on their own thirty yard line. Two plays later they fumbled, and the visitors recovered. In a series of running plays, Crystal Lake marched the remaining thirty yards to a touchdown.

The Ponies exhibited their only display of offensive ability at the beginning of the second quarter when a series of passes, with Hamilton on the throwing end and Whitmer, Weldon, and Heckmiller receiving, carried the ball to their opponents' twelve yard line. Here, however, Paulson's short pass was intercepted, and the threat was ended.

Once again Crystal Lake pounded relentlessly through the Barrington line and moved steadily down the field for its second touchdown. The conversion was good, and the score stood at 13-0 as the first half ended.

In the second half Crystal Lake continued to dominate the play and controlled the ball the greater part of the period, but they were unable to score, as were the Ponies.

The Ponies were playing without the services of two regular linemen, Derry Cochran and Bob Thomas, who were injured during a scrimmage with the varsity.

Saturday they will journey to Bensenville to play a night game starting at 6:15. Monday the freshmen will meet Palatine at North Park at 4 P. M.

Barrington lineup:

Ends----Whitmer, Weldon, Prochaska
Tackles--Harrison, Ruckholdt, Schauble,
Drake
Guards---Fredin, Naylor, Riley, Aspinwall
Center---Anderberg
Backs----Paulson, Hamilton, Bergen, Heck-miller, Berghorn, Iverson, Hart-wig, Buckley, Meyer

G A A INITIATION FRIDAY

Aside from our regular Tuesday meetings after school, we now meet on Thursday to clear up all of our business. The big thing now is the initiation of all new girls into G.A.A. As the boys do, we have given the initiates rules and regulations to follow. The first is probably the worst: no make-up or setting of hair. We hardly recognize their pale faces and straight hair. The second requirement is that the initiates carry an "A" sign with them at all times. By the way, the "A" stands for athletics! The third role is that they must carry a nail buffer to fix the actives' nails at any time. Friday they will be honored with the privilege of offering us candy. Friday night there is to be a formal initiation of our poor bedraggled girls. Let's hope they last long enough!

In the last business meeting we decided to have four teams for some softball on Tuesdays. We will try not to interfere with football practice, but some of us are real "sluggers."

Bye for now,
Gloria Ann Applecoo

I'M A SENIOR NOW

BY JOYCE ANDERSON

Up and down the halls I stride
Feeling like a king.
Nothing ever bothers me.
Who cares when school bells ring?

I glance at all the freshmen.
How small they seem to be!
I'm sure I never looked like that,
Oh, no, not big ole me.

The sophomores always laugh and scream.
How childishly they act!
They could at least pretend
They have a little tact.

The juniors all are in a daze;
They're upperclassmen now.
They think that if they nod their heads
Everyone should bow.

person receives a number of startling experiences and flees from the house in time to keep his sanity.

Tony proposes to Alice, but she is a little hesitant, because there is such a difference in their families. His has a high social standing and much wealth, while her family lives in a completely different world. Though it is Alice's fear that the two families can never get along, she invites the Kirbys to dinner.

On the evening before this important event, the family is in its usual peaceful uproar, when in walk the Kirbys in all splendor. They have several new and horrifying experiences and are about to escape the zany household when three men enter to arrest them all. It seems that in his enthusiasm for printing, Alice's brother-in-law has printed and distributed circulars such as "Dynamite the Capitol!" and "God is the State; the State is God!" When supplies of gunpowder are discovered in the basement (from another family hobby, that of producing fireworks), it is suspected that these are the explosives to be used in the plot. After having spent the night in jail they are all cleared, and Alice plans to leave town with the thought that she and Tony could never get along with the family contrasts.

With the size of the cast, it is impossible to include all characters in the story, but Grandpa saves the future happiness of all with his wise and timely advice.

But now that I'm a senior
I look down on all;
The years that went before me
I just can't quite recall.

Would you rise in the world? You must work while others amuse themselves. Are you desirous of a reputation for courage? You must risk your life. Would you be strong morally and physically? You must resist temptation. All this is paying in advance. Observe the other side of the picture: the bad things are paid for afterwards.

HOUSE UNDER CONSTRUCTION BY BUILDING TRADES CLASS

The Building Trades class is currently at work constructing a house located on North Hager Avenue. The class, taught by Mr. Bartz, numbers sixteen and has at present constructed half of the foundation, which is expected to be completed by November 1. The building is to be a five-room frame house, and it is planned to take two years in construction.

P.T.A. DISCUSSES THE USE OF THE FAMILY CAR

At a regular meeting of the P.T.A. one of the four topics discussed was "The Use of the Family Car." A panel consisting of Mrs. C. T. Mee, chairman, Mrs. Raymond Frey, Mrs. Quentin Paulson, Mrs. James Haffner, Mr. Harold Gaffney, Mr. William Herbster, Dorothy Friedlander, and Dick Aspinwall spoke briefly on the subject, which was then opened to discussion.

The aspect most discussed was that of education of teen-age drivers. It was generally agreed that attitude can form a major part of this, and that in most cases, parents have a large share in the development of attitudes.

The value of a driver training program was also discussed, as were the qualifications of a good driver. It was brought out that those trained in driver training classes suffer half as many accidents as those trained by other means.

TRANKLE ELECTED MASQUE AND WIG HEAD

Masque and Wig's meeting Wednesday was marked by dissent. Kit Lasch announced his resignation, on the grounds that he could not be both president of the club and editor of the BRONCHO at the same

R.T.D.C. AND D.S. DEBATES WHO SHOULD GO TO COLLEGE

"Are Too Many People Going to College?" was the topic for debate in Monday's meeting of the Discussion Club. The discussion was primarily based on two columns in the Daily News written by Sidney J. Harris. Mr. Harris advanced the opinion that colleges are and will be overcrowded by young people who are misfits in an institution of higher learning. He stated that too much stock is put in a college degree, that the reason many go on to school is that jobs for college graduates pay larger salaries.

Several debaters stated that, even though one would not put his education to practical use in his vocation, his life is enriched and more interesting. Most agreed with this theory, but added that, while these people are attending college causing overcrowded conditions, the students who are planning a professional career in which they will use their knowledge are suffering.

The discussion at this point wandered. The club then began to argue what benefits a liberal education has and to what degree specialization is necessary.

time, and thereafter there was considerable confusion.

Bill Trankle and Donna Black were promptly nominated to succeed the outgoing chairman. Then Trankle nominated Forrest Berghorn. It was pointed out that the last named was ineligible for the office under a ruling last year.

After this, Dick Weldon nominated Audrey Witte, but she requested that her name be withdrawn.

In the end the club was faced with the alternative of amending the constitutional regulation or casting out Berghorn's name. A very small portion of the club favored the first proposal, and the nominations were narrowed to two: Donna Black and Bill Trankle.

Trankle was elected on a show of hands.

KAROUSING KID

Wonderful! Stupendous!! Marvelous!!! What? That super-splendid 73-0 win over Wauconda Saturday. What else? I guess there's no need to say how proud we are of our glorious team. They're really a swell bunch. To say nothing of our great pep-squad. Better stop now before I run out of adjectives.

Those alert seniors are really on the ball. It seems a few of the fellas completely forgot about senior class pictures being taken. Guy Armanetti had to dash home and change his clothes. (Sure it was accidental?) It's a good thing that Glenn Brandt and Rudy Desort are the same size. Take note when the yearbook comes out. Odd, isn't it, that both have the same choice in clothes.

Onions for the week go to a certain Palatine individual who really tore down B.H.S. As Miss Sheel might say, "Does this shown scientific thinking?"

Orchids to the Illinois State Teachers Association for calling a meeting last week so we--hard workers that we are--could have a day off. Of course we deserved it. Don't you agree?

Leave it to the juniors to do the original. I guess they kind of messed up Peg Reeve's kitchen with their taffy. Can't you see the mess after they got through--grease and goo all over the place.

It seems Nancy Weber is in her second childhood--or is it still her first? Balloons must fascinate her. Those animal balloons are kinda cute, I must admit.

I have a suggestion to make to Britain. Hire Pat Wayne as Chancellor of the Exchequer. I'm sure she'd solve the dollar gap in no time, even though she might have to make a few miscalculations as she did on the magazine sale. Give Pat credit for trying to bring her homeroom out on top.

Let's continue to back OUR team. Bensenville may not be such a push over as some think. Let's get to that game Saturday whether you have to beg, borrow, or steal a ride.

WHOSE BIOG?

The gal I interviewed this week is known as "Vicki" among her relatives and a few of her friends here in school.

Vicki was born on August 8, 1932, in the Windy City, and describes herself as "Oh, about 5' 3" tall, chestnut brown hair, and hazel colored eyes." Another natural asset that she has is a peaches-and-cream complexion.

I'd like to see anyone top this unusual experience! When our little angel was three years old, she drank a glass of gasoline. She surely must have been thirsty.

She wants to make singing her career, although she is "very doubtful" that she will succeed.

Vicki's main pet peeve is "people who don't keep their word." She added very emphatically, "They have to be honest about a thing, or I don't like them."

Her ideal man, to the nth degree, is as follows: about 6' tall with a muscular build, has blue eyes, slicked-back blonde hair, two big dimples, a very contagious smile, and is a "screwball." Hymmn; sounds pretty good.

As you have probably guessed, Vicki is Gloria Klein, one more member of that wonderful senior class.

The next person on the agenda transferred from Dundee between his sophomore and junior years and used to be called "Tex" by some of his classmates.

It's really hard to guess where Tex was born, so I'll tell you: University Park, Texas. The blessed event was December 16, 1932.

Our Lone Star state,er measures 6' 2" and has blonde hair and blue eyes.

As would be expected, his ambition is to be a horse rancher. His hobbies are horses and rodeos, and his favorite sport is rodeos.

Tex's pet peeves are "sheep" and people who always bother other people.

His ideal woman is 5' 4" tall, has, and I quote, "pretty" blue eyes, blonde hair, and a nice disposition. He told me what class she is in, but I have been sworn to secrecy.

By now, you undoubtedly all know that "Tex" is Dick Weldon, a senior.
