S. C. Plans Elections

by Bruce Nygren

Student Council elections are coming up in May, and that means posters, campaign speeches, and the frantic morning rush for petition signatures.

"I didn't have a chance because I couldn't get my petition early enough," and "Sorry, but I've already signed two," have been frequently heard remarks in past years. Thanks to a major changeover in Student Council policy, there will be no needless eliminations of good potential representatives just because they couldn't get enough signatures for their petitions. Under the new constitution, there will be an unlimited number of petitions available, and students may sign as many as they wish.

Petitions now available in room 225 are due May 1. Another new feature, a primary election, will be held the following day. Then, nine days later, the remaining 60 candidates, 15 from each class, will be voted on by members of their class only. Students who register will be the only ones allowed to vote. The highest 10 from each class will be next year's representatives. The next three highest will be alternates.

Officers will be elected by the whole student body from the chosen representatives, and the alternates will fill the vacancies. Voters in both elections will do their voting in regulation voting booths.

Freshmen representatives will be elected by their eighth grade classes at about the same time as the regular high school elections.

BHS Musicians Rate 10 Superiors

"A lot of people ask me 'What comes after this?' There is nothing. It is held for excellence in music . . . We did this just for the experience," commented Mr. Henkel, vocal music teacher, of the State Music Contest held at Arlington Hts. High School April 14.

As in the District Contest, performers were rated superior, excellent, good, fair, and poor — the superior and excellent ratings received medals. Only those rating superior in the District Contest participated in the State Contest.

Soloists Jodi Johnson, Brian Ritzenthaler, and Lynn Shultz, singing the same songs they did in the District Contest, rated excellent. Robin Miller, also a soloist, rated good.

Girls' Select Ensemble entered as a girls' chorus. Required of them was a concert and sight-singing — that is, singing a piece of music without having seen it beforehand. They sang "The Nightingale" by Tchaikovsky, "In These Delightful Pleasant Groves" by Purcell, and "Give Me a Song To Sing" by Marjorie Eliot. They rated excellent.

Broncho photographer Bob Peache caught something more than just a boy playing the piano with this picture of Leo Michelotti, first place winner in Fine Arts competition in this year's Variety Show.

Spring Cruise Delights Audience

by Leslie Aranow

A tenderly moving "Clare de Lune," performed masterfully by Leo Michelotti and the hilarious antics of Bonnie Hutchings and "The Dames" in a turnabout rendition of "There is Nothing Like a Dame" contrasted brilliantly as the outstanding performances of the 1962 Variety Show.

The Student Council sponsored program presented April 13, featured a "Spring Cruise" theme which enabled Social Director Denny Dunn to introduce the acts in an exceptionally natural sequence.

Striking a high note in the evening and inviting audience participation was the Saurkraut's "Beerbarrel Polka," which received second place in the vaudeville division.

Second place in the fine arts category was awarded to Angie Figliola for her professional and stylish version of the popular favorite "Somebody Loves Me."

That "Itchy Twitchy Feeling" was quite contagious, sophomores Kristi Mizen and Carol Clark executing the transference with comedy and wit. Kristi demonstrated her versatility in the excellent imitation of several affected accents.

Val Green, singing a love song of her own composition, conveyed her emotion very well, and was awarded third place in the fine arts category.

Highlighting the Variety Show were the marvelous performances turned in by Jody Johnson, who held an awed audience while she sang "Can't Help Lovin' Dat Guy," and a really swinging Bourbon Street Trio, Jim Forbes, Bill Franzen, and Rick Vaughn.

Greg Armstrong, who accompanied himself on the guitar and banjo to two New England ballads, and Bob

Sue Becomes Representative

Sue Church will represent BHS at Girls State Convention, which will be held on the University of Illinois campus the week of June 19-26.

"I am very honored and hope I can bring back some helpful ideas," Sue commented when she heard that she had been selected.

At this convention the girls will set up their own government patterned after the state government of Illinois. The purpose of this plan is to help the teenagers become more informed as to the structure of the state government. This also helps the participants become better citizens.

Sue was chosen at a special meeting of the junior girls held on April 11. The girls were asked to vote on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and personality.

Masque & Wig Gives Play

"How can a man have as good a chance as mine if his brains aren't equal to mine to begin with?"

"In pointing out that more has been given Forquer, he can't be justified in taking away the little which has been given him."

What's this—a fight between Ted Manske and Leo Michelotti? It's not a fight. It's a debate—and Leo and Ted are in character for their portrayal of Forquer and Abe Lincoln in Masque and Wig's production of "Abe Lincoln — New Salem Days" which will be presented May 4, for fourth, fifth, and sixth grade children, and May 5 at both matinee and evening performances for the public.

The play, which was written by Charlotte Choppening will feature a large cast.

Ted Manske, who says that playing Lincoln is a refreshing change from Peter in "The Diary of Anne Frank," has made background for the past. He has read two books on Lincoln, and thinks him "exciting and fun." In fifth grade he played Abe because he was the tallest one in the class.

When asked how he liked this play, he replied, "It's a lot of fun, but some of the homely stories that Lincoln tells are a little corny."

Then he gave some views on the play in general: "Even though it is a children's play, I wouldn't discourage any adults from going. Any play, if well done, is entertaining to adults as well as children. I don't particularly like to play to children's audiences because they're more unpredictable than adults. Children don't understand some parts of the play, and you can't feel them as well as adults."

Aside from Abe and his opponent, Forquer, Judy Zack will play Anne Rutledge, his sweetheart and Jack McAuliffe will enact the part of Ruggins, the "Cock of the Keel Boat." Graham, a school teacher will be portrayed by Bob Hoffman.

John Lyons and Sue Harkless will perform as Short, a farmer, and Mrs. Watkins, a wealthy village woman. Abby Spreyer will play the part of Hannah; Alan Stock of Kelso, a fisherman with a knack for poetry, and Gloria Michelotti and Jackie Novak of Mrs. Prescott and Faith, travellers from the East.

Lincoln's aunt and uncle, Bowling and Nancy Green, will be portrayed by Dick Lyons and Janis Krueger. Divine Volspe and Peg Treacy will play Parthenia and Jane, two youngsters who are friends of Lincoln, and Mike

We Are Sorry -

Apparently THE BRONCHO editorial staff was wrong. We all discussed the picture; we all thought it should be printed. "Sure," said one staff member, "we'll get a lot of comments." So we printed the picture of a poster, a simple, innocent poster tacked up on the office bulletin board.

"The Cold War can be won if you get straight A's." Somebody would agree, someone would disagree. But THE BRONCHO editorial staff was wrong, for we received only one letter, from one of our own reporters.

So this is our apology. We are sorry that we so over-rated the BHS student body. We are sorry that we were naive enough to believe that someone would have an opinion on something other than a baseball game or the cafeteria food. We are sorry that we attempted to arouse a little controversy. We are very, very sorry.

Girls Learn 'Interesting' Sports

By Wendy Wagers

Did you know that "touché" is an expression used in fencing, meaning that one weapon has legally touched the other player? Or that the man who throws the ball in cricket is called a bowler: not a pitcher?

These two facts, plus many more were discussed in a sports' appreciation unit in upper class girls physical education classes.

Fencing, Jai Alai

Who else could talk about the English games of fencing and cricket but our own Englishman, Mr. Pepperill? Mr. Graham and several baseball team members demonstrated baseball techniques including different slides, pitches, and plays. To make Jai alai come more "alive," Mr. Lombardo vividly describes the game, and Mr. Benson showed intriguing slides on canoeing. Miss McKinney, a former diving judge, explained the fundamentals of that sport.

Water Sports

Along the line of water sports, swimming, diving, boating, water skiing, and fishing were studied. Actual scuba diving equipment (including the bubbles) was displayed as were slalom skis, fins, and other aids to water sports.

Polo, Hunting

In the equestrian field, photographs, movies, and equipment were shown in order to explain more fully the popular sports of jumping, fox hunting, and polo.

Miss Breitenfeld reports, "I hope that each year a sports' appreciation unit can be undertaken by the girls with perhaps the winter sports being studied next year."

Letters to Editor

Praise at Last

Dear Editor,

In the past issues this column has seemed to be a sounding board for various criticisms of the students and faculty of BHS.

Now I feel that it is time to direct praise where it is due, namely to the Variety Show.

Congratulations are in order to all those who participated both on the stage and behind the scenes to produce such a well-presented show. The audience echoed the high level of excellence by conducting themselves as ladies and gentlemen throughout the entire performance.

Jody Cordill

BHS Thievery

Dear Editor,

Recently I inadvertently left a white fur-blend cardigan in the girls' room near the art room. I was very disappointed that the person who picked up my sweater did not have enough integrity to leave it in the lost and found. The sweater is unimportant, but the principle of the thing bothers me. I would not mind if this were the only case, but I know it's not.

During the Junior-Senior play, a candlestick was "misplaced." This candlestick, which had been borrowed, was of sentimental value to the owner. The worst part is that it was a religious item.

Large amounts of money have disappeared from both the girls' and boys' locker rooms. Purses and other valuables have been separated from their owners at dances and soc hops.

Although these "borrowers" are a minority, they have created a feeling of distrust among all the other students at school. The only solution to this problem is to take better care of personal property, thus, hopefully, discouraging these numerous petty thefts.

Lynn Goldhammer

Patriotism?

Dear Editor,

"It's patriotic to be an honor student. The Cold War can be won if you get straight A's. If you don't aim for higher marks, you are not a good American."

This was the caption on a poster that hung on the bulletin board in front of the high school office, and that was pictured in the last issue of THE BRONCHO.

After reading this poster, I wonder if it is advocating higher grades through patriotism, or is it advocating patriotism through higher grades? If the first is true, there would appear to be no problem. Every student needs some incentive to learn. Some of us get $5 for every A on our report card; some have to get high grades for a college scholarship; some just want to get a job. Although I doubt that many high school students are idealistic enough to believe that one can win the Cold War by getting straight A's, if this is an incentive to someone, then I am all for it.

But the problems develop if the poster is suggesting that one is not a "good American" unless he aims for better grades.

We've been called lazy, stupid, and several other things when we get poor grades, but we've never been called "bad Americans." An "A" does not stand for Americanism—it is merely a grade level. Has our high school, has our country reached the point where it is thought patriotism can be developed by telling high school students, "If you don't aim for higher marks you are not a good American?"

Let's hope not.

Let's Hope Not!

When my time approaches and I die,
Do not mourn and do not cry;
Waste not your time with things now dead,
No, turn your eyes to those ahead;
Waste not your time upon my grave,
Be free of me, and not a slave;
Let not my death change what you do,
For a corpse can have no use to you,
For when I lie cold in the ground
I will not hear your weeping sound,
I'll be unaware of all above,
No longer will I feel your love;
For all that's left of foul decay
Will hear no word which you may say;
But life above responds to these,
Each living person hears and sees;
So forget this dead, rotting nothingness,
And turn away emotionless
To the world of life in which you live,
And to people there your attentions give.

Not Us!

There once was a freshman,
A lonely little freshman,
Who faced BHS all alone.
She was late for all classes
Never heard of hall passes,
And to getting into trouble she was prone.

There once was a sophomore,
A care-free little sophomore,
Who knew she had life in her palm.
She lined up all the boys,
To her they were just toys,
In a year one would take her to the Prom.

There once was a junior,
A fair and frantic junior,
For the night of the prom was at hand.
The boys were all her "pals,"
They were dating other gals,
And gone were the dreams once so grand.

There once was a senior,
A cocky little senior,
Who over underclassmen reigned supreme.
She had it made at last,
Each day was a blast,
It would go on forever like a dream.

There once was a freshman,
A lonely little freshman,
Who faced college life all alone . . .

Roman Banquet- "Wild Pagan Revel"

"Where are the skits? What happened to the scissors? Why aren't these skits finished?"

What's Mrs. Baker getting excited about? She's urging her Latin students to prepare for the Roman Banquet which will be held tomorrow, April 28, from 7 to 11 p.m. The "wild, pagan revel" will be given with all the pomp and dignity of ancient Roman tradition.

The menu will include dove pie, roast peacock, Minerva's Shield, and wine (really grape punch over lime sherbet.) As in all Roman feasts, dinner will be accompanied by dancing, wrestling and gymnastics exhibitions, skits, and a magic act by Alan Tack, consul of Latin IV.

Thousands upon thousands of pink and white roses will complement other decorative signs of Venus. Highlighting the "Romanized" cafeteria will be a life size copy of Botticelli's painting of Venus.

The strict class distinction of Rome will be observed. The upperclassmen will dress as patricians, and will be waited on by freshmen slaves dressed in short tunics. The Latin I's will serve the several courses and await with dread the initiation which is to climax the evening.

In previous years there has been a grand slave market. Last year, the slaves, sold to upperclassmen were bound to perform any duties designated by their masters.

Speakers To Try Out

Three student speakers will highlight the Commencement ceremonies to be held Friday, June 8, in the gym. The speakers were selected from the 20 who tried out.

The Senior Class has voted against flipping tassels as has been the custom in past. Although no definite decision has been made by the administration, the Senior Board has voted twice in favor of recognizing members of the National Honor Society. If approved, members will be accorded the honor of wearing white tassels and having their names starred on the program.

Mr. Gillis has reported that "Adult participation in graduation will be cut to the bone this year. This is the seniors' graduation, and they will be the ones participating."

Baccalaureate services for graduating seniors will be held on Sunday, June 3, in the auditorium. The service will feature the A Cappella choir and a guest speaker, Dr. Carleton Rogers. All parents are invited and the attendance of seniors is suggested, but not mandatory. Seniors will be seated in the center section.

Bits O' BHS

FTA Members Tour University Campus

The members of the Future Teachers of America will get a taste of college life tomorrow when they visit Northern Illinois University at De Kalb.

The group will tour the campus and is expected to attend several classes. Students who are not members of the F.T.A., but are interested in teaching may also attend this session.

"Through similar trips to various colleges we hope to become acquainted with college. We also hope it will help us decide which colleges we would like to attend for our teacher training," commented F.T.A. president Meredith Bishop.

Bausch-Lomb Award

"The Bausch and Lomb Science Medal will once again be awarded to BHS's outstanding science student," stated Mrs. Rueck, head of BHS science department.

The presentation of the bronze medal will be made at the annual Awards Assembly. The recipient will be a senior who has taken four years of science, done exceptional work in all phases of his study, has completed additional research, and who plans to pursue scientific study through college.

The medal has been awarded to over 150,000 future scientists from 7,500 participating high schools. Previous winners have been David Gruender in 1960, and last year Jay Gelzer, who was the first girl from BHS to win the award.

Band To Give Concert

The Barrington High School band will present its annual spring concert in the auditorium May 29, at 8 p.m.

"This is expected to be the outstanding program of the year, as the band will present the same program which they will give on their spring trip, which takes place May 25 thru May 27," said Miss Bergsten, advisor of THE CORRAL, which is sponsoring the event.

Tickets will be sold ahead of time and at the door. They will be $1 for adults and $.50 for students. Tickets may be obtained from any member of THE CORRAL staff.

Du Sable Date Set

A group of students from Du Sable High School will visit BHS on Wednesday, May 10.

"We have appointed committee chairmen to plan the day for the Du Sable students, however no definite schedule has been set," reported Miss Sheel, Senior Class Sponsor.

Chairmen are Jean Kampert and Matt Simek, Invitation; Mary Lou Gerhardt and Wally Giesen, Hosts; Dusty Waller, Table Decoration; Gail Daubenspeck, Welcomes; JoAnn Kuhl, Refreshments; and John Gross, Social Hour.

Two Latin Students Enter State Contest

Two BHS Latin students have been rated excellent and superior in the sectional Latin Contest and will now participate in the Illinois State Latin Contest to be held at Monmouth College on May 12.

Receiving ratings of excellent in the district Latin Contest held at New Trier on March 31 were Guy Smith and Kim Charnell, Latin I; Jami Moore, Latin II; Karen Tichy, Latin III; and Alan Tack and Leo Michelotti, Latin IV. Leslie Aranow representing Latin I received a superior.

Because of their high standing in the district meet, Leslie's and Leo's papers were entered in the sectional contest. Again Leslie received a superior and Leo an excellent. These scores qualified them for the state meet.

"I am very pleased that two of our Latin students are traveling to the state contest, as competition grows stiffer each year. We are looking forward to our trip with great pleasure and anticipation," commented Mrs. Baker, head of the Latin department.

The prizes for the superior in the final will be gold filled pins. Those rating excellent will receive sterling silver pins.

Should neither Leslie nor Leo rate in the finals, they will be awarded gold-bronze pins for their achievements in the sectionals.

Athlete's Foot of the Month

Marbles, Muscles, Mischief

This month's Foot could have starred on the football team, but, although it met the skill requirements, it couldn't pass the physical. This is not hard to believe since the Foot is attached to 99 pounds of rippling muscle on a 5'5" torso. The Foot itself is of unusual size (see picture).

The defeat in football did not discourage the foot, and it turned its attention to sports such as basketball, baseball, skiing (with feet like that it doesn't need skis!), alligator wrestling, and ping pong. Last year the Foot was a member of the Barrington Swim Club and won several awards for its backstroke and breaststroke.

When the Foot was in grade school all this athletic ability was encouraged on its highly competitive block. Although it held its own in trees and marbles, it was kicked out of the group for being a "chicken".

After this turning point in its life, the Foot attended a private school in Iowa and "fell madly in love with the only male teacher!"

Perhaps this would be a good time to mention that the Foot is also the president of GAA. This should explain a lot . . .

Under the Foot's leadership, GAA has tinted the windows of the large gym. The basketball tournament and other girls' sport activities are largely the responsibility of this girl. The Foot is a member of the undefeated GAA senior basketball team. She reports that this year "all members of winning teams will receive charm awards at the honors assembly."

Although often labeled a tomboy, the Foot insists that this is not so! But it also declares that it never blushes and never gets embarrassed. Should a girl be helpless and let the boy win in every sport? "I try to, but I beat him anyway!"

Her outstanding features are green eyes and a low chuckle. At any dance or party this Foot seems to be having the best time. As Miss Werhan said when asked for a character reference, "She's a real character!"

This month's Athlete is a fan of pickle sandwiches—Sandy Banger.

Germans Feast May 9

On May 9, the German Club will transform the social hall into a German restaurant for their annual banquet. Folk singing and dancing, serenading by Jodi Johnson, and the German band will provide atmosphere for the event.

Two plays will be presented. The first one is entitled "Einer Muss Heiraten," starring Heinz Kroell, Dennis Lindberg, Brigette Valleurer, and Mary Lou Gerhardt. It is a take-off on the Grimm brothers' fairy tales. The second play is "Sleeping Beauty," and it has not been cast as yet.

Guests and parents of club members will enjoy real German cooking at the banquet. They will have a choice of bratwurst, boiled potatoes, saurkraut or red cabbage, and a variety of tasty desserts. The club sponsor, Miss Baer, mentioned the possibility that the German consulate from Chicago would be present.

Music Contest . . .

Ten students from the band rated superior. Tom Miller, Dick McAdoo, John Halberg, and Bob Kerr of the saxophone quartet; Jack McAuliffe, John Lyons, Gary Love, and Nancy Wright of the drum quartet; and Parker Jones and Joyce Gerry of the marimba duet made up the number.

Allen Wessel, John Sneys, Wally Giesen, and John Kolkmeier received excellent ratings for their trumpet quartet as did the French horn solo by Lynn Coleman. Rating good was the trombone quartet composed of Sue Bowker, Mike Stiehl, Kent Carnell, and Carl Weber.

Variety Show . . .

Wold doing an active imitation of Al Jolson, were stiff competitors.

Undertaking the difficult task of judging were Mrs. Eugene Nyman, Mrs. Joseph Bataitle, Mr. Harvey Hollech, Dr. Eail Norstrum, and Dr. Robert Finley.

Abe Lincoln . . .

Cropp will characterize Alex Trent, a rather underhanded businessman.

Jerry Meacham will depict Chandler, a farm doctor and Charlene Lundstrum will act Granny, an elderly villager. Judy Weaver has been rather curiously cast. She will play Abner, a young boy.

HOOF BEATS

by Gary Hansen

Crystal Lake, defending league champion, moved into a three-way tie for top honors with Dundee and McHenry by clouting Libertyville 13-6 and 8-6. Libertyville blew a 5-4 lead by giving Crystal Lake's Tigers 8 runs in the fourth inning the first game of their scheduled doubleheader. Both teams committed numerous errors. The Tigers erred 7 times while the Wildcats bungled only four.

Errors have plagued many teams so far this season especially Crystal Lake. Their loss to Dundee during vacation was boosted along by 5 errors. If the errors hadn't occurred Libertyville possibly would have won.

In other games during vacation Woodstock gave up a 4-0 lead when they fell to McHenry 9-5. Palatine and Zion-Benton played to 1-1 tie. The Pirates and the Zee-Bees each collected 5 hits. Zion committed the sole error of the game. The Bronchos took a 5-1 lead after only two innings of play and held on to beat Libertyville's Wildcats 5-3.

Libertyville lost their sixth straight conference contest when Crystal Lake finally subdued them 8-6 in 9 innings (a regular high school baseball game consists of 7 innings). The Wildcats outhit the Tigers 11-10 and committed one less error but couldn't manage to down the Tigers.

Zion-Benton was edged by Woodstock 1-0 but came back to win the nightcap last weekend 3-0. McHenry and Palatine also split. McHenry won the first game 5-3 and Palatine captured the second game 7-5. Gary Peters, Dundee Cardinal ace, pitched a one-hitter while trouncing the Bronchos 11-1. The Bronchos not to be outdone bounced back in the second game under the 3 hit pitching of Bob Jopp to conquer the Cardinals 3-2.

The North Suburban baseball race looks to be one of the toughest in recent years. Libertyville 0 and 6 in conference competition is the only team that can be scratched as a pennant contender. Dundee and McHenry seem to have the eye of local critics although it's possible for Crystal Lake's Tigers, Palatine's Pirates, Zi-on's Zee-Bees, Woodstock's Blue Streaks, or the Bronchos could walk away with the crown.

Palatine Pirates Meet Broncos Tomorrow

Divotmen Collect 2 Wins To Face Zee Bee Golfers

Success has been the story of the Broncho golf squads thus far. Although their first scheduled match was cancelled Mr. Siegworth's divotmen weren't downhearted as they clubbed Woodstock 168 to 211 (low score wins) in their second meet of the year.

The Sophomore divotmen also are undefeated in their first two meetings of the season. They crushed Woodstock 178 to 230 and beat Libertyville 391 to 413.

Tomorrow the varsity and sophomore golfers will challenge Zion-Benton's Zee-Bees at Zion. Steve Blatnak, Bill Connelly, Gary Kufeldt, Dave Windahl, and Bob Kerr will all be looking forward to keeping their winning streaks going.

Sophomores Bob Gragenkort, Chuck Mallon, and Jim Swanson also will try to better their winning streaks.

So far Blatnak leads in the award points race with 14. Grabenkort leads the sophs with 16. Following are win-loss records of individual players with their averages and award points to date.

VARSITY
	won	lost	av. pts.	aw. pts.

Ponies Win 4, Drop 3, Tie 1

The Barrington Ponies are moving along at better than .500 on the baseball diamond with four wins, three losses, and one tie.

The Ponies opened the season by tying with Waukegan, 1-1. The Waukegan men couldn't seem to get their men home, leaving seven men on base compared with the Ponies' two.

The Ponies came back storming on April seventh, by trouncing Tuley of Chicago, eight to four on their home ground.

Jim Condill struck out 12 Tuley men and walked only four, to be the winning pitcher.

Palatine repeated their winning streak over Barrington by shutting out the Ponies, four to nothing, at Palatine.

On April 14, the Ponies couldn't keep up the pitches as the Ponies fell victim to the Woodstock nine 13-7 at Woodstock in the first game of a double-header. The Ponies came back behind Train to beat Woodstock 4-3.

The Ponies kept up the winning streak by steam-rolling Libertyville 10-1 at Barrington. The Ponies held Libertyville to four hits behind the pitcher Steve Jahnke.

On April 21, the Ponies held a double-header with Dundee at Barrington.

The Ponies behind Train couldn't keep the pace as Dundee was the victor, 7-4. But the Ponies behind Steve Wershay squeezed past Dundee 4-3 in the nightcap.

The scores for games thus far in the season are as follows:

Ponies 1	Waukegan 1
Ponies 3	Tuley 4
Ponies 0	Palatine 4
Ponies 13	Woodstock 7
Ponies 4	Woodstock 3
Ponies 10	Libertyville 1
Ponies 4	Dundee 7
Ponies 4	Dundee 3

Tomorrow, Coach Graham's diamondmen will meet Palatine's Pirates on the Broncho home field at 4:15 p.m. The Pirates were deadlocked in fifth place with the Broncos when THE BRONCHO went to press. Each team had identical 3 win and 3 loss records.

The Broncos are 4 and 4 in overall competition. They dropped the opening game to Waukegan 8-1, but bounced back to take their second contest from Tuley of Chicago 4-3. Bert Leaf was credited as the winning pitcher.

The Broncho's first conference encounter ended in disaster as they lost to Palatine 9-7. Bob Suwalski allowed the Pirates only six hits but his teammates committed five errors behind him.

Saturday, April 14, the Broncos suffered a 6 to 5 loss to Woodstock. Bob Jopp who allowed the Streaks only 5 hits was the losing pitcher. In the second game of the doubleheader the Broncos jumped on the Streaks for 12 while the winning pitcher Bob Suwalski let only 5 runs score. Kim Wood led the squad at bat with two triples and a home run.

The Broncos defeated Libertyville 5-3 on the Broncos home diamond April 17. Bob Jopp held the Wildcats to 3 hits. In the first game of the Barrington-Dundee doubleheader Dundee held the Broncos to one hit as they trounced them 11-1.

With Gary Peters spinning a one-hitter Dundee's Cardinals coasted to an easy victory. Dundee jumped out to an early 6-0 lead after only two innings of play. The Broncho's lone run came in the last frame on two walks and two errors. Suwalski, the losing pitcher, struck out eight batters and walked five while Peters also walked five but fanned 12.

The Broncos revenged this loss with a 3-2 victory over the Cardinals in the second game. Bob Jopp held the Dundee squad scoreless until the final inning. The Broncos scored once in the second, third, and fifth innings. Jopp was the winner allowing only 4 hits while his teammates collected 8.

Kim Wood was the big gun for the Broncos with 3 hits for 4 times at bat scoring twice.
