Electrolysis is the Answer

Anyone who is interested in good grooming and an attractive appearance is likely to read about electrolysis. It is the only method which will remove your unwanted hair permanently, and it is not a new technique. Successful results have been reported and discussed favorably in the medical journals since 1875, more than a century ago.

Nowadays thousands of women make appointments every week with their electrologists, but very few openly tell their friends or relatives about the positive results. Most people are too embarrassed to mention facial or body hairs, and so the facts about permanent removal must often be learned from responsible beauty editors or medical columnists.

Fortunately, there is a skilled electrologist at Clear Reflections in the Barrington Commons who can remove those telltale hairs quickly and conveniently in the privacy of a professional office.

Now past its 100th anniversary, electrolysis is a boon to mankind which goes on making converts every day. The reason is obvious—success and permanence make an unbeatable combination.

Take away those unwanted hairs and what you have left is confidence in your own charm and attractive appearance. Phone Clear Reflections at 381-9020 for your appointment.

Clear Reflections has provided 22 years of service at the same location.

November, 1998

Dear Reader,

Holiday excitement is already in the air as the northwest communities begin to get ready for the holidays.

Craft shows, fashion shows and retail stores welcome early shoppers to the season's display of offerings.

To add to our senses, beautiful productions of holiday concerts, ballets and choruses emerge.

It is, indeed, a warm and wonderful time of year!

Currently, a perfect family outing would be a trip to the Chicago Art Institute to see Mary Cassatt: Modern Woman.

Ms. Cassatt was a woman truly ahead of her time. Born of well-to-do parents (1844) in Pittsburgh, she traveled to Paris to live, study and paint at an early age. Remember, back then, proper young ladies did not travel alone! Choosing career over family, her favorite subjects were mothers and children, however. She was in Chicago at the time of the Great Fire, but managed to escape with her life and a few of her paintings. Mary Cassatt: Modern Woman is not to be missed.

Enjoy the season! Until next time, may all your thoughts be sunny.

With warm regards,
Glenn McMonigal
Editor, Lifestyles Magazines

An Artist of Mothers and Children... MARY CASSATT

The Art Institute of Chicago is proud to present Mary Cassatt: Modern Woman, the first retrospective in 30 years of the work of one of the greatest artists this country has produced. On view in the Art Institute, now through January 10, 1999, the exhibition brings together approximately 100 of the Cassatt's most beautiful and compelling paintings, pastels, drawings and prints from public and private collections worldwide.

Mary Cassatt (1844-1926) is an artist of surprises—mostly small, but often subtle and profound.

Known to this day as a "painter of mothers and children," a sobriquet given in her lifetime, she approached her favorite subject with the surprisingly unsentimental but sympathetic clarity she used to address all her subjects. Born into a well-to-do, fairly conventional American family, Cassatt became a genteel rebel, traveling and living alone, partaking of the bohemian life in fin-de-siècle Paris while developing a magnificent painter's eye and businesswoman's head. She was the only American (and one of only three women) to exhibit with the Impressionists in Paris—becoming close friends with some of them—but moved very much in her own direction after that group splintered, coming to draw on such disparate inspirations as Symbolism and Japanese prints. Mary Cassatt: Modern Woman shows the many sides of this remarkable woman: an artist—and an independent artist at that—at a time when no "respectable" woman would consider that possibility; a strong-willed, tough-cored businesswoman and influential tastemaker; and an expatriate who nonetheless always remained identified as an American.

Born in Pittsburgh and raised in Philadelphia, Mary Cassatt came of age in a household that greatly valued education and saw travel as a means to encourage learning. Before Cassatt was 10-years-old, she had already seen many of the capitals of Europe, including London, Paris and Berlin. Despite the concerns of her parents, Cassatt chose career over marriage and left the US in 1865 to travel and study in Europe. The fact that she had chosen to seek a vocation at all would have been startling to any well-to-do parents of a daughter in the early 1860s. Her decision to become a professional artist must have seemed beyond the pale, given that serious painting was largely the domain of men in the 19th century.

Often traveling alone, Cassatt studied in Paris, Rome, Parma and Seville, before returning and settling permanently in the French capital in 1874. The paintings she produced in this period—of women flirting, tossing flowers, sharing refreshment with a bullfighter—reveal a young artist eager to combine the skill of the Old Masters with the adventuresome subject matter of the moderns.

It was while walking past a Paris gallery window in 1874 that Cassatt first saw a bold pastel of ballet dancers by Edgar Degas. She would later describe this first exposure to the revolution of Impressionism—"I saw art as I wanted to see it. I began to live." That same year, Degas saw Cassatt's entry in the French Academy Salon. He was quite taken with the work and invited her to join the Impressionists. The timing was perfect, since Cassatt was more than ready to cast-off the academic conventions of the Salon. She accepted eagerly, and subsequently became close friends with Degas as well as Monet, Pissarro and Morisot. Cassatt was to become the only American whose work would appear in the company of these and many others in the Impressionist exhibitions of 1879, 1880,

Cassatt continued to paint modern women after she joined the now-famous Impressionists. Just as she made her first appearance with Degas, Pissarro and Monet in 1879, the paintings she exhibited at that show depicted young women making their own debuts at the glittering spectacle of the opera. By the 1880s, her imagery had become more domestic and interior but no less modern. Cassatt's women engage in contemporary rituals of womanhood—whether sewing, reading or drinking tea—yet they exude a sense of dignity and purpose that challenges conventional notions of decorative femininity.

Cassatt is perhaps best known for her paintings of mothers and children, works which also reflect a surprisingly modern sensibility. Traditional assumptions concerning childhood, child-rearing and the place of children in society were facing challenges during the last part of the 19th century and women too were reconsidering and redefining their place in modern culture. Cassatt was sensitive to a more progressive attitude toward women and children and displayed it in her art as well as in her private comments. She recognized the moral strength that women and children derived from their essential and elemental bond, a unity Cassatt would never tire of representing.

After 1886, Cassatt discovered an interesting and viable alternative to the Impressionist shows in the burgeoning peintres-graveurs (painters-printmakers) movement. Beginning in 1889, this group began to organize exhibitions at the Durand-Ruel Gallery in Paris, also the primary dealer of the Impressionists. Although already an innovative and original printmaker beginning as early as 1879, Cassatt's involvement with the peintres-graveurs—coupled with an 1890 visit to a large and highly influential Japanese print exhibition in Paris—spurred the artist to focus more intently on making her own color prints later in 1890. Her suite of 10 delicately colored drypoints and aquatints represents a landmark in the history of printmaking. Loosely based on aspects of Japanese prints she had seen in Paris, the album was so technically sophisticated and deceptively complex that Cassatt had the printer who assisted her place his signature alongside her own.

It may well have been the success of these color prints that persuaded Bertha Honoré Palmer—the Chicago socialite, collector and chairperson of the Board of Lady Managers of the 1893 Columbian Exposition—to give Cassatt the commission for the 1893 Fair's Women's Building mural titled Modern Woman. Palmer acquired a set of Cassatt's prints in early 1892, and only months later, Cassatt was laboring in relative isolation to bring the 58-foot work to completion. Although Modern Woman was unfortunately lost after the close of the fair (in all likelihood destroyed), it served as the basis for many of Cassatt's most impressive and important works of the 1890s. A number of paintings in this exhibition derive from her execution of the mural.

Special dated and timed tickets are required for the Chicago showing and advance tickets are strongly recommended. Tickets are available at the museum and by calling 1-800-929-5800 or 630-792-0200 outside the US. Members can receive their free tickets by calling the same number or visiting in person at the museum's membership desk. The recorded audio tour and a copy of the exhibition catalogue may also be purchased in advance by phone. For information on hotel packages which include tickets for the exhibition, call 312-443-3944.

"Angels in Art and Life"

Angels are the popular subjects of books, movies and decorating schemes these days and the delightful Dr. Walter Persegati will explore the trend in a program on "Angels in Art and Life" on Wednesday, December 2 at the Art Institute.

The Barrington Community Associates of the Art Institute of Chicago has scheduled busses to take members and guests to this event and later to the Zodiac Room in Neiman Marcus for lunch.

Persegati returns to Chicago to present this special lecture for the Community Associates. The richly illustrated lecture discusses hundreds of exquisite examples of angels in art from the vast collection of the Vatican Museums. Beginning his lecture with the ancient examples of classical putti, every order of angel will be considered by Dr. Persegati.

Retired Secretary General and Treasurer of the Vatican Museums and Galleries, he has previously presented lectures on the Sistine Chapel and the Vatican.

Lunch with signature popovers and strawberry butter will await participants at Neiman Marcus. The restaurant is a short bus ride north on Michigan Avenue.

Guests enter the salmon colored marble foyer surrounded by French Art Deco Steinlen posters. Simple elegance is defined in the Zodiac Room by a quiet atmosphere graced by tapestry chairs, floral watercolors and potted plants.

Busses will leave Langendorf Park Parking Lot in Barrington at 9:15 AM. The lecture is scheduled for 10:45 AM with lunch at 1:00 PM. Busses will depart from Chicago at 3:00 PM.

The cost of the day is $55 for members and $65 for nonmembers. Reservations are due by November 20. Please phone Mary Thennes at 815-455-4524.

What Age is Best for Certain Procedures?

by Gary S. Churchill, MD

Patients often ask at what age it is best to get certain procedures done. This will vary from patient to patient, but there are some general guidelines that apply in most cases. Ultimately, only the patient along with their surgeon can determine if a certain procedure is right for them or if the timing is appropriate.

Eyelid Rejuvenation

Most people will notice the aging process first around their eyes. Some puffiness beneath the eyelids, especially in the morning, will get more and more noticeable. This can create a tired look even when the person is well rested. Although some people will notice this in their twenties, this usually becomes more apparent in the thirties and forties. Although both upper and lower eyelids may age simultaneously, some people will notice only one or the other aging sooner.

Fine lines will begin to appear around the eyes in the late twenties or early thirties. These can be treated with light chemical peeling or the newer glycolic acid creams at home.

Facial Rejuvenation— Facelifting

Facial rejuvenation involves a number of different procedures. The most common is facelifting. Facelifting improves jowling and looseness of the neck through incisions around the ears. This procedure is rarely done on patients in their thirties. Most patients are in their forties and older. It is common to perform facelifting at the same time as eyelid rejuvenation.

Facial Rejuvenation— Forehead Lifting

A forehead lift allows the brows to be elevated as well as the frown lines smoothed. This is done through an incision behind the hairline. Although some patients may have low lying brows in their thirties, most do not seek forehead lifting until their forties. It is common to perform forehead lifting along with a facelift.

Facial Rejuvenation— Chemical Peeling

Chemical peeling is designed to smooth the skin. A number of new light and medium depth chemical peels have become available for younger patients with early, fine lines. Patients in their twenties may

Protect Your Memories

Frame it. Box it. Hand-color it. Bag it. Scrapbook it. Or snowglobe it. But whatever you choose to do... protect it!

Your memories can't be restaged or freeze wrapped or put on hold. They come and they go faster than each breath you take, and the only way you can even begin to save them for the future is to protect them. Where do you start?—at CLIX Photographs & Savables.

Be traditional. Classic albums with tissue protecting each page will hold your treasures. Enclosed in a plastic sheeting or not, the items will be ready for countless viewings. At CLIX, we are trained to help you arrange and organize your keepsakes.

Be creative. It's as simple or as clever as you want to make it. Take some copies of your favorite photos and slip them into one of our funny little snowglobes. Or decorate a box with pictures and words cut from magazines that remind you of a family vacation. Fill it with treasures and snapshots. Or select one of our many scrapbooks. Cover the pages with stickers, stamps, maps, notes, tickets or other memorabilia that tell the family story.

Be unique. Design a special story for a book covered with hand made paper of flower petals and grasses and filled with words, quotes and illustrations penned with fuchsia or gold inks. On second thought, maybe you should save this one for yourself.

Be quick. Grab the pics out of the photo lab's envelope and toss them in an archival box. Or slip them into one of CLIX's pocket-page albums. It doesn't have to be a big deal, but at least they'll be protected.

The point is this—only you know your stories. And if you're still reading our article, chances are you are the "keeper of the family flame." You're the one who knows all the tales. In the future, anyone could find them inspirational, entertaining and soothing. Shouldn't they be safe until you're ready to pass the torch?

Protect your memories: for yourself, for the grown-ups and for the children! If you don't, who will? Stop by CLIX today and we'll get you started.

Book it. Or snowglobe it. But whatever you choose to do, protect it!

Baby, It's Cold Outside

Now that those cold winter days have arrived, you'll find there is nothing like a fur coat for style, warmth and luxury. "Fur is back," says Bill Talidis, owner of The Mink Barn. "In the 31 years I've been in business at this location, I've seen many changes. This year, more than 200 fashion designers are working with fur."

Customers from a 150-mile radius have been coming to The Mink Barn for years, even though its location is a little out of the way. Bill's reputation is what draws them. Even though The Mink Barn is located in a rural area, people are amazed at the large and beautiful showrooms, and equally impressive selection of all kinds of fine furs. Bill was born and raised in the fur business in Kastoria, Greece and started working with them at a very young age. He not only has 50 years experience in the making of the furs, but also raised mink for 30 years. Therefore, by raising the animals, making the coats and selling them right there on the farm, The Mink Barn's overhead is very low. "We eliminate the middleman and pass the savings on to the customers." Bill Talidis has established himself as one of the nation's finest furriers.

Bill and his courteous staff will be happy to help you select a garment from their superb collection of fine quality furs. The Mink Barn offers petite to plus sizes and everything from the finest quality mink coats to the practical and casual sheared furs.

You see furriers come and go, but The Mink Barn just keeps getting better and better every year.

So come to The Mink Barn where you are treated the way you should be—100% satisfaction, guaranteed!

Are You Ready to Face Fall?

The flowers are put away now and the leaves have changed. What beautiful colors we see. Now we must focus on ourselves for the cold months to come. Skin care programs need to be checked at this time to see if they are proper for the cold weather. Furnace heat causes the skin to require more moisture and attention.

Now is the time to make your appointment with your licensed Esthetician at Syd Simons Day Spa. Have a relaxing facial in your quiet, private room and let her treat your skin and make it ready for the cold weather.

The holidays are coming. It's hard to believe. We must get ourselves prepared for the hustle and bustle of shopping, fighting crowds, driving in heavy traffic and decision making. All of these things add a lot of stress on our bodies.

We are already starting to sell Gift Certificates on our Packages for Christmas. Stop in and purchase yours today.

Now is the time to book for your Body Massage, Spa Glow or have a steam bath—just totally relax. Massage and Body Care is a necessity in our lives.

Now is a great time to have a manicure and pedicure. Our tired aching feet could use relaxation. Soak your feet after a hard day of shopping with the jets soothing them in the warm bubbly water. For your convenience, we now have another Nail Technician this month; we have been fortunate to find Bonnie who has several years of experience and expertise.

This month, we are introducing a new treatment in the Facial room. It is called "The Oxygen Facial." Come replenish what age takes away!

Spend an afternoon, or all day, with us—have a Facial, Spa Glow, Massage, Manicure, Pedicure, Body Mask. Have your makeup applied for you—what a beautiful thing.

Let me touch briefly on our Body Wraps. It is a great way to lose those inches before the holidays. You can lose up to 16 inches in one wrap and they give you energy.

Last, but not least, have your makeup done for that special occasion or learn new techniques with our makeup lessons. Either way, we will enhance your beauty. What a way to spend a day!

Ask for a day at Syd Simons Day Spa or give it to yourself. You won't regret it. We hope to see you all soon.

Sincerely,
Cathy Ramstadt, Owner
Syd Simons Day Spa

The Fine Art of Gift Giving

The exchange of gifts during the holidays began long before religion as we know it today gave a new meaning to the custom.

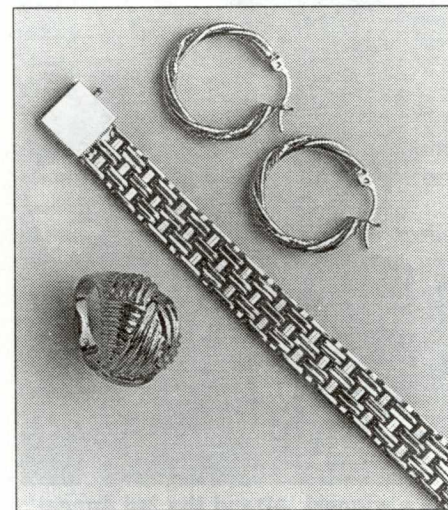

Pagan festivals celebrating the sun's annual rebirth brought with them a message of peace and goodwill when the rich generously gave to their poorer neighbors and received garlands, candles or frankincense in return. Men gave each other "honeyed" things so the recipient might be sure of sweetness in the coming year. Gifts also had to be given to evil spirits at the time to drive them away. Because gift giving was an essential part of pagan celebrations, the early Christian church tried to abolish it from its Christmas celebration, but luckily, giving generously to kinsfolk, friends, and neighbors was a natural expression of rejoicing and was soon accepted by the church as a religious symbol.

Simple elegance and pearls go hand in hand, whether it be pearl and diamond earrings or a ring paired with onyx.

Gift giving during the holidays is a tradition that dates back thousands of years. Persin & Robbin Jewelers in downtown Arlington Heights has its own rich history of helping people in the Northwest suburbs find beautiful gifts for everyone on their special list. For 39 years, Persin & Robbin has offered an extensive selection of fine jewelry to its customers. Whether it be a simple gold bangle, a demure pearl pin, brilliant gold and diamonds or stunning gemstones, let Persin & Robbin help make the holidays memorable for those important people who mean so much.

The beauty of gold is reflected in these 14K and 18K pieces, in styles ranging from classic to high fashion.

Pain Free for the Holidays

Did you ever wonder why you felt wonderfully loose after a therapeutic massage, only to feel the same, uncomfortable nagging pain a week later? Your posture and muscle tone play a major role in keeping your body pain free, but your energy, emotions and mental state play just as big a role in causing body aches and pain and may have a more profound effect on your health. Stress, tension, and emotion is directed outward as well as inward. This energy, positive or negative, finds a place to hide in our muscles. Repetitive rage, frustration or repressed emotion nestle themselves into what people call their "tension areas."

Massage is a therapeutic tool which can help facilitate healing physiologically (in the muscles) as well as emotionally and mentally (in the mind). The therapist uses specific massage techniques which enable the recipient to get in touch with not only where the pain and tension are, but why they are there. Over time, the client identifies the deeper cause to their pain, progressively feels better and gets rid of the discomfort for good!

Healthy Soulutions is a lifestyle change consulting program consisting of massage therapy, weight management, consulting and exercise programming. Now offering a great gift for friends and family that have been battling cancer or just been diagnosed and would like some healthy product alternatives. Cancer Care is a warmly decorated basket containing natural cancer fighting food products (nonperishable), supplements (should be discussed with a physician), aromatherapy candles and research articles and information on how to incorporate natural healing remedies into their medical treatment. A massage gift certificate may also be included!

International Etiquette Consultant Leads Busy Life

Ruth Kern attended the AICI (Association of Image Consultants International) convention in July of 1998 which was held at the Doral Golf Resort in Miami, FL. Ruth had taken a booth at the convention where she could show her newly produced video, Dine, Don't Just Eat!, and sell her booklets, Tips on Modern American Dining Etiquette and Tips on Modern American Wedding Etiquette.

Ruth attracted so much attention at the convention, probably because of her famous hats, that she was interviewed on local Miami television telling everyone how to eat!

The interest in her etiquette booklets and video, especially from the international people attending the convention, made Ruth decide to put her entire booklet on dining etiquette into a video series. She also plans to put her wedding etiquette booklet into video form. The dining series entitled, Modern American Etiquette, will be shown on local cable TV and will also be available for purchase.

When the American dining series is completed, Ruth will begin filming a series titled Modern International Etiquette. Several of the international women that Ruth met at the convention are anxious to have her come to their countries to film their etiquette and customs for Americans to see.

This month, a little closer to home, Ruth will be giving two lectures which are open to the public. The first one will be at the Richard Honquest Fine Furniture store in Barrington on November 5th starting at 7:30 PM. For more information, please call 847-382-1700. The subject of this lecture is The Origins of Modern American Etiquette.

Later this month, on November 20th at 7:30 PM, Ruth will give a seminar at Galleria 733, a showroom in Chicago which specializes in fine European antiques. The subject of this seminar will be International tional Etiquette for Americans. For more information, please call 312-382-0546.

In January of 1999, Ruth will travel to Tenerife, one of the Canary Islands, where she has been asked to give a seminar for an international group of people. Most of the people who will be attending the convention are Europeans. Quite a few of the attendees live in Russia and other countries which were once a part of the Soviet Union. Ruth is looking forward to bringing our American culture and etiquette to these people.

If you would like to order any of Ruth Kern's booklets or videos, you may call 847-382-9502, fax 847-382-5889 or email ruth_kern@ibm.net. The booklets and videos are also available at FK Jewelry in Barrington.

IK Design Jewelry Holds Store Liquidation Sale

IK Design Jewelry, the Barrington area's showplace of designer pieces by Isaac Kornhauser, is holding a liquidation sale offering 50% off the regular retail price of all jewelry in the showroom located at 141B Northwest Highway in Barrington.

The sale includes newly arrived inventory for the holidays as well as one-of-a-kind creations by Kornhauser. The store features a variety of jewelry crafted with the highest quality precious and semiprecious stones in gold and silver. A large selection of platinum jewelry is also available.

"This is a good opportunity to purchase, at great savings, a family heirloom that can be passed down through the generations," Kornhauser said. "And our stock is at its peak, just in time for the holidays."

The liquidation sale is the first step by Kornhauser in phasing out the store's retail business to focus on contractual custom design. Kornhauser is also the sole proprietor of The Golden Orchid, which has developed a unique process for creating exact replicas of orchid plants and blossoms as sculptures in gold and silver, immortalizing and preserving their beauty forever. The unique sculptures are becoming sought after accents for the home or office. They have won awards in numerous regional and national orchid shows. The Golden Orchid also offers a line of authentic orchid jewelry in 18-karat gold and sterling silver including earrings, pendants and tie tacks.

The son of a diamond setter, Kornhauser studied at the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York under head jewelry designers from Bulgari and Van Cleef & Arpels. He has worked for Gimbels of New York; Black, Star and Frost in New Jersey; the Jewelers of Bond Street on Long Island; and OC Tanner of Salt Lake City. He opened IK Design Jewelry in Barrington in 1986.

"We've enjoyed our 12 years of service in Barrington and the support of our customers," Kornhauser said. "But the demands of my original work require a more intense commitment," he said.

IK Design Jewelry is open Monday through Friday from 9 AM to 6 PM, Thursday until 8 PM and Saturday until 5 PM.

Trees, Wreaths & Ornaments Dress Up BAAC Gallery

Co-chairmen Anne Blanchard (left) and Pat Weaver look forward to the Festival of Trees, Wreaths & Ornaments opening on December 5 at Barrington Area Arts Council. The public is cordially invited to attend this annual holiday event.

What better way to welcome in the holiday season than to treat yourself to a new wreath or a small tree to deck your halls or tabletop? Or maybe you are in the hunt for some special ornaments this year? Barrington Area Arts Council's (BAAC's) Festival of Trees, Wreaths & Ornaments, which opens on December 5, will be the perfect place to be.

Members of garden clubs, school booster groups, conservation organizations, businesses and just plain creative friends of BAAC are hard at work these November days on the holiday tree or wreath they are donating to BAAC's annual festival. Opening night for the festival, which is planned by the Friends of BAAC auxiliary, is from 6:30 to 9:00 PM on Saturday, December 5 at the BAAC Gallery located at 207 Park Avenue in the Village of Barrington. Ornaments contributed by individual Friends members and local artists can be purchased that evening. All trees and wreaths will continue to be for sale by silent auction until Saturday, December 12. At that time, all highest bidders will be notified and items will be ready for pickup.

The opening night gala is planned in conjunction with BAAC's December gallery exhibit, which features several artists whose work is particularly conducive to holiday festivity and gift giving. The Festival and gallery exhibit are also part of a series of themed events this year called "Twelve Days of Christmas at BAAC." Join the fun!

Not-for-profit community organizations, area businesses and individual supporters of the arts are encouraged to create a small holiday tree or a wreath of any size (artificial greens and materials, please and trees not to exceed 5 feet) which will be displayed in the Gallery from the December 5 Festival opening night celebration until December 12. Donated creations will be welcome at the Gallery on Monday, November 30. Participation forms are available at the Gallery and the Festival Committee is available to help with any logistical problems one might have in getting items to the Gallery for setup and display.

At the conclusion of the Festival, 50% of the item's proceeds will be returned to not-for-profit groups, while items from businesses and private individuals are considered a donation to BAAC. Awards will be given!

Two $50 awards—the best tree and the best wreath—will be given by the Friends of BAAC Festival Committee, co-chaired by Anne Blanchard and Pat Weaver. The committee also includes: Sue Abare, Sarah Bowers, Pat Butler, Jody de la Chapelle, Crickett Kelly, Louise MacKenzie, Nancy Spaulding, Libby Johnson, Pam Stephenson, Carol McGregor, Teddi Martin, Charlotte Poje, Krista Debeuckelaer, Sandy Cox and Beth Galfer. All entries will be eligible for the awards.

For further information about the Festival, please call Anne Blanchard at 847-934-3693, Pat Weaver at 847-382-9355 or BAAC Executive Director, Sarah Bowers at 847-382-5626.

Major plans are underway for the Garden Club of Inverness' annual fundraiser of the year. The traditional Christmas Luncheon and Program will be held on Thursday, December 3, 1998 at the beautiful Biltmore Country Club in North Barrington, Illinois. Cocktails will be served at 11:00 AM and the luncheon will start at noon. As in the past, lovely prize baskets provided by talented club members will be awarded to lucky winners. Another highlight of the afternoon will be the Floral Design Program which is being presented this year by David Swanson, AIFD, of Kiko's Flowers and Gifts, Inc. in Park Ridge. Using Magnets for Health and Wellness

Through personal experience, I have "discovered" magnets and the energy they produce. When a family member was told he had a chronic, degenerative condition, I began researching other "complementary" forms of healthcare. I came across an ancient yet very modern answer to his living a healthy life... permanent magnets. In three weeks, his stiffness was diminished and his back discomfort improved. I became very excited. I learned their use is widespread in Asia. Use in this country is on the verge of explosion. Americans want and need non-chemical health healthcare.

I believe these products are the best. The company I represent has been in business since 1975 and sold $5.5 billion in product before entering the U.S. They currently hold over 90% of the market in this industry. Their research is unsurpassed as well as the patent they carry on their magnetic design.

The philosophy of Healthy Body, Mind, Family, Finances and Society encourages balance in all parts of our lives. My goal is for people to realize this and to help them achieve a means of taking control of their bodies and minds through the energy of nature.

If you would like to learn more, see a catalogue or attend a product demonstration, please call Eileen SanFilippo at 847-382-4973. The products I offer include sleep systems, insoles, comforters and wraps. I donate 25% of my profit to social justice causes.

for their patronage throughout the year. With that in mind, we want to extend to our clients a 5% looks can be fun but scary at the same time. Well, Claude Thomas commitment with our virtual reality make-over. A consultation session is $20 plus $3 for each take advantage of our manicure and pedicure package, regularly $45 now only $38 with a bonus paraffin treatment. We offer an exclusive special pedicure using a thin layer of acrylic on your toenails. Using this procedure a regular pedicure. This special pedicure is regularly $45, but now only $35. We also have nail art—air brushing, free-hand art and nail charms. We pride ourselves in our artistic creativity.

With the start of the cold weather, our hair and skin needs extra care and help to stay healthy. We have a European deep conditioning treatment with a color enhancer to rejuvenate your hair color and bring back its sheen and healthy glow. This is a 30-minute treatment regularly $30, now only $25. For your skin, we have facials designed specifically for your needs. We also have a moisturizing and restoring body wrap for your entire body. This month, we are taking 20% off the prices of our facials and body wraps with our

Take Time to Create That Cozy Refuge— and Country Collections Can Help

With Summer winding down, the kids back at school and the Christmas season just around the corner, now is the perfect time to take a little time for yourself, and create a cozy refuge from the hustle and bustle of day-to-day life.

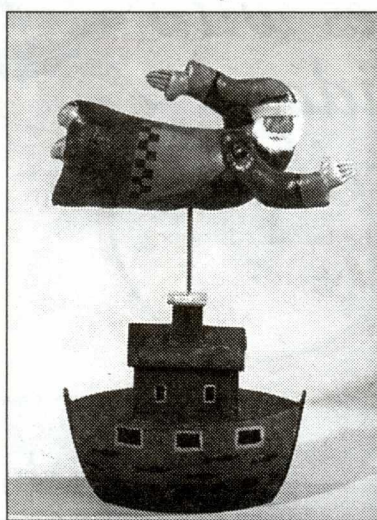

Mark your calendar for November 13, 14 and 15 and plan to make your way to the Country Collections Show at Harper College in Palatine, Illinois. Consult the latest country magazines for ideas, gather your color swatches and make your lists. Your chance to connect with 100 quality folk artists and country crafters from 10 states is almost here.

Come show day, excited chatter will fill the air as groups of friends meet in the lobby and plan strategies. A stop to pick up your shopping bag, and you're on your way. There are "creature comfort" items to be had down every aisle, from special treats to eat to cozy quilts for snuggling.

A stroll to your right will lead you to the Door County Stencil Company. Stenciled one-at-a-time with designs by Carol Williams and Lynn Gilchrist, these comfy clothes invite you to kick back and relax.

The assortment of snacks and treats available begins just across the aisle. Just follow your nose to the German Roasted Almond Company for cinnamon roasted almonds and pecans. Too tempting not to gobble up on the spot, remember to pick up extra for snacking at home. And English Toffee from Pemberton Candies is just a stroll away, so be sure to stop and sample. You won't be able to resist it's buttery sweetness... a perfect treat for an evening at home with a good movie.

Cozy quilts can be found at Cranberry

By the House on Water Street of Menomonee Falls, Wisconsin

Creek, Prairie Patchwork or Stanna's Country Rose. Consult your swatches, and you'll begin to picture yourself snuggled in your favorite chair with that romance novel.

Continue your stroll and you'll find a quilted front sweater from Darlene's Quilts to warm you on a crisp autumn hike in the woods, and woven wool rugs from Serena's Heirlooms or cotton rugs from The Carpet Lady to warm your toes when you return home. (Don't forget your swatches; Estelle Serena and Elaine Strzalka will do custom work as well.)

Rustic cabinets to stash away treats and goodies can be found at Hoosier Homestead, along with shelves to display special treasures.

These craftspeople and many more will be waiting to greet you at the Country

The Many Benefits of Sauna

"Old Finnish proverbs consider sauna to be the 'medicine of the poor, the hospital and of Finland,'" according to Spa and Sauna Magazine.

"Saunas promote the perspiration of body toxins, stimulate circulation, increase body metabolism, keep skin glowing and youthful and alleviate sinus congestion due to colds, asthma and allergies.

In fact, many feel it's one of the most effective detoxifying treatments available.

Today, in many research laboratories around the world, saunas are being tested as therapy for chemical poisoning. Because of the mental relaxation saunas are able to induce, it's said to be the perfect environment for intimate conversations with spouses, friends and children," Spa and Sauna Magazine continues.

"For some, such as former President George Bush, saunas serve as the perfect meeting place for discussing politics.

The president always looked forward to visiting Finland and using the sauna, saying that when people are stripped down to their bare essence, it's hard for the ego to get in the way of making sound, humanistic decisions."

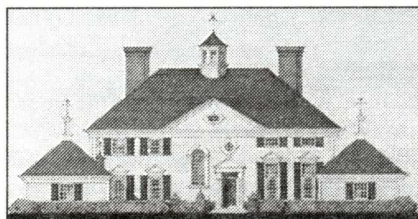

For more information about the benefits of sauna, see Swanson's Spas & Saunas on Rand Rd. in Lake Zurich.

What is "Custom" Residential Architecture?

We see this word "custom" on everything lately. Some builders build the same five house plans every year and yet they call themselves "custom" builders! What does "semi-custom" mean? Why do some people think that anything made custom is only for the wealthy? "As residential architects, we are constantly asked to define and dispel the myths associated with this word," says John C. Cazzetta, of Kemper Cazzetta, in Barrington.

The definition of the word "custom" as it relates to residential architecture is actually quite simple. A true custom design is something that is solely created by the architect from the specifications and desires of the client. In some cases, a very traditional colonial is actually a custom plan. A custom plan is never repeated or sold to other clients, and the architect and homeowner maintain the only originals.

Anything short of this definition is NOT a custom design. Plans that already exist which are revised by the architect per the owners or builder's program is a "customized plan." "Semi-custom" is when a builder offers set model plans and the homeowner "a la cartes" upgrades to the plan.

The biggest myth of custom residential architecture is the expense. "We have many clients who want a simple plan and have a limited budget, but do not want to live in 'Plans A through F'." They want their housing dollars to be utilized to the fullest potential.

If you would like to discuss a custom design with us or customize an existing plan that you have, please contact John C. Cazzetta at Kemper Cazzetta, Ltd., in Barrington. "We are confident you will enjoy the home that 'we' design."
