DIED—At her home in Park Ridge on Saturday, Feb. 20, 1892, of old age, Mrs. Emily Armstrong, aged 74 years. Deceased was born in Cupar, Fifeshire county, Scotland, and came to this country in 1854, and to Park Ridge in 1886, where she has resided ever since. She was a devoted Christian. One brother, John Nevens, survives her. The funeral took place at the M. E. church on Monday, Feb. 22, and the remains were laid to rest in the Park Ridge cemetery.

Mr. Hempel, of Chicago visited friends here on Monday.

Mrs. R. H. Moore entertained Mrs. Donnelly and Mrs. Mary West and daughter of Dunning, also Mrs. Fred Moisy of Chicago on Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Foster delivered an eloquent address at the M. E. church last Sunday morning on "Patriotism."

The Congregational church was more than filled last Tuesday evening in honor of the two great Presidents—Washington and Lincoln. Three portraits of Washington, an American eagle, and the stars and stripes were seen behind the platform, while the foreground was occupied with the Park Ridge Zouaves under the lead of Lieut. Terry, and the speakers of the evening. After an overture by the orchestra, prayer was offered by the Rev. George Washington Colman. The chairman, Charles H. Maily Esq., then announced the "Star Spangled Banner," with a few words, showing under what circumstances it was first written and sang.

The Rev. John O. Foster gave a definition of his theme—"Patriotism"—and addressing the younger part of the audience told them the stories of the horse and the hatchet, which are always accounted new on Feb. 22. Mr. Marsh told us how the air of "Yankee Doodle" originated among the Pyrenees—how it was used by the cavaliers to ridicule the followers of Cromwell and was first heard in this country in 1755 with a song in ridicule of the patriots.

Capt. W. P. Black followed with an outline of Washington's life and achievements. "No finer compliment," said he, "can ever be paid by any people to any man, than that a whole nation should set apart his birthday as a national holiday. Washington is not yet the mere shadow of a name—he yet lives on earth in his spotless example. It will teach wisdom and virtue to magistrates, citizens, and men, as long as our history shall be read. Yet

Washington had no better educational advantages than any boy of to-day. When he left school he had learned to read, write survey, and keep accounts. Sometimes the providence of God takes a boy from the education of the school while his mind is still plastic, that he may be fashioned and molded by the crisis of events in which he lives. It seems to have been thus with Washington. His father dying when he was but 12 years of age, his education depended on his mother. To please her he refused to go upon the ship where he was already appointed a midshipman. At 13 he had written out those "Rules of Civility and Decent Behavior in Company and Conversation" which have ever since been known as "The Maxims of Washington"—rules and maxims which it would profit any youth to-day to read and observe. At 16 he was surveyor on Lord Fairfax's estate. At 22 the commander of the militia of Virginia. A year later he saved Braddock's defeat from being a complete massacre, and in 1778 he was commander-in-chief of the thirteen colonies in the war for independence. That end achieved, he retired to private life until called to be our first President by the electoral votes of all the states except New York, which failed at that election to vote for any one—a dereliction it has not since been guilty of.

"In 1786 Washington wrote that he desired the abolition of slavery, and that he was resolved never to purchase another slave. Yet he could not see how this abolition was then possible. At the age of 68, having enjoyed almost complete health to that time, a sudden sickness of four days resulted in his death, Dec. 13, 1799."

The congregation joined in singing a patriotic song which was sung at the inauguration of Washington as President, "Hail Columbia."

The Rev. C. S. Leeper filled the brief time remaining with some recollections of Lincoln, the born orator, the statesman, the kindly patient man, the man who prayed and asked for the prayers of Christian men. Men of his calibre are like the giant trees of the forest, only to be measured after they have fallen. When wearied by the burdens of his station, he delighted to answer the petitions made for clemency. "It always rests me," he once said, "to write out a pardon." His nature was like the colian harp string on the turrets of a castle by the Rhine, which vibrates sweet music in the summer breeze and majestic tones in the roar of the storm. His grand humanity and his love of humor kept him always in touch with the heart of the American nation.

Miss Carrie Cummings then favored us with a solo—"The Battle Hymn of the Republic," by Mrs. Julia Ward Howe of Boston.

Two patriotic songs followed, each of which Mr. Marsh gave a brief account—"Marching Through Georgia," and "My Country 'Tis of Thee." The audience were then dismissed with the benediction by Rev. Mr. Colman.

On Tuesday afternoon from 3:15 to 4:15 an interesting debate was given by the seventh and eighth grades of the public school on "The Merits of Lincoln and Washington," the eighth grade taking Lincoln's merits and the seventh Washington's. The judges decided that the eighth won, but the seventh were to be commended for doing so well.

Mrs. J. A. Shute entertained a number of her lady friends from the city to lunch on Wednesday last. Covers were laid for ten. A pleasant day was passed and the party returned on the seven train well pleased with the suburban visit.

The concert given by the Choral society of Norwood under the direction of Prof. Dunster last Thursday evening was a decided success. Everyone was delighted with the evening's entertainment, and the two solos by Miss Thompkins of Irving Park called forth enthusiastic encores. The instrumental numbers rendered by Prof. Dunstan and his son will not soon be forgotten. The part songs by the Choral society were rendered with a vigor and sentiment which showed their interest in the work. A solo by Mrs. A. D. Stevens and a duet by Mrs. A. D. Stevens and Miss Ida C. Gilbert called forth applause.

As did Mrs. Williams' instrumental solo. Mrs. Williams' talent, as a musician, need not be spoken of, as it is well known and appreciated. Prof. Dunstan has the compliments of all in the musical talent of his class. Mr. Dunstan, Jr., will take charge of the class for the coming term, and all the old members have continued their lessons, and some new members have been taken in. All are well satisfied.

Mud! Mud! It is everywhere and "sticketh closer than a brother." Its reluctance to accompany its victim is marked, and every one, rich or poor, young or old, are duly slopped and pasted and spattered with the liquid ingredient which men call mud.

Mrs. F. B. Norton came over from the Poor House on Sunday last and called on her Norwood friends. The fare at the Poor House must be good, as she is looking remarkably well.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Foster entertained friends from Chicago on Sunday last.

Our jeweler, Mr. S. E. Eichenlant, is about leaving us and going to Chicago. Some of the young ladies are looking quite cast down and gloom predominant.

At last reports Mr. Klindienst was some better and hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Don't forget the social given by the Y. P. S. C. E. next Monday evening at the house of F. W. Fox. A good time is expected.

One of the milk cans which are put on the train at this station was considerably lightened of its load last Monday morning, and judging from the deluged garments and creamy complexion of our young friend Burt Har-rough, he received the full benefit of the lactical fluid. Burt's capacity for the good things of this life is well known, but when it comes to attempting to swallow an eight-gallon can of milk—well, we award him the prize.

Washington's birthday was duly celebrated here by a procession of small boys bearing flags and other implements of war. Some of the young people attended a party at Irving Park, but the majority remained at home. The reverence which the good people of Norwood have for the man who "couldn't tell a lie" is rather limited, and we are sorry to observe that his example is not followed out very strictly.

The foundation is being dug for Mr. C. L. Foster's new residence on Elm street.

Mrs. George Campbell has been confined to the house for some time back with a severe attack of rheumatism.

On the Sick List.
Mr. Ben Morris is quite ill with scarlet fever.

Mrs. G. R. Harvey is reported to be much improved, but the little daughter has been threatened with pneumonia.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morey and Mrs. William Miller are reported better.

Henry Laubly has been suffering with rheumatism.

Ask Joe Lalone for a glimpse of that cabinet photo he guards so carefully.

Rev. Henry T. Sell of Chicago will preach in the Congregational church next Sunday morning, Feb. 28. At the evening service Mr. Sell will give an address on "How to Study the Bible."

William Kunka has returned from a two months' trip through the old country.

George S. Welles, C. E. Stebbings-Ben Morris, William Phillipson, Jesse Filkins, and Mr. Grant will probably contribute their quota of new buildings in Park Ridge the coming spring and summer.

Gentle Reader
Not to be outdone by our worthy contemporary, The Maine News, who in their issue of Feb. 13, gave their numerous subscribers two for one, we came to the front on the same date and gave our patrons a combination of Park Ridge and Barrington news under one head. It is a cold day when we can't keep up with the fashion.

PASSING STRANGE.
Or the Wierd Experience of a Belated Traveler With a "Spook" on the Niles Road.

We were just about to close our correspondence for the week with the intimation that there was nothing new in "Triangle" affairs when we received the following letter:

Mr. Editor:—You will doubtless wonder when you receive this communication what it was that prompted a perfect stranger to reveal his woes through the columns of your paper, but the fact is I want to relate a little experience I had on a certain evening last week while walking on the Niles road from Park Ridge. I had been detained in your town on matters of business until about 9 o'clock in the evening, and finding that I could not get a train to the city that night, I made up my mind to walk as far as Norwood Park, where I intended to remain over night with friends. Unfortunately I took the wrong road (as I was unacquainted with the locality) and went (as I afterward found) by the way of the "Point." Being in haste to reach my destination I walked briskly, lamenting my unfortunate predicament, and had gone perhaps a quarter of a mile or more, when suddenly I was confronted by what I took to be a highwayman in search of plunder. As I always go armed when traveling through the country my first impulse was to draw my revolver and fire, which I did, but contrary to my expectation the figure, or whatever you may be pleased to call it, remained in the same position, moving its arms and muttering incoherently. At I thought at the time I could not distinguish the word—Help! The eyes of this phantom, as it were, glimmered through the darkness like coals of fire, and I must confess, made the shudder, but as I have never been known to shrink duty from a sense of danger I reached out my arms and grasped—what—nothing. Right at this point I must confess I lost my wits entirely, and with a yell that would have done justice to a Comanche Indian I lit out for all I was worth with the creature in full pursuit behind me, nor did I stop until I reached the top of the hill which leads through the "Point." Just here the specter vanished, and I went on my way unmolested until I reached my friends at Norwood Park. More dead than alive I related my experience to my friends and it was not until that time that I heard of the two tragic deaths which have occurred recently between Park Ridge and the "Point," at about the place where this novel experience occurred to me. Now in conclusion I have no explanation to offer as to what manner of hobgoblin this was that gave me such a scare, but suffice it to say that I would not duplicate the experience for any amount of money. Yours, respectfully,

FRANK BICKERDYKE, CHICAGO, ILL.

World's Fair Notes.

CLEANED BY THE PARK RIDGE CORRESPONDENT.

Mrs. Potter Palmer Will Put the Finishing Touch on the Woman's Building With Hammer and Spike of Costly Make.

Mr. Potter Palmer, President of the Board of Lady Managers of the exposition, has already announced, will drive the last nail used in completion of the Woman's building. This nail will be furnished by the women of Montana, and will be a very wonderful one, as is indicated by this description of it, given by the Helena, Montana, Independent:

The nail has been so made as to form the backbone of a brooch, which is to be a shield bearing the coat of arms of Montana reproduced in native gold without a trace of alloy in its composition. The shield will be of gold, and the symbolical figures will be made of the same metal but of different color. The waterfall in the foreground will be of light-colored gold sunk into the shield, and the plow and pick, standing at the foot of the falls, will be of a darker shade, as will be the background or relief. The wreath surrounding the escutcheon will be of native gold, and the figures of the two men supporting the whole on either side will also be of the same rich, yellow gold. Underneath will be the scroll, bearing the motto of the State, "Oro y Plata." In the two upper portions of the wreath two Montana sapphires will be inserted. Instead of merely engraving the figures, each will be wrought separately and then fastened together, making the task of shaping the brooch not only a delicate, but exceedingly difficult one and one that will require much skill and patience.

To Mrs. J. E. Rickards of Butte belongs the credit of the happy idea of making the last nail one of such interest. In design the nail, which is being made by a Butte jeweler, will be the counterpart of an ordinary twelve-penny nail and will be composed of three strips with silver in the center and the gold and copper on either side. The nail and brooch are distinct articles and after the former has been driven it will be drawn from the wood, fastened to the brooch and the whole presented to Mrs. Palmer.

The women of Nebraska have undertaken to furnish the hammer with which this "last nail" will be driven. A description of the hammer has not yet been given, but it is the intention to make it worthy of the aristocratic nail with which it will be brought in contact by Mrs. Palmer. It has been made of the best of native Nebraska woods, made with gold, silver and pearl.

The Board of Trade of Columbia, S. C., has undertaken to see that an exhibit worthy of that State is made at the exposition.

The preparation of the educational exhibits from South Dakota and New Mexico has been entrusted to the women members of the respective State boards.

The Manufacturers' club of Philadelphia desires to erect a building in the exposition grounds, constructed entirely of material made by members of the club, with intent that it be headquarters for manufacturers, not only of Philadelphia, but of the entire country.

The total amount paid out up to Feb. 1, by Treasurer Seeberger, for construction and other expenses of the exposition was $3,572,891.

A number of influential Norwegians, residing in Chicago, have formed an association with the purpose of having a Norwegian artist paint a large picture representing Lief Erickson starting on his voyage of discovery of America, and also of erecting in Chicago a monument to the noted Norwegian discoverer. It is the intention to exhibit the painting in the Art Gallery of the exposition and to erect the monument in one of the Chicago parks.

The main world's fair buildings, exclusive of what will be necessary for their roofs and for their interior finishing, require 250,000 panes of glass and about 250 tons of paint. An expenditure of almost $500,000 is necessary for these items. The great Manufacturers building requires 50 tons of paint and 30,000 panes of glass of 26 different sizes, the average size being 27x44 inches. In the Transportation building will be 112 circular sashes, 12 feet in diameter, each containing 37 lights; and 65 semicircular sashes, 22 feet in diameter, having 60 lights each.

In the Electricity building there will be 40,000 panes of glass, or more than in any other exposition structure. This building will be especially conspicuous at night as, owing to its extensive glass surface, the brilliancy of the electrical exhibit will be strikingly visible from the outside.

The Administration building requires only 4,500 lights of glass, yet it will present finer artistic effects in glazing than will any other structure. The climax of ornamental glazing will be seen in a great ceiling sash in the mammoth dome, 200 feet above the floor of the rotunda. This will have 150 lights of many different sizes and of beautifully contrasted colors.

The contractors who are putting up the big steel trusses of the Manufacturers building are getting ready for the biggest "barn-raising" in history. There are twenty-seven main trusses, with a span of 380 feet and a height of 211 feet. They are fourteen feet wide at the floor and ten at the apex. These trusses, with the eight smaller gable trusses, weigh 10,800,000 pounds. The main trusses weigh about 350,000 pounds each, and they are to be raised in position from the floor. To handle these great iron structures a "traveler" is being constructed on the floor of the building, 50 feet by 260 feet and 120 feet high. On top of this "traveler" will be raised a central tower 125 feet high, so that the total height of this great lifting arrangement is 255 feet. It will weigh 730,000 pounds, and over half a million feet of lumber will be used in its construction. The floor of the building will not, of course, bear this great weight and the "traveler" will move on a track specially prepared for it. As much as is necessary of the floor will be torn up and three rows of piles will be driven to support the "traveler." When the work of raising the trusses is finished, this piling will be sawed off and the floor relaid. Another big "traveler" is being rigged on the floor of machinery hall to erect the iron work in that structure—a task scarcely less difficult.

WHERE IS THE SANITARY OFFICER?

The condition of the streets and alleys, sanitarily speaking, are in a horrible condition, and the people are wondering what has become of the Health officer, Mr. Birn. Some $1,950 was paid to the contractor to do the work, but for some reason no wagons appear, no work is done, and the stench from the alleys rises up to heaven. What is the matter Mr. Birn? Is the gentleman too busy in other wards to look out for his own, or what is the trouble? An old saying to the effect that charity begins at home would be well for him to remember.

Editor Norwood Park Sentinel:—
DEAR SIR—On Thursday night of last week a man, bareheaded, and apparently half frightened to death was met by a resident of this place looking for friends he claimed to have. He was well dressed and apparently in good circumstances. When questioned in regard to his identity he gave the name of Bickvedyke, and said he lived in Chicago. Further inquiry developed the fact that he had walked from Park Ridge, and by mistake had taken the wrong road. He said he had received a terrible scare while en route to this place, somewhere between Park Ridge and Niles, the nature of which he refused to divulge. The man was apparently perfectly sober, but was laboring under some great mental excitement. Can any one offer an explanation of this affair?

EXECUTED AT LAST.

John B. Lehman Hanged After Being Sentenced Five Times.

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 22.—Lehman, the order, whom three trials, a plea of insanity, application to the Supreme court for a writ of error, and appeal to the governor for a reprieve and to the board of pardons for a commutation of sentence failed to save, was executed at Custer City this morning. The execution of John B. Lehman attracted particular attention in the Black Hills country. It was the first legal hanging in the new State of South Dakota and the second legal hanging in the Black Hills country. Lehman had been arrested a number of times by the officials of Custer county, and in the opinion of some was being persecuted by them. When last arrested he declared openly that he would kill the next man who attempted to arrest him. Constable John Burns was given a warrant to arrest Lehman on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, and July 11, 1889, when he went to Lehman's cabin to serve it he was shot and killed. Lehman was tried in September, 1889, and sentenced to be hanged; retried and resented in September, 1890. The Supreme court sustained the decision of the lower court, and he was again sentenced. Last month he was again tried, this time solely as to his sanity. He was declared sane by a jury and sentenced for the fifth time, the sentenced which was to-day carried out.

BURNED BY MOLTEN STEEL.

Fatal Accident in the Edgar Thomson Steel Works Last Night.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 19.—An accident happened at the Edgar Thomson Steel works at midnight, in which two men were fatally injured, and another probably fatally burned. Their names are: John Fisher; John McCaffrey and John Ward.

Four men were on the platform in front of the steel converter No. 3, when a heat of steel was blown in. The converter turned over suddenly and the pit being full of steam, the men were unable to see the fiery hail descending upon them.

When the sparks fell a wild rush was made for the steps. Fisher fell down, striking his head on a red-hot ingot. He was unable to rise and was terribly burned by the flying steel. McCaffrey's clothing was burned off and his body was badly charred. Both will die.

Ward was also frightfully burned about the body and but slight hopes of his recovery are entertained.

TARIFFS AND TREATIES.

Report from British Foreign Office on French and United States Tariffs.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—In a report on the trade of France for the year 1891, issued from the foreign office to-day, Sir J. A. Crowe refers to the effect of the hostile tariff of the United States and the preparation of a very protective tariff in France.

In regard to the latter he says: "A year has been spent in strenuous effort to establish a new scale of custom duties which will be protective enough for each branch of the national trade, and yet not so protective as to give any one trade an advantage over the rest. The result of all this has been a series of compromises under which the first sufferer will be the consignor, the second sufferer the French consumer, and the third France herself as an exporting States."

SLEW HIS BETRAYER.

AN AMERICAN HUSBAND'S REVENGE IN PARIS.

Banker Deacon Finds a Prominent Frenchman in His Wife's Room and Puts Three Bullets into Him—The Couple Well Known in America.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—The American colony has been startled by a terrible tragedy which occurred at Cannes yesterday evening. Edward Parker Deacon, a citizen of the United States and a member of an important banking firm in this city, returned unexpectedly last night to the Hotel Splendide at Cannes, where he has been stopping during the winter with his wife. After exchanging a few words with the porter on duty, Mr. Deacon ran up stairs to his wife's bed-room, burst in the door and found her there in company with M. Emile Abelle, a Frenchman who was a friend of his.

After exchanging a few hot words with M. Abelle, Mr. Deacon pulled a pistol and shot the Frenchman, who fell to the floor mortally wounded. Deacon was arrested. Mrs. Deacon is still at the hotel with her four young children.

Mr. and Mrs. Deacon were leaders at all the social gatherings frequented by the very best people on the Riviera. They had always been admired by their friends and were looked upon as being a most happy, devoted couple, proud of their four young children and satisfied in every way with their condition in life. They seemed to be wealthy, lived in first-class style, and their names were to be found upon all the lists of subscribers to charitable or social funds.

Mrs. Deacon is said to be utterly prostrated with grief and shame, and to have threatened to take her own life. She had no idea that her husband would return so soon. She had parted with him on the understanding that he would remain in Paris for some days. Indeed, Mr. Deacon is said to have sent his wife a telegraphic message announcing his safe arrival in Paris and to have started back for Cannes immediately.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 19.—Edward Parker Deacon, the principal in the tragedy at Cannes, is a well-known Bostonian and a member of one of the old and wealthy families of this city. He is considered very wealthy. His father, Edward Deacon, was the owner of the famous old "Deacon House," which stood on the family estate on Washington street. Mrs. Deacon is a daughter of the late Admiral Baldwin and a wealthy woman in her own right.

MADE WEALTHY IN A MOMENT

Prospector Brandt Stumbled Upon a Mine of Fabulous Richness.

CREEDE, Colo., Feb. 22.—To-day as prospector Brandt was working over Bachelor Mountain he stumbled upon a find which raised him in a moment from comparative poverty to opulence. He had ascended an almost perpendicular wall and was nearly at the top when he noticed a crevice-like opening closed by a boulder. He pushed away the stone and found an opening large enough to admit his body. He entered, pushed forward, and after a few steps, was within a cavern, the roof of which, vaulted and hanging with stalactites, showed droppings of pure silver ore running $10,000 to the ton.

NINEVEH, Pa., Feb. 19.—George Grumbling, a prominent business man, while suffering from grip, broke a pane of glass in the window and deliberately sawed his throat over the jagged edges of the glass. Blood spurted over his clothes and the walls, but he persisted until he fell exhausted to the floor. When found he was unconscious. A physician was called, who sewed the wounds up, but while his back was turned the apparently dying man placed his head under the covers and tore out the stitches, lacerating the gaping wound afresh. Before anything could be done for him he was dead.

ALIEN LABOR IN WISCONSIN.

Pearl Button Manufacturers Arrested for Importing Workmen from Germany.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Feb. 20.—United States Marshal Oakley and Assistant Marshal Main arrested Christian Huebener and C. W. E. Sommermeyer, two of the principal owners of the Eau Claire pearl button factory, and brought them last night before Gen. Griffith, United States Circuit court commissioner, on the charge of violating the Federal contract labor law. The examination is in progress. The complaint was made by two discharged employees of the factories, William Voigt and Herman Hackenholz. Voigt's story is that Huebener, who went to Europe last fall, hired the witnesses and three other men in Germany and brought them to Eau Claire to work in the button factory. The defendants deny the charge. The two employees who make the complaint were discharged two weeks ago because they demanded more pay. They claim that Huebener paid them money on board the ship coming over so that they would have it to show at New York, to avoid being sent back, and also that he paid their traveling expenses.

AFTER HIS FORTUNE.

Numerous Claimants for the Wealth Possessed by an Iowa Hermit.

CRESTON, Iowa, Feb. 20.—A most remarkable case is that of Thomas Mulligan, the wealthy hermit who died some eighty days ago, leaving a large fortune with no known heirs. After death the body was embalmed and held for inspection of any heirs who might chance along. The newspapers got hold of the matter, and it was published broadcast over the land. In consequence the local authorities have since been flooded with letters from people claiming to be relatives to Mulligan, and a number of persons have presented themselves in person. The last claimant is James Herron of New Jersey, who arrived to-day. The body of Mulligan has been kept in the open air for eighty days, and the embalming is looked upon here as a phenomenal exhibition of skill, as the features are as life-like as the day Mulligan died.

A MOSQUITO'S BITE FATAL.

It Made a Surgical Operation Necessary and Under It the Boy Died.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 19.—Harry Randolph Daley, aged 9 years, lies dead at the Johns Hopkins hospital from the effects of a mosquito bite. He was bitten on the foot by a mosquito last summer while in Talbot county. The bite caused a slight swelling, but no special inconvenience at the time. About a week afterward the boy complained of a pain in his foot. This was followed by a swelling, which extended up the leg. Soon the groin became affected and a swelling made its appearance, which grew slowly but surely.

Three weeks ago the boy's parents brought him to the hospital, and the surgeon in charge concluded that an operation was necessary. It was too late, however. The boy, weakened with pain, could not withstand the shock and died immediately afterward. It is the first case of the kind ever reported here.

Albert, Marie and Charles, aged seven, six and two years, respectively, were burned with the building. Several prominent citizens were seriously burned while attempting the rescue of the little ones.

Departure in Fresh-Water Marine.

SAGINAW, Mich., Feb. 22.—Relative to the Delaware & Lackawanna's new route via the Ann Arbor road and the boat line between Keweenaw and Frankfort, it is learned that an important departure in the fresh-water marine will be made in the case of the new boat for which plans and specifications are now being prepared. The design is to construct an ice-crusher which will carry loaded cars clear across the lake, doing away with the necessity for loading or unloading. The boat is to have a capacity of twenty-four loaded freight cars, is to run winter as well as summer and is to be so fast that it can make the trip across the lake and back twice in twenty-four hours. It is to be completed by next fall and will be the first boat of the sort on Lake Michigan.

The case is a peculiar one, the land having been taken into the city since the injunction was started, and the council now claims control over the street in question.

CHINAMEN EXCLUDED.

RIGOROUS PROVISIONS OF A SENATE BILL.

To Continue in Force Ten Years—The Tariff Measure to Be Called Up at an Early Date—Some Presidential Appointments—Notes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The House was called to order by Mr. Kerr, its clerk, who read a communication from the Speaker designating Mr. McMillin of Tennessee as Speaker pro tem. for the day. In his prayer the chaplain invoked the divine protection of the Senators, Representatives, and members of the press in their trip to Chicago.

On motion of Mr. Funston of Kansas a resolution was adopted setting apart Saturday, March 19, for the delivery of eulogies upon Senator Plumb.

Silver came to the front again, but this time in a form that elicited no opposition from either the silver or anti-silver men. It came in the shape of a resolution from Mr. Bland providing for a reprint of the Silver bill and for printing 5,000 additional copies of the majority and minority reports.

Mr. Tracy of New York suggested that the number be increased to 10,000, and this suggestion met with Mr. Bland's approval, and as so amended the resolution was adopted.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the privat calender.

The first bill upon the calendar (which was laid aside) gave rise to some discussion, during which Mr. Reed of Maine made some of his characteristic remarks as to the advisability of counting a quorum from the members present and not voting. The Chairman and Mr. Reed thereupon had a short colloquy.

After some important business the House adjourned.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Owing to the fact that the Congressional excursion to Chicago was to start at an early hour in the afternoon the attendance of Senators at the opening of the proceedings in the Senate to-day was small.

Mr. Higgins offered a resolution requesting the President, if not incompatible with the public interests, to inform the Senate of the proceedings recently had between representatives of the Dominion of Canada and the British Government and the United States as to arrangements for reciprocal trade with Canada. He asked its immediate consideration. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

On motion of Mr. Dolph the bill to continue in force for ten years all existing laws prohibiting and regulating the coming into this country of Chinese persons was taken from the calendar and passed after a short discussion, in which Mr. Chandler (while not objecting to the bill) suggested that the subject was properly within the jurisdiction of the Committee on Immigration rather than of the Committee on Foreign Relations, from which it was reported, and inquired whether the latter committee intended to report any other legislation on the subject. To this inquiry Mr. Sherman, chairman of that committee, replied that so far as he knew it did not.

The bill as passed extending for ten years the operations of the Chinese exclusion laws is a substitute for a similar measure introduced by Senator Dolph. The bill has a wider scope than is indicated by its title, for, in addition to re-enacting the present exclusion laws, which are about to lapse, it contains a section intended to meet the difficulty the Treasury officials have encountered in returning Chinese to China through judicial decisions adverse to the right to return them further than to the country from which they entered the United States. Under his construction of the law, the Treasury returned a number of Chinese to Canada instead of to China, and they were soon again smuggled across the line, which it was impossible to guard at all times and places. Another new section provides severe penalties for the return to the United States of Chinese once sent out of the country.

Presidential Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The President has sent to the Senate the following nominations:

United States Consuls—Charles W. Erdman of Kentucky at Breslau; Joseph E. Hayden, District of Columbia, at Stockholm.

The complainant was Mrs. Elizabeth R. Gale, who is a plaintiff in a suit against Boyd for mal-practice. The jury disagreed in the first trial of the case, and a new trial was set. Mrs. Gale received a postal card bearing the doctor's signature, threatening her with imprisonment for blackmail if she did not give more truthful testimony in the next trial.

SCANDAL IN IOWA.

A Committee to Investigate Charges of Immorality Against Two Senators.

DES MOINES, Feb. 22.—The Senate Chamber was crowded this morning with people anticipating interesting developments as a result of the Fin row on the floor yesterday noon. The intemperance question was temporarily laid aside, and business began amid suppressed excitement, but proceeded quietly until the presentation of a resolution by Senator Mack, asking for an investigation by a committee of four into the charge that two Senators had been arrested in a house of ill-fame in the city last Saturday night. This resulted in considerable discussion.

Senator Parrott introduced a resolution firing Helvel, the man whom Fin assaulted yesterday, and excluding him from the privileges of the floor, for writing scurrilous articles about members of the Senate. Kelly objected, and the matter went over till next Tuesday.

Among the committee reports made in the House this morning was that of the World's Fair committee, recommending $200,000 for the Iowa exhibit.

Her lover left upon the same train, and the two have not been heard of since. It is thought that the two are now off on a wedding tour. The young woman's parents take the matter philosophically, and are, it is said, ready to give a parents' blessing.

A new changed contract is being presented. A competitive company will ask a franchise.

THE art of forgetting is the hardest to learn where it is most in request.
It is the happy past that makes a happy present, and together they give pledge of a happy future—a threefold
cord not easily broken.

THERE is generally no such thing as duty to the people who do it. They simply take life as it comes, meeting, not shirking its demands, whether pleasant or unpleasant; and that is pretty much all there is of it.

HABIT, if wisely and skillfully formed, becomes truly a second nature, as the common saying is; but unskillfully directed, it will be, as it were, the ape of nature, which imitates nothing to the life, but only clumsily and awkwardly.

"I NEVER heard of so many murders and terrible accidents when I was young," says the aged reader of the daily papers, and he straightway decides that the people are growing worse every day. He forgets that in those remote days the population of our country was much less than it is now, and newspaper space was limited,
and consequently the publishers
only inserted the news of the immediate locality in which it was printed, limiting it by the state, the county or often by the town.

COMPASSION is an emotion of which we ought never to be ashamed. Ever graceful, particularly in youth, it is the star of sympathy; and noble is the heart that melts at the tale of woe.
We should not permit ease and indulgence to contract our affections and wrap us up in selfish employment;
but we should accustom ourselves to think of the distresses of human life,
of the solitary sufferer, the sick couch,
and with tender hands and voice alleviate, as far as we may, the ills and sorrows of our common humanity.

THE gray melancholy sea—blue often and strangely beautiful—does not contain all the islands in which mankind are interested. Beyond the surging of the wildest sea, on the other side of the waters deep lie islands which have for many human hearts a profounder fascination than any or all of the numberless wave-girt spots of earth which fleck the bosom of our strange planet. We refer to the mysterious localities called "Slumber Islands," which are said to lie between the sunrise and the sunset. The islands where may be found for all of every age a most alluring, refreshing repose.

THE general desire of those who have interested themselves in the problems afforded by a study of this legislation has been that a nearer approach to uniformity should be made,
that the legislatures of the several states should frame laws of essentially the same character and that thus the incongruous and harmful complications of the marriage relation which are now possible should be prevented in the future. The public is sufficiently familiar with the nature of these complications, and does not need to be told how a very much married man in one state may not be married at all within the limits of another, and what interesting but vexatious and serious trouble is liable at any time to rise, whether owing to ignorance of the complexity of those various statutes or to deliberate design on the part of one of the parties to the marriage contract.

THE well-informed and the polished may charm the social and intellectual circles, may impart brilliancy to its conversation and piquancy to its wit;
or, in the wider world, they may attract by sparkling epigram, rhythmic period and fluent speech, and excite admiration within the breasts of the least impressive of their fellows;
but without education this is all mere superficiality and therefore of no practical value. The educated man alone holds the key to human hearts,
and he only can touch the consciences
and arouse the deepest sympathies of his fellows whether in the privacy of home, or in the broad arena of public life, and move them to noble effort and high ambition. The truth of this is so obvious that it may seem a wearisome repetition to state it again;
but the truth in regard to a subject of so great importance cannot be too frequently or too forcibly reiterated.

GLEANINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Frederick Miller, Esq., of Bigstone City, S. D., visited with friends and relatives here during the first of the week.
Henry Quintel of Schaumburg loaded a car of cattle at this place on Monday evening, when the train came along,
and while switching the train from the side track onto the main track, Mr.
Quintel started to go to the rear end of the train to get into the caboose, and in the darkness fell into a culvert breaking one of his limbs at the knee joint.

Mr. A. H. Fassett and wife of Chicago spent last Sunday here with relatives.

Mrs. Harriet Sleeper received a pension certificate on account of the death of her husband, Jas. T. Sleeper, allowing $8 per month. F. J. Filbert was her agent in the case.

W. J. Filbert started last Monday on an extended tour through the South,
stopping at Bay San Louis on the Gulf coast, thence through the principal parts of Florida, and probably to Mexico. He expects to be gone about four weeks.

The Consul Bros. will move into Dr.
Wadham's place, March 1st.

If you want to go to China, all you have to do is to walk on Brockway street, the principal business street in the village, then if any of the oldest citizens that have ever seen the street in the condition that it is in now, we would like to see them. Oh, for a sewer.

Elgin Butter Market.

ELGIN, Feb. 22.—Butter advanced somewhat over last week, with a strong market. Fifteen thousand four hundred and eighty pounds sold for 20 cents,
and 5,940 pounds sold for 29 1/4 cents.
Total sales $6,226. Last week's prices were 28 and 29 cents and a year ago 28 and 29 5/8 cents.

Mrs. Klocksen, of Blue Island, Ill., was in our village during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Andermann, who have been quite sick for the past three weeks, are improving.

Miss Minnie Gibbs is spending a few weeks in the sunny South.

Mr. R. L. Gibbs, of St. Paul, spent last Saturday and Sunday with his family here.

The only patriotic persons we noticed last Monday were a number of juveniles who celebrated the birthday of the Father of our Country by marching in the streets, carrying flags, and tested their lung power by hurrahing
for every body.

For rent or sale. The Christie place,
House, barn and five acres of land, by
T. J. Filbert, real estate agent.

DES PLAINES.

ley, Pastor; B. F. Kinder, Supt. Sunday School,

day school at 12 m. Prayer meeting on Wednesday evening, Young Peoples' meeting Sunday evening at 6:15.

tor; Mrs. H. H. Talcott, Sunday school Supt.,

evening at 7 o'clock. Sunday school at noon.

school at 11:30.

In the case of the people of the State of Illinois against Chandler for malicious misfeasance, Justice Sumner decided against Chandler by requiring him to give bonds in the sum of $500 for his appearance before the grand jury.
Chandler's attorney, Mr. Monroe, stated at the trial there was not enough evidence to convict a dog and then explained for an hour and a half in trying to prove it. He cited Supreme court decisions from nearly every State in the Union except Illinois, but Attorney Cutting in a ten minutes' speech seemed to brush his opponent's arguments away like cobwebs. Among other things he said that it was an unwarrantable act to steal out here in the dead of night and take away the only living thing in Riverview. If the Steam Logger company had pounced
upon the motive power of the Columbian Steel Car company it would not have been so much matter. This will be understood in a figurative sense, for the power of the Columbian Steel Car works is like a woodchuck in his hole
—non est get-at-able.

Dr. Curtis, the presiding elder of this district, will preach and administer the sacrament at the Methodist Church
next Sunday evening, Feb. 28.

The Rev. W. Lawrence addressed his congregation last Sunday afternoon on the subject of "Secret Societies." Several members of his church have lately joined the Foresters and as the Lutheran church is strongly opposed to secret organizations of any kind, the matter is likely to cause some trouble
in the congregation.

Thomas Edwards and family, of Chicago, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. F.
Edwards.

B. F. Kinder is putting up a new house on Parsons street. Conductor McDonald expects to occupy it when completed.

SIDEWALK ORDINANCE.

Mrs. Charles Parsons is one of the sufferers from the grip.
A number of citizens are trying to organize a social club here and fit up a hall where entertainments and social parties can be given as occasion requires. Committees have been appointed to look after the matter.

There was quite a representation
from Des Plaines at the big congregational gathering held at the Auditorium
last Thursday evening.

C. E. Jones started last Wednesday on his trip west for the benefit of his health, and expects to stay about a year on the Pacific coast. His many friends wish that he may return with his health completely restored.

The dime entertainment given by the Des Plaines Literary association at the Methodist church on the evening of Washington's birthday was well attended. The room was decorated with the stars and stripes, and on the wall back of the pulpit hung a portrait of the Father of his Country. The program was a good one considering the short time spent in preparation.
Lonis Wolfrom, president of the association, was chairman of the occasion, and the following was the order of exercises: Organ solo, Miss Alice Bennett; prayer, Rev. James Mailey; address, Rev. H. Gill; recitation, Miss Virginia Jefferson; vocal duet,
"Zerita," Misses Hettie and Alice Bennett; recitation, Price Allison;
reading, "Bells of Shilmon," Rev. Jas.
Mailey; male quartette, "Speed Away,"
L. J. Quantrell, H. C. Allen, Hobart and Bruce Allison; organ and cornet duet, "Evening at Home," Miss Jessie Curtis and E. J. Meyer; reading, Miss Mary Longley; patriotic glee, Rev. H.
Gill and family. The exercises closed with "America," sung by the entire audience, after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the ladies in the side room. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the reading room.

SIDEWALK ORDINANCE.

[Special Taxation No. 35.]
BE IT ORDAINED, BY THE PRESI-DENT and Board of Trustees of the Village of Norwood Park:

SEC. 1. That a sidewalk be constructed and laid in the Village of Norwood Park, upon and along the north side of Norwood avenue from Western avenue
westerly to village limits.
Said sidewalk to be five feet in width,
and the boards used in its construction shall not be less than one inch thick and of the same uniform thickness in the same piece or strip of sidewalk. Where two pieces or strips of sidewalks meet they pediment to the feet in walking thereon, and as near as may be in the same plane at the point of contact or union.

SEC. 2. Said sidewalk shall be laid on four stringers not less in their dimensions than two by six inches. The two outer stringers shall be four inches from the respective edges of said walk, the distance between the two outside stringers to be divided equally by the two remaining stringers, and they all shall be in the same plane and be permanently and firmly blocked or supported in position. The said stringers shall be so laid as to break joints, and no
two joints shall be nearer to the same board than four feet (excepting at the end of a sidewalk), and said joints shall be held together by fastening a piece of board securely to the sides of said stringers.

SEC. 3. Said sidewalk, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Trustees, shall be laid with the inner line or edge four feet distant from the front of the lot or lots along which it is built or constructed, and parallel therewith.

SEC. 4. The boards, stringers or timbers used in the construction of the said sidewalk shall be good, sound, merchantable
lumber of the grade known as first common, and shall not be more than ten tion of the foregoing described sidewalk to be under the supervision and subject to the approval of the Sidewalk Inspector of the Village of Norwood Park.

parcels of land touching the line of said
sidewalk as proposed, shall construct a sidewalk in front of their respective lots or parcels of land in accordance with the specifications hereinbefore set forth, within thirty days after this ordinance shall have been posted in three public places in said Village of Norwood Park, and in default thereof the materials therefor shall be furnished and said sidewalk shall be constructed by the Village of Norwood Park.
The cost of the construction and laying of said sidewalk, as aforesaid, shall be paid for by special taxation of the lot, lots or parcels of land touching upon the line of the proposed sidewalk, by levying the whole of the cost thereof upon such lot, lots or parcels of land in proportion to their frontage on said proposed sidewalk.

SEC. 7. A bill of the cost of said sidewalk, showing in separate items the cost of grading, laying down and supervision shall be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Village of Norwood Park, certified to by the Sidewalk Inspector of said village, together with a list of the lots or parcels of land touching upon the line of said sidewalk, the names of the owners thereof, and the frontage thereof as well. Whereupon the said Village Clerk shall prepare a special tax list against said lots or parcels of land and the owners thereof, ascertaining by computation the amounts of special tax to be charged against each of said lots or parcels and the owners thereof, on account of the construction of said sidewalk, in proportion to the frontage of each of said lots on said sidewalk, which special tax list the Clerk of the Village of Norwood Park shall place on file in his office; and the said Vil-

known to him, and the amount due and unpaid upon such tract, together with a copy of this ordinance, in the manner prescribed by Section Four (4) of the Act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, entitled
"An act to provide additional means for the construction of sidewalks in cities, towns

MY MOTHER'S HAND.

Each beautiful, beautiful hand! They're neither white nor small. And you, I know, would scarcely think that they were fair at all.

QUIXARVYN'S RIVAL.

The battle of Sedgemoor had been fought and lost. Night had come again, and in the old gray church of Western Zoyland five hundred of the beaten rebels lay imprisoned.

Quixarvyn watched him. In the dim light in which they sat he could not see the features of the portrait, but he guessed how the case stood.

"Poor fellow!" he said, with more tenderness than would have been expected from his looks.

"What?" he said, "have you also the same trouble—a poor girl who will go distracted when she hears what has happened to you?"

"No," said the other bitterly, "she will not go distracted; she has had enough of me. And I shall have the pain of dying unrevengeed upon the knave who robbed me of her."

Quixarvyn drew a portrait from his breast and held it out to his companion.

"Look," he said, "is this the face to jilt a man?" though it is one to drive him crazy. Let me look at yours—it is not more innocent, I dare swear.

The young man took the portrait and at the same time handed him his own. Each looked in silence at the portrait in his hand—in a silence of amazement of stupefaction.

Both men sprang to their feet at the same instant, and stood glaring at each other. At that moment there was heard outside the church the rattle of a drum.

Only the rattle of a drum. But the sound struck them motionless as figures turned to stone. Nor was the effect on their companions less remarkable.

The guards set instantly to work to prepare the first batch of prisoners to be led out of the church. Dare and Quixarvyn were among the first seized.

"I know those two," he said, pointing to them with his finger. "Pity two such fellows should be done for."

One of them is the best runner in the country side, and the other the best rider."

"Eh? What?" said Feversham, standing up in his stirrups. "Hold there a moment, sergeant. I spy a chance for gallant sport. What say you, Major?—a race between these two across the moor, the one on foot, the other mounted. Will you back the runner?"

The major was a man of some humanity. He reflected for a moment. "Agreed!" he said. "And to insure that both shall do their best let the winner have the promise of his life."

Out upon the moor, about a quarter of a mile away, stood a solitary tree. This was selected as the starting point. A double line of troopers was drawn up, stretching from the tree to the spot where the general was stationed, leaving a space between them like a racecourse, some yards wide.

In the meantime a trooper had dismounted, and Quixarvyn, armed with whip and spur, having taken his place in the saddle, the horse was led by a couple of soldiers to the starting point. Unlike his rival, Quixarvyn's face showed no elation.

At the same instant the horse and man shot out together from the mark. At first the runner, practiced in flying from the start, and having less momentum than the horse, drew out in front. In a few seconds he was some ten yards in front. Then the gap between them ceased to widen; then it was seen to be decreasing; the horse was gaining—slowly at first, but gaining surely, stride by stride.

When half the course was covered the horse was drawn up level, and then came such a race as had never yet been seen. For a hundred yards or more the two ran locked together, side by side, the runner almost flying over the crisp turf, the horse stretched out in a fierce gallop, with the rider standing in the stirrups. And now the goal was but fifty yards away; but the gazers drew a deep breath as they saw that now the horse was gaining—was drawing out in front. For one instant it seemed that all was over; and next, to their amazement, they were conscious that the horse was falling.

Then they saw a gallant sight; they saw the runner nerve himself for a last effort, and close upon the goal, dash past the horse and past the judges and fall headlong on the turf.

The winner, who had fallen panting and exhausted, was raised into a sitting posture by two troopers, one of whom poured a draught of brandy down his throat. The spirit almost instantly revived him, and in a few seconds he was able, though still weak and dizzy, to stand upon his feet and look about him.

A few paces off his beaten rival stood beside his horse. Dare looked at him, and their eyes met. Quixarvyn's face bore an almost imperceptible smile; but it was not this, but something in his look which the other could not have defined, which struck him backwards like a shock. He staggered back a pace or two, bewildered by the light which broke upon his mind.

Then he stepped up to his rival's side, and the guards, who saw no cause to interfere, falling back a little, he put his mouth close to Quixarvyn's ear.

"You pulled that horse!" he said. Quixarvyn looked at him, but answered not a word.

"You let me win," the other went on, his voice breaking. "For her sake you did it."

Quixarvyn drove his nails into his palms; he had acted, he was acting, not without a bitter cost.

"Make her happy," he said, briefly. As he spoke he turned away, and strode swiftly to his old position at the head of the line of prisoners, before which the firing party was again drawn up.

Dare turned his back upon the scene and thrust his fingers in his ears. Nevertheless he could still hear with wonderful distinctness the sergeant's loud, clear voice, with an interval between the words—

"Ready!" "Present!" "Fire!"

Almost as the word was given came the crash of the report. Moved by an impulse which he could not conquer, he turned round with a shudder. The soldiers were lowering their smoking muskets, and a thick white cloud hung above the line of prisoners stretched upon the ground. At the extremity of the line Quixarvyn lay upon his face, with his right hand clenched upon a portrait which he had taken from his breast and a bullet through his heart.—San Francisco Examiner.

Musical Note. At the Yergor mansion at an evening sociable a musical young lady played and sang a piece called "Sylvan Sounds," in which the singing and notes of the mocking-bird and lark were imitated.

AN INGENIOUS CIPHER.

How the Friends of a French Thief Got Themselves Into Jail.

Some years ago the friends of a Parisian thief adopted a decidedly unique method of carrying on a clandestine correspondence with him while he was awaiting trial, says the Chicago News. One day the jailer was visited by the prisoner's betrothed, who asked to give her lover an envelope. This, upon being opened, was found to contain simply a small lock of her hair, around which was folded a leaf of a book. The jailer did not consider it worth his while to deliver this souvenir to the culprit, and therefore threw it aside.

A day or two later a similar enclosure was handed in at the prison gate, and shared the fate of the predecessor. In the course of a week another was left by the same person. This aroused the suspicion of the governor of the prison, to whom had been detailed the circumstances. He determined to investigate the meaning, and accordingly, first examined the printed leaf. This he found, was torn from a novel, and contained twenty-six lines on each side.

He then turned his attention to the hair, and discovered that there were twenty-six pieces of unequal length. This puzzled him for a while, and, then suddenly jumping to the conclusion that there must be some connection between the numbers of the printed lines and the number of hairs, he laid each of the latter along the line of the page they respectively reached, beginning with the shortest hair at the top of the leaf.

After changing them about several times he discovered that each hair pointed to a different letter, and the combination thus produced formed a slang sentence, by means of which the prisoner was given to understand that his friends had ascertained the day on which he was to be taken to court and were determined to make a bold attempt to rescue him as soon as he made his appearance.

Taking the cue, the governor adopted every precaution to frustrate the well-laid plans of the outsiders; the attempt was made, and as a natural consequence the conspirators soon found themselves in the same condition as the one for whom they had planned the rescue.

THE SIZE OF ALLIGATORS.

One Reptile Caught Measured Twenty-Two Feet.

I have seen numerous specimens of oursaurian no longer than an ordinary lead-pencil, says a writer in the Century; this was in the season of their hatching. I have also seen a few living specimens about sixteen feet in length. In the summer of 1875 I obtained from the late Effingham Lawrence, member of congress and commissioner from Louisiana to the Centennial exhibition, the dried skin of an alligator which, after at least fifteen inches had been cut from the snout and skull, and ten inches from the end of the tail, still measured seventeen feet ten inches in length. Allowing more than six inches for shrinkage in drying, this monster of his kind, alive, must have measured more than twenty feet. He was killed in the lower part of Bayou Lafourche.

Probably the largest alligator ever seen in Louisiana was killed in a small lake on the plantation of H. J. Feltus in Concordia Parish. According to the statement of Mr. Feltus, now of Baton Rouge, this specimen measured twenty-two feet in length. The great reptile has long been famous for miles around, having destroyed numbers of hogs and hounds owned in the neighborhood of his retreat. He had become so wary, from the number of ineffectual shots fired at him, as to be almost unapproachable. Finally he fell a victim to a long shot fired from a Mississippi rifle in the hands of Mr. Feltus, who had persevered in hunting him, having been the greatest loser by his depredations. The huge carcass of this reptile was towed to the bank by a boat. It required the strength of a pair of mules and a stout rope to haul it ashore, where the measurement was made with the result noted above.

El Dorado Was a Man.

There is nothing obscure in the etymology of the Spanish phrase El Dorado, which means literally "The Gilded," yet to such an extent has it been abused that few know that it originally related to a man and not to a country. In the latter sense it has been applied to almost every gold-bearing district encountered in America since the discovery; and there is scarcely a mining camp in California but has named its richest lode or most popular resort, whether grog shop, billiard saloon or theater, "El Dorado."

As early as the sixteenth century it served to designate an imaginary region abounding in gold and precious stones somewhere upon the Isthmus of Panama, near its western boundary; but prior to this acceptance it had become a synonym for the most remarkable legend of the New World, the supposed eastern proximity of which invested its unexplored territory with the glamour of oriental romance. The term was, indeed, an application of royalty, and El Dorado, perhaps, a veritable king, whose daily attire is said to have been a simple coating of aromatic resins followed by a sprinkling of gold dust blown through bamboo cane.—Panama Star.

Strength in Building.

A comparatively new system of construction, the invention of M. Monier, is being applied to the building of houses, bridges, fortifications, reservoirs, sewers, etc. It consists of a network of iron rods covered with cement concrete, and the remarkable feature in connection with it is the great strength of the constructed material relatively to its weight.

A prominent Louisville physician was recently heard giving the following sage advice to a young student: "Never, never, send in a bill for odd dollars and cents. For instance, suppose my bill for some particular case amounts to $450. Instead of making it for that amount, I make it an even $500 and get it. A man would just as soon pay that as the odd $50, and in nine cases out of ten he will grumble at the former bill and pay the latter without a murmur.

The largest oak now standing in England is the "Crowthorpe," which measures seventy-eight feet in circumference at the ground. At one time this tree and its branches covered more than an acre of space. The gigantic old "Parliamentary oak" in Clipstone park, London, is believed to be 1,500 years old. The tallest oak on the British isles is called the Duke's Walkingstick. It is higher than the spire of Westminster Abbey. The oak of Gelemos, which was felled in 1810, realized $4,350 for its owner; the bark was sold for $1,000 and the trunk and branches for $3,350 more.

CHICAGO AMUSEMENTS

A List of Chicago's Most Popular Theaters.

M'VICKER'S—RHEA.

The play to be presented on next Monday evening, Feb. 29, at McVicker's theater, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees, by Rhea and her excellent company, is new to this country and is called "La Czarina." It is a very recent translation from the pen of the once noted playwright, Eugene Scriver. In this latest contribution to the historical drama, Rhea will impersonate Catharine I., Empress of Russia, and this lovely character will be presented in a light new to the readers of history. There are very few historical lives that so appeal to the sympathies as the story of Catharine. She was young, very beautiful, and Czar Peter loved her very much; but his tyrannical spirit dominated, and he was cruel to her at times. In her court was a young Count, Sapiha by name, who loved Catharine for her goodness and her nobleness of character. Well, suffice it to say, that this play hinges on this particular love episode, which makes it a pretty, interesting love story, giving Rhea a grand opportunity to show her tragic and emotional qualities as an actress; also Mr. Harris to demonstrate his talents as a character actor. It is a companion play to Rhea's "Josephine," presented here many times, but critics say it surpasses it in dramatic quality. At any rate the theater going public of this city can judge for themselves at Rhea's presentation in this city.

CHICAGO OPERA-HOUSE.

"The Cadi" for one week beginning Sunday, Feb. 28, 1892. "The Cadi," a comedy in three acts, by the well-known humorist, Bill Nye, who stands alone in his line in this country, and whose name is so well known that the simple announcement of "The Cadi" coming to Chicago should attract more than usual attention. No man living has caused so much laughter as Bill Nye. His letters are published all over the country and are enjoyed by hundreds of thousands of people each week. The story of "The Cadi" is taken from Bill Nye's own life while Justice of the Peace, Postmaster and Chairman of the School Board, when the famous writer was located in Wyoming Territory, during the late President Arthur's administration. It is a brand new novelty and is said to be unlike anything ever seen on any stage. "The Cadi" as a character is considered to be as strong as Raymond's "Colonel Sellers," Sothern's "American Cousin," or Denham Thompson's "Uncle Josh." The play comes to us almost direct from New York, where it ran for one hundred and twenty-five nights at the Union Square theater, and not only made a success financially, but received the unanimous praise of press and public. The cast, the scenery and properties will be the same here in Chicago as it was in New York City.

"Sinbad" returns to the Chicago opera house, Sunday, March 6, for the last three weeks it will ever be seen in Chicago.

It is with no small degree of pleasure that Manager Havlin notifies the patrons of his cozy home-like theater of the engagement for one week, beginning with the matinee Sunday, Feb. 28, of that charming emotional actress, Effie Ellsler, in her famous roll of Hazel Kirke, in the play of that title. It is now three years since Miss Ellsler was seen in Chicago in this role, and it was a wise movement on the part of Mr. Havlin to secure her in the revival of this most popular and successful play; a play that has made millions of people laugh and cry. Miss Ellsler, as is well known to all theatergoers, is the young and talented actress who was for so long a time identified with the Madison Square theater, New York, as leading lady, and whose pathos, grace and artistic rendering of the part of "Hazel Kirke" in the play of that name, gave the piece the phenomenal run of two years at the above theater. Miss Ellsler is wise in seeking to avail herself of such widespread favor, and to return as she has for this season to her former triumph. She is also wise in the selection of her company, having engaged, as far as possible, the members of the original cast, more particularly the veteran C. W. Coudock, who, as the original Dunstan Kirke, every one who has ever seen him will not fail to remember. Frank Weston, the original Pittacus Green, is also in the cast. Miss Ellsler's appearance at Havlin's will undoubtedly be a brilliant occasion.

CASINO.

Haverly's Mastodon minstrels is becoming the talk of Chicago. The excellence of their performances at the Casino-Eden Musee is endorsed by the city press, and the very liberal patronage of the amusement-seeking public. The theater has also become a favorite family resort, the matinees being attended by delighted throngs of ladies and children, who, after exploring the wonders of the musee and inspecting the beautiful works of art, wend their way to the hall at the hour of minstrel performance and "take in" the sweet music of the singers and the funny acts of the comedians. Mr. Haverly, ever on the alert to strengthen his already excellent program, has secured the services of Mr. Banks Winter, the most foremost tenor singer on the minstrel stage, and an author and composer known all over the country. His famous song "White Wings" has had the greatest sale of any song ever published. Mr. Winter appears the coming week, in addition to Lincoln Ellwood, the wonderful male soprano, Billy Rice, E. M. Hall, Harry Budworth, E. M. Kayne, Percy Denton, A. M. Thatcher and other favorites. There are two performances every day—2:30 and 8:15 p. m.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

DON'T FAIL TO VISIT

Libby Prison, Wabash avenue, between Fourteenth and Eighteenth streets. A wonderful exhibition of Historic relics. Open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m., Sundays included.

THOMAS CONCERTS

William Ludwig, the great basso who charmed the musical public by his singing of the part of Mephisto in the Apollo club's performance of Berlioz' "Faust," will be the soloist at the Theodore Thomas concert that is to be given at the Auditorium on Friday afternoon, the 26th, and Saturday evening, the 27th. Mr. Ludwig is one of the greatest living basses, his impressive voice being cultivated in the highest degree. At this concert he will sing a recitative and aria from Wagner's "Flying Dutchman," and another aria to be announced later. The instrumental program will be a great treat. The numbers will be the Wagner "Flying Dutchman" overture; Rubinstein's "Ocean" symphony; Schumann's "Genoveva" overture; and the Beethoven Septet, opus 20, in three movements. The Rubinstein symphony is the expression of an artistic temperament fully imbued with the love of nature, its grandeur and its beauty. In its melody it is peculiarly rich and breathes the spirit of Beethoven. Its treatment is broad and poetic, broadening into solemn grandeur as the movement proceeds. It places the composer in the front rank of later symphony writers. The Beethoven Septet is a charming work, and will divide with the "Ocean" symphony the chief attraction of the program.

MADISON STREET OPERA-HOUSE.

The Madison Street opera-house is still in the lead in a business way and according to the box-office receipts and Manager Jack's verdict is taking "nothing but money." The May Russell Burlesque company opened the second last week of its engagement Sunday, 21st, to two overflowing houses, the "standing room only" sign being hung at 8 p. m. at night and 2 in the afternoon.

A goodly number of Chicago's visiting statesmen were among the Sunday night's audience, and it is said that Miss Russell had made arrangements to present the Hon. Jere Simpson with a red pair of silks which heretofore adorned her own fair limbs, but the sociable seer, having heard of the proposed presentation, fled to the shades of Medicine lodge. Miss Russell's company is an excellent one in every sense, and gave two bright burlesques interspersed with many funny specialties. The Misses Batchelor, Von Berg, Ferguson and Stewart are handsome good singers, splendid dancers, and bright burlesquers, and the comedians, Ferguson, Bellamy, Fish and Richmond are too witty for any use. The whole show is faultless and is a fair sample of the productions to be produced hereafter at the Madison street house.

PEOPLE'S.

Beginning with the matinee next Sunday the People's will present the sensational melodrama "777," with A. W. Fremont in the title role. There is a considerable amount of excitement in "777." The rivalry of two young Southerners of opposite characteristics for the affections of a half-breed Indian girl leads to a murder and by a rather ingenious chain of circumstances, the inamorata is led to denounce the good young man for an assassination committed by his bad rival. The second act plays in the prison at Baton Rouge, and a strong comedy element is introduced, while the melodramatic interest is heightened. A particularly clever scene is that in the last act wherein the half-breed girl contrives to learn the identity of the murderer. Mr. Clifton's play has a number of well-drawn characters, and its incidents are more than usually original.

NEW WINDSOR.

Commencing Sunday, Feb. 28, and for one week only, Webster and Brady's "The Bottom of the Sea." Never before in the history of dramatic construction has the subject now presented for your considerate approval been attempted. Yet it is a positive fact that the production of "The Bottom of the Sea" realizes the acme of careful study and preparation of an elaborate and costly presentation will be given. The following organizations are now touring through the United States and Canada under William A. Brady's direction: "The Bottom of the Sea," "After Dark," "Hobby Gaylor in Sport McAllister, One of the 400," "Glemenceau Case" and Mr. Joe Grismer and Phoebe Davis in a new play companion to "Alabama" by Clay Green and Augustus Thomas.

CLARK STREET THEATER.

The beautiful romantic Irish drama entitled "The Fairies' Well" will be the coming week's attraction at this handsome and favorite North Side theater beginning with the matinee next Sunday, Feb. 28. It will be interpreted by a talented company, introducing new and delightful features. Special and appropriate scenery will also add to the meritorious production.

CENTRAL MUSIC-HALL.

The last recitals. Paderewski's last Chicago recitals. Five (5) piano recitals. Saturday afternoon, March 5; Monday afternoon, March 7; Thursday evening, March 10; Friday afternoon, March 11; Saturday afternoon, March 12. Seats now at the Central Music-Hall.

HOOLEY'S.

The Comedy Sensation—"A Night's Frolic." All fun. Helen Barry and her company, last nights. Monday next—Rosina Vokes. The Rose (new). That Lawyer's Fee (new). A Double Lesson.

A Lumberman's Rendezvous.

This term might be applied to Stevens Point, located on the Wisconsin Central Lines, at the gateway to the vast forest region, which extends North to Lake Superior, a distance of 200 miles without a break, on account of its vast lumber interests. The Wisconsin River, to which the lumbermen have given the familiar and somewhat affectionate title of "Old Wisconsin," not alone acts as a lumber feeder to the city by furnishing through its numerous tributaries an outlet for thousands of acres of pine in the upper country, but it furnishes a water power that is second only to that of Neenah and Menasha, which cities are also located on the "Central." Millions of feet of lumber are cut every year, giving employment to hundreds of men. In addition to the lumber trade, it has numerous other manufacturing; it is here where the large car shops of the Wisconsin Central Lines are located.

UNITED STATES COURT.

An Editor Acquitted of the Charge of Printing a Lottery Advertisement. Joseph Mueller, who was charged with having published a lottery advertisement in the Dodge County Pioneer, at Mayville, was acquitted in the United States Court yesterday. The case is an important victory for the Louisiana State Lottery. It was charged that a certain notice that appeared in the paper, which is a German weekly was an advertisement under the new law forbidding the mailing of publications containing lottery advertisements. The card read as follows:

CONRAD! CONRAD! CONRAD!
Card to the Public.

While it is true that I have been elected president of the Louisiana State Lottery company, vice M. A. Dauphin, deceased, I am still president of the Gulf Coast Ice and Manufacturing company, and all orders for material, machinery, etc., as well as all other letters should be addressed to me as before, PAUL CONRAD, box 1,358, New Orleans.

Gen. E. S. Bragg of Fond du Lac defended Mueller, arguing that the advertisement did not come within the scope of the statute. The jury was out but a few minutes.—Milwaukee (Wis.) Sentinel, Feb. 3.

"How did the surprise party go off last night?" "Double-quick time. The surprised people thought they were burglars, and turned the house on them."—Harper's Bazar.

Frangle—"It seems to me very strange that Mrs. McJunkin should lavish so much affection on that homely pug dog." Cums—"You ought to see her husband."—Epoch.

Architect—"And on these panels you wish, I believe, the double convolute." Mrs. Nouveau—"Oh, no, indeed! I said I wanted just a plain wiggly running down each side."—Harper's Bazar.

He took her hand tenderly. "A ring would look sweet on that little finger," he said—"an engagement ring." "It isn't the fashion to wear engagement rings on the little finger," she replied, drawing her hand away.—Harper's Bazar.

Tom Bigbee—"Howell Gibbon has a new English overcoat, and when he comes around tell him it doesn't fit. Just for a joke." G. Washington Smith—"But I don't want to tell a lie." Tom Bigbee—"You won't have to.—Fack.

Featherstone—"Do you believe in ghosts?" Travers—"Well, for years I have been living in a haunted house." Featherstone—"You don't tell me! Who was it haunted by?" Travers—"By my tailor."—Clothier and Furnisher.

"For the love of heaven, Amanda," said Rev. Dr. Fourthly, calling to his wife in tones of thunder, "come and take this squalling baby out of the room before she drives me crazy! I'm writing a sermon on 'Bearing one another's burdens.'"—Tid-Bits.

Teacher—"Now, Johnny, you understand the difference between ancestors and descendants, do you not? The one comes before and the other after us." Johnny—"Yeth em. My ma ith a de-tendant." Teacher—"Not at all. You've got it just wrong." Johnny—"Noma. She'th alwayth comin' after me."—Boston Post.

JOCULAR AND JOLLY.

"You are a great orator; there is no mistaking it," said one congressman to another. "But you put me in mind of a great many railroads." "How?" "You are sadly in need of a terminal facility."—Washington Star.

Miss Beauty—"Fido is just the funniest dog. When I sing he wags his tail; but when I play the piano he sits right up on his haunches and howls." Rival Belle—"Well, I think myself you sing rather better than you play."—Good News.

Uncle John—"Well, my little dear, I suppose you bought lots and lots of pretty things with that money I gave you?" Wee-Niece, just from shopping—"Why, no, Uncle John, only one. It took every bit of it to buy my doll an opera-glass." "Well, I declare! Why did you buy your doll an opera-glass?" "Because she hadn't any."—Good News.

"My darling," she murmured, "you know that I love you. It is not enough for the present! Be assured that I will set a day for the wedding as soon as possible." "That's all right, Miranda," doggedly replied the young man, "but I hope you will remember that I've got to be married in this dress suit, and it won't last forever."—Clothier and Furnisher.
