AN OLD SETTLER GONE.

In the Death of G. W. Waterman Barrington Mourns the Loss of an Esteemed Citizen.

Mr. G. W. Waterman died at his late home, in Hawley street, at 4:10 o'clock Monday morning. The immediate cause of his death was inflammation of the bowels, but at the post-mortem examination, conducted by Drs. Richardson and Kendall, it was discovered that Mr. Waterman had been suffering with cancer of the liver.

The deceased first complained of being ill Thursday afternoon, and Dr.

G. W. WATERMAN.

Richardson was hastily sent for. The physician seeing that his patient was in a critical condition called Dr. Best of Arlington Heights and Dr. Pelton of Elgin in consultation, but the patient grew rapidly worse and died on Monday morning, surrounded by his loved ones.

Mr. Waterman was one of the oldest settlers of the Town of Barrington. He was a gentleman who was beloved by all who knew him.

The last sad rites were conducted at the M. E. church Wednesday afternoon, Rev. T. E. Ream officiating. The church proved inadequate to accommodate the large number of sorrowing friends and acquaintances who came to pay their respects to the deceased. Interment took place at Evergreen cemetery.

BIOGRAPHY OF MR. WATERMAN AS DELIVERED BY REV. REAM AT THE OBSEQUIES.

"Mr. George W. Waterman was born at North Adams in the State of Massachusetts, November 17th, 1826, and died at his own home in the village of Barrington at 4 o'clock Monday morning, July 27th, 1896, having lived 69 years 8 months and 10 days.

"In the year of 1842, Mr. Waterman being 16 years of age, left the home of his boyhood in Massachusetts and with his parents and other members of his father's family moved to Illinois and settled in the town of Barrington, where he lived until the time when God called him in death to his eternal reward. Having lived in this section of the country for more than fifty-three years Mr. Waterman is not only counted as one of the old settlers but he has been well known by a great many friends and acquaintances in Northern Illinois for many years, and now they count one less on earth, but one more in heaven.

"In 1852, June 2d, Mr. Waterman was united in marriage to Miss Alvina Applebee, and from this marriage three children were born, all of whom are still living.

"His wife having died Nov. 21, 1886, Mr. Waterman was again united in marriage, on April 10th, 1888, to Mrs. Rhoda Richardson of Barrington, who survives her husband.

"Those who in this dark hour of death are bereft of a husband, a father and a brother, and are called upon to endure this sad affliction in the deepest of mourning are his wife, Mrs. Rhoda Waterman; his sons, Mr. F. L. Waterman of Barrington and Mr. Jay Waterman of Barrington Center, and his two brothers, Mr. Chas. H. Waterman of Petersburg and Mr. Monroe Waterman of Elgin.

"Beside his grandchildren and more distant relatives the entire community is clothed in the sack-cloth and ashes of mourning, because of the departure of one who was esteemed and loved by all. Earth to many of us seems less but heaven seems more.

"Mr. Waterman's life needs no eulogy, for as he walked and talked in our midst—met us in our homes, on the street or in the church of Christ—his soul was eloquent with the sentiment of Christian manhood and an unswerving conviction of uprightness.

"To say that he was a loving husband, a kind father, a sympathetic brother and neighbor is indeed but a mild statement. But today, as we are called upon to stand in the presence of God and man, and the living and the dead, the very best thing that can be truly said of our departed brother is that he was a Christian man and died in the faith of the Gospel of Christ.

"He loved his Bible—this grand old book of the ages—he loved to pray and commune in spirit with his God—he loved his Christian brothers and sisters and all his neighbors—he loved and was loyal to the church of Christ, sacrificing and working for its success. He was indeed faithful until death, and according to the promise has gone to receive a crown of life.

"During the sickness which caused his death he was called upon to pass through much severe suffering, but he was clothed in his right mind until near to the end, and calling the loved ones remaining about his dying bed he bid them goodbye before he took his journey Home. But for the suffering here, greater joy awaits Yonder; for the anguish here, more happiness in Heaven.

"He will be missed in the home, the community and the church, but if we be permitted to know the destiny of the just, he has gone to a fairer home—a sainted community, and the church triumphant, which is blameless before the throne of God.

"Sorrow shrouds every life; anguish rends every soul; storms threaten every journey; but death to the righteous man is the great common healer and blessing which clears the mysteries of human existence. Now, sorrows are impossible; tears are not known; sighs are never heard. Our brother's hard toil is over; his work is done—well done; a lip is closed; the battles are fought. We mourn, but on the other shore they rejoice. No familiar voice; a vacant chair. The presence of a husband, a father and brother has departed from the world forever, but we shall see him as he is.

"Born into the world above,
They our happy brother greet.
Bear him to the throne of love,
Place him at the Saviour's feet.
Jesus smiles and says: Well done,
Good and faithful servant thou!
Enter and receive thy crown,
Reign with me triumphant now!"

SCORES A VICTIM.

William Biesenthal is Stricken Down from the Effects of the Warm Weather.

The extreme hot weather of the past week claimed one victim in this community.

On Thursday afternoon while William Biesenthal was assisting at stacking grain on the farm of Fred Hobein he was suddenly seen to stagger, and Mr. Hobein shouted to him to look out as he might fall. As Mr. Hobein uttered the warning Mr. Biesenthal fell over unconscious. Medical aid was at once summoned, and Dr. Richardson responded, but a few minutes after his arrival the man expired. The body was brought to this town by Mr. Hobein and placed in the care of Undertaker E. M. Blocks.

The deceased was 34 years of age, and hailed from Dessau, Germany, where he has a 5-year-old son living. His only relative living in America is a brother in Chicago, who will attend the funeral which will be held from Blocks' undertaking establishment at 10 o'clock this morning, Rev. Subr officiating.

Mr. Biesenthal had only been in America a couple of years, and had been sent out to Mr. Hobein by the Ross Labor agency of Chicago, about five months ago. He was a gentleman of quiet and economical disposition, and had been subject to sick spells for several years.

A PLEASANT OUTING.

The Members of the Zion's Church Sunday School Give a Very Enjoyable Picnic.

An enthusiastic crowd of young people, dressed in their best "Sunday-go-to-meetin'" clothes, assembled at the Zion's church Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock. They had come to take part in the picnic to be given by the Sunday school of that church at Randall's Lake on that day.

No better time could have been selected, as the weather was everything that could be desired. Arriving at the picnic grounds games, such as "Drop the Handkerchief," "Happy Was the Miller," etc., and sack and foot races made the day appear very short and sweet. A "grab-bag" at 5c a grab, was the chief attraction of the day. All the grabs proved a great source of enjoyment to those participating. Ice cream, lemonade and confections and fruit were eagerly purchased by the happy crowd, and the surplus receipts will go into the Sunday school fund. Everyone present had a most enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hachmeister attended the funeral of Willie Rotermund at Norwood Park Tuesday afternoon.

THE EVENT OF THE SEASON

For a Good Time Attend the Woodmen Picnic at Wauconda on Aug. 6th.

NO PAINS SPARED TO MAKE THE DAY A SUCCESS

Good Music, Interesting Races and Appropriate Addresses Will Be the Order of the Day—A Game of Ball at 3 o'clock Sharp—Dancing in the Afternoon and Evening.

The members of Barrington Camp, No. 809, Modern Woodmen of America, will attend the Woodmen picnic at Wauconda next Thursday in a body. The Barrington Military band has been engaged to accompany the Camp.

This picnic promises to be the largest of its kind ever given in this part of the country, and all our readers should take advantage of this opportunity to spend a pleasant day at that beautiful hamlet.

A flag will be given to the Camp having the greatest number in line and there is no good reason why Barrington Camp cannot win the prize. Every member is requested to turn out on that day so that Barrington Camp may make at least a creditable showing.

There will also be a cash prize given to the best band, and there is no reason why our band cannot capture the plum. The boys have the mettle in them.

The following program has been prepared:

Will meet on Main street at 10 a. m. and start for grove at 10:30.

Welcome Song by the Wauconda Union Choir, Rev. Dobbyn, leader.

Welcome Address—Martin Decker, Ivanhoe.

There will be dancing in the afternoon and evening. Good music will be in attendance. Tony King, with an able staff of assistants, will have charge of the floor.

Hobein-Wiseman.

Miss Mathilda Hobein was united in marriage to Mr. Edward Wiseman Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. E. R. Troyer officiating. About 40 immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony. THE REVIEW extends its congratulations.

International Coinage.

It would be a fine thing, as Hon. C. W. Stone points out in The North American Review, if civilized nations could settle down upon one set of coins of uniform measure and fineness for all the people of the world to use. Each nation would have its own particular stamp upon the coin, but that particular coin would pass at the same value in either New York city, Paris, London or Kamchatka. There need not be really any international coin struck. The only requisite is that the coins of the different nations should be of uniform weight in fineness and value in all countries. Of course the convenient French decimal system would be the base of that used in international coinage.

It is likely that this international coinage will be accepted by the nations about the same time that universal brotherhood is. But when it does come, many difficulties will be done away, as shown by Mr. Stone. It costs a mint of money, so to speak, for one country to melt up and recoin and stamp with its own superscription the money it receives from another country. To go no farther than our own land, we ship abroad some weeks several millions of good solid Yankee gold coins, half eagles, eagles and double eagles. This money goes to the merchants of Europe. Much of it is melted and made into coins of the realm into which it passes. Some of it is necessarily lost in the melting and the process of recoinage involves also labor, delay and nervous strain. Comparatively little gold from foreign countries comes to the United States, unfortunately, but last year we melted and recoined over $13,600,000 worth of foreign money.

The infinite trouble and work of calculating the difference in values of the money of various nations in making exchanges would all be avoided by international coinage. Millions of dollars worth of time would be saved every year.

Where Our Wealth Is.

The editor of the New York Sun has had prepared for political purposes a list of the states included in what he calls the northeast. His particular northeast includes all together 16 states. In addition to the six in the New England section there are embraced in The Sun's northeast not only the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware, but also Maryland, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin. They are the states east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac and the Ohio. All the rest of the Union is classed as the south and west in this unique division. Illinois and Wisconsin would probably feel themselves in queer company at being classed as eastern states. Maryland would find it embarrassing to call herself a northern state.

The point The Sun wishes to make, however, is that this northeast of its own construction contains more than half the people of the Union and much more than half the wealth. The calculation is based on the census of 1890. The wealth of the entire Union was, under that census, summed up to be $65,000,000,000, of which The Sun's northeast owned $37,750,000,000. The population of the whole country was 62,600,000, that of the states named, 32,000,000. This preponderance in wealth and population, in the judgment of The Sun's editor, entitles the 16 states in its northeast to boss the rest of the Union.

The county council of Northumberland has decided to lease 400 acres of abandoned farm land in England and see what can be done with it in the way of improving it. The farm is not to support paupers. It is to be used as the agricultural experiment stations in America are. The promoters of the scheme wish to see whether by improved methods of agriculture, changing crops, etc., some of the poorest land in England cannot be made to return a profit to the farmer. Sons of farmers in the neighborhood will be allowed to work and study at the council lands. The council hopes that the ultimate result will be to improve the situation of the British farmer.

A Republic of Boys and Girls.

In the summer of 1890 a work began in a very modest way that promises noble results. The work is a benevolent and educational one. A young man of very moderate means, Mr. William R. George, took with him from New York city on his summer vacation 22 slum children. In such districts as that from which he gathered his young companions children grow to manhood and womanhood without knowing a rose from a hollyhock or a calf from a sheep. Mr. George wanted the slum boys and girls to see and know what country life was like.

That was the extent of his ideas at first. But the little experiment was so successful that he repeated it in 1891 on a larger scale. Benevolent persons became interested in his scheme and helped him with money to make it successful. The movement went till now over 200 slum children are taken to the farm ever summer to get country air and food. But that is the least of this worthy enterprise. Mr. George has organized a miniature republic among the children. Girls as well as boys hold office and vote. The government of the republic is a sort of compromise between the United States government and a municipal administration. Its name is the George Junior Republic. Mr. George himself is president. There is a police judge, who tries offenders against the laws the Junior Republic congress has made. Currency scrip has been printed with the stamp of the republic upon it. This is used in payment for labor. It is the cardinal principle of this model republic that one who will not work cannot eat. The children work from 8 o'clock till 12. The rest of the day they play and improve their minds. There is work enough on the farm and about the boarding tents for the children to do. They are paid for their labor in the scrip of the republic, and with this they meet the expenses of board and lodging. If a fellow is lazy and does not work, he has nothing to pay for his food with. Thus the greatest lesson of all for the human race to learn is inculcated.

The boys were very ambitious at first to get on the police force, that being to their minds the highest position of human authority. But civil service examinations rule strictly in the George Junior Republic, and no fellow could be appointed policeman who could not read and write well. Since then appreciation of an education has risen 100 per cent in the minds of President George's boys, and those who cannot read and write begin to learn at once.

If this plan were followed up, not two months, but the year round, among the slum children of all large cities, a majority of those who now become criminals could be turned into good citizens.

It comes from the state of New Jersey, this precious bit of artistic placarding. It is a warning to bicyclists, and it adorns a picket fence. It says, "Bicyclists putting their wheels in this fence will get punctured."

If you want a thing very much, it has immense value to you whether it has for anybody else or not. The red Indians who originally peopled this continent valued just cheap glass beads more than an American millionaire values diamonds, and yet colored glass beads are not worth to the white man a cent a gross. Value is, altogether relative. What has value for one is tiresome trash to another.

When congress meets in December, the senate will find waiting for it two important bills which the house put before it for its assent the past session, but which were left over. One is the bill restricting immigration; the other is a general bankruptcy law.

When it came to tackling the Pacific Railroad funding bill during its first session, congress weakened and decided to put it over till after November. Then embarrassing questions as to the re-election of honorable gentlemen would not stand in the way.

Some young lady typewriters have been complaining that the men in their office go without coats this hot weather, thereby displaying shirt sleeves. But are shirt sleeves any worse than shirt waists?

WE LEAD, OTHERS FOLLOW.

We make the low prices—others follow if they can.

The extreme low prices at which we are selling strictly pure white lead and oil, gives us pleasure to place the figures in large black type before the public so that all may read the slaughter of prices we have inaugurated in the paint business.

It may pinch our competitors to sell at such low figures. Let them squirm; the public is getting the benefit of the "pinching" prices, and that isn't a bad thing either, is it? Then again low prices encourages the painting of many buildings which would otherwise have been neglected for some time to come, thus giving more employment to the painters, which is a good point too; we also find that our low prices bring to us trade for miles around. Large sales is what we depend on, and our low prices are making the sales.

If you are thinking of doing painting this year, don't put it off thinking that materials might still go down a little lower in price. Delays are dangerous. Buy right now, for it is safe to say that they will not go down any lower in price, for they are now as low as they can be got—the lowest notch ever sold at, anywhere in this vicinity. Sunday morning the sad news of the death of Mrs. Peter Johnson was announced. Mrs. Johnson had been sick for some time, and death came as a relief to her sufferings. She was born in Ohio in 1839, and in November, 1853, was united in marriage to Peter Johnson, who died in 1893. The union was blessed with six children, three sons and three daughters—Clayton B., who died at the age of ten years; Ina and Anna, both deceased; Gertrude, wife of Rev. William H. Pierce, a Methodist minister of Plano, Ill.; Albert Ray and Edwin B., who are still at home. To the bereaved relatives we extend our sympathy for the loss of one who was beloved and dear to them.

In the vicinity of Boquet, Westmoreland Co., Pa., almost any one can tell you how to cure a lame back or a stiff neck. They dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on the affected parts and in one or two days the trouble has disappeared. This same treatment will promptly cure a pain in the side or chest. Mr. E. M. Frye, a prominent merchant of Boquet, speaks very highly of Pain Balm, and his recommendations have had much to do with making it popular there. For sale by A. L. Waller, Druggist.

Mr. Bryan should arrange another fusion—one between Messrs. Sewell and Watson.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of black-berry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owns his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by A. L. Waller, Druggist.

The funny freak who rocks the boat is simply a summer edition of the didn't-think-it-was-loaded fool.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave a very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by A. L. Waller, Druggist.

If Gen. Weyler would adopt the methods of his adversary, Jose Maceo, and remain dead for a week or so every now and again his army might get along much better.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds, croup and whooping cough. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by A. L. Waller, Druggist.

A man who nearly ran over several people with a team pleaded a visitation of twins and was discharged with a $1 fine. At this rate triplets would make manslaughter justifiable.
