J. C. Hoffmeister's Concert.

The concert given by J. C. Hoffmeister and pupils in Batterman's hall last Friday night was a success in every way. A good sized and appreciative audience was present and the program was carried out without a flaw. The children sang a number of selections, both comic and classic, and they got a big share of the applause. The Knigze orchestra played well as usual and the playing of Rev. and Mrs. W. Holz, and Miss Alma Bergmann was worthy of special mention. Arthur Mundhenk and Emma Meyer played an organ duet that was well rendered. J. C. Hoffmeister and his daughter Mary, were well received as usual and helped to make the affair a success. Mr. Hoffmeister is to be congratulated on the manner in which the concert was conducted and his efforts in the school room.

Rinsed Him Out.

A lad whose overalls were hanging by one button and whose nose looked as though it had recently been used to assist in the fall plowing, decided to drink out of the nozzle of a hose that was placidly coiled up in front of a buffet not far distant from the sanctum of this family journal. He had wrapped his features around the brass piece, closed his eyes and proceeded to take a long, invigorating pull at the fountain, when the man who pilots schooners over the bar, noticed the act. He touched the cut-off and the pressure did the rest. There was a gurgle, a sound of rushing water and a yell. The buffet tender wiped the countenance of the boy with what resembled a horse blanket, turned over the body to allow the water to escape, and set him up to dry. We will bet 16 to 1 that the lad will hereafter follow the less modern custom and drink out of a tin cup.

Bryan and Roosevelt at Chicago

W. J. Bryan and Gov. Roosevelt spoke at Electric Park, Chicago, Labor day, to 20,000 people.

Among the points made by the chief speakers were the following:

Theodore Roosevelt—Let us all strive to make the conditions of life such each man shall receive the share to which he is honestly entitled and no more, and let us remember at the same time that our efforts must be to build up rather to strike down, and we can best help ourselves, not at the expense of others, but by heartily working with them for the common good of each and all.

W. J. Miss Frederick's Letters Show How She Relied on Mrs. Pinkham and Was Cured.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have a yellow, muddy complexion, feel tired and have bearing down pains. Menses have not appeared for three months; sometimes am troubled with a white discharge. Also have kidney and bladder trouble.

I have been this way for a long time, and feel so miserable I thought I would write to you and see if you could do me any good."—Miss EDNA FREDERICK, Troy, Ohio, Aug. 6, 1899.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound according to directions, and can say I have not felt so well for years as I do at present. Before taking your medicine a more miserable person you never saw. I could not eat or sleep, and did not care to talk with any one. Now I feel so well I cannot be grateful enough to you for what you have done for me."—Miss EDNA FREDERICK, Troy, Ohio, Sept. 10, 1899.

Backache Cured

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to thank you for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. It is the only medicine I have found that helped me. I doctored with one of the best physicians in the city of New York, but received no benefit. I had been ailing for about sixteen years, was so weak and nervous that I could hardly walk; had continued pain in my back and was troubled with leucorrhoea. Menses were irregular and painful. Words cannot express the benefit I have derived from the use of your medicine. I heartily recommend it to all suffering women."—Mrs. MARY BASHINGER, Windsor, Pa.

A WEEK IN ILLINOIS.

RECORD OF HAPPENINGS FOR SEVEN DAYS.

Prof. Eaton, Analyst of the Illinois State Pure Food Commission, Tells National Beekeepers' Association of Methods of Suppressing Sale of Adulterated Honey.

Beekeepers' Meeting Ends.

Adulterated honey and diseases of bees received most attention from the beekeepers during the last day of the convention of the National Beekeepers' association in Chicago. Chemistry of honey, and the different methods of detecting adulterated honey, were explained at length by Thomas W. Cowan of Pacific Grove, Cal., and Prof. Eaton, analyst of the Illinois state pure food commission, told of the methods of suppressing the sale of adulterated honey. The Rev. E. T. Abbott of St. Joseph, Mo., presented the Brosius bill to the association, and it was pledged support. Prof. P. Gillette of Fort Collins, Colo., spoke on "Comb Foundation," and George W. Yerck of Chicago told the beekeepers how to ship honey to the market in packages. A lecture on "Co-Operative Organization Among Beekeepers" by R. C. Aikin of Loveland, Colo., and a talk by W. Z. Hutchinson of Flint, Mich., illustrated with stereopticon views about beekeepers of Wisconsin and Minnesota, their apiaries and apparatus, comprised the night session and closed the convention. The next convention will be held at Denver at the time of the G. A. R. encampment.

Tragedy Near Cairo.

Don McCracken was shot and killed by Irvin Connell at a beer garden known as the Half Way house, four miles north of Cairo. What the difficulty was about has not developed. The two young men, in company with three girls from Cairo, and two other young men from Mound City, were drinking beer, when McCracken picked up a beer bottle and hurled it at Connell. It missed him and Connell drew his pistol and fired, the ball entering McCracken's stomach. McCracken was taken to Mound City about 11 o'clock, and died in a few minutes after being taken from the buggy. Connell arrived at Mound City about a half hour later and surrendered to the authorities and was placed in jail to await the action of the coroner's inquest. McCracken is the oldest son of Q. A. McCracken of Mound City, and Connell is a son of J. F. Connell of the Pulaski Enterprise.

Issued Money Orders to Self.

United States Postoffice Inspector M. G. Price brought to Carbondale Frank P. Given, clerk of the Willisville (Ill.) postoffice, and took him before United States Commissioner A. S. Caldwell, charged with having fraudulently issued twelve money orders from the Willisville office in favor of himself, aggregating in all $1,100. The orders, which with one exception were found upon his person after arrest, were drawn upon several postoffices in different parts of the United States. One he had had cashed at the St. Louis postoffice. The arrest was the result of an exhaustive inquiry into the affairs of the office, the suspicion of the postoffice department having been aroused over orders issued in such large amounts from so small an office. He waived examination before the commissioner, and in default of filing his bond was taken to the jail at Murphysboro.

Patchen-Gentry Race Off.

Secretary Garrard of the state board of agriculture announced that the match race for $5,000, to have taken place at the state fair Friday, Sept. 28, between Joe Patchen and John R. Gentry, is off, he having received word from E. H. Harriman, owner of Gentry, stating that Gentry was out of form and had been withdrawn for the season. The board immediately announced a purse of $2,500 for the 2:02 class, and began negotiations to have Patchen. Searchlight, Frank Bogash, Anaconda, Coney, Chehalis, Prince Alert and others of their class entered.

Dies at the Lincoln Monument.

J. C. Lafeyer, about 38 years old, committed suicide by taking morphine at the foot of the Lincoln monument in Lincoln park, Chicago. He died shortly after reaching the German hospital. In his pocket was found a letter addressed to "Nettie," saying: "I have been unable to find employment. I cannot stand this suffering and suspense any longer. Good-by." There was a membership card of Woodmen's Union No. 7 in his pocket.

Disastrous Fire at Palestine.

Palestine was visited by a $20,000 fire that destroyed F. M. Lamb & Son's stock of dry goods, John Martin's restaurant and Richey & Son's hardware store. Two of the buildings belonged to the Kitchell heirs and one to Richey & Son. The fire originated in Lamb & Son's store and the supposition is that it was caused by the explosion of a gasoline lamp.

The men who manage political campaigns meet with some amusing experiences during the progress of their work. At the respective national headquarters of the two parties in Chicago the leaders tell some laughable stories of their experiences with cranks. For no matter how much pains are taken to prevent his entry the crank who has some wonderful scheme to win the battle "hands down" will get into the presence of the practical men at the head of things.

The other day one of these men got into the presence of Senator Jones, manager of the Democratic campaign. He insisted that he had a plan that would "land Bryan in the white house." He explained that it would first be necessary for the chairman to invest a million dollars in air balloons, with the names and portraits of the fusion candidates printed thereon, and that 50,000,000 of these released on a certain day would do the work of the campaign. Of course, he failed to explain how the operation was to convince voters, and the scheme was passed up. Later on he showed up at Republican headquarters, where he went through a like experience.

The political crank knows no party allegiance and is as much at home around one headquarters as the other. This was illustrated very forcibly one day last week by an accident that befel one of them. The victim was a long-haired, long-whiskered pen artist who carried two rolls of cartoons of his own make into Republican headquarters. After gaining the presence of Chairman Babcock of the congressional campaign committee he proceeded to business at once.

"I have here," he began, "a series of cartoons that will, when published, an-ihilate every chance that the Democrats ever had," and he proceeded to unroll his wares. "You see, here is a cartoon that—that—that—wow—!!—!!!"

The artist had inadvertently opened the wrong roll, the one he intended to exhibit at Democratic headquarters. He made a hasty exit.

Then there is the campaign song crank. One sought an audience with Senator Hanna under the pretense that he bore a note from an important personage that he must deliver in person "into the hands of the national chairman." Mr. Hanna was greatly taken back when he found that the envelope contained a poem. Here are the first lines:

"Hurrah for Bill McKinley, hurrah, hurrah, hurrah!
Hurrah for Teddy Roosevelt, hurrah,

hurrah, hurrah, hurrah!"

"How much do you want for this?" asked the chairman, perceiving a chance for a laugh.

"One hundred—" answered the poet, assuming an air of haughty importance. "Not a cent less."

Some days later, when this same poet visited Secretary Walsh at Democratic headquarters, the two first lines of the poem had assumed this form:

"Hurrah for Billy Bryan, hurrah, hurrah, hurrah!
Hurrah for Uncle Adlai, hurrah, hurrah, hurrah!"

And so the cranks come and go from headquarters to headquarters. None of them ever have a practical idea to set forth. They have become the terror of the campaign managers.

CHAIRMAN JONES AND HIS CHIEF AIDS.

Casting a Creusot Gun

The gun is heated and tempered in two parts—first the rings and then the gun itself—the two operations being identical. The drawing shows the gun when it is withdrawn from the furnace on the signal given by the engineer's whistle. Suspended from an apparatus composed of four columns, which depends from a strong pulley, worked by a moving bridge, the gun seems incandescent as the long door of red-hot bricks is opened slowly. The moving bridge is put in action, and the gun is brought out till it overhangs the center of a well 60 to 80 feet deep, in which it is gradually lowered, amid a deafening hissing of steam, which rises in clouds. This operation is repeated several times.

Street Car Control in Tokio.

The Japanese are a peculiarly eclectic people, and their modes of doing things often indicate a discriminating judgment after a wide review of the subject in hand. A street railway franchise was granted in Tokio earlier in the summer, which is significant from the fact that it leaves the essential features of the service, including fares, subject to the regulation of the public authorities. According to the Japan Weekly Mail, those authorities "may fix the fares, determine the number of passengers and cars . . . the special rates granted to students and laborers and . . . order a change of motive power or alteration of the lines." Furthermore, "after a dividend of 7 per cent on the paid-up capital has been paid . . . one-third of the remainder is to be contributed to the municipality."

The gist of these provisions would seem to be that the public was to be in a position to require adequate service in all essential details, and to keep the fares down so that profits should not exceed 7 per cent on the capital actually invested by stockholders in the business. The provisions of this franchise are in advance of those of any similar instrument thus far granted in this country.

The census bureau gives the population of Denver as 133,853, as against 106,713 in 1890. This is a slightly better showing than that made by Allegheny City, which had 105,287 inhabitants ten years ago and has 129,896 now.

Dr. Hideo Ikeda of Tokio, Japan, who has been sent to America by his government to study the agriculture of this country, is looking into the cultivation of tobacco in Virginia. Later he will familiarize himself with the growth of cotton.

The Holo Candidate.

This is Filipino Joe, candidate for vice president of the United States on the ticket recently put up by the National Tourists, otherwise hoboes, and commonly called tramps, at Britt, Iowa. Filipino Joe is so homely he attracts people by his countenance. Joe is an inveterate and continuous tobacco chewer. He takes the advice of the newspaper agency and keeps everlastingly at it. A quid of "quantity and quality" is his idea of perfect bliss. Joe won his sobriquet by going to the Orient with Wheaton and Lawton. He thought he was going to see the world; the sight that impressed him most was a score or more of dead comrades. He hurried back to the United States and hired out as a cowboy to Buffalo Bill. But this was work, and he finally determined to give it up. Since then he has been on the road.

N. A. Burnham, lately editor of the Wauconda Leader and a hustling business man of the village by the lake, has shaken the dust of Lake county from his patent leathers, and the following special correspondence to the Chicago Chronicle, explains why Mr. Burnham sought another dwelling place.

"The disappearance of N. A. Burnham, a prominent resident of the village of Wauconda, and his young wife, coupled with reports that he is a bigamist, have caused a sensation thereabouts, and Mrs. N. A. Burnham, of Racine, Wis., who claims to be his first wife, threatens to prosecute him if he can be found. Burnham came to Wauconda a few years ago and opened a law office. He became prominent in politics, and last spring was elected secretary of the Lake county republican central committee and the eighth district senatorial committee. He married Miss Sadie McClaine, a young woman of prominent family.

Recently a letter came to the postmaster at Wauconda from Mrs. Burnham of Racine inquiring about N. A. Burnham, who, she claimed, was her husband. Soon after this Burnham and his wife departed from Wauconda. He admitted that the Racine woman had been his wife, but declared that he thought she had secured a divorce from him. The first Mrs. Burnham was formerly Miss Easson and was a member of the Salvation Army when he married her about twenty years ago. They separated several years ago. A daughter, aged 17, lives in Racine with her mother."

Lake Forest Scared.

The rumored purchase by John A. Dowie of a choice tract of Lake Forest land became a reality Monday when the deal was closed. The head of "Zion" and the "Christian Catholic church" is going to join the other millionaires in the fashionable suburb.

Dowie will take with him one or more of the various institutions of "Zion" and will establish them next to the summer home of Stanley R. McCormick on a choice site that he has bought from William C. McNeill for $121,600 or $3,800 an acre. Mr. McNeill is a resident of Memphis, Tenn., and was in the city yesterday to close the deal with the financial agent of "Zion." He is a brother of Alexander C. McNeill of Chicago, who represented him in the preliminary negotiations.

The fashionable residents of the exclusive suburb are wondering which of the various adjuncts of "Zion" is to be moved to Lake Forest and are fearful that the entire "Zion" outfit will migrate.

Dowie has often boasted that there would soon be a Zion college, and some surmise that it is to be established near Lake Forest University.

The head of "Zion" is at present in England.—Waukegan Gazette.

Enrollment in Public School.

Monday morning brought to a close the vacation days of the public school pupils, and to judge from appearances they welcomed the return to school duties as cheerfully as two months ago they laid them aside. Happy is vacation time but children like older people enjoy work if properly assigned and directed. School opened with a large enrollment, the following being the number in the several rooms:

High school room, 20; Miss Batterton, grammar grades, 43; Miss Hahn, intermediate, 42; Miss Myers, intermediate, 45; Miss Kublank, 3rd grade, 34; Miss Lawler, 2nd grade, 44; Miss Frye, primary, 47.

Wanted to "Lick the Spoon."

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16, '99.

PEPSIN SYRUP CO.
DEAR SIRS:—We have been keeping house for five years and are never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. We find nothing to equal it for stomach troubles and my children like it as well as candy. One night recently my wife was giving a dose to our baby (1½ years old) and Nelda (our little girl 4 years old) cried for some, too. Her mamma told her she didn't need it and then she said: "Can't I lick the spoon?" It is so pleasant to take, the effects are so good, we hate to be without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Yours truly,
LAKE D. WERTHERS,
Mgr. Enterprise Hotel.
Sold by Chas. E. Churchill.

THE LAKE COUNTY FAIR!

SEPTEMBER 11, 12, 13, and 14.

Everybody else is going, so of course, you are, but before you go you want to read the several special attractions in this ad.

TUESDAY.

Opening day. The exhibits this year will be larger and better than any preceding year. To show your interest and be instrumental in making it superior to all and inferior to none you should purchase a membership ticket, make your own entries and "get in with the push."

WEDNESDAY.

Children's day. The Agricultural Board extends to all the school children of Lake County a cordial invitation to be with us on the above day, at which time all school children under 14 years of age will be admitted to the grounds free. The children will be delighted to see Minnie Alma, the wonderful aerial artist, who will give exhibitions each day, morning and afternoon, before the grand stand on the trapeze and rings. Then you will see the 2:25 class trotting race, the 3:00 class trot and the 2:25 class pace. The Libertyville Brass Band of twenty pieces will be there and furnish excellent music.

THURSDAY.

You should see the balloon ascension with parachute drop in the afternoon. Minnie Alma will entertain you in the morning and afternoon with her wonderful feats. This day you will see the 2:30 class trotting, free-for-all pacing, two-year-old and under stake and the 2:50 trot for Lake County only. You will hear fine selections of music by the Barrington M. W. A. Band, 20 pieces, besides that furnished by the Libertyville Brass Band.

FRIDAY.

The last day. The 2:25 class pace, and free-for-all trotting and the 2:40 class trotting will pull off on this day. Minnie Alma will, of course, be there to entertain you and the Libertyville Band will do its best to entertain you.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The ball games the three last days of the fair will probably prove as interesting a feature as anything on the grounds. A purse of $75.00 is offered to be divided as follows: Sixty per cent to the winning club and forty per cent to second. The best teams in Lake County will compete for the honors. Balloon ascension in the afternoon.

The races have been fairly well brought forth above, but we might say, in connection with what has already been said, that the races will prove even more attractive this year than any previous year. H. B. Throop, of Nunda, will be starter. Mr. Throop has the reputation of being a clean, fair starter, and we feel confident that everybody will be satisfied.

EXHIBITS.

Poultry exhibits each year attract the attention of nearly all who go to the Fair. Don't fail to stroll around to the poultry exhibits. It will pay you for they will excel. Other exhibits as well as poultry, will this year be larger and better than any previous year. Anyone who attends the Fair should consider it their duty to take in the exhibits. That is what the Fair is for.
