FRIDAY, AUGUST 19, 1904.

Don't forget the McHenry county fair next week at Woodstock. The great McHenry county fair will open next Monday. Tuesday will be one of the big days.

The announcement of the big Lake County Fair appears on the fifth page of this issue.

The W. R. C. picnic is to be given August 25, at the Robertson cottage, Lake Zurich.

A hay-rack party of people from Whitney's hotel, Lake Zurich, came to the picnic Wednesday.

Tuesday was pay day on the C. & N. W. system. A good supply of the needed was distributed here.

Lipofsky Bros. have let the contract for a 10 foot cement walk along the frontage of their business block.

Employees of Montgomery Ward, Chicago, held a picnic at Fox River grove Saturday. It was largely attended.

Found on Honey Lake road, last Saturday, a pair of shoes. Owner may have same by calling at this office and paying charges.

Ludwig Meyer was overcome by the heat while at work in his shop Tuesday afternoon. He was removed to his home where he has since been confined.

The following letters are uncalled for at the Barrington post-office Aug. 18, 1904: Mrs. Geo. Fisher, Miss D. Gibson, Ed. Herford, Mr. Willie Horn, John H. Snyder.

Our population is increasing. Harry Frick reports the arrival of a second son at his home. George Wilmuth announces a daughter arrived Wednesday August 10th.

The nineteenth annual picnic of Lake county prohibitionist is being held today at Gage's lake. R. H. Patton candidate for governor is the principal speaker. It was stated in this paper last week that Miss Sadie Blocks was attending the Paterson school of stenography. It should have said the Metropolitan Business College.

The McHenry county Agricultural board assures its patrons a clean fair. Pool selling, gambling and immoral shows will not be permitted. Attend the big exhibition.

Lawn social the evening of August 24th, by the Young People's society of St. Paul's church. There will be instrumental and vocal music and many attractions to please.

Probably more girls would take the advice of Gov. Warfield of Maryland and delay marriage until they are 25 if they only felt absolutely sure they could get married then.

Geo. W. Foreman's buffet was filled by a crowd of old men and young men last evening who witnessed the feats of strength performed by "Young Sandow" at a traveling banquet.

Wm. Meyer, living near Leighton, recently threshed 25 acres of oats and only secured 85 bushels. This was a piece where the hall storm of a few weeks ago did so much damage.

Gates' tourist train from Boston, and New England points to Minneapolis and Seattle passed through here Tuesday. It is one of the finest trains of Pullman's ever run through this section.

The three graces, Glenn E. Hawley, Will Cannon and Carl Erard, are now camped at Fox River this week. The gentlemen are enjoying their usual midsummer outing which will continue two weeks.

Ed F. Wichman and Larry Donize visited at the Hawley-Eross-Cannon camp at Devil's Elbow on Fox river Tuesday night. They found the gentlemen enjoying their outing and their spirits in good condition.

The village board has decided that all walks hereafter constructed in the residence district shall be five-feet in width. The ordinance should meet with approval by every owner of property. Good, substantial walks add much to the appearance of the streets.

The annual "Old Settlers" picnic held in Schween's grove at Schaumburg, Sunday. It was, as usual, the occasion for several candidates for office to look around to make free with the voters. The attendance was large and drinkables and estates plenty.

Now Robin Brockway was taken suddenly ill while attending to her duties at Powers' store yesterday evening. She was prostrated by an attack of acute albumin trouble. A physician was summoned and rest-ratives administered after which she was removed to her home. She is reported as better this noon.

It is almost certain that a Rebekah lodge will be instituted here in connection with Barrington Lodge No. 856, I. O. O. F. The Rebekahs are one of the great orders of the country and large in point of membership except the W. R. C. Its relation to Odd Fellowship is the same as that of the Order Eastern Star to the Masons.

Some of the young men of this village and vicinity want to be girls so bad that it is a shame their want can not be satisfied. These young fellows now go about bareheaded and their sleeves rolled up to the elbow, wear open-work hose and tan oxfords. These ducks should put on a peck-a-boo waist and umbrella p-eticot.

A surprise party was tendered Miss Lizzie Brandt, Saturday evening. The promoters were Misses Fern Hutchinson and Genevieve Dolan. A most enjoyable evening was spent in playing games. At 10:30 refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Myrtle Plage, Hattie Palmer, Florence Janike, Jeannette Thorp, Lizzie Krueger, Fern Hutchinson and Mamie Morrison.

Salem S. S. Picnic. The Sunday school picnic is to be next Thursday in the camp ground grove, half mile east of town. The "Girls' Band" has been secured to furnish the music in part at least. They will appear for the first time in their new uniforms. A large attendance of old and young is expected. Everybody is invited to attend.

An amusement committee has been appointed. A large number of races for old and young are on the program and some new games are expected. Refreshments will be served. If you fail to be present you will miss one of the best feasts of the season.

Crop Outlook. While pasturage continues good in localities where showers have fallen, the general condition of grasses has deteriorated and moisture is needed. A fair hay crop of excellent quality has been secured and baling is now in operation. The outlook for timothy seed is promising.

A large potato crop of good quality is indicated. Tomatoes are unusually well developed and are ripening fast. Grapes and plums will produce abundantly; pears are promising; in some localities are showing better but the general condition of apples disappointing, both with regard to yield and quality. In the southern district apples and peaches are being canned.

Asked to Be Excused. The little boy was on his knees in his little night dress saying his prayers, and his little sister could not resist the temptation to tickle the soles of his feet. He stood it as long as he could and then said: "Please Lord, excuse me while I knock the stuffin' out of Nellie."

Attorney George W. Spangner presented an ordinance which would require the building of all cement walks which was taken up by sections and discussed. The board has practically agreed that all walks built in the future should be five feet in width in the residence district and ten feet in the business district and constructed of cement, tar composition, stone or paving brick.

Wm. Thorp returned Sunday from a trip to Hot Springs, S. Dakota. He is not in love with that resort nor the country. He says: "The hotels there have a peculiar faculty of knowing how to touch your pocket book. There was to be seen some very fine looking cattle and pretty women."

Salem Church Notes. The choir meets regularly on Friday evening. It was a pleasure to see the president of the Endeavor society, Sam Gieske, and wife back from their winter trip. They appreciate the intellectual and spiritual advantages of Barrington more than ever.

The services on Sunday were largely attended. The pastor spoke in the morning on the theme "What we owe the young people," in the evening, "What it is to be a Christian."

The Poverty of Ribeca.

The ordinary man would suppose that Ribeca, who has just passed his eighty-third milestone, is old enough to retire. But that is because he does not know his man. And the ordinary man again would imagine that when a money chaser gets anywhere from $20,000.00 to $100,000.00, and has more ready cash than any other man in the world, he would not care to accumulate more. But in that the ordinary man would again exhibit his ignorance of this particular case. Once more the ordinary man would know the ordinary man would lack of acquaintance with his subject. Russell Sage has absolutely no other interest in life than to make money. Other millionaires divert themselves with philanthropies. Not he. Others go to Europe, sail about in yachts, take similar diversions. In the eyes of Mr. Sage all these things are little less than a criminal squandering of money. Red devils, race horses, society, vacations, hobnobbing with kings—none of these things will any attractions for him. He might take him from his desk and prevent him from getting a dollar.

Neither will he trust his affairs in the hands of other men. They are all lax. They do not have proper business methods and might even betray some human emotion; and all these things are inexcusable and unprofessional.

Russell Sage has probably made more money and got less good out of it than any man that ever lived. He dresses in hand-me-downs, buys the cheapest of lunches, brudges over his street car fares and in his New York house lives in a very plain and uncomfortable way. His only diversion is money making. True, there are country places somewhere and keeps good horses. It is even reported that his wife indulges in charities. But all these things are so un-Sage-like, as it were, that the world hardly credits them.

He is not burdened with an imagination, like J. Pierpont Morgan; has no sympathy with the newfangled notions and all that sort of thing. He stands by the time honored method of loaning money and charging all that the traffic will bear. He has no particular object in accumulating, being without offspring to whom his vast fortune may be left. He does not squander it on himself. In fact, the only apparent happiness he gets out of his wealth is that afforded by getting more of it.

He is a very good example of "the poverty of riches." In dollars he has affluence. In all else that goes to make life worth while he is in absolute penury.

Good Advice. The American people are constantly growing more independent in politics. Party shackles of all sorts are being broken. This is a hopeful sign. The idea of "belonging" to anything, even a faction, does not conform to the American spirit. On this line the St. Louis (Mo.) News well says that "it is a good year for the common citizen to attend strictly to business and when election day comes vote as he pleases. Either way he votes he can do no harm. Either he votes with or without casting a ripple upon the surface of real business affairs. No political party can make times good or keep them so if good business men stand around arguing instead of attending to business. And no political party can make times bad by vigor into the commercial life. Don't let politics worry you."

A government inspector says he would trust three-fourths of the life preservers now found on the boats. Those on the Stocum seem to have belonged to the other fourth.

The McHenry County Fair and Exposition opens Monday. You should arrange to attend.
