THE LAKE COUNTY FAIR

Attendance Large, Races Good Exhibits Up to Average.

The Lake County Agricultural society gave its fifty-first fair and exposition this week, today being the last one of the big show. The weather has been the most favorable for outdoor exhibitions for years and the attendance very gratifying to the management.

County fairs as a general thing are like circuses—when you have seen one you have seen them all. There are seldom new attractions offered in the exhibition proper. The agricultural products, stock, poultry, horticulture and fine arts exhibits are the same only varying in number.

This year the line of exhibits in every department were much superior to that of a year ago, especially in the stock and grain departments.

An exhibit not on the premium list was that of the candidates for office. They were all there and should be awarded at least a blue ribbon.

The races up to last evening were fairly exciting. The track was in excellent condition and a great many of the horses were better than they are in this circuit for several years.

Yesterday was the big day, the attendance being very large, much in excess of Wednesday when it is said, 3,000 admissions were registered.

The society had considerable to contend with this year owing to the election of officers held last winter, but it has come out on top and made this exhibition a success.

THE GRIM REAPER

Enters the Home of William Hager and Removes a Loving Wife and Devoted Mother.

Tuesday evening, August 30th, the spirit of Mrs. William Hager passed from earth to the home eternal.

For some months Mrs. Hager had been a great sufferer of that dread disease, quick consumption, and for several weeks all hope of her recovery was abandoned.

Mrs. Hager was known in her girlhood as Caroline Miller, was born a few miles east of Barrington, March 21, 1828. In her vicinity she married her home for 18 years. October 19, 1880 being united in marriage to William Hager. Four children were born to one, one daughter and three sons, two son passing away at the age of seven years. The husband, daughter, two sons and a large circle of relatives and friends are left to mourn her passing away.

Mrs. Hager was an earnest Christian having given her heart to Christ under the preaching of Rev. H. Meier, while still a young girl and uniting with the church. She had taken an active part in church work up to the time of her illness, and enjoyed God's service. She had no fear of death being satisfied that all was well. She retained her mind to the last. Monday, recognizing the end was near, she requested that her relatives be summoned. She was comforted and talked to them of the better land. Her husband, dutiful daughter and sons seemed her chief concern, her taking leave of them and her words of counsel showed the struggle it caused to leave her dearest earthly jewels.

The funeral was held from Salem church, of which she was a member, this Friday afternoon, services being conducted in German by the pastor, Rev. A. Haefele, and in English by Rev. W. H. Tuttle of the M. E. church. America's Garrison, Eminent Ladies, of which deceased was a member attended. Interment was made in Evergreen cemetery.

Fun for the Populace.

Tomorrow, Saturday, afternoon, the Barrington Fire Department will attempt to "put out" of condition a set of ball players from the plant of the Bowman Dairy Company.

The contest will take place on Heile's field, corner of Williams and Victoria streets, and promises more fun than given by a box of monkeys.

The battery for the fire ladders will be James McKay and Alfred Landwer, blacksmiths of great strength and endurance. For Bowman's E. K. Magre and Henry Rohlfmeir will do the heavy work and if anybody imagines that these gentlemen cannot handle the pig skin they want to be there and watch the game.

The Ladies' band will furnish music during the game and three umpires will be badly used up before the finish.

Admission is free; babies in arms half price. Bring your bugle horns and help roo.

Game called at 3:30 sharp.

POLITICAL NOTES

Of the Coming Contest in Nation, State and County, Soundly by the State Press.

No fault should be found with the demerits for claiming that they are going to carry most of the states in the union. They enjoy such claims and no one else is hurt by them.—Elgin Advocate.

It is said that contributions to the campaign funds of both great parties are not flowing in large streams to either committee. The voters have learned to say: "Let the men who hold the offices or expect to get them pay the bill."

The candidates for states attorney in Lake county have drawn lots to be voted on the official ballot to be positioned at the primaries September 9, as follows: Persons, first; Hanna, second; Heydecker, third; Bulkeley, fourth.

Tom Watson, the populist candidate for president, says the democrats stole the populist platform in 1900, and the republican in 1904. Well, that shows an improvement in judgment if not in morals.—Says the Elgin Courier.

The delegates selected by the Cuba republican township committee to be voted for at the coming primaries September 9, are: Fred Kirschner, Geo. J. Hager, F. J. Holter, F. A. Cady, H. H. Church, C. H. Morrison. Primaries will be held from 5 to 8 o'clock p. m.

According to the Chicago Chronicle all the men who supported Palmer and Buckner in 1896 will support the republican ticket this year. While, no doubt, many old time democrats who deserted the ticket in 1896 and went over to McKinley and sound money will remain in the republican ranks it is rather an exaggeration to say "all will do so." The truth in politics hurts no man or party.

Gov. Yates is a candidate for the seat in the United States senate now occupied by Shelby M. Cullom, according to the Springfield News which says: "He has lost his friends and his every act is now directed to that one point. The game warden has furnished a room for the present governor of Illinois. This room is one of those occupied and sumptuously fitted up by the game warden on the fourth floor of the state house. It is provided with desks and other office furniture, and from it Gov. Yates will direct his battle after he leaves the office on the second floor. At present he is laying the mines and all the wiles he can possibly lay to blow up Uebel Shelby's craft and to bring up all the others who might be tempted to strike for the high seas. The remainder of his terms and the rest of his patronage will be devoted to this one end. He wants to be senator. There is no question of that. Whenever he has wanted anything he has never been backward about saying so. His frankness in going right after the prize is commendable."

A Costly Contest.

The appellation which General Sherman applied to war would fit equally well to strikes. The present conflict has cost the strikers alone nearly two million dollars in wages, while the loss to the packers has been incalculable. This, of course, is simply financial loss, but it represents more than that. Not much blood has been shed, but there has been untold suffering on the part of women and children. The employer or employe who enters upon a contract honestly, or at a time when it could be avoided, is criminally guilty.

George Bolsinger.

George Bolsinger was born at Palatine, Illinois, on August 30, 1864, and resided with his parents on the old homestead east of the village all his life. On August 19, 1882, he was accidentally shot by his brother and although he recovered from the accident he has been a sufferer ever since, as shot and splinters of bone have been working from his body for the past twenty years. He had been at the point of death many times, but his will power overcame death and he survived. During his life he has been a steady worker on the farm and raised garden truck which he sold in Palatine. He was never found to complain of his distressing condition. He died August 27, 1904, and the funeral was held last Tuesday, it being the fortieth anniversary of his birth. Rev. J. C. Hoffmeister preached the funeral sermon. The remains were laid to rest in the Arlington Heights cemetery.

Woman is rapidly acquiring wisdom. By the time the millennium arrives she may have learned that liquids will leak out of a pasteboard lunchbox.

The Public Knows It.

A lady visiting here from the west expressed surprise at the ancient depot building and conveniently gives to Barrington by the C. & N. W. Ry. This is not news to our people, and if it were in the power of the public to condemn the present structure, called a passenger station, they would do it in short order.

It is not the disposition of the Review to find fault with the big corporation which gives this village transportation facilities, but there is no denying the fact that the patronage given the railway company from this station entitles the public to a better depot.

The lady referring to the antiquity of the building says: "Why, out in Oklahoma in villages of this size we have neat and comfortable depots provided with toilet rooms and all the conveniences. Many of the waiting rooms are steam heated and lighted by electricity and some provided with reading and smoking rooms. None are without lavatories and closets. It seems so strange that so great a railway system as the Northwestern should force its patrons—especially the ladies—to put up with so many inconveniences as one finds here."

Every word of that is true and it is a condition greatly to be regretted by every inhabitant of Barrington and patron of the road in this vicinity.

DIED OF INJURIES

Adam Rendler, Victim of Accidental Shooting, Passed Away Last Saturday Night.

Adam Rendler, who was accidentally shot, while handling a rifle, on the farm occupied by Henry Lavine, last Thursday morning, died from the result of his injuries, Saturday night.

Coroner Taylor was summoned and an inquest held, the jury returning a verdict of accidental death in an accordance with the testimony offered by Miss Lavine who was with Rendler when the accident occurred.

The funeral was held at Fremont Center, Monday morning and interment made in the cemetery at that place.

Adam Rendler was born at Fremont, Lake county, January 23, 1870, and made his home in the county all his life. Early last winter he came to Cuba township and since then had resided among relatives in the vicinity of the farm where he met his sudden death.

He leaves to mourn his departure an aged mother, residing with her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Winfield, of the immediate cause of death. Mr. Rendler was one of our best citizens, a man who attended strictly to his own business and was always prompt in his business dealings. During his illness he was satisfied, never offering a word of complaint and showed his appreciation of every little act that was done for him.

Richard Earth was born at Thornham, England, December 3, 1841. At the age of twenty-seven years he came to America with his wife and settled in the village of Barrington where he has since resided.

In the fall of 1883 Mr. and Mrs. Earth visited their native country passing three months among relatives and friends.

For a number of years the deceased was sexton at Evergreen cemetery and for the last several years janitor of the Barrington public school building. By his close attention to his duties and frugal habits he acquired several parcels of village property, which by careful management, gave him a comfortable competency.

Those surviving and deceased are the widow, two step daughters, Mrs. E. M. Fletcher of this village and Mrs. C. A. Maybury of San Francisco, California.

Funeral services will be held at the family residence, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will be in charge of Barrington Camp, 899, Modern Woodmen, the only society with which Mr. Earth was affiliated.

Interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery.

Feared Oldie Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with Kidney disease and neither doctors or medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel Complaints. DEATH OF RICHARD EARTH

Pioneer Resident of This Village is Called to His Long Rest.

Richard Earth departed this life at his home on Russell street at 10 o'clock last evening after a long illness, cancer of the stomach being the immediate cause of death. Mr. Earth was one of our best citizens, a man who attended strictly to his own business and was always prompt in his business dealings. During his illness he was satisfied, never offering a word of complaint and showed his appreciation of every little act that was done for him.

Richard Earth was born at Thornham, England, December 3, 1841. At the age of twenty-seven years he came to America with his wife and settled in the village of Barrington where he has since resided.

Property Owners Clash.

Arnold Schaubel and William and Joseph Spinner are looking crossed at each other presenting boquets impregnated with words not found in family journals and having a regular monkey and a parrot bite, all because the Spinner's put down a piece of sidewalk on the north side of a triangular piece of ground owned by Mr. Schaubel and upon which his machine shop is located.

Messrs. Spinner claim that a recent survey of property purchased by them from the Zimmerman estate gives to them a number of feet of the west side of the Schaubel property. Mr. Schaubel says he don't care nothing about recent surveys, and when the Spinnners put down a walk on their claimed possession, those of Schaubel tore up the walk and drove the trespassers of the ground.

The matter will probably be settled in the courts.

Asks Farmers to Assist.

In a circular letter issued by John A. Wheeler, the state game commissioner, it is urged that the farmers and others assist the officers in the performance of their duties by notifying either the game warden or the state commissioner, by telegraph or telephone, at state expense, regarding all violations of the law that come under their observation, provided they have evidence sufficient to convict. The authorities are determined to enforce the law against the killing of game out of season, and every good citizen will lend his aid in this thorough enforcement. The law-respecter is the good citizen.

REFUSES TO ANTE.

James Woodman, Candidate for Circuit Clerk, Objects to Demand of Committee.

The code of rules adopted by the republican central committee of Lake county is strongly objected to by one aspirant for office—James Woodman, candidate for the nomination of circuit clerk. Mr. Woodman says that the action of the committee in levying an assessment of $50 on candidates for office whose names are to be printed on the primary tickets, is wrong. "I have not sent in that amount or anything else, and furthermore, I do not expect to, yet my name will be on the ticket."

In an interview published in this issue, Waukegan Sun, Mr. Woodman said: "I intend to give the committee a show to either put me on or keep me off the ticket. I do not think the county central committee has the right to tell a person that he must pay in a certain amount if he desires to be a candidate for a nomination."

A member of the county central committee stated that in his opinion Mr. Woodman was out of the race because of the fact that he had failed to send in his $50. Furthermore, that he was not a resident of the county and therefore not eligible to the candidacy.

Mr. Woodman, who is holding a state job in the Northern Hospital at Elgin and while credited to Lake county residing in Elgin. He said: "I looked up the matter and found that in order to be a candidate it was not necessary to be a resident of the county. I live in Elgin but it does not matter in the least. Of this I am sure."

There seems to be an opinion among the voters that it makes no difference as to whether Mr. Woodman be given place on the ticket or not. The sentiment of the people favors Mr. Brockway for another term and the delegates will probably not have an opportunity to vote for against the gentleman from Elgin as his name is not likely to come before the convention.

Mr. Woodman evidently saw the handwriting on the wall and therefore refused to ante.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Olsen, Alma, aged two years, died Tuesday, August 23, of inflammation of the bowels. Burial was Friday, August 25, in Evergreen cemetery.
