

THE BARRINGTON REVIEW.

VOL. 19. NO. 36.

BARRINGTON ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1904.

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

THE BIG STRIKE ENDED

Butchers Desert Their Union—Packers' Victory Complete.

The great strike began by Union butchers at the Stock Yards in Chicago July 13, and which extended to all other centers of the country, has ended. The workmen making complete surrender.

The estimated number of employees who went out at call of unions, 23,000. The estimated loss to strikers in wages is $4,000,000, while the packers estimate their loss at $7,000,000.

The great contest between the packers and unions has been watched closely by the friends of labor throughout the country and the defeat of the men has administered a severe blow to socialism.

It is predicted that the cause of socialism has received a setback from which it will never recover. It has demonstrated that the owners of great industries will conduct their own business to the future without the dictation of walking delegates and district organizers.

While the blow to the unions is a severe one, the public, always chief sufferer in such cases, is benefited.

FIRE LADDIES LOSE

A Hotly Contested Game of Ball Played With Bowman Dairy Company's Employees.

Heise's field was the scene of a ball game last Saturday afternoon. There has been base ball contests fought out on that field before but none afforded so much genuine amusement as the game we now tell about. The battle was not engaged in by drilled handiers of the horse held covered sphere but by amateurs picked from the membership of the volunteer fire department and employees of the Bowman Dairy company's plant.

The gentlemen who extinguish fires and (when occasion requires turn the hose on newspaper reporters) got an idea from somewhere that they could put out most anything, say they invited Manager Heise of the bottling works to act as umpire and to get the green and white and have their scientific slaughter.

The populace went out to witness the fun which was furnished in huge chunks without charge. The ladies' band furnished the music that added much to the enjoyment of the event and encourage the contestants who were laboring under great mental anxiety.

At 3:30 there was a blare of cornets and Will Kirby, wearing a suit of galvanized iron underclothing, walked to the center of the diamond and in deep crooked tones "Play ball!"

Joe Waterman, official scorer, announced the following line up:

Bowman's—Jacks, c.; Will, r.; Volter, c; Erick, 3rd b; Woodin, 1st; Magee 2nd b; Heise, 1st b; McGowan, r; Robinson, c.

Fire Department's—Landwer, c; Jan, Doules, r; A. Landwer, c; Harnden, c; Stefenbecker, 3rd b; N. H. Houth, 1st b; W. Houth, 2nd b; Kirks, 1st b; McKay, p.

McKay took the stick for the fire laddies and swiped the ball good and proper but Heise was at bat, and Jim went out. Kirks was fortunate and was given first on called balls. Al Landwer hit the ball square and brought Kirks home and by stealing to 3rd managed to reach home himself while Will Houth was running to 2nd. John Doules started to demonstrate his ability as a ball player and by much exertion got 3rd, and that is as near as he came to making a score during the game.

The Bowman nine then went to bat and were presented with three large, freshly-laid goose eggs. The firemen, braced up for a second bout, but the milk handlers were sore and returned the goose eggs.

In the last inning McGowan scored for the Bowman contingent and the firemen brought in 4. It began to look dubious for Heise's nine, the score being 6-2.

In the last half of the six Will Houth saved the firemen from a shutout. The milk handlers failed to get a man to home.

The 6th started out favorably for the firemen but Heise had cowed his men well. Freding, greatly to his surprise, secured a fly-catcher out to center. Robinson followed solid and Volter did good service as backstop. More goose eggs for Jimmy McKay's nine. Then Robinson made a bit for the Bowman's and scored. The score stood 6-3 when A. Fire Dept.

Heise cautioned his men about the 11th inning, but the firemen ran in 4.

The band played a Villpoo two-step, the Bowman went to bat and sent in a 4-11 alarm which threw the firemen into a panic. Jacks hit the ball and every batter called to the plate caught the fever. They knocked the ball all over the field and scored 3 runs. The score was now tied.

The 8th inning opened with the band playing and firemen striving for revenge. They ran in Stefenbecker and Sam Houth three they went on a fly batted by Sam Landwer. The milk handlers followed and scored 3 when the fire fighters laid down their bats and seemed satisfied.

Score 14 to 13 in favor of the Bowman Dairy employees. Time of game 2 hours, half of which was taken up in chasing the ball through neighboring corn fields.

Features of the game—Music of the right kind and at the right time by the Ladies' band. Heise's work at last and with the stick. Robinson's two base hit; Doules's base running; Sam Houth's home run; McGowan's three base hit; Woodin's high fly to center; Stefenbecker's sensational catch and battery work of McKay and Lanower and McGowan and Volter.

Will Chase the "Evasive Dollar."

M. C. McIntosh has tendered his resignation as secretary of the Parkers and Dicks campaign club, and chose his letter of resignation as follows: "I do not desire to withdraw from the club and give as my reason for resigning the office that I shall be too busy engaged in chasing the elusive gold standard dollar to permit my taking the duties of the office."

Not An Unusual Instance.

It has long been the opinion of many students of social questions that the quickest way to deal with the divorce problem is to attack it at the marriage end. In other words, the greatest cause of divorce is the laxity in permitting hasty and ill advised marriages. There are no such safeguards thrown about matrimony in the United States as there are in England and many of the older nations, and divorces are much more frequent. That wedlock is entered into with too much ease and too little consideration is shown by a recent case in New York. A man on being arrested for larceny admitted the charge and said he "clean forgot" that he had one wife who he married another. He was sent to a place where he will have time to improve his memory. The story of his second wife is peculiarly illuminative. He said:

"I met this man in Central park July 1. I was sitting on a bench, and he came and sat by me and began to talk. He had a charming face and seemed like a very nice fellow, and then he asked me to marry him. I was engaged to another man and didn't think I ought to, but he teased and threatened me till I said I would. We were married that night and lived together two days. Then he skipped out. I don't like him, anyway, and only married him for fear he would kill me."

This is not an unusual instance. How can we wonder that there are frequent divorces when such marriages are possible?

Here is the latest roundsmat—at least it purports to be the latest, though it may be the revival of a very ancient one: If two snakes of the same size and length should begin swallowing each other's tail at the same moment and continue swallowing at the same speed, what would be the result? Would they keep on swallowing till both snakes vanished, or would they wind up to the predicament of Bill Nye's god that swallowed several yards of whipcord only to find the other end tied to a stake? At any rate, it is safe to say that the snakes would soon get as much mixed as the man who tries to work out the problem.

Village Board Proceedings.

The board of trustees met at the village hall Wednesday evening pursuant to adjournment with President Leamy in the chair and all members present.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

Treasurer's report for the month of August showed a balance on hand in all funds on September 1st of $1,928.41. The report was accepted and adopted. Bills were audited amounting to $45.23.

John C. Pinger, chairman of the committee on streets, reported that work on the improvement of streets had been completed so far as planned for this year.

The ordinance for permanent walking ways was taken up and discussed, but final action was deferred to a later meeting. The proposition of the village paying a portion of the cost of walks constructed hereafter was discussed and there seems to be a sentiment in its favor.

Board adjourned until the next regular meeting.

The cemetery association is calling for the annual dues for 1904, for the purpose of keeping the cemetery in good condition. The annual tax is only $1.00 and this is certainly a cheap way to keep the place in a first-class condition. Any person who has not enough pride and respect to pay this small sum are not doing justice to those who wish to have their loved ones resting amid beautiful surroundings. Send in your dollar to the treasurer.

The village board met for regular session Monday evening. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $412.14. Henry Law reported that licenses had been issued for forty dogs. The bond of Peter Knowe, contractor for the reservoir, was accepted. Bid of C. H. Patton for the bonds amounting to $2,300 for construction of the water works reservoir was accepted at a premium of $30. Bills to the amount of $416.30 were ordered paid.

The Chicago papers have been trying to unravel a mysterious case in Chicago. A young man claiming to be Jesse Betts and who the sister, Mabel, registered at the Birg's home last week. Mabel was taken to a hospital by her brother from which he told the police she had disappeared. The next day Saturday the young man disappeared leaving his belongings at the hotel. Betts said they were on their way to visit friends at Palatine. Who is he?

The Palatine school opened with very bright prospects last Monday. Many pupils are enrolled than in several years and more room has been provided for their accommodation. The high school is well attended there being a number from outside in attendance. Barrington needs one and Arlington Heights will have several coming here. Prof. Smyser has started in to make the best that is possible of the school and we believe nothing, but favorable reports from his pupils. If the parents will do their part toward making the school a success the teachers can be depended upon to do theirs.

Must Have Yellow Slip.

County clerks throughout the state are being notified that they must account for every one of the blank hunters' licenses that are commission headquarters at Springfield. Therefore they are forbidden to issue blanks to other clerks who may have such as these clerks must be supplied from state headquarters.

The plan of changing the color of the licenses for each year has also been adopted and hunters for the coming season must be able to exhibit a license printed on yellow paper. Those who have been issued licenses on the old blue blanks are instructed to return them and have them exchanged for yellow ones.

When licenses are lost, they cannot be renewed at the clerk's office as before, but applications and affidavits must be filed with the state game commissioner at Springfield.

"Every applicant for hunters' license must sign the regular application and swear to it." Some clerks have issued licenses this year upon presentation of old licenses taken out last season. This is contrary to law and works hardship to other clerks in the same neighborhood.

Candidates Out Rehears.

Under new rules recently adopted by the Lake County Republican committee each candidate for office was assessed $25 to cover the expense of printing ballots and conducting of primaries.

Seven candidates paid in their $25, making a total of $175 collected. The committee has found the $175 will cover all the expenses so each of the candidates will receive a rebate of $25.

What is Life?

Its gentle, yet thorough, action. Only 25c at Geo. C. Roberts & Co., drug store.

Ten Years Ago This Date.

The Chicago Tribune, in its "Do You Remember That?" column, this morning says: "Ten years ago today a fatal wreck on the Chicago & North-western line near Barrington, Ill., was caused by a cyclone blowing freight cars into the main line over which a passenger train was passing." Yes, we do remember, and also "that" it was the St. Paul limited train north bound, that Fireman James McMahon was so badly injured and had to spend three weeks in the hospital under the care of the hospital and a large number of patients and several employees badly injured.

ATTEND THE RACES.

The Libertyville Trotting Association Offers Fine Races.

The new and finely equipped racing track of the Libertyville Trotting Association is located one-and-a-half miles from the business center of Libertyville, on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R., and Chicago & Milwaukee Electric R. R. A large sum of money has been expended on the grounds and buildings with a view of making this the finest racing plant and training grounds in the northwest.

The stables for the accommodation of of speed horses are models of perfection and will compare favorably with those of any other grounds in the West. They are unsurpassed for convenience and safety.

The new mile track, which was completed July 1, is a thing of beauty, full regulation quarter turns and stretches, one black soil, perfectly graded, filled and fenced, and in the best possible condition. Purse hung up for the coming meeting, $7,500.

The association is especially anxious to make the first meeting, September 13, 14, 15 and 16, a banner one and will insure all of its patrons fair and generous treatment.

The big meeting opens next Tuesday with three races as follows: 2:30 trot, $500. 2:25 pace, $500. 2:18 trot, $1,000.

Does Nothing For People.

A good deal has been said about the purpose of a government to come to the aid of the people, at against the peckers' extortion, but there is little hope of it. The stockmen and cattle growers as well as consumers are beginning to discover that the beef trust is a tough proposition to run up against, especially when it has a titling on its hands. Beef goes up, cattle go down and the trust wins both ways, and the government does nothing at all.—Des Moines News.

GIBBONS CHOSEN

By Eighth District Democrats as Nominee for Minority Representative.—Lake View.

The democrats of the Eighth electoral district, comprising the counties of Boone, Lake and McHenry, met to adjourn convention at Joliet, broke the deadlock following the session held at Heleville two weeks ago, and after 118 ballots and stubborn fight, nominated Dennis E. Gibbons of Highland Park, Lake county, for minority representative over William Desmond of Hartland, McHenry county, present incumbent.

Gen. Geo. C. Rogers of Waukegan was nominated for state senator.

Lake county democrats are jubilant over their victory, and have just cause for rejoicing, as it is the first time in sixteen years that they have been recognized by the district.

Boons county presented a candidate and McHenry asked the return of Representative Desmond who had given excellent satisfaction to the people, but Lake's 22 delegates stood firm and demanded that the promise so often made to their county be redeemed.

TRIGGS MUST PAY

Mrs. McIntyre $2,500 For the Death of Her Husband.

The circuit court's decision in the case of McIntyre vs. Triggs and Anderly has been sustained by the appellate court.

This will be remembered as the case wherein Mrs. McIntyre, widow of the man who was found dead in a lumber shed at Libertyville some 18 months ago and whose death was declared by the coroner's jury to be due to alcoholism, brought suit against H. H. Anderly, proprietor of the Libertyville hotel and bar where it was proven McIntyre obtained liquor the night of his death, and James Triggs, owner of the building rented by Anderly.

Mrs. McIntyre was given $2,500 damages in the circuit court, and Mr. Triggs appealed the case. It is the decision that is now sustained by the appellate court.

According to this decision it is a safe proposition, says the Libertyville Independent, to rent a building for a saloon keeper. Mr. Anderly has moved out of the state and is not good for the amount of the damages and Mr. Triggs will have to bear the burden or appeal to a still higher court.

Eliah Two Times Hits Capital.

Don Cupid has been hedged about with new difficulties in Zion City. According to the rules promulgated by John Alexander Howe, counting of the young followers will be hastened by severe restriction. A girl under 18 years old will not be allowed to speak to a young man on the street. If she is a young woman 18 or over she may speak to a young man only by the consent of both his or her parents.

Eliah has been told that she must enforce this new order. He may correct his followers into paying exorbitant collections but he cannot in strictness the young disciples how to carry on their courting. The rules for that part were invented long years before Eliah hit the ground and will be in vogue many years after that self-appointed disciple has turned in his checks.

Outwitting Standard Oil.

It seems that an Ohio farmer has been wittingly outwitted by the Standard Oil Company. In one of his articles on "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine Mr. Lawson admits that he was wittingly outwitted by the gentlemen surrounding Mr. Rockefeller. His story relates to the Alameda-Copper deal and is told in about as follows: In one of his articles on "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine Mr. Lawson admits that he was wittingly outwitted by the gentlemen surrounding Mr. Rockefeller. His story relates to the Alameda-Copper deal and is told in about as follows: In one of his articles on "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine Mr. Lawson admits that he was wittingly outwitted by the gentlemen surrounding Mr. Rockefeller. His story relates to the Alameda-Copper deal and is told in about as follows:

He had long been in close relations with the Standard Oil syndicate and had no suspicion that they were would not play fair with him to the end. He seems to have placed himself so completely in their power that all his resources of capital and credit were involved in seeing through what he believed to be a profitable deal. When everything he had was pledged to Messrs. H. H. Rogers and William Rockefeller, he was ordered to do what he distinctly disapproved and which he was convinced was a dishonest deal, to make a paying property every one that did not pay. The alternative of refusal to do the deal was financial ruin. He seems to have been easily convinced by the figures presented by his associates. "But even then," he says, "I consented to go ahead under a distinct agreement which seemed to me completely to guard against all contingencies of 'jugglery or deception'."

In this he admits he was mistaken. As a matter of fact, he was badly deceived. "But even then," he says, "I consented to go ahead under a distinct agreement which seemed to me completely to guard against all contingencies of 'jugglery or deception'."

When my last account was presented to me I was startled. Notwithstanding the 'discovery' of the 'system,' the deception was so obvious, and the fact that the Standard Oil Company had been so completely deceived by the transaction with such vehemence and conviction that within a few minutes there was forthcoming a second statement, verifying the account, by which it was given just double the amount of the first.

In connection with this Tarbell's disclosure concerning the manner in which Standard Oil got its start, being chiefly through secret railroad favoritism, this confession of Mr. Lawson is very illuminating as to the methods by which John D. Rockefeller has become the richest man on earth.

It remained for a simple Ohio farmer

The only kind of consumption to fear is "neglected consumption."

People are learning that consumption is a curable disease. It is neglected consumption that is so often incurable.

At the faintest suspicion of consumption get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and begin regular doses.

The use of Scott's Emulsion at once, has, in thousands of cases, turned the balance in favor of health.

Neglected consumption does not exist where Scott's Emulsion is.

Prompt use of Scott's Emulsion checks the disease while it can be checked.

to meet the Standard Oil on its own ground and beat it at the game. He had an oil well in the "pumping" district—that is, where there is a little oil that it must be pumped. The other wells in the neighborhood yielded so freely that it was profitable, but this farmer's own well turned out such a quantity that he was growing independently wealthy. Now, the Standard objects to say one else growing wealthy at the oil business, so it directed an investigation. A pipe was found connecting the Standard tank with the farmer's well, and it was discovered that each night he turned a faucet and let enough of the fluid flow into his well to give him a good output for the next day. The pipe line was cut, but the farmer was not prosecuted, probably for the reason that the Standard admitted a man who could beat it with methods so like its own.

A woman at Doughertyville, N. Y., saved a New York Central passenger train and prevented a wreck by waving a red tablecloth. It seems that a tree had fallen across the track, and the woman discovered it just in time. In fifteen days the red tablecloth was used in such emergencies. It seems, however, that the Pennsylvania railroad and some others have recently sought to discourage the red tablecloth habit for the reason that women gathering coal along the tracks have sometimes unwittingly fingered trains. But the red tablecloth has been just as well. Long may it wave!

Since Charles M. Schwab reimbursed the people who lost their money in his shipbuilding trust scheme, Wall Street is convinced that there is something wrong with the former steel magnate. Possibly the insanity is in Wall Street itself, however, in that it is not able to appreciate such an action.

People are so healthy in Boston that one of the doctors there was forced to resort to counterfeiting. Ten thousand dollars in bogus paper money was found behind his desk. The thing came out through the time honored practice of people kicking on the doctor's bills.

A Wisconsin man consulted a doctor for the first time in his life when eighty years old. The next day he died. People may place whatever construction on this that the facts seem to warrant.

A Cincinnati organist says that the voice reveals character. Yet one cannot always tell the kind of a fight a man will put up by the amount of noise he makes.

The kissing bug has made his reappearance. He should keep away from some rooms or he is liable to be judged and dined for osculating in public.

It is safe to say that the man's coat physician is more popular than a whole regiment of his generals and admirals.

In the case of the soldier of Turkey, a battleship is a powerful aid to memory.

Several persons have lived without stomachs, others have pulled through with only half a lung, physicians have grown so skillful that they can now up the heart and ticker up the liver and kidneys, and until the last few years it was not known that sections of the brain could be removed without apparent loss of consciousness to the patient. True, many people did not display any particular way they had for the organ, and yet it was supposed that the thing, somehow or other, is necessary.

This opinion is now exploded. Several cases are on record in which injury to the brain did not cause death. In some instances even portions of the gray matter have been removed without fatal results. Some time ago, in Chicago, an inch of knife blade was pulled out of a man's head where it had been buried for twenty years. There has been a general supposition in other parts of the country that Chicago men think mostly with their stomachs and not with their brains, but now the idea has been fully substantiated.

A still more marvelous case happened in New Mexico. A Mexican had a quarrel with his family and shot himself. The ball struck the skull and imbedded in the forehead. The doctor scraped the head out of the gray matter with his finger. The patient never lost consciousness and soon recovered.

All this leads to rather startling inferences. Is the brain of the human animal a superfluous organ like the vermiform appendix? Or is the thing so essential to life that the brain must be removed without injury to the patient? If so, it at once opens a field for improvement. In many cases a photograph could be installed in the vacant space that would work much more accurately and would cause less annoyance than the firm of Cerebrum & Cerebrum before doing business at that stand.

Then, when something got wrong with a man's mind works, the skull could be opened, like the lid of a watch, the machinery taken out by some expert brain tuner, the wheels properly adjusted and the thing placed back as good as new.

No end of interesting possibilities present themselves. For example, if any organ were unduly developed, enough of it could be removed to leave the victim normal. If a man wanted to go out for trouble every few days, a few shaves could be taken off his bump of combativeness. If he thought he was the while thing, the preponderance of self esteem could be pared down a bit, and if he were afflicted with the too prevalent porcine propensities which make a man want to own the earth the section set apart for acquiescence could be operated upon.

It is not well to grow too enthusiastic over the prospects, however, as the experiment so far has been tried only on a man from Chicago and a "craze." It may not apply to the race generally.

Taking Grease From Wool.

A recent report from Wilhelm F. Fels, American agent at Zittau, Germany, will be received with great interest by wool growers and wool manufacturers in this country. It relates to the invention of a new machine for taking the grease from wool, technically known as "degreasing." It is accomplished by a dry process, using fusible earth as an absorbent. The earth is applied by a very swift current of air.

The wool fibers cleaned by it retain their natural qualities as to strength, elasticity and whiteness, and the cleaning is done at a greatly reduced expense. The shortest time being carried with complete regularity to every part of the wool, the degreasing is consequently accomplished with the greatest regularity.

The price of the machine is very low. It requires but little space and is so simple in construction that it can be handled by any one. All this would seem to make the invention an important one.
