IT WAS A LOVE FEAST.

Lake County Republicans Meet and in Thirty Minutes Nominate a County Ticket.

If division exists among the republicans of Lake County it was made manifest in the meeting of the faithful held at Libertyville last Saturday afternoon. Harmony in great big chunks was visible and not a ripple of excitement or discord marked the proceedings of the convention.

It was the opinion of some that it was the opinion of the rules adopted by the county central committee, for the holding of primaries and selection of delegates, would be brought before the convention, but not a word was heard in opposition to the methods put in force by the committee. The rules were followed nicely and everybody seemed satisfied.

There was no opposition to L. O. Brockway for circuit clerk, Dr. Julia B. Taylor for county auditor, and they received recognition by acclamation, but there being four candidates for the office of state's attorney a ballot was deemed necessary, although there was really only one candidate when the convention called to order, Arthur Buckley, who commanded the 12 votes of Libertyville, holding the key to the situation, giving his delegates to Mr. Hanna thus securing his nomination over Mr. Heydecker who had secured 85 delegates to Mr. Hanna's 87.

The convention was composed of 193 delegates apportioned as follows:

Convention in Detail.

Just thirty minutes after the convention was called to order a motion to adjourn was offered and carried. It was the shortest county convention ever held in Lake.

Charles Whitney, of Waukegan, chairman of the county central committee called the convention to order at 2 o'clock, the call being read by J. H. Morrow secretary of the committee.

Geo. H. Stephens of Newport township was named for temporary chairman and W. M. Welles of Waukegan as temporary secretary.

Mr. Cook of Lake Forest moved that representatives of the press be made permanent secretaries. Frank West and Arthur Dunn of Waukegan Gazette, W. J. Smith of Waukegan Sun and C. H. Morrison of Barrington Review acted as assistants.

It was moved by a delegate from Skokie, that the candidates and delegates be nominated. If there were no contest the delegations be seated. There were no contests and no committee on credentials deemed necessary.

Nominations being in order L. O. Brockway was placed in nomination for circuit clerk and every delegate voted yes.

Frank Just of Libertyville nominated Dr. Taylor for corner and the nomination was made unanimous. An informal ballot was then taken for State's attorney resulting as follows: Hanna 87, Heydecker 85. A formal ballot resulted Hanna 108, Heydecker 87, this giving Mr. Hanna the nomination, which upon motion of Mr. Heydecker was made unanimous.

James Anderson of Lake Forest was then renominated by acclamation for County Surveyor.

Congressman George Edmund Foss addressed the convention briefly, telling of what the party had accomplished during the term of his office, executive and what it promised for the future; cautioning the voters against apathy and predicting a sweeping victory for Roosevelt and Fairbanks in November.

Political Palates.

The Chronicle Editor says: "The republicans will carry every outside state and include West Virginia, Maryland and Kentucky." In its news column it says: "There is hope for republicans in Indiana. West Virginia probably doubtful."

A special correspondent says: "It is not probable that the Peck democratic nominee for Governor in Wisconsin, may carry the state and the republican electoral ticket placed in the doubtful column." Again it says: "The throwing out of employment of a great army of workers in Chicago and other manufacturing centers may cost the R. C. P. many votes."

It is said the wage earners of Chicago will vigorously oppose C. S. Denen, republican nominee for governor, but why no one seems to know. It has been demonstrated that republican candidates for governor can take this country without Cook county. Yates did so and Denen will do the same if necessary.

Uncle Shelby Callum is very much opposed to "old men" running after public office. Uncle is an spring chicken himself—but that is different. He ridiculed the vice-presidential candidate on the democratic ticket because of his age when the national committee said: "Easy, Uncle, you ain't as young as you used to be." And the senior senator from Illinois has suddenly stopped talking.

There is not a political prospect in this country who can furl the results of the coming national election. The conditions are not like 1900 or 1902. The two parties are at war this year and no one can estimate the strength of machine, populism or soft money fanatics.

Was an instructor on the Piano and Known as Prof. Steadman.

The following narrative is taken from the Davenport (Iowa) Times of September 8th, and refers to Professor Steadman, who resided here for some time and attended himself by giving vocal music lessons and instruction on the piano.

A sad chapter in the life of an unfortunate man was just closed by the County of Scott when Postmaster Evans secured transportation to Germany for F. H. Barton and his 12 year old son, Thomas and Berta. The two have left for the former home of Mr. Barton, where in his old age and feebleness he will be cared for by a niece, who has promised that his declining days shall be free from care or want.

The story of Barton's life has been told in our columns before. A few years ago he had a home in one of the suburbs of Chicago, a wife and family and an income with which he was well able to support the ones who were so dear to him.

Then his trouble began to come when his twilight began to fall. The best physicians in the city were consulted to stop the progress of the disease that promised to leave him blind. Large sums were spent in this way and his little band began to dwindle away. Then the wife became sick and after a lingering illness died, leaving her sorrowing and now almost blind husband with one little son to care for. When the dead wife had been buried there remained little of Mr. Barton's property and it was then he came to Davenport to try and earn his living. He became connected with a cigar company here but trouble soon followed and he was arrested, charged with embezzlement. The trial took place in the Scott county court house a year ago when Mr. Barton was acquitted. Now almost totally blind, he tried to earn a living by giving lessons in German and French, but his failing sight soon made this impossible and he was obliged to come to the county for aid. In the meantime his little son who is a bright little fellow, was cared for by the county and his father aided in giving him an education. Finally Mr. Barton caused a letter to be sent to his niece and she told him to come and she would care for him. The county clerk immediately procured the tickets for him and father and son are now on the way to the home of the niece, where they will be cared for. Mr. Barton is a well educated man a musician of no mean ability. His blindness has made him helpless, however, and it is claimed that such a case is the only one the committee is likely to take in view of the conditions.

The board of supervisors has been presented with a petition of Volo residents asking that a saloon license be granted to Kirwan and it is signed by 116 men who claim to be a majority of voters. A majority is supposed to rule.

Several times in years past attempts have been made to get licenses, but the opposition has always gotten out counter petitions and the board has refused them. This time, however, the promoters were well waited days before the board convened before circulating their petition hence the opposition had no time to get up a counter petition hence the feeling is that the saloon may be authorized.

Primary in Cuba Township.

Last Friday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock a primary was held in Cuba township for the election of delegates to the republican county convention. This township has a normal republican vote and the delegates were cast at the primary, the voters seemingly to have no interest in the contest for county officers.

Of the votes cast Hanna for States attorney received 4, Heydecker 3 and Persons 4. Other candidates for county positions received very little vote.

Perhaps apathy, has taken a hold in Cuba township as it has in many other precincts where republicans are so greatly in the majority. At the coming fall election every voter in the township should make it a duty to come to the polls and vote, as upon the vote cast at the November election will be decided the fate of the county.

TRAINS CARRYING THE

Rebo, Nev., dispatch: Two men were killed in death and seven passengers were injured Monday by a collision between Southern Pacific passenger trains at Lawton, seven miles west of Reno.

The dead: A. L. Hicks, fireman of train No. 6, and a brakeman.

The injured: Mrs. John Swas, Galeburg, Ill.; R. H. Morgan, Ridgebury, Pa.; P. H. Campbell, Fresno, Cal.; George Sumner, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. M. Galt, Ogden, Utah; James Hall, Clairville, Cal.; C. C. Barber, Oakland, Cal.; H. W. Farr, Oakland; F. J. Craft, Oakland.

The second section of westbound train No. 5, while running at a speed of thirty-five miles an hour, crashed into the third section of eastbound train No. 6 carrying a large party of returning Knights Templar. Each train was a doubleheader with heavy train Pullman and day coaches. All of the four engines are complete wreck, as well as the baggage and day coaches of both trains. The accident was due to disobedience of orders.

FARMER PLACES FEET

BENEATH LOCOMOTIVE

Prudent God as the Members Are Bewared in Response to Instructions Imparted in a Dream.

Stirling, Ill., dispatch: Matthew Olson, a religious fanatic, believing that he had received divine instructions to have his feet cut off by a locomotive, walked seven miles to the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad tracks, six miles northwest of this city, where he placed both feet over the rails and permitted the Great passenger train at 5 o'clock in the morning to dismember them at the ankles. The engineer was unable to stop the train in time to prevent the accident. At the train did his awful work Olson praised God, from whom all blessings flow. He told the train crew that he was a disciple of God and that he was only doing penance, such as God had directed him in a dream a few hours before. He protested against medical attendance, claiming that God would heal his wounds. Olson is a well-to-do farmer.

BOGUS CHECK PAYS FOR SHOES

Indianapolis Man Under Arrest on Forgery Charge.

Shelbyville, Ind., dispatch: E. H. Murry, who claims Indianapolis as his place of residence, is in jail here on a charge of forgery. He came here about six weeks ago to work for Hiram Peters, a cement contractor. Murry, it is alleged, forged Peters' name to five checks, each for $25, and succeeded in cashing them all. At the Stevens shoe company Murry purchased a pair of $25 shoes, giving a $25 check in payment and receiving $25 in change in return. Later Murry was arrested just as he was boarding an interurban car for Indianapolis. When searched the shoes and $25 in cash were found on his person.

END OF STRIKE

AT STOCK YARDS

Butcher Workmen Accept Terms Offered Them by Their Employers.

STRIKE BREAKERS TO REMAIN

There Will Be No Wholesale Discharge by the Packers, but the Old Men Will Be Put to Work as Fatt as Vacancies Occur.

Chicago dispatch: The great stock yards strike reached an end at midnight Thursday night. On terms similar to those proposed by J. Ogden Aronson, the Assn. of Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's union took the initiative Thursday evening and declared the strike at an end, so far as their organization was concerned.

Formal announcement of the stop was made at 10 o'clock Friday morning when the strikers' union formally approved the move. Conditions became effective at all other packing centers. The packers will take the strike back as fast as work can be found for them and the rate of wages will remain the same as before the struggle began.

Conciliatory Acts.

Acknowledging the defeat of his organization and insisting that the offer of intermediaries should be required as a solution of the industrial difficulty, President Roosevelt assumed an attitude of leadership that had been taken from him by the allied trades conference board, and is an impetuous address to representatives of the various packing trades forced the end of the strike.

Better Conditions to Prevail.

Within an hour the packers had been apprised of the situation, and answered that the old men would be received back at any time under the terms which were rejected by referendum. More satisfactory conditions for both employers and employees are embodied in the agreement.

There will be no wholesale discharge of the colored and foreign laborers who have acted as strike breakers. No provision has been made for the unskilled workers. For a time before the strike and the union leaders hope that later the packers will offer to submit the question of pay to an arbitration committee.

Mrs. Cornelia De Boy and John H. Hartig presented to President Roosevelt a second plea that he accept use of terms of settlement offered by Mr. Aronson. The terms of their argument was that unless action was taken the port of the unions would be complete, and it would be more dangerous to knowledge failure than to fight long.

Re-employ Five Black Handlers.

Unusually soon that the strikers would have been back to work without provision for the unskilled men, for whom they struck, but the intermediaries pointed out that these men occur or later would be re-employed, and that the packers probably would agree to take up the matter of wages.

When Roosevelt had approved of the suggestions of the intermediaries he turned to fight for the end of the strike if the five stock handlers were guaranteed their former positions. Dr. De Boy and Mr. Hartig obtained a promise from W. R. Skinner that the men would be taken back.

RETRUN FROM STATE OF MAINE

Republican Plurality in Monday's Election is Estimated at 20,000.

Portland, Me., special: Maine gave a Republican plurality in the state Monday afternoon, and the margin, as indicated by returns received from 150 out of 222 cities, towns and plantations. These returns give William T. Cobb of Rockland the Republican mandate for governor, 71,000; Cyrus W. Davis of Waterville, the Democratic candidate, 44,000. The same places in 1900 gave Hill, Republican, 63,000, and Lord, Democrat, 37,000.

These returns show a Republican gain over 1900 of 18 per cent and a Democratic gain of 10 per cent, which means the Republican plurality for governor is estimated at 20,000. In 1900 the Republican plurality was 12,000. The vote Monday was the largest cast since 1888.

Korpsak in Thailing.

Will Reorganize His Army.

Sio-Min-Tse, Sept. 11.—Gen. Korpsak has succeeded in Thailing with the advance guard of his army and the other Russian columns are close behind him. He is now waiting between 25,000 and 30,000 Japanese troops and at once began preparations for the defense of the place.

The last of the Russian rear guard has succeeded in crossing the Han river and are prepared to make a stand there to check the advance of the Japanese center. The flanking columns of Goto and Kuroki are well to the north of the river, but their Intrenchments for Japs.

London, Sept. 11.—The Daily Mail correspondent at Chefoo reports that 200,000 Chinese coolies are engaged upon Japanese entrenchments between Dairen and Port Arthur.

It is believed that Gen. Korpsak has over 500,000 men. The general staff laid to-day that since the battle of Liaoyang Gen. Korpsak has been reinforced by two army corps. It is supposed that the reinforcements of artillery amount to fully 300 guns.

TOWER IN LIAO-YANG, USED AS A CHURCH, WHERE THE MOST DESPERATE FIGHTING HAS OCCURRED.

The tower of Liao-Yang was the center of the most desperate fighting ever recorded in the history of the world. Here for eight days the battle raged with 200,000 Russians determined to hold the winter stronghold. The tower is outside the walls of the city and is used for religious purposes.

efforts to cut the Russian line of retreat have up to this time, been unavailing. Gen. Maynadoff, commander of the Russian rear guard, was pretty nearly cut to pieces before he succeeded in crossing the Han and escaping to the north. He has been less than 5,000 or 6,000 men since the retreat began.

It is reported that a number of regiments engaged in the fighting about Liaoyang have been sent south to assist in the reduction of Port Arthur, and from this it is deduced that the Russian rear guard is being reformed and a determined effort to cut the Russian from Thailing for some time, at least.

The Chinese have been extremely active and have succeeded in giving the Russians a good deal of trouble by their swift dashes on the communications. They are reported to have captured a considerable quantity of stores during the retreat and have not hesitated to attack small detachments of the Russian army in many of their attacks they have been successful. They take no prisoners. The ranks of the Chinese have been cut in places, and the roads are no longer passable. The roads are no longer passable and property have been destroyed by the operations of the armies.
