VOL. 22. NO. 32.

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, OCT. 5, 1906

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

Barrington Village Board Act on Many Important Measures.

Main street, which has given Barrington aldermen more worry than the rest of the streets combined, again came to the front Monday evening at the regular meeting of the council in the shape of the following petition presented:

"To the Board of Trustees of the Village of Barrington, Ill.
We, the undersigned owners of real estate in the Village of Barrington, hereby petition that Main street, from about the east line of A. L. Robertson's property to about the west line of Chas. Witt's property, be graded so as to conform to a grade to which we, the owners of property affected, may agree."

F. L. Waterman.
A. L. Robertson.
John Robertson.
H. Abbott.
Geo. J. Hager.
G. H. Comstock.
W. Hager.
Mrs. P. J. Donahue.
J. A. Dodge.
Fred Homuth.
Charles Witt.
A. F. Miller.
John Schwemmer.
Henry Boehmer.
Fred Meyer.
Geo. Layle.

There is no doubt but what the street should be lowered somewhat in order to make uniform the sidewalks, but just what action to take was left for a future meeting for an investigation as to the probable cost. If anything is done it is apparent that the walk on the north side of the street should be brought up to grade. As the walk is now it is a menace to pedestrians.

were presented for the approval of the Board, one by Geo. Hager, one by J. L. Meiners, and the third by Reynolds, whose lots are located on North Hawley street.

Wm. Spinner and others were notified to cover up the wells and cisterns on their premises. Spinner Brothers were also ordered to repair their sidewalk on Walnut street.

Another important matter acted on was that of rubbish, consisting of straw, hay, etc., which people allow to accumulate on their premises, thereby endangering the health and property, not only for themselves but also those of their neighbors. Hereafter the city will see to it that rubbish will not accumulate. This also includes straw stacks, corn shocks, etc., which may become a menace to property.

DOGS KILL MANY SHEEP

Vicious Unknown Canines Cause Havoc With Patrick Courtney's Sheep.

Patrick Courtney, who resides near Wauconda, met with a severe loss early Monday morning. Fifty sheep that were in a pasture in Cuba township were attacked by dogs, killing ten and injuring five more so badly that most of them will have to be killed. An investigation was had Tuesday, but the owner of the dog or dogs could not be ascertained. The loss was adjusted by Supervisor M. T. Lamey for fifty dollars, which barely covers Mr. Courtney's loss.

ACCOMPLISHED MUCH GOOD

Young People's Missionary Society of Salem Church Elects New Officers.

On Tuesday evening the Young People's Missionary Society of the Salem church had their annual election of officers, and the following were elected for the ensuing year:

Albert Gleske, president; Fred Holstein, vice-president; Miss Laura Landwer, secretary; Fred Grabenhorst, treasurer; Miss Esther Kampert, Geo. Lageschulte and Miss Olive Haelele.

Program Committee: Miss Lydia Sech and Mrs. Lucilia Gieske, organizers; Miss Olive Plager and Miss Emma Hager, librarians.

The secretary, Miss Amanda Schroeder, reported that during the past year five members were lost and ten new members added, making the present membership seventy-one. At the beginning of the year there was a balance of $90.61 on hand. During the year $131.85 has been collected. Of the $198.46 in all, $25.00 has been given to the support of home missions, $24.65 to the China mission and $85.75 to the home expenses, leaving a balance of $90.24 on hand.

By a unanimous vote it was decided to pay $50.00 to the Illinois conference missions for the coming year. A public missionary meeting is to be held as soon as arrangements can be made. This society holds monthly missionary meetings on the first Tuesday evening of each month.

A program is usually prepared treating on missionary topics of home or foreign fields. A general knowledge of the nations of the world, their habits and customs, and their moral and intellectual conditions, is thus gained. This knowledge is both interesting and useful. It helps to make one more content with one's own circumstances in life and more sympathetic towards others less fortunate than ourselves. These meetings are always open to anyone and everybody is heartily invited to be present.

H. H. Hart's new home in the subdivision is very well under way, and Will Beckman's house in the subdivision is near completion.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Minnie Buesching to Mr. John Fink which took place Thursday, October 3rd, they will be at home to their friends after Oct. 29th at Lake Zurich.

Mr. Fink is well known, having spent a good share of his life here, Miss Buesching is also well known among the young people. The Review joins in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

Mr. Milton Daniels has been transferred, so that now he has Palatine and Arlington Heights territory in keeping the telephone in repair.

A large crowd went to Des Plaines, Sunday, to witness the game when the Davis Chocolates telephoned they would not come.

The broncha had the misfortune to go lame, so she cannot go against her record at Springfield nor Lexington. She will be back here for the winter in a short time.

Response to Des Plaines.

According to the item Mr. Schaffer of Des Plaines sent our paper, one would think that the Des Plaines Stars had won a very large score and defeated Palatine as a result, but any one who read Clarence Comfort's report of the game, or anyone who was there, would know that Des Plaines did not do much. Had they not had a pitcher that understood the game, Des Plaines would be in the dark somewhere—no one knows who—for the remainder of the team could do no work in any position. Even Pitcher Foley was afraid the first baseman could not catch his ball, so ran to the base himself with the ball, to be sure.

Palatine took their defeat too hard in a mannerly way, but, as usual, the Des Plaines was there with insulting remarks. It is a shame they are afraid to meet Palatine again, for had they come to Palatine the routers there would not insult them. They are afraid of Palatine and would only come on condition that it be a strictly Palatine team, forgetting that they paid twenty dollars for a Chicago man, while Palatine plays with volunteer men, and all Palatine, except Mr. Peters, of Arlington Heights, who has only played three games with the team.

Palatine will play the Kentucky Giants, a colored team, Sunday. Des Plaines attempted to spoil that, seeing they were afraid to come, but Manager Seip was ahead of them. The game, Sunday, promises to be very good, so don't fail to be on hand at two o'clock.

Dance at Lake Zurich.

Owing to the inclement weather the grand prize dance at Bicknase's new pavilion on the shores of Lake Zurich, which was to have been given Saturday, September 29th, was postponed to Saturday, October 6th. Music will be furnished by a good Chicago orchestra. A gold medal will be awarded the couple who are pronounced the best waltzers. Stabling will be furnished at H. Heller's for seventy-five horses. Tickets fifty cents. Come and have a good time.

This dance promises to bring out the best dancers of three counties, and will be worth your while attending if you desire a pleasant time with a polka crowd.

Will Play Ball.

On Saturday afternoon the Cary White Sox will cross bats with the Chicago and North-Western Railway employees at Duley's park on Fox river. The lineup of the opposing factions will be as follows:

Cary White Sox: Batteries: Grebe, E. Swartz, et. Osgood, 3c; Meillick, 1c; Lankes, et. Beck, 1c.
C. and N. W.: Hank, et. Hayes, 1c; Weaver, 1c; Powers, 2c; McKinney, 1c; Purcell, 1c; James, 1c; Lincoln, et. Horn, 1c.

The odds wagered are about even, and a big crowd of interested fans will witness the game.

Will Run on Stump Ticket.

On Wednesday J. L. Sawyer filed his petition and thus officially confirmed the rumor that he would run on a stump ticket in opposition to Council Clerk Hendee at the coming election.

Will Elect Officers.

The Knights of the Globe, No. 127, will hold a regular meeting at their hall, next Monday evening, October 8. Officers for the ensuing six months will be elected, and all members are requested to be present.

Henry Schroeder, Secretary.

No October Assessment.

The cheering news comes to the woodchoppers that there will be no assessment for October in the M. W. A. This will be the third "skip" for the year—an excellent showing.

You will save from 20 to 25 per cent by buying second hand school books at L. H. Meyer's.

COUNTY OFFICERS TO MEET

Supervisors and County Clerks of the State to Meet in Waukegan Next Week.

The 20th Annual Convention of the State Association of Supervisors, County Commissioners and County Clerks of the State of Illinois will be held at the Schwartz Opera House, Waukegan, Oct. 9, 10 and 11.

An excellent program has been arranged to entertain the delegates, who will attend in large numbers. Good lecturers have been secured and will speak on various subjects of interest to such an audience. Among these speakers are Judge Cutting, Judge Mack and John Farnon of Chicago—Lawrence Sherman, Lieut. Gov. of Illinois, Prof. Halsey of Lake Forest, Dr. Whitman of the Elgin Asylum and Prof. Gaggin and Miss Miriam Bosley of Waukegan.

A reception, a banquet, an automobile parade to Zion City and theatre party will be offered as the social side of the convention.

A. L. Hendee, County Clerk of Lake County, is Secretary of this association. The reception committee consists of Alex. Robertson, chairman, who is also chairman of the county board, and Supervisors Miller, Chow, Sutherland and Lamey with L. Hendee, deputy county clerk, as secretary.

Cheese-Eating Contest Fatal.

Frank Miller, aged 21, proved that he could eat more cheese than any other cheese lover in Johnsonburg, and then he died. Fred Justen proved that he could eat almost as much of the limburger variety as Miller. He probably will die. Jake Bayfield made a poor showing as a cheese consumer, and he is only desperately sick.

Such is the result of a contest that ended many nights of taproom argument in Johnsonburg. Miller's capacity for cheese was a household proverb in the village, and Justen was envious. Bayfield also thought he might be in it if there was any way of settling the dispute.

The contest was held at Johnsonburg. When the contest began each man had his own table, on which was set a pound slab of limburger. Timekeepers and weighers were named; the audience gathered around the tables, and at a signal the rival cheese eaters fell to. Bayfield quit while yet about a third of his slab remained. Justen went a little farther. Miller, to make victory certain, struggled through to the crumbs and was carried away while his friends cheered.

Next day all three were in the hands of physicians. Miller's case was the worst. It looked like appendicitis to the doctors, and they operated. The operation did no good, and he died Monday morning.

Mrs. Dr. Richardson Entertains the Barrington Woman's Club.

Mrs. D. H. Richardson entertained the Barrington Woman's Club Thursday evening at an informal reception at her home on Main street.

A large number of club members and their husbands or gentlemen friends were present to enjoy the program of music, reading and games arranged.

Mrs. M. C. McIntosh, the president, gave a short and pleasing talk and the hostess served an attractive luncheon. The work in study and charity planned for the club promises much benefit.

Notice.

The Barrington Republican club will hold its regular annual election of officers at the office of the club secretary on Monday evening, Oct. 8th at 8 o'clock p. m. The executive committee are respectfully urged to be present, as matters of importance are to be taken up.

L. H. BENNETT, Secretary.

Given a Kitchen Shower.

A kitchen shower was given Thursday evening at the home of Miss Minnie Gleske on Grove avenue to Miss Ida Heinrich of Oak Park, whose marriage to Herman Gleske occurs next Tuesday. Many useful articles were presented to the bride-to-be and many jokes at her expense. Music, games and a supper were other amusements for the fifteen young ladies who attended.

The Woman's Thursday club opened its year's work Oct. 4th at the home of the president, Mrs. Wm. Howarth, Main street.

After the president's welcoming address, a bright and varied program of short addresses and recitations was given and afternoon tea served.

The guests included about twenty two club members and sixteen friends. The club program has been excellently arranged for an interesting year.

GAVE HIM GOOD THRASHING.

Wife of Wealthy Woodstock Man Forsakes Him for a Coachman and the Fur Is Now Flying.

Taken from Tuesday's Chicago Tribune. Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—After soundly thrashing him, P. W. Murphy, Woodstock, Ill., had Edward Conklin, a coachman, arrested here today on charges involving Mrs. Murphy and a scandal affecting some of Woodstock's leading families.

According to Murphy, who is a rich real estate dealer, his wife secured a divorce in order that she might follow Conklin to Twin Lakes, where he is employed as coachman by Harry Moore, Chicago.

Mrs. Murphy is a member of an old Woodstock family. Conklin formerly was a lawyer. He has a wife and child.

In court Conklin had evidence of the trifling Murphy had given him. On discovering the true facts of his wife's infatuation Murphy went to Twin Lakes and relieved some of his feeling on his rival. Then he had him arrested.

The Prices of Milk.

The prices per eight-gallon can of standard milk, as suggested by the board of directors of the Milk Shippers' Union for the following months are as follows, F. O. B. Chicago: October, $1.00; November, $1.20; December, $1.20; January, $1.20; February, $1.15; March, $1.10; April, $1.10.

More Truth Than Poetry.

Men are queer. Wouldn't there be a roar when they came home to their meals if they had to sit up on a high stool in front of a table upon which was no tablecloth, and thus eat their meals in that fashion? Yet a majority of men when they go to a restaurant to eat they pick out the high stool and the feed board with no cloth on in preference to a comfortable chair and cloth-covered table. A man will borrow a chew of tobacco and most of them will set their teeth into the plug right over where some other man had gnawed out a chew. Offer him a piece of pie at home from which his wife or one of the children had taken a bite and he would holler his head off. At home he will not drink out of a cup or a glass from which some one of the family has been drinking. Call him into the back stall of a livery barn, pull out a bottle and let him stick the neck half way down his throat in order to get a swig after half a dozen other fellows have had the neck of the bottle in their mouths.

Deer are tramped down Connecticut crops. They must be enforcing the game laws in that state.

It cost more to live last year than during any previous year since 1899. But, after all, it was worth the price.

In four years $400,000,000 has been spent in the United States on automobiles, and the horseless era is as far removed as ever.

A bigger and better Valparaiso is promised. Nevertheless, none of the civic improvement societies recommend such radical shake-up.

Delva Lockwood says it is just as necessary for women to go to school as for men. Many of our women seem to take the same view of the case, and they are not studying law either.

An English inventor wants London to banish smoke and stinging fogs by generating electricity for its light and power at coal mines at a cost of 125 million. He says the cost of the plant would be $17,000,000, and that the loss from the smoke nuisance in London is $10,000,000 a year. The proposition is sound that the best way to suppress smoke in a city is to keep it out.

News comes from Barrington, Vt., that America Vesputius Spaulding has named Christopher Columbus for $17,500. Christopher Columbus has been boarding with America Vesputius, and one discoverer apparently discovered that the other discoverer thought he had discovered a soft snap. So does history again repeat itself. The original Columbus, it will be remembered, was mistaken as to what he really discovered when he reached America.

We need not have the slightest fear that civilized man is going to become degenerate from city dwelling or any of the other strains of civilization. Contrary to popular belief, declares the Success Magazine, the white man of today has a lower death rate, a higher average length of life, is taller, heavier and stronger than any of his predecessors, or any known race of savages. Almost every company of American and English soldiers will contain men who can outrun, outswim and outfight the best athletes of any native tribe.

Did anybody ever see anything like the disappearance of Jiu-Jitsu? A year or two ago everybody was listening open-eyed to marvelous stories of men with slender little men overcome giants by a simple twist of the wrist. Teachers of the mystic art were appointed for West Point and Annapolis, and other colleges were to get them as fast as they could be found. Then our American athletes very obstinately refused to be unjostled by any of the Jiu-Jitsu tricks, but fang the Jiu-Jitsu experts on the floor, and Jiu-Jitsu was forgotten.

In the event of the Donegal county council's decision to sell the old Lifford prison being confirmed by the local government board one of the most historic jails of Ireland will disappear. Within its walls, says the London Daily Mail, were once confined many notable offenders, including persons concerned in the Irish rebellion and a number of French prisoners who were taken in the sea fights off the mouth of Lough Swilly. Napper Tandy, rendered famous by the lines in "The Wearing of the Green," was incarcerated in this old prison.

Persia has instituted a reform that in old days would have been accomplished by bloody revolution. The shah has granted a constitution and a council of state of 50 members from all classes except peasants. The reform is partly the result, so do not of the upheaval in Russia, which is a warning against absolutism; and partly due to the demands of the people of Persia barked by threats of armed rebellion. The rebellious spirit of the age, however, which impressed the shah in his journeys through Europe, lies farther back than the change. A modern enlightened monarchy may rise upon the domains of Xerxes and Darius.

It is flattering to our self-esteem to find that we are paying a tuition an aggregate sum nearly equal to half the cost of the national government, but when this is reduced to an average it will be found that our generosity gives less than laborers pay to the instructors of our children. If the service we obtain for that outlay is better than we could expect it must be paid to the conscientious administration of the schools rather than to a businesslike policy of paying a fair day's wages for a fair day's work. After all, declares the Pittsburgh Dispatch, as a nation we are not advanced much beyond the time when the teachers "boarded around."

How practical a machine the automobile has become may be judged from the trip recently completed by two men, who covered the distance from San Francisco to New York in 24 days. The best previous record made by the same men two years ago, was 33 days, and the best record before that was 66 days.

A Colorado man, while shaving, tried to brush a fly from his nose. He succeeded, but lost the end of his nose. It is a good sign that the other hand than the one containing the razor when brushing flies.

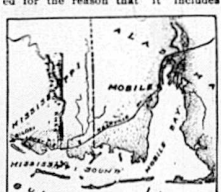

DEATH LEVY IS HEAVY

KNOWN DEAD NUMBER SEVENTY-TWO PERSONS.

DOUBT AS TO ESTIMATE

Larger Figure Includes Those Missing From Crews of Oyster Boats, Many of Which Have Put Into Port.

Mobile, Ala.—The number of deaths as the result of the storm is increasing as returns come in from places heretofore inaccessible. The known dead number 73, with a possibility of 102. Four bodies not before counted have been found at Coden, and it is estimated that 123 lives have been lost from the oyster fleet around Cedar Point. This last estimate is not known to be accurate and is probably somewhat exaggerated for the reason that it includes among the dead every man aboard a fishing boat who has not been heard of since the storm. It is known some of the crews of which these men were driven ashore and it is entirely possible some of the crews managed to reach the shore.

The situation along the coast to the west of this city is now fairly well known. At Scranton, Miss., several buildings were blown down. At Pascagoula Beach not a residence is left standing. The revenue cutter Winona, for which much fear was entertained, is now known to be safe.

The loss to the lumber interests alone by the storm will aggregate $10,000,000. Tens of thousands of trees of the finest quality have been blown down, and the number of logs that have been carried out to sea or driven into inaccessible swamps is enormous. The great majority of trees that had been weakened by being tapped for turpentine were leveled and dealers in turpentine are gloomy over the outlook.

Huge Station Inundated. New Orleans.—Reports received from the Mississippi river delta show that hundreds of square miles of land were under water to a depth of 10 to 15 inches for several days. The inundated tract begins 50 to 70 miles below New Orleans and is mostly inhabited by fishermen and fishermen. The great majority of the houses that up to that time several persons were still missing.

Another Storm Feared. Mobile, Ala.—Haunted by the recollection of the great storm which had just passed, sustaining further injury and increased financial loss from a heavy rainfall and fearful of what the morrow would bring the residents of the city of Mobile are at a most uncomfortable 12 hours Monday.

Many residents of the place were at times in a state of semi-panic over the dispatches from Washington which directed that storm warnings be displayed along the Florida coast. The business houses of the city sustained almost as much financial loss from a heavy rainfall which set in shortly after midnight Monday and lasted about 12 hours, as from the recent disaster.

POLICY KING KILLS HIMSELF

"Al" Adams, of New York, Ends Life With Revolver.

New York.—Albert J. Adams, who made a large fortune as the head of the policy gambling combine, shot himself in the head Sunday night at his apartments in the Ansonia, in this city. His dead body was found Monday morning. Adams had been in poor health since his release from Sing Sing prison, where he served a term for having conducted a policy game in New York.

At the office of the Colonial Security company, of which Adams is treasurer, it was said Monday that Adams had been ill of diabetes for a year, and that it was this illness, which must have prompted him to commit suicide.

New York.—Coroner Harburger, in a statement made Tuesday, gave an intimation that he was not entirely satisfied that the death of "Al" Adams, the former so-called policy king, was the result of suicide.

Former Virginia Judge Dead.

St. Louis.—Hardening of the heart tissues caused the death Tuesday of Judge Thomas Turner Fauntleroy, formerly a Virginia supreme court judge and once secretary of the commonwealth of Virginia.

Death of a Lutheran Pastor.

Portland, Ore.—Rev. Dr. Andrew W. Williamson, who for many years occupied the chair of philosophy at the Swedish Lutheran college and seminary, Rock Island, Ill., died here Monday, aged 70 years.

COMING CABINET CHANGES

MOODY AND SHAW ARE TO RETIRE THIS WINTER.

President Has Selected Ambassador Meyer for One of the Vacancies, But the Other is Still Open.

Washington.—Two retirements from the president's cabinet are slated for the coming winter. They are those of Attorney General Moody, whose resignation will become effective about the 1st of December, and that of Secretary Shaw, who, according to present intentions, will retire in February. For one of these vacancies to be created, the president will nominate George V. L. Meyer, American ambassador to Russia, but for the other he is not yet ready to announce a successor.

Mr. Roosevelt has sought to prevail on Attorney General Moody to remain in the cabinet, but the latter, because of business arrangements he has made, has found it impossible to do so.

He also would like to have Secretary Bonaparte take Mr. Moody's place when the latter retires, but the former prefers the position at the head of the navy department, with whose workings he has become thoroughly familiar.

Some suggestion has been made that Secretary McFarland, of the department of commerce and labor, take one of the positions to be made vacant in the proposed shifting of cabinet offices, but he also has expressed a preference to remain where he is.

AMERICAN WINS BALLOON RACE.

Lieut. Lahm Captures Contest for James Gordon Bennett Cup.

Paris.—Uncertainty regarding the result of the balloon race for the James Gordon Bennett cup, started from here Sunday afternoon, was ended at noon Tuesday when a dispatch was received by the Aero club announcing that Hon. O. S. Rolfs and his companion, Col. Capper, in the balloon Britanna, landed between Kingtonham and the sea at 6:30 Monday night, thus establishing that Lieut. Frank P. Lahm, sixth cavalry, U. S. A., the American competitor in the race, who descended in the Whitty Monday afternoon in the balloon United States, is the winner. Signor von Wille of Italy is second, and Hon. O. S. Rolfs of Great Britain fourth.

The beautiful cup presented for competition by James Gordon Bennett became a trophy of the Aero Club of America. The best cash prize of $2,900 goes to Lieut. Lahm, and the endurance medal to Mr. Rolfs, who was the longest in the air, 24½ hours.

ALLEGED CASE OF BLACKMAIL.

Two Men Charged with Trying to Extort $20,000 from Widower.

Milwaukee.—H. D. Miller and Fred Stocking, who reside at 738 Franklin street, Milwaukee, were arrested in connection with the alleged attempt to extort $20,000 from Mrs. Richard T. Robinson, of Racine.

The arrest of Miller is said to have been brought about through his efforts to arrange for the transfer of the $20,000 to his credit through the First National bank of Chicago.

Miller is said by the police to have confessed his guilt, admitting the charges made.

Miller, although closely questioned, denied being guilty, but asserted that he knew who the author of the blackmailing letter was.

Stocking is said, early in the spring, to have supervised the decorating and furnishing of the Robinson home at Racine, as an employee of a Milwaukee concern.

Murphyboro, Ill.—A head-on collision occurred near here Tuesday afternoon between two passenger trains on the St. Louis-Cairo line of the Illinois Central road, and 11 persons were injured, none being reported fatally hurt. The injured, R. R. Walker, St. Louis, cut in back of head; W. R. Hill, Chicago, nose broken; Mrs. Charles Gehrig, Hardstown, Ill., left leg bruised; David Moore, Paducah, Ky., head cut; Julius Rick, Paducah, Ky.; J. W. Davis, Grand Tower; Miss Neta Burnett, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Mrs. Rex Loudon, Murphyboro; G. L. Hamilton, Marissa; R. L. Mannie, Carbondale; L. E. Peck, East St. Louis.

INTERVENTION.

PRIVATE OHIO BANK CLOSED

NEARLY ENTIRE FUNDS OF MID-LEVEL INSTITUTION GONE.

Great Excitement in Town When News Is Made Public—To Arrest President.

Pomeroy, O.—The Middleport bank, a private institution at Middleport, O., failed to open its doors Friday. It is stated that all the deposits, amounting to $115,000, are missing and great excitement prevails. Most of the depositors are poor people and their deposits represented nearly all their savings. E. C. Fox, the president of the bank, has been located at Toronto, O., where his wife's people reside, and his arrest is expected to be apprehended and brought back at once.

President Fox went away last Tuesday, leaving Vice President T. S. Armentrout in charge. An examination of the vaults after Fox had gone revealed $2,000 in cash and paper worth less than $50,000 on its face to account for the $115,000 deposited. Armentrout was formerly a Presbyterian minister at Gallipolis and on the solicitation of Fox resigned the ministry the 1st of June, converted his property into $6,000, and entered the bank as an equal partner with Fox, perfectly unaware of its financial condition. He has lost his $6,000 and is now almost a physical wreck over worrying about the outcome of his new enterprise.

The people of Middleport became thoroughly aroused late in the afternoon over the collapse of the bank. For a time it looked like there might be bloodshed. William Horton, an old merchant, became so angered over the loss of a heavy deposit that he secured a revolver and sought Vice President Thomas R. Armentrout at his home in the Fox addition with the view of shooting the banker.

WIFE MURDERER IS ARRESTED.

Minneapolis Slayer Confesses Crime and Clears Up Mystery.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Snatched from a suicide's grave while his plan of self-destruction was being fulfilled, Henry Sussman was captured Friday by police, who were charged with having murdered his young wife as she lay asleep in a room in the Glenwood hotel. Soon after his detention the police say he confessed the murder and that he had committed one of the most mysterious crimes in the annals of the city.

"I killed her after we quarreled all night," Sussman is reported to have admitted. He was charged with the murder of his wife, who was found dead in a room on the second floor of the Nashville hotel. He was lying unconscious on the bed and five gas canisters in the room were turned on to their fullest extent. The man already was in a stupor, and had he remained in the room a short time longer would have died.

A KENTUCKY WOMAN

How She Gained Fifteen Pounds in Weight and Became Well by Taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Women at forty, or thereabouts, have their future in their own hands. There will be a change for the better or worse, for the better if the system is purified by such a tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. D. G. Wedding, of Hartford, Ky., writes as follows concerning the difficulties which afflicted her:

I was seriously ill and was confined to my bed for six or eight months in all, during two years. I had chills, fever, rheumatism. My stomach seemed always too full. My kidneys did not act freely, my liver was inactive, my heart beat was very weak and I had dizziness or swimming in my head and nervous troubles.

I was under the treatment of several different physicians but they all failed to do me any good. After suffering for two years I learned from an Arkansas friend about the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I bought a box and I was cured. I weighed fifteen pounds more than when I began, resumed my household duties, and have since enjoyed the best of health. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to many people on account of what they did for me, and I feel that I cannot praise them too strongly.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills restored Mrs. Wedding to health because they actually made new blood and every muscle, every nerve in full vigor every function of the body is restored, because the blood carries to every organ, and every muscle, every nerve the necessary nourishment. Any woman who is interested in the cure of Mrs. Wedding will want to know that "Pink Pills for Pale People," which is free on request.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or they will be sent by mail post-paid, on receipt of price, 20 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

BISHOP WAS WRONGLY QUOTED

Williams of Michigan Corrects Report Regarding Sermon on Bible.

Detroit, Mich.—Bishop Charles D. Williams, of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan, Tuesday declared that he had been incorrectly quoted in the published report of his sermon Sunday to the Y. M. C. A. members in which it was stated he said that the Bible as the word of God is the most prolific source of unbelief the church has to contend with.

"I am neither ultra-conservative, nor yet a Robert Ingersoll, and I wish to emphatically deny the report," declared Bishop Williams. "I did say that a certain view of the Bible is a most prolific source of unbelief. To say that the Bible is the most prolific source of unbelief I would be the rankest kind of a Robert Ingersoll."

The bishop made these thoughts and meditatively, and a man with a conscience will find the word of God in it."

It is flattering to our self-esteem to find that we are paying a tuition an aggregate sum nearly equal to half the cost of the national government, but when this is reduced to an average it will be found that our generosity gives less than laborers pay to the instructors of our children. If the service we obtain for that outlay is better than we could expect it must be paid to the conscientious administration of the schools rather than to a businesslike policy of paying a fair day's wages for a fair day's work. After all, declares the Pittsburgh Dispatch, as a nation we are not advanced much beyond the time when the teachers "boarded around."

How practical a machine the automobile has become may be judged from the trip recently completed by two men, who covered the distance from San Francisco to New York in 24 days. The best previous record made by the same men two years ago, was 33 days, and the best record before that was 66 days.

Did anybody ever see anything like the disappearance of Jiu-Jitsu? A year or two ago everybody was listening open-eyed to marvelous stories of men with slender little men overcome giants by a simple twist of the wrist. Teachers of the mystic art were appointed for West Point and Annapolis, and other colleges were to get them as fast as they could be found. Then our American athletes very obstinately refused to be unjostled by any of the Jiu-Jitsu tricks, but fang the Jiu-Jitsu experts on the floor, and Jiu-Jitsu was forgotten.

Persia has instituted a reform that in old days would have been accomplished by bloody revolution. The shah has granted a constitution and a council of state of 50 members from all classes except peasants. The reform is partly the result, so do not of the upheaval in Russia, which is a warning against absolutism; and partly due to the demands of the people of Persia barked by threats of armed rebellion. The rebellious spirit of the age, however, which impressed the shah in his journeys through Europe, lies farther back than the change. A modern enlightened monarchy may rise upon the domains of Xerxes and Darius.

"You hear that, Billy?" The court reserved decision. Mr. Arledge has to say so many gold cigarettes and vintages and trousseaus, and belong to so many clubs, that he wants the court to help him choose a poor grocer out of his money. Say, Billy, that judge could find me for contempt of court, right now, for reserving his decision. You bet Mr. Arledge would 'a' got a decision right hot on the griddle, if I 'a' told him: 'I've the meanest kind of a crook I ever heard of for wantin' to lie down on your fat back and whine out of pay, and the grub you put in your big gander pouch,' I'd tell him, 'and now you, march to the look-up till you can look honest folks in the face,' I'd tell him. Say, Billy, some crooks are worse than others. Take Nate Leverston out there. Nine out of ten times he's a six years in the pen for a process for sweatin' gold into one. Finally he gets it, how he does it, nobody knows, but he sweat gold is inches into the solid rock. The first few holes he drilled he gets rid of all right, then of course they catch him, and Nate's don't think he's a crook. I got respect for Nate since readin' that piece. There's a good deal of a man about him, or about any common burglar or sneak thief, compared to this duck. They give chances, say nothin' of the hard work they do. This fellow won't take a chance and won't work a day. Billy, that's the meanest specimen of crook I ever run against, bar none, and that crook is produced and tolerated in a place that's said to be the center of culture and refinement and practical achievement. Billy, he's a piece of work."

"That's right," said Billy Brue, promptly throwing the recalcitrant Arledge overboard.

"But it ain't none of my business. What I do splain again, is havin' a grandson of mine livin' in a community where a man that'll act like that is actually let in their houses by honest folks. Think of a son of Daniel J. Brue treatin' folks like that, as if he was his equal. Say, Dan I had a line of faults, all right—but by God! he'd a trammed over for two twenty-five a day any time in his life rather 'n put a dollar in his pocket. And this is the last making his bed in this kind of a place where men are brought up to them ways; and that name; think of a husky, two-fisted boy like him lettin' himself be treated like a damned tune-bunting Englishman into the bargain. It's all Higgses said it was, only it goes double. Say, Billy, I been thinkin' this over all night."

"The mighty worryin', ain't it, Uncle Peter?"

"And I got it thought out."

"Sure, you must 'a' got it down to cases."

"Billy, listen now. There's a fellow down in Wall street. His name is Shepler, Rulon Shepler. He's most the biggest man down there."

"Sure! I heard of him."

"Listen, I'm goin' to bed now. I can sleep since I got my mind made up. But I want to see Shepler in private to-morrow. Don't wake me up in the morning. But get up yourself, and go find his office; look in a directory, then ask a policeman, or a porter, or a boy man. You tell the clerk or whoever holds you up that Mr. Peter Bines wants an appointment with Mr. Shepler as soon as he can make it. Mr. Peter Bines, of Montana City. He there by 9:30 so's to get him as soon as he comes. He knows me; tell him I want to see him on business soon as possible, and find out when he can give me time. And don't you say to anyone else that I ever seen him or sent you there. Understand? Don't ever say a word to anyone. Remember, now, he there at 9:30, and don't let any clerk put you off, and ask him what hour'll be convenient for you. Now get what sleep's comin' to you. It's five o'clock."

"At noon Billy Brue returned to the hotel to find Uncle Peter finishing his hearty breakfast."

"I found him all right, Uncle Peter. The lookout alert suspicious, but I saw the main gist of his mind come out of a door—like I'd seen his picture in the papers, so I just called to him and said: 'Mr. Peter Bines wants to see you, like that. He took me right into his office, and I told him that you said, and he'll be ready for you at two o'clock. He knows mines, all right, out our way, don't he?—and he crowded a handful of these in-off cigars on to me, and acted real sociable. Told me to drop in any time. Say, he'd run pretty high in the yellow stuff all right."

"At two o'clock, you say?"

"Yes."

"And what's the number?"

"Gee, I forgot; I can tell you, though. You go down Broadway to that old church—say, Uncle Peter, there's folks in that buryn' ground dead over 200 years, if you can see by their positions. Gee! I didn't s'pose anybody'd be dead that long—then you turn down the gulch right opposite, until you come to the Vancerver building, a few rods down on the left, Shepler's there. Git into the bucket and go up to the second level, and you'll find him on the door in gold lamson."

"All right. And look here, Billy, keep your head shut about all I said last night about anything. Don't you ever let on to a soul that I ain't stuck on this place and its people—no matter what I do."

"Sure not! What are you going to do, Uncle Peter?"

"The old man's jaws were set for some seconds in a way to make Billy Brue suspect he might be suffering from cramp. It seemed, however, that he had merely been thinking intently. Presently he said:

"I'm goin' to 'a'ise hell, Billy."

"Sure!" said Mr. Brue—apparently on general principles. "Sure! Why not?"

now, I been kind of lookin' over the ground since I come here, and it's struck me you ain't been gettin' no money for your money. You've never free, but the goods ain't been delivered. I'm talkin' about yourself. Both your ma and Pashy has got more out of it than you have. Why, your ma told her name in the papers as a philanthropist along with that—how do the papers call her?—the well-known 'woman' that Mrs. Helen Woot name. That always has been spelled out in full! Your ma is gettin' public recognition for her money, and look at Pashy. What's she gone and done while you been lasin' about it? Well, I ran across her in the cafe the other night, and she was wearin' one of those gents' nobby three-button suits. Nothing would do but I should die with him, I did. It was the night you and the folks went to the opera with the Old-akers. Relpin was full of lovely talk and dark hints about a rise in copper stock, and another rise in Western Union, and a bigger rise in the other of them, in Union Cordage. How that fellow can do Shepler's business and drink the stuff that makes you talk I don't see. Anyway he said—and you can be sure that he says good things—The Consolidated is going to control the world's supply of copper inside of three months, and the stock is bound to rise, and so are the other two stocks; Shepler's back of all three. The insiders are buying up now, slowly and cautiously, so as not to start any boom prematurely. Consolidated is at 110 now, it'll be up to 120 by April at the latest. The others may go beyond that. I wasn't looking for the game at the time, so I didn't give any thought, but now, you see, there's our chance. We'll plunge in those three lines before they start to rise, and be in on the ground floor. Now don't you be rash! That Shepler's business is to sock eyes and hide the shells. I heard a man say the other day copper was none too good at 110."

GERMANIZATION OF EUROPE

Trend of the Various Nations Is Toward the Most Powerful Empire.

The North German race is possessed of a mania; it is in the grasp of one absorbing idea. "Deutschland über Alles" says the motto. In these days that means the commercial supremacy and dominance of the German race over the world, says the Cosmopolitan.

For instance, all Europe knows that the death of Emperor Franz Joseph will be the signal for the breaking up of Austria. The last emperor of Rome, the eastern empire of the two sons of Constantine. Even now the fabric is loose; nothing holds together the irreconcilable Magyars, Czechs, Slovaks, and the rest, but the popular affection for the emperor and popular commiseration for his misfortunes. He has no direct successor; the heir-apparent is not liked, and the abdication of the emperor is inevitable. The Hungarians have fixed their hearts upon independence, and will have nothing else. With the removal of that keystone the arch falls, leaving the empire in fragments. The North Germans expect to gather at once Bohemia, Austria proper, and the Tyrol.

And why? These countries must be somewhere, they cannot drift alone. The trend of progress is wholly against small nations, wholly accretive, and solidifying. Except Bohemia, the Balkan Peninsula, and the small Germany; therefore their inevitable place is in the German empire.

A wonder, Uncle Peter. And that reminds me—

He stopped in his walk. "I gave it hard any thought at the time, but now it looks bigger than mountains. I know just the things to start in on systematically. Now don't breathe a word of this, but there's a big deal on in the Consolidated Copper. It happened on to the fact in a queer way the other night. There's a broker I've known downtown—fellow by the name of Relpin. Met him last summer. He's most of Shepler's business; he's supposed to be closer to Shepler and know more about the inside of his deals than any man in the West. Well, I ran across Relpin down in the cafe the other night, and she was wearing one of those gents' nobby three-button suits. Nothing would do but I should die with him, I did. Government Ownership Abroad.

The agitation of the railway rate bill in this country has been turned to account by foreign governments which aim to acquire all the private railways in their respective countries. It has been said that the attitude of the United States in the matter of government regulation of railways caused the emperor of Japan to take over the entire system of private railways in Japan. Germany, it seems, is also bent upon a complete nationalization of railways. Says the semi-official court organ of Berlin, the "Continental Correspondence":

Germany, which has the most extensive system of railways of all European countries, has decided at last upon making an end of the remnant of private railways. The law of Dec. 1, 1862, the purchase of the Prussian railways, 1,800 miles in length, by the kingdom of Prussia has been provided for. There now remains only the railway from Lubek to Hachen, which is but seventy-five miles in length and whose acquisition for the sake of a unified system of railway management is very desirable. Rumors relative to the purchase of this line have been about on the German stock exchange during the past year, but they have been mostly dry of foundation.

Austria is aiming in the same direction, and Italy is negotiating for further lines to complete her system of state railways. Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway already have practically completed the nationalization of railways. France offers an exception to the general movement for nationalization of all railways, and the French government seems to be indifferent in this matter, although the representatives of the nation would not seriously oppose the purchase of the lines remaining in private control. American tourists note a gradual improvement in the accommodations for passengers on the railways of the continent. In the case of Italy there is still room for advance, and it is to be hoped that the government experiment there in railway management will bring the Italian system up to the standard of the countries beyond the Alps.

Your Comfort.

No home is complete without an extension telephone upstairs in the bedroom. By day it saves many trips up and down stairs to answer the call; by night it allows you to call central without leaving the room. It is a staunch protector, as well as a comfort for the home. The cost is but fifty cents per month. For your own, for your family's comfort and safety, you need not to delay ordering. Telephone to the manager for information. Chicago Telephone Company.

The Small Farm.

All the arguments for the small farm which were brought out when the area devoted to agriculture in this country was limited were well thrashed out, and it must be confessed, produced little result. The cry then was for more land, and in search of it ambitious farmers and their sons from the Atlantic coast peopled the vast prairies, the plains and the foothills of the regions described generally as the "west." Mr. J. J. Hill's recent warning about our national waste of resources has been made the text of sermons upon wasteful culture in producing crops. It is said that one acre well tilled should yield as much as has been produced by two and even five, by the methods heretofore followed.

But in estimating the causes at work in stimulating American land hunger the productive capacity is not the only feature to consider. Practical men look to the selling value of farms quite as much as to the value of crops to be raised. When people preached that ten acres were enough, good farm land in the whole eastern area ranged from $50 per acre up. A man who wanted to start in had to be satisfied with little or no start at all unless he was a capitalist or willing to run into debt. It was seen that wild land could be cleared and put under cultivation and sold at a big advance within a few years. Many farmers farmed it just to get the land in shape, live off from it and pay expenses until a larger crop appeared who would pay well for the improvements. There was money in that kind of farming if done on the scale of 100 and 200 acre holdings.

In thinking of land values and the increase to be expected from the settlement of the country and the growth of commerce the ambitious farmer naturally looked to the regions where land was cheap, and that was in the country of virgin soil. If he or his neighbor had doubled on the cost price of fifty acres by selling out he wanted to make the new acquisition worth while and reap the benefit on hundreds of acres. No doubt but some of the "easy money" farming the critics complain of was due to this form of venture. But in the long run the American farmer has outgrown his vision according to the growth of his family wants. An old and noble ambition was that of having sons and daughters settle around the paternal homestead. For this cheap land was a necessity. Then, too, came the desire to educate children and set them up in business in town. For this ready money was needed, and that could be had by working the richest land for all it was worth, cutting down the finest timber for market and so on to the end of the resources in sight.

It is urged at times that the limit of spreading out has been reached; that recent sections no longer beckon the settler; that the land already under the plow must yield more to the acre, the tiller concentrating his energies upon a small area. But that is an old world idea rather than one to be suggested from present conditions in America. In so far as some regions are concerned, the peasant farmer of Europe merely sows his bread and clothes, and that means sometimes of both. For him five acres may do. The American wants to be a man of the crowd and see his sons aspire to the best that the country can offer. He doesn't propose to live all his life in sight of where he was born and die without ever "riding on a railway train" or "seeing a trolley" humming over the course. With the increase of farm values, taxation and the necessity of a high standard of maintenance, the idea of the farm will regulate itself. Landowners must work the soil for all it is worth, and in time its actual productive capacity will fix its price. Then farmers will see their profit in good tillage, let the plot be 50 or 500 acres, more or less.

It now appears that Uncle Sam's sailors are not barred from public dancing pavilions because they don't wear white collars, but because the plain civilian lads are jealous of Uncle Sam's jolly sea dogs. At least that's one explanation.

An Italian scientist who goes to bed with his boots on ascribes his old age and good health to the fact that he never changes his clothes and avoids the use of soap and water. He can have the Weary Willie vote without division.

A six dollar per week typewriter girl in New York recently went into bankruptcy with $20,000 liabilities and no assets. This statement of American opportunity is spoiled by the fact that she acted as her father's agent.

Now that Mark Twain's reminiscences have started a Cold Storage boom, the public will quickly elect the picturesque visionary a footlight hero if some enterprising manager will put him on the circuit.

In the Arabic there are 600 words meaning "camel," and the Arab who tries to remember them all has to get a hump on. Surely here is a need for a simplified dictionary.

Now Uncle Sam must either give up the "object lesson farm" business or develop a breed of cows that will stand for milking twice in eight hours.

Labor on the Canal.

Included in a lively description of the Panama canal is a writer in the National Review, Susan Stanley is an account of labor conditions which is interesting at this time. The question of the comparative value of white and black labor on the isthmus is disposed of by the statement, "White cannot work on the isthmus and black can," and, though the quality of the work of the black is poor, it is manifestly unfair to the black to compare him with the white. Of the Jamaica negroes, who are in the majority among laborers employed, Mrs. Stanley has this to say:

The Jamaica negro is a lazy fellow by nature, a big child who wants the best of everything and will only work for it just as much as he can and not a fraction more. In Jamaica he has had to take his machete, his universal working tool, and go into the jungle, and in twenty-four hours he can cut enough to build a house for himself and family. When he is hungry he picks a few bananas and some coconuts and, behold, he has his food and drink. Fuel he does not need, except for cooking, and that is soon collected in the neighborhood. And so he lives, himself, his wife and children—the wife doing most of the necessary work in the lap of nature, relying upon his wife for needs at a minimum expense of labor and fatigue. Lacking the only real incentive which stimulates human energy—the necessity to provide for his daily wants by the toil of his hands and the sweat of his brow. If he emerges from this quasi-idleness to earn a better living, then he can do a better day's work, as all the white employers of menial labor in Jamaica know, but as soon as he has secured as much as he requires he goes off work again.

We are familiar with this type of laborer in many parts of the United States, and his color is not always black. We are also familiar with the European and even Asiatic laborer, who works hard until he has "gained his pile," and then goes back to his native land. But he is generally some years gaining the sum desired, and, though we have quarreled with him for quitting the job at that stage, it seems that he is a devoted fellow, after all, compared to the tropical black who can be enticed to Panama.

To quote further: It is with this negro that the American foreman chiefly has to deal, and one can imagine the conflict with him in the painful task of making him work. He does not hit him to that end-to-end personal violence that extends to the very heart of the soul of his white, and the white man, who is a British subject, I spoke to some of the foremen about the negroes under them. One of them said: "If you want to get work out of them you must just always keep the right side of them. As long as you can win them over and give them a certain amount of money to play the fool in the intervals of work they are right enough, but swear a word or two, and they'll at once refuse to do another stroke."

Mrs. Stanley is the wife of a British official and enjoyed peculiar facilities for getting light into the canal work. Moreover, she has seen the Jamaica negro at home under white Jamaican foremen. The white American foreman, "standing hour after hour in a scorching sun, harassing Jamaica negroes," awakens her sympathy, and she suggests that foremen or overseers from the Jamaica plantations, who "can get the utmost possible work out" of the Jamaica negro, would get results in Panama. The methods of the Jamaica "boss" are not limited at, but they would need to be the opposite of those employed by the traditional southern overseer as we find him depicted in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," or Uncle Sam wouldn't stand for them, canal or no canal.

Canada's Bad Bargain.

Not content with drawing thousands of the best of the young men of the border to open up her new provinces, Canada set out to loom her population figures by a scheme for assisting immigration from England. Special inducements were offered to get the pick of men and women from the old country to try their fortune in the new. So far this year nine out of every ten newcomers in Canada have been assisted settlers from England. The scheme worked in bringing quantity, but the quality is poor.

The man or woman in these days of enlightenment and opportunity who waits to be coaxed and subsidized before taking any chances is poor material for pioneer work. English cities, like all other cities, are full of this class who never "made good" as citizens at home and never will amount to anything anywhere beyond counting in in cents. All countries of the old world are glad to unload poor timber upon America, and the bidder for immigrants who offers steamship fares and stakes for tools, seed and so on will be certain to get imposed upon. Human wrecks who have been public burdens at home will continue public burdens and a dead weight in any country which receives them.

Reports from Kingston, Ontario, state that the great need for the Canadian dairy industry is an "improved milking machine." The removal of the best Ontario farmers to the new north is regretted, for the "advent of the experienced immigrants" does not solve the problem of milking Ontario's cows.

He is an exceedingly stingy young man who will seek to put this report regarding impurities in ice cream to immediate practical use.

Malcolm's Rescue

By Gordon Talbot

Copyright, 1906, by W. R. Caldwell

"I'm worried about Nancy," said Peyton gloomily.

"You've got to worry about something," was the comforting reply, as Nancy Wescott's brother Billy did not see anything to worry about in the situation.

"But," persisted Peyton, "he never acted this way until that fellow Malcolm came down."

"Possibly it's Miss Malcolm," chuckled Billy. "If you were not holding hands last night, it's because appearances are deceitful."

"Nothing of the sort," protested Peyton, reddening. "It was just trying to make Nan a little jealous."

"And it looks as if she might be trying to play the same game," laughed Billy. "See here, Tom, you've got a fair wind and a pipe full of tobacco. What more do you want? Worry about six when you get back to the island."

With a heavy sigh, Tom Peyton threw his leg over the tiller to hold it while he lit his pipe. They had gone over to the mainland for supplies, and after beating their way against a head wind it should have been enough to satisfy the heart of any yachtman to have the wind right for a straight run home.

It was five miles to the mainland, an absurd distance to go for better, but the Wescott party liked the privacy of the island, and had not the launch broken down the matter of supplies would have been unimportant. Billy had volunteered to sail over to the boat, and Tom had invited himself to go because he was so utterly miserable with Malcolm's dancing attendance on Nancy.

For three years he had been trying to get her to say yes to the all important question, but she had evaded the issue with the skill of a diplomat, and in despair he had sought to force matters through arousing her jealousy by flirting with Miss Malcolm.

Unfortunately Nancy had seen through the plan and retaliated by engaging in a desperate flirtation with Billy.

"I would break up a party," she explained, realizing what she had said, "but you do care?" he pleaded. "Say you do, dear."

"Believe I do," she admitted.

"A whole lot," he persisted. Nancy hesitated. The incident had been enlightening. She knew her own heart better than she did that morning. She needed her head.

It seemed to Tom only a moment before Billy came traumping up from the beach.

"It's all right, Billy," he cried. "It's not Malcolm, after all. It's I."

"The glad of it," growled Billy. "I'll keep you from being greedy, and anyhow, that infernal Malcolm made us lose the better. I was just going to dive for it when he saved us."

Divorce Among the Burnses.

The marriage of the Burnses is simple in the extreme. A man and woman are married or not married, according to whether they live as husband and wife or not. A man may have several wives, though in practice he rarely has more than one.

A woman may have only one husband. Divorce is a matter for the village elders. No court is necessary, no decree, no appeal to legal or ecclesiastical authority. Divorce is but the breaking of a status. A wife retains control of all her property when married, and has half the share in property acquired during marriage. If she is divorced she takes her own property and half that jointly acquired. There is no taking of her name with that of her husband. She may do what she will with her own.

There is no rule of primogeniture and no power of bequeathing property by testament. All the children inherit equally. No Buddhist may make a will. Whatever a man or a woman dies possessed of must be divided equally. All the children inherit. There is no preference of either sex. All children are equal in this matter. The oldest son shares alike with the youngest daughter.—Lahore Tribune.

The Bishop Apologized.

Dr. Temple was about to read the discourse of Exeter with an iron hand, and to take the speaker's place at which he presided, when the subject for discussion was "The Hindrances to the Spiritual Life of the Disciple." After the discussion had proceeded for some time a visitor electrified his audience by declaring that the greatest hindrance to the full spiritual life was none other than the bishop himself. "I repeat," said the speaker, "that your right reverend father in God is very far from being a father to any of us. Your manner toward us," he continued, turning to the bishop, "is harsh in the extreme, when your method of rule is this: You treat us all, old and young, as if we were a set of schoolboys." This bold statement drew from the bishop an apology, and he explained that beneath his brusqueness of manner was a very genuine sympathy with the work of all the clergy. This impeachment created the more sensation in the meeting because it came from a son of Dr. Temple's predecessor, the famous Henry of Exeter.—Westminster Gazette.

Out of Office and In.

A well known radical member coined this happy phrase: "It is a pity that the government has not as much courage in office as it had in consequence in opposition."—London Truth.

The Tone of the Neighborhood

W. Crawford Sherlock

"It's simply outrageous," declared Mrs. Bagley emphatically. "To think that such people should have moved to West Park is just awful."

"It's worse when you live opposite them," moaned Mrs. Pratt. "I saw that detestable man sitting on his porch last night in his shirt sleeves, smoking a miserable clay pipe."

"That isn't all," chimed in Mrs. Waters, who managed to gain more information about her neighbors' doings than any one else in West Park. "His wife actually scrubbed the porch this afternoon in full view of every one. I saw this Mr. Smith—I believe that's his name—grooming his own horse this morning. They're just common people that's all they are, not to have servants to do such things."

"I wish Mr. Elder had not sold them his cottage," deplored Mrs. Bagley. "I don't think they're worth it."

"Well, Mr. Elder said it was a long time before Mr. Elder sold it, wasn't it, didn't you?" questioned, eying Mrs. Pratt closely, "is a pity your folks didn't buy them?"

"They didn't want the house then," replied Mrs. Pratt evasively. "Will you talk to Mr. Elder?"

"Then there's two or three houses in West Park, just as good as this one, that can be bought for the price this cottage cost. I don't see why Mr. Smith, not hearing Mrs. Pratt's question, 'I can't quite make it out, mum, unless—'

"Unless what?" demanded Mrs. Pratt, not relishing the searching glance Mr. Smith fixed upon her.

"Unless, mum," continued Mr. Smith slowly, "you don't sort of think me and Martha good enough for West Park and you're not fit to live in it."

"Oh, Mr. Smith," demurred the three visitors in chorus, but the telltale flushes on their cheeks betrayed the consternation that had been under the unexpected words. "What makes you think such a thing?"

"Well, ladies," returned Mr. Smith, "I don't think there's a single trace of ill feeling about the evening when I was a 'stir' here in my shirt sleeves, and that one's nose was turned up so far that I was 'fraid I would get out of bed. Then, when another of you folks saw Martha 'washed' on this 'ere porch, that one's mouth got all puckered up as if she had been out of pennies. I guess you think we ain't good enough for you, don't you?"

"We look at it this way, Mr. Smith," stammered Mrs. Pratt nervously, feeling deeply sorry that she had undertaken the plan of purchasing the cottage, "we don't think you are—ahem—well, accustomed to such society as we live in West Park."

"My dear Mrs. Smith," replied Mr. Smith, "I don't see how you can say 'disrespect.' Mr. Smith, but every one likes to mingle with those who are congenial. You don't keep any servants and you won't enjoy it down here, so we thought we'd make you this offer. What do you say?"

"It's very kind of you to think of me," returned Mr. Smith, in no way troubled by "I'm sorry, mum, but I must say that we're going to stay in West Park."

"Good evening," chorused the visitors, indignant at the failure of their plan and crestfallen at Mr. Smith's correct surmise of their view regarding him.

"One moment, ladies," called Mr. Smith as his visitors descended the steps. "Mr. Elder won't lower the tone of this neighborhood. We don't own this house—not much! Martha's the cook, and I'm the gardener. We just come down to fix up the place for Mr. Wescott, who's coming down next week with his wife and children and three more servants."

lay this house, and they would be willing to pay for something over what was paid for it. It won't make much difference to you, as you have no children and one place is as good as another.

"As to children, mum," responded Mr. Smith thoughtfully, "there will be five of them down here next week. Twasn't right to bring 'em till we got things fixed up a bit."

Consternation reigned in the breasts of the visitors. Five little Smiths running wild in West Park? There would not be a square inch of glass in the place in two weeks. The necessity for getting rid of the Smith family was greater than before.

"We will give you $250 more than you paid for the property," offered Mrs. Pratt in a businesslike tone. "That will be a good profit in so short a time. Will you take it?"

"Confound it, if I can," returned the affable Mr. Smith. "I wouldn't pay for the expenses of moving both ways."

"Will you take $500?"

"Mr. Smith had never moved in good society, but he was nevertheless a man of keen judgment. A faint smile appeared around the corners of his rather large mouth, and his gray eyes twinkled merrily.

Dr. Hudson's Show a Success.

The Illinois comedy company, which has been holding forth under canvas in Lanes field for ten days, closed its engagement here Tuesday evening with an extra effort to please, and may well be satisfied with the popular and financial hit scored here.

The gentleman managing the show is wise in extending his extended public patronage, knowing well the charm a tent has for people and the fact that his patrons seldom enjoy entertainment of the comedy order elsewhere, and so find music hall jokes and music the height of fun.

The performance has been free from vulgar imitations and are really good for ten cents admission. The biggest drawing card, after the moving pictures, was the voting contest, in which Miss Jeannette Thorpe, of Grove avenue, won a diamond ring for popularity, and Miss Mabel Constock was reckoned a close second.

Everyone for miles around will now be doing with "good-for-what-ails-you" medicines, whether needed or not, as patent medicines were sold by armfuls during intermissions.

Important Step by Liquor Men.

The Illinois Liquor Dealers' Protective association, in closing its convention recently went on record in favor of prohibiting the sale of liquor to confirmed drunkards. A resolution was passed of an amendment to the law which would require a written notice from some member of the family not to sell an inebriate. The convention promises to obey such a law.

Another resolution deprecated the tendency to disparage the liquor business, and declares saloonkeepers to be as honest and moral as other business men.

The following officers were elected: President—Henry Malinow of Chicago. Vice President—J. F. Teilsbacher of Quincy. Treasurer—Thomas J. Murray of Springfield. Secretary—Michael J. McCarthy of Chicago.

SELF-GOVERNMENT FOR CUBA PURPOSE OF THE PRESIDENT

Action Taken by America Destined Solely for Benefit of the People of the Island with a View to Restoration of Order.

Washington. — President Roosevelt Tuesday discussed freely with his cabinet and with individual callers, among whom were Senators Knox and Foraker, the present situation in Cuba and its temporary occupation by the American forces. The matter was talked over at the cabinet meeting, but no definite announcement of the result of the deliberations was given until the president returned to the White House. The president related to the cabinet and to the other callers with whom he talked that the action taken by the American government was destined solely for the benefit of the people of the island, with a view to the complete restoration of order there and the protection of all interests. He declared that he had no such motive in view as the possible annexation of the government of the island by the United States. What he wanted now was that the Cubans should be given another chance at self-government.

Magoon to Be Governor.
It seems to be well settled that former Gov. Charles E. Magoon of the Panama canal zone, who has just returned from Panama, will be appointed governor of the provisional government of Cuba in succession to Secretary Taft. Both the president and Secretary Taft had in view the desirability of Secretary of State O'Reilly, Secretary of Finance J. Sterling, Secretary of Public Works Montano, Senator Dolz, president of the senate; former Secretary of State Zaldo, Private Secretary Ilett and two government detectives, who accompanied the family to Matanzas. Besides these, some of Mr. Palma's most intimate friends had been invited to stay in his private apartments at the palace. All the family were visibly affected over the circumstances surrounding their sudden departure in a little more than four months after Palma had been inaugurated under such apparently happy auspices. It was evident that they were all glad that the closing scenes were about over. The family, with the servants following, descended the marble staircase for the last time, walked to the carriages at the entrance of the palace. No further farewells were said.

Whistles Blow Farewell Salute.
The former president entered a closed carriage, which was driven rapidly to the Caballero wharf, followed by Senator Montano in an automobile. The party boarded the department of public works tug, Natalie, on which they were taken to Regla, the baggage four years and the special trials of the last months. Mr. Palma did not appear to be in broken health. Generally speaking, he appeared to be relieved at the fact that it was all over. It was the first time the president had left the palace since the beginning of the disturbances, August 15, when he came over to Havana from his summer cottage near Cabanas fortress.

Gov. Taft Is Busy in Temporary Quarters. Minister Morgan's villa at Marianao, going over the plans prepared by the Cuban health officials for coping with yellow fever. These plans include an increase in the sanitary force and equipment and very much greater expenditures. Maj. J. H. Keane, who was one of the sanitary experts during the former American occupation of the island, is at present on the way here to cooperate in this work.

Plans for New Cabinet.
It is not probable that the governor will appoint new cabinet ministers until the affairs of the island are turned over to the provisional governor. It is Gov. Taft's desire to place the various departments in the control of the men who were not so active during the revolution as to arouse much opposition from either liberals or moderates.

Condition of Treasury.
The question of Cuban finances is, for the moment, one of considerable seriousness as there are obligations outstanding for the payment of at least one-half of the $15,000,000 at present in the treasury. The income of the government, however, amounts to nearly $2,000,000 a month and loans are not considered necessary inasmuch as nearly all the congressional appropriations have been cancelled.

Funeral to Command Troops.
Washington.—Secretary Taft cabled to the war department requesting that Brig. Gen. Frederick Funston be designated to command the American troops in Cuba and the military ser-

RUSSIAN DEMOCRATS REVISE VI-BORG MANIFESTO.

EXECUTIONS OCCUR DAILY

Orders of Drumhead Courts-Martial
Condemn Thirty to Death for Murder and Robbery Inside of Forty-eight Hours.

St. Petersburg.—The renunciation of the Viborg manifesto, with its appeals for the nonpayment of taxes and the refusal to perform military service, as a campaign document in the coming elections, and the adoption of a more constitutional line of campaign, appears to be the order of the day of the congress of constitutional democrats, which will open at Helsinki next Sunday.

A majority of the central committee is convinced that it would be inexpedient to try to carry out such an openly revolutionary standard. The proposed platform, a plank of which it is understood has been drafted by the Viborg manifesto, while the Viborg manifesto was a correct measure at the time of its adoption, it would now be inopportune to press its recommendations.

The belittlers, and among them is Prince Dolgoroukoff, of Moscow, are inclined to fight for a flat reaffirmation of the manifesto, but the conservatives are confident of carrying the day.

The vigor with which drumhead courts-martial have been employed in the repression of the recent carnival of violence is shown by the number of executions. In addition to the record of 11 executions of Tuesday, already reported, 19 more are mentioned in Wednesday evening's dispatches, seven at Kherson, four at Warsaw, three at Kielce, two at Mitau and one each at Kalisz, Batoum and Baku. The execution at Baku was for robbery and pillage committed during the revolution by soldiers. All the others were for murder.

WOMEN ATTACK NONUNION MEN

Wives of Strikers Use Clubs and Climb a Stockade.

Wichita, Kan.—Eleven women, wives of striking union men of the Missouri & Kansas Telephone company, attacked nonunion men with clubs and stones here. The line men and the officials of the company fled.

The woman climbed a stockade in pursuit of the men and gave up the chase only when the workmen were all bolted through the telephone company's office.

Litchfield, Ill.—Living side by side in the same ward at St. Francis hospital, this city, are Alonzo Curtis, a farmer, and his wife, waiting the result of the former's attempt at murder and suicide. Both are expected to die. Circumstances indicate that Curtis, a prosperous farmer, living three miles east of this city, returned home from Hillsboro in a drunken rage and attacked his wife with a butcher knife while she was still in bed.

BABY'S TORTURING HUMOR.

Ears Looked as If They Would Drop Off—Face Mass of Sores—Cured by Cuticura in Two Weeks for 75c.

"I feel my duty to parents of other poor suffering babies to tell you what Cuticura has done for my little daughter. She broke out all over her body with a humor, and we used everything recommended, but without results. I called in three doctors, they all claimed they could help her, but she continued to grow worse. Her body was a mass of sores, and her little face was being eaten away; her ears looked as if they would drop off. Neighbors advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I had used half of the cake of Soap and box of Ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body were as good as a newborn babe's. I would not be without it again if it cost five dollars, instead of seventy-five cents. Mrs. George J. Steese, 701 Colburn St., Akron, Ohio."

Duke Refuses Jubilee.

Eleanora Duse, the famous Italian actress, has positively vetoed a plan to celebrate her jubilee as was done in England and France for Ellen Terry and Bernhardt. When the subject was broached to the signora, she thanked her friends but declined the honor. She enjoys the distinction—almost unique in her profession—of shunning everything in the shape of publicity. As a general rule she also scorns the usual artifices of her sex on the stage in the matter of paint and powder, appearing almost as nature made her, rapidly graying hair and all.

"Tide" Given by Monarchs.

King Edward disburses a good deal of money in this every year. Each visit to one of his subjects costs him from $1,000 to $2,000. At shooting parties the gamekeepers get $15 each and the gamekeepers $15 or $20 each. When he goes abroad he does still better. On the occasion of his recent visit to the Kaiser he gave away nearly $10,000 in this way. When the car arrived at the station he left behind a check for $15,000 to be distributed among servants who attended him.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfect misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts."

For some time, head has ached and back ached; sleep had been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her periods she is exceedingly dependent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up, you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and grows vain; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting blues.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 419 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes:

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was afflicted with female troubles, extreme nervousness, the blues, nervousness and all sorts of things. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female troubles, but it has given me perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with dependent and ill before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female system, write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

nation of Gov. Beekman Winthrop of Porto Rico for this office. The president, however, has expressed the belief that he can better spare Gov. Magoon from his duties in the Philippine Islands, where he has been appointed a member of the Philippine commission and vice governor general of the islands, than he can the services of Gov. Winthrop for the several months during which he expects the provisional government of Cuba will continue.

Gov. Magoon is anxious to go to Cuba and his selection for the place is expected to be announced soon. The president expects Mr. Taft to return to Washington in a fortnight or less.

May Not Go to Panama.

The president has given some consideration to the possibility of necessity of a postponement of his trip to Panama next month because of conditions in Cuba. He does not think at this time, however, that there is any likelihood of condition arising which will prevent his going to Panama to make the tour of inspection which he announced some time ago. Should any decided evidence of condition in Cuba make themselves apparent as a result of the American occupation and the disarmament of the revolutionists requiring his presence in Washington, the president has expressed the intention of abandoning the trip to Panama set for this fall, in which case it will be made after the adjournment of congress next spring.

Palma Leaves Havana.

Havana.—Former President Palma's departure from the palace and from the capital of Cuba Tuesday morning was so quiet and unostentatious that it was scarcely realized that he had gone until his special train was traveling eastward. Among those present at the palace to see the Palma family and other effects having already preceded them.

There were not more than a score of persons outside the palace when the former president left, and there was very little cheering at the wharf where the family embarked, though several tugs, steamers and government launches gave a parting salute with their whistles.

Arriving at Regla, while passing from the tug to the train, the ex-president was greeted with hearty cheers and cries of "Long live Thomas Estrada Palma!" "Long live the honorable man!"

Cheers for Former President.

The former president acknowledged cordially this appreciation of his services, but he pressed on and quickly boarded the special train in waiting. This consisted of two saloon cars and a locomotive, started for Havana immediately, and it pulled out of the station, cheers for the ex-president were again raised. At this point Mr. Palma made no further endeavor to conceal his pent-up emotion. He stood on the rear platform of the last car, waving his silk hat, with tears coursing down his face, calling, "Adieu!" to the crowd as the train moved slowly away.

The former members of the cabinet and their wives and a few others accompanied the Palma family to Matanzas, where the latter will remain for a few days, later going to their old home at Bayamo, province of Santiago.

Palma in Good Health.

The Palma party consisted of Mr. Palma, Mrs. Palma, Jose Palma and his American wife and child; Thomas Estrada Palma, Jr., the eldest daughter, Candida Palma, the two younger boys and one girl. In spite of his age, the difficulties which he encountered in governing Cuba during the last tary immediately issued an order to that effect. Formal orders were also issued to Brig. Gen. T. J. Wint, commander of the department of Missouri, who is to be in charge of the embarkation of the expedition from Newport News. The orders show that the first expedition to Cuba is to be known as the First expeditionary brigade. It is much larger than an ordinary brigade but the war department has decided to consider it as such.

Root Drives in Archives.

Secretary Root has been interesting himself in the Cuban situation since his return to duty in the state department and in doing so has been going over the diplomatic correspondence that has also been between Washington and Havana before Secretary Taft was sent to Cuba by the president. It is quite likely that this correspondence will be made public in a short time in order to give the people of both the United States and Cuba a clear idea of what efforts this government made to avoid intervention.

Term of Occupation.

No information has been received in Washington which indicates the length of time that the United States will occupy the island of Cuba and none of the officials will venture a prediction on this subject, but the presumption is that it will be some time before a stable government can again be placed in power and it is expected that meantime, civil government will be appointed to administer the affairs of the island under the secretary of war.

Eleven Vessels Chartered.

Quincy, Ill.—General Humphrey has concluded the charters of eleven vessels which will be used for the transportation of animals from this country to Cuba for the First expeditionary brigade. Their cargoes will consist of horses and mules, and the where the fire originated resulted in the walls falling about 11 o'clock and three fires were taken to hospitals in ambulances, but none are thought to be fatally hurt. The loss by the fire is about $200,000.

Winnipeg, Man.—The building strike has been settled. By the terms of the settlement the men of the building trades except the plumbers all go back to work.

New Spelling Is an Aid to Carelessness

By PROF. J. F. RIDGLEY,
Formerly of the Hoyt Institute of San Francisco.

SERIOUSLY doubt the practicability of the phonetic style of spelling. It is not a step forward, and even the impetus President Roosevelt has given can hardly make it a fact to be desired.

The phonetic spelling if used even in moderation will be one of the best aids to the natural carelessness of children that could be manufactured, and it's great for the lazy child.

My experience has been that there are a hundred children with a natural genius for figures to one with the genius for spelling, and there is nothing aside from vulgar construction that stamps a lack of education as a deficiency in spelling.

When a child has learned to master the stumbling and barrier-like words of aural borealis and asafotida it has begun to get a grasp on its dominant brain and the child brain that works over the victory of putting the proper amount of s's in Mississippi has made a stand on an upper plane and will in itself strive for other victims in other directions.

So far as the spelling itself is concerned, we might just as well spell asafotida asafotida, or aurala borealis aurala borealis, but then when it comes to the phonetic system, who's going to stop us from going as far as we like, and where are we going to have any reward for being right? As a socialistic proposition it is a sublime victory for free thinkers, for it makes us all equal in that respect at least.

When it comes to the deep question of training for a child's mind I do not see how any one can sanction the thing to any greater extent than to get out a new standard of spelling that we must all take up again, and those of us who learned to spell once and have had to use that learning to go out and make a living with, it's no idle thing to spring an entirely new list of words on us.

Four Advantages of Arctic Research

raphy, and they add to the world's wealth. An expedition into an unknown region beset with dangers cultivates that rugged determination to overcome difficulties which is one of the most valuable assets of a nation. It trains the citizens of the nation to understand and to appreciate that the human body and mind have the power to meet and overcome great hardships and to achieve much in the face of difficulties. In this respect it rivals, if it does not exceed, the racing of yachts in New York harbor or the racing of men at Marathon, for both of which thousands of dollars are gladly contributed every year by the lovers of virile sports and undertakings.

Polar expeditions encourage invention, as do most difficult undertakings. Nansen invented a boat with a rounded bottom, which when nipped by great ice flows was lifted instead of crushed. This device is now at the service of all whose duty or business takes them into the regions of floating ice. Wellman, in his present effort to float across the ice fields in a dirigible balloon, is making experiments which will doubtless add much to the art of navigating the air.

Almost every effort to reach the pole results in an increased knowledge of the geography of our earth. An island is discovered here, the outlines of a continent there and an ocean at another spot.

But fortunately for many of us who love to measure achievements in dollars and cents, polar research has also returned its reward in this way. Some one, Prof. Todd, of Amherst, I think, has looked into this matter and has found that the return from minerals and furs and other materials of wealth discovered in the Arctic region has been many times the cost of every expedition yet sent north. Vast quantities of gold are now being sent down from the fringe of the Arctic circle in Alaska. Who knows how many millions of undiscovered gold, or other minerals, still lie hidden beneath the great ice-cap surrounding the pole?

The reaching of the pole itself will add much to the knowledge of geography and science, while the traversing of the polar basin in the search for the pole will add even more.

Publish Names of Campaign Contributors

By EX-CONGRESSMAN JOSEPH H. O'NEIL.

that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been collected for use in a few states.

The public, however, has been kept in ignorance of the identity of those contributors to such enormous funds who were so deeply interested in the outcome of elections as to be willing to spend so many thousands of dollars.

We discovered last year that insurance companies, whose policy holders certainly were not all to be found enrolled in one political party, had contributed large sums to one political organization to aid in the election of its candidates. This could not have happened if the principle of publicity had been applied to the collection of campaign funds.

There are many heavy contributors to campaign funds, in each national election, at least, who under no circumstances would permit their names to be published, and the party which is the beneficiary of the generosity of these persons would not dare to publish their names.

It is evident, therefore, that there is need of publicity; and there is no more reason why we cannot have publicity in this matter than in the matter of the identity of the owners of private corporations.

CURED OF GRAVEL.

Not a Single Stone Has Formed Since Using Doan's Kidney Pills.

J. D. Daugherty, music publisher, of Suffolk, Va., says: "During two or three years that I had kidney trouble I passed about 2½ pounds of gravel and sandy sediment in the urine. I haven't passed a stone since using Doan's Kidney Pills, however, and that was three years ago. I used to suffer the most acute agony during a gravel attack, and had other usual symptoms of kidney trouble—lassitude, headache, pain in the back, urinary disorders, rheumatic pain, etc. I have a box containing 14 gravel stones that I passed, but that is not one-quarter of the whole number. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a fine kidney tonic."

WHO PAID FOR THE DRINKS?

Endless Chain Operated by Thirsty Men on the Mexican Border.

"Now, here is the best yarn of the lot and a good puzzle for the Sunday papers to print," said the man with the alkali in his whiskers, when he had settled down in the hotel lobby after a long day on the rubberneck wagon.

"Several years ago American silver coin in Mexico was on the same basis as Mexican silver was at that time and still is in the states; it passed at half its face value. Drinks in El Paso and in Juarez, the Mexican town across the line, were a bit spicier or 12½ cents, as you easterners would say. In those palmy days a citizen of El Paso could go into a drinking emporium and buy a drink, paying for it with an American quarter. The bartender would hand him back a Mexican quarter, which was, of course, worth 12½ cents in Texas.

"Then with this Mexican quarter in his hand the citizen could cross the bridge to Juarez and there buy another drink, laying his Mexican quarter on the bar.

"If the Greaser bartender should give him change an American quarter worth 12½ cents in Mexico the joyous citizen could return to Uncle Sam's back yard and repeat the process.

"Now, the question is: Who paid for those drinks?"—N. Y. Sun.

Bird Breeding Islands.

During the last year the Audubon Society of Louisiana has rented some 17 bird breeding islands, located in the waters of the gulf. Last year the islands were watched by two wardens, whose wages were paid by the national committee of Audubon societies, and although they were not wholly able to prevent trespassing and egg stealing nevertheless the results attained were well-nigh marvellous. On their own and the neighboring islands of Breton reservation, owned by the federal government, by these simple preventive measures there were hatched and raised all of 40,000 birds composed of the following species: Common terns, forerunners, terns, royal terns, laughing gulls, black skimmers.—Country Life in America.

Aunt Mary's "Quiet" Funeral.

A dear old New England spinster, the embodiment of the timid and shrinking, passed away at Carlsbad, where she had gone for her health. Her nearest kinsman, a nephew, ordered the body sent back to be buried—as was her last wish—in the quiet little country churchyard. His surprise can be imagined, when, on opening the casket, he beheld, instead of the placid features of his Aunt Mary, the majestic port of an English general in full regimentals, whom he remembered had chanced to die at the same time and place as his aunt. At once he called to the general's heirs, explaining the situation and requesting instructions. They came back as follows: "Give the general quiet funeral, Aunt Mary interred by her military honors, six brass bands, saluting guns."

RIGHT HOME.

Doctor Recommends Postum for Personal Test.

No one is better able to realize the injurious action of caffeine—the drug in coffee—on the heart, than the doctor.

When the doctor himself has been relieved by simply leaving off coffee and using Postum, he can refer with full conviction to his own case.

A Mo. physician prescribes Postum for many of his patients because he has benefited by it. He says:

"I wish to add my testimony in regard to that excellent preparation—Postum. I have had functional or nervous heart trouble for over 15 years, and part of the time was unable to attend to my business.

"I was a moderate user of coffee and did not think drinking it hurt me. But on stopping it and using Postum instead, my heart has got all right, and I ascribe it to the change from coffee to Postum.

"I am prescribing it now in cases of sickness, especially when coffee does not agree, or affects the heart, nerves or stomach.

"When made right it has a much better flavor than coffee, and is a vital sustainer of the system. I shall continue to recommend it to our people, and I have my own case to refer to. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, 'The Road to Wellville,' in pgs. 'There's a reason.'"

Drinking Customs.

Society is soaked in drink. The customs of Europeans in India are all antitoxical. It is even regarded as unpatriotic to be a total abstainer, because the government has a direct interest in the sale of drink. It is a fact that when Indians become Christians it is necessary to have a temperance society, which as heathens or Mohammedans they did not require. This is due to British drinking customs.—World's Women's Temperance Bulletin.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome California blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore found its approval, as well as its value, from the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States it is said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50¢ per bottle. One size only.

Our Motto: Reasonable Prices and Prompt Service

An Engine Without An Engineer.

An I. H. C. Gasoline Engine

does not require an engineer to run it. It is so simple and practical in construction that it requires very little attention and is easily operated by anyone.

An I. H. C. Gasoline Engine

runs smoothly and produces more power than rated. It is very economical in the use of fuel, consuming less per horse power than any other engine of the same rated capacity.

An I. H. C. Gasoline Engine

is a wise investment. It saves time and money, and increases your profit as a result of the increased production. No progressive farmer can afford to be without an I. H. C. engine. There is one to fit your special need.

Made in the following styles and sizes:

Vertical—2, 3 and 5 horse power.

Horizontal—4, 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 horse power.

Portable—4, 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 horse power.

Call and examine an I. H. C. gasoline engine and see for yourself the merits of this engine.

We also handle a full line of Deering Mowers and Binders and Weber Wagons, in fact everything the farmer wants on the farm. Call and examine our stock and be convinced that we are up-to-date implement dealers.
