The HOLSMAN Automobile

PERFECT IN CONSTRUCTION, CHEAP IN PRICE and COST OF OPERATING

When you give the HOLSMAN machine it will make you its friend at once for these reasons:

1. Solid tires, admitting of no punctures.
2. Air cooled. No water to contend with, or broken jackets which occur in frosty weather.
3. No live axles.
4. No transmission gears.
5. No drive gears.
6. No speed gears, in fact, not any gears to contend with. No clutches. The machine rides as easy as the best made carriage and is controlled by simple hand levers. Is started, guided, stopped, speeded, reversed and fully controlled by three simple levers.

Should you have a breakdown, repairs are quickly secured. However, the chances of a breakdown are slim in a Holzman.

Write me for catalog and descriptive matter.

On Monday April 29, 1907, Charles William Finn, aged 62 years died at his home on the Givens farm, about three miles south of Wauconda. Mr. Finn was born in Plattsburg, N. Y., March 8, 1842, and was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Finn. When the war of the Rebellion broke out, he enlisted in the 9th N. Y. Infantry, and was engaged in several severe conflicts, during one of which he received a dangerous wound, which finally was in a great measure responsible for his death. At the end of three years of gallant service in behalf of his country he was given an honorable discharge and immediately set out to seek employment. Railroading appealed to him and he worked himself up to a conductor's position in the employ of the Pennsylvania R. Co., which position he held until compelled by ill health to retire. He was remarried in 1892 to Mrs. Lucinda Louie. By a previous marriage was born one son, James Robert, who survives with the widow and two brothers and two sisters of the deceased to mourn his loss. The funeral was held from the Wauconda M. E. church, Rev. Ball officiating. Interment was made in Wauconda cemetery, Wauconda Post, G. A. R. having charge at the grave.

Roy Domeswald, son of M. Domeswald, a resident of Barrington fourteen years ago, died at his home in Chicago, April 19th, aged about twenty-one years. The young man was an artist by profession and a youth of good qualities who gave prospect of a long life to come, but during a short illness was cut down, as the grass blows the seeds, so you see, and he is ready at all times to meet the grim visitor known as Death from whose hand no one ever returneth. He leaves to mourn his loss a father and mother, four sisters and numerous relatives. The funeral was held at a Catholic church in Chicago to which he belonged and his remains were laid to rest in Waldheim cemetery followed by a large concourse of people who deplore the sad end of one so young.

Its purpose is to train the neglected children of the slums for citizenship and usefulness. It is nonsectarian, but evangelical. Luther Ladin Mills is its president and N. H. Parsons of Rockford, Ill., one of its directors. The club has been in operation for six years and now enrolls a membership of 1741 boys and girls of the slums. Mr. Trowbridge is in town for a number of days this week securing funds for the support of the club. Anyone wishing to visit the school will be welcome at any time.
