The Word "Explosive" was first used in its modern sense in the last quarter of the nineteenth century. "Explosive" in the sense of "blow up" or "go off" is scarcely a century older. Before that people talked of a ball being "exploded" from a gun, the clouds "exploding" lightning or a volcano "exploding" lava, but that was very much nearer the word's original sense of driving away with scorn. "Explosive" in fact is literally to clap away and was a technical word for driving an actor off the stage or storming a military plaza. That is the real meaning of an "exploded idea."
