THOSE TO BE ELECTED

The candidates that have filed their names with the town clerk are as follows:

Rev. A. Haelele, pastor of the United Evangelical church, will leave Monday for Peotone, Illinois, a few miles south of Chicago, to attend the annual conference of the denomination and it is regretted that he will not return to Barrington. The church law allows its ministers a residence of four years, at the longest, at one parsonage and as Mr. Haelele has completed a four years' service here, he will take charge of another parish to which he will be appointed at the meeting.

The gentleman has sincere friends in all denominations here and has always been pleasing to know, not only as a kindly minister, but as a friend and business man; his family also have been heartily admired. It is expected that, Sunday, March 22nd, will be the day of Mr. Haelele's farewell sermon.

Fred Melow Dead.

Fred Melow died at his home in the Lamey building on Main street early this morning of tuberculosis, aged 49 years. He had been in ill health for the past three years and confined to his home for nearly three months. He was born December 22nd, 1858, in Germany and came to this country about 25 years ago, taking up his home near Hinsdale. March 8, 1891, he married Anna Reinhold of Hinsdale. They resided in that vicinity until about nine years ago when they came to Barrington where they have since lived. Mr. Melow was a laborer and his last employment was that of flagman for the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern Ry.

Besides this widow, a son, Albert, and a daughter, Anna, survive; also one home for nearly three months. Henry Melow residing at Dundee, Mrs. Fred Jahnholtz and Fred Wendt lived here. The other sister is married and lives in Indiana. Funeral arrangements are not as yet completed. He was a member of the Lutheran church.

Charles Kinzel Dead.

Charles W. Kinzel, aged forty-five years died Wednesday morning at three o'clock on the Boothman farm, four miles southeast of town, near the Palatine township line. He had been ill with la grippe. The Boothman family were friends and when he was taken ill at their home while visiting them, they cared for him until death. He was a man about whom little is known; he had worked in this vicinity as farm laborer for about eighteen years, but is said to have been a butcher by trade. Nothing is known of his people beyond the fact that he came here from Joliet.

The body is awaiting burial at the blocks undertaking establishment and Mr. Kinzel is endeavoring to find relatives. Burial will probably be in the local cemetery here on Monday.

Cuba Township Primary.

F. H. PLAGGE, Town Clerk.

Charles Otis Enters Hospital.

Charles Otis entered the Francis Willard hospital, Chicago, Wednesday, for an operation for cancer in the left thigh which made its appearance about a year ago, but was not considered a serious affliction until the last few months, when the brown mole-like spot became painful and advice of a Chicago physician was sought. Friday, who pronounced the growth to be of a cancerous nature and ordered an immediate operation. The operation was expected to be performed this morning.

For Left Handed Players.

"One never knows," said a salesman in one of the big stationers, "how many people are afflicted with a given infirmity, until something comes up to call attention to it. Everyone knows in a general way that a number of persons are left handed; but until we got these new playing cards with the index marks in all four corners, which were invented just for left handed players I had no idea that so many people held their cards in their right hand. I have seen keeping count for a week now, and I find that about one person in six wants cards for left handed players."—New York Sun.

Old Love Letters.

Wife—I came across a bundle of your old love letters today.

Husband—Did you read all of them over?

Wife—Yes.

Husband—And what was the effect of that perusal?

Wife—I wondered which was the bigger fool—you for writing them or I for marrying you after receiving them.

Traveler to valet—That's a rather large statue, Pat.

Pat—Yes, nor. They tell me the hand is seven inches wide.

Traveler—Wonder why they didn't make it twelve inches?

Pat—Because they didn't want to make a fool.

EDITORS VISIT DUNNING

Newspaper Men Guests of President Busse of the County Board.

One hundred newspaper men, representing the papers published in Cook county, were guests of President William Busse of the County Board of Commissioners, at Dunning Tuesday.

A special train carried the party to Dunning, leaving the Union station at 10:30 a. m. Superintendent O. C. White of the Cook county poor farm, Business Manager Frank F. Smith and members of their staff met the visitors on arrival and escorted them through the infirmary and grounds.

After a visit to the hospital ward for the insane the editors were taken to the administration building where luncheon was served.

After luncheon Mr. Busse addressed the gathering and said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen, editors of the weekly Chicago and suburban newspapers:—The county board is asking the voters of Cook county to vote for an issue of bonds to erect new infirmary buildings and remove the consumptives from Dunning. The board has for years recognized that eventually this institution must be separated from the asylum for the insane. The time has arrived for doing it."

The board has purchased a farm containing 255 acres about three miles southwest of Blue Island, on the Rock Island road, nineteen miles from the heart of the city. On March 2 the board passed a resolution to submit a bond issue for the amount of $2,000,000 to be voted on at the April election, the county not having the necessary funds to build a new infirmary and such other buildings as are necessary properly to care for the unfortunate and consumptives.

When the state takes over the Dunning institution Cook county will be able to save the cost of maintaining the hospital for the insane. The saving that is thus caused by relieving the taxpayers of the maintenance of 1,800 to 1,900 insane patients is approximately $500,000 a year; which is more than double the average annual payment on the proposed issue of bonds, including interest. The total payment, principal and interest, in twenty years will be $2,840,000, an average of $142,000 a year. There will be saving even in ten years to pay off the entire issue of bonds and interest."

The visitors made notes of the conditions existing in the various Dunning buildings. The infirmary, which is proposed to be removed, was found to be in a dilapidated condition. The stairways and floors are built entirely of wood and it was the opinion of the visitors who made the inspection that the building was in danger from fire. The exterior wall in many places were found to be in bad condition. Many of the arches over the openings were cracked and falling to pieces.

The sanitary arrangements were also the subject of attention by the investigators and declared by many to be objectionable. The plaster in many of the rooms throughout the building was cracked and wooden laths were exposed in large patches.

Bishop Will Preach.

Bishop Rudolph Dutz of the United Evangelical church, who resides at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, will preach at the Salem church here Sunday morning in the German language.

Mrs. O. F. Mattison spent a day or two in Evanston this week visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Pendleton.

DEATH OF Wm. SERGEANT.

Was Found by Postman Sick in Bed and Entirely Alone.

Last Thursday while traveling over his route rural postman Sam Landwer called at the Cole farm near Langenhelm to leave mail for William Sergeant, the tenant, and found him very sick in bed, unable to reach the telephone and entirely alone; he had been ill since Tuesday night, without care and in a dying condition. His live stock and chickens were starving. Mr. Landwer reported at once to neighbors and August Meyer telephoned to town for a physician who found pneumonia to be the cause of illness.

Mr. Sergeant was not very well acquainted in this vicinity, having occupied the farm only since last spring and his family who live in Chicago are scarcely known here. They were notified by Supervisor Lamey and a son and Mr. Cole, the farm owner, came out from the city immediately, but help came too late and Mr. Sergeant died Friday night.

He was taken to Chicago and the funeral was held at his home on Bowen avenue on Tuesday afternoon. The Woodmen of the World conducted the service, as Mr. Sergeant was a member of that organization. He was buried in Oakland cemetery, Chicago.

William Sergeant was about sixty-six years old and was of Scotch-English birth and was born on an island off the coast of England. He came to America when sixteen years old and became a railway switchman and followed that work until retired. He was employed by various roads and was a member of the Switchmen's Brotherhood, delegations from four railroads attending his funeral. He was twice married and children of the first wife and his present wife are living.

School Board Takes Precaution.

The board of education has righted a defect at the school building which had caused a little apprehension, particularly since the school fire near Cleveland last week. The double doors at the three entrances have been resung to swing out-ward, thumb locks removed and an order given to have the doors always unlocked, excepting at night.

A little aid in our column of business notices will read or sell your property.

At the Majestic.

The Majestic theatre, Chicago, always up-to-date promises another extraordinary bill for the week of March 16th, Nat M. Willis, the famous comedian, is now one of the headliners of the variety form of amusement and offers a line of jokes, parodies and songs. At the conclusion of his tour in "A Lucky Dog" a short time ago this "tramp" comedian was engaged by the big vaudeville booking association for a tour of their principal theatres; the Majestic week begins his tour of the west. Another number is the Willie Pantzer troupe, European servants. This will be their first appearance in Chicago but their success has been so great that they are by no means unknown to patrons in this part of the country. Clifton Crawford will be a happy addition to the bill. His stories are of the sort that everybody likes and the manner in which he tells them is inimitable. Curly Moore and Miss Ethelyn Palmer and company will furnish one of the dramatic episodes of the bill with a one act comedy by Cecil De Mille, entitled "The Man's Thing," while the comedy element will be represented by the comedians, Gallagher and Barrett, with their farce, "The Battle of Two Soons." Barnold's trained dogs, will furnish a wonderful example of animal intelligence. There are half a dozen other expert numbers on this bill.

At McVicker's.

George Broadhurst's splendid comedy-drama "The Man of the Hour," a study in political graft and love, will begin a four weeks' engagement in McVicker's Theater Sunday, March 15. Wm. A. Brady and Jos. R. Grismer, owners of the rights to "The Man of the Hour," have given the play a fine cast and a setting worthy of its high merits. In New York the play had a run which extended through the winter of three years. It is running in Boston now and in Chicago it had a run of four months last season. The return of the drama is one of the best promises of the early spring. Dealing with politics "The Man of the Hour" shows the "Machinists" at all his glory. This personage selects young Alwyn Bennett as the candidate for Mayor because he is young and seemingly pliable. But after election Bennett develops unexpected character and defies the plans of the corrupt boss and his friends when they attempt to put through a perpetual railway franchise. The enemies of the young Mayor even use his love as one of their tools to gain their ends, but he remains steadfast in the end and gains his sweetheart, saves his honor and fortune. Not in many seasons has there been so good a play as "The Man of the Hour" sent out into the country and Messrs. Brady and Grismer are giving it the attention so valuable a piece of property deserves.

Appointment Receiver.

On Wednesday, March 11th, Fred Peterson, Arch Houghtaling and Susie Pomeroy filed a petition in involuntary bankruptcy against Melvin C. McIntosh, Ralph Peck appearing as their attorney. On Thursday, March 12th, on petition of John Robertson, executor of the estate of Wm. F. Page, William F. Zibell of Chicago of the bankruptcy estate, was appointed receiver. Mr. Zibell was selected by Judge Belcher, who entered the order appointing him. The law firm of Castle, Williams, Long & Castle will represent the receiver and everything possible will be done to ascertain and collect any assets there may be for the benefit of all Mr. of McIntosh's creditors.

The Good Job

Railroad Magnate Tells How to Get It and Keep It

By JAMES J. HILL,
President Great Northern Railroad.

It is one thing to get a position; it is another thing to keep it. Getting a position requires tact, foresight and perspicacity; keeping a position is an art. Getting positions is accomplished by a large number of men and women, but the number of those who can keep positions is but small.

When one starts to look for a position he must possess the qualities of cleanliness, clearness and perspicacity. No much depends upon the first impression.

Lax methods, unkempt hair, soiled fingers, a necktie awry and confused speech are some of the faults that destroy the chances of an applicant.

Having secured your position, how shall you keep it? First, and always, by being absolutely and strictly honest, for honor and character are man's greatest promoters. They stimulate energy and promote confidence. Who can deny the great power of energy and confidence? After an employer finds out he has an energetic clerk, in whom he can place absolute confidence, that clerk's future is a very promising one.

When luncheon or closing time is approaching, don't begin to prepare for leaving 20 minutes beforehand. I know a young man who stopped work regularly at 11:40 a. m. and at 5:10 p. m. in order to have plenty of time to "wash up," arrange his cuffs and tie, and brush his hair, so that he could leave promptly at 12 o'clock for luncheon and at 5:30 p. m., when the store closed. It was some years ago. That man is still looking for a "good job." He has had more than a dozen. He knew how to get them, but he never acquired the art of keeping them.

Don't be afraid of trying to do more than is expected of you. This has been the cause of many a man's failure. The bookkeeper who gives up a theater party or an evening social in order to try and complete a balance sheet does not escape his employer's notice.

Always remember that, next to honor, the quality that counts the most is personality. While many will tell you that personality is a gift just as surely as is the art of composing music, let me assure you that nothing else can be acquired as easily as personality, if one has the mind and the inclination to acquire it.

Always keep your promises. Your employer will never ask you to do more than is possible. Remember that an unfulfilled promise is as bad as a downright untruth. Live within your means. Never let a month pass that you do not put something in the bank. Dress neatly and plainly, for an employer marks a man as a fool who appurals himself with extravagance and glaring colors. Never try to win the favor of your employer by slandering your fellow-workers. Slander always sticks. Resolve and act quickly. Remember, it is better to be alone than in bad company; that you can not give your employer or yourself full value if you try to work after a night of dissipation; that silence, like cleanliness, is akin to goldmines; that a clear conscience gives sound sleep and good digestion, and clothes one in an impregnable coat of mail.

Last, but not least, remember that out of business hours your home deserves the most of your attention. The employer feels an immediate confidence in a man or woman whose home is free from extravagance, enmity, contempt, wrath, strife, envy and opposition. Keep happiness in your home, and you will create strength and efficiency for your work.

Healing Forces of Nature

By HADY BROWN,
L. R. C. F., Edinburgh, F. R. S. M.

The healing forces of nature are ever ready to help us, provided we permit them. Where nature fails, art steps in; and the greater the thinking and calculating and judging powers of the artificer, the greater and more efficacious will be the art. Even when doctors differ—who are the school of scientists and specialists, all the time making a particular study of the art of healing and alleviating suffering—we often observe nature to run away with the palm, demonstrating herself to be the greatest physician of all.

But the forces of nature only operate to a certain extent. They will stop if offended or severely attacked by experimental artificers. If we apply antiseptics which are too strong, we shall hinder instead of help. On the other hand, if we find that the asphyctic of nature might be augmented by safe and mild means, we wisely and carefully step in accordingly. The mouth and nose, for instance, have natural protective provisions against the harmful intrusion of injurious and minute air-borne particles in the delicate mucous membrane and secretions thereof; but occasionally these fail and gargles and mouth-washes are resorted to.

Nature prevents as often as cures. Not only does the mucous membrane of the mouth and nose and its moisture serve to catch minute particles that have settled upon it during breathing; it will convey them outside again by outward flow. An offensive dust will cause sneezing and an increased flow outwards from the nose, or it may be, a cough. The tiny hairs of the nose also help to keep out irritating atoms, not only by their position and arrangement, but when touched lightly they give a tickling sensation to the nerves of the mucous membrane, and sneezing results. Coughing and sneezing are nature's means for keeping out impurities of the air breathed. Similarly a congestion of blood-vessels, as is caused by cold lowering the system and allowing micro-organisms to work mischief, will reflexly cause coughing and sneezing, both designed to rid the tender parts of the afflicted from harmful intrusion.

Most disorders of the mouth as well as the nose result in increased flow of moisture outwards, to the end that offending micro-organisms shall be driven out. Dry conditions are such as occur in fevers or disorders of the digestive and intestinal tract. They suggest the ingestion of fluids to make up for the moisture of the body passing away through the skin, the pure passing in and the deleterious departing from the body.

One must bear in mind that the nose and mouth are half-share partners in the business of providing a safe and comfortable passage for air. Breathing by the mouth cannot be avoided when the nose is completely stopped up, nor can constant breathing be maintained when the nose is even partially stopped up. The nostrils must be sufficiently free for a certain volume of air to pass through. There are many who have a small passage through each nostril, but who cannot do all their breathing for many seconds at a time through the nose. It thus behooves all who study the methods and provisions of our greatest preserver and healer, and who begin at the important question of breathing, to make sure that the nose is able to perform its breathing function just as well as the mouth.

TICKET SYSTEM IN SPAIN.

Mileage Books Must Have Photograph of the Owner.

The average first-class fare in Spain is about four cents a mile (just double the first-class of some American lines, and with only 60 pounds free baggage) but with these mileage books, which are good on all the railroads of Spain, the fare works out at 2.65 cents a mile for 1,210 miles down to 1.85 and 1.7 cents a mile for 5,000 and 7,500 miles.

In order to secure these mileage tickets application must be made at any of the important railway stations of Spain at least 48 hours before the tickets are required. Simple blank forms to be filled up by the applicant are furnished at any of the railway offices, and the application must invariably be accompanied by a 4 1/2 by 3 1/2 inch unmounted photograph of the applicant. This is glued on the inner cover of the mileage book. If desired several persons may use the same book, but the book must contain a photograph of each of these persons. There is no advantage to having several names on the same book, except that if persons are traveling regularly together the trouble of making out a separate application and the additional fee for preparing a separate book for each person is avoided by making a collective demand.

Second-class mileage books cost from 1.50 cents down to 1.25 cents a mile, while third-class mileage books are issued at one-third less than those for second-class. In Spain it is almost impossible, however, to travel third class. As a matter of fact even second-class is not very satisfactory, for the reason that the express trains as a rule are limited to first-class. However, for persons who do not object to crowds and slow traveling and long waits at railway stations second-class is not impossible. It is said that tourist agents in central Europe can know very little about these economical Spanish kilometers tickets or else for reasons of their own do not advise intending tourists to Spain as to their existence. Perhaps this is due to the fact that the Spanish railways allow the agents commissions on ticket sales.

CHASED BY AN EXPRESS TRAIN.

French Way Train Got on Wrong Track and Had to Make Quick Time.

Through the fault of a signalman a way train which left Paris Monday night for Amiens got on the wrong track and was chased by an express train for over an hour at the imminent risk of a collision, says the New York Times.

The mistake took place where the northern line branches after leaving the bridge at Creil. There, through the momentary absent-mindedness of a signalman, the way train was sent out on the track going to Compiègne instead of the one going to Amiens.

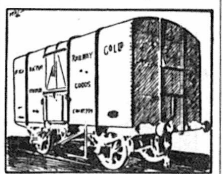

Knowing that he was followed at a short distance by the fast express which leaves the Gare du Nord at 6:20 o'clock the engineer immediately sent his train ahead at full speed for the station of Pont-Saint-Maxence, where there is a siding. The track was clear for the express, so there was no danger ahead.

The passengers, many of them commuters used to a leisurely pace and familiar with every inch of the road, soon discovered that something was wrong, and the report spread that the engineer had gone mad. This seemed verified when the train passed station after station at dizzy speed. Conductors and brakemen were as terrified as the passengers. When Pont-Saint-Maxence was reached the train came to a sudden halt and was then run safely on the siding.

The express dashed by—on time and without mishap. The way train with its agitated commuters then returned in its place to Creil, where it was switched to the line it should have taken two hours before.

Railroad Building in 1907.

During 1907 5,220 miles of railway have been built in the United States, according to the estimates of the Railroad Gazette.

This was exclusive of second, third and fourth tracks, sidings and electric lines. The total is eight per cent. less than for 1906, though the year before with conditions promising a larger construction than ever before. With these expectations a scarcity of labor and supplies, adverse state legislation and difficulty in borrowing money interfered. The amount spent on new equipment exceeded that of 1905 by 25 per cent., approximating $477,000,000.

THE LEGEND OF ST. PATRICK

'Twas the days of the hedge-school; Mullarkey was then the most dreaded of men. Sure the flight of the bird, or the speed of the hare To watch for a moment there's no one would dare.

An' when circles and squares on the dirt he would trace, 'Twas amazing the larin' that showed in his face. While the thoughts that revolved in his towery old head Were deep and tremendous, himself often said. Religion, of course, was a thame he well knew, Not your new-fangled notions, but stuff that was true. Wid that he taught love for the sacred could sod, Thus helpin' his kind, an' so plasht his God.

Now the seventeenth of March, reckoned then by old style, The fewel of days in the darlin' could isle, Was approachin' an' so the good masther once more Gave a taste to the byes av his legends an' lore.

An' Bit at Their Will All the Colliens an' Bys.

Patrick banished the snakes and the slimmers, you know, To a place where I hope there will be no more. That's the legend accepted, but I have it right— A tale that hates that out o' mind, out o' sight.

At Tara he preached to the king and the chiefs His Decalogues, Catalogues, Psalms and beliefs.

Once the king says to Patrick, 'The Druids all say That you're settin' the minds of me Fírlaigh astray. How can one be in three, and be one all the time?— Come, lad, 'n' answer in prose or in rhyme.'

'That's aisy,' says Patrick, 'This dear little plot, (Praise God!) 'twill be famous the oceans beyond!— Has a stalk all in one, but divides into three.'

Yet the shamrock is one, three in one, don't you see? 'Beadin' says the king, 'that bangs I'm a shaver sure. Now, byes to the Druids, ye now have the cure.'

But the sorra a word could those clergymen find; So from then his respect for the Druids declined.

Now, Patrick, me byes, you need scarcely be told, Was funny an' tricky, though holy an' bold. So now of the Druids he'd got the whip hand Bethowled him blessings he'd shower on the land.

To the king then says he, 'For the Druids, you're shown, I'll put e'er a back and new legs to your throne. (Not man's) the laste disrespect, but you see The preachers don't speak such plain Irish as we.'

In youth a spalpeen taught me herdin' Your majesty's pardon, the fault was not mine. Let me here introduce the boncen an' I'll go bail, Over the evils of Erin the pig will prevail.'

Now the Druids held serpents as sacred, you see; In England they learned that, betune you an' me. They would cast up in line sometimes near a mile

The seds all as one as a sarpiant's profile, Of the Gap of Dunloe to the Glen o' the Dowsa, And Sileb-na-mon grandly Killarney's lake crisscrossed!

There was routin' an' preachin' an' laughter an' prayer, No wonder for Satan to leave must prepare. For bairns the Saxons and whisky I'll say— Saint Patrick has rid us of evil to-day. So now you all know how the snakes went their doom.

And the class will its studies in Gaelic resume.

When that had been done, sorra one durst complain— Though the land were his own and his father's domain. It was sacred, and then for the sake of his soul, He must part wid it, bairrin' a sigh or a growl.

Then the snakes represented were holy likewise An' bit at their will all the colliens an' byes.

Well, the pigs went to routin', beaded To watch the ould Druids when their ruin begun. Wid fads of fury and hearts full of hate, They would curse the dear pigs, I'm ashamed to relate.

They invoked all the planets and stars as they knew, And the Druids saw Fate was now hard by the door. Then they prayed to the giants that ravaged the isle When ten foot of spire was the height of the style.

There was one who from Mona oft waded to Wales, And one who in coughin' produced the wild gales. Another in sport tried to bridge the broad way, The Causeway in Ulster bears witness to-day.

Then the one who at Powerscourt drank up the fall, An' the one who complained 'Devil's Bowl' was too small. The priests cursed the pigs loud and long, but no matter, On the snakes and their eggs they grew fatter and fatter.

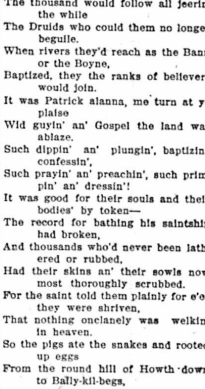

Oh, those were great times when the factions forgot What side they were of, and what side they were not. The thousand would follow all Jeerin' the while The Druids who could them no longer beguile.

When rivers they'd reach as the Bann or the Boyne, Baptized the ranks of believers would join. It was Patrick alanna, me turn at ye please! Wid gavin' an' Gospel the land was all seas.

Such dipplin' an' plunagin', baptizin', confessin', Such prayin' an' preachin', such primin' an' dowsin'! It was good for their souls and their bodies' by token— The record for bathing his saltinath had broken.

And thousands who'd never been lathered or rubbed, Had their skins an' their souls now made thoroughly scrubbed. For the saint told them plainly for e'er they were shirven, That nothing unclanely was welkum in heaven.

So the pigs ate the snakes and rooted up eggs From the round hill of Howth down to Ballykilbegs.

'That's Aisy, Says Patrick, This Dear Little Plot.'

From the Gap of Dunloe to the Glen o' the Dowsa, And Sileb-na-mon grandly Killarney's lake crisscrossed!

There was routin' an' preachin' an' laughter an' prayer, No wonder for Satan to leave must prepare. For bairns the Saxons and whisky I'll say— Saint Patrick has rid us of evil to-day. So now you all know how the snakes went their doom.

And the class will its studies in Gaelic resume.

JUDGING BY THE RESULTS.

Villager's Conversion Had Not Been of Great Avail.

"In our business we get many doubtful compliments," said Col. John F. Blish, deputy surveyor of the port, the other day, "but I do not think I ever received a compliment such as my grandfather got down in my native state of Tennessee. My grandfather was a minister and I was a very small boy when we both strolled down the road one day. One of our fellow villagers came along toward us.

"Good morning," said the villager, who apparently had looked upon the cap. "Ish conner—hic—ted, parson," he stammered with difficulty. "An'trashyoo—hic—that con—hic—converted—hic—me."

"That must be so," replied my grandfather, "for it's certain the Almighty had nothing to do with your conversion."—New York Evening Telegram.

THREE CURES OF ECZEMA.

Woman Tells of Her Brother's Terrible Suffering—Two Babies Also Cured—Cuticura Invaluable.

"My brother had eczema three different summers. Each summer it came on his shoulders and down his back, and he said his sufferings was terrible. When it came on the third summer, he bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and gave it a faithful trial. Soon he began to feel better and he cured himself entirely of eczema with Cuticura. A lady in Indiana heard of how my daughter, Mrs. Miller, had cured her little son of terrible eczema by the Cuticura Remedies. This lady's little one had the eczema so badly that they thought they would lose it. She used Cuticura Remedies and they cured her child entirely, and the disease never came back. Mrs. Sarah E. Lusk, Coldwater, Mich., Aug. 15 and Sept. 2, 1907."

What Did He Mean?

For a number of years a bitter feud has existed between the Browns and Perkins, next door neighbors. The trouble had originated through the depredations of Brown's cat, and had grown so fixed an affair that neither party ever dreamt of "making up." One day, however, Brown sent his servant next door with a peace-making note for Mr. Perkins, which read: "Mr. Brown sends his compliments to Mr. Perkins, and begs to say that his old cat did this morning."

Perkins' written reply was bitter: "Mr. Perkins is sorry to hear of Mr. Brown's trouble, but he had not heard that Mrs. Brown was ill."—Harper's Weekly.

Perfectly Plain.

With all the impartiality of the partisan, Prof. Price set forth the conditions of both political parties regarding the tariff.

At the close of his talk he was surrounded by the fair members of the Woman's Current Events club. "O Prof. Price," cooed the fairest, "thank you so much for your perfectly lovely talk! I understand all about the thing now. It's just like a lover's companions—the free-traders are the other girls!"—Sunday Magazine.

THE DOCTOR'S GIFT.

Food Worth Its Weight in Gold.

We usually expect the doctor to put us on some kind of penance and give us bitter medicines.

A Penn. doctor brought a patient something entirely different and the results are truly interesting.

"Two years ago," writes this patient, "I was a frequent victim of acute indigestion and biliousness, being allowed to eat very few things. One day our family doctor brought me a small package, saying he had found something for me to eat, at last."

"He said it was a food called Grape-Nuts, and even as its golden color might suggest, it was worth its weight in gold. I was sick and tired, trying one thing and another to no avail, but at last consented to try this new food."

"Well! It surpassed my doctor's fondest anticipations and every day since then I have blessed the good doctor and the inventor of Grape-Nuts."

"I noticed improvement at once and in a month's time my former spells of indigestion had disappeared. In two months I felt like a new man. My brain was much clearer and, however, my body took on the vitality of youth, and this condition has continued."

Agent the Pacific Cruise.

"A condition of things under which America's heaviest liabilities were being incurred in one ocean while her fleet was stationed in another could not be permanent," declares Sydney Brooks in the London Fortnightly Review. Therefore the object in dispatching the battleship fleet must not be the mere intention to the mere intention of a demonstration against Japan. Three factors, this writer says, have detracted from the importance of the Atlantic in the sphere of American policy and eliminated the necessity of a war squadron in that ocean. These are the disappearance of the West Indies, Great Britain and of the Monroe doctrine as menaces to the peace of the United States.

In the opinion of Mr. Brooks the expulsion of Spain from Cuba and Porto Rico, the present state of Anglo-American relations and the growing acquiescence in the principle enunciated in the Monroe doctrine by all European powers are potent guarantees of the peace of the Atlantic seaboard. On the other hand, since 1898 "the United States has given the Pacific with stepping stones from Hawaii to the Philippines. She has built up an export trade to the far east worth, I suppose, $150,000,000 a year. She has been drawn, willy nilly, into the far eastern question. She has played in the evolution of that question an active, often a leading, always a distinctive part," and thus enrolled the far east among the objects of her diplomatic solicitude. Just as the British naval power is just now held in European waters, so this writer thinks, the "black dog" of the United States can no longer be left unguarded, since a sphere of American interests the Pacific counts for as much as and in the future may count for more than the Atlantic.

The Noiseless Shooting Iron.

Whether the startling new invention of young Maxin will change the conditions of warfare must remain a subject for guessing until tests are made by competent judges. For most purposes the modern high power army rifle possesses about all the advantages which could be claimed for a noiseless substitute. Smokeless powder makes a bullet fly practically invisible if the powder is properly sheltered, and the range is so great that bullets strike the enemy's column before the report of the volley is heard. The report when it comes discloses the direction of the hostile force, but that can also be guessed from the flight of the missiles. But for a number of purposes a noiseless gun will offer temptations. The report of an assassin's pistol gives alarm, and anyway the pistol itself often turns up as a clue. The noiseless dagger is a telltale, and the user of it often has trouble in getting away from the scene before discovery. But a rifle which will send a bullet half a mile and more, giving no report and free of smoke, will place a fearful weapon in the hands of the king killer, and the person with a private grudge is sure to settle. The Black Hand band and all anarchists will surely bless Hiram Percy Maxin if his noiseless gun proves to be the real thing.

Within the past year timber to the value of $200,000 has been sold from a forest tract in Ireland which was planted fifty years ago. Ever thus as much labor has been employed on this tract as would be needed for agricultural tillage on the same soil, and the timber trade has proved more profitable to the estate than any other crop could have been.

When the chief of Nevada goes for an automobile ride he gets into a humble horse drawn vehicle at the rear of the procession and watches his admiring subjects show themselves best—Sally, gently pointed gasoline chariot in which he is supposed to be sitting. Yet it is said that the chief is effects.

The Russian press is now demanding the trial by court martial of General Kuropatkin. Having failed to whip the Japanese, Russia evidently desires to demonstrate her ability to spank her own generals.

According to a fashion note, "Easter hats will be smaller this year." In that case the average woman will have a still harder time convincing her husband that she got her money's worth.

A critic of Bernard Shaw says he is either wrong or right. That seems to be the general opinion of those who have read his works, but they didn't know how to express it.

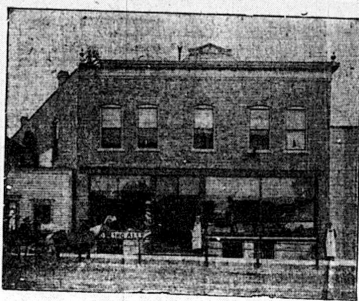

About the time that both men and women are satisfied that they are getting their rights predictions of the world's end will be taken seriously.

WIFE OF WHITE'S SLAYER ASKS A DIVORCE.

HUSBAND DEFENDS SUIT

Though Now Confined to Asylum, He Will Fight Separation, According to Announcement — Couple Agrees to Remain Apart.

New York.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Wednesday instituted proceedings for the annulment of her marriage to Harry K. Thaw. The action was based on the allegation that the defendant was insane when the union was contracted. Thaw planned to defend the suit. The papers in the case were served and an early trial is expected. In the meantime the two, by mutual agreement, will remain apart.

In official statements, by counsel for both parties, was confirmed the long-suspected culmination in the wedded lives of Stanford White's slayer and the woman whose story in his defense brought her an unhappy notoriety as wild as the reading world. For weeks it had been gossiped that a divorce was imminent, and even during Thaw's last trial, throughout which his wife stood gamely by him, it was pretty generally believed that, whatever the outcome for the prisoner, the two would never again live together.
These reports were frequently based on rumored opposition to the young woman on the part of the Thaw family. It is understood that the attorneys for Mrs. Thaw will depend practically upon the evidence of insanity introduced at the last trial of Thaw to prove that he was mentally incompetent at the time to legally contract a marriage. Should this be established the case would be won for the plaintiff, providing there was not introduced the defense that Thaw subsequently recovered full possession of his faculties and by continuing the marriage relation gave validity to the original contract. This point the attorneys would not discuss. It was, however, pointed out that Thaw though committed to an insane asylum as having been insane at the time he killed White, had not been declared insane at the present time. Whether the matter of his insanity will be determined before the trial for annulment is not known.

Jerome Denies All Charges.
Albany, N. Y.—District Attorney Jerome of New York filed Monday with Gov. Hughes his answer to the charges preferred against him. His answer was taken by William F. King, former president of the New York Merchants' association and a committee of minority stockholders of the Metropolitan Street Railway company, in which the governor is asked to remove Mr. Jerome from office. The answer is a general denial of the charges. The governor said he would announce the procedure to be followed after he had examined the document.

was $150,000.

HIGH COURT FREES SCHMITZ

SUPREME TRIBUNAL CALLS "FRIS-CO MAYOR FAULTLESS."

Refusal of Rethinking Consequently Sustains Opinion of Appeals Board.

San Francisco.—The state supreme court Monday refused a rehearing in the case of former Mayor Eugene E.
Schmitz, convicted of extortion from French restaurant proprietors and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. The opinion was unanimous.
This sustains the decision of the district court of appeals, which decreed that the judgment and order of the lower court here, sustained the de-murrer to the indictment and ordered the discharge of the defendant on the ground that under the law no offense had been committed.

At the time the case was jointly indicted with Schmitz, pleaded guilty, and his sentence is now pending.

Monday's decision of the supreme court also applies to him. It is believed that Schmitz will immediately apply for release from the county jail, and Ruet may do likewise.

The prosecution proposes to at once bring to trial some of the many other charges preferred against them.

The court sustained the appellate court in its decision that the indictment upon which Schmitz was convicted was defective in that it did not state that Schmitz was mayor, that Ruet, his co-defendant, was a politician, and that it did not show that Schmitz resorted to unlawful means in threatening to have liquor licenses withheld.

The decision practically nullifies Ruet's plea of guilty, invalidates the remaining four extortion indictments against the former mayor and Ruet, and will enable Schmitz to gain his liberty on bail after eight months' confinement in the county jail.

Counsel for Schmitz announced Tuesday that steps would immediately be taken for the former mayor's release.

"The decision demonstrates," said ex-Mayor Schmitz, "that the highest court in the state believes what I have always claimed, that I was removed from office and railroaded to prison."

San Francisco.—Eugene E. Schmitz was released from jail Tuesday night after presenting bonds in the sum of $150,000.

The charges of extortion against him on which he had not been tried were dismissed.

In the superior court Tuesday afternoon Judge Frank H. Dunne made an order dismissing Schmitz from custody on the indictment on which he was convicted in pursuance of the decision of the supreme court.

NAVY ARMOR BELT TOO LOW?
That is Gist of Testimony Before Senate Investigating Body.

Washington.—Testimony was adduced Monday before the senate committee on naval affairs which is investigating the criticisms of battleship construction, showing that the location of the armor belt of American battleships was too low. On the other hand, a letter from Secretary Metcalf was read declaring it to be the opinion of the board of construction and Rear Admirals Evans and Brownson that the armor belt lines of the battleships Delaware and North Dakota were right. The secretary in his communication took occasion to declare that American battleships were superior to those of any other navy. The witnesses Monday were Lieut. Richard D. White, assistant inspecter of target practice, and Rear Admirals George C. Remey and C. F.
Goodrich.

CONVICTS KILL A WARDEN.
Effort to Break Jail Causes Murder at Deer Lodge, Mont.

Deer Lodge, Mont.—Warden Frank Conley of the Montana state penitentiary was dangerously wounded Sunday and his first assistant warden, John Robinson, was killed when three life convicts, George Rock, W. H.
Hayes and another whose name is not known, made a dash for liberty. Robinson's throat was cut from ear to ear and the jugular vein was severed.
Conley's throat was gashed and he was stabbed several times in the shoulder and groin before he was able to draw his revolver and shoot two of the assailants down. Conley and Robinson were both shot by the convicts after the latter had been wounded. It is believed that the warden will recover.

company was Monday appointed re-tric Railway company.

Rochester Has Big Blaze.

started in Dodge's block in Central Square, burned until Wednes-

Dover and Somersworth. The loss was $150,000.

jured in a runaway of a funeral car

NEGRO AFFAIR IS UP

MILITARY COMMITTEE SENDS A REPORT OF TROUBLE.

WORD FROM PRESIDENT

Discharge of Three Companies of Negro Soldiers for Fracas at Brownsville, Tex., Involves Four Declarations.

Washington.—Reports from the committee on military affairs were presented to the senate Wednesday in regard to the investigation of the af-ray at Brownsville, Tex., which resulted in the discharge without honor of three companies of negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry.

At the same time a message was received from the president calling attention to the fact that the testimony taken by the committee sustains his position in discharging the negro soldiers. He recommends extinction of the time for re-enlistment of the discharged men who might be found not to fall within the terms of the order.

The four reports from the committee, the majority being signed by Senators Warren, Lodge, Warner, Dupont, Tallifero, Foster, Overman, Fraser and McCrea. A dissenting report was signed by Senators Foraker, Scott, Bulkeley and Hemenway.

The majority report found as follows: That in the opinion of the committee the shooting was done by some of the soldiers belonging to the Twenty-fifth infantry; that the testimony falsely identified the participants; soldiers who participated in the af-ray. It is stated that there is considerable contradiction in the testimony, but that taken as a whole and reconciling it wherever possible it proves the case outlined in the majority's decision. The principal minority report was presented by Senator Scott and takes the position that it has been impossible to ascertain who did the shooting and makes the recommendation that the negro soldiers be reinstated. In addition to this minority report, Senators Foraker and Bulkeley joined in a supplemental report.

FLEET NEAR MAGDALENA.
Evans' Vessels Less Than 200 Miles Away on Thursday.

San Diego, Cal.—The American fleet, under command of Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, was Thursday less than 200 miles south of Magdalena bay, lower California.

The men of the battleships' crews probably will be given a day or two of rest after the long run from Callao, Peru, which was left February 29, before the strenuous work of target practice in divisions, of which there are four, comprising four vessels each. It will rest with Admiral Evans as to whether the divisions are sent to the range in regular order or as circumstances dictate.

HERESY CHARGES LIFTED.
Dr. J. T. McFarland Is Freed by Kansas Session.

Topeka, Kan.—The Kansas conference of the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday exonerated Dr. J.
T. McFarland of New York, editor of the Methodist Sunday school publications, of heretical charges preferred against him by Dr. George A. Cooke, a member of the Troy conference.
Dr. J. T. McFarland was a former pastor of the First Methodist church of Topeka, and is now editor of the official Sunday school publication of the Methodist church of America, published in New York. Dr. Cooke makes the complaint.

Kills Self and Schoolmate.
Boston.—Suffering from melancholia, due to overwork, Miss Sarah Chamberlain of Philadelphia shot and killed Miss Elizabeth Rully Harden of East Savannah, Ga., and then committed suicide at the Laurens school, a fashionable school for girls in the Fenway district.

Bank Head Indicted.
Jackson, Miss.—N. Anders, president of the Commercial bank of Jackson, and former director of the Central bank of Mississippi, has been indicted by the Hinds county grand jury on the charge of embezzling $25, 000 from the latter institution.

King Gets Safely Away.
Barcelona.—After two days' visit to this city King Alfonso left for Madrid Wednesday evening. Great crowds gathered on the streets and at the station to bid him farewell, and the royal train moved away to the cheering of the multitude.

Acquitted of Bribery Charge.
Arthur, O.—John B. Lindsey of Meigs county was Wednesday acquitted of the charge of having attempted to bribe Prosecuting Attorney Miller in connection with the prosecution of suits over the alleged swindling of the Middleport bank.

Thaw and Mother Served.
New York.—Harry K. Thaw was served late Wednesday with a copy of the summons and complaint in the proceedings brought by his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, to annul the marriage. A messenger delivered the papers to Thaw at the Matineau insane asylum, and Mrs. William Cogley Thaw was served.

Prussian Blast Kills Five.
Dormund.—Prussia.—An explosion of fire-lamp in the Lohs mine, near here, Wednesday killed five men.

WHAT WINTER WHEAT IS DOING FOR SOUTHERN ALBERTA.

Splendid Crops on the Former Ranching Plains of Canadian West.

That portion of the country in Western Canada formerly recognized as ranching country has developed into one of the best winter wheat districts in the continent. Yields are quoted running from 30 to 60 bushels to the acre, and giving a return to the farmer of from $25 to $50 per acre. These lands are now selling at from $12 to $20 per acre, and pay well at that figure. H. Howes of Magrath, Alberta, Western Canada, had 50 acres of land in wheat, which averaged 45 bushels to the acre; his yield of oats was 35 bushels. The value to him per acre of wheat was $35.00. J. F. Haycock of the same place, says: "I had 65 acres of wheat, 35 acres of oats and four acres of barley. My average yield of oats to the acre was 50 bushels; wheat—winter—60 bushels and rye, 23 bushels, and barley, 50 bushels.
The value to me per acre was,
$25.00 for wheat, $20.00 for barley, $24.00." J. F. Bradshaw of Magrath, had 1,020 acres of wheat in crop that averaged 29½ bushels to the acre, and 23 acres of barley, 53 bushels. He threshed 21,000 bushels of wheat from 640 acres. He also had 250 tons of sugar beets from 25 acres of land. W. S. St. Denis, of the same place, says: "I came to Lethbridge from Souris, North Dakota, in April, 1917, having purchased 900 acres of land in this district last fall.
I had 128 acres of Alberta Red winter wheat which was put in on breaking in the fall of 1916, which yielded 41½ bushels to the acre, which I received 87½ cents per bushel, which paid me $36.30 per acre. I had 190 acres "stubble" in that is, disced in the stubble, which yielded 22 bushels to the acre at 87½ cents per bushel, which paid me $19.25 to the acre. I also had 350 acres of strictly volunteer crop, which it was intended to prepare in the summer; but when it was seen that it was a good looking crop, it was allowed to go. From this we threshed 15 bushels to the acre, which paid us at the rate of 87½ cents per bushel or $13.12 per acre. Our total crop yielded us 14,742 bushels of first-class wheat. Taking it as a whole, I consider that I had a first-class crop all through; and, taking into consideration the fact of part of the crop having been "stubble" in, and part strictly volunteer (which was never touched at all until the blinder was put into it), I consider I had a heavy crop. I might say that I was in North Dakota five years, and I never grew as heavy a crop during that time. This is the 25th day of November, and my teams are still ploughing, and from the appearance of the weather, will be for some time yet." R. W. Bradshaw of Magrath, says: "I had this year 400 acres in crop, viz: 200 acres of wheat and 200 acres of oats. My average yield of oats to the acre was 50 bushels, and wheat 22 bushels. The value to me per acre for wheat was $19.00, and oats, $17.00. The highest price obtained by me this year or offered me for my grain was for wheat, $22 cents per bushel, and $1.05 per hundred for oats. I also had 100 tons of hay worth $12.00 per ton, and will say my crop was a success. I had 120 bushels in wheat averaging from 50 to 60 bushels per acre on summer fallow, and on new breaking, when the breaking was done early in the spring."

Writing from Spring Coulee, Alberta, W. L. Thompson says: "I had this year 2,000 acres in crop, viz: 2,000 acres of wheat and 1,000 acres of oats. My average yield of oats to the acre was 30 bushels and of wheat 35 bushels.
The value to me per acre for wheat was $27.00 and for oats $15.00.

mentioned, best way to reach them, da government, whose advertisement

Why He Left His House.

In the Paris Louvre is a famous art collection, valued at $200,000, which was given to the institution by M.
Camille Groult. In the collection are some of the finest works of Watteau, Fragonard, Reynolds, Gainsborough, Turner and Constable. M. Groult's house on the Avenue Malakoff was so interesting that Alexander Dumas once told the collector that he could not understand why he ever wanted to leave it. "I will tell you," replied M.
Groult, "it is for the pleasure of entering it again." — London Illustrated News.

"I like work, but—
"But what?"
"I will admit that it's an acquired taste."

Hugo Battleships In Theory.

All nations which are ambitious of great sea power want ships as large as those of any other nation; hence the contest for size makes ever newer and larger creations necessary. The way the contest stands at present among naval experts is explained by the Scientific American. Modern tactics, this paper says, call for "line ahead formation"—that is, with each ship of a fleet steaming in the wake of the one ahead, with a wide interval between them. Thus a line of four eight-gun ships will be but half as long as a line of eight four-gun ships.
The line of four eight-gun ships will attack the four four-gun ships at the head of the line of smaller vessels and overcome them by mere preponderance of metal, then attack and dispose of the other four smaller ships.

It is assumed that the fifth and sixth ship in the line of four-gun ships will do a little execution while the eight gun ships are engaging the four leading ships, but that the seventh and eighth can do nothing, owing to the long range. Upon the theory that naval battles of the future must be fought out just this way, the authorities of the rival powers are proceeding when they put millions into mammoth ships. But perhaps some future Nelson or Paul Jones will happen into a fight and apply the big "D" to tactics. It all seems to be a question of what thirty-two twelve-inch guns on one side can do to thirty-two twelve-inch guns on the other side. A Jones or a Nelson might not be disposed to keep a dozen, more or less, of his guns out of the scrimmage and let four big ships have their own way with the four little ships at the head of his line.
Torpedoes seem to be left out of calculation in this theory of naval warfare. Even then there may arise some daring commander, not sound on approved tactics, who is himself as good as a whole arsenal of torpedoes. Once a small ship does the trick for a big one, the small and lively "terror of the ocean" will again be in fashion.

Carrying American Cash to Europe.
The returning immigrants from the United States who passed through the port of Hamburg in one day recently exchanged $18,000 for the currency of their native countries, to be used in railroad fares and pocket money for their journey home. The most of them had on their persons drafts and gold which represents savings to live on or to invest at home. The commuties where these returning adventurers settle will find them very desirable acquisitions if they put their money and their practical knowledge to use.
It is assumed, also, and to a certain extent here, that the departing emigrants from our shores are going home for a visit, because there is a prospect of a long period of idleness in this country. This may be true, but it is noticeable that the bulk of the emigrants who return through Bremen are natives of countries which have recently invited and even urged their exiled people to come back to the fatherland. If they are wanted at home it is most probable that the natives will contrive some means of keeping them now that they are on the spot comfortably supplied with money earned in America.

Japan, insisting that China shall apologize and indemnify her for the seizure of a Japanese steamship, will, of course, have her own way. Either tutelage or terror must be the condition of China in her relations with Japan until she learns how to free herself or until some combination of powers stronger than Japan does the freeing for her.

The battleship cruise may prove to have an educational value. The sailors have been permitted to see a building at Lima, and as many of them are familiar with football mixups and with ring contests they are now qualified to give an expert opinion as to which is the most brutal.

It is estimated that Mark Twain during his lifetime has made $70,000 by his writings and lectures. At 30 cents a word it looks as if Mark has succeeded in financing the whole dictionary.

Somewhere when a man dies from the effects of handling dirty money he gets more space in the newspapers than one who dies of starvation.

Proclamations to abolish the czar of Russia will probably amount to just as much as the czar's proclamations against discontent and no more.

With Russia penniless and Turkey without cash, the war is much more likely to be of the typewriter variety than anything else.

The general opinion seems to be that while the United States navy is a little "off" in spots, it would be exceedingly hard to whip.

If, as an army officer declares, "Germany could capture New York easily," war isn't such a terrible thing after all.

We will be glad to see the motto back on the coins, and we will also be glad to see more of the coins.
