Miss Jessie Nason died Thursday, March 29 after an illness of several months. On account of ill health, her mother took her to New Mexico last fall, but they returned in February. The funeral, Sunday, was the largest held in Palatine for some time.

Rumor has it that Trustee W. R. Comfort will not be a candidate for re-election this spring. An entire new ticket will probably go in by petition and the only fight at the caucus will be between S. R. Padlock and Henry Schroeder for the clerkship.

Telephone Commands.

1. Thou shalt not listen "on the line."
2. Thou shalt not keep trying to ring central when thou knowest the line is in use.
3. Thou shalt not use thy neighbor's phone, any more than thou shalt borrow money of a neighbor. It is the same thing.
4. Thou shalt not "yell" over the phone. A low nasal tone is better understood.
5. Thou shalt be brief, saying what thou has to say in clear, quick words.
6. Thou shalt not "hold the line," to visit with a friend. Some one else may need the line for important business.
7. Thou wilt be called "sneaky" if thou listenest. Listen not.
8. Talk not private affairs over a phone. Someone may be on the line to enjoy hearing thy troubles.
9. Thy call is one of hundreds. Expect not the operator to give lightning service to thee alone.
10. Call by number. Perhaps the operator is only an ordinary person, unable to memorize hundreds of phone numbers, and thy call for "So and So's store, or house," will bother her.

A leap year party was given by Barrington young ladies to their young men friends at the home of Fred Schwenn, southwest of town Wednesday night. Others from far and near were also there, and the guests were about forty in number. A splendid evening of fun is reported.

Cret Elected State Delegate.

The biennial county convention of the Modern Woodmen of America was held at Handel hall, 40 Randolph street, Chicago, Wednesday. Barrington camp No. 809, M. W. A., was represented by William Grunau, D. P. Lamey, Edward Groff, T. H. Cret and H. S. Meier as delegates. State Deputy Haines was selected Chairman and Gus Arps of Palatine secretary of the meeting. The principal purpose of the gathering was the selecting of delegates to the state convention and Barrington camp was honored by the election of T. H. Cret as a state delegate. As there is allowed only one delegate for each 1,000 members the local camp may feel well satisfied with their representatives to the county convention.

VOTE FOR BOND ISSUE

Next Tuesday, in Barrington
Township Election. Special

Gravel Tax in Cuba.

Next Tuesday is election day. While there is little opposition for township candidates in Barrington or Cuba townships there are important questions to be submitted to the voters of each township.

Barrington will vote on the proposition of levying bonds to the amount of two million dollars to be used for the purpose of building a county poor house and other necessary buildings. The present buildings at Dunning are inadequate and dangerous to the unfortunate inmates of the county.

An ideal location for the new buildings has already been purchased near Blue Island, Illinois.

It is proposed that the Dunning institution be turned over to the State of Illinois as soon as new buildings can be built with the money in turn take care of all the inmates of the county which will save thousands of dollars for Cook county.

While the amount of the proposed bond issue may seem large, the saving in the state taking care of all the inmates will pay off the bonded indebtedness with interest each year as bonds become due and leave a neat balance in the county's favor.

The bond issue will in no way increase the taxes on your property. Every voter should turn out Tuesday and vote YES on the bond issue.

Cuba will vote on the proposition of levying a special gravel tax of sixty cents on each $100 assessed value of all property in the township for a period of five years to be used for the purpose of building gravel roads.

This is a renewal of the special tax which has been levied during the past five years and it is generally conceded that every voter will vote YES on this proposition, the benefits shown in the past putting aside all arguments against it.

Take enough interest in public affairs to cast a vote Tuesday.

DEATH COMES SUDDENLY.

Mrs. Frank Landwer Died This Morning from Rupture of Blood Vessel.

Mrs. Frank Landwer, daughter of John L. Meiners died at 8 o'clock this morning at her home one mile south of this village aged 32 years. Death was sudden and caused by a rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. She had suffered a severe stroke about two weeks ago from which she was recovering. She leaves a husband, a son Clayton, 2 years old and a daughter, Gladys, 9 years old, who mourn their loss. The arrangements for the funeral have not as yet been made.

Meets Horrible Fate

Miss Florence Smith, teacher of our second grade, was called to her home in Cary early this week by the death of her brother, Wilson P. Smith, a prominent young farmer of Cary, and breeder of fine Holstein cattle, who was attacked and fatally gored by a vicious bull Monday evening, being disemboweled.

Doctors found that an immediate operation was necessary. Dr. Fredrick Bailey, a specialist of Chicago, was telephoned for, and came to Barrington on the midnight train, driving to Cary.

The bowels were found to be perforated in several places, and Mr. Smith survived the operation only a few hours, dying about 11:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Smith was engaged in cleaning out the manger in which the bull fed, when the animal made a sudden lunge, catching Mr. Smith on his sharp horns and throwing him higher than the stanchions. The bull then commenced goring him with his horns. N. B. and L. Kerns rushed to Mr. Smith's assistance, and after a vigorous prodding the bull with pitchforks succeeded in rescuing him. The funeral was held yesterday.

They go to a small mission church and are sorry to leave the modern church and fine home provided here. The farewell sermon preached Sunday by Rev. Haelele was heard by an audience filling the Salem church. Tears of regret were shed by many that fate causes the separation of this beloved pastor from his people here. Rev. Feulle came today from Highland Park and will be in attendance Sunday.

Dies at Elgin.

News reached Barrington of the death of Mrs. Bert Gleason at her home in Elgin last Saturday, March 28th. Mrs. Gleason was formerly Miss Mary Spiegel of this place and the family were well acquainted here. They lived on Station street in the house now occupied by Louis Tegal. About eight years ago they went to live in Elgin. Mrs. Gleason was a lady of less than a year, having been married to Mr. Gleason in Chicago in June, 1907. The cause of death is said to have been consumption. The burial was Tuesday in Elgin.

Teachers' Association Meeting.

The seventh regular meeting for this school year of the Cook County Teachers' Association will be held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, Saturday, April 11, 1908, at 10:30 a. m. He Got What He Needed.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my fate had come," says Mr. C. Farthing, of May Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at Barrington Pharmacy, 5c.

The entertainment given by the members of the W. F. M. Society of the Salem church at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Thursday night took in about 412. The program was a good one and the evening marked only the chill in the rooms, which for some reason could not be properly heated.

The noiseless gun, however, solves that problem.

SEEK BODIES OF 54 MINERS

REMAINS OF ONLY FIVE OF 59 DEAD ARE FOUND.

Two Explosions in Shaft at Hanna, Wyo., Work Havoc Among Scores of Families.

Hanna, Wyo.,—The bodies of only five of the 59 miners and mine officials who killed in Hanna mine No. 18 of the Union Pacific Coal Company by the two explosions have been recovered.

Other bodies probably will not be reached for several days. The widows and orphans are being cared for, and there is no destitution.

The local lodges of Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and United Mine Workers of America Monday met and made arrangements to bury their dead members and provide for the stricken families.

The official force of the local mines was completely wiped out by the disaster. From Superintendent Briggs and his three foremen down to the gas watchers, stable boys and others, all are dead and complete reorganization of the working forces will be necessary.

The entire official family of the United Mine Workers is enrolled on the roster of the dead. Two of the widows of the proprietors in this disaster were also made widows by the calamity at the same mine five years ago.

HOTEL LELAND IN FLAMES.

Famous Hostelry in Springfield, Ill., Partly Burned.

Springfield, Ill.—The Leland hotel, one of the most widely known hotels in the country, and which has been the center of political gatherings for the last 30 years, was severely damaged by fire Thursday, entailing a loss on the proprietors, the Higgins estate, of about $75,000.

The fire broke out while the Republican state convention was in session, three squares away, and when the delegates received word that the hotel was burning they leaped from their chairs, tore wildly for the doors and hastened to their effect.

No lives were lost, nor was any person injured. The fire for a time threatened the building of the Springfield Journal, which is separated from the hotel by a narrow alley.

Indiana Express Rates Cut. Indianapolis, Ind.—Express rates in Indiana are reduced on an average of between ten and 12 per cent. in an opinion and order issued Monday by the Indiana railroad commission.

The new schedule is to be adopted by the express companies within 30 days. The total annual business of all express companies in the state is about $1,000,000, according to information collected by the commission, and the reduction means a decrease of more than $100,000 a year in the money to be paid out for express service.

MAN AND WOMAN MURDERED.

Music Teacher and Pupil Found Dead in the Woods.

Cleveland, O.—Detectives are searching for a missing revolver, upon which may hang a solution of the mystery surrounding the tragic deaths of Carl Bernthal, 58 years of age, and Miss Lena Ziechmann, 30 years of age. The bodies of the man and woman, with their hearts pierced by a revolver bullet, were found early Monday in the forest in Cleveland Heights, just east of the city.

While murder and suicide first were suspected, the absence of a revolver led the coroner to declare that Bernthal and Miss Ziechmann were murdered by a third person.

Bernthal was a music teacher and a member of an opera house orchestra. Miss Ziechmann was a music pupil of Bernthal, and also was a teacher of German in the public schools.

CHARGES AGAINST PINCHOT.

Chief of Forestry Bureau is Attacked in the House.

Washington.—Charges of a serious nature against Gifford Pinchot, chief of the forestry bureau, were made in the house Monday by Messrs. Smith of California, and Mondell of Wyoming, during the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill. Mr. Smith accused him of entering into a secret understanding with the city of Los Angeles to secure for the city valuable water rights in the Owens river valley as against the interests of private parties having prior claims.

Mr. Mondell denounced him for, as he charged, illegally paying the expenses of forest officials in attending conventions in the west in which the government had no part, and also of spending government money to boost his bureau in the newspapers.

Mr. Pinchot was defended by Mr. Polard, Nebraska, and Mr. Scott of Kansas.

CONGRESSMAN SHOTS NEGRO.

Heflin of Alabama in Desperate Affray—Wounds Another Accidentally.

Washington.—In a desperate affray on a Pennsylvania avenue car Friday night, a negro and a white man were killed by Congressman Thomas J. Heflin of Alabama. Thomas Lombly, the negro, was shot in the head and is in a critical condition, and Thomas McCree, a New York horse trainer, is suffering from a wound in the leg.

The shooting of McCree was accidental. Mr. Heflin was arrested and taken to the Sixth police precinct station where a charge of assault with intent to kill was placed against him. Later he was released on $5,000 bail.

Mr. Heflin rebuked the negro for drinking on the street car and the latter is said to have made a motion as if to draw a pistol.

Aldrich Bill is Passed.

Washington.—The Aldrich currency bill was passed by the senate Friday by a vote of 42 to 16, in the main a party vote.

Previous to the taking of the vote on the Aldrich bill a vote was taken on the Bailey substitute, authorizing the government, instead of the national banks, to issue the emergency circulation for which the bill provides.

The vote on the substitute stood 42 to 13, and this vote was entirely party. The vote on the Aldrich bill was 42 to 16, with Senator La Follette casting his vote with the Republicans.

The Evolution of Household Remedies.

The modern patent medicine business is the natural outgrowth of the old-time household remedies.

In the early history of this country, EVERY FAMILY HAD ITS HOME-MADE MEDICINES. Herb teas, bitters, laxatives and tonics, were to be found in almost every house, compounded by the housewife, sometimes assisted by the apothecary or the family doctor. Such remedies as pills, which was also and quassia, dissolved in apple brandy. Sometimes a hop tonic, made of whisky, hops and bitter bark. A score or more of popular, home-made remedies were thus compounded, the formulas for which were passed along from house to house, sometimes written, sometimes verbally communicated.

The patent medicine business is a natural outgrowth from this whole-some, old-time custom. In the beginning, some enterprising doctor, impressed by the usefulness of one of these home-made remedies, would take it up, improve it in many ways, manufacture it on a large scale, advertise it mainly through almanacs for the home, and thus it would become used over a large area. LATTERLY THE HOUSEHOLD REMEDY BUSINESS TOOK A MORE EXACT AND SCIENTIFIC FORM.

Peruna was originally one of these old-time remedies. It was used by the Memmottes, of Pennsylvania, before it was offered to the public for sale. Dr. Hartman, THE ORIGINAL COMPOUNDER OF PERUNA, is of Commonwealth origin. From his prescribed it for his neighbors and his patients. The sale of it increased, and at last he established a manufactory and furnished it to the general drug trade.

Peruna is useful in a great many ailments arising from colds, coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, and catarrhal diseases generally. THOUSANDS OF FAMILIES HAVE LEARNED THE USE OF PERUNA and its value in the treatment of these ailments. They have learned to trust and believe in Dr. Hartman's judgment, and to rely on his remedy, Peruna.

Food in Pill Form

Mankind Will Never Live on Condensed Food

By HARVEY W. WILEY,
Chief Chemist, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Those scientists who maintain that the future holds the possibility of food administered in a condensed form in capsules are, if they attempt the practice of their theory, rushing wildly either to the insane asylum or the sepulcher.

The lesson of the appendix is interesting in connection with a plan to do away with the necessity of our stomach and intestine. If one small organ in retiring from the field of activity occasions the agony and spilling of blood that the appendix does, where would the end be were we to retire all those in the lower part of the body? In the meantime how would a healthy and robust stomach feel on one or three small capsules a day?

We will go on indefinitely eating the same quantities of food and in much the same way. There may be changes in cooking that may improve the food we eat and there may be methods of improving the food supply. We will get better things to eat. We are already getting better material in the market, material that is purer and healthier, through the enforcement of the pure-food law.

A great many people claim that we eat too much and that we would be as well off on half the quantity. In this connection I would cite the fact that Americans, Canadians, and Englishmen are the greatest eaters in the world. They are likewise the greatest of stature, and as a race their size and robustness are increasing. The Spaniards, the Italians, and the Greeks have been underfed for generations, and, while healthy and apparently strong, they have grown smaller and are now races of small, short men.

Blessed is the man who does not know how he eats. A mouthful of food should pass on its way automatically and without the knowledge of the man who chews it. He who mixes mathematics with his food by counting 28 times on each bite is on the road to emaciated, sad-faced dyspepsia. Life has nothing that is worth while for him. I fail to see the use of wasting too much time on one bite while there is another just behind it inviting attention.

Some one quoted me as advising meat eaters to bolt and not chew their meat. I did not give such advice, but I pointed out two undeniable facts: The herb-eating animals devote much time to chewing while the flesh eaters do very little of it.

The Sunday following Christmas is the one day in the year when most people show a tendency to think of their stomachs. The dark brown taste may demand rather more attention because of the things that have been eaten, but ordinarily there is little trouble from the quantities that are absorbed around the family board. Overeating causes less trouble to the system than does underfeeding, and were the score even between the two it would be the part of philosophy to lean to the side of the partaker of much food, for a goodly part of life's happiness is found at the table with a normal appetite. I am against the capsule men. The time will never come when they will have a place in the world as caterers to palate under ordinary conditions. It is entirely possible to condense the nourishment of a whole meal into a few pellets, and these have their place, as for instance, when it becomes necessary to make enforced marches with the lightest possible burden. But the system would not thrive for long on such a diet, for there must be the necessary bulk to supply the tissues and flush the system.

Prophet's Voice Is Needed

By DR. DAVID S. MUZZEY.

Prophecy is not the foretelling of events so much as the foretelling of moral consequences. The trade of the clairvoyant flourishes in Chicago, as in New York, but where are the compelling voices that speak to conscience and not to curiosity? Where, in the midst of all the babel of prediction and blatant boasting that gives itself out as wisdom and courage, are the clear, strong tones of august humanity of an Emerson and a Curtis, a Lincoln and a Lowell?

If we are wise we will let any of our providers and purveyors die before we lose our prophets. For we achieve personality only through perspective—and the prophet recalls us to the true perspective of life by showing us the meaning of action in the light of its large moral consequences.

There is no danger that our land will go down in the sweep of battle. We fling our proud corollary of crusaders around the western hemisphere. We proclaim to Europe and Asia that we are protected from foes without. But what if the cord of corruption within is being drawn closer and closer about the sacred citadel of our freedom; if our legislatures are multiplying penal statutes while our courts spare the offenders; if our politicians persuade us the people live by favor of the administration and the trusts hoodwink us into believing that they are making the people prosperous! Against the falsehoods and hypocrisies how sorely do we need the prophet's voice! What other hope or promise that our land will pass through this era of mad materialism and come again to set ideals above ingenuity and prize duty beyond dividends.

Make It Hard to Wed

By PATRICK F. MCGOWAN,
President of New York Board of Education.

The more difficult marriage is made the less we shall have to worry about divorce. Some marriages are positively shameful. Take for instance the marriage a few days ago of two little 14-year-old girls that was reported in the papers. Why, in my opinion, the parents of those two children who gave their consent to the marriage ought to be led to the whipping post and soundly flogged.

Then again, take the case of the telephone girl who took a husband as a Christmas gift, one of those "come on, let's get married" cases. Now she refuses to live with her husband, but I believe she ought to be made to live with him, live under his roof anyway, just as an example to other young girls. It would cause them to hesitate a little bit and be more careful, instead of rushing into matrimony.

Entering wedlock is a serious step and should always be regarded as such. If the contracting parties are not inclined to take it that way the state should make them.

WORK OF THE VOLTA BUREAU

Institution That is Doing Much Good Among the Deaf.

On a quiet street of Washington's once fashionable neighborhood, George town, there is a building whose peculiar appearance arouses the curiosity of all strangers who see it. It is something like a library, something like a museum and something like a small Christian Science church, with a roof garden on top.

It is none of these. If you know what it is, even after you are told its name, you may stop right at the head of the class. Persons who know about the Volta bureau are not plentiful enough to get in your way. The story of the Volta bureau is interesting. The beginning of it lies back in Italy more than 150 years ago, when Alessandro Volta, who was to make a study of electricity, was born. Later Napoleon had a great opinion of the Italian scientist and established the Volta prize.

This prize, a great reward for inventions or discoveries, is not conferred at regular intervals. In fact, it has been given only three or four times. In 1880 it was voted to Dr. Alexander Graham Bell in recognition of his service to the world in producing the telephone.

The prize amounted to about $10,000. The original $10,000, through investments, became $100,000.

Part of this money was used for that building of baffling aspect in Georgetown. Part of the structure really is a library and absolutely unique at that. At the rear of the building, which is fireproof, the steel book stacks contain thousands of books, periodicals and pamphlets, forming the most remarkable collection of statistics in regard to the deaf that exists anywhere in the world.

Dr. Bell has the best reasons for being interested in the deaf. His own wife was what used to be called a deaf mute, though it is no longer an accurate term. Mrs. Bell has been taught to speak, and as she is an accomplished lip reader many persons have met and talked with her without discovering her deafness.

It was Dr. Bell himself who taught her to speak. His father, Alexander Melville Bell, invented the system known as visible speech, and sent his son from Scotland to this country to introduce the method in schools for the deaf here.

Among the young man's pupils was a daughter of Gardiner G. Hubbard. Her teacher fell in love with her, and she became the wife of the inventor. The Volta bureau corresponds with almost every civilized country in the world. Mrs. Bell has been taught to speak, and as she is an accomplished lip reader many persons have met and talked with her without discovering her deafness.

His aid is sought by various governments.

AMERICAN CROSS OF HONOR.

Distinguished Personages Decorated by Order Recently Established.

Thomas H. Heardon is entitled to a niche in the hall of fame of the near great. Mr. Heardon, who is a clerk in the land office at Washington, receiving an annual compensation of $1,000, has recently bestowed upon King Edward VII. of Great Britain the grand cross of the American Cross of Honor, and has received his majesty's thanks for the distinction. Similar testimonials have been made upon the German emperor, King Leopold of Belgium, President McKinley, President Roosevelt and Andrew Carnegie. Each of the distinguished and worthy personages who have received decorations from Mr. Heardon have accepted with thanks either through their personal autograph letters or through their ambassadors or private secretaries.

The American Cross of Honor is an organization incorporated by act of congress several years ago. Only those persons who have received a life-saving medal from the United States government are eligible to active membership. The scheme of organizing such a society was conceived by Mr. Heardon, who has been its president from the start. Mr. Heardon is the sole directing spirit in the society which his untiring efforts brought into existence. He conducts all of its business and chooses the crowned heads who are to be made honorary members and have the grand cross of the order bestowed upon them.

Old Order Bars Typewriter.

Discovery has been made of a war department order, in effect, which bars the use of the typewriter. The order came into general use. It directed that the typewriter may not be employed in writing out sentences of general court martial. Since that time the typewriter has come into such general use that those who have occasion to compile the records of courts martial have overlooked the old order. Steps have been taken to revoke the order and to substitute therefor a circular authorizing the use of the typewriter in writing out the findings and sentences, provided that the judges advocate certify that the typewritten findings and sentences were correct.

Fine Painting of Gettysburg.

There is at present on exhibition in one of the rooms of the national house at Washington a magnificent painting of the Battle of Gettysburg, the work of James Walker, who painted the Battle of Chancellorsville, which is hung on the senate side of the capitol. The original sketches were made on the battlefield by the artist himself, and it required eight years to complete the painting. Noticeable in the foreground is a figure of General Bingham of Pennsylvania, the dean of the house of representatives.

MORE JAPANESE SNAPSHOTS

The Funny Things One Sees

in Smiling Round the World

By MARSHALL P. WILDER

(Copyright, by Joseph H. Bowles.)

While at the Imperial hotel, Tokio, we were permitted to witness a portion of a Japanese wedding, that is, the feast and reception. Like our Hebrew friends in America, the Japs now hire the parlors of a hotel, chiefly because their little doll houses are small. It was very funny; the women all in their embarrassed images, done up in their best kimonos and not saying a word, while the men, in stiff, badly-fitting European "store clothes," stood around in little groups and talked, looking like animated tailors' dummies.

One young man picked out a native air on the piano with one finger, while the children were the only ones who were at all happy, or didn't look as if they wished they hadn't come.

Says Mrs. Peace to Miss Sharp, a caller: "My husband and I never dispute before the children. When a quarrel seems imminent, we always send them out."

Miss Sharp: "Ah, I've often wondered why they're so much in the street?"

Hateful thing, wasn't she?

Japanese trains are small and slow, and seem not to think it necessary to have any brakes, or even to be allowed in every class, even in the sleeping cars.

The bedding is clean and sufficient, but there are no springs in the beds, absolutely no privacy, and one tiny window for the whole compartment, public opinion being usually divided as to whether it shall be opened or closed.

This reminds me of a story my friend, Col. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") used to tell. He said that once upon a time an Englishman had never been in the west before was his guest. They were riding through a Rock Mountain canyon one day, when suddenly a tremendous mass of wind came swooping down upon them, and actually carried the Englishman clear off the wagon seat. After he had been picked up, he combed the sand and gravel out of his whiskers and said:

"I say! I think you overdo ventilation in this bloomin' country!"

My berth was over the wheels, and together with a roadbed of which a coal railway in Pennsylvania would be ashamed, produced such jolts and bumps that my brain felt as though it had been through eggbeaters. The compartment was full, one occupant being a German army officer, who, beside being in full uniform, even to enormous must of wind came swooping down upon them, and actually carried the little available space a satchel, a large flat wicker hamper and a pack box. He also had a very industrious and far-reaching snore with him.

The third occupant being a traveling Catholic priest and, like the soldier, dier, a man of huge proportions, I was rather interested to know which of these was to occupy the berth over me, for it seemed a dainty sort of affair, and I took particular pains to see that it was well propped up.

I was rather relieved to find it was to be the soldier, for I consoled myself with the old adage that what the pen is mightier than the sword and decided it would be a worse calamity to have the church down on me than the army. Even if sleep with all these considerations had been possible, the frequent stops would have completely put it to flight, for the moment a train arrives at a station, matter what the time of night, the sellers of lunch boxes, hot milk, tea or tobacco begin to cry their wares, in tones that are like the wailing of lost souls, and for penetration and volume unequalled by anything in my experience.

The sellers of tea at the stations will give you a small teapot filled with hot tea, and a tiny cup, all for three sen, or a cent and a half in American money.

At the railroad stations during the war with Russia one was sure to see parties of wounded soldiers returning from the front; or those who were "cutting for the seat of war." These latter were always attended by a crowd of men and women, who waved small Japanese flags and gave a shout as the train moved away. This about as the train moved away. This about as the train moved away. This about as the train moved away.

I have spoken somewhat of the external attitude of these people. Of their interior attitude of heart and mind much more might be said, especially in regard to their late war with Russia, which was going on at the time of my visit. This was something they would not talk about. Any mention of the subject was met with an adroit change of the conversation into other channels; but intense patriotism, the most supreme confidence in their ultimate success reigned in every heart. Examples of the most heroic self-sacrifice were not lacking. A Japanese mother had given her three sons to the war. The first was reported slain. She smiled and said, "It is well, I am happy." The second lay dead upon the field. She smiled again and said, "I am still happy." The third gave up his life, and she said to her: "At last you weep!" "Yes!" she said, "but it is because I have no more sons to give to my beloved country!"

Now, this is all very beautiful, but as my mission in life is laughter instead of tears, I want to say that it reminds me of a little story of our country and our war—the war of the great rebellion. When, in answer to the call for troops, the blood of our noble volunteers had been poured out upon southern fields for three long years, there arose a class of men called "bounty jumpers" who, acting as substitutes for drafted men, and taking a large sum of money for the job, sometimes "jumped the bounty" and disappeared instead of going to the front to serve Uncle Sam. These men were subjected to a medical examination which, in the hands of unscrupulous physicians (who received a large fee if the boys "passed"), was not always as rigorous as it should be. A doctor who was coming out of the examining room with a very sour face was greeted by a friend with a "Hello Doc! What's the matter? Didn't you pass your man?"

"Pass nothing!"

"Why, he looked all right!"

"All right! Why he was sound as a nut, but the colonel of the regiment suggested we stand him up on a high table and make him jump to the floor, and, by Jove! if his confounded glass eye didn't fall out and spoil the whole business!"

The working class still cling to the ancient costume and methods. To-day ladders are made of bamboo, the rungs lashed fast with rope, as they have been made for generations. The streets are watered with little carts having a row of holes at the back, and pulled by men, who fill them slowly and laboriously one bucket at a time, while the sidewalks are watered by two perforated buckets, suspended from a bamboo pole laid across the shoulders of a man, who trots in and out between the people, turning and twisting until the walk is thoroughly sprinkled.

Everything seems to be done the hardest way, and those who work, work very hard. The few men who have a horse drive never sit and drive, but stand and guide the horse, always walk ahead, dragging the patient brute along. Loads are more frequently carried on hand-carts, pulled by laden, weary men, going up a hill three or four men will pull or push, intoning a sort of droning song as they work.

In the country districts life is in its most primitive and unrefined aspects may be seen. In the rice fields men and women work side by side, their ankles bleeding from contact with the stubble, wading through a pattern as old as the cultivation of the grain.

The evolution of the new Japan from the chrysalis of the old is an interesting study just now. All signs are toward the springing up of a new country, full-fledged, ready to spread its bright wings and fly away from the old, that "has wrapped it close for many centuries; but the time is not yet.

WORKS FOR CIVIC PRIDE.

Excellent Scheme Devised by Merchants of Western City.

A new scheme for arousing local pride is being worked in an enterprising western city. The plan in brief, instead of attempting to vitalize the civic spirit of the whole community, to organize clubs in different localities and to clean up and light up certain sections without regard to what may be done elsewhere. For instance, a club is organized in a single block, and merchants on each side of the street are persuaded to join. If it is desired to make the block brilliant with light at night an investigation is had to see how it can be done, how much it will cost, and if it is worth. The plan has worked so successfully that organizations are springing up all over the same city to devote their attention to cleaning or lighting a certain restricted territory. It is much easier to secure co-operation between 20 merchants than between 500, and the influence of the few is more in widening circle.

LANGUID AND WEAK.

A Condition Common with Kidney Trouble and Backache.

Mrs. Marie Blyde, 416 Miller St., Helena, Mont., says: "Three years ago my back grew weak and lame and I could not stoop without a sharp pain. It was just as bad when I tried to get up from a chair. I was languid and listless and had much pain and trouble with the kidney sections. This was my state when I began with Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me from the back and my back was a complete, lasting cure."

PRESERVED CUTICURA

After Other Treatment Failed—Raw Eczema on Baby's Face Had Lasted Three Months—At Last Doctor Found Cure.

"Our baby boy broke out with eczema on his face when one month old. One place on the side of his face the size of a nickel was raw like beefsteak for three months, and he would cry out when I bathed the parts that were sore and broken out. I gave him three months' treatment from a good doctor, but at the end of that time the eczema was no better. Then my doctor recommended Cuticura. After using a cake of Cuticura Soap, a third of a box of Cuticura Ointment, and half a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent he was well and as fat and as smooth as my baby's. He is now two years and a half old and no eczema has reappeared. Mrs. M. L. Harris, Alton, Kan., May 14 and June 12, 1907."

The Spring Opening.

The dance on the feet of birds and wire in the millinery department was marked $15.

The circle of shoppers gazed in envy but not one dared to touch the goods.

Suddenly the clerk reversed the card and displayed the figures $14.99.

Then there was a small riot. Shoppers fought like amazons to reach the counter.

"Ah," laughed the tall floorwalker, "those ladies remind me of olden knights."

"In what way?" asked the meek man who was waiting for his wife to emerge from the crush.

"Why, they fight at the drop of a hat."

And before the meek man could appreciate the point of the joke his wife came out minus a comb and two locks of hair.

"Where have you been this evening?" asked O'Riley of O'Toole.

"Sure, I have been playing 'Bridget Whist'!" said O'Toole.

BARRINGTON REVIEW

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Barrington, Illinois.
M. T. Lamey, Editor and Publisher

FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1908

"Jollying."
Not a little surprise is expressed throughout the country over the sudden growth here of certain forms of optimism. The long neglected and even derided mind cure is being taken seriously by those who at one time insisted upon a basis of fact for every important action. However, the principle has been in use for generations under another name perhaps, for every child has been lectured on the power of the will in overcoming difficulties. Of course there should be a pair of hands behind the will, and that is where the most fascinating of the up to date theories about how to be well and successful and happy bring up in the end.

The suddenness of the conversion of Americans to the notion of "jollying" themselves, if conversion it really is, may perhaps be accounted for in the changed conditions of life. The early Americans had to fight their daily battles, such as cutting down the forest and driving out Indians, wolves and bears by main force. Their difficult lives could not be "fished" away. And the virtue of patience wouldn't set things right then so often as it will to day. Just now progress is often made by simply marking time and waiting for some force which we may not be able to locate, but are convinced is in active operation somewhere and some how to right things. Something of the nature of the pious grandmother's boundless faith takes root in these thirty and forty years old at the period of sharp disillusionment. Even when it is extravagant, it is better than all sense of all faith, for it keeps things moving, and eventually all matters, health, business, love, politics, the weather and the crops, adjust themselves. After all, "the world is what we make it," and is well for the individual to insist that his little corner of it is joggling a long to suit him.

The Handy Telephone.

Of all the inventions of the last century the telephone added more to the present convenience of man than perhaps any other. Americans certainly do their share toward making this claim good, since an average of seventy-five talks for every man, woman and child in this country was the telephone record of last year. This is an amazing record.

Europe shows nothing approaching it. Of course there must be millions of adults even who know nothing of talking with some one at the end of a wire all the way from 100 rods to 500 miles distant.

And in fact the most expert users of the phone are bound to admit when they stop to think of it that this actual transmission of tones of voice in clear enunciation is a wonder. And it is a mystery. It is a source of wonder, a savior of steps, a savior of anxiety and an economy of expense that is beyond computation. The only way to measure its value as a blessing is to imagine what life would be to those accidentally cut off to the wires should suddenly cease to obey man's will.

Drinking in England.

A century ago drunkenness was a prevalent vice among all classes in England. So little was thought of it that William Pitt could appear in the house of commons in a state of heavy intoxication while prime minister with out provoking any unfavorable remark.

"Today our upper and middle classes are as sober as any people in the world," says Henry Labouchere in London Truth. "How has this change been brought about? Certainly not by acts of parliament or compulsory restrictions of any kind upon the consumption of liquor. I suppose it is due to the progress of education and refinement, and a better understanding of the poisonous effects of alcohol and the formation of a more wholesome public opinion in consequence." As a matter of fact, the same influences have been working with good and increasing effect in the lower stratum of society for twenty years or more past.

Another English lady novelist has come over to visit us. We are too glad as a nation to "put her on the list," on the ground that "she never will be missed," or even to object to her writing a novel on American life and character after studying it for a week or so. Like the big man whose little wife beat him, it can't hurt us and it may amuse her.

The immigration record for January and February this year was about one-third of the figures for the same months in 1905, 1906 and 1907. Evidently the aliens who went home last fall are not in a hurry to come back.

The latest thing is an automatic machine that licks stamps, but what is really needed is one that will lick the "other fellow" and spare our kindness.

Crooked Police.
It is most discouraging to have the police of a great business center caught in the act of playing in with criminals, as they were recently by the New York World's reporters. There is a general movement now throughout the country to lessen crime. Crime is being new, but the presence of a body of partially civilized and irresponsible aliens increases the danger that society may become crime ridden. It has been known to all intents and purposes that the police of New York as well as other cities have been in league with law breakers and divided the spoils. It is, however, usually a matter of proof only after the fact. One or two caught red handed casts a blot on the whole force. If the officers of the law are crooked, what security is there for society?

A suggestion of state police to be above the local police is natural when exposure of local police grafting is made. But a state police is only a step toward a national police such as has been tried in France. Napoleon used the chief of the national police for his own personal ends, and it transpired at length that the tool of the emperor was an adept at looking out for himself. Like his master, he abused the power placed in his hands. With crookedness at the top it must be expected that there will be crookedness down to the lowest rank. Crime should be made so precarious by heavy penalties that it will not pay to buy up the police. Unfortunately, the victim in gambling, the crime exposed in New York, are to a certain extent partners in the crime. Seldom do they turn against the chief criminals. Every honest man should be vigilant both as a detective and as a witness to bring crime home to the evildoer and not be squeamish about inflicting punishment to fit it.

Korean Wrath.

American sympathy has been out to oppressed people, and while the dual menace of Japan over the Koreans may be excused on the grounds of general policy, the situation is not liked here. If some of the Korean patriots had shown fight in Seoul a year or more ago when the Japanese threatened their nationality, the recent attempt on the life of an American alleged to have had a hand in the despoliation would seem more consistent. This attempt, however, is a reminder that Korean national spirit is not dead.

Japan has the Hermit Kingdom of the Korean peninsula under complete mastery by force and also seems to be gaining in moral power. Advice from there say that the masses are better off and liberty and power more secure than under native rule. In that case the feelings of a few pathetic patriots or rabid fanatics, as the case may be, is of small moment. A happy people may grow in strength. Perhaps the national spirit will thrive under oppressor's rule even and have to be reckoned with in the future. The Koreans have always been considered a slothful people. After casting off their bonds of dark under Japanese tutelage they may hark back to the times when their nation was self ruled and strike a telling blow for their ancient rights. Even Japan was once weak and despised. Her energies were aroused by friction from the outside. Unwittingly she may now be doing for Korea a service like that this country rendered the benighted land of the shoguns fifty years ago.

Japan only owes a balance of $400,000,000 to the owners of the railroads of the country which Japan took over and is troubled in consequence of the indebtedness with added trouble. It is growing worse each year. The sum of $400,000,000 is a large sum. The indebtedness not only troubles Japan, but prevents her from construction of other railways necessary to the development of the empire.

The color issue has turned up in Berlin. Recently a black noncommissioned officer was promoted over the heads of white men, and while the excitement over this was at its height a German Summer arose in parliament to declare that the negroes of darkest Africa, even the Heeroos, who the German troops are treating like beasts, have "immortal souls."

The unemployed in the cities are clamoring for work. The farmers in the country are pleading for laborers. Why should this demand and this supply continue to travel on parallel lines when connections ought to be so easy?

With Police Commissioner Hingham using civilian spies in New York to trap grafters on the force, it looks to be only a question of time when either the commissioner or the department which he falls to control will have to go.

The actor who recently quit the stage for the pulpit will now have a chance to tell the dramatic critics what they should do to be saved.

That trust company failure in Denmark verifies Hamlet's opinion that things now and then get "rotten in the state of Denmark."

The favorite sun is the one that shines all day now.

BOMB FOR OFFICERS

UNION SQUARE, NEW YORK, IS SCENE OF "RED" OUTRAGE.

ASSASSINS SUFFER MOST

Man About to Throw Explosive Is Multitasked and Companion Is Killed—Four Policemen Wounded.

New York.—The Haymarket tragedy of Chicago was almost reenacted in Union square Saturday when an anarchist who graduated from the ranks of socialism attempted to hurl a bomb into Capt. Reilly's squad of policemen.

The bomb exploded in the hands of the assassin, who was probably mortally wounded. A companion of the anarchist was killed instantly, four policemen were wounded, and scores of persons near by were struck by flying fragments of the bomb.

The outrage followed the breaking up by the police of a mass meeting of socialists, many of whom carried red flags.

Bomb Thrower Confesses.
The man who held the bomb and who was about to hurl it at the squad of policemen when it exploded had his right hand blown off just above the wrist and both of his eyes were injured.

Despite his terrible injuries he was occasionally conscious during the afternoon and evening and told the police and the coroner, who took his ante-mortem statement, that he had intended to throw the bomb at the police.

He also said that he had been beaten by a policeman over on the east side about a week ago when he was trying to make a speech and he wanted to get revenge.

"Ordered to Kill."
Later he added: "I was told to do this. I bought the nitroglycerin for the bomb at a drug store at Clark street and Broadway, Brooklyn. I made the bomb myself from a piece of gaspipe."

"I have a wife and two children in Russia. I have been in the States two years. My nearest relative is named Cohen and lives at 21 Park street, Brooklyn. I worked for a tailor named Goldstein, near Broadway street, near Broome street (Manhattan)."

The bomb thrower said his name was Selig Silverstein, that he lived at 82 Avenue, Brooklyn.

Berkman Foils Police.
New York.—Efforts of the police to connect Selig Silverstein, the Union square bomb-thrower, with the group of anarchists have been successful, but thus far they have been unable to prove that he had committed the act of Saturday was prompted in any way by these associates. These developments occurred Monday after the arrest of Alexander Berkman, the anarchist leader and companion of Emma Goldman, who served 12½ years in prison for shooting Henry C. Prick, the Pittsburgh capitalist.

The detectives claimed, when Berkman was arraigned in court, that Silverstein held a card of membership in the anarchists' federated union, of which Berkman is treasurer, and that card was signed by Berkman, but their attempt to show that Berkman knew Silverstein or that he and his friends in any direct way incited the bomb-throwing, was for the time futile.

The police asked Magistrate Droege, before whom Berkman was arraigned, to hold the anarchist for 48 hours as a suspicious person, but in the absence of any definite charge, the magistrate refused their request. He carried Berkman on his own recognizance, the latter promising to appear whenever wanted.

Silverstein Likely to Recover.
Selig Silverstein, the bomb-thrower, though said to be a sufferer from organic disease of the heart, is likely to survive the terrible injuries he suffered in the explosion. The physicians in attendance announced Monday that a piece of the bomb he threw has been extracted from near his right ear cavity. It passed through his right ear and lodged in his skull, directly back a policeman, one of the men Silverstein sought to kill, who is responsible for the fact that Silverstein is still alive. This man immediately after the explosion, applied a tourniquet to the stump of Silverstein's mangled arm and thus prevented him bleeding to death. If Silverstein recovers he will be placed on trial for murder in the first degree for killing Ignatz Hildebrand, who, it now appears, was an innocent bystander attracted to Union square only for curiosity.

Gen. Horne Acquitted.
Kansas City, Mo.—Gen. R. C. Horne was acquitted of the charge of murdering H. J. Groves, manager of the Kansas City Post, by a jury in the criminal court here Thursday night. The verdict stated that Gen. Horne was insane when he shot Groves and has not fully recovered, and commits him to an asylum.

Bank of Commerce Recovers.
Kansas City, Mo.—Its credit restored, with $6,000,000 in cash and exchange with which to pay a deposit account of twelve millions, and with financiers of national prominence in charge, the National Bank of Commerce of this city reopened Monday.

Col. M. S. Langhorne Is Dead.
Lynchburg, Va.—Col. Maurice S. Langhorne, aged 48, who commanded the Eleventh Virginia regiment during the civil war, died Saturday after an illness of some weeks.

KAISER RECALLS ALL EXPRESSIONS OF DISAPPROVAL.

Causes President Roosevelt to Be So Informed—Statement from the Berlin Foreign Office.

Berlin.—Emperor William, having been fully apprised as to the attitude of President Roosevelt and the feeling of the American public in regard to the alleged refusal of his majesty to receive Dr. Hill as ambassador to Germany in succession to Charlesmann Tower, has recalled all the expressions of disapproval he recently sent to President Roosevelt and would be pleased to receive Dr. Hill as ambassador.

The emperor has caused this view to be communicated to President Roosevelt.

The German foreign office has sent to the Associated Press the following official declaration on the subject: "The notice which I have appeared hitherto in the foreign press in regard to the Hill affair have originated from the Kaiser."

$18 AN ACRE REALIZED ON CROP IN WESTERN CANADA.

ANOTHER FARMER REALIZED $22.50 PER ACRE FROM HIS WHEAT CROP LAST YEAR.

Charles McCormick of Kenilworth, Manitoba, writes: "During the season of 1907, I had 100 acres in crop on the S. W. quarter of section 16, township 35, range 37 west of the Principal Meridian, Western Canada, yielded as follows: "40 acres at 22 bushels per acre, which I sold for 90 cents per bushel; and 20 acres at 22 bushels per acre I sold for 35 cents per bushel so that my total crop realized $2,004.00. From this I deducted for expenses of threshing, hired help, etc., $400.00, leaving me a net profit on this year's crop of over $1,600."

"The value of my crop per acre of wheat is $22.50. I threshed 1,750 bushels of wheat from 70 acres, and was offered 90 cents a bushel for it. Also, 15 acres, 600 bushels; and barley, 6 acres, 80 bushels. I do not know if I have been doing double subsequently arose as to whether Mr. Hill would feel himself comfortable in the post of American ambassador to Berlin, but these doubts have been removed, so that nothing stands in the way of Mr. Hill's nomination to the Berlin embassy, and he will be welcome in Berlin now, as he would have been before, or as any other unobjectionable representative would be who should be named by President Roosevelt.

"It is to be stated emphatically that throughout the whole incident the ambassador, Mr. Tower, has not swerved for one instant from the straight line of absolutely loyal and honorable conduct, both toward his own government and the Imperial German government."

500 MAY BE DEAD IN QUAKE.
Two Cities and Three Towns Are Completely Destroyed.

City of Mexico.—Two cities and three villages completely destroyed, and a large number of villages and towns badly damaged is the result of the earthquake throughout the Mexican republic. The cities destroyed are Chilpancingo and Chilpancingo. The villages are Concepcion, Tetillita and Coatepec, each having a population of 1,000. Chilpancingo has a population of about 12,000, while Chilpancingo has 8,000. The greater part of Chilpancingo was destroyed.

Estimates of the dead vary. It is known that between 200 and 300 persons lost their lives in Chilpancingo. At Chilpancingo reports say only a few lives were lost and that aid has been sent from there to Chilpancingo.

In the villages so far as heard from Saturday there are only a few scattered dead. It is believed, however, that the death list will not exceed 500 throughout the republic. It may be more, and it may prove less.

The news was brought to Chilpancingo by a runner. Government reports are minimizing, in so far as possible, news of the disaster.

Tokyo.—The Official Gazette announced that on April 30 payment will be made of 20,000,000 yen (about $10,000,000) as the first installment of the redemptions of the 100,000,000 yen national loan. This loan matures next December.

Old-Time Ball Player Dies.

Falling Walls Kill Two Boys.

Promoting German Sculpture.
Emperor William has received Prof. Schott, the well-known sculptor, who with Prof. Rheinhold Begas, also a sculptor, is actively engaged in promoting an exhibition of German sculpture in New York. The emperor gave his approval of the exhibit, for which statutory worth $750,000 has already been pledged.

AN INTERESTING CHEMICAL EXPERIMENT

Any Child Can Do It—The Result is Almost Like Magic—Useful, Too.

Anything in the nature of a chemical experiment is always interesting and usually educative. Here is a simple experiment which any child can perform and which is instructive in a very practical way.

Lead about the size of a pea, a piece of charcoal, a common candle in a candlestick, and a blow-pipe. Scoop up a little hollow in the charcoal to hold the White Lead, then light the candle, take the charcoal and lead in one hand and the blow-pipe in the other, with the large end of the blow-pipe between the lips; blow the flame of the candle steadily against the bit of White Lead on the charcoal and if the White Lead is pure it will presently resolve itself into little shining globules of metallic lead, under the intense heat of the blow-pipe, leaving no residue.

If, however, the White Lead is adulterated in the slightest degree, it will not wholly change into lead. So, it will be seen, that this experiment is not only an entertaining chemical demonstration, but also of practical use in the home. White Lead is the most important ingredient of paint. It should be bought pure and unadulterated and mixed with pure linseed oil. That is the best paint. The above experiment enables any one to know whether the paint is the kind which will wear or not.

The National Lead Company guarantees that white lead taken from a package bearing their "Dutch Boy" trademark will prove absolutely pure and unadulterated, and to encourage people to make the test and prove the purity of paint before using it, they will send free a booklet containing a valuable booklet on paint to anyone writing them asking for Test Equipment. Address: National Lead Company, Woodbridge Building, New York City.

Both in Same Plight.
"My friends dragged me into this wretched affair," shivering said the first duelist to his adversary, as the seconds approached with the deadly weapons. "I never pulled the trigger of a pistol in my life, so, if I hit you it will be an accident!"

"Nor is this awful due to my blundering," whined the challenger, white to the lips. "Like you, a pistol is an article to my hands, and if I shoot you it will be with a stray shot!"

"Then, for heaven's sake," exclaimed the first duelist, with a ray of hope, "let's aim carefully at each other, or we may as well get hit!"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Laid the Fault on Fate.
A man came before the great be-stower and pleaded that he might have a flower for his own. His request was granted. Day by day he sat and watched it tendry, glorying in its development. He dreamed of nothing else. He worshipped it.
Then it died. He had forgotten to water it.
And the man cursed a blind and prejudiced fate.—Westminster Gazette.

Irving's Distrust.
In her memoirs Ellen Terry says of Henry Irving: "Stoker and Llewellyn were daily—nay, hourly—associated for many years with Irving; but, after all, did they or any one else really know him? And what was Henry Irving's attitude? I believe, myself, that he never wholly trusted his friends and never admitted them to his intimacy, although they thought he did, which was the same thing to them."
