"And one day shall be unto you for a memorial."—Ezekiel xii, 14.

The day that is meant for silence, the day that is not spent
To show all the love and honor that thrub
In the nation's breast,
To show that we still hold sacred their hopes, and their faith and trust,
By placing the tender tribute of respect above their dust.

The day that is meant for quiet, except that the muffled drum
Shall thrub on the whispering wind that tells when the marchers' come, Except that the soft-voiced bugle shall sing of the growing grief.

In the ranks of the living comrades that lullaby low of "Taps."

The day that is meant for silence, a day
that is meant for thought,
The flag at a sign and symbol of all that
these dead have wrought,
And roses and wean-like, a drip with the
dews of dawn,
To gleam in the silent places where slumber
the soldiers' bones.

This day—it is meant for stillness, for still ness on land or sea,
For hushes on hill, in valley—wherever
their places lie,
For some rest below the billows and some
sleep beneath the sod,
But all have a country's honor, and all have the peace of God.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS
CONGRASSMEN CLARK AND FOSH

ALDRICH LAW.

MISSOURI MAN SCORES TARIFF

Washington.—What is regarded as the Democratic keynote speech of the session, delivered by Representative Clark of Missouri, Democratic leader of the tariff, was the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill as a "transparent humbug," attacked the tariff views of Representative Payne and vigorously assailed the tariff bill for the support of that law.

Mr. Clark had prepared his address with great care but spoke at length, giving facts and figures in support of his contention that the tariff had not been honestly revised and that the Republican majority had not been able to do so.

Representative Fosh, the newly elected Democratic Representative from Massachusetts, also made a radical speech, attacking the tariff bill.

Mr. Fosh demanded the Republican policy of protection as an unmitigated evil, saying the protection of the tariff to be a "deliberate humbug" and that the tariff bill was a "transparent humbug."

ARE SAVED THROUGH PAVEY
ENGINEER AND PILOT.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—The excursion steamer John B. Clark which was on the night of Grand evening, and sank, 22 of them women, had narrow escape from death.

Their lives were saved by the heroism of Roy Taylor, the engineer, and W. L. Thompson, pilot of the boat. When the boat had nearly a hole in the stern of the boat and she began to sink, the engineer put on full speed and the pilot landed her on the shore, while the passengers, panic-stricken, ran screaming from one side of the deck to the other.

Within ten feet of the shore the boat sank to the bottom and tipped over, but her decks were at an angle of 45 degrees. All the lower deck was under water.

People ran to the river bank from all directions; planks were carried and thrown out to the boat forming a bridge ten feet long, and over this the passengers were saved.

Had the boat sunk one minute sooner the passengers would have been in the deep channel of the river and their lives would have been lost.

Mr. Taylor and Mr. Thompson were both saved, but the boat sank to the bottom and tipped over, but her decks were at an angle of 45 degrees. All the lower deck was under water.

ALDRICH LAW.

MISSOURI MAN SCORES TARIFF

Washington.—What is regarded as the Democratic keynote speech of the session, delivered by Representative Clark of Missouri, Democratic leader of the tariff, was the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill as a "transparent humbug," attacked the tariff views of Representative Payne and vigorously assailed the tariff bill for the support of that law.

Mr. Clark had prepared his address with great care but spoke at length, giving facts and figures in support of his contention that the tariff had not been honestly revised and that the Republican majority had not been able to do so.

Representative Fosh, the newly elected Democratic Representative from Massachusetts, also made a radical speech, attacking the tariff bill.

Mr. Fosh demanded the Republican policy of protection as an unmitigated evil, saying the protection of the tariff to be a "deliberate humbug" and that the tariff bill was a "transparent humbug."

HIBBARD'S VEST-BAND- WRAPPER

Patented Jan. 14, 1909

An infant's shirt made double the front, open in the back, two folds one hanging over the other, making the garment double front and back, and capable of being worn in two ways,
thus insuring your child
from all climate changes.

Practically every baby in the land wears the Hibbard's Vest-Band Wrapper, and the reason is that the prices are lower than any other in the garment in the market. Do not accept any other style, as there is no other garment so good as this.

These garments are made in sizes to fit, and are available from birth to 24 years.
In ordering always give the age of the child.
