VILLAGE REMAINS DRY

Local Option Question Carried For the Third Time—Majority Reduced—Robertson Defeats Lagaschulte By One Vote.

The largest vote ever cast at a village election in Barrington was polled Tuesday. The local option question and the contest between Walter Lagaschulte, nominee on the regular ticket for village clerk and Joseph D. Robertson, who was a candidate for the same office by petition, brought out the large vote.

To accommodate voters obliged to leave for their work on early morning trains the polls were opened shortly after six o'clock and before seven more than 100 votes had been cast. At noon two-thirds of the total vote was in.

Some scratching was done early in the day for A. W. Sutherland for village trustee against Edward T. Martin. At the close of the polls at five o'clock 383 votes were cast.

On the proposition "Shall this village continue to be an anti-saloon territory" there were 210 votes "yes" and 159 "no". Fourteen voters failed to vote on the question.

The total vote cast in 1910, the last time the local option question was an issue, was 398 of which number 215 were "dry" and 183 "wet". Only two ballots were cast not voting on the proposition. The "dry" majority was reduced this year by 13 votes. This is the third time the question has been submitted. The first time it was carried by 18 votes.

The contest between Lagaschulte and Robertson for village clerk was so close that the judges found it necessary to recount the ballots and on the completion of their work found that Robertson had won by one vote only. The vote in detail was as follows:

For Village Trustee
John C. Plagge 202
Herman Schwamm 251
Edward T. Martin 191

For Village Clerk
Walter Lagaschulte 183
Joseph D. Robertson 194

A. W. Sutherland received 49 votes for village trustee and Charles Lagaschulte and Walter Lagaschulte each one vote for the same office.

THE TITANIC WHEN SHE LEFT PORT

SURVIVORS OF TITANIC WRECK NUMBER 868

Officials of the White Star Company Admit That 1,232 Persons Went Down With World's Largest Vessel.

COLLIDED WITH ICEBERG

First Steamer to Reach Scene of Atlantic Disaster Could Only Pick Up Survivors, Mostly Women and Children. Who Were Boats Placed in the Water—Widely Known Persons on Board—Loss on Ship and Cargo Will Total Between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, It Is Assorted.

New York, April 17.—These pinpoints of fact concerning the world's greatest steamship disaster—the sinking at 2:30 a. m. Monday of the great White Star liner Titanic, off the banks of Newfoundland—stand out prominently as sifted from the wireless reports.

Revised estimate of loss of life, 1,232 souls. The $10,000,000 steamship, with cargo and jewels worth perhaps $10,000,000, 900 more, a total loss.

No mention among the survivors of Col. John Jacob Astor, his bride, who was Miss Force of New York, has been saved. Mrs. Archibald Butt, President Taft's military aid, still is unaccounted for, as are many other persons of international importance. J. Bruce Ismay, president of the International Mercantile Marine, owners of the White Star line, is among the survivors, as is his wife, J. G. Widener, the Philadelphia traction magnate, is not accounted for.

Most of Rescued Are Women. The Titanic sank at 2:30 a. m. Monday, after striking an iceberg off the banks of Newfoundland. Of the 201 first cabin passengers there far accounted for 123 are women, 63 men and six children. Of the 116 second cabin passengers reported surviving 48 are women, 16 men and 10 children.

According to the last report from Captain Rostron of the Carpathia there are about 800 survivors of the Titanic on board, which would show that 432 had been saved whose names had not been sent in by wireless.

Earlier Messages Held Hope. The persons aboard the ill-fated vessel were divided up as follows: First cabin 318 Second cabin 300 Third cabin (steerage) 722 Crew 890

News of the sinking of the liner and the terrible loss of life in consequence came with all the greater shock because hope had been buoyed up by reports that the steamship, although badly damaged, was not in a sinking condition and that all its passengers had been safely taken off.

The messages were mostly unofficial, however, and none came direct from the liner, so that a lurking fear remained of possible bad news to come. Shortly after seven o'clock Monday night there came a dispatch over the wires from Cape Race, within 400 miles of which the liner had struck the iceberg, word that at 2:30 o'clock Monday morning, three hours and fifty-five minutes after receiving its death blow, the Titanic had sunk.

Carpathia Comes Too Late. The news came from the steamer Carpathia, relayed by the White Star liner Olympic, and revealed that by the time the Carpathia, outward bound from New York and racing for the Titanic on a wireless call, had reached the scene the doomed vessel had sunk.

Left on the surface, however, were lifeboats from the Titanic, and in them—as appears in meager reports received up to a late hour—were some 675 survivors of the disaster. These, according to the advice, the Carpathia picked up and is now on its way with them to New York. A significant line in the Cape Race dispatch was the announcement that of those saved by the Carpathia nearly all were women and children. Should it prove that no other vessel picked up any passengers of the sinking liner, this might mean that few of the men on board had been saved as the pro-

THOSE SAVED FROM THE SEA

Wireless Sends Glad News With List of First Cabin Passengers Who Were Rescued.

Cape Race, N. F., April 17.—The steamer Carpathia, which is believed to have on board most of the survivors of the Titanic disaster, sent by wireless to this station the list of the survivors. The receipt of the list of the first cabin survivors required nearly six hours' stoppage. So far as the names check up correctly, the following saloon passengers of the Titanic are safe on board the Carpathia:

WHAT WILL CURE MY BACK?

Common sense will do more to cure backache than anything else. 'Twill tell you whether the kidneys are sore, swollen and aching. It will tell you in that case that there is no use trying to cure it with a plaster. If the passages are scant or too frequent, proof that there is kidney trouble is complete. Then common sense will tell you to use Doan's Kidney Pills, the best recommended special kidney medicine.

A TYPICAL CASE.
Edward Puchner, 1833 Cleveland Ave., Chicago, Ill., says: "My eyes were puffed from drowsy and my hands and feet terribly swollen. For three months I was completely laid up. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the swollen back pains, stopped the swelling, and made me feel one hundred per cent better."

COFFEE HURTS
One in Three.

It is difficult to make people believe that coffee is a poison to at least one person out of every three, but people are slowly finding it out, although thousands of them suffer terribly before they discover the fact.

A New York hotel man says: "Each time after drinking coffee I become restless, nervous and excited, so that I was unable to sit five minutes in one place, was also inclined to vomit and suffer from loss of sleep, which got worse and worse."

"A lady said that perhaps coffee was the cause of my trouble, and suggested that I try Postum. I laughed at the thought that coffee hurt me, but she insisted so hard that I finally had some Postum made. I have been using it in place of coffee ever since, for I noticed that all my former nervousness and irritation disappeared. I began to sleep perfectly, and the Postum tasted as good or better than the old coffee, so what was the use of sticking to a beverage that was injuring me?"

"One day on an excursion up the country I remarked to a young lady friend on her greatly improved appearance. She explained that some time before she had quit using coffee and taken Postum. She had gained a number of pounds and her former pitting of the heart, humming in the ears, trembling of the hands and legs and other disagreeable feelings had disappeared. She recommended me to quit coffee and take Postum and was very much surprised to find that I had already made the change."

"She said her brother had also recovered great benefits from leaving off coffee and taking on Postum." "There's a reason."

Never read the above letter? A lady writes: "I have been suffering from nervousness, headache, and loss of sleep for some time, and I have been told that coffee was the cause of my trouble. I have been using Postum for some time, and I feel much better now. I have gained weight and my sleep is much better. I have also noticed that my digestion is much improved. I have been told that Postum is a good substitute for coffee, and I have found it to be true. I have been using Postum for some time, and I feel much better now. STATE'S LEGAL GUIDE

Attorney General So Regarded by Officials and Public.

Hundreds of Quaries Are Irrelevant to His Duties but Serious Problems Keep Great Office Busy.

"Is this the place where you get legal opinions?" asked a raw-boned fellow, as he stepped into the attorney general's office. He found he was on the right track. "You mean Kansas," he replied. "I want to know whether I can marry my girl who lives in your state." The question would have caused a smile had he not at once revealed the tragedy in his life when he exclaimed: "You know, she is in one of your insane asylums, and I don't know how to get her."

All Go There for Help.

The attorney general's department is the department of opinions. To it all manner of appeals are directed for help and sympathy. This man's duties were so different from those of hundreds, perhaps thousands, of others.

These furnish the high lights in a day of serious study of big problems that affect the administration of country and vital points.

Stead Has More Than His Share.

Attorney General Stead has had more than his share of these big questions, but evidently made them congenial, because he has asked to be re-nominated.

Upon what he says is the law, public officers proceed until such time as the courts may decide to the contrary, which, during his term of office, has been infrequent.

Clears Stead's Law of Doubts.

Among his first big opinions, Mr. Stead explained to the general assembly the system of counting ballots cast in cumulative voting for member of the house. His conclusions adopted by the assembly solved a number of contested election cases pending before it. These contests, together with Mr. Stead's opinion, furnished the basis for amendments to the Australian ballot law relating to the counting of ballots cast for legislative candidates.

Constitutional Questions.

One of the first important constitutional questions submitted to him was found in a new law purporting to validate certain county tax levies which had been declared invalid by the supreme court.

Mr. Stead contended that the new law was valid. The supreme court held with Mr. Stead.

An important constitutional question arose out of an act of 1905, extending the jurisdiction of the probate court to include the supervision of testamentary executors.

Mr. Stead held this act to be invalid because the constitution defines the jurisdiction of this court and the legislature had not extended it. The supreme court upheld this view.

The Illinois Central Case.

Mr. Stead rendered a number of opinions in 1906 and 1907 relating to the contract between the state and the Illinois Central railroad company. These were forerunners to the great suit for an accounting by the company of its passenger railroads with the state, a case in which the attorney general has since been satisfied by the supreme court.

The act of 1905 requiring election judges to be appointed in each precinct in accordance with the vote of the last election for governor was attacked on constitutional grounds. Mr. Stead said it was valid and facilitated suit against members of the county to compel compliance. He was signal successful in the supreme court and since then county boards have obeyed this law.

Amendments to Revenue Law.

The amendments to the revenue law of 1905, seeking to exempt from capital stock assessment, the capital of manufacturing and mining corporations, were held by him to be unconstitutional and the supreme court later upheld him.

An opinion which has created wide comment was that given to the governor upon the right of the Chicago Power and Light company to erect a dam at Dresden Heights across the Des Plaines river. General Stead's opinion was sustained by the state supreme court. Appeal from this decision has been taken by the state to the United States supreme court.

The Woman's Franchise Law.

Mr. Stead signed the woman's franchise amendment Nov. 20, originally passed, to be voted and some months later the supreme court affirmed that decision. Since then an amendment to the law, extending its scope, has been passed and court law of it is now pending with Mr. Stead defending the law.

An important series of opinions was rendered to the auditor relating to the acts of 1909, changing the basis of assessment from one-fifth to one-third of the fair cash value of property. They have since been affirmed by the supreme court.

Senate Asks for an Opinion.

The state senate recently asked him whether the state game department had a right to expend its funds without appropriation. General Stead replied that, in his opinion, fees collected by state agencies should be turned into the public treasury and such agencies supported entirely from specific appropriations by the assembly in the regular manner.

This opinion was vitiated in a law which has since been confirmed by the supreme court.

"Liked to Be Gulled."

Str William Gull, the well-known London physician, was once the victim of an amusing piece of repartee on the part of a fellow practitioner. The occasion was a dinner party at which several distinguished medical men were present. The conversation happened to turn upon the subject of quackery, and Str William Gull expressed his conviction that a certain amount of it was essential to success in practice, adding: "It is an example of the old saying, 'Populus vult decipi' (people like to be deceived)."

"Quite so," said the host; "now, can any one present give an English equivalent to that?" "Nothing easier," firmly remarked a well-known physician of one of the Manchester hospitals. "The public liked to be gulled."

Facility of Typhoons.

Typhoons increase their strength as they go north and consequently there may be quite a difference between the power of one in the southern end of the West Indian islands as compared with one in the north. It is this feature which makes the hurricanes of the West Indies more to be dreaded than the Pacific typhoons of this latitude.

Attitude of Great England.

The greatest general is he who knows when to retreat and dare to do it.

SHOULD BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY
Childish mind, Groping in Darkness, Is Craving for Information That Is Denied It.

Every trace of useful information is carefully concealed from the very young child. A rattle, or at most a rubber doll, is its only plaything. As it grows older it is very slowly and gradually introduced to the various forms of the animal kingdom. Of the mysteries of numbers and of language it has as yet no conception. Its constant questions are for the most part answered "humorously" and hence incorrectly, or they are not answered at all. This eternal "humor" is most galling of all. Why should a human infant be such an irresistible joke? The lower animals take their young seriously and train them from the start with a very definite purpose in view. Yet their possibilities are infinitesimal as compared with those of the average baby. And we sit calmly by and enjoy the "humor" of childhood and insist that the child is enjoying itself also, even though its little soul may be thirsting for information which is laughingly denied it. And we continue to put off the inevitable day when the child will have to take life seriously and hence, according to our tradition, sadly.

One important point which is quite overlooked by the upholders of the brainless child is the fact that nonsense and silliness are just as taxing to the infant mind as useful information would be. It requires no mental effort to realize that A is A than to grasp the extraordinary fact that a mass of brownish softness is a "fuzzy little Teddy bear, yes it is." In fact, the letter A has a distinct advantage. And at a more advanced age it is certainly less puzzling to be told that five and five make ten than to have one's own respectable pink toes described as a series of pigs going to market or entering into the various other activities of life.—Stimund Speech in Harper's Weekly.

Still in Excess of Diversion.

It is found by an Italian doctor that the excess of diversion in the lives of New York women is bound to bring upon them the miseries of neurasthenia. This disease has, according to the doctor, different ways of affecting itself with exhaustion, the pure fancies are dull and torpid and the American is merely overstimulated and tries to go faster and faster.

He Never Will Understand

Mrs. Bruce put down the letter in a flutter of excitement. Her face was flushed with pleasure and she sparkled with anticipation. She hurried to the telephone, but just as she laid her hand on the receiver she changed her mind.

"No, I'll have the fun of telling Dick face to face," she said to herself.

The thought of his surprise and delight quickened her feet on the stairs as she ran to her room to dress for the street. All the way downtown she pictured her husband's amazement and pleasure in the news she had for him. She determined to make him guess a few times before she told him.

It was with some difficulty that she modified the illumination of her beaming face as she entered her husband's office. He must not suspect at first that she was the bearer of such good tidings. As it happened, he was busy telephoning when she approached his desk and he merely nodded as she sank into a chair by his side. She had therefore plenty of time to compose her features. So it was with quite a successfully grave face that she greeted him when he finally ceased his telephonic conversation.

"Well, dear?" he began. At the same instant the telephone bell began also, and in another second he was deeply engrossed in a conversation that to Mrs. Bruce seemed to have lasted fully ten minutes.

"Dick, I came down to—" she said when at last he hung up the receiver. "Just a minute, Lucy. I've got to call up Bentley at once and tell him this matter that Hardwick was phoning me about."

After Bentley had been put in possession of a long list of facts and details that to Mrs. Bruce were about as clear as so much Sanskrit her husband again turned to her with a welcoming smile.

"This morning, Dick, I received a letter from—"

"That's all right," rang the telephone. It is impatient demand for his attention promptly brought Bruce's ear to the receiver.

"By George, is that right?" he exclaimed after he had listened a minute. "It's a pretty big deal, isn't it? Well, you'll have to go to Hardwick for the figures. Yes, we can send over our schedule, but Hardwick can give you more data. Yes, certainly, I'll ask him. Don't mention it. I have plenty of time. No trouble whatever." He hung up the receiver.

"That was a chance to do the great. Amalgamated company a little favor," he said smilingly to Mrs. Bruce. But before his hand had left the receiver he changed his mind and took it down again. Then followed a long and diplomatic appeal to Hardwick. Mrs. Bruce sat through it patiently, buoyed up by the thought of the perfectly delightful surprise she still had in store for her husband.

Once more the receiver was hung up on its hook and Bruce, swinging around in his chair, said, "Going shopping, Lucy?"

"No, Dick, I came down especially to tell you—" Then the loud ring of the telephone drowned her voice.

"Hello. Yes. Oh, Mr. Bonhomme! Very glad to hear from you. Why, yes, I think so. No trouble at all. I have the whole project mapped out here in my desk. Yes, if you wish, I can read off the main points for you."

Bruce drew a thick package of papers from a pigeon hole and began to read slowly and carefully numerous paragraphs and long lists of figures. Mrs. Bruce gave his back a despairing glance, sagged for ten minutes and then, rising quietly, slipped out of the office.

Half an hour later she called up her husband on the telephone from a dry goods store. Somewhat to her surprise the line was not busy and she got the connection at once.

"In this you, Dick?"

"Yes, Lucy. Where in the world did you disappear to? I was dumfounded when I turned down the phone a minute ago to find you gone. Why didn't you wait?"

"Because I came downtown purposefully to tell you something. I got a letter from Mrs. Morse today. She says that she and Mr. Morse are going to California in their private car tomorrow after next and they want to go with them. Mr. Morse thinks that will give you a chance to visit the Sun West-shore country. He's going to write you or call you up on the long distance."

But Mrs. Morse said she couldn't wait to tell me of the plan."

"That's all right," said Bruce. "But, Lucy, why in the world didn't you tell me this when you were in the office? It takes my breath away. I don't see how you could keep it to yourself all the time you were over here."

"Don't you, really?" returned Mrs. Bruce laughing.

When he found that she had broken the connection, Bruce said to himself, "Well, if I live to be a hundred and seven I'll never understand women."

He sighed.

"Dickie wouldn't take a dollar that didn't belong to him, no matter how hard up he was."

"Suppose he had a chance to take a million dollars?"

"Ah! Well, Dickie is a man of spirit."

TO PRODUCE CERTIFIED MILK

Barrenness Should Be Free From Menstruation and Well Drained—Clean—Barns Must Be Observed.

(By C. E. LANE.)

For the production of certified milk, the barnyard should be free from manure and well drained, so that it may not harbor stagnant water. The manure, which collects each day should not be piled close to the barn, but should be taken several hundred feet away.

If these rules are observed not only will the barnyard be free from objectionable smell, which is an injury to the milk, but the number of flies in summer will be considerably diminished.

In the stable cleanliness must be strictly observed. The stables should be well ventilated, lighted and drained and should have tight floors, preferably of cement, never of dirt.

They should be whitewashed inside at least twice a year, unless the walls are painted or of smooth cement finish which can be washed frequently.

The air should always be fresh and without bad odor. A sufficient number of lanterns should be provided to enable the necessary work to be properly done during the dark hours.

The manure should be removed twice daily, except when the cows are outside in the fields the entire time during the morning and afternoon milkings. The manure gutter must be kept in a sanitary condition.

All sweeping must be finished before the grooming of the cows begins, so that the air may be free from dust at the time of milking.

Remove the milk from each cow from the stable immediately after it is obtained to a clean room and strain through a sterilized strainer of cheesecloth and absorbent cotton.

The rapid cooling is a matter of great importance. The milk should be cooled to 45 degrees F. within an hour and not allowed to rise above that as long as it is in the hands of producer or dealer.

In order to assist in the rapid cooling, the bottles should be cold before the milk is put into them.

All utensils should be as simple in construction as possible, and so made that they may be thoroughly sterilized before each use.

Coolers, if used, should be sterilized in a closed sterilizer, unless a very high temperature can be obtained by the steam sent through them.

Bottling machines should be made entirely of metal with no rubber about them, and should be sterilized in the closed sterilizer before each milking, or bottling.

Bottles should be of the kind known as "common sense," and capped with a sterilized paraffined paper disk and the caps authorized by the commission.

All dairy utensils, including the bottles, must be thoroughly cleaned and sterilized.

Cooler and Bottling Machinery.

DAIRY NOTES

Expand your feed supply with a silo.

Economy in feeding the dairy cow never pinches the ration.

The silo lends itself admirably to efforts at intensive farming.

Oil meal or cottonseed meal and ensilage is practically as good.

Atkins and ensilage make a nearly perfect ration. Corn and ensilage is best.

Skim milk is less digestible than whole milk. The safety lies in light feeding.

Shredding eggs has been found an ideal side line for the creamery when properly regulated.

Especially all cases of difficult churning can be readily overcome by methods of handling.

Nothing ever came so near ruining December into June for dairy cattle and sheep as the silo.

Plenty of hot water must be used in heating the dairy utensils clean during the hot weather.

Incubating with the heater that is frubbing for the first time is one sure way of spoiling the cow.

The length of the chain should be adjusted by the size of the cow, and always used by the same cow.

Cows need for shipping wool cream must be perfectly clean if a fine quality of cream is to be produced.

Probably the most profitable source of milk contamination, so far as numbers are concerned, is the milk steer.

The way to save that milk is to prevent the cows from being during the summer and the cold weather in the winter.

HER LUCK NOT ALL DESERVED

Printed Prayer Responsible for Return of Pocketbook Only There by Accident.

She had been paying visits most of the afternoon, and on reaching home and putting away her wraps she discovered that her cardcase was missing. In it had been a dollar or two, her cards and a certified check for $200 which she had intended to deposit, but had been too late for her bank.

"Heavens," she exclaimed, "shall I ever see it again?" and sat down in her despair to think over everywhere she had been and might have left it. Suddenly the telephone bell rang.

"Are you Miss Blank, and have you lost anything?" inquired the person at the other end.

"Yes, I have just discovered the loss of my cardcase."

"What was in it?" said the voice.

"My cards, some money, a certified check for $200, and, yes, a little prayer on a slip of paper. Did you see that?"

"Yes," said the voice: I picked the case up. And just let me tell you that it was that prayer that has brought your property back to you."

The cardcase owner heaved a sigh of relief and thought how lucky it was for her that a Catholic friend had slipped the little printed prayer into her cardcase last summer.

The Rothschilds

What chiefly struck one at the funeral of the late Baron Gustave de Rothschild was the great multiplicity of relatives descended from his father, the first Baron James, the shrewdest and most business-like member of the Paris branch of the Rothschilds, that he founded. Among these descendants were a son, grandson, and great and great-grandsons—Rothschilds, Lamberts, Leons, Ephrussi, Sterns, Bascos, Gubbays. They represented not only the principle of blood relationship, but the science of Paris, Brussels, Genoa, Milan, Odessa, Bombay and Calcutta. Among the numerous multi-millionaires descended from the first Baron James there was one who devoted himself to medical science, dramatic literature and the collection of autographs of great writers—Baron Henri, only son of the second Baron James.

125,000 AMERICANS GO TO CANADA IN 1911.

THE YEAR 1912 WILL SHOW A GREAT INCREASE.

In a report of the House Committee (Washington) appears the following: "Canada offers a three-year homestead upon good land, easily reclaimed and cultivated, with six months' leave of absence each year and most lenient regulations."

All of which is true and it is now the part of the careful reader to consider the opportunities that exist in Western Canada which, in addition to the above, are attractive features. The evidence of these is found in the letters contributed by some of the settlers. For instance: A former Minnesotan, writing from Warner, Southern Alberta, speaks of that district, but what he says is generally true of all of Southern Alberta. He says: "I have seen six crops, four of them were first class, one of them a very good crop, and the other a poor crop. Government statistics for the last fifteen years show that this country has averaged about fifteen or sixteen inches of moisture in 1912 there were only seven inches, and in 1911 twenty-two inches. The 1909 crop was about as good as I have seen in this country and we had about twenty inches of moisture, so that I am thoroughly convinced that with normal conditions, that is, from twelve to fifteen inches of moisture, and with the natural increase of population and immigration, that Southern Alberta will be one of the very best mixed farming districts in the world. We have good soil, good water, and a good climate, and altogether just as desirable a country to live in as Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, or Wisconsin."

Hundreds of letters are on file from former American settlers, which give good reasons why the Western Canadian lands are being settled so rapidly. Full particulars I thought some Canadian Government Agent, who will furnish literature and give low rate certificates. Excursions are being run daily.

Markswomanship.

"I am afraid those militant suffragettes are going to give us serious trouble," said one London policeman. "They mean business."

"Why do you think so?" inquired the other.

"A lot of them have quit giving parades and making speeches and are practicing 'w' quotes and baseballs."

Supreme Faith.

"I gave my wife a check for $1,000 yesterday."

"What was the cause of your liberality?"

"I knew she'd never have the nerve to try to cash it."

PREPARING FOR THE WEDDING

But the Old Shoe, Fixed Up for the Occasion, Was Not Intended for the Bridal Pair.

There was to be a wedding in the vicinity. Many of the mountaineers would be there. Early in the morning of the nuptial day Bud Hightower was noticed filling an old No. 12 shoe with slugs and nails and plaster of paris.

"What you doing, Bud?" drawled Slim Beesley.

"Kain't you see wot I'm doin'?" I'm makin' moonshine sperrits out o' a shoe scraper."

"Gettin' good an' ready fr' th' weddin'!" I reckon."

"Goin' to throw it at the bridegroom, maybe?"

"Goin' to throw it at him, maybe, but it ain't goin' to hit him. It's goin' to break th' face o' Slim Beesley."

"An' do it accidently, too. I been laid fr' that other Sloppe fr' a right smart spell."

"And he drove an extra railway spike in the hardening mass—Cleveland Plain Dealer."

PIMPLES ON FACE 3 YEARS

"I was troubled with acne for three long years. My face was the only part affected, but it caused great disfigurement, also suffering and loss of sleep. At first there appeared red, hard pimples which later contained white matter. I suffered a great deal caused by the itching. I was in a state of perplexity when walking the streets or anywhere before the public."

"I used pills and other remedies but they failed completely. I thought of giving up when nothing would help, but something told me to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a Cuticura Booklet which I read carefully. Then I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and by following the directions I was relieved in a few days. My face, and Cuticura Soap for washing my face, applied the Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. This treatment brought marvelous results so I continued with it for a few weeks and was cured completely. I can truthfully say that the Cuticura Remedies are not only all, but more than they claim to be." (Signed) G. Baumel, 1016 W. 20th Place, Chicago, Ill., May 28, 1911.

Invading the Enemy's Country.

The pursuance of a plan I have had in mind for some time, announced Pastor Goodale at the close of his sermon, "I have rented a small room in an apartment house in a fashionable neighborhood and expect to open a mission Sunday school there on the first Sunday in May. I don't know, brethren, where the children who attend it will come from. If, indeed, any children attend at all, but it will be there all summer, and may be regarded either as an opportunity or as a reproach. We will now sing our closing hymn."

The New Wife.

Hubby—My dear, wot you sew on a button for me before you go out?

His New Wife—The cook may possibly do it for you. But please bear in mind your husband and expect to open a mission Sunday school there on the first Sunday in May. I don't know, brethren, where the children who attend it will come from. If, indeed, any children attend at all, but it will be there all summer, and may be regarded either as an opportunity or as a reproach. We will now sing our closing hymn."

NOT A PENNY TO PAY

FOR ELECTRIC CHAFER

EARLY BREAKFAST OR HASTY LUNCHEON MADE EASY.

Authority on the Subject Writes of Some Good Things That May Be Prepared in Few Minutes When Required.

Art and utility combined have produced a perfect electric chafing dish that satisfies people who insist that a utensil always in evidence, as a chafing dish is, should be left to look upon and give a practical adaptation of means to the desired ends, writes Henrietta D. Grauel, Domestic Science lecturer.

For the early breakfast, a hasty luncheon, a late dinner for my lady's experiment cooking or for "the rabbit" it is a comfort and a satisfaction.

Miss Grauel's Angles on Horseback—To make just as one makes "pigs in blankets" except, when one should use in section I use it and I do not steam it first.

Wrap about a teaspoon of rice, seasoned with pepper and salt, but no salt, in two short narrow strips of bacon, lay the bacon on the palm of the left hand one strip across the other, so the four ends can be fastened together so as to form a shell or case for the rice inside.

Have the chafers very hot and all the "angels" ready at once, put them in and turn when they are crisp on the bottom. Serve on crisp browned buttered crackers.

Another splendid way to cook rice with bacon so that it will be moist and well flavored and yet rich, is to place a layer of bacon in the chafers and lay a whole rice split open on the bacon. As the bacon fries it seasons the rice deliciously and the last the cover may be placed on the chafers so that the savory combination will be well cooked through.

Next Potato Sauté—Cut new potatoes in very thin slices, beat butter in the blazer until it begins to brown, add the potatoes and cook until fried a fine rich brown.

Potatoes, Lyonnaise—Chop eight cold boiled potatoes, one onion and a little parsley fine, mix and fry brown in chicken fat or dripping as directed above.

Potatoes, Maitland—Prepare as above but add a cup of highly seasoned cold chopped meat to the potatoes and fry all together.

Roulades of Veal (Individual)—Mince cold chicken and ham or veal and ham or other meats fine, season with sharp condiments like curry and paprika, pepper and a few drops of pepper sauce. Have very hard, dry bread rolled fine and sifted and seasoned. Form the meat into small rolls, not larger than very small sausages, using an egg and a little cream to moisten the meat and some of the crumbs to make the rolls hold their shape. Roll each "roll" in the fine crumbs, have plenty of frying material in the chafers and brown them nicely.

Surprise Pudding.

One-fourth cupful of butter, one-half cupful of sugar, one egg, one-half cupful of water, a little grated orange zest, one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Cream butter and sugar and mix carefully with the orange zest, the well-beaten egg, then alternately with the flour and water. Beat rapidly and bake at once in well-greased bread pan. It is best to sift the flour with the baking powder at least twice, and the oven should be quick hot. Serve with orange sauce as follows:

To one cupful of hot water add two tablespoonfuls of sugar and one of corn starch; cook until slightly thickened, then add the juice and grated rind of one orange. Use hot.

Economical Jelly.

Take equal parts of ripe Hawberries (berry of the Hawthorn), and fresh apple parings and boil them thoroughly, together or separate, then drain through jelly bag. Measure the Juice before boiling and allow one part sugar or two parts juice. Boil about twenty minutes, or until it is ready to "jell." I obtain better results by making jelly in small amounts.

This is an excellent jelly and inasmuch as the Hawthorn berries are obtained free of charge in most localities, and apple parings are not very expensive, this makes an economical and inexpensive jelly.

Codfish, Cuban Style.

Shred one cupful freshened fish. Fry an onion sliced thin in a tablespoonful of butter or vegetable oil. Add to fish with water to cover also a half can of tomatoes and a half green pepper chopped. Cover the pan and simmer gently for an hour. If there is much juice in the tomatoes, less water will be needed. Turn the mixture on squares of buttered toast and like all salt cod dishes, serve very hot.

—Emma Padlock Telford.

To Utilize Any Cold Meat.

Have ready small cubes onion and cold boiled potatoes cut very fine. Place layer meat in buttered pan, then layer potatoes, then layer onion, then bread crumbs, then meat, and so on until all are used; then beat one egg, add a little milk and pour over all. Bake 15 to 20 minutes. Serve with gravy made with salt of water and thickened with flour and small pieces butter and a little salt and pepper.

Dr. L. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. It is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mother."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Sizer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where no one knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."
